Alumni To Return To Rollins Campus For Charter Day

On Friday, April 24, alumni will return to the campus for a weekend of class reunions and other activities and will join with the students on Sunday, April 26, in celebrating Charter Day.

Friday the alumni will register and they may tour the campus and confer with faculty and personnel. The evening activities will center around the lakefront with a picnic supper at 6:00 followed by canoe tilting and fire diving at 7:00.

Pres. Hugh F. McKean will give a report in the Student Center Patio at 8 p.m. followed by dessert and coffee.

Saturday morning class pictures will be taken in the Visitor's Lounge of Carnegie Hall. At 9:30 present and future alumni are invited to join in a panel discussion.

That afternoon a Gay Nineties Luncheon will be held in the Alumni House at 1:00 p.m., and at 3:00 a seminar on "An Interpretation of Rollins" will be held.

Saturday evening special recognition will be given to Arthur Enyart, former dean of the college, at the Charter Day Reunion Dinner in Rose Skillman Hall at 7:00.

Sunday morning at 9:45 in Knowles Memorial Chapel, Dr. Florence Stone will speak in the Convocation commemorating the 74th anniversary of the granting of a charter to Rollins by the State of Florida.

Dr. Stone, a graduate of Rollins in 1919, received her Master's and Ph. D. degrees from Columbia University. She has done work in pathology and bacteriology at the Long Island College of Medicine and since 1950 has been associated with the State University of New York College of Medicine.

Dr. Stone's major scientific interest has been in cellular physiology.

Former members of the Chapel Choir are invited to sing with the Choir for this convocation. All interested must notify Miss Clara Adolfs not later than noon Saturday, April 25, so that robes and seating may be provided.

Following the convocation, alumni and present and former faculty and staff are invited to come to the Student Center Patio for a coffee hour. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

NEW COUNCIL officers, vice-president Tony Toledo, secretary Sue Lewis, and president Dick Mansfield repeat their oath of office. Outgoing president Len Wood installed them Tuesday night.

Outgoing Prexy Installs Council Administration

Newly-elected Student Council officers, Dick Mansfield, Tony Toledo, and Sue Lewis, were installed Tuesday night by outgoing president Len Wood.

The meeting was opened by the outgoing officers, after which the new officers took the Student Council oath of office:

"I do solemnly swear and sincerely promise to uphold the Constitution and By-Laws of the Rollins College Student Association. I further promise to do everything in my power to bring about sound student government, a unified, spirited, and loyal student body. I promise not to be prejudiced or biased in my administration, but to be fair with all groups for the betterment of the college as a whole. All this do I promise, so help me God."

As new president, Mansfield announced that letters of application for the position of Council comptroller must be in by Monday morning.

In order to be eligible for this office, a student must have taken Business Administration 204-205, Principles of Accounting, and maintained a B average in all accounting courses. He must submit a letter of recommendation from accounting professor A. Ross Evans, and he must have attended ten Council meetings under the outgoing administration.

Names of candidates thus qualified will be presented before Council, which then elects the new comptroller by a majority vote.

"This will not be an easy job," Mansfield pointed out. "We are hoping that the Council comptroller will have charge of the Student Association books next year."

Valerie Baumrind, Chi O representative, asked whether the social groups were responsible for freshman members and pledges who left campus over Fiesta weekend.

Mansfield suggested that no list of those who had gone off campus be turned in until the policy of the administration in these cases is clarified.

Toledo Receives Harvard Award

Tony Toledo, newly-installed vice-president of Student Council, has been awarded the Harvard Summer Scholarship. The award will enable Toledo to attend the 1959 session of Harvard Summer School, enrolling in various subjects for undergraduates in the fields of Arts and Sciences.

The classes, small enough to permit discussion sessions, are held in the morning, leaving afternoons free for the students to attend seminars and conferences.

Although the summer program at Harvard is limited in subjects, the breadth of subjects offered provides a curriculum from which all students are able to select courses of interest and value.

In announcing the award made by the Faculty Honors Committee, Dean Scroggs commented that graduating seniors were not considered since Rollins would not profit by their experience at Harvard.

Toledo was selected "primarily on the basis of grade average," and on general value to the college.

A sophomore, Toledo is a premed major. President of the Lambda Chi Fraternity, he has been active in student government, appeared in the freshman show, and was formerly a member of the Chapel Choir.

Ad Building Clarifies Plans For Housing

Five o'clock this afternoon is the deadline for turning in to Dean Watson's office the room preference cards which were handed out to boarding women students through the residence heads yesterday. All cards in by this time will be given equal consideration in making room assignments.

"We are trying to do away with the 8:00 deadline which was in effect last year," Dean Watson points out. This plan had girls sitting on the Ad Building steps at 6:00 a.m., hoping to get the room of their choice.

As in past years, seniors will have first preference and may live in any house they wish if the group assigned to it does not fill it. Lowerclassmen, however, will live in the houses assigned to their group.

This is a change in policy from previous years when it was possible for underclass Independents to live in dormitories other than that of their own group, possibly as the roommate of a senior who was given priority on a room.

"We want the seniors to be happy," Dean Watson explains. "They may live anywhere they like, but we can't let them drag their friends along with them."

The room preference cards will be reviewed, and priority will be given first to next year's seniors, then to juniors, and finally, to sophomores. If two members of the same class request a room, preference will be given on the basis of the grade point average.

Elizabeth Hall next year will be an exclusively freshman dormitory, while Cloverleaf will house the Alpha Phi's in 21 rooms in the East wing and the Independents in the remaining 35 rooms in the South and West wings.

Although plans have been made to add improvements to Cloverleaf, the extent of these is not yet known and will depend on the amount of money available.

For men's room preference cards, distributed last Monday, no definite deadline has been set, and this is left up to the individual residence heads.

