87 WOMEN GO GREEK

Carolyn Beer "flappingly" hurries down the front steps of Cloverleaf enroute to Pugsley Hall after receiving her Kappa bid.

Joeve Vaughn extends her arms to greet a "jumping" pledge, while Ann Derflinger (far right) sprints around her fellow Chi O's in a race to meet the 15 gals who chose the "X and a horseshoe."

Open-mouthed Lee Lazzara and Millie Bradley (back toward photographer) joyfully welcome freshman Andy Anderson to Chi Omega.

Janet Markham, pledge Joan Jarman, J. P. Palmer, Sally Reed, pledge Bitsy Walden, Pam Rial, and Mary Whitman happily wait for the rest of their pledges. The Phi Mu's pledged a total of ten girls.

"THIS IS THE HAPPIEST DAY IN MY LIFE," could well have been the exclamation shouted by pledges and actives alike in the above picture. Scenes like this one typify the general excitement and elation of last Saturday's sorority pledging. A grand total of 87 entering women were pledged by seven Rollins social groups.

Bidding, Pledging Ceremonies Highlight Weekend Activities

Pledging holds big interest on campus, for 87 Rollins women have just begun pledge duties. Receiving bids Saturday at 1:30, the new pledges banqueted with actives after pledging ceremonies on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Bermuda-clad sorority members lined "sorority row" along Holt Avenue in front of their respective houses Saturday afternoon to welcome freshman and transfers receiving bids.

Chi Omega greeted 15 prospective members; Gamma Phi had 12, while Theta welcomed ten. Alpha Phi's 13 receiving bids hastened to the Phi house. Kappa hailed 14 future actives; Phi Mu took in 13, and Pi Phi, ten.

With initial rushing activities at an end, students have additional time for studies and extra-curricular activities. "Pledging at the beginning of second term," says Dean Watson, "may be a wise plan in being beneficial to both friendships and studies on campus."

Delaying rush to leave a get-acquainted period during the first quarter is practiced in many colleges throughout the nation.

Open rushing for women begins on Rollins campus Saturday, Oct. 26, and continues throughout the year. Pledging occurs at any time.

Pledging of those receiving bids over the past weekend ended Sunday afternoon when the Alpha Phi pledges made vows at 4:30. Their banquet at 6:30 was at the Cherry Plaza.

Chi Omega held a ceremony for their pledges at 4:30 Saturday and dined Saturday night at the Imperial House.

After the pledging at 4:00, Gamma Phi feted their twelve new members at Villa Nova, while Theta pledges and actives held their banquet Saturday night at Pierce's. Pledging for Theta was at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

Kappa Kappa Gamma pledged at 3:15 Saturday and banqueted at the Cherry Plaza that evening. The Phi Mu ceremony was at 4:00 on Saturday, with a banquet at the Cherry Plaza that night and a trip to the beach Sunday.

Pi Phi pledged at 7:00 on Saturday, also, with actives and pledges dining at the Barbizon afterwards.

The traditional Sunday distribution of bids was moved up to Saturday this year after comments by Winter Park residents on noise and singing on Sunday. Rollins men retained their tradition and congregated in the Theta parking lot to watch the girls come down to the houses.

Serenading of each group by the rest helped pass the time while upperclasswomen waited for the girls to arrive. In contrast to the rain on pledge day last year, the weather was fair and sunny.

Coeds To Model In Fashion Show At Langford Hotel

Monday, Oct. 21, will be Rollins College Day at Fashion Silhouettes at "Luncheon at the Langford." Eighteen Rollins coeds representing the various social groups on campus will model fashions from Winter Park's leading shops.

According to Molly Seaman, producer of Fashion Silhouettes, Monday's show will be beamed entirely toward the college girl and her wardrobe. Pat Flesher will give the fashion commentary. Ruth Hamilton, accordionist, will provide the musical background.

Reservations for the luncheon and show may be made by calling the Langford Hotel. The luncheon is scheduled to begin at 12:30.

Linda Wissing and Sally Hunt will represent Alpha Omega in the fashion show; Ann Philipson and Valerie Burnett, Phi Mu; Punky Ladd and Cam Chapman, Kappa; C. J. Stroll and June Lundsberg, Pi Phi; Nancy Williams and Ann Wilkinson, Theta.

Other models for the show are Elina Aguero and Dolly Evelyn, Indies; Patty Stevens and Mary Fairchild, Gamma Phi; Sue Manion and Cleo Chambliss, Alpha Phi; Diane Peters and Flora Gaines, Chi Omega.

