23 Freshmen Given Honors At Entrance

Twenty-three Rollins freshmen have received Honors at Entrance, Dean of the College Schiller Scroggs has announced.

Six of the students so honored are from the Orlando area. They are Elke Brigitte Arndt, Nancy Athalia Honeycutt, and Peter Michael Cumbie from Boone High School; Wendy Draper from Edgewater High School; Joseph William Mosser from Winter Park High School; and Merton Howard Van Pelt from Lyman High School in Longwood.

The other seventeen come from many parts of the country. Barbara Jo Aldredge and David Alan Chino are graduates of Stranahan High School in Fort Lauderdale. Pauline Dierke Curry and Camilla Lee Nicol came to Rollins from the Prew School in Sarasota.

Lee Bronson Warren is a graduate of Seabreeze High School in Daytona Beach and Kenneth Dale Strickler comes from Bay County High School in Panama City.

Honors at Entrance students from Pennsylvania are Mary Sheila McAbey from Hatboro Horsham High School in Hatboro, and Delbert Gary Woodhead from Collingdale High School in Collingdale.

From Downsville Central High, in Downsville, N. Y., comes Ada Marie Horton, Martha Louise Niepold is a graduate of St. Agnes School in Alexandria, Va. Mary Ann Trimble comes from Oak Park High School, Oak Park, Ill.

Ronald Lee Acker is a graduate of Lodi High School, Lodi, Ohio. James Walton Mosher comes from Cattaraugus Central High, Cattaraugus, N. Y. Also from New York is Clayton Charles Seadeck from Holland Central High School in Holland.

Robert Terrell Stone is a graduate of Central High School in Kansas City, Mo. From Michigan come Grant Leigh Jennison of Detroit Lakes Comm. High, Detroit Lakes, and Frederick Karl Meyer, Jr. of Redford Union High School, Detroit.

These twenty-three students or approximately six per cent of the freshman class achieved this honor for attaining academic superiority. Their records show high scholastic achievement, high performance on College Board Examinations, and individual recommendations by their high school principals.

As Honors at Entrance students they are eligible to participate in the Rollins Honors Program. This program currently consists of independent reading, either within or outside their major field.

For each term a student may earn up to three hours of credit, with a maximum of seven hours during the year. Upon successful completion of the program, the student receives the designation of Rollins Scholar. Rollins Scholars must maintain a cumulative average of B plus or better.

The Honors at Entrance freshman will be formally recognized in the annual Tribute to Academic Excellence Convocation which will be held this year on Nov. 4.

Seven Vie For Upperclass Presidencies In Tuesday's All College Elections

Thirty-eight upperclassmen were nominated for class offices at meetings of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes held October 12. Of this number, seven students are vying for the presidencies of the three classes, 11 for vice president, nine for secretary, and 11 for treasurer.

Elections will be held on Tuesday, October 25, from 9:00 to 4:00 in the Rollins Union, with runoffs scheduled next Friday.

Bruce Aufhammer, Luis Dominguez, and Bob Griffith are candidates for the presidency of the class of 1961.

Aufhammer, a Sigma Nu, is president of Interfraternity Council and co-chairman of the 1961 Fiesta committee. A member of the Orientation Committee for the past three years, he is presently on the Student-Faculty Disciplinary committee and has also served on the Student-Faculty Trustee committee.

President of his junior class and of Lambda Chi fraternity, Dominguez also served as sophomore class vice president. He is a member of the varsity tennis team and the Men's R Club.

Griffith, X Club, was a varsity basketball player last year.

Nominated for junior class president is Jack Sutliff.

Chairman of the Rollins Union and president of his freshman and sophomore classes, Sutliff, a Sigma Nu, a Chapel Usher. He was a member of the cheerleading squad last year and has served on the Sandspur staff.

SLATE CHANGES

The names of six of the candidates nominated for class offices had to be deleted from this story because they found unqualified by the Election Board. They did not have enough hours to be listed officially as members of the classes in which they were nominated. Election Board chairman John Harkness explained.