Men's room assignments will not be made until after the term is over, so that it may be known more accurately how many of the men will return in the fall.

Freshmen men will be assigned to Chase and Lakeside Halls next year. Room assignments for returning men will again be made on a basis of class and grade average, with members and pledges of social groups being given first preference for the house in which their group now live.

Rollins Girls Cop Honors In Local Beauty Contest

Lynda Bridgers, chosen Miss Rollins at the Fiesta fashion show on April 14, received her second beauty title within a week when she was crowned Miss Winter Park last Saturday night in the Winter Park High School auditorium.

First runner-up in the contest was M. Z. Rowe, Phi Mu; Charlotte Townsend, Independent, also placed among the five finalists. All three girls are freshmen.

Lynda, who had never entered a beauty contest before she was chosen as the Theta Miss Rollins candidate, is now preparing to represent Winter Park in the Miss Florida contest to be held in Sarasota during July.

Lynda, an accomplished synchronized swimmer, used movies of one of her solo routines as her talent in the contest.

Last year Lynda's swimming took second place in the International Academy of Aquatic Art solo competition. She is also an honorary member of the German Isar-Nixon swimming team and the Ornamental Swim Club of Peterborough, Canada, which holds first place honors in the Academy team competition.

Among the prizes which Lynda received as Miss Winter Park are a complete wardrobe, including a fur stole, and a $600 scholarship.

Spring Elections Characterized By Series Of Close Contests

The Student Council and publications elections held last week were characterized by a series of close races. With only 70 per cent of the student body participating in the balloting, four of the offices were decided by less than 35 votes.

Closest contest was that for the Council vice-presidency. In the voting last Wednesday, candidates Tony Toledo and Bruce Aufhammer each polled exactly 220 votes, thus necessitating a run-off election.

The voting in Friday's run-off was also very close; Toledo won the office with a margin of seven votes by out-polling Aufhammer 215 to 208.

The Council presidency was also decided in a close race with Dick Mansfield defeating Jim Lyden by a vote of 238 to 204.

In the race for the third Council office, that of secretary, Suzie Lewis outpolled Valerie Baumrind. Lewis received 231 votes, while Baumrind polled 202.

Another close contest was that for Sandspur business manager in which 21 votes were the deciding factor. Jerry Beets received 224 votes to John Henriksen's 203 to win the position.

In the race for the other newspaper business position, Nick Longo defeated Bill Kintzing by a vote of 287 to 139.

The editorships of the Flamingo and R Book were won by John Hickey and Maggie Carrington, respectively. Hickey outpolled Jody Bilbo 255 to 166 to win the literary magazine post, while Carrington defeated Bob Todd by a vote of 241 to 170.

Fraternity Joins American League Team In Project

Rollins fraternity men combined forces with an American League baseball club last month to entertain a group of Orlando boys. The project was part of the current Lambda Chi program of expanded service to the community.

The fraternity men worked with Washington National players to entertain the Orlando Pony League All Stars for an afternoon at Tinker Field, winter home of the ball club.

It has always been the policy of the visiting American League team to sponsor as many charity and good-will affairs as they are able to arrange, but this was the first time that such an event included the services of Rollins students.

Calvin Griffith, general manager, and Howard Fox, owner of the Nationals, were on hand to greet the Orlando ballplayers.

The boys also had the chance to meet and talk to Roy Sievers, the Washington home run king who placed second to Mickey Mantle in the American League home-run race last year; Albie Pearson, the centerfielder of the Nationals who was chosen as the league's Rookie of the Year last season; and Bob Cerv, RBI champion from the Kansas City Athletics.

Rollins students participating in the project included Tony Toledo, Dave Stephens, Chuck Doyle, Nat Mendell, and Wally Ramsey.

Future Teacher Club Elects New Officers

The Hamilton Holt chapter of the Student Florida Education Association elected officers for the coming year at a meeting held last week.

Margaret Carmichael will serve as president of the organization, and Lynn Egry will be vice-president. Susan Hartley is the newly elected secretary, and Sharon Markham will serve as treasurer.

Spring is here . . . and classes are now held on the beach. Course number S 1,000,000 on how-to-burn-your-freckles-into-a-suntan, taught by Professor Ceelie Smith, will commence as soon as she finds out.

Saturday found everyone at the beach . . . Fred Cuillery had a motor-bike and was skirting girls off down the beach. A few would-be ducks braved the surf, and a few merely braved the drink. Diane Scott let the milkshake go to her head and announced to the assorted guests that she was not to be barked at but just left alone.

Around the Theta house hell week descended in force. Tweel recited her A.B.C.'s at Robbie's. Shoreen Tews collected 18 left pink high-heeled shoes. At any rate, they all made it in good form, and so they were all initiated Sunday.

The Lambda Chi's had a stew Friday night, thanks to Pete Cox who returned with all sorts of goodies.

Down Delta Chi way a little get-together was held for the education of all . . . the purpose to teach all those who don't know Barnacle Bill the Sailor. Rain set in about eleven and a few left, but the hardies of the bunch remained for a little limbo and jujitsuing. Rich Cole suffered a stiff neck . . . he was lucky it was no more than that. Ken Tompkins made history when he tied into a mailbox.

The Club was deserted this weekend and the Chi O house was full of lonely baseball widows. Heard from the Club, however, is that Terpak's elevator shoes haven't come in yet . . .

The K.A.'s did well this weekend . . . Party Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Jay Banker received a manicure at the beach. He will be glad to make appointments for any girls on campus interested in the latest beauty hints.

Pledged: Sandy Holbrook to Chi Omega.

Rollins Sophomore To Sing Lead In Gilbert And Sullivan Operetta

Rollins theatre arts major Steve Kane will be playing a major role in the Southern Savoyards Company's production of H.M.S. Pinafore this coming week in the Winter Park High School Auditorium.

