Mary Jane Doar, Pris Steele Gain Beauty Notability

Two Rollins' lassies have captured beauty honors this week. Pris Steele, Phi Beta Phi entry, won the Olympic Queen title at the Winter Park High School stadium Thursday night, Nov. 10. Mary Jane Doar, Kappa Alpha Theta entry, was selected by the Orange Bowl Committee from among 15 Rollins' entries to participate in the semi-finals of the Orange Bowl Queen contest.

Pris, of Washington, D. C., has won several honors before capturing the Olympic Queen title. In a modeling contest in Washington, D. C., Pris was chosen from 350 contestants for a years scholarship at the South Eastern University School of Modeling.

Voting for the contest was done by a penny-a-vote system.

While the contestants were waiting to be presented, a group of about a dozen young boys came over and spoke to Pris. They had broad grins on their faces as they wished her good luck and then disappeared.

After the surprised winner had received her bouquet of flowers and congratulations from the dignitaries, the same group of boys approached shyly and requested a bloom from her lovely bouquet.

"Do you know why?", asked one of the group. "We just thought you were the one who should win, so we put all of our allowances in your box."

Mary Jane, a Theta pledge and transfer from Wesleyan College, will travel to Miami on Sat., Nov. 19, where the finalists will be selected.

If Mary Jane is fortunate enough to be chosen as a member of the court, all of her expenses will be taken care of and she will stay in Miami for fittings and plans for the New Year's Day festivities.

The queen will be picked from the princesses to reign over the Orange Bowl game. She will be judged on the basis of personality, poise, and beauty.

Among the many honors Mary Jane has captured, is the title of Miss Georgia 1954, and she was entered in the Miss America Contest.

She was the Sweetheart of Lambda Chi at Mercer College, and placed third in the Miss Fayetteville contest.

Bush Is Chosen As Member Of Trustee Board

A. G. Bush, Winter Park and St. Paul industrialist, has been elected to the Board of Trustees of Rollins College for a three-year term.

Bush, who is chairman of the executive committee of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., has been active in civic and financial circles since coming to Winter Park in 1950.

He is chairman of the board of Commercial Bank at Winter Park, a director of Florida Bank and Trust Co., and president of Winter Park Memorial Hospital Assn.

During the campaign for the new Winter Park hospital, Bush was one of the most active workers and the most generous donor. For the first year he underwrote the operating deficit of the hospital.

Dorsett Discusses Pessimism Shown Modern Playwrites

What are playwrites for? Mr. Wilbur Dorsett attempted to answer this question at the After Chapel Club on Sunday.

Playwrites do not preach formulated philosophy, but are concerned with man in relation to fatality, society, other men, and his own self.

What we ask of the theatre is the spectacle of a will striving towards a goal and conscious of the means it employs. If the striving is successful, the drama is comedy; if the striving is not successful, the drama is tragedy.

Modern playwrites, thinking that "all happy things have been exhausted," have eliminated the noble hero from their plays. The heroes of today are bewildered, uncertain characters fighting their way through themes of "loneliness, rebellion, juvenile delinquency, emotional starvation—terror fantasies, sadism and schizophrenia."

In conclusion, Dorsett said, "... It is my wish, therefore, that our coming generation of playwrites give us worthy heroes with whom we will care to identify ourselves—heroes in tragedies who go down gloriously to defeat, or heroes in comedies who happily win over obstacles by exerting a conscious will."

Dr. Waite Heads Founder's Week Celebration Plans

Dr. Alexander Waite, professor of psychology, has been named chairman of Founders' Week, Hugh F. McKean, president of Rollins College, announced last week.

Dr. Waite has been associated with Rollins College since 1937 in the psychology department.

Founders' Week is scheduled for Feb. 19-27. Included in the program are the Animated Magazine, convocation, Founders' Week dinner and many exhibits.

The most elaborate exhibit will be the celebration of the 250 birthday of Benjamin Franklin, which is a national celebration. In connection with this, a colloquium will be held in the library concerning Benjamin Franklin's literary accomplishments.

Many rare items in connection with Franklin have been obtained for the Rollins' exhibit and will be on display for a month in the Library.

As chairman of Founders' Week, Dr. Waite will work closely with President McKean and the many committees to make this year's celebration a huge success.

Assistantships Available For Study In Columbia

A chance to teach and study in Colombia is open to U. S. college graduates.

The University of Caldas in Manizales, Colombia, offers two teaching assistantships to American graduate students for the 1956 academic year, January 3 to October 5, 1956.

This is the first year in which the assistantships have been offered by the Colombian University.

Successful candidates will assist in teaching English in the university's Department of Languages. Preference will be given to applicants who plan careers as teachers of Spanish.

Other eligibility requirements are: U. S. citizenship; a bachelor's degree by date of departure; the maturity, articulateness and initiative necessary for teaching; good moral character, personality and adaptability; proficiency in Spanish; and good health.

Both men and women are eligible for the awards.

The assistantships include a monthly stipend of 275 Colombian pesos (roughly $100), room and tuition in any faculty of the University. Return transportation by air from Miami to Manizales is also provided. Men assistants are housed in a dormitory; women, in a high school connected with the University.

December 1, 1955, is the closing date for application for the Colombian awards.

For more information write Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York City.

Mehta to Return To 1956 AniMag

Gavanihari L. Mehta, Indian Ambassador to the United States, is returning as a guest to this year's Animated Magazine which will be held this Spring Term.