Because of this change in the list of nominees, Jack Sutliff is running unopposed for president of the junior class.

Bob Fox, Pete Kellogg, and Pete Marino, are in the running for president of the sophomore class.

Fox is a member of Delta Chi fraternity.

Vice chairman of the Vespers Committee, Kellogg served as freshman class president last year. He has been active in the Annie Russell Theatre productions, including "Guys and Dolls" and "Romanoff and Juliet." He is a Delta Chi.

Marino is a member of the X Club.

Varsity oarsman Rupp is a Sigma Nu.

Ten seniors were nominated for the other class offices.

Candidates for vice president of the class of '61 are Frank

Sigma Nu; and Dee Stedron, Kappa.

Running for a sophomore treasurer are Breck Boynton, Delta Chi;

Griffith

Sutliff

Frank Dunnill, X Club; and Sandy Rainey, Kappa.

Ginny Campbell, Kappa; Linda Hicklin, Theta; Karen Parachek, Theta; and Sally Schreiber, independent, are the candidates for secretary of the sophomore class.

Committee Plans Poll To Be Taken On Beanery Food

Student, administration, and Morrison Food Service representatives met Thursday, October 13, to discuss various factors in the operation of the Dining Hall.

Present at the meeting were Dean Helen Watson; Dean Dyckman Vermilye; Purchasing Agent Harold Mutispaugh; Mr. Wiggins, dietitian for Morrisons; John A. Johnson, dining hall manager; Student Council president Bob Fleming; Campus Improvements committee chairman John Reese; and Jamie Henry, Beanery committee member.

Items discussed included menu planning, quality and variety of food served, wasting of food, and several other topics.

As an aid to Mr. Johnson in his menu planning, it was suggested that a poll be taken among all boarding students to determine their specific food likes and dislikes. Mr. Johnson admitted that he is oftentimes "scared" to serve new dishes in fear of rejection by the students. He expressed belief that successful completion of the student poll would help to gain greater variety of food served. All present agreed that the poll would be a helpful tool in menu planning and it was decided to investigate survey.

It was pointed out by Mr. Johnson that there is a great deal of food wasted by students who take a dish of food from the service counter, then send it down the conveyor belt untouched. The group agreed that students should take only the items which they really want on their first trip through the line and go back if they desire second portions. All agreed that enforced rationing of food was not desirable or necessary, but the possibility of an "anti-waste" campaign was discussed.

Miscellaneous student criticisms of dining hall matters were aired, and remedies suggested. Mr. Johnson asked that all student complaints be made directly to him, John Reese, or Jamie Henry, and appropriate action will be taken.

Cloverleaf Housemother Dies

Memorial services were held last Saturday at All-Saints Episcopal Church for Miss Margaret Scott Rogers, resident head at Cloverleaf from 1953 to June 1960. Miss Rogers died Thursday, October 13, in Florida Sanitarium after a long illness. She was 66.

During two periods in the 1920's and '30's, Miss Rogers taught at the Yokohama Mission School in Japan under the auspices of Woman's Union Missionary Society. In all, she spent approximately ten years in the country, educating and helping the young Japanese and forming a deep attachment for the country and its people.

After returning to the United States and receiving her Rollins degree in 1939, she earned her MA at Boston University. She served as Dean of Women at Webber and Florida Southern Colleges and as head counselor at Florida State College.

"Faithful to your Lord and conscience, your life has brought to all a fresh courage and a confidence in the things which can never be shaken," Pres. Hugh F. McKean told her when he presented her the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion in 1959.

"She lived an enviable life, loved by the many girls who lived under her through the years she was a housemother at Cloverleaf," writes senior Diane Boggs of Miss Rogers. "The many friends she made among the students, faculty and other housemothers on the Rollins campus will never forget her optimistic outlook on life guided by faith and reason."