Cast as Sir Joseph Porter in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, Kane will appear in performances on Thursday evening, April 23, and on Saturday evening, April 25.

Frank Miller, conductor of the Florida Symphony Orchestra, is directing the production, the first to be given by the newly-organized Southern Savoyards Company. Other cast members are performers who have appeared in previous Florida Symphony productions.

Tickets for the operetta are on sale at the Music Box in Winter Park for $1.25. Curtain time for the two performances is 8:30.

A sophomore, Kane is a member of Rollins Players. He has appeared this year in the Annie Russell Theatre as Col. Purdy in Teahouse of the August Moon, Spintho in Androcles and the Lion, and Prozoroff in The Three Sisters. He is currently portraying Beauprethuis in An Italian Straw Hat.

ART Musical Farce Receives High Praise

By RON ATWOOD

New York City, April 13 — the premiere of the 1959 production of An Italian Straw Hat, by Eugene Labiche and Marc Michel, hits Broadway — and if it hit the bright lights as pleasingly as it struck and carried away the "first night" audience in the Annie Russell, the play is sure to be a long success.

A comedy farce in the most traditional "slapstick, burlesque" manner, abounding in "asides" and "intricate subplots," the play carried the audience through an amazing array of events and actions.

Fadinad (Gary Goldfarb) is about to be married to lovely Helene (Mary Jane Strain). If it isn't enough that his father-in-law Nonancourt (Sonny Everett), a preaching, complaining horticulturist, is constantly interrupting the general scene, Fadinad is further plagued by the love affair of Anais (Joan Brand) and her soldier-lover Emile Tavernier (William Smith).

Then to make sure that the audience doesn't get bored, a third complication is added in the renewed passions of Clara (Ann Kettles), an old flame of Fadinad who is greatly excited when he suddenly walks into her shop after a brief absence of six months.

Somehow or other these seeming independent ideas come together in the presentation of the play. From the opening chords of the marriage song to the closing grand finale, the audience is held in their seats only by force of supreme acts of will power and fortitude. Actually, the cause of the unified success of the play is to be found in the admirable staging and coordination supplied by the entire cast.

This reviewer feels that certain performers should be given special mention. Gary Goldfarb came out of retirement to give his farewell senior appearance in a rollicking rendition of an excitable suitor.

Indie Show Cast, Crew Announced

Cast and crew for the May production of the traditional Independent Women's musical were announced this week by show director Kathy Rhoads.

The show, a musical adaptation of Jane Austen's novel Pride and Prejudice, was written by freshman English major Anne Silverman. Music for the production is being arranged by Lynn Miller, a junior composition major.

Bill Smith has been cast in the role of Darcy; Chuck Morley, Bingley; Ken Pahel, Mr. Bennett; Mary Jane Strain, Mrs. Bennett; Claudia Melton, Lady Catherine; Elaine Spellman, Charlotte Lucas; Mike Herwig, Mr. Collins; and Bob Haines, Wickham.

The five Bennett sisters, Elizabeth, Jane, Lydia, Kitty, and Mary, will be played by Joan Mulac, Ann Kettles, Barbara Works, Sandra Wyatt, and Gloria Pastermak, respectively.

Joan Mulac will be musical director; Maggie Carrington, stage manager; Mary Whitman, costumes; Mark Tiedje, lights; Leo Hansberry, set designer; Kaye Leimbacher, make-up; Sally Hunt, publicity; Tina Levin, program; Mary Foltz, properties; and Judy Earle, tickets.

Chuck Morley nearly stole the show as the partially deaf uncle who has that uncanny ability to hear only the remarks that excite all Frenchmen.

Mary Jane Strain brought out the more physical aspects of the play in her interpretation of the country bride. Veteran ART actor Steven Kane rendered the part of the suspicious husband to its hilarious peak.

The audience responded heartily to the antics of Robert Fleming in the role of Tardiveau, the book-keeper-soldier.

The Italian straw hat led its followers into a craftily laid set of situations and double-edged circumstances. In actual play construction, the scenes are loosely planned, and, when closely examined, even appear to be rather absurd. But, like any farce comedy, the success of the presentation depends on careful execution by the cast. The players are to be congratulated for their fine timing and stage control.

Summer Study Grants Awarded To Rollins Science Professors

Two members of the Rollins science department have won awards to participate during the summer in programs designed to bring to their attention the latest developments in their respective fields.

Dr. Paul A. Vestal, professor of biology, has recently received a grant to attend the Summer Institute of Cell Biology for College Teachers. The program is financed by the National Science Foundation and sponsored by the American Society of Zoology and the University of Wisconsin.

During the six-week course of the program, participants will be instructed by some of the best lecturers in the country of recent advances in the various areas of biology.

Those receiving the grants were chosen on the basis of a record of the subjects they have taught, the college in which they teach, and a statement as to why they wished the grant.

Dr. Vestal has also been asked to complete a series of articles for the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology. His articles will cover all the lower species of plants up to the gymnosperms. The encyclopedia, which will be out in about a year, has over 1200 contributors from all fields of science.

Dr. Herbert R. Hellwege, professor of inorganic chemistry, has received an assistantship at the In-

BRINGING THE spirit of Pan-American Week to the Rollins Campus, the Guatemalan National Marimba Band arrived at the college last Wednesday. On Thursday they played in the Beanery both at lunch and at supper. They also performed at various other activities including International Night.

Difficult Contemporary Mass To Climax Choir's Performance Of French Music

The major work to be presented by the Rollins Chapel Choir in its program of French music on Sunday afternoon, April 19, at 4:00 in the Knowles Memorial Chapel is "Messe Solennelle" by the contemporary composer Jean Langlais.

Langlais, who, in spite of his blindness, has become world famous both as an organist and as a composer, visited the Rollins campus in February to perform in the Bach Festival.