Ambassador Mehta was a guest speaker at the Magazine in 1953 where he spoke on "India-American Cooperation, Retrospect and Prospect." He is an Honorary Alumni of the college.

It is a new policy of the college to invite past speakers to return to the Animated Magazine as guests. Each time they return new interest is stimulated.

This year's Animated Magazine is scheduled to be even more elaborate than the past years' and a greater attendance is expected.

Paintings Now Exhibited At Morse Gallery

Twenty-six oil paintings by young American artists are on exhibit at Morse Gallery of Art, Rollins College, until Thanksgiving.

The exhibit has been loaned to Rollins by Contemporary Arts, Inc., an organization for the promotion of American art and artists.

Because of the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. McKean, no opening reception for the exhibit will be held. Mrs. McKean is director of the gallery.

Among the paintings being exhibited are: Crucifixion by Margit Beck; Virtuoso by Emma Threnreich; Study in Blue by Jeannette M. Genius; Park Scene by Philip Pieck; Grey Abstraction by Susan Moore; and Ferris Wheel by Betty Esman.

Morse Gallery is open daily from 2-5 p.m.

Bits O' News

Evening Vesper will be held tonight from 6:45 - 7:00 p.m. in the Knowles Memorial Chapel for the Rollins Family only. Dr. William Fort will be the speaker.

Members of Sigma Xi Club of Rollins College will hold their first get together Saturday, Nov. 19, at 12:15 p.m. in the Student Center. Following luncheon they will adjourn to Knowles Hall for the meeting.

A membership in the Rollins Book-A-Year Club has been taken out in memory of the late Mrs. Christine Baldwin by Mrs. A. W. Hyde, Yantic, Conn. Mrs. Baldwin formerly was director of the Rollins Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Mendell will speak at the Annual Thanksgiving service Wednesday, Nov. 23 at 9:40 A.M. in the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

December 1 at 11:50

December 1st, at 11:50 p.m. a plane will leave from the Orlando Municipal Airport. Obviously many planes leave the Orlando Municipal Airport without arousing any particular anxiety unless it is a plane you are supposed to be on.

However this particular plane will be transporting the Rollins basketball team to a large sized encounter with the Bradley Braves whose encampment is in Peoria, Illinois.

The bitty basketballers from little Rollins College will be playing a big team that considers, and rightfully so, that basketball is their "king sport". Since the Bradleyites feel that basketball is the reigning monarch, the Tars would therefore be considered as pawns; an unsavory term to apply to OUR TEAM.

Is it our team?????

Since many of the student body will themselves be departing from this same airport for Christmas vacation, why not come early, say around 11:50 December 1st, and avoid the seasonal rush. A demonstration of student fervor, such as a few rousing rahs for a successful trip, would be greatly appreciated by the passengers and their pilot, Dan Nyimicz.

Student Government

I hardly think we can overestimate the importance of student government. Student government has a marvelous potential inasmuch as it is a laboratory in which the nation's most intelligent citizens and leaders can be trained.

Day

The greatest potential of student government lies in its trend toward community government — a government in which faculty, students and administration all have a voice. Privilege always entails responsibility which must be accepted, and increased privilege of participation in college community affairs must be met with a mature sense of responsibility.

Student Government resembles an instructional program and the experience gives the student additional security in his own education. When students have been permitted to present plans and projects to the faculty through their own governmental agencies, such procedure has proved valuable to both groups.

It is generally conceded that many more projects could be handled by student-governmental agencies than are currently considered to be within their realm. The students at Rollins can be proud of the progress made by the Student Council and plan accordingly for the future potential of this organization.

Letters to the Editor

Nov. 13, 1955

Dear Editor,

People will naturally disagree on the functions of a college group. Good constructive suggestions are beneficial, but biased, undefined criticisms have a group in bewilderment as to the actual expression the writer is trying to convey.

In last week's Sandspur the Vesper Committee was unfairly labeled by the words "religious fanaticism" in "Round Rollins." However we feel the term was used without a serious attempt to offer a constructive criticism or to make an honest judgment.

Going to chapel twice a week for a 15 minute service has proven to be stimulating and thought provoking, but hardly be termed religious fanaticism. Neither the Sunday Chapel service nor the evening Vesper Service is forced on anyone. They both serve to make our lives complete.

Sincerely yours,
The Vesper Committee

Dear Editor:

I would like to use the columns of the Sandspur to express the regrets of the Theatre Arts Department that it was impossible to find seats for all the students who wanted to see "DIAL M FOR MURDER" on Friday night and I hope those that were disappointed came on Saturday.

In closing I would like to say that this opening production had the best November Box Office cash sale of tickets for over 10 years, and more important still it was also the best attended student production (340) since November 1950. I wonder if our new policy of advertising our plays in the Sandspur could be responsible for this?

With best wishes and sincere congratulations from the Department on the great honor which was awarded your paper recently.

Sincerely yours,
Peter Dearing, Director
ANNIE RUSSELL THEATRE

Dear Editor,

Who were those anti-social spirits, Socrates, Galileo, Pasteur, and Nightengale? Why didn't they get out of town?

Yours sincerely
John S. Wilson

WHY POLICEMEN (AND HOUSEMOTHERS) GROW GRAY

AUSTIN, Texas.—(ACP)—It's taken nearly a year, but the Daily Texan has finally made public the story of the University of Texas' mysterious dormitory prowler. Here's the way they tell it:

It was one of those cool November days last fall, close to Thanksgiving holidays. Girls at one of the campus dormitories listened to radio reports of a patient's escape from the Austin State Mental hospital, laughing, discussing and then discarding them.