"It was well worth the time spent to stop by and chat for a while, for she was such an interesting person and so interested in everything that concerned her visitors. She always had time to listen to our news, our problems, and our achievements," Miss Boggs adds.

Two Added To Reevaluation Committee; Sandspur Allocation Increased $150

The appointment of Sally Schreiber and Leon Hollon to the Committee for the Evaluation and Possible Reorganization of The Student Government of Rollins College was approved last Monday night at Student Council meeting. These students were selected by the committee, headed by Frank Passini, and voted upon by the Council members.

Miss Schreiber who is active in the theatre arts department, is independent while Hollon, an X Clubber, was a member of the varsity basketball team last year. Both were selected on the basis on the interest they had shown in student government and the work of this committee.

Other committee members are Nini Thompson, secretary; Jeanne Abendroth, John Harkness, and Nick Longo.

An allocation of $6300 for The Sandspur was approved. This is a $150 increase over the temporary budget submitted last May, necessitated by the printing of 100 extra additions per week of the paper due to Rollins' increase in number of students. The Sandspur's entire budget comes to $8800, the rest of which is made up by income from advertisements and subscriptions.

A suggestion was made by Rosalie Hallbauer, student association comptroller, as advised by Fred Ward, Assistant Treasurer of the College that the $2000 allocated for the running of the Union on Saturday and Sunday nights be placed under bond. Pres. Robert Flemming said that the cost of the bond would be investigated and the suggestion discussed at the meeting of the Council.

An addition to the amendment to the constitution concerning the financial reports of the Rollins publications is to be inserted. The addition states, "Should an emergency arise, the editor of a publication can request additional funds from Council at the time of the emergency. This addition will be voted upon next week.

The amendment as passed by Council reads: "Any publication which exceeds its budget as approved by the Council at the beginning of the fall term, and has to request further funds from Council shall not be allowed to pay salaries to any of its staff from money allocated by Council.

"The Sandspur and Flamingo, shall present their final record of expenditures once per year and action shall be taken accordingly.

"The Tomokan and R-Book which pay salaries by the quarter, shall make three such reports a year during the last week of each term. If expenditures for the term do not exceed the estimated budget, salaries will be paid. If not, however, the salaries for the term in question will be withheld in consideration of the final yearly report. If the expenditures for the year do not exceed the yearly budget, all salaries in question shall then be paid."

(TORPEDO RUN)

The first offering of the Rollins Union Film Series, "Torpedo Run," will be shown this Sunday in the Fred Stone Theatre. Showings will be at 6:30 and 8:45 p.m. The movie, which is in color, is a submarine story. It stars Glenn Ford and Ernest Borgnine. Admission is $.30 at the box office.

Dorsett Play On Rollins' Founding To Be Presented Charter Weekend

As part of the celebration of the Rollins Diamond Jubilee Year, an original play by a Rollins professor will be presented this spring during Charter Weekend.

The play, "A Song For Rollins", is by Wilbur Dorsett, English professor. It is the story of the founding of the college presented in dramatic form. Its scope includes the first ten years that the college was in existence.

The idea for the play was thought of two years ago when planning first began for Diamond Jubilee Year. The play contains two acts and is a full evening's entertainment.

The cast of the play will consist of students, faculty, administration, community, and alumni. It will be presented the Thursday of Charter Weekend for the students, Friday for the alumni, and Saturday for the public.

Drabik Appointed Speech Professor

Mrs. Patricia J. Drabik of Sanford has been appointed assistant professor of speech by Pres. Hugh F. McKean.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Drabik received her M. A. from Bradley University and her Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. She completed her undergraduate work at Louisiana State University.

Before coming to Rollins, Mrs. Drabik was engaged in commercial and educational radio work, public relations and free lance writing. She also spent one year at UCLA as an assistant professor in television.

The new member of the Rollins faculty belongs to several professional organizations which include the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, the Speech Association of America, the American Educational Theatre Association, the Association for Professional Broadcasting Education, Phi Beta, Tau Kappa Alpha, and the American Women in Radio TV.