"Messe Solennelle," the composer explains, is the first of seven masses that he has written. The result of 12 years of work, this mass is his most difficult and yet the most popular.

Often performed in the United States, "Messe Solennelle" has been presented by the Boys' Town choir and at the New York City Church of Heavenly Rest. In an arrangement for chorus and orchestra, it has been performed by the Cleveland Symphony; recently it was recorded in Boston by the Cambridge Society.

The mass, however, has not as yet been given at the organist's own church in Paris, the Basilica of St. Clotilde, because the choir there is not good enough to perform the difficult work.

In explaining the mass, Langlais comments that he has tried to stay close to the Latin text. The work builds up to a climax in the concluding section, the Agnus Dei, on the words dona nobis pacem (give to us peace).

Although many masses present these words in a soft passage, Langlais clarifies that he has emphasized them because he feels that this religious peace is most important, particularly in our troubled times.

"It is for me a great joy to know that in the United States many artists are devoted to my works," Langlais, who considers himself a classic composer, remarks.

The rest of the Chapel Choir's program will include works by Francis Poulenc, Hector Berlioz, and Cesar Franck.

Catherine Crozier Gleason, organist, will accompany the choir, assisted by Alphonse Carlo, violinist. Robert Hufstader, head of the Conservatory, will direct the program.

Corporation Donates $5000 To College

The Kennecott Copper Corporation of New York City recently awarded Rollins College a $5,000 grant as part of a program in recognition of the importance of liberal arts training to the American educational system and to American industry.

For several years this company has maintained a program of scholarships and fellowships at schools throughout the country in the areas of the company's operation and in subjects of the company's interest.

In 1957 the Board of Directors appropriated $30,000 for support of liberal arts colleges. The amount was divided into six parts and awarded as unrestricted gifts to six colleges.

No 'Spur Next Week

The next issue of the Sandspur will be that of May 1.

When the 'Spur allocation was made final at the Student Council meeting of Nov. 17, 1958, it was decided to eliminate two issues of the paper in order to cut down on expenses. The paper originally scheduled for next Friday is one of those two issues.

WHY NOT TWO HONOR ROLLS?

The Dean's List of Distinguished Rollins Students for fall term, 1958, included 20 names — less than three per cent of the student body; the Dean's List for winter term, 1959, contained 26 names — approximately four per cent of the enrollment. Both of these figures are surprisingly small when it is realized that most college honor lists include the names of seven to ten or even more per cent of the student body. But the fact that the Rollins Dean's List is comparatively small does not indicate that the Rollins student body is comparatively less studious; in fact, it is surprising that as many students make it as do, considering that the requirements for it are so high.

The 8.00 or A minus requirement for this academic honor is indeed higher than the B plus standard used for most collegiate honor rolls, and with the ever-rising academic standards of the college, it is becoming increasingly difficult from year to year for Rollins students to achieve the average necessary for this honor list.

The purpose of a Dean's List is two-fold. It gives recognition to those students who have maintained a high academic average, and it provides an incentive for students to work harder by putting an emphasis on academic achievement.

Under the present system, however, many students who are doing superior work—work that is of a high enough caliber to merit membership in either of Rollins' two scholastic honoraries, Phi Society or Key Society — are not being recognized for their scholastic accomplishments.

If, in addition to the Dean's List, an honor roll were published including the names of those students who had maintained a high B plus (perhaps 7.5), an incentive might be given to those who feel that the present required average is out of their reach. The Dean's List would still remain the goal for Rollins' distinguished scholars, but the addition of the honor roll would help to put emphasis on the academic achievements of a greater number of outstanding Rollins students.

SENIOR REFLECTIONS

The following items must be added to complete my list started last week of Rollins' features about which we can be proud:

- 7) A high level of academic endeavor is characteristic of some of the departments of the college. The science, music, theatre arts, and economics departments turn out superior work, largely because faculty and students alike devote long hours to study and rehearsal.
- 8) Rollins stresses the grasping of essentials of the English language. The use of the MET has been one step in this direction, while another has been the requiring of prospective students to take the College Board Verbal Aptitude Test.
- 9) Rollins has a plentiful number and variety of extracurricular activities. Organizations representing all the academic, social, athletic, and political fields are open to all students. Moreover, the abundance of honors and prizes should attract the interest of almost any student.
- 10) The trustees play a minor role in the government of the college. Although they have ultimate authority in deciding college policy, they have delegated much of this power to the faculty. One of the frightening aspects of the American college system is that final authority is vested in a group of people whose inclusion in the group is seldom dependent upon their educational or administrative abilities. Fortunately, at Rollins, the trustees have realized that the faculty is far more capable of regulating affairs than they are.
- 11) The opportunity for close student-faculty cooperation exists at Rollins. The smallness of the college and the interest many faculty members show in the activities of the college provide the opportunity for a close relationship with students.

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. Darrah

Ours is a small campus and we have a tendency to know almost too much about one another. In a campus as intimate as ours we need to make every effort to be generous. Not only is generosity a worthy end in itself but sometimes we ourselves are not blameless.

We are not unlike—to use the double negative—the man who complains to his Doctor about his wife's keeping goats in their apartment. "It is awful," he explained. "I can't stand the smell and she won't get rid of them. Doctor, I think she is crazy. What shall I do."

"Why not open the windows and let the smell out?" suggested the Doctor.

"What? And let my birds fly out?"

Soviets To Gain By Berlin Crisis

By DR. PAUL DOUGLASS
(Written for the Sandspur)

By a diplomatic maneuver, the Soviets have seized the initiative to create an international crisis geographically located in Berlin, timed on the calendar for the date of May 27, and contrived to undermine world power relationships.

