Group To Preview Pelican; Formal Opening Next Week

Frank Wolfe gave a full report on the Pelican at Monday's Council meeting, announcing its opening tomorrow, its situation improvement, and the chaperones.

The group leaving tomorrow to weekend at the Pelican will include one member of each social group; Junior and Freshman Class presidents, Phil Lubetkin and Dick Mansfield; and Student Council president Pres Hull. Phil and Dick will be in charge of organizing the weekend.

These representatives, with their dates, will compile a group of about 40 students whose purpose it will be to preview and approve the improvements which have been made this year, both in the building and policy.

Although several couples have applied for the job of Pelican chaperones, the actual choosing of the chaperones will not come until next week, before the Pelican opens formally the weekend of March 15. For this preview weekend, Frank Wolfe has asked the Lambda Chi housemother, Mrs. E. L. Reid, to chaperone the group.

This weekend's group will be "roughing it," as the new stoves and refrigerators have not arrived. The Saturday evening meal will be a special one cooked on the beach.

Most of the other improvements and new additions are completed, Frank announced. The Pelican has new plumbing, new beams, new floors in the apartment and kitchen, and a new paint job. Well over $6,000 has been spent on these improvements.

For the remainder of the year, excluding the two open weekends per term, dates will be assigned alphabetically. Frank and President Pres suggested this method as one which could be carried on next year and would eliminate the mix-up of drawing. Council approve their suggestion.

As every group will not have a Pelican week-end this year, Frank expressed hope that every effort will be made to give priority for the open week-ends to seniors whose groups will not have a weekend this year.

Frank also suggested that the fee for alumni using the Pelican be increased from 75c to two dollars. As alumni often visit the Pelican during the summer, this would give the Pelican a total income of approximately $1,900 per year.

After paying the chaperones' salary, a surplus of about $900 would remain which could go toward yearly maintenance and improvements. He suggested that his recommendation be presented to Mr. Tiedtke.

First Homecoming To Be Held Here On Charter Day

Mr. Ray Kirk, executive director of Alumni Incorporated, has announced new developments in the plans for the First Formal Class Reunion of Rollins College, to be held the weekend of April 28, Charter Day of the College.

Classes which will take part in the reunion are those whose numerals end in two and seven, beginning with 1892 and terminating with 1952. All members of the classes have been asked to participate, whether or not they were graduated.

The program for the class reunion on Friday will include a tour of the campus, a baseball game, a square dance on the Student Center Patio, and a picnic supper on Lake Virginia. For Saturday, Alumni Seminars, a crew race, a special luncheon for the "Gay Nineties" group (those who attended the college before 1900), and a dress rehearsal of the ART's musical production, "Thirteen Clocks" and "Trouble in Tahiti," will be scheduled.

Fiesta Committee Plans For April Dance, Festivity

The Fiesta Committee discussed plans for the midway and the Fiesta Dance at their meeting Thursday, February 28, leaving only the question of the band unsolved.

Each social group on campus has been asked to submit plans for the booth they will have on the midway this year. The committee needs these plans in order to buy the material necessary for the booths.

"Manhattan Towers" has been named the theme of the Fiesta Dance. This theme will be carried out in the decorations which will be done by the Studio Club.

The dance will be held in the Shrine Temple in Orlando. The Temple was selected as the site of the dance because it is large enough to keep the dance floor uncrowded. It is equipped with a set-up bar.

Each social group will be asked to pay the Fiesta Committee one dollar for each member of their group, regardless of how many of the group plan to attend the dance. A check for the total amount, payable to "Rollins College—Fiesta Committee," should be sent in along with a list of all the members of the group.

Another of the activities in connection with the Fiesta this year will be a rummage sale. Boxes will be placed in each of the dormitories to collect unwanted clothing. Students have been requested to turn in the clothing clean and pressed, and preferably with the sizes marked.

The Publicity Committee of Fiesta is sponsoring a poster contest among the art students at Winter Park, Boone, and Edgewater High Schools. This contest will provide the committee with the posters that it will need to publicize various activities for the Fiesta weekend—the midway, the dance, the jazz concert, the car wash, and others.

The committee will award three prizes for the best posters submitted by the high schoolers. First prize will be five dollars, second will be three dollars, and third will be two dollars.

Peter Dearing To Resign As Theatre Arts Director

Peter Dearing, Director of the Rollins College Theatre Arts Department, announced Monday night that he would give up the top drama position of the college next year.

Dearing, who captured the theater post in 1954 replacing Howard Bailey, was not specific in relating to reporters his plans for the future. He did, however, state that his plans rested upon the acceptance of a new program for the college play-acting department. This plan, he said, is still in the discussion phase with college executives.

At any rate, the former professor of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London will not be of service to the theatre division "in his present capacity."

He had announced earlier this year to the Rollins Players, the group that presents the Annie Russell plays each year, that he had served the purposes of a professional theater man as a college director. From this viewpoint it is possible that the well-known Englishman will return to the professional stage.

Dearing's life in the theater has been a most interesting one. At the age of six, he was starring in motion pictures. His interests and progress in the world of acting developed so quickly that he took to the legitimate stage at 12 years of age.

From that time onward he worked with many of the well-known producers in London. For instance, he became associated with the Ben Greet Shakespearean Players at 14 and toured three continents.

As a member of this group, he toured the United States for three years during which time he played in over eight hundred towns and in every state with the exception of two.

The stage did not limit the 43-old-actor, for he also invaded the field of radio, serving as a broadcaster for many of the top dramatic shows of the British Broadcasting Company.

Dearing-directed plays have been met with noticeable success as evidenced from his first play, "The Sink of Our Teeth" to his most recently directed one, "Ring Around the Moon."

Shown competing in the Reeve Oratorical Contest Wednesday are Len Wood and Tommy DiBacco. DiBacco bested Wood in the speaking duel and received $50.

This is a trial edition of the Sandspur under the Editorship of Tommy DiBacco. All phases of the paper have been handled by an editorial staff of DiBacco's choosing. Read this paper carefully and keep it for reference.

EDITORIAL

MY BELIEFS

One receives a great deal of inward satisfaction when he knows he is a part of an organization that has achieved a great deal. For the last two years, I have had such gratification, as I have been associated with the Sandspur, a publication that has received for two years the highest possible recognition ever given by a national critical board.

When one thoroughly enjoys working in a particular field, he strives to advance as far as his ability and will power permit him. It is from this point of view that I announced my candidacy for the Editorship last week. Moreover, just as a doctor or lawyer derives satisfaction in helping to aid a patient or client, I, too, am eager to be of service to the student body. It is because of the insatiable desire to be of service in a capacity greater than that of a sub-editor that I desire sincerely to be Editor of the Sandspur.