IFC Announces Two New Rulings

The Interfraternity Council, headed by Frank Wolfe, has approved two new rulings pertaining to fraternity rushing.

A silence period between the rushees and the fraternity men is to be in effect from 12:00 noon on Saturday, Nov. 2, until pledging time at noon on Sunday, Nov. 3.

No rushee is to be allowed to attend any sanctioned sorority party from Friday, Oct. 25, until pledging on Sunday, Nov. 3.

The All-College dance on Saturday, Oct. 26, is an exception to the latter ruling.

Ford Oehne Appointed 1958 Fiesta Chairman

Ford Oehne will head the Fiesta Committee for 1957-58, announced Student Council President Frank Wolfe at Council meeting Monday night.

Ford was chosen from among the applicants for the position on the basis of his experience on Fiesta committees for the past three years.

Ford, a Sigma Nu, is president of his fraternity, in addition to heading Phi Society and Rollins Players. He also is editor of the "R" Book.

Last year Ford served as chairman of the Fiesta Dance Committee and directed the Independent Women's Musical, "Heads 'n Tales."

The chairman of the Council Traffic Committee explained the new system of handling traffic violations to the Council members.

A file system, which will be open to both the Student Deans and the Council, will contain a card for each car registered on campus. A record of tickets issued to each car will be kept in the file.

Violators who have broken parking regulations will be notified by the committee when they receive the first or second tickets.

If a violator receives a third ticket, he will be asked to appear before the committee. After a first offense, the violator will be sent to the Student Deans.

If the tickets are received because of speeding or reckless driving, the violator will be fined at the first offense, appear before the committee the second, and sent to the Deans after the third offense.

The representatives were asked to take this system back to the respective groups to be discussed before it is voted upon.

The chairman of the Honor System Committee announced to the presidents of the social groups had met to begin a series of discussions on the need for an honor system at Rollins.

Deadline Nearing On Washington Semester Plan

Students interested in the Washington Semester Plan this year should make their applications between now and Nov. 1. The junior students from Rollins will be selected to spend four or half months in the nation's capital studying political and national sciences.

Those students who wish to apply may do so by leaving names with Mrs. Gavin in the French's office. A faculty committee will select the three winners from among the applicants on the basis of academic achievement and personal qualifications.

Applicants, who must be members of the Junior Class, must have an interest in government but they need not be history government majors. Ordinarily they are required to have had government course here at Rollins before going to Washington.

The successful three candidates will reduce their number of classes this winter term so that they can complete the work in a term. They will go to Washington in February and will stay there the remainder of the school year.

DR. DONALD CARROLL Cancer Institute Gives Dr. Carroll $11,000 Grant

Recently Dr. Donald Carroll, Rollins Chemistry Professor, was awarded a grant of $11,000 from the National Cancer Institute, a subdivision of the National Institute of Health.

This grant, given directly through the Orlando Research Laboratories Inc., will enable Dr. Carroll to secure laboratory assistance, chemicals, and equipment to carry out a 14 month research program.

During this time, Dr. Carroll will be the sponsor and director, as well as a part-time worker, in the laboratory.

The project, which has already been in progress approximately three months, is concerned with testing certain compounds to determine their pharmacological properties, including anti-convulsant properties. They will also be screened for possible use in the treatment of cancer.

"Born Yesterday" Cast Given; Sally Reed To Play Billie Dawn

"Born Yesterday," which convulsed audiences for one of the longest runs in Broadway history, will open a unique and exciting season of American Classics in the Annie Russell Theatre.

Garson Kanin's comedy, certainly one of the funniest plays of the last 20 years, will open on Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 8:30 p.m. and continue through Saturday.

Set in Washington during the "mink coat era" of postwar profiteering, the play revolves around the unforgettable character of Billie Dawn—a blonde ex-chorus girl with a heart of gold and a sublime ignorance of civics and culture—who throws a monkey-wrench into the political and financial machinations of her millionaire junkman Harry Brock.

Bob Grose, technical director of the ART and international designer, fresh from summer stock with his own company in London, Ontario, will direct "Born Yesterday."

The play will be a Grand production, for in addition to the acting, Mr. Grose will design scenery, costumes, and the lighting.

The part of Billie Dawn, made Judy Holiday a star, will be played by Sally Reed and studied by Judy Strite.