The dimensions of the Berlin crisis are made to order to increase world tensions. The reaction of Great Britain to Mikoyan's proposal of a Big Four conference has been such that the May 27 date retreats in importance before the certainty of such a meeting.

It is probable at the moment that, with the approach of the conference, the U. S. will not be forced to choose either to withdraw from Berlin, following the Soviet example, or to remain in the sectors of West Berlin by breaking open in one way or another some artery of communication and transportation.

Several developments, however, are probable. First, the question of action on a general German peace settlement, now almost 15 years delayed, is definitely on the international agenda. Second, the means of retaining the free world sectors in West Berlin become increasingly difficult and perilous. Third, the West is surely going to be compelled to negotiate in some way or other with the German Democratic Republic.

Fourth, Germany east is being integrated into the Soviet economy while Germany west is being integrated into the Common Market. Fifth, the crisis holds possibility for doing more permanent damage to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization than to the Warsaw Treaty Organization. Sixth, disengagement in Berlin by withdrawal of Western military forces and administrative surrender to a reunited Soviet Berlin would establish new power patterns in favor of the Soviets.

Seventh, it is clear, however determined the United States may be to go to war if necessary, that Europeans have no desire to have atomic havoc unleashed upon them. Eighth, if past experience is a guide, a Big Four conference will develop further advantages for the Soviets and provide a sounding board for new aggressive demands.

Obviously old patterns of diplomacy do not carry over as effective guides to action in the crisis created by the Berlin episode. While brinkmanship proposals may have public entertainment value during the approaching election year, resort to war as an instrument of policy is the most undesirable and least likely of all solutions.

Hence there is every possibility that the Berlin episode will be worked through, (1) by the convening of a Big Four Conference which will add to the tensions; (2) by the momentary escape from the predicament by a resort to various available channels in the United Nations; and (3) by the acceleration of the armament race on the intercontinental missile level with increasing liquidation of air bases now maintained by treaty agreement.

The situation is tight in its areas for action, perilous in alternatives, and fraught with the gravest consequences. The outlook is dim, desperate, and disconcerting. Further Soviet territorial gains in diverse areas of the world can be expected, especially in the Middle East.

Letters To The Editor

Co-Chairman Extends Thanks To All Who Helped With Fiesta

Editor:

On behalf of the Fiesta committee, I would like to thank you and all the members of the Rollins Family who co-operated with us during Fiesta. From all reports many seemed to think that this was the best Fiesta yet, which pleased me to a great extent. Above all, I was most happy with the unified and willing spirit which everyone displayed throughout the entire weekend.

Fiesta this year was successful in many ways. The financial returns were gratifying, but at this time I cannot give the exact figures. They will be available to you for publication within a few weeks.

I especially want to thank: Pres. and Mrs. McKean, whose gracious generosity helped make this year's Fiesta; the whole Rollins staff and faculty, who co-operated and helped us in every way possible; the members of the faculty who devoted their nights to us as chaperones; the house-mothers and all of the members of the Rollins Women's Association, who did a marvelous job on the bake sale, among other things; Mr. Cartwright, Mr. Burik, and Mrs. Johanson for all their work and effort put forth on behalf of the Fiesta; Mr. Mandl of the Rollins News Bureau, who helped Irene and Teel on publicity; and a huge thank-you to Dr. Degroot, Fiesta faculty advisor, for the continuous support and understanding he contributed to our committee.

To my wonderful committee a most sincere thank-you — to Lloyd Hoskins, my efficient and thorough co-chairman, whose invaluable assistance was rendered to me uncomplainingly at all times. Without her persevering help, I am sure that the Fiesta would not have been nearly the success that it was.

Thanks also to Beth Halperin, secretary of Fiesta, whose fingers must have been worn to the bone from typing, yet from whom we never heard a single complaint. Beth was a top-notch secretary.

To Ron Terpak, who was our indispensable and hard-working business manager; Nick Longo, carnival chairman, who was responsible for the largest midway the Rollins Family has ever produced; and Stan Moress, Fiesta parade chairman, who did a unique job by bringing us many riders and riding groups from various nearby counties to compete for the McKean Trophies in our colorful "Wild West" parade, my sincere thanks.

As we know, the Fiesta had to have a proper publicity campaign. This, Irene Lee and Teel Oliver did. Irene contributed many original ideas, and with the help of Mr. Mandl and Teel, she was able to carry them through.

Thank you to Mary Mudd and John Looby, King and Queen and Miss Rollins contests co-chairmen, who did a fine and complete job; Julie Van Pelt and Barbie Works, Fiesta booklet co-chairmen, who turned out a magnificent booklet—Julie for so splendidly handling the tedious job of obtaining ads, and Barbie, who devoted her artistic ability to designing the cover and layouts for the booklet; Bruce Aufhammer, our most competent float chairman, who had much to do with holding things together when the rains came; Mary Whitman, who superbly headed our Western Frontier Fashion Show and Beauty Contest; Judy Earle, who was responsible for our television raffle — she really had to get those tickets sold, and she did; Cherry King, our poster chairman, for contributing her artistic talents — remember those terrific boots and hat on the posters?; Sid Burt, dance chairman, for obtaining a name band, and for helping to produce the fine dance that we all enjoyed Saturday night; Helen Carrell and Emilio Lebolo, who conducted the field day admirably by adding new contests and more interest to the event.

If I continued this letter, it would take up the whole Sandspur and more. Because of this I simply thank each and every one who did even the smallest thing for Fiesta. You all are wonderful, and I hope everyone will co-operate with Fiesta in the future years as they did last week. You just can't imagine how I appreciated the voluntary help and enthusiasm which the entire Rollins Family displayed.

Oak Ridge Hires Chemistry Majors

Two Rollins chemistry majors will be working this summer at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Fred Courington has been appointed for ten weeks beginning June 15 to the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies under the Summer Student Trainee Program. He will be associated with a research project of the Medical Division of the Institute, and will work under the direction of a research scientist.