Along with this feeling, I have new ideas, new thoughts, new visions of what progress and achievements should be made in a college newspaper.

I believe it is the responsibility of the college editor to present to the student body a FACTUAL, VIVID, PICTORIAL, and NON-DISCRIMINATORY publication.

The paper should be FACTUAL in that the latest events unmarred by opinions are brought to view; VIVID in that the news is written and arranged in such a careful and precise manner so as to appeal to the reader; PICTORIAL in that the outstanding abilities of the Rollins photographers are utilized to the fullest; NON-DISCRIMINATORY in that all groups of students, professors, and administrators are represented without regard to personal prejudices.

These are the primary duties of the paper. In addition, it is my firm conviction that every student should be ever mindful and concerned about the betterment of his college. Such aims can be brought about if Chuck Lambeth's, Jon Dunn-Rankin's, Jim Brown's, John Wilson's, and Bob Eginton's are made an integral part of the newspaper. For it is through important controversial issues brought forth by such writers that students are made aware of those problems that exist in a college.

Yet it must never be forgotten that the basic underlying virtue on which all writing should be based is TRUTH. If the TRUTH is directed towards the improvement of a situation, it is to be printed; however, if it is an aim within itself and only for derogatory purposes, it is of no value to the public.

With this sense of dignity, the student body will have an informative newspaper that is not afraid to step on a few people's toes in order to publish, with good intention, the TRUTH.

These are the elements that are necessary if the Sandspur is to continue to achieve a great deal of praise from students and critical boards alike. I sincerely hope I am given the opportunity to direct such progress.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It is a feeling of mine that an artist who helps us to live more intensely and with greater understanding puts us in his debt as surely as a man who lends us money. I want therefore to use your columns to say thank you to a number of artists who did all that for me last Friday night. I want to say thank you — and bravo! — to Clark Warren, Liz Otis, Pete Adams, Mike Crecco, Dede Lund, Ann Derflinger, Tony Layng, John Connable and the others in the cast of The Crucible; and to their director Arthur Wagner, who helped them give performances of such startling maturity.

I have seen many fine things at the Annie Russell Theatre, but I have never before been quite so thrilled and moved. Not only did the cast combine emotional intensity with intimate understanding of the characters they were playing in a way I have never seen even these actors do before; both feeling and thought were strikingly evident in the direction too, direction which, though it never sank into the merely "theatrical," got out of every scene the last ounce of its dramatic power.

But a friend of mine in the Science Department (where they waste few words) put all I'm trying to say in a single syllable. I refer to Dr. Thomas, who, when

I met him in the corridor after the play, said only, "Wow!"

Sincerely Yours

Irvin Stock

Dear Sir:

I want to thank you for the helpful co-operation you gave to the Town Hall Series during its last season which has now closed forever with the two performances of the reading of the Van Gogh letters by Vincent Price for the first time anywhere! Mr. Price told me he was so grateful to have the opportunity to read them before such discriminatory and responsive audiences as he had at the matinee and evening performances.

It has given both Dr. Rhea Smith and me great pleasure and satisfaction to have so many of the Rollins Family present at the afternoon performances—from the pre-season one when Mrs. Alice B. Morgan appeared. Our figures show that 43 of the economics department accepted them—70 from the English department came to the Blanche Yurka and Atwater & Dekker performances—27 came to the opening concert presented by Nelson and Neal—17 to Quentin Keynes—16 to hear Capt. Grattidge—and 55 to Vincent Price.

Mr. Vincent Price brought an audience to the Annie Russell Theatre from many parts of Florida as did Capt. Grattidge. Again thank you for your interest in the Town Hall Series.

Sincerely Yours,

Dorothy Lockhart

A FREEDOM FIGHTER'S LIFE

An 18-year-old Hungarian girl, now awaiting entrance to Ohio State university, wrote her life story for the LANTERN.

Despite the difference in her life from the "average" 18-year-old girl's, her wants seem pretty much the same.

Dear Students:

My name is Erika Schick. I was born in Budapest in 1938. I am now 18 years old. At home I graduated with flying colors from Gymnazium which is similar to your high schools. Then, I learned chemistry and decided that I wanted to become a chemist.

My father was a professional man, an electrical engineer; only 5 per cent of the children of professional men are allowed to go to the university. The Communists have first choice, and my application for college was refused. However, the little shop owner can never go to the university and sometimes they cannot even go to the Gymnazium.

I left Budapest Nov. 25. My mother came as far as she could; we said good-bye and she went back to Budapest. There were 12 of us, one an old lady who had to be carried by two of the younger boys.

We were very tired and almost turned back. The Russians were looking for us and we had to lie on the ground while they shot up flares to find us. If they saw us, they would tell us to halt and if we didn't they would shoot us. There were many times when I thought I would never make it. We didn't know the way and were afraid we'd go in a circle in the dark and end up back in Hungary. During our journey, we had only lemons and apples to eat.

Once we heard the footsteps of the soldiers; we hid in a churchyard. I asked God to help us. The soldiers passed by. We went on and about 8 a.m. in the morning we saw a custom house and knew we had reached the border.

I ask you to help the Hungarian students; we have had such a bad life. We like the United States. You have such a wonderful life. You can't imagine what it is like to live through war. Please, help the Hungarian students!

By Sting

The unique effect achieved by Mr. Arthur Wagner that impressed me most in his excellent production of last week, was the drifting on stage of billowing clouds of smoke immediately before the entrances of Mr. John Connable. I am yet uncertain as to the connection they had with the character portrayed by Mr. Connable or as to the possible significance they may have had in relation to the rest of the play. They were most unusual, though, and their purpose has provided me with many pleasant hours of speculation.

A not insignificant portion of Rollins' reputation rests on the fact that its catalogue reports that women comprise a larger percentage of its enrollment than men. A good many people, I among them, would find this difficult to believe. It takes quite some time for one to discover that many of the students are really women, but that they disguise themselves as men. Almost everyone, men and women, wear the same uniform. It consists of short trousers and a dress shirt without necktie and with the sleeves rolled a quarter of an inch above the elbows.

The women, as well as the men, wear their hair exceedingly short in the back with varying lengths in the front. Most of them patronize the same barber shop for their weekly trims.

At Rollins, I have found, there is almost nothing in which the women do not rival the men. I learned recently of two groups called the Kings and the Queens that compete to determine if women can smoke more than men. The women, though, are at a decided disadvantage. The men have king-sized smokes, but the women have no cigarettes sized expressly for their group.

There is also a movement to see whether the men or the women can produce the better athletes. I have seen some of the workouts of both sets and the women seem to be making unbelievable gains.