Other leading roles will be played by Mike Crecco, who appeared in the recent motion picture, "Naked in the Sun"; Mette, who recently returned from a summer season of musicals in New Hampshire; and John Connable, who is the summer studying drama in Hollywood and New York.

Others in the cast include Gray, Celia Salter, R. L. LaBlanca, LaBorde, Mark, Wendy Hirshon, and Bob Grose.

Nancy Haskell will stage "Born Yesterday."

Rollins Book Conference To Be Held Nov. 2-3

Rollins College will hold a Book Conference Nov. 2 and 3 to inaugurate the Central Florida Book Fair. The purpose of the fair, which is to take place from Nov. 2 to Nov. 6, is to encourage good reading habits at all age levels.

One of the features of the Book Conference is a series of panel discussions, which will be held at various places on the Rollins campus.

On Saturday, Nov. 2, five panels will be held. "Book Bridge to Latin America" will be discussed at the Casa Iberia from 10 to 11:30 a.m. "Libraries—The Forward Look" will be the subject of the panel held in the browsing room of the library from 11 to 12:30.

Three panels will be held from 3 to 4:30 p.m. "Children's Book Fare" will be discussed at the French House; "Writers and the Florida Scene," at Rex Beach Hall; and "Cartoons, Comics, and Other Forms of Illustrations," at the Alumni House.

Two panels will be held on Sunday, Nov. 3, from 11 to 12:30. "The Writers' Workshop" will be discussed at Woolson House, and "New Interest in Inspirational Books" will be discussed in the Conference Room of the Chapel.

Three luncheons or dinners are included in the list of events for the Book Conference. Reservations for each meal are being limited to 200 and should be made to Charles Farrar, treasurer of the conference, before Oct. 29.

The luncheon on Saturday will be at the Langford Hotel. Andrew Lytle, author of the current best-seller, "The Velvet Horn," will be the speaker.

Budd Schulberg, author of "Some Faces in the Crowd," which was recently made into a motion picture, will speak at the Saturday dinner. The dinner will be held at the Langford Hotel at 6:00 p.m.

The author of "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill," Hermann Hagedorn, will speak at the luncheon on Sunday. The luncheon, which will also be at the Langford Hotel, will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Other events included in the Book Conference program are a special performance of "Electra" in the Annie Russell Theatre Saturday night at 10:00 and the Knowles Memorial Chapel Service on Sunday morning.

Participants in the conference will include officers and program chairmen of civic clubs, editors, librarians, book review editors, writers, teachers, and those interested in remedial reading.

Rollins Book Conference Committee is headed by Dr. A. J. Hanna, Dr. Wendell Stone, and Dr. Edwin P. Granberry. Other members are Prof. Nina Dean, Alice McBride Hansen, librarian, Prof. William Dewart, and Prof. Charles Farrar.

Student members are Tom DiBacco, Bruce Beal, Marge Myers, Lynne Kaelber, and Mabel Bexley.

Jack Mette, Celia Salter, John Connable, Mike Crecco, Judy Strite, and Sally Reed are pictured in a practice scene of the ART's first production, "Born Yesterday." The play will open on Nov. 19.

The twelve girls welcomed to Holt House by the Alpha Phi's are Inger Johnsen, Mary Goodall, Judy Woleben, and Sue Smith, first row; Chrissie Kenyon, Barbara Walker, Susanne Wheeler, Cathy Firestone, Cleo Chambliss, Bonnie MacSwan, Dale Corcoran, and Gail Sutcliffe, second row.

The ten girls who rang out three cheers for Theta Saturday are Gail Hladik, Peggy Simpson, Judy Hill, Mary Jane Strain, Tanja Graef, Anne Wilkinson, Marguerite Murray, Joan Mulak, Janie Feise, and Martha England.

The fifteen girls who were welcomed into Chi Omega are Susan Marr, Andy Anderson, Judy Hagan, Sandra Wyatt, Patti Brooks, Flora Gaines, and Ruth Hiscox, first row; B. J. Graham, Gayle Jordan, Diane Scrivener, Linda Flagg, Diane Peters, Sharon Markham, Louise Twitty, and Ginnie Willis, second row.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"GRAB A PENCIL MISS GRAVES — I'VE JUST FOUND AN EXCELLENT ESSAY QUESTION!"

TRY TO STOP STARTING
(ACP)—"It's not hard to stop smoking," comments University of Toledo CAMPUS COLLEGIAN editor Moni Dominique. "The difficult part comes in keeping yourself from starting again."