Gordon Struble has been tentatively selected for a summer position with the Analytical Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratories, which are run by Union Carbide for the Government. The position is contingent upon his receiving security clearance and passing a physical examination.

HOW THAT RING GETS AROUND!

Here's Why Tareyton's Dual Filter filters as no single filter can:

1. It combines an efficient pure white outer filter...
2. with a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL...which has been definitely proved to make the smoke of a cigarette milder and smoother.

Notice how many Dual Filter Tareyton smokers you see around campus these days? Why so? Just try the cigarette yourself. You'll see "why so"!

16 Student Teachers Intern This Year

Juniors planning to intern teach next year should pick up their application blanks in Lyman 305 as soon as possible, Prof. Audrey Packham has announced. These applications to intern in the local schools must be in the county school office before the end of the month.

Sixteen seniors participated in the intern program this year.

Joan Abendroth, John Myers and Pam Rial are student teaching during the spring term, while Judy

Federal Service Application Deadline Set

Seniors interested in administrative positions with the Federal Government either in the Southeast or in Washington should make application on or before April 23 to take the Federal Service Entrance Examination.

The examination is the gateway to many interesting and varied careers with the Federal Government. Further information concerning the date of the test and procedure in making application may be obtained from Miss Merrill in the Placement Bureau.

COLLEGE PUZZLE CONTEST

FOR STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS

2 GRAND PRIZES

*Rambler "American"!
Big-car roominess...
small-car economy...
tops in performance!*

WIN A RAMBLER STATION WAGON!

LIGHT UP AND LIVE IT UP! 3 great cigarettes offer you 627 chances to win! So pick your pack—save the six wrappers—and get going! It's crossword puzzle fun and real smoking pleasure all the way!

ENTER OFTEN—HAVE FUN—AND WIN! But think carefully! This puzzle is not as easy as it looks. At first the DOWN and ACROSS clues may appear simple. There may appear to be more than one "right" answer. For example, the clue might read: "Many a coed will be given her best date's P-N." Either "I" (PIN) or "E" (PEN) would seem to fit. But only one answer is apt and logical as decided by the judging staff, and therefore correct. Read the rules carefully. ENTER AS OFTEN AS YOU WISH. Good luck!

RULES—PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

1. The College Puzzle Contest is open to college students and college faculty members except employees and their immediate families of Liggett & Myers and its advertising agencies.

2. Fill in all missing letters . . . print clearly. Use of obsolete, archaic, variant or foreign words prohibited. After you have completed the puzzle, send it along with six empty package wrappers of the same brand from L&M, Chesterfield or Oasis cigarettes (or one reasonable hand-drawn facsimile of a complete package wrapper of any one of the three brands) to: Liggett & Myers, P. O. Box 271, New York 46, N. Y. Enter as often as you wish, but be sure to enclose six package wrappers (or a facsimile) with each entry. Illegible entries will not be considered.

3. Entries must be postmarked by midnight, Friday, May 29, 1959 and received by midnight, Friday, June 5, 1959.

4. Entries will be judged by the Bruce-Richards Corporation, an independent judging organization, on the basis of logic and aptness of thought of solutions. In the event of ties, contestants will be required to complete in 25 words or less the following statement: "My favorite cigarette is (Chesterfield) (L&M) or (Oasis) because . . .". Entries will be judged on originality, aptness of thought and interest by the Bruce-Richards Corporation. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in event of final ties. Illegible entries will not be considered. By entering all entrants agree that the decision of the judges shall be final and binding.

5. Solutions must be the original work of the contestants submitting them. All entries become the property of Liggett & Myers and none will be returned.

6. Winners will be notified by mail as soon as possible after completion of the contest.

Time Out

Yankees And Braves Expected To Maintain Top Position

By BOB STEWART
Sandspur Sports Editor

This is the time of the year when everyone tries to pick the pennant winners. This prediction has always been of interest to every major league baseball fan. Managers pick winners, the players have a pool, sports writers try their skill, and everyone who has an interest in the national pastime makes his guesses.

Past records have proven that there is no such thing as a reliable prognostication. Luck, in this case, does not take a back seat to skill. Please bear these facts in mind when you read my predictions.

Stewart

In the American League the Yankees will again be the team to beat. Casey Stengel has too much material to be beaten. The White Sox will again give the world champions the most contention.

I like the Red Sox for third. Ted Williams can not be counted upon this year, but, if he plays, the Beantowners should hold their own. Rounding out the first division are the Indians. Frank Lane is back in town.

The second-division is as follows: Baltimore, Detroit, Kansas City, and Washington (who else).

I might add at this point that the Tigers could be a sleeper this year. NoDoze anyone?

In the National League the Braves will retain their title. There will be heavier competition this season, but the Braves should pull through. Hank Aaron will have a banner year.

The next three positions in the first division are a tossup. I like the order of Giants, Dodgers, and Pirates. The Giants with Willie Mays and Sad Sam Jones will be tough to beat. Solly Hemus must have really needed a first baseman to trade Jones for Bill White.

The Dodgers will be greatly improved over their performance of last year. They have an excellent group of rookies about to reach their prime. The Pirates are a good team and they could easily do better than fourth.

The second-division in the senior circuit is as follows: Cincinnati, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and Chicago. The Redlegs will miss field manager Birdie Tebbetts.

The Cardinals will be struggling along with their new manager, Solly Hemus. I don't believe that Hemus is ready for all the responsibility he now has.

I pick the Phillies as high as seventh because of Robin Roberts and sentimental reasons. In Chicago the Cubs have Ernie Banks, and that's all. As in the past, Banks has proven that it takes more than a star to produce a winning team.