It is indeed disappointing that Rollins women have made themselves over into replicas of men. A Rollins man has nothing left that he can call his own. His clothes, haircut, smokes, athletic prowess, all are shared by women who abhor even the suggestion of womanliness.

I have a notion how equilibrium and distinction between the sexes can be restored. It is a known fact that likes repel while opposites attract. If women insist on acting the parts of men, then it is up to the men to assume new roles also. They must fight fire with fire, extreme with extreme.

They must wear skirts. They must let their hair grow to their shoulders. They must leave the cigarettes and sports to the women. They must revive the lost art of femininity.

The monotony, the terrible, tedious sameness will be ended. The disappearance of women from the campus will have been halted. The female sex will have been saved from extinction. The Rollins catalogue will have been kept from being a prevaricator.

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. Darrah

As another term begins to come to a close and the discrepancy between our dreams and our grades becomes obvious even to ourselves, I am reminded of the quatrain John Masfield quotes.

Sitting still and wishing Makes no person great.
The good Lord sends the fishing,
But you just dig the bait.
"It would have been easy," writes Masfield, "for me to sit and dream of being a writer, but I would never have been one without a constant goad."

Six Vie For Editorships

The Rollins Publications Union approved the qualifications of 11 candidates for Sandspur, Flamingo, Tomokan, and R Book positions at a meeting last Saturday morning, according to Sandy Hose, committee president.

Hose stated that the constitution qualifications for these posts were met by ten of the prospective office holders and that only the sub-qualifications for one position had to be waived.

"This was done," Hose remarked, "in order that we would have nominees for each office."

Candidates vying for the four editorships include Lynne Kaelber, Tommy DiBacco, Bruce Beal, Ann Nelson, Marge Myers, and Ford Oehne.

The two competitors for the office of Editor of the Sandspur include Lynne Kaelber and Tommy DiBacco. Lynne, a junior who transferred to Rollins last year from the University of Florida, has worked on the paper for two years in the capacity of News and Feature editors. She also served as Editor for Orlando's only weekly newspaper, "The Corner Cupboard."

In addition Lynne is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and held the post of rush chairman this past year. The Honor Roll candidate also has a ballad show on radio station WPRK and is a Chapel reader.

DiBacco served as a sports reporter for two terms before capturing the position of Sports Editor, which he has held for three terms. The sophomore nominee for the top Sandspur spot is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, Phi Society, German Club, and the Rollins Players.

He, too, is an Honor Roll Student and last year co-directed the Freshman Show.

Bruce Beal and Nelson are vying for the top Tomokan positions. Bruce, a Delta Chi, has been a member of the year book staff for three years, serving as Layout Editor and Business Manager his last two years. He represents his fraternity in Student Council and has worked on the Flamingo.

Kaelber

DiBacco

Beal

Ann transferred from Northwestern University last year, where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. This year at Rollins, she has held the position of Art Director of the Tomokan.

Two candidates, Marge Myers and Ford Oehne, are unopposed in their quest of the Flamingo and R Book Editorships. Marge has served as Associate Editor of the Bird this year. In addition, the sophomore candidate, whose name frequently has appeared on the Dean's List, is vice president of her sorority, Phi Mu. Marge is also a member of Phi Society.

Ford Oehne, the lone R Book Editor seeker, is president of Sigma Nu fraternity. Moreover, he holds the top executive positions in Phi Society and the Chapel Vespers Committee. His other activities include membership in the Rollins Players, Chapel Staff, and the honorary theater group, Theta Alpha Phi.

Five Rollins hopefuls applied for the three business positions of the Rollins publications. These posts are Business Manager of the Sandspur, Business Manager of the Tomokan, and Advertising Commissioner of Sandspur.

Nelson Dick Bezemer is the only candidate for the Business Manager spot of the Sandspur. Bezemer, an All State basketball player for two years, is treasurer for his fraternity, the X Club. The junior nominee also holds the same office for the R Club. Sunday mornings find him serving in the capacity of a Chapel reader or usher.

Pete Kimball and Janet Markson are campaigning against each other for the Business Manager position of the Tomokan. Pete, who is a member of Delta Chi fraternity, holds membership in the Chapel Staff and the tennis team.

Janet has served as Associate Business Manager of the Tomokan this past year. Her other extra-curricular activities include Student Council and past-treasurer of her sorority, Phi Mu.

Win Taylor and Al Smith are running for the Sandspur Advertising Commissioner post. Win, a Delta Chi, has done photographic work for the Tomokan, Sandspur, and Flamingo during his three years at Rollins.

Al is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, the R Club, and the varsity crew. Last year, the sophomore office-seeker was a member of Coach Brad Bradley's undefeated junior varsity squad.

The main problems of this year's Publications Union that will face the new editors and staff are the decreased amount of student interest in the field of journalism and the increased amount of funds needed by the four publications.

The latter problem could possibly result in the raising of the Student Association fee in future years; however, as yet no definite action has been taken by the committee on the solving of these problems.

MISS LOCKHART SAYS TOWN HALL CLOSED FOREVER

At the February 19 appearance of Vincent Price on the Town Hall Series, director Dorothy Lockhart announced that the series would "close forever."

Dorothy Lockhart, wife of history professor Rhea Smith, has not given any clue as to why the Series has closed or if it or a similar series will open again. Rumors have stated that the Series closed due to bad attendance, others say the reason was a lack of sufficient and outstanding talent, while some hint that Miss Lockhart is planning to re-open with an even better lecture series.

The Series has a long history dating back to its first presentation in the Annie Russell Theatre in 1933. The coming year would mark its 25th anniversary had its presentations been annual. Miss Lockhart was first brought to Winter Park by the request of her friend Annie Russell to aid in the dedication of the Annie Russell Theatre in 1932.

Miss Lockhart, chosen as director of the theatre by late president Hamilton Holt from 1936 through 1942, has brought to Winter Park famous people from fields of music, theatre, and international affairs.

Government Class Travels To Study Cuban Problems

A group of advanced government students, headed by Dr. Paul F. Douglass, will leave Rollins next Wednesday, March 13, to travel to Cuba to study the economic and governmental problems of that island.

The week-long traveling seminar will begin at Miami with a study of Cuban-American transporting. Arriving in Cuba, where they will stay at Havana's Royal Palm Hotel, the group will be oriented by Luis Machado, former Cuban ambassador to the United States.

During the next week, the group will visit the British and American embassies, inspect governmental processes, study the West Indies Federation, and make a basic study of the sugar industry by visiting the Sugar Institute and a sugar plantation.

In reference to the group's study of Cuba's current governmental state, Dr. Douglass says, "Because the country is under strict censorship and is in the throes of revolution, that part of the trip which deals with Cuba's political unrest cannot be published."