About 6:00, one of the girls, dressed in levis, a man's white shirt, with her head wrapped in a bandanna, stepped from her second-story room onto the porch roof to dry her freshly washed and rolled hair.

On impulse, she ran across the roof and tapped on one of the windows in the opposite wing. The girl who was studying at the desk by the window dropped her book and ran down the hall, screaming "Crazy man" . . . a cry which soon spread over the entire second floor.

The girl on the roof had just ducked back into her room when the housemother came running. Quieting the hysterical girls, she called the police.

Night found the rooms along the south porch deserted, with girls crowded six deep in the north rooms. That is, all except the girl with the rolled-up hair and her equally brave roommate.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(ACP)—This isn't a "stop the presses" item or anything like that, but we pass it along for what it's worth. West Virginia University's Daily Athenaeum gleaned the following information from a Social Security administration report:

According to latest figures, the administration has issued social security cards to 149 people named Davy Crockett and 221 people named Daniel Boone. That apparently means the Boones have it all over the Crocketts when it comes to replenishing the earth.

At last report, no figures were available on Napoleon Bonaparte or Donald Duck.

THE CASE OF THE CLOVERLEAF LOVER

The amorphous blob of quivering pink protoplasm lay on my gold couch, crossing and uncrossing his pudgy protrudences, which from hip to a few inches above an indistinguishable knee, were encased in plaid Bermuda shorts.

"Would you like to tell me what's wrong with you?" I asked.

"Not with me, Doctor, not with me. Everybody else at Rollins is neurotic; but I'm not."

"Then perhaps you ought to tell me why you feel this way."

"Well, Doctor, you see, it is this way. I had three dates for last Saturday night. Naturally I'm not gross enough to take out three girls at once; or for that matter, date all three of them at different times during the evening. Besides that can prove rather embarrassing, especially if they late-date too. You know how awkward running into a girl you've just left can be? Anyway I told the first girl that my brother was coming down from Harvard for the weekend, and that I would have to entertain him. The second, I told my mother was deathly sick and wasn't supposed to last the night out. Naturally, under the circumstances, I could hardly be expected to go out with her. The third I kept the date with and had a rather good time. She went to Kingswood, you know. Came out at the Cotillion in New York last season."

"I see, but please tell me what causes you to think everybody at Rollins is disturbed."

"Well, thought I'd handled the situation rather well and felt it my duty to pass it on to my fraternity brothers. After all it is possible one of them may have three dates in one night. Well, Doctor, would you believe it? One of my own fraternity brothers called me a 24 carat slob! He said I was the real thing. Now I ask you Doctor what's wrong with a guy like that?"

"You feel that there is something wrong with him," I reflected.

"Of course! How bourgeois can you get? . . . By the way Doctor, do you own a '55 or '56 Cadillac?"

"Neither, I drive a Ford. Would you like to tell me some more?"

"Well, I would Doctor, but under the circumstances I think I had better find another analyst."

"Yes, I suppose you'd better," I said ruefully, while watching my '56 Cadillac slide his amorphous self out the door.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance—cellulose—found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Hotaling Recital Is Innovation For College

Edward Hotaling, Orlando, will be presented by the Rollins Conservatory of Music in his senior conducting recital at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, in Annie Russell Theatre.

Hotaling, who is tenor soloist in the Congregational Church in Winter Park, is a pupil of Robert Hufstader, director of the Conservatory of Music. He will be the first Rollins student to graduate in conducting.

Hotaling also has been a member of the Rollins Singers and Knowles Memorial Chapel Choir for three years, and the Bach chorus for four years.

Assisting will be: Jeanne Newton, Ann Bowers and Susan Mauk, sopranos; Joanne Lange, Sandra Fogarty, and Joan MacLelland, altos; Ross Rosazza, baritone; Fred Mauk and Kenneth Pabel, tenors; William Hardy and John Poellein, basses; Robert Hufstader and Gerson Yessin, pianists.

Instrumentalists will be: Minna Miller and Marguerite Haldeman, violin; Alphonse Carlo, viola; Katherine Courtney, cello; Donald Cobb and Lynn Miller, clarinet; and Dewey Anderson, timpani.

New members of Phi Beta, honorary music and dramatic society are: Joan Staab, Jayne Kilbourne, Angela Burdick, Ann Derflinger, Alison Dessau, Louise Vick, and Sandra Fogarty.

Traditional Chapel Christmas Service Dates Announced

The annual Christmas Service in the Knowles Memorial Chapel will be held at 6:15 and 8:30 Sunday, Dec. 11 and at 7:30 on Tuesday, Dec. 13.

This impressive service is famous all over central Florida for its beauty and carol renditions. At the opening of the service, the choir presents a candle-light procession and student readers participate throughout the devotional.

The choir of Rollins College, which is recognized as outstanding, will present Christmas Carols and anthems celebrating the birth of Christ. Both traditional and contemporary works will be presented.

Admission cards for people not associated with the college may be obtained by a written request indicating the number of seats desired, and the date and time preferred. A self-addressed, stamped envelope should be enclosed.

Students may obtain admission cards through their resident heads, and are urged to obtain their cards as early as possible in order to avoid the rush which accompanies announcement of the dates of this program.

Mills Library Displays Copy Of Cervantes

The Mills Memorial Library joins the Hispanic Institute in Florida in celebrating their 1955 Cervantes Festival by featuring for their November exhibit, "Cervantes and the world he lived in."