Violinist To Open Concert Season

Violinist Marjorie Fulton, accompanied by Albert Hirsch on the piano, will open the Rollins Concert Series tonight at 8:30 in the Annie Russell Theatre.

Sonatas by Beethoven, Debussy, and Strauss will make up Miss Fulton's program. The concert violinist's late husband, Mack Harrell, twice was the featured soloist with the Bach Choir in the annual Bach Festival.

This concert will be free to students, as will the remaining concerts of the series, with the exception of the guitar concert by Andres Segovia, for which there will be an admission charge of $3.00. All seats are reserved for each of the ten concerts, and tickets must be picked up at the Conservatory of Music by noon the day of the concert.

SPIRITUALS and show tunes will ring from Dyer Memorial, as the freshman glee club, under the direction of senior Sandy Wyatt, left, starts weekly rehearsals.

Freshman Glee Club Formed For First Time; To Sing Broadway Tunes, Spirituals

By MARY GOODALL
Sandspur Staff

The Freshman Glee Club, which had its first organizational meeting last Monday, is a musical innovation at Rollins.

The new concept about this singing group is that it is open only to freshmen who enjoy singing and have a knowledge of music. These 45 members meet two evenings a week—Wednesdays and Fridays from 6:00 to 7:00—to raise their responsive voices in mixed, four-part songs from Broadway shows and Negro spirituals. . . . Those of the freshman who tried out will no doubt remember singing "Swing, Low, Sweet Chariot" or "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jerico."

The person responsible for this new group is Roger Gray, who successfully formed a similar group at prep school. Music director is Sandy Wyatt, a senior music major. She will be aided and abetted by Robert Hufstader.

Auditions were based on a sign-up system. Interested men and women were asked to sing between the hours of five and six during the two weeks before Friday, October 14th.

These sessions in Dyer Hall consisted of singing scales—to determine vocal quality and range—and two optional songs. One was a slow song, and another was of a more spirited nature, to display general glee club singing ability.

Women's Silence Ends Tomorrow

Women's silence will end tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 p.m., when bids will be distributed in Elizabeth Hall. All women who are going through rush must be in Elizabeth at that time.

The last formal rush parties will be held tonight with each sorority giving one party.

Anyone walking down the luge or playing tennis at this time will remember the repetitious rendition of "You Are My Sunshine" besides the above-mentioned spirituals.

This musical organization has many possibilities, the organizers feel, besides helping to form a more unified freshman class. Members are: Jim Brooks, Roger Gray, Doug Byrne, Rick Boschen, Bill Law, Dave Conner, Clark Wilcox, Craig French, Mike Dun, Chuck Reading, Larry Summerfield, Champ Robinson, Bob Heydt, Craig Usas, Dave Chinoy, Ron Acker, John Swanson, Jim Walker, Jim Moser, and Ken Graft.

Female members are: Nancy Stone, Susan Omansky, Sally Koppein, Zoe Cleveland, Lynn Johnson, Bette Kendall, Suzy Dix, Kim Heinze, Vicky Weeks, Catherine Lloyd, Robin Evans, Ginny Cook, Marcia Vallet, Billie Bishop, Lee Matherly, Lana Templin, Linda Gell, Jane Yancey, Penny Moore, Aimee Meier, Margy Maynard, Diana Jones, and Carol Hess.

FELLOWSHIP DEADLINES NEAR

Seniors are reminded that the deadline for application for both the Fulbright and Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowship is October 31. Those interested should consult Dr. Wendell Stone, campus Fulbright advisor, and John O. Rich, Rollins' Woodrow Wilson representative.

Freshmen Nominate 19 For Class Officers

Meeting in the Annie Russell Theatre B period Wednesday morning, the Class of '64 nominated 19 candidates for class office. Student Council president Robert Fleming, who conducted the meeting, estimated that nearly the entire freshman class of 325 was present at the meeting.

"It is very important that the officers elected by the freshman class be qualified and capable, because of the many activities they sponsor," Fleming points out, adding that candidates should do their best to let their classmates know who they are.