The trip will include a study, not only of the situation in Cuba, but also of current global problems. Cuba is the base for operations of the two opposing Chinese parties, the Chinese Communists, and the Kuomintang. Both of these parties publish newspapers in Cuba as part of their fight for influence in Latin America. The Rollins students will have the opportunity to meet and talk with the editors of these newspapers. They will also meet the editors of the leading Cuban papers.

Members of the group making the trip to Cuba are Mr. and Mrs. William Astor, Carol Musselwhite, Bruce Longbottom, Nancy Manville, Jo Ellen Craig, Roland Reynolds, Dan Smith, Robert Whitelaw, Bob Pletzt, Philippe Mussard, Guy Filosof, and Brian Bird.

Last December, Dr. Douglass conducted a study group similar to this which studied international trade problems on a visit to New York City and Washington, D. C. A series of radio programs discussing this trip are being broadcast over WPRK every Tuesday night. The official report of the trip is to be released this week.

Faculty Members Chosen To Speak Around Country

Rollins professors are traveling about the country, lecturing in their fields to audiences perhaps more appreciative and certainly more learned than those attending their class lectures at Rollins.

Dr. Paul F. Douglass returned Tuesday, February 26, from a flying weekend trip to Sacramento, California, where he addressed the ninth annual meeting of Affiliated Personnel Societies at the Coliseum on the California State Fair Grounds.

The subject of Dr. Douglass' talk was "From This Time, Forward!" and discussed the problems of recruitment for public service in a period of increasing personnel shortage.

During his trip, he took part in planning a national institute on administration to be held at Long Beach, California, and as editor of "The Annals" for September 1957, met with a committee of sub-editors.

Dr. Geneva Drinkwater and Dean Sidney J. French attended the 12th National Conference on Higher Education held in Chicago on March 3 through 6. Dr. Drinkwater was one of the participants in a discussion group of the conference.

Before attending the Chicago conference, Dean French spoke at the Centennial Celebration of Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Illinois, on March 1 and 2.

Dr. William Fort has been invited to attend two conferences dealing with defense against communism to be held this month in Chicago and Washington. He has not yet decided if he will be able to attend the meetings.

The Chicago conference is the National Military-Industrial Conference sponsored by the Society of American Military Engineers to be held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel on March 14, 15, and 16. Attending this, the purpose of which is to discuss ways of broadening national defense to include philosophical and psychological warfare, will be leaders in the military, professional, and educational fields.

The meeting to be held in Washington on March 18, 19, and 20 will be another conference this time dealing with FRASCO, an organization seeking ways to instruct students in defense against communism and its propaganda. The committee is headed by Dr. Charles Lowry, author of "Christianity versus Communism."

Dr. Fort expressed hope that he will be able to attend these conferences, stating, "Both are important moves by our country to establish sufficient defense . . ."

Council Announces Students Eligible To Hold Offices

Following the Pelican announcement by Frank Wolfe, Monday night's Council meeting droned on to discuss the coming elections and a new art course proposed by Pres. Hugh McKean and Dean Sidney French.

The purpose and main project of the art course would be to build a scale model of the campus. Interested students should contact Dean French.

The list of students eligible to run for offices is as follows:

Students eligible to run: Sandra Fogarty, Wendy Hirshon, D. A. Sharp, Guerrie Brown, Larry Hitter, Frank Wolfe, Moseley Waite, Sue Dunn, Tom DiBacco, Bill Dunnill, Len Wood, Bob Pratt, Karen Serungard, Dot Englehart, Dick Anderson, Joe Haraka, Punky Ladd, Corky Borders, Babs Moore, Tom Dolan.

Students who will be eligible if they attend the remaining Council meetings: Bruce Beal, Jean Rigg, Phil Lubetkin, Hal Durant.

Marines To Interview Students Next Week

The Marine Corps Officer Procurement Team will be on campus on March 14 and 15 to interview students desiring to earn a commission while completing college.

Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are eligible to apply for the Platoon Leaders Class. Seniors and graduates may apply for the Officer Candidate Course or the Aviation Candidate Course.

First Lieutenant William R. Eleazer, recently assigned to duty as Assistant Officer Procurement Officer in this area, will furnish complete information without obligation to all interested students.

How many of us here on campus really know Frank Ferguson? I didn't. My interview with him was the first personal contact I'd had with him and I enjoyed my all too brief talk. I enjoyed it because Frank is not just any retired guy who suddenly decided to go to college. He is a very real person who has enjoyed a highly successful life and is going on to make it even more successful.

Right after finishing high school in his home town, Memphis, Tennessee, Frank entered the Marine several times. With characteristic modesty, Frank remarked:

"When people comment on my being on the Dean's list, I just tell them that I have to hurry up and graduate. I wouldn't like to appear in the same Tomokan as my son!"

In addition, Frank is a member of the Phi Society and the Future Teachers of America.

Frank stated that if he were younger he would go on into graduate study. At present he is a junior and plans to teach high school after his graduation.

FRANK FERGUSON AT HOME

Corps and made it his career. This started a colorful life that blazed from South America around the world to China and Hawaii.

In the last war, Frank was captured by the Japanese on the Philippine island of Corregidor and held prisoner for three years. He was one of the few in his group who was fortunate enough to come out of the experience alive. At the termination of his imprisonment he was barely more than skin and bones and was suffering from beri-beri; consequently, he was hospitalized for a year.

Frank had two tours of duty in China and spent several years there. He also spent quite some time in Nicaragua assisting in the tracking down and arresting of a famous bandit. He was in South America for a long period of time and for the two years preceding his retirement as a Lieutenant Colonel in 1954, he and his family spent two years living in Pearl Harbor.

Frank's thirty-odd years in the Marines did not go unrewarded. He was presented the Silver Star for gallantry in action on Corregidor, and the Purple Heart as well as numerous other medals and foreign decorations. He was considered to be an outstanding Marine officer.

After such an illustrious career, most people would have retired to enjoy a well-earned rest, but "most people" does not include Frank.

"I didn't want to just rust," he told me, "I wanted to do something."

Frank is making as much of a success out of college as he did out of his Marine career. He is majoring in history and government and has made the Dean's list

Frank is a member of Delta Chi fraternity; he was initiated when a freshman.

"I am very pleased," he mused. "I have been accepted as a student and everyone has been so friendly."

Besides all of this, Frank is a busy husband and father. He has a fourteen-year-old son "for whom I serve as chauffeur," as Frank puts it. He has a dog, Blondie, "just pure dog" that he is very fond of.

Frank believes that he is getting more out of college life now than he would have had he gone after graduating from high school. He has gotten a lot out of life, too, as one can easily see from his past history.