"A" OR NOTHING AT ALL
(ACP)—You've got to get an "A" or you'll get no credit at all in a new course offered at Wisconsin State Teachers College,

River Falls, Wis. Called "honors seminar," it is an experimental class open only to students with good academic records and, according to the college's STUDENT VOICE, "have the initiative and curiosity to explore ideas and points of view in an informal and self-directed atmosphere of discussion."

The faculty committee in charge of the experimental course says "standards will be high" and credit will be given only for "A" work. Those who finish successfully will be given three credits.

Failure to get an "A" will carry no penalty. It'll be just as if you weren't there.

Each class period at Rollins, unlike those of other colleges, is sixty minutes instead of fifty. Each term, therefore, is shortened by one week.

Fourth In A Series

Miss Clare Adolphs, Chapel Secretary, Has Served Rollins For Over 27 Years

By Judy Adams
Chapel Feature Writer
"Detail is my middle name," quips Miss Clare Adolphs, secretary and assistant to the Dean of the Chapel.

No one can doubt the truth of her words. Miss "A," as she is referred to by the Dean and students, may be found in the choir section checking music, in one of the backrooms of the church arranging flowers, or in her office next to the Dean's typing or filing.

Many a Chapel reader can thank Miss "A" for the white card that makes easy flipping the pages of New Testament lesson.

The Dean finds his robe and hood for the Sunday service waiting in his office, courtesy of his assistant.

Students are summoned from all over campus by the Chapel bell, usually rung by Miss Adolphs.

Before the service, with calm efficiency, Miss Adolphs makes certain that the altar candles are lit, that the telephone is off the hook, that the large offering plate is in position near the front altar.

After the Chapel service she will be in the office counting the offering money. A tedious job, but interesting to Miss Adolphs because she searches for interesting coins.

As girl Friday to Dean Darrah she handles much of the routine correspondence.

She makes arrangements for Chapel readers' practice, keeps a list of the Dean's appointments and with the Dean arranges for all weddings and other ceremonies held in the Chapel.

The history of the Chapel is recorded by Miss "A." She has kept a scrapbook of articles written about the Chapel since its building and dedication.

Miss "A" has been Chapel secretary since 1931 and was associated with Rollins even before that. She graduated in the class of '30 along with Pres. Hugh McKean. While at Rollins, she was a member of Key Society as well as other clubs and was instrumental in the establishment of the Chi Omega chapter here.

Even though Miss Adolphs has been working her 9 to 5 schedule each day for these 27 years, she exclaims that she loves the Chapel and never fails to be inspired by its beauty.

She loves the contact with students, is a regular Chapel Staff attender, and is present in Chapel every Sunday morning.

Debate Team Organized By New Speech Professor

by Val Greene
There is a new addition to Rollins in the way of extra-curricular activities. Mr. H. Keith Slothower, the new assistant professor of speech, along with the members of the Theatre Arts Department, felt there was a definite need for a debate team.

Intercollegiate forensics, which includes not only formal debate, but group discussions, after dinner speaking, oral interpretation and extemporaneous speaking, would be an important addition to Rollins College life. Therefore, Mr. Slothower and a group of interested students organized a debate team.

Mr. Slothower, who received his B.S. in Speech from Northwestern University and did graduate work at the University of Mississippi and the University of Alabama, has answered some of our questions about the new Rollins Debate team. He said, "Approximately 20 students have, to this date, expressed an interest in the forensics program."

"From the results of the first two meetings I feel that the Rollins group has great potentialities. With the right kind of organization and a great deal of work on the part of the students, I feel that the Rollins Forensic Teams have an excellent chance to have a most successful season of intercollegiate forensics."

The new members' first introduction and initiation in debate competition will be the Dixie tournament at Mercer University in Macon, Ga., on Oct. 25-26.

Other tournaments under consideration for Rollins Teams are: November, Alabama Discussion Tournament and University of Alabama; January, LSU invitational at Louisiana State University; February, University of Miami; March, the Grand National at Mary Washington College; and the Southern Tournament at Houston, Texas, in April.

With the cry of, "No matter what the Sandspur says, I'm still the soccer coach!" the soccer season got under way last weekend. With the hope of giving the Tars some extra experience and demonstrating soccer to students who have never seen the sport before, the Royal Air Force from Pinecastle was scheduled to open the season a week early.

The RAF, when they first took the field, resembled a group of sandlot players slated to take on the handsomely dressed home team. As anyone knows, the sandlot players always win.