Freshmen may put up posters and distribute campaign material, but no time has been set aside for candidates to give formal speeches.

The four nominees for the office of freshman president are Jim Carney, Harry Filbert, Sara Parkey, and Charlie Wilcox.

Carney, who attended the New Preparatory School in Cambridge, Mass., was a member of the debating team and dramatics society in high school. He was active on the staffs of both newspaper and yearbook.

Filbert was active in athletics, including football, wrestling, baseball, and lacrosse and a member of the Boy Scouts in Maryland, at the Baltimore Institute.

Winner of an honorable mention in the Science Fair and of a second place poetry award while she was attending Wited Falls High School in Texas, Miss Parkey was president of the high school water ski club and a member of the Junior Forum and the Sophomore Advisors Council.

While attending the Manlius School in Manlius, New York, Wilcox was a lieutenant in Company A of his student government and a member of the Glee Club and of the varsity track and swimming teams.

Six candidates will be vying for the office of vice president. They are Art Cornell, Rusty Demming, Joe Irrabino, Camille Jones, Doug Prevost, and Ronald Walker.

Appearing on the ballot for secretary will be the names of Gene Faubel, Linda Gall, Penny Moore, and Ann Parsons.

The five candidates nominated for the office of treasurer are Larry Abraham, Bill Hoffman, Di Lalow, JoAnn McDonald, and Ed Welsh.

Bootstrap Adds Several Courses

Rollins Operation Bootstrap will enter its twenty-fifth semester on Oct. 24, announced Prof. George Saute, director of Courses for the Community.

Several new courses which have been added to the expanding curriculum include elementary school program, which fulfills part of the requirement for the elementary school teaching certificate in Florida; genetics, a non-laboratory science course; and elementary German.

Other scheduled courses are as follows: principles of accounting, business law, principles of economics, English composition and literature, introduction to literature, history of the United States, algebra, trigonometry, geometry, calculus, introduction to sociology, Spanish, and fundamentals of speech.

Registration for these classes will be Oct. 17 through Oct. 19. Classes will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays.

The coming semester will close on Dec. 15. The following semester of Operation Bootstrap will get under way Jan. 23, 1961.

CLASS ELECTIONS DESERVE ATTENTION

It may safely be predicted, on the basis of past years that a large number of freshmen, full of enthusiasm and class spirit, will turn up at the polls Monday to vote for their class officers. On the other hand, traditionally, it seems, the number of upperclassmen participating in these elections is small — about 60 per cent. And a still smaller fraction attends the meeting where class officer candidates are nominated.

Much of the reason for this lies in the fact that class officers are often considered "figureheads," class elections, more "popularity contests." And perhaps in the past, this has been true at Rollins, for, except for the pre-graduation activities of the senior class, and the annual Freshman Show, very little was done by the Rollins classes as a class. Recently, however, this situation has undergone a change, as was illustrated last year by the March of Dimes projects conducted by the freshman and sophomore classes.

In order to have active classes which can accomplish something working together, it is necessary to have active, capable officers. And it should be the business of the entire class to see that such officers are elected by careful, thoughtful voting. If this is done, there is no reason why the four classes at Rollins cannot become a strong force in Rollins' student government.

And so that this may be accomplished, it is the duty of every Rollins student — freshman, sophomore, junior, senior — to learn all he can about the candidates for office in his class, to decide which among them is most qualified, and, on Monday, to vote for his class officers and for a stronger, more unified class.

THE SANDSPUR
REPORTS

The Sandspur finished the 1959-60 year, figures released last week by business well within its Student Association allocation manager Jerry Beets show.

The final report of the newspaper's financial status for last year gives the total income as $10,048.72. Expenses only amounted to $8452.00, leaving the paper $1596.72 in the black. Any money allocated to the Sandspur and not spent reverts back to the Student Association funds.