"My whole life has been fun," he says.

Frank is a very modest person; in fact I had to turn to his wife for information about his very outstanding war record.

Here is a man who has been successful in every sense of the word and is going to go right on being successful. Here is a man we should all be proud to have on the Rollins campus.

DUNG HO

Board of Control members at South Dakota State college, Brookings, S. D., were worrying about how to keep campus jaywalkers off the grass.

"Let's have snow fences across those paths all year long," expounded Dave Christensen, student president, according to the COLLEGIAN.

"Better still," muttered another board member, "let's pile manure along the sidewalks. That'll keep 'em in line."

Early Sandspurs Tell Tales About Campus Of Yore

By Kris Allen

Have nothing to do? Want something interesting to occupy your mind? Go over to the library and check out a book on the old Rollins "Sandspurs," and you'll have hours of chuckles.

It seems that way back in 1908, students spent their evening hours picking sandspurs off the football field (without end), and a box of candy was given to the couple having the largest pile of sandspurs. Now what could be more fun!! What else did the students of '08 do for entertainment? Why, after every football game, the young ladies of Cloverleaf (the only freshman women's dorm) gave a reception for the visiting team . . .

"... On Monday, October 30th, the Delta Phi Beta (who?) sorority gave a Halloween party to the students in the gymnasium. The ghosts of Blenheim appeared before our eyes, the gnomes danced up and down the gym and a disappearing ghostly procession sang John Brown's Body. At the close, Miss Reed told stories about a witch's cauldron, while the guests were occupied with the contents of paper bags . . ." (probably trick-or-treats.)

"On January 29, Miss Donnan gave a party for the two hundred boys and girls—Cloverleaf." (There must have been a misprint here, since when are there boys—Cloverleaf. This must be investigated.) So much for the social life. What about athletics in those days?

In 1908, Rollins held the state championship in football, baseball, and basketball. It seems that for several years Rollins had been the "underdog" because they would not sacrifice a clean athletic spirit for the questionable glory of victory at any cost. (Sounds like intramural football.)

Well, at any rate, we can all join hands and shout "hurrah" for Rollins athletic teams of 1908-1909. (We'd like to join hands and shout for old Rollins, again too.)

We can sit and laugh all day at these things, but years from now students will discover our old Sandspurs and laugh equally as loud. (Heavens no! We don't do strange things, do we?!)

Notice:

It has hereby been agreed by the select few who dictate the policies for the intellectual betterment of the Animated Magazine, that the Honorable J. Humphrey Hugenot has been invited to speak at Rollins College. We hereby print a copy of the letter which has just been sent to Mr. Hugenot.

"Dear Mr. Hugenot,

We feel that it is our duty to advise you, Mr. Hugenot, that Rollins College is not able at present to assist you financially on your trip to the cultural center of Florida, but we herewith send you a mimeographed list of degrees, anyone of which we would be honored to confer on you. Please circle in red pencil the degree you feel would make you honorabler than you previously have claimed yourself to be.

Doctorates:

1. Dr. of Miscellaneous Information
  2. Dr. of Hallucinations
  3. Dr. of Metaphysical Absurdities
  4. Dr. of Spanish Inquisitions (not to be confused with certain reference sections in the library.)
- Please reply at your earliest convenience in order that we might read your speech before the Loyal Order of Maggots, who are sponsoring this program with us.

Pleased to meet you acquaintance,

Rollins College

P. S. In case you're interested we are enclosing the names of some of the other speakers.

Ned Softly . . . The essence of the Unicorn in a modern Society. Laetitia Heliotrope . . . The influence of plant diseases on the Praetorian Guard. Miss Ima Mau-mau . . . The effect of Swahili on the English Speaking Peoples. Felix Xzvenpothddw . . . (as in Oxwuyhrbdkp) . . . Palaeolithic art and its influence on the modern quiz program. And other well known personalities whose names we can't recall.

This letter, as you can plainly see, is a clear indication of the tremendous progression our Animated Magazine has made. This program has caused a great influence on the cultural lives of the inhabitants of Sleepy Sentral Florida (catch the assonance).

They no longer must purchase knowledge through periodicals such as the Reader's Digest or The Kumquat Growers Semi-Weekly. But, instead, have at their disposal a wide range of tales presenting acute ideas on timely issues.

At this time we feel it is our duty to make apologies to the few who were unable to get a but the problem has been ameliorated with the thoughtful consideration of the Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum. They have kindly donated a section of their roof for next year's bigger and better program.

I have been told that they are going to construct a third tier, top of the roof, where during a permission you will have the pleasure of listening to Baron Von Hereford singing some Bahamian Indian folk tunes.

He will be assisted by Lt. Hamerklayvier on the French horn. In closing we would like to say Bravo and Bravo once more.

WORK TO DO

(ACP)—Michigan state university's NEWS criticized the school Student Congress for its "apathetic" and were in turn criticized by congress members who said the paper should be more constructive and offer ideas.

The NEWS came back with suggested projects for the student politicians to work on. Possible programs for any student government group, they include getting traffic lights up at busy campus crossings, working out a civil defense plan for students, regulating elections (don't let campus become a "billboard jungle" doing something about dorm food and crowded rooms, planning a free hours so students could meet famous persons who come to campus.

Students Complain Profusely Against Beanery Situation

By Edge

There was an Army general once, whose name is obscured by history, who said, "a good soldier is always griping; that's how you can tell he's happy." This, I feel, is more applicable to Rollins students than soldiers.

A pupil at Jolly Rolly Colly is most voluble and positive when he is being negative—his favorite subjects being school spirit and the beanery, which ever one he feels to be, in the worst condition when he feels the need to gripe.

The last few weeks it has been the beanery. The rebellion against the beanery food has taken the form of much talk, some action, and some violence.

The much talk comes from the need of the little people for a conversation piece. It is very original to greet your friends on their way into the Chez Mays with a key mouth turned up into bulging cheeks and terror stricken eyes and the poetically simple words, "It's lousy, don't bother to go." (Needless to say, you pay a little attention to them, as they to their friends who had warned them, and go in to see for yourself; you're hungry.)

The some action is the committee picked by Student Council Prexy, Pres Hull, at the behest of John Tiedtke to study the beanery. So far as we can find out, this committee is attempting to cut its way through the apaghetti. They have met with Mr. Tiedtke several times and next week are going to observe how a beanery meal is prepared.

And then the following week they will be back eating with the rest of us, but having looked upon the sun they will have a harder time adjusting to everyday eating.

The some violence has been done to the picture of Alonzo Rollins, which is located in a certain section of the dining room, inhabited by the most demanding gourmets who have ever palated fried grits. Mr. Rollins, after whom the college was named, is a drip, that is, he is dripping with ice cream, butter, creamed potatoes, and several other delicacies which can now only be identified by smell.