On display are pages from a photo-print copy of the original greatest work, Don Quixote. This copy, printed by the Hispanic Society of America in New York was given to the library recently by Mrs. Angela Campbell, Professor of Spanish at Rollins. Many works about Cervantes and Don Quixote and Sancho in both Spanish and along with quotations from Don Quixote in manuscript.

To illustrate "the world Cervantes lived in" are pictures of Spain and the important people of his day.

As an added attraction there are several interesting antique pieces from 16th century Spain and some commemorative stamps issued to celebrate the anniversary of Cervantes.

Mary Jane Doar, Linda Coe, and Tommy DiBacco in a rehearsal scene from the Fred Stone play, "High Ground," which opened yesterday.

"High Ground" Is Opening Play On Fred Stone Stage

Talented, good looking, and experienced, are a few descriptions of the freshmen "invading" the Fred Stone Theatre this week. With two exceptions, the eleven members of the cast are all freshmen. Although long, the play is fast moving, stirring, and very emotional, with a startling climax.

Linda Coe, from New Jersey, has been in quite a few productions before coming to Rollins. Included, are Cheaper by the Dozen, and Where's Charlie. She does a vivid characterization of Sarat, who is sentenced to be hung in the morning. Mary Jane Doar, a transfer junior from Wesleyan (Macon, Ga.), now lives in Winter Park. She has played in Suspect, Red Peppers, and now plays Sister Mary, a middle aged, kind person with a great faith in humanity.

Tom DiBacco, from Sarasota, has a leading role playing Dr. Jeffrys. He has been in Annie Get Your Gun and Girl Crazy. From Philadelphia, playing Josephine, the humorous Irish Nun, is Babs Wynan. In Summer Stock, Babs was in Sabrina Fair and Pal Joey.

Lynn Neavling, New York, plays the Mother Superior. She has played in Macbeth and Ghost's. Nancy Rohrsheib, from Washington, D. C., is the bitter Nurse Phillips; she has been in Pride and Prejudice and Sabrina Fair. Leon Brenner, from Seattle, portrays mentally deficient Willie. He also played in Student Prince and Father of the Bride.

Bill Cochran, from Colorado College and Winter Park, has played in Stalag 17 and Where's Charlie. He now plays Mellins, the Warden. Jill Josselson, from Cincinnati, plays the flighty sweet natured, Nurse Brent. She has been in Cyrano Bergerac and Stage Door. Sara Brenner, from Kentucky, plays Miss Pierce, the Wardeness; and has also been in Little Women. From Mass., is Mary Lee Sands, who portrays Martha, the busy body. She has been in Pinafore and Pirates of Penzance.

High Ground, by Charlot Hastings, will be the first play of the season presented in the Fred Stone Theatre. It begins at 8:30. Tickets are 50 cents, and may be purchased before each performance at the Theatre box office. Donald Allen is directing, and Ford Oehne, Stage Managing.

« Magoo Part II »

by Jim "Magoo" Browne

FRIDAY NIGHT: A sea of hair was parted by a proud grin, and through London Bridges came, "Sorry, Standing Room Only." People were turned away from the box office. White jacketed ushers gave their best scholarship smiles and Magoo tapped his way into the Annie Russell.

I was sitting through my second performance of "Dial M" in order to review Jayne Kilbourne's portrayal of Margo Wendice. Before I get into my review let me first say that Friday's performance of "Dial M" was miles away from Monday's nightmare. On Friday night Jack Mette smiled on dialogue and frowned on pauses; Clark Warren burred on all fours, and Tom Grubb's pants were even baggier.

Miss Kilbourne's delicate Margo Wendice was completely opposed to Miss Enck's dominant Margo. Personally I preferred Miss Enck's portrayal. Jayne just doesn't have the voice color or voice change needed for a three act leading role. Her murder scene was superexcellent because her whimpering came as a relief after her obdurate first act.

I did like the way Miss Kilbourne occupied the stage. Her small frame moves with grace and purpose. I am quite sure that when Mr. Dearing cast Jayne he visualized the rich image of having a petite blond playing opposite the huge and dark Mr. Kukulki Class.

ANNOUNCING THE MOST POPULAR PROF OF THE YEAR CONTEST

Talent Night, November, 22 the Magoo Trophy will be awarded to the most popular prof of 1955.

The most popular prof will be selected by votes cast by the ROLLINS Student Body. Voting will take place in the Center, tomorrow, Friday, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Magoo and that man of letters, Jack Wilson, will man the polls. A poll tax of .05 will be charged. The poll tax will enable Magoo to purchase the trophy.

RESTRICTIONS:

1. Pres. McKean and Veep Hanna will not, for this contest, be considered faculty members.
2. No drinking or loitering near the polls, and if you plan to mix your driving and drinking make sure you have a car.
3. Faculty members and their families will not be permitted to campaign or vote.
4. Hamilton Holt is out of the running.
5. No dark horses — just aculty members will be permitted to win.

I'm coming, I'm coming to Homecoming!!!! 'Twas the chant of many who traipsed to Gainesville for the prolonged festivities of the past weekend . . . Seen dodging the many kiddie cars that were running loose were: Cam Chapman; Bebe Ross; Margie Bristol; Ann Smith; Judy Howard; Sherry Voss; Jo Ann Anthony; Barbara Hass; Earlene Roberts; Barbara Mead; Joy Woods; Bill Hoadly; Roger Seabrook and many others. . . Joy and Earlene were struck by 26 bolts of moonlightening and delighted their crowd at the game by serving up many WHAT-A-BURGERS.