Mintz

The RAF demonstrated last Saturday that they were well schooled in the fundamentals of soccer and that they worked together as a team. This really was to be expected, for they have been playing the game for most of their life.

The speed that was shown by most of their players at the end of the game was surprising, since they brought only 13 men. It is said that a winning soccer team has to control the ball 60-70% of the time. I would say the RAF controlled the ball 80-90% of the time.

The British showed good handling of the ball. Most of them were finely schooled in the art of dribbling. The only time I saw any of their men give the ball a hard boot was when they wanted to get the ball out of their territory.

The plays they executed could be observed even by a novice. The players always seemed to be in position to make the goal or defend.

In spite of the drubbing given the Rollins team, Coach McKean was pleased. The idea of the game was to give the team experience and point out what our weaknesses are.

Coach McKean pointed out that none of the Rollins players had a definite position yet, and that time was being spent on drills, not plays. This could explain the lack of scoring by the Tars.

Coach McKean also reported that the RAF consented to scrimmage the Tars on Wednesdays when time permitted. This is certainly working to good relations between Rollins and Pinecastle.

The British brought along their own rooting section last weekend. They showed much more spirit and a more humorous outlook than the Rollins rooters.

Some of the remarks I heard from the stands were very funny and deserve to be printed. They were all yelled in an English accent.

Whenever a ball went out of bound, cries of "Keep it in the island," were heard. When a scoring attempt hit the goal and bounced off, "Off the woodwork," was the appropriate yell.

The British also tried a little of the American sport of telling the umpire his job. "Take his name, ref," and "Send him off, ref," along with a plain, "Watch it, ref," were only some of the terms used. Many cries of, "Hurray for the goal keeper," and "That's the boy, fool them with science," were also heard.

I think Rollins ought to publish a pamphlet that contains remarks to be used at soccer games. After all, we cannot be expected to boo the umpires if we do not know the proper terms to use.

Girls Net Tourney To Be Held

Tennis coach Norm Copeland announced that the Girls Ladder Tournament will be held starting Monday. Matches will be played every day through Friday. The finals will be on Friday.

The tournament is being held for the purpose of forming a girls' tennis ladder. The members of the ladder will form the Rollins Girl Tennis Club.

Since the girls are not allowed to represent Rollins College intercollegiately, they will play together as a club. Other tennis clubs are being contacted to form matches. So far Jacksonville, Tampa, and St. Petersburg have been contacted.

The tournament is supposed to consist of 16 girls. Singles matches will be the only ones played.

Rollins Students Get Explanation Of Soccer Terms

Soccer, the latest addition to the Rollins College athletic schedule, is a comparatively new sport to most students. The soccer team consists of 11 players with the unlimited substitution rule being used.

Penalties for rule infractions are varied, with the major one being a direct free kick (at the goal). Direct free kicks are awarded when intentional acts are committed which are against the spirit of the game or likely to cause injury to an opponent.

Position and ball control are necessary for team success. Good position is when the players are placed in a point so they can pick up a kicked ball or immediately cover an opponent who has the ball.

Ball control is executed both individually by kicking, heading, dribbling, passing, trapping and tackling, and collectively by use of team patterns and plays.

If a team is going to get many scoring chances they should think in terms of playing 60-70% offense and 30% defense. On offense the two basic team patterns are the short passing game and long passing game. The latter is used by beginners because the ball is handled less.

RAF Give Soccer Lesson As Rollins Defeated 5-0

The first soccer game of the 1957 season was played at the Sandspur Bowl, Saturday, Oct. 12, against the Royal Air Force team from Pinecastle. An enthusiastic crowd of spectators witnessed the British players win over the Tars, 5-0.

The starting line-up for the Tars was: Desi Csonger, Fred Cuillery, Jim Cohen, Ed Flory, Larry Hoyt, Denny Learned, Emilio Lebolo, Roberto Muvdi, Anum Peram, Mario Vega, and Mo Waite.

The RAF got off to a quick lead in the first quarter with two goals. In the second quarter they added another one. The third quarter saw the score unchanged and in the last period the British added two quick scores near the end of the game.

Coach Hellwege later stated that the goals scored in the last period of the game were due to the inexperienced Rollins backfield.

He also explained that the Rollins team was using the strategy of long passes while the British were using short and more effective passes. Long passes are easier to an inexperienced team as you do not have to control for a long period of time.