Seems as if the inhabitants didn't like the meal and decided to practice baseball rather than usual or maybe it was later than usual, but none the less Mr. Rollins is plastered and we're sure he wouldn't like it, since he was against drink.

Another form of action was taken by a couple of talented artists who depicted the rigors of beanery eating with some realistic cartoons which were pasted on the facade of the beanery.

The students' attitude towards the beanery may be summed up with a rousing Bronx cheer, which would make even those hearty souls from Brooklyn hearty. And we might add, that of late, there has been some Justice, in what they are shouting about.

NO PACKAGED FREEDOM

(ACP)—Concern for Hungarian students is still a big story on most college campuses. At Ohio State university, for example, students are trying to raise $5,000 to support five Hungarian students here.

Ohio State students met two Hungarian students awaiting entrance to their school. One American asked Bela Lukacs, one of the pair, "What can we do to help those still in Hungary?"

Lukacs lowered his eyes as the question was explained. His voice was soft but firm as he answered. The interpreter said: "Nothing. He says they want their freedom, and it doesn't come in CARE packages."

American know-how in nuclear physics, in mechanics, in technical fields, has long led the world — yet we accepted our ideas of the workings of the mind from Europe.

Now an American science of the human being has been developed — and American know-how of man himself is refuting all the "impossibilities" Europe laid down.

You CAN raise your I. Q. You CAN make yourself more able. You CAN raise your action level.

Student Guide Finds Great Sincerity In Msgnr. Varga

Looking backwards over the celebrities participating in the Animated Magazine, we pause beside the name of Monsignor Bella Varga. Then we find we must pause even longer to try to form the right words to give you some idea of his vibrant and most impressive personality.

Since John Green had been in charge of chauffeuring Varga to and from all the official functions and meetings connected with Founder's Week and the Animag, a beautiful campus and an exceptionally fine student body and faculty.

Monsignor Varga was raised among the rural areas of Hungary and represented them in the Hungarian Parliament. As head of the Parliament, he more or less ruled the country because the President is merely a figurehead. At present, Varga is President of the Hungarian International Council in New York.

John said the guest had a little

we asked him to tell us about Varga—off-stage.

Varga was supposed to arrive Saturday night, February 23, by plane from New York and John was supposed to pick him up and rush him over to the Wyoming Hotel for the Founders' Day Dinner. A police escort was ready and waiting for the occasion—and they really kept waiting, too, because the plane was many, many hours late. Monsignor Bella Varga finally stepped off the plane around midnight.

Then John's speedy '53 blue Ford whisked the diplomat to the Langford Hotel where he was to stay until Tuesday, the 26th.

Tuesday Varga indulged in his favorite pastime—fishing. He went on Rollins' inherited yacht with President McKean and other dignitaries from the administration department.

After his term at the Langford, he stayed with a Hungarian family who live on a lake here in Winter Park. Then he was able to really follow his passion—fishing. He told John that he doesn't smoke, drink, or play cards, so he has to have some vice—and chose fishing. Actually, this has been a long term vice because he began catching fish with his bare hands in the stream that ran through his father's back yard in Hungary when he was a wee tot.

John was most impressed by Varga's humility and sincerity about everything in general. He said that Varga was quiet-spoken and very easy to talk to. He asked quite a few questions about our college life, where we lived on campus, etc. But he was also interested in information about Florida as a state and the country as a whole.

Varga thought that Rollins had trouble with his English because when he's in New York working for the Council, he is expected to speak Hungarian and this doesn't give him much opportunity to practice his English. He has quite an accent but John said he got accustomed to it after a while and had no difficulty in understanding the eminent diplomat.

"The Monsignor is one of the most quietly impressive and humble men I have ever met. He is a true dignitary no matter how you look at him and I am very glad I had this opportunity to get to know someone with as much character and world-understanding as he," stated John. "His humility was deeply sincere and he felt himself very honored to have been chosen by Rollins as a key speaker in the Animag."

John thought very definitely that he had learned things from him—but then that would be hard not to do when you are constantly in the presence of a man such as he. John was made to realize that we, safe at home in our fraternity and sorority houses, cannot possibly visualize what Hungary and the other oppressed nations behind and adjacent to the Iron Curtain have gone through. The unease, the unrest, the mounting tension, all were fingers pointing to the revolt staged in Hungary. And we here cannot possibly conceive of such horrifying apprehension.

Here is a tiny picture of one of the great personalities of our time. Quiet, sincere, and humble—but terrifically impressive to all who have any contact with him, Monsignor Bella Varga should have a space reserved for him in books recording today's history.

Jim Curti, playing in the third spot, chips on the green of the par four, second hole, in his two under par 69 last Saturday.

Linksters Swamp Florida As Dinga, Curti Duo Star

By Chuck Doyle

The Rollins linksmen handed the University of Florida golfers an 18½-8½ loss last Saturday at Dubsread Country Club.

Ed Dinga, team captain, led the onslaught with a 34-33-67, making him medalist for the day. Jim Curti was next with a 69, two under par. This Rollins victory was an important one for the men, as was voiced by Dinga. "It was a good win. This victory over the University of Florida gave us the confidence we need for a winning year. With the addition of Joe Miller, we will be even stronger."

Miller, a transfer from Dayton, Ohio, is still ineligible to play due to college regulations. The rule states that a transfer student needs 2/3 of a year of school or 35 credit hours to play varsity golf.

Both teams had previously won a victory over Wisconsin—Florida U., 26½-1½, Rollins, 21-6. This was the battle of two of the best golf teams in the nation and Rollins proved it was clearly superior last Saturday.

Big Ed Dinga started the day off rather badly, bogeying the second and third holes. He then settled down to business on the par five fourth, with an eagle. On the other long par five on the front side, Dinga missed the green in two by only six inches, finishing that hole up with a birdie. He also birdied the eighth. On the back side he birdied the 13th, 18th, and just missed a four foot putt on the 17th.

Jim Curti gave Florida its backbreaking blow on the ninth hole. Curti and Dinga were playing together in the foresome. The team match was all even as was Curti's individual match.

Curti hit his iron shot ten feet from the cup, and then dropped it for a birdie, which gave the Dinga-Curti combination their team points, the front side, and gave Curti the first of his three points.

The team as a whole played magnificently as was commented by Bob Ross. "Everybody played awfully well. We knew what we had to do and we did it." Dan Nymicz said, "We needed 72 average; we had a 71!"

Next Saturday Rollins pits itself against Miami at Dubsread Country Club, and then moves into the Florida Intercollegiate at Ocala, February 14, 15, and 16.