* * * * *

Rollins Spring Sports Schedule shows quite an impressive list of triumphs for the Rollins athletes. The baseball team is having a banner year. At the time of this writing the Tars are 15-6. Their competition has been strong all year, and, if they don't fall into a late season slump, they should be headed to a post-season tourney in June.

The Tar golfers have maintained their undefeated string, the tennis team is 11-2, and the crew has proved victorious in their first five races. Congratulations to all involved. Keep up the good work.

Tar Netters Win Over Princeton Despite Poor Showing In Doubles

By BURNAM MacLEOD
Sandspur Sports Writer

The Rollins tennis team chalked up wins number ten and 11 last Friday and Saturday as they rolled over once mighty Princeton by the scores of 7-2 and 6-3.

Ochoa, Henriksen, Dominguez, Hewitson, Alegre, and Dunning all proved to be magnificent in their respective singles matches. Not one singles match was dropped during the two days of play.

The doubles, on the other hand, turned out to be farcical as Rollins dropped five of the six doubles matches played. Tar coach Norm Copeland would probably have done better if he had used his junior varsity squad instead of his starting six.

There was no feature match on the first day of play. All six singles matches rolled along pleasantly. Norm Copeland sat serenely in a shaded area watching his number one netter Jose Ochoa trounce Princeton's number one man by the score of 6-4, 6-3.

Dave Hewitson celebrated his first big win over Roy Anderson of Princeton, 6-1, 6-2. And always reliable Mike Alegre blasted his opponent, 6-0, 6-1.

The doubles were a poor ending to Rollins' successful singles victories. Hewitson and Dunning were the only victors.

On the second day of play, Saturday, the Princeton coach, with the permission of Copeland, switched his line-up. This did no good, and Rollins once again rolled over all six Princeton players.

All three doubles matches went to Princeton. The score of this match, instead of what could have been 9-0 in favor of Rollins, was 6-3.

Student Starts Out With 86 I. Q., Ends Up With Med. School Fellowship

By JEAN RIGG
Sandspur Staff

"I started college with one dollar and sixty-nine cents," laughed senior chemistry major Clelia Ganoza. "Now I have $269 in the bank."

This is the success story of the 21-year-old Peruvian beauty, who seven years ago scored an 86 on an I.Q. test and who just last week was awarded a fellowship to Duke Medical School, covering tuition, room and board, and expenses.

Can a student find happiness and a fellowship to medical school on $1.69 and an I.Q. of 86? Apparently. And with her soft, melodic accent battling the clatter and chatter of Anderson's Restaurant one day last week, Clelia proceeded to tell me how.

Clelia first came to the states when she was 14, and the I.Q. test was taken before she had mastered English. Since then, she admits, her I.Q. has fluctuated in slightly higher brackets. But Clelia still doesn't care much for that method of intellectual measurement. "The so-called average is capable of so much," she insists.

Clelia finished high school in a year and a half, maintaining an A average and somewhat contradicting the prediction of her 86 I.Q. score. But she attributes this success to a near-tragedy rather than to herself alone.

Clelia arrived in the States in November and the following May was hit by a car. After the administering of Extreme Unction and two weeks of unconsciousness, Clelia spent the remainder of her year in the hospital reading and thinking and learning English.

But shortly after leaving the hospital, Clelia contracted pleurisy and, "Bingo! Back in the hospital for another year!"

"It wasn't so much coming so close to dying myself but watching others sick and dying that pointed out to me the real value of doing something."

Biding the time until her re-

PRE-MED MAJOR Clelia Ganoza, who believes in a combination of the artistic and the scientific in life, deserted Knowles Hall fall term to play Lotus Blossom in Teahouse of the August Moon.

covery, Clelia started doing something by reading and preparing herself for school. She started with philosophy ("It points out to you that we're only specks that know very little and understand even less — our only chance to grow is to help one another."), then moved on to psychology, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics.

This combination of wide knowledge, curiosity, and determination, above and beyond the $1.69 bankroll and 86 I.Q., earned Clelia an honor scholarship to American University in Washington, D. C.

And it is due to her record there (an A average again, a full time job in research, and much extra-curricularizing — from student council to Kappa Delta sorority to writing and directing their freshman show) that Clelia now holds three scholarships to Rollins.

And it is due to all her past records that Clelia was awarded the Duke Medical School Fellowship. And it is due to the fellowship, says Clelia, that she's floating on the clouds, for without it she would have had to postpone or give up her ambitions for a career in bio-chemistry, doing research and teaching.

It would take a "Spotlight" in a dozen installments to relate in detail the rest of our three-hour interview — and because Clelia seldom says anything without interest or importance, I wish I had room to give you a verbatim report.

"A person has to be three things," Clelia mused. "You have to be idealistic, you have to be critical, and you have to be practical. To be idealistic, you must be sensitive. To be critical you need the ability to analyze (and you acquire this in science). And to be practical, you have to blend the two. That boils down just about everything I've said."

Morganthaler Places Third; Girls' IM Volleyball Starts

By BABS BERTASH
Sandspur Sports Writer

Rollins co-ed Susie Morganthaler displayed her excellent water-skiing ability last week and won the third place cup in the slalom event at the Dixie Water Ski tourney at Cypress Gardens.

First place was won by Nancie Rideout of Orlando, who is national women's champion.

The tourney, held on April 11, is rated second only to the U.S. National women's championship.

Winning tournaments is not a new experience for Susie, who is secretary of the Hoosier Ski Club in Indiana. This past summer Sue walked away with the first place trophy at Clark Lake, Mich., and placed second in the slalom event of the Midwest tourney.

Susie, an Alpha Phi and a business administration major, has been skiing for 12 years but has only been in competition for the past four years.

Coming soon is the intercollegiate water ski tournament on May 9 at Cypress Gardens where Susie will again be representing Rollins. Last year the Rollins team made an excellent showing at this event.