An itemized account of the income and expenses for the 26 issues published last year follows:

Income:

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. DARRAH

Henry Adams is remembered for both his writings and his personal convictions. The elder Henry Cabot Lodge was dining with Adams in the spring of 1917. Lodge was roundly denouncing President Wilson. Suddenly Adam's eighty-year-old fist struck the table and Adams said sharply, "Cabot, I've never allowed treasonable conversation at this table and I don't propose to allow it now."

Darrah

Sometimes we sit in on conversations and let them drift along even though we are out of sympathy with the tone and character of what is being said. Perhaps we ought to stop gossip and slander with fist-pounding, for there is treason against character and reputations as well as against the nation.

Day Student Makes Suggestion For Solution Of Parking Problem

Editor:

Seeing Rollins growing for the past four years in student body size, with the number of automobiles increasing every year, leads me to believe that action should be taken to cope with the parking situation—not next year, or the spring term, but NOW!

There are far too many cars for the parking spaces provided. As a day student, I am constantly being harrassed by the campus patrolman for illegal parking.

Since the day student lives out of his car, not a dorm, why can't Holt Avenue from the corner of Park Avenue up to and including the area in front of the Center for Practical Politics be reserved for day student cars only?

Let the boarders keep their cars on the parking lots. I keep my car in a lot by my home and not on the street. If this is not the answer, maybe the city of Winter Park should install metered parking on Holt Avenue. That might tend to discourage boarders from using this area.

If Rollins wants to grow in size, it should grow accordingly in all respects. I don't feel that it is fair for Mr. Waidly to ticket me for parking in an illegal area, namely the faculty zones, when the college does not provide enough area for me to park otherwise. I realize, however, that Mr. Waidly is only doing his job, so let the administration building and the students, and last, but not least, the Traffic committee hear this, and let's see this parking mess revamped to fit the needs of everyone.

William Schoener

Guest Editorial

them. John, who happens to have neither fellowship nor assistantship, can just about get by with his wife's help and a loan—if they have no children.

If this country feels that it is the desirable thing to do to drain the taxpayers to support illegitimate children, and then finds that to do so is abetting the situation which it intended to solve, or at least to ease, then it seems to me that we have a problem at the other extreme as well. This is the case where people comparable to the graduate couple are not able to have children who, through the distinct advantages of both probable favorable hereditary characteristics and the type of environment conducive to their fullest expression, have considerable opportunity to develop into the type of people who can contribute importantly to the future well-being of this nation.

No one in his right mind would simply throw innocent children out into the cold just because they had the misfortune to be born out of wedlock. That would be inhuman. These births occur, and they must be taken care of. However, it is not here to be discussed the advantages or disadvantages of distributing welfare funds for their support, but to point out that while these children actually do receive such support, a worthy segment of the population goes virtually without aid of any kind when they wish to have children.

According to W. F. Pauli, whose work was edited by Bentley Glass of Johns Hopkins University, a real danger for us exists in this direction. Taking the estimate of Cyril Burt, Pauli points out that between the years 1950 and 2000, our population in the I. Q. range 100 plus will shrink by about 10.5% our population in the 85 minus range, on the other hand, will increase during that same time period by 7.9%. Either the more intelligent portion of our population has decreased the number of children in its families, or the less intelligent ones have increased the number of children in theirs, or a combination of both has occurred.

Really, it's rather a shame that only fifty years should suffice to accomplish such a drastic change. It's a pity that somehow, though not necessarily through the government, some cases such as that of John and Mary can't be helped in their wish to have a family—helped in the interests of general welfare.

MY FIRST OPINION OF ROLLINS

My first opinion of Rollins College is that there are a lot of dolls on campus, especially freshmen. Everyone is very friendly but sometimes I think the ones who always say hello to everyone are a bunch of big phonies. As I look around the Center sometimes I can hardly believe what I see.

Oh yes, I think the teachers here are especially nice. I have the best teachers I ever had. They are helpful, friendly, smart, well educated, and the conference system is a good way to get to know them. I think getting to know my professor is a way of learning just everything and to get acquainted with a real great person.