During the course of the game the Rollins coaches intersubstituted all the players as was done to give all the players some experience. The Rollins team brought only 13 men who used practically the same strategy the whole game.

Rollins' inability to get in position hampers attempts to score. The Tars came to scoring the beginning of the game on a try by Manu de

The next game for the Rollins team is against Jacksonville tomorrow at 2:30 on the Sandspur Bowl. The game is the first of the conference schedule and should prove Rollins' worth against another college team.

Space For Lace

by Debbie Williams

The organization of the women's intramural basketball season took place Tuesday, Oct. 8, at the first meeting of the Intramural Board. Lloyd Hoskins is the new chairman by the rotation system. The board is comprised of one member from each sorority.

Owen McHaney represents the Chi O's; Bert Marling, Gamma Phi; Phyllis Zatlun, Independents; Lloyd Hoskins, Kappa; Gay Van Deusen, Pi Phi; Anita Alexander, Phi Mu; and I for Alpha Phi.

The intramural season begins today at 4:15. Then there will be two games every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, the first being at 4:15 and the second at 5:15. If complications should arise, Thursday evenings at 7:15 and 8:00 will be reserved for play-offs. (Bring the lanterns and mosquito repellent...)

Each team was required to have three practices before its first game or it could not qualify for intramurals. A separate timer and scorer who will work throughout the season is also necessary for each team.

Hightops and the Rollins phys. ed. uniform are "musts" for team members. Those of you who do not have the uniform will wear blue or white shorts and white shirts. Hightops can be purchased through the Miles, Patton and Dorsey. No girl will be allowed to play unless the requirements are fulfilled.

The teams that play in the 5:15 games will be permitted to enter the Beanery in the basketball apparel. (Without even a raincoat?)

However, there has been no great "basketball enthusiasm shown" as yet among the freshmen. It is probably due to the minds concentrating along the rush-track and the much neglected homework which presented a stopper to extracurricular activities during those first hectic weeks.

In past years, the athletic among the freshmen girls have presented themselves en masse to J. P. and Sara J. for the purpose of forming the traditional Sands and Spurs basketball teams which compete against each other and the sorority teams.

It was considered a way of perpetuating a class spirit, giving the girls a chance to participate in college-level athletics and providing another extra-curricular activity for the social groups.

However, since so few of the freshmen showed a desire to enter the intramurals and to stick with it through practice sessions, tradition was broken in order to have one excellent team.

This "excellent" team which will soon show off its prowess within the confines of Rec Hall, is composed of Peggy Simpson, Rosalie Hallbauer, Cynthia Benson, Audrey Christy, Judy Sund, Marie Foster, Christine Shallenberger, Judy Hagan, Diane Finney, June Worthington, and Gena Pendergast. Gayle Jordan, a peppy forward, will captain them.

May the fates be with the first "Sandspur" team, enabling them to provide as fierce competition to the sororities this year as in all the past years.

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

The intramural softball league furnished many exciting moments as play moved into the second week. Games are played every day at 4:15.

Fall IM Softball Begins As X Club, Sigma Nu Win

The intramural softball season got under way last week with Lambda Chi crushing Kappa Alpha by the impressive score of 10-1 on Oct. 9. Veteran pitcher Billy Pace pitched for Lambda Chi and Bill Ely threw for KA.

The big batsman of the day for Lambda Chi was Nat Mendell, while Bob Shermer and Bob Zumft led the Southern Gentlemen. The next day Delta Chi and Sigma Nu battled, with the Snakes emerging victorious by the score of 11-2.

Due to IM board rules and rulings, the Snakes were allowed to use their two professional and two varsity baseball players in the line-up.

Bud Traylor received the big win for Sigma Nu while Jack Bofinger took the loss. The Deltas out-hit the Snakes 7-5, but it was not enough to overcome the run deficit.

On Friday, the defending softball champions, X Club, met an indie team made up completely of new players. The Club team included five varsity baseball players. The Clubbers squeaked out a narrow 6-4 victory.

Mike Crecco and Bob Richmond hurled for the Club while sophomore transfer student Norm Blowers pitched for the Indies. Blowers is a southpaw fastballer with a deceptively fast windup. He was hurt by an outfield error that opened the doors to the winning X Club runs.

On Monday the first washed out game of the season occurred when the new Triple S and Chase Hall teams were scheduled to meet.