Women's intramural volleyball games commenced last Monday, April 13, with four games being played.

At the 4:15 games, the Thetas easily defeated the Phi Mu's by scores of 11-7 and 15-1, while the Kappa's rolled over the Gamma Phi's 15-1, 15-3.

In the 5:00 matches, the Chi O's defeated the Pi Phi's 10-7 and 15-6, while, in the only game to run three sets, the Indies beat the Alpha Phi's 14-5, 8-12, and 15-4.

On April 20, the Phi Mu's will meet the Pi Phi's, the Kappa's will play the Indies; the Chi O's the Alpha Phi's; and the Gamma Phi's the Thetas.

THIS WEEK'S baseball article is being shown instead of written. The Tars are presently sporting a 15-6 record, and much of this year's squad's success lies in the hitting. Above are the five top hitters on this year's squad.

Credit must also be given to the fielding of this year's squad. Last year Rollins lost at least six games due to careless fielding. This year the Tars have improved 100 percent, and the dividend can be found in their won-lost record.

Today the Tars start an eleven game battle with their Florida Intercollegiate Conference opponents. The Tars are defending champs, and they will be strong contenders again this year.

Oarsmen Defeat Southern For 5th Straight Victory

By MOE CODY
Sandspur Sports Writer

A strong stroking Rollins crew copped its fifth straight victory last Saturday when they defeated Florida Southern College in a dual regatta on Lake Maitland.

Rowing in bad conditions of rough water and a strong head wind, the Tars gained an early lead of one boat length before the first quarter of the race was completed.

Stroking smoothly, despite the adverse racing conditions, the blue and gold maintained their lead at 32 strokes per minute compared to the 34 strokes of the Moccasins.

Entering the final quarter Rollins opened water between the two shells, winning by a length and a half in the time of 6:28:0.

Following the varsity race the Rollins J.V. crew thoroughly trounced the junior Mocs. The Tars won this second race by four open boat lengths.

Last Wednesday the varsity and J.V. both won tight races against the Amherst College eights over the short race course.

Following the Amherst race the crew elected Moe Cody as captain of the 1959 varsity oarsmen.

Tomorrow the Tars face the toughest opposition of the season when they race Tampa University. The Spartans and the Tars have both maintained an undefeated record thus far in the season.

The contest on Lake Maitland tomorrow morning will climax an encouraging comeback for crew at Rollins. This will be the last home race for the crew this year.

Horseshoes, Golf On IM Schedule

The men's spring term intramural schedule is slowly getting underway. Table tennis, softball, horseshoes, golf, and swimming are being played this term.

The field day has been set for Saturday, May 23, at 11:00. The annual swimming meet will be held the following day, May 24, in the morning. Both events will count evenly as far as intramural points are concerned.

The faculty, the newest addition to the intramural schedule, has done quite well. Last week the faculty competed in four events and won all four.

The professors taught softball lessons to both Delta Chi and the TKE's. The faculty also defeated the Deltas in table tennis. The faculty's final win came at the expense of Sigma Nu in horseshoes.

The total intramural points for the first two terms have been figured out and there is a real battle for first place between the X Club and Sigma Nu.

The present standings are as follows: Sigma Nu, 930 points; X Club, 900; Lambda Chi, 570; Delta Chi, 500; Independents, 460; KA, 415; TKE, 240.

Sigma Nu has two firsts, flag football and basketball. The X Club also has two firsts, tennis and volleyball. X Club has two seconds while the Snakes have a second and a third.

AMHERST SCOUT

SPORTS AGENDA — The baseball team travels to Jacksonville tomorrow to play the Dolphins in a FIC contest. Tuesday the Tars play Stetson at Deland.

The golf team has two matches next week. Tuesday the Tars play host to Western Illinois, and Wednesday Jacksonville U. comes to Winter Park. Both matches will be played at Dubsdread at 1:30.

The Rollins crew faces defending state champs Tampa Univ. tomorrow on Lake Maitland. This will be the Tar oarsmen's toughest test of the present campaign.

Tomorrow the Tar netters play host to the U.S. Naval Air Station, and Tuesday the netters travel to the Univ. of Florida.

Tar Golfers Run Streak To 24 Wins

The Rollins College golf team continued to roll over its opposition in grand style last Saturday as the Tar golfers defeated a strong Florida State golf team by the score of 16-11.

Dick Diversi took medal honors with a 69, two under par for the Dubsdread course. Along with Diversi, Bob Ross and Jim Curti also won their matches. Rollins golfers have now won their last 24 dual matches over a two-year span. This is quite an achievement when one considers the type of competition which the Tar golfers have engaged in.

Coach Dan Nyimicz believes that this is the best balanced team that he has ever coached. Nyimicz said: "Anyone of our boys can play the number one position. Our team is capable of competing against anyone in the country."

This year Rollins has switched their players around and a number of players have played the number one position. Among the number one players on this year's squad is Dick Diversi. Diversi has lost only four of 39 collegiate golf matches.

He has won the Maine Amateur Championship five years in a row, was a finalist in the New England Amateur Championship in 1958, and last year won the Miami Invitational Tournament.

Another number one man on this year's golf team is Bob Ross. Ross started playing golf at the age of seven and has been practicing ever since. He holds a long list of triumphs in different golf tournaments.

Jim Curti is another of Rollins top golfers. Curti is having a rough time getting into shape this year, but he is capable of shooting as low a score as anyone on the team.

Joe Miller is among the top four golfers on this year's squad. Miller's best shot is his tee shot, but his putting is also good. Jay Dolan is perhaps the best putter on the squad.

Dolan is playing in his second year of collegiate golf, and he has improved with every match. Bob Craig and Bob Harrison are also top notch golfers.

...and two cartons of Camels for our leader!