Pellicanning for a couple of days were the Sigma Nus. Ron Paiva sang many songs ably accompanied by the greatest uke strummer in 40 counties, Leslie Priester. The sun's rays were so bright that Tom Hulihan's complexion turned from Pink to Rosey Red . . . Head Bouncer for this joyous occasion was no other than Ed Gray . . . Elmer Lott was number one host for those grouped around the Fountain of Youth. Bud Bilenski carried out the trash for Lucy which consisted of coffee cake brought over on the Mayflower. Creatures of the Upper Attic for this jolly little get-together were: Leslie Priester, Stu Maples; Judy Strite, Bud Bilenski; Judy Hoffman, Bud Traylor; Jo Davis, Elmer Lott; Sandy De Long, Ronnie Paiva; Bobbie Martin, Ed Gray; Delle Davies, Joe Dallanegra. . . Jim Robinson came down from Chi Town and received a warm welcome. Don Weber and Norm Gross washed up on the tide in innertubes during the late afternoon for a bit of refreshment.

Chaos was created by Punky Ladd in the Kappa house one night last week. . . While preparing to take her daily ablutions she ran down stairs to chat with someone and left the third floor bath tub overflowing to oblivion. . . Heroine of the evening was Margie Bristol who upon opening the door of her suite was all but washed away . . . Dashing up a flight she managed to dunk her watch in the process of saving the Kappas . . .

WHO WILL HELP GABRIELLA? That's my question for the day. It's your turn to listen, so lend me your ear.

Gabriella is six, the eldest of three children... She never slept in a bed... She goes to school because she gets one free meal a day... She has no others... She never owned a toy... Home is a hut, 9x12... The walls are of cardboard in spots where the logs have rotted away... the floor is earthen... there are no facilities... Gabriella's parents survived the war in Italy, but now there is no employment... their hearts are torn, for they cannot help their child... not even comb her hair... they do not own a comb... Gabriella's hunger is unappeased, her misery deep... She cannot smile... Help to this family means hope instead of despair... a chance to live...

When IGOPOGO first told me about this little girl, I almost laughed out loud, 'cause I'd had people try to get me to cry on their shoulders before with such sob stories. But, for some reason, this story was different.

It wasn't that I got real sentimental about this little Gabriella, but, somehow, when I got to thinkin' about everything I had in life, and how I just fooled around taking it for granted, I got to feelin' awful bad, because this poor little Gabriella really didn't have anything and she was just a kid. Here I was pret' near grown and I never had any kind of an idea that little kids like this actually lived under such conditions.

Anyhow, that night, I sat up in my tree and was so busy thinkin' about that little kid that I couldn't even hoot and scare people. The next day IGOPOGO got just real excited when I told him that I wanted to go IGOPOGO for little Gabriella.

"Just wait til after Christmas," he told me, "you'll have your chance to join in just like everybody else and help people just like little Gabriella."

Boy o! That night I hooped and howled for twelve hours straight. My conscience didn't bother me nearly so bad, now, 'cause I knew that after Christmas, IGOPOGO, and that's for sure!

James Gregg, originally from Ohio, at his official desk where he has assumed his regular duty as the man who has been manager of the Rollins Student Center for the past five years.

Rollins Is Same Today As It Was Just A Year Ago

One philosophy of history which may well apply to Rollins is "History repeats itself." No? Well... how about these items which appeared in the November 18th issue of last year's Sandspur:

"ART announces cast of Curious Savage;" included were Jayne Kilbourne, Tom Grubbs, and Mary Enck.

"Carol Anderson, Rollins freshman, traveled to Miami to compete in the semi-finals for the Orange Bowl Queen contest."

"The big question before the Fiesta Committee is whether or not to continue the precedent of contracting a name band for the Fiesta..."

"It is the firm conviction of 'Footloose' that the express man seen entering the rear door of 'Chez Mayes' carrying a 'Duncan Hines Recommends' sign... had the wrong address."

"Mike Crecco takes award for essay on 'The American Enterprise System.'"

"This weekend the (Chi O's, Sigma Nu's, X Club, K. A.'s, Pi Phi's, Theta's, etc.) had a party..."

James Gregg Responsible For Center's Popularity

Perhaps no student here will remember the Student Center just six years ago. In those days, it was a dreary place, forever in need of cleaning and serving food nowhere near comparison with that of today.

The big change resulting in the excellent quality of the Center of today was the coming to Rollins of James Gregg, present manager of the Center.

To all Rollins students, the name James Gregg is associated with the cheerful little man who is seen bustling about the Center at all hours of the day, turning on the juke box, making change, or taking inventory.

Gregg comes from Martin's Ferry, Ohio, where he was the well-known proprietor of a restaurant both there and Wheeling, West Virginia. One of these, called Ferryland, was recommended by Duncan Hines. Having owned this restaurant for twenty-three years, Gregg still maintains a partnership in the Ferryland.

Gregg says that when he came from Ohio just five years ago to take over the Center, he was so disappointed by conditions that if it hadn't been for Florida's climate he would have walked right back to Ferryland. The help walked on floorboards behind the counter which were usually inches deep in water, the food was abysmal, and the entire place was in sorry need of repairs and cleaning.

A large percentage of the Center's profits have gone to improve the Center's facilities. During the time Gregg has been at Rollins, the Center has had new floors, new drinking fountains, a completely modernized kitchen and the broom closet remodeled into a walk-in cooler.