Fraternities and sororities on campus are the bulwark of a great social offense. My advisor told me about the frats on campus; the KA's can't afford socks, the TKE's have to work hard to overcome an academic lag, the X Club is made up of the physically handicapped, the Sigma Nu's are rounders (or rounded, I forget), the Lambda Chi's are nature boys, and his remark about the Delta Chi's I can't recall. The faculty, he said, can beat any one at basketball or baseball. He said also that the sororities are all about the same—with certain notable exceptions.

I think I'll like Rollins. The Center, the teachers, the social organizations. And all them dolls!

Dr. Drinkwater Lectures On UN

Dr. Geneva Drinkwater, Rollins history professor and vice president of the local chapter of American Association of the United Nations, is lecturing on the UN to several organizations in keeping with UN Day, Oct. 24.

Dr. Drinkwater will address the Winter Park Pilot Club and the Winter Park Woman's Club soon. She has also recently spoken to the Sisterhood Ohev Shalom in Orlando, the woman's Fellowship of the Winter Park Congregational Church, and the Newcomers Club.

Listed in Who's Who in American Women, Dr. Drinkwater has been a history instructor on the Rollins faculty for 8 years. Previously she taught at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo.; Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.; Woman's College, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C.; and Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Service Teams Visit

Recruiting teams from the Armed Services began visiting the Rollins campus this week. The teams are situated to talk to any men students in the Union and will be glad about enlistments and careers in the service.

The Naval Recruiting Team arrived yesterday and will be here today also. The Marine Recruiting Team will be visiting Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 25 and 26; and the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit is scheduled to visit Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28.

The boys on campus are supposedly looking forward to tomorrow, the last day of girl's rush, because each is anxious to become once against the most important interest in his girlfriend's life! Not that they have been sitting home alone, and especially not last Sunday afternoon!

The Sigma Nu pledges took on the out-numbered actives at the Sand Pits (the actives LOST) while the Clubbers and KA's celebrated at Green's Groves. All the effort of Sam Seales to prevent the continuation of the Lub-KA party at the beanery Saturday night were in vain!

At the Lambda Chi beer party Sunday afternoon everyone was thrown in the water, except for Bruce Greene. But then, who would tangle with a karotti (can't spell) expert?!

The Phi Mu's have invaded the ART with Penny, Dana, and Sam doing large jobs on Brigadoon.

Pam Moffett seems to be dividing her time between the KA house and the Snake house, but Sue Curtis is still "frogging". Is it true that a couple Delt pledges would like to slap active pins on their freshmen girlfriends?

David Colton is famous for sleeping through soccer games, according to Joe Justice. Just so he doesn't sleep through intramurals!

Have you seen the gold Buddha at the Gamma Phi house? Its as exotic as Chari Probascio's two-foot gold cigarette holder!

Marsha Mead suggests adding Limbo contest to this year's intramural schedule.

About thirty-five freshmen who signed up to go meet Nixon at Tampa were disappointed when the trip was called off. Of course, they were relieved that they didn't have to miss all their classes for the day, but they really had wanted to see Nixon and Kennedy.

The transfers and freshmen living in sorority houses are the girls who deserve our deepest sympathy, and during silence, more than ever.

Hitch-Hiking Council Veep Plans Future With UN World Health Organization

By JODY FRUTCHEY
Sandspur Staff

"I have hitch-hiked through fourteen European and Central American countries, with money I made from side-jobs, and have yet to be mistaken for a tourist, mainly because I hide my camera in a paper bag, keep my mouth shut, and drink large gulps of water after every bite of native food," remarks Senior John Harkness, vice-president of the Student Council.

A pre-Med major, John hopes to win a Fulbright Fellowship to Germany, visit Copenhagen again, then return to the U. S. to obtain a Ph. D. in biophysics and an M. D. in medicine with the eventual intent of working for the World Health Organization of the United Nations.