Individual scoring went:

Ross def. Aaron, 2-1
Best ball-Rollins, 2-1
Curti def. McCoy, 3-0
Dinga def. Gleason, 3-0

IM Basketball Ends; Spikemen Begin Volleyball

The intramural basketball season with the exception of one rescheduled game between the KA's and the Delts, not available at press time, came to an end Tuesday night with the X Club once more emerging victorious, and undefeated.

In other basketball games not yet reviewed X Club slammed Delta Chi 87-69, Sigma Nu defeated Lambda Chi 84-76, and Independents tasted victory for the first time by beating KA by 54-49.

The Delt vs. Club game saw the Delts throw in point for point with the Club until the last quarter, when the Club pulled away. Jim Bonatis racked 20 points for the Delts and Jim Doran was overpowering as he threw in 21 field goals and 5 free shots, totaling 47 points, for the Delts' neighbors to the south.

Ed Flory continued on his scoring streak by scoring 34 points for Lambda Chi. Dave Hewitson, with 25, and Corky Borders, with 19, were high for the victorious Snakes.

Last Friday the KA's and the Indies met in "furiously" played battle that shook the league foundations at its roots. Displaying new uniforms, new defense, and an old team, the Indies ended the season in a win streak of one.

Buzz Smith and Bob Brown, with 23 and 14 points respectively, led the "Southern Gentlemen," while Roger Graham, with 21, and Don Spencer, with 9, were top for the Independents.

Volleyball matches got under way on Tuesday.

The volleyball schedule is as follows:

Kaleidoscope

by Lowell Mintz

Rollins has at last emerged from the dismal grasp of winter sports into the realm of outdoor sports, namely baseball, golf, crew, and tennis.

In spring activities the Tars have yet to receive a loss. This record is apt to make us forget the poor plight that our other main sport is in; namely basketball, the Rollins' skeleton in the closet.

Even though the season is ended and long forgotten, the two losing seasons in a row still come to mind. Hopeful things could be said if you look hard enough, but these are more excuses for past mishaps than hope for the future.

You can spout statistics about how the basketball team lost so many close games, and how on occasions they worked together as a team, but this still does not change the record.

The main problem as admitted by practically everyone is summed up by one of today's popular songs and perhaps our theme song, "We Ain't Got A Home."

"We got mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers, but we ain't got a fieldhouse. We can sing like college presidents and athletic directors and trustees, but we still ain't got a fieldhouse. We got a burro and a yacht and an animated magazine but we ain't got a fieldhouse."

I am sure many more verses could be added but there would be no purpose in it. At this time the only thing that would contain any purpose is some action that will start a definite movement toward a plan for this building. Everyone has viewed the plans and models of the new buildings to be completed by the Diamond Jubilee, but not one word has been mentioned about a fieldhouse.

Granted that these buildings are of primary importance to the college, we could still be planning a fieldhouse with funds coming from other sources. These sources are available.

What first has to be done is to reach a conclusion between school officials about what type of fieldhouse to plan for. That is one of the main impediments to initial plans right now.

Everybody wants something different. The athletic staff would want any type of structure that is adequate to our present needs and as quick as possible.

The executive part of the college would be interested in a show place, that would represent Rollins in all its splendor, while the money-counters would be interested in seating capacity and ticket prices.

Until these and other internal disagreements can be overcome the realization of a fieldhouse is far in the future. About the only thing that we can hope for is a series of basketball wins that would shame the college into action.

With the beginning of baseball every year new players from various parts of the country add their stock of witty sayings to the many already circulating around the diamond. This weeks comes from a man of few words, Chuck Allen. Confucious Allen says "Batter who aim for bleachers at the time wind up sitting in same. Thank you."

The other day our vice president in charge of good news announced that someone, somewhere, enjoys Coke 58 million times a day. You can look at this 2 ways:

Either we've got an incredibly thirsty individual on our hands. Or Coca-Cola is the best-loved sparkling drink in the world.

We lean to the latter interpretation.

A new issue brings a new columnist for Bermuda Sports. With deepest apologies I have been willed this column; the deadline, and the frantic search for material from my worthy predecessor, Roma (The Laugh) Neundorf. Congratulations, Roma, on doing such a great job with Bermuda Sports.

Changing the name of a column is pretty tricky business in the journalism world for if the name is good in the beginning you can only go to better or worse. My editor's philosophy that "variety is the spice of life," prompts me to seek a new title and so I have.

SIGMA NU SCARE CHAMPS, LOSING 64-60 TO CLUB

The X Club streak of six undefeated basketball seasons was threatened for 36 minutes by the Sigma Nu's Tuesday night, but the Clubbers surged out ahead with four minutes left and emerged victorious 64-60.

X Club took the opening lead and remained ahead at the quarter, 14-11. The Snakes came back with a rush toward the end of the second quarter and went ahead, 30-28. With eight straight points to their credit they moved to a 38-29 halftime lead.

During the third quarter the Club fought back, but still remained at a two point deficit with the score 49-47 at the quarter.

With one minute gone in the last quarter a Bob Richmond jump shot tied the game at 49 all. The game then saw-sawed back and forth with the Snakes never being behind. Jim Doran put the Club out front to stay, 57-55, with three and a half minutes left.

Tim Morse and Dave Hewitson, both with 16 were high for the Snakes, while Doran, with 18, and Ed Dinga, with 14 were the Club's top. George Kosty and Dinga fouled out for the Club plus numerous fouls being recorded by all members of both squads.

After many cups of coffee and several sleepless nights I have arrived at the present heading. Hope you like it!

Last week's siege of rain water brought the girls' intramural softball and tennis competition to a standstill with the exception of Friday's game between the Kappa's and the Alpha Phi's with the Phi's winning, 8-5.

Kappa was ahead by several points at the bottom of the fourth inning, but a series of fumbles in the outfield lost them the game. Joan Bucher played very well for the Phi's, even slugging a homer.

Due to the rain, several games have been scheduled for later dates. Gamma Phi-Indie Women, March 9 at 11:00; Theta-Chi Omega, March 9 at 2:00; Phi Mu-Chi Omega, March 16 at 11:00. All postponed games land on Saturdays which means that sunbathers will have to wait until spring term.

Tennis intramurals are in the semi-final stage with no serious upsets so far. In the singles group, Owen McHaney will play the winner of the Lloyd Hoskins-Julie Van Pelt match to decide the singles champion.

Julie Van Pelt match to decide the singles champion.

Speaking of champions, I hope that some of you were able to see the tennis exhibition between Pauline Betz Addy and Mary Hardwick Hare on the Rollins Courts. Mrs. Addy, who is the Professional World's Champion, is a Rollins College alumnae.