Now the Center orders the best of food which can be bought. Gregg intimated that he felt Center customers really appreciated the good food, judging from the many meals eaten there each day.

The cheerfulness of the Rollins students has impressed Gregg with the reality of Rollins' atmosphere of friendliness; he says each of us smiles and says hello to him, and the matter of knowing names has become an unnecessary procedure.

Thus the Center of today, with its cheerful atmosphere and good food is due chiefly to the pleasant "Buckeye" who, with his family, came to Rollins just five years ago and began the campaign to give us our Rollins student Center of today.

Rollins Basketball Bradleys Bound For Season's Hoop Opener Dec. 5

Jim Locke

Rollins basketball coach, Dan Nyimicz, has fixed a wary eye upon the calendar as his chattels enter the final two weeks of conditioning before the Tars will be tested December 3rd in the season's opener against Bradley University at Peoria, Illinois.

On the first of next month the Tars will embark via plane for the Bradley Braves camp. Not since the N.Y.U. victory of last year have the Rollins men met with any stiffer competition than they will encounter in Peoria. Bradley has long been touted as a basketball stronghold and this year's hoop squad should not discredit the reputation.

The Bradley Braves, led by the former West Point cage coach, Bob Vanatta, envisage a promising season. Last year the Braves won nine games while losing twenty. On paper this would not stack up as an unusually brilliant season's effort. Yet it was this team with the unimpressive record that caught fire near tournament time and raced to the N.C.A.A. semifinals before being dumped by Colorado, 93-81.

Vanatta, now in his second year as coach, must be bubbling with unrestrained optimism for he has four lettermen returning (one of which is Lee Utt, a 6' 3" guard who was chosen as the team's most valuable player) plus last season's freshman team; a team that was one of the outstanding freshman quintets in the nation; a team that in winning fifteen out of a sixteen game slate hit the hoop for a fantastic 98 point per game average.

The Braves, if they so desired, could throw a starting five against Rollins averaging 6'5". Of the entire 18 members of the squad now working out, only two are under 6'. Their tallest man is a towering 6'8" thereby classifying our Dick Bezemer as a small man. Dick is a mere 6'5".

It is not surprising that Bradley, in spite of playing in the tough Missouri Valley Conference which houses powerful St. Louis and Oklahoma A&M, has an outside chance of copping the league championship.

Rollins will engage the Braves as decided underdogs. Pre-season pollsters have not decided if Rollins is to lose by 20 or 25 points. In December of 54 the Tars also stepped out of their league to meet a favored N.Y.U. team at the Memorial Jr. High School gym. Rollins parleyed its underdog status into an upset 87-79 win over a surprised Violet cage group. There is no reason why such an upset can not be repeated. Often a team has entered a contest with the odds seemingly insurmountable and has emerged victorious mainly because the favored team relaxed momentarily. It will be up to the Tars to take advantage of any lapses of a Brave defense.

Pre-season ratings of college and university basketball teams place Rollins in fourth place in the Florida Intercollegiate Basketball Conference with Florida State, Miami and Stetson in the lead positions. This same rating has Bradley at 21.2 favorite over the Tars and considers the Braves the 83rd best team in the country while Rollins is only placed 407 in the national scramble for top ranking.

The Locker Room

by Dick Haldeman

Whether or not the Rollins spirit has true existence or is a legend will be borne out by Dec. 1, when the Rollins basketball squad embarks for Peoria, Illinois and its season's opener with Bradley.

After that night it should be known whether the Rollins basketball team is making the trip or if Rollins is making the trip. There is a difference. A large segment of the Rollins population has no interest in the tedious six day a week practice grind which the squad is undergoing preparing for this game. This lack of interest can continue and the Tars can go to Bradley and return unobserved. The only reward for their hard work can be the personal satisfaction the players can derive from knowing they have done a good job. Without the support of the students, the basketball team will cease to be a part of Rollins but no more than its representative.

The flu bug and the loss of one of the four veterans on the squad, gave the Rollins basketball team and its coach Dan Nyimicz some anxious moments as another week of practice slipped by last week. Influenza sent freshman Bob Schuder, whose 6-4 frame is being depended upon to help the Tars on the boards this season, to the infirmary for more than a week. A broken nose suffered by sophomore vet Jack Gaudette while playing baseball last summer caused him to give up basketball after the first few practices.

These breaks heaped further responsibilities on the Tars and their coach, who must prepare for the diversified offense and defenses used by Bradley University. Only two and a half weeks of drills remain before the opener with Bradley. A steady diet of full court practices was slated for the squad this week. The team which looked good during half court scrimmages early last week, saw the need for more full court work after the first game length full court scrimmage Saturday. A lot has been said about what the scholarship athlete owes to the school, but there is a certain amount that the school owes the scholarship athlete when he fills his side the bargain.

The Rollins basketball team has been working at a disadvantage this winter having to practice nights at the Winter Park gymnasium. This is unavoidable. It is also hard on the athlete as a student and an athlete. It is discomfort enough for the boy who has just finished eating to have to go through a long basketball drill without his having to also wash upon and clean tables at night. If at all possible, members of the basketball squad should be relieved of this duty during the season, with their time made up at the other meals.

The first squad, composed of Dick Bezemer, Jack Ruggles, Gary Gabbard, Boyd Coffie and Al Fantuzzi, barely defeated the second team, which consisted of Hal Lawler, Jim Doran, Elmer Lott and Lee Martindale Saturday, 79-75. The game really went about a quarter overtime and Nyimicz announced afterwards that the team still didn't look capable of going full court, although the game was faster than the one of the week before.