The following is the schedule of the games for the next two weeks:

Oct. 18 Chase Hall vs. Indies
Oct. 22 Lambda Chi vs. X Club
Oct. 23 Triple S vs. Delta Chi
Oct. 24 Indies vs. Sigma Nu
Oct. 25 Lambda Chi vs. Triple S
Oct. 28 Chase Hall vs. X Club
Oct. 29 Indies vs. Delta Chi
Oct. 30 Sigma Nu vs. KA
Oct. 31 Lambda Chi vs. Chase Hall

Curti Keeps Golf Lead As Match Play Nears Close

The fall golf tournament was continued last weekend at Dubsdread with most of the linksters bringing their total in holes played up to 54. Jim Curti, last week's leader, is still in front.

Curti posted a five over par 112 to retain his lead. Curti's score is now 222 for 54 out of the required 72 holes. Curti has had two years experience on the Tar varsity and last year won the NAIA championship.

In second and third place, respectively, nine and ten strokes behind Curti, are Les Sladkus with 231, and Dick Diversi, last year's tourney winner, with 232.

After Sladkus and Diversi come Joe Miller, 233; Bob Lerner, 235; Ron Terpak, 237; Ted Murray, 241; and Jack Ruggles, 244. The above scores are of the players who have completed 54 holes.

Freshmen linksmen Bob Harrison, tied for second place last week, Jay Dolan, tied for second with Harrison last week, and Mel Nevergal, eighth place last week, did not complete their 27 holes over the weekend so their scores are not complete.

Bob Craig, tenth place, and Bob Ross, fourth place, were the only returning golfers who did not complete their 27 holes over the weekend.

The first half of the tournament will probably be completed this weekend. The second half of the tournament consists of match play. The players will be seeded on the results of the first half of the tourney.

If the winner of each half of the tournament is a different player, a playoff will be held to decide the champion. Coach Dan Nyimicz will get an idea of linksters' skill by the result of this tournament.

The prevalence of what might be considered high scores can be attributed to the fact that all the rain we have been having has made the course, and especially the greens, harder to play.

SPORTS AGENDA

Soccer—The Rollins soccer team will meet the University of Jacksonville soccer team tomorrow at 2:30 on the Sandspur Bowl. The game is a regularly scheduled conference game.

Golf—The fall golf tournament will continue this weekend at Dubsdread Country Club. Medal play is scheduled to end this weekend and match play will start next week.

Tennis—The Girls Ladder Tournament will be held on the Rollins courts this Monday through Friday afternoons.

Softball—Men's intramural softball is played Monday through Friday at 4:15 on the Sandspur Bowl.

Students Study Methods Of Social Science Bureau

Three Rollins students, who have been studying methods and techniques of research at the Bureau of Social Science Research in Washington, D. C., returned to the campus yesterday. They are Bruce McEwan of Orlando, Dick Mansfield of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Cindy Burke of Bristol, R. I.

The three students, who are members of Dr. Paul Douglass' government class, were chosen because of their interest in social science research. They are being trained to work as junior counselors on some of the projects of the Center for Practical Politics of the college.

Dr. Douglass stated that the students received an intensive tutoring program in social science research, statistical method, and IBM machine tabulation in Washington preparatory to a series of studies which will be undertaken by the Center.

The series will include a study of the voting records and opinions of the registered voters of Orange County.

Miss Shirley Leech, practicum director of the Center at Rollins, and Fredrick Eberle, senior consultant to the Center, accompanied the students on their trip to Washington.

The Bureau where the group studied in Washington is an independent, non-profit organization which serves as one of the central agencies for private, military, and governmental research.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS GIVEN ON NOV. 19

In order to further improve its position in the competition for talented college people, the federal government is opening its Federal Service Entrance Examination this year to college juniors in addition to seniors, college graduates, and others of equivalent experience.

Job appointments, effective after graduation, may be now offered to juniors as well as seniors if they pass the examination.

Federal Service Entrance Examinations will be given this year on Nov. 18 and in January, February, March, and May of next year. Applications for the first exam must be made before Oct. 31.

The examination, first given two years ago, is designed to help fill the government's yearly need for more young people of college-caliber who can be placed in jobs at the entrance level and who have the potential to develop into the top managers, technicians, and specialists of the future. Beginning salaries range from $3670 to $4525 a year.

Examinations in this area will be given in Orlando.

Comptroller, was asked to sit in on the Publications Union monthly meeting. The Union is to present a monthly financial report to Council.