Say, golfers, I have heard tell that the Rollins Athletic Department is willing to pay the way for four girls who would like to attend the Florida Intercollegiate Golf Tournament to be held in Ocala the 14, 15 and 16 of March.

J. P. and Sara Jane have asked that all girls interested in buying those sharp-looking gym uniforms (How's that, J. P.?) should order them now as the price will be going up next year.

Rollins College southpaw, Chuck Allen, pitches in intersquad play at Harper-Shepard field. Regular season games open on March 18, when Georgia meets Ohio State and Rollins in a double header.

Tennis Picture Bright As Team Matches Continue

By Guy Filosof

In Rollins' extensive tennis circle, among our many sideline professionals, the habitual and inevitable yearly question has come up: "How will the team do this year?" The sixteen match schedule will be a fruitful one, offering to the avid fan an eye-pleasing brand of tennis which will satisfy his properly placed support.

Led by able, although spasmatic, Ben Sobieraj, and supported by a potentially strong contingent of netmen, the Tars will trounce such teams as Duke, Fla. Southern, Stetson, Indiana and Georgia, while their stiff opposition will present itself when the Lamar State, Miami, and Michigan State teams invade the college courts.

With only two weeks remaining before the initial match, intersquad play has been fierce and extensive. This year's squad positions should prove to be a hotly contested issue as the contests' abilities seem to be of a close caliber. The possible appearance of a new "recruit" may give the tennis picture still a more favorable shade, as tireless and resourceful coach Copeland continues his vigil outlook for new talent.

Quality is not the only attribute of the year's squad. The striking single factor is the range of individual characteristics. Between Sobieraj's calmness, Antonetti's color, Goller's explosiveness, and Foster's idleness, Rollins may well claim the title to the most diversified team in the South.

Inter-squad rivalry continues to mount as the season draws near, and a statement on the definite singles or doubles line-up would be too premature. However, I can predict the laurels that accompany the victor will once more be on the side of the Blue and Gold.

Diamond Drills Impressive With Optimism Mounting

By Chick Bezemer

"Good afternoon, folks. This is Tar Baby bringing you the exhibition baseball game of the week from spacious, sun-splashed Harper-Shepard Field. Today's encounter brings together 'Boyd Coffie's Jokers' and 'Ed Overstreet's Rookies.' This promises to be an unusual game, because 'Superstitious Joe' is coaching both teams. Of course, I know that most of you Rollins' followers realize that 'Superstitious Joe' is only the alias used by the Tar baseball mentor and ditch-digger, Joe Justice.

"While the two clubs are loosening up, we may be able to get a few of the boys up here to say a few words. Hey, Joe! Yes, you, will you say a few words to the audience, please?"

"Sure, Tar Baby, be glad to. Hi, folks. I want to tell you we've got a great club this year and we'll be Florida State champs again, if we play the way we're capable of playing. We've got a real good ball club and if our pitching comes through for us, we'll win the state championship. We have some good hitters and if they hit and the pitchers click, we'll win the Florida Championship.

"So far in three inter-squad games our pitchers hold an edge over the hitters. Rookie southpaw pitcher, Chuck Allen, has pitched six scoreless innings of two-hit ball while striking out eight, and has displayed excellent control.

"Harry Bennett has seven scoreless innings of two-hit ball to his credit, and shows signs of regaining his freshman year form. Other pitchers who have looked impressive are Hal Lawler, the bread and butter man of the staff, and Stover McIlwain, hardest thrower so far.

"If the rest of the pitchers catch their stride, we can win the district title and go to Omaha for the NCAA finals. You know we haven't been there in two years. The hitters could help us there if they hit like they can. Elmer Lott has been the most consistent hitter in the three inter-squad games and joins Boyd Coffie as the only homer hitters so far.

"Jack Gaudette, Bob Richmond, Al Fantuzzi, Ron Paiva, and frosh Ralph Farina and Ed Flory have also looked impressive at the plate. Our defense needs some polishing, but we have a couple of weeks yet. Like I said, if our pitchers come through we'll win the district title and go to Omaha. Sorry, Tar Baby, gotta go now and give the teams their signals. Don't forget our first—March 18, folks."

"Thank you, Joe Justice, for your few words. Lots of luck to you. Well, the game is about to start so we won't be able to interview any of the players. I guess I should have gotten Joe last. Leading off for 'Coffie Jokers' is . . ."

Sixteen Candidates Chosen For Fiesta Dance Royalty

Nominations for Fiesta King and Queen have been announced, with voting for the royalty to be held over a three week period.

The Sigma Nu candidate for queen is Judy Howard, a Kappa who appeared last year in the Freshman Show and "Anita Circle."

Barbara Howell will represent the KA's, and Emily McGiffin will represent the Delta Chi's. They are members of Theta and Phi Mu, respectively.

Indie Men have chosen Shelby Hiatt, treasurer of the Independent Women, as their candidate. Shelby is also active in radio and theater arts. Patty Stevens, a Gamma Phi, will represent the newly-formed SSS Club. Patty is a member of the Chapel Choir and recently appeared in the Freshman Show.

Nancy Stevens, a Theta pledge, is the Lambda Chi's choice for queen, while Juanita Cameron, a Chi O pledge who appeared recently in the Freshman Show, will represent the X Club.

The Alpha Phi candidate for king is Phillippe Mussard, the French Club president and a Lambda Chi pledge. Ford Oehne, Sigma Nu president and member of the Phi Society, Theta Alpha Phi and Rollins Players, will represent Kappa.

The Indie Women have chosen Lambda Chi Bob Pratt, this year's Fiesta Midway Chairman. Freshman Class president Dick Mansfield, a Delta Chi pledge, will represent the Gamma Phi's.

Another Delta Chi on the slate is Clark Warren, who recently appeared in the ART's presentation of "The Crucible." He was chosen by the Alpha Omega's.

KA Jack Mitchell will represent Chi Omega. Jack has been active in the theater, appearing this year at the ART as Pickering in "Pygmalion."

Kappa Alpha Theta nominated Sigma Nu Larry Lavallo, who is active in intramural tennis. Pete Kimball, a Delta Chi member of the Chapel Staff, will represent Phi Mu. Pete was a member of last year's tennis team.

Pi Phi has chosen Denny Learned as their candidate. Denny is a Delta Chi and was captain of the soccer team.

During the three weeks of voting, results during the first week will be announced every three days, every two days during the second, and every day through Friday of the last week. The final results will be kept secret until the dance on Saturday night, April 6.

Dates for Fiesta are April 4, 5, and 6. A jazz concert will be held on Sunday, April 7, in connection with Fiesta.