The outstanding player on the floor during the drill was Lott who dunked 27 points, 11 on shot from the outside. Gabbard hit 26 points while playing outstanding ball for his second straight scrimmage. Only 12 players were present at the Saturday scrimmage, with Stymour Lapin and Frank Willis on hand as reserves.

Shorts In Sports

by Melissa Hudgins

One of the chief complaints of girls at Rollins down through the years has been that they cannot compete in intercollegiate sports. There has been a girls' water skiing team it's true, and a very successful one too, but the Tar girl golfers and tennis players have cried for competition on the intercollegiate level.

Well, this year Coach Dan Nyimicz and other golf coaches throughout the state decided to do something about that. So they arranged to have the girl golfers play a state tournament at the same time as the boys, March 9, 10, and 11 in Ocala.

It would seem that the Rollins girl golfers would be on the links overtime now that they finally had intercollegiate competition. Are they? The girls golf ladder was scheduled to open play Oct. 27. This is mid-November and matches still haven't started. Most of the girls didn't even bother to qualify. Do they really want competition or don't they?

Although perpetual rains prevented most of the women's tennis ladder matches from being played last week, Joan McLellan, who recently defeated Judy Bygate, 6-4, 6-4, caused an upset Friday by defeating Marianne Weil 6-3, 6-0. Marianne previously held top position on the ladder beside Leigh Hay.

The decision of who would hold the two top positions on the ladder was made by the ladder entrants previous to any of the played matches.

The McLellan - Weil victory, therefore, boosts McLellan into Weil's former position on the ladder.

Darlene Dix lost her match to Barbara Arend 7-5, 9-7.

This leaves Barbara Arend to play Joan McLellan and Leigh Hay to play Sally True in the semi-finals of the third round. Betsy Brown and Ginger Carpenter have not yet played their first round.

Friday, November 11th, was a thrilling afternoon of basketball in the women's intramural race, for the only three undefeated teams, Theta, Sands, and Kappa, were to play. The Spurs, the fourth team, only loss had been to the Thetas.

At the close of the first game, the Kappas edged the Spurs from a half time score of 29-29 to a 58-51 victory.

Kappa stalwart, Anne Richardson, should be commended for her ability to rack up 24 points after a bad fall during the tense second half.

The second game presented the Thetas vs. the Sands. The Thetas took command after the first quarter and went ahead to win 46-24.

Pulling from a 12-12 halftime tie, the Alpha Phi's won their first game of the year Monday afternoon over the Phi Mu's 32-27. Anita Wadsworth, Alpha Phi guard, has been the "shining light" for the Alpha Phi's, in developing an accurate shooting technique somewhat like that of Nat Rice, star player for the Alpha Phi's who graduated in '55.

In the first game Monday, the Gamma Phi's scored a 38-31 win over the Pi Phi's. The Pi Phi's played hard and fast, but the Gamma Phi team gained their victory by applying much stronger and more powerful forces.

On the whole, basketball games have been more interesting each week; skill and accuracy is increasing among women's groups on the Rec Hall basketball floor, but there are a few experienced players who, though perhaps unintentionally, persist in unnecessary roughness and shoving around on the basketball floor.

Sigma Nu pitcher Bud Traylor starts for first base after a hit in the early innings of Monday's Sigma Nu-Delta Chi softball game. Delta Chi catcher Bill Fathauer watches the play. Delta Chi won, 8-2.

Florida State Tennis Tourney Attracts Net Stars To Rollins

By Tommy Di Bacco

The Florida State Tennis Association Senior Closed Tournament will be held at the Rollins College tennis courts on November 24-27. The tournament, sponsored by Rollins and under the direction of Rollins tennis coach Norman Copeland, will draw approximately 100 top tennis stars from all over the state.

In order to be eligible to compete in the tournament, each player must be a member of the Florida Lawn Tennis Association, and either a resident of the state or a student attending a school or college in the state.

The results of this tournament could well decide the all important state rankings, even though it is the first major tournament of the winter season. The nation's top tennis team, Miami, will be represented and should prove to pose a definite threat to the other teams.

General Chairman of the four day tournament is Bobby Boyd, Gamma Phi alumnae, and member of last year's graduating class. For the last few weeks Bobbie has been busy with registration forms, fees, and numerous other details which accompany a tournament of this nature.

The following ladder is composed of these Rollins players in the Men's and Women's Singles.

Men's Singles:

1. Guy Filosof
2. Memo Garcia
3. George Longshore
4. Vic Antonette
5. Bob Bell
6. Phil Lubetkin
7. Bill Behrmann
8. Jack Mette
9. Paul Driscoll

Women's Singles:

1. Joan McLellan
2. Sally True
3. Dana Lasker
4. Betsy Brown
5. Judy Bygate

In last year's tournament, which was also held at Rollins, the state women's double championship was captured by Rollins players, Nancy Corse and Carmen Lampe. Rollins' Pat Stewart lost to Connie Ball, a Rollins graduate, in the finals.

Alberto Danel, member of last year's graduating class at Rollins, beat top-seeded Orlando Garrido of Miami in last year's tournament, before losing to second seeded Al Harum of the Hurricanes in the finals.

All Rollins' students who are remaining on campus during the Thanksgiving holidays are urged to attend this tournament. There is no admission charge, and you will be able to witness some of the finest tennis competition in the state.