A motion was made that all new Student Council representatives, no matter to what class they belong, be required to attend five Council meetings before they be allowed to represent their groups. The motion was defeated.

The faculty has accepted Council's Pelican regulations with a few minor changes. In cases of infractions of the Pelican rules, students may appeal to the Student Deans if they are not satisfied with the Pelican Committee's decision.

Final appeals may be made to the faculty as a whole, rather than to the Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee, as had been previously suggested.

As the Pelican cannot be opened until after the next faculty meeting, Student Council voted to request that the faculty hold a special session to discuss the matter.

850 Fellowships Open To U. S. Science Grads

Deadline for applications for 850 graduate fellowships being offered next year by the National Science Foundation is Jan. 3, 1958. These fellowships for scientific study are open to U. S. citizens and are awarded solely on the basis of ability.

College seniors applying for these predoctoral awards will be required to take the Educational Testing Service's examination for scientific aptitude and achievement on Jan. 18, 1958, at designated centers. The National Science Foundation will announce the winners of the awards on March 15.

The annual stipends for graduate Fellows is $1600 for the first year; $1800, for the second; and $2000, for the terminal year. Dependency allowances for married Fellows, tuition, laboratory fees, and limited travel allowances will also be provided.

Applications should be sent to the National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Ave. N.W., Washington 25, D. C.

Rollins To Observe National Centennial Of Teddy Roosevelt

The national observance of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial, which marks the end of what would have been the 99th year of Theodore Roosevelt's life, will be held this year.

Florida headquarters for the centennial commission is Rollins College.

The observance of the centennial in this state will begin with a luncheon at the Langford Hotel on Sunday, Nov. 3, at 1:30 p.m. The speaker will be Hermann Hagedorn, author of "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill."

The luncheon, open to the public, is a feature of the Orlando Book Fair, Nov. 2-6. Reservations are three dollars per plate.

Library Exhibit Features Achievements Of McKean

Illustrations of the life of Rollins under Pres. Hugh McKean's leadership are now on display, as the October exhibition, in the Mills Memorial Library. The title of the exhibit is "Achievement and Progress—1951-1957."

Records of many areas of the college activity are presented in the cases in the second floor exhibition hall by means of charts, photographs, pictures, models, trophies, and publications.

In the section on the faculty, books, reviews, and articles published are shown, as well as membership, offices held, and papers delivered in connection with professional societies. Also illustrated are consultant, research, musical, and community activities of the faculty.

Accomplishments of the alumni and the alumni association are also presented.

Students, too, are represented in the display, in doings both academic and athletic. Participation in radio, drama, music, and community work are also shown.

The financial picture is examined as to endowments, gifts, and other support through patrons and parents. Also pointed out is the status of scholarships and loans, faculty salary increases, the Funded Pension Plan, and various funds.

Buildings bought or built during the seven year period are indicated in pictures, models, and reports.

A special exhibit in the library was arranged in connection with the Latin American Area Course, which is designed in accordance with the faculty belief that:

"... all graduates of the college should understand the culture of some foreign country either through the study of its language, or through study of an area in terms of history, geography, anthropology, art, literature, et cetera."

The display features old Spanish heirloom jewelry of silver and gold, antique settings of precious and semi-precious stones, including a cross more than a hundred years old which belonged to a member of an old lay order.

Textiles on exhibition include from Guatemalan Indian weavers to embroidered linen; lace and the silk lace of a beautiful patterned mantilla; and a gold not dimmed yet by time and a quarter which elapsed since it was stitched in heavy brown satin.

BITS O' NEWS

The first student Chapel Club of this year will hold in the Conference Room the Chapel this Sunday, 20, at 11:00 a.m. Dr. W. Stone will be the speaker. Topic is "Religion and Philosophy." All Rollins students invited to attend this discussion group.

The president's reception team new members of the faculty will be held this evening at 8 p.m. in the Morse Gallery, Art.

A Naval Aviation Information team will be in the Center 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 30.

Dr. Geneva Drinkwater, Rollins Assoc. Professor of History is attending a meeting of Board of Curators of State College today in Columbia, Missouri.

There will be a meeting of senior men interested in entering for placement service at Carnegie 9 at 4:15 p.m. on day, Oct. 21. A similar meeting will be held for senior women on Wednesday, Oct. 23, also at Carnegie 9 at 4:15 p.m.

Vesper speakers for Tuesday, Oct. 22, and Thursday, Oct. 24, will be Dean Vermilye and Anne Anthony, respectively.