SIGMA NU BOWS TO DELT TEAM IN I. M. PLAY

Delta Chi slammed Sigma Nu with a stunning 8-2 win Monday afternoon in the Sandspur Bowl.

In winning, the Deltas retained second place in the race for the championship. Delta Chi and the X Club were scheduled to play a decisive game in the championship race yesterday. Going into the game the Club was undefeated and Delta Chi had lost but one game.

The Deltas' Gerry Sprayregen pitched the victory over the Black and Gold. Sprayregen allowed only seven well scattered hits.

Delta Chi hitting power didn't let down. Bill Fathauer, Guy Filosof and John Opdyke each had two hits for the winners. Fathauer and Filosof knocked in four runs between them for Delta Chi.

Bud Traylor pitched a good game for Sigma Nu after a shaky first inning in which he allowed Delta Chi four runs. Chuck Weisman had two singles and Bud Bilensky contributed a three bagger for the losers.

It was the second loss of the season for Sigma Nu against three wins. Sigma Nu opposes the X Club in what will prove another important game in the league standings Monday afternoon.

In the previous game this season between the Club and Sigma Nu, the two teams battled to a 10-10 tie called because of darkness after five innings.

Ugly Man Is Elected Today By Students

Joe Dallanegra, the Chesterfield Campus Representative, is sponsoring a contest to settle the old, controversial question the females are always asking, namely, an "Ugly Man" contest.

Those nominated are Bud Bilinski, Sigma Nu; Hal Durant, X Club; Terry Moffatt, Lambda Chi; Dick Williams, India; Cole Church, KA; and Jarrett Brock, Delta Chi.

All interested parties may cast their votes by way of a Chesterfield or L and M wrapper in the Student Center immediately following the time when the Sandspur comes out. Ballots may be purchased from the cashier in the Center for a $.27 pack of cigarettes.

The lucky winner will receive cigarettes for his special talent.

Girls: Let's all vote and settle this issue once and for all. And men: remember, if you don't vote to keep one of them ugly, you may be next year!

Vote Thursday!

Concert Series To Present Seven Recitals

Seven recitals of the Rollins Concert Series have been announced by Robert Hufstader, director of the Rollins College Conservatory of Music.

Opening the series will be Catharine Crozier, internationally known organist, who will appear Dec. 4 in Knowles Memorial Chapel.

All subsequent concerts will be held in Annie Russell Theatre at 8:30 p.m.

Other recitals scheduled are: The Robert Masters Quartet of London, Jan. 13; Alphonse Carlo, violinist, and Katherine Carlo, pianist, Feb. 12; Gerson Yessin, pianist, Feb. 17; Carol Smith, contralto, and John Carter, pianist, March 13; The Rollins Singers, Robert Hufstader, conductor, April 6; and Ross Rosazza, baritone, and John Carter, pianist, May 4.

Subscriptions for the series are $12 and entitle subscribers to two membership cards of admission for the entire series.

Cotton Queen Contest Date Set

The 1956 Maid of Cotton will wear a glamorous year-round collection of cotton fashions to show the latest trends in cotton fabrics and styling.

The contest is now under way to choose the Cotton Belt girl who will wear these cottons in her role of fashion and good will representative for the industry. Any girl born in a cotton-producing state who has never been married, who is between the ages of 19-25, and who is at least 5 feet 5 inches tall is eligible to enter.

Entry forms and complete information are available from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tenn. These forms must be completed and returned to contest headquarters along with two photographs—one, a head and shoulder portrait and the other, full length. All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, December 1, 1955, to be eligible.

The Cotton Council points out that contestants will be judged on personality, poise, and intelligence, as well as beauty.

After the Maid is selected, she will leave immediately for New York for fittings of her wardrobe. A month later, she will set out on her six month tour of more than 40 cities in the United States, Canada, and Europe.

New Civil Service Positions Open

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for Engineering and Statistical Draftsman positions in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

The salaries for both positions range from $2,960 to $6,390 a year. Applicants must have had appropriate experience or education and must furnish a sample of their work. No written tests are required.

Further information may be obtained from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C.

Officers Elected At First German Club Meeting This Year

The first of what will be bi-monthly meetings of the German Club was held at 7:15 last Tuesday evening, Nov. 8, in the French House.

The officers elected were: Joan MacLelland, president; Bill Cooke, vice-president; and Eddie Hotaling, treasurer.

Herr Fisher briefed new members on the past activities of the German Club two of which were the annual German Christmas open house, and an evening in which steins provide the entertainment.

The main attraction of the evening was Bill Cooke's color slides of some of the sights and scenery of Germany that he snapped on a recent summer excursion.

The next informal gathering of the club will be in the French House this coming Tuesday, Nov. 22, immediately following the evening vesper service in the chapel.

Sally Hunt will be in charge of the program.

Membership in the German Club is open to anyone at Rollins regardless of race tongue or accent. Visitors are always welcome.

Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum Re-Opened Now

The Rollins College Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum, which contains one of the outstanding shell collections of the world, is now open for the winter season.

A specially designed building which was given by the late Mr. B. L. Maltbie, Altamonte Springs, houses over 80,000 shells which are artistically displayed in their lighted cases.

These shells, which come from all parts of the world, were collected by the late Dr. James H. Beal and presented to Rollins.

School teachers and scout leaders are invited to make appointments for taking groups of children into the museum without charge. A nominal fee is charged the general public. The museum will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 1-5 p.m., and on Sundays from 2-5 p.m.