"I love to travel and almost enjoy studying, so I feel that if I am capable of achieving all I have set out to do in this very necessary part of medicine, I will be cheating a lot of people if I don't achieve this goal," John comments.

While traveling on a ship full of displaced persons from Canada to Europe (it seems displaced persons go both ways), John struck up an acquaintance with an Austrian family.

"I eventually visited their farmhouse in central Austria quite unannounced and was immediately given what seemed to be an unusually nice bed. When I awoke on the last day of my six-day free 'visit,' I found the woman of the house sleeping on the kitchen floor. She had given up her bed so that I might have a place to sleep. Real nice woman."

"However," John adds, "I had been sick from an overdose of apricots for four of those days, so I needed the bed."

"While I was suffering through Central America last Christmas, I lived on bananas and very stale bread; the cheapest food I could get. Naturally I got sick, but I was still fool enough to climb some 11,000 foot volcano."

John, vice-president of TKE, was president of the German Club and is now president of the Rollins Scientific Society and Zeta Alpha Epsilon, the science honorary. He has received the Sigma Xi Award for the highest cumulative average of a junior science major, the Charles Hyde Pratt Award for creative writing, a Reeves Essay Contest award twice, and is a familiar name on the Dean's List.

THE FURIOUS little figure on the poster apparently got her point across, for pre-med major John Harkness, who has hitch-hiked through 14 countries, now occupies the vice-president's chair in the Student Council room.

"I don't think we find our lives," he states simply. "We have to create them. I've been lucky, but I think many sleepless nights of studying have had something to do with luck."

"I like Rollins very much, but not because of this 'conference plan,' whatever that is, and not simply because of the fraternities, sororities and the like; I have a deep respect for educated men because I know what it takes to become a little educated, and to be in an environment where such men are numerous and accessible is a very interesting challenge. I see how really uneducated I am."

Recalling an amusing incident that took place on the displaced persons boat returning from Europe, John explains, "There were a few Americans on the return trip, most displaced, and as students will do, we had a party. But things got out of hand and the next thing

I knew a steward had vanished and in his place lay a man wrapped from head to toe like a mummy in toilet paper."

Active Citizenship Subject Of Book

Dr. Paul Douglass and Miss Alice McMahon, concerned over the lack of interest which citizens have in political affairs, have written a book entitled "How to be an Active Citizen."

The new book compiled from research materials gathered by student teams at Rollins, explores this failure in citizenship which includes 75 per cent of the American people. Not only does the book tell what a citizen should do, but also it tells him how to do it.

Some of the skills presented by Dr. Douglass and Miss McMahon are: discussing public issues, writing and talking to public officers, belonging to organizations that take stands on public issues, contributing to a political party or candidate and voting.

The Rollins writers explain how to evaluate issues and urge self-evaluation by the citizens.

A noted political scientist, Dr. Douglass is the author of several books. He has led a distinguished career as a lawyer, former university president, ordained Methodist minister and journalist. Douglass has served the national government in various capacities and has acted as adviser to the president of the Republic of Korea.

This is the first book for Miss McMahon who has been at Rollins since her graduation from Manhattanville College in 1957. Under her direction, studies, surveys, and projects are carried out at the Center of Practical Politics to promote student and community interest in politics.

The book is being published by the University of Florida Press.

Seven Rollins Women Named To 'Who's Who'

Seven distinguished Rollins women have been included in the First Edition of Who's Who of American Women, a biographical dictionary, Dean Schiller Scroggs revealed today.

The Rollins representatives, included in a list of 13 Winter Park residents, are Catharine Crozier, Geneva Drinkwater, Kathryn A. Hanna, Alice M. Hansen, Constance Ortmayer, Florence Petersen and Ann Ramsey.

Organist and assistant professor of organ at Knowles Memorial Chapel, Catharine Crozier Gleason is the representative from the Conservatory of Music. Declared an organ virtuoso of the first rank, Miss Crozier has received international acclaim for her outstanding work.

Dr. Geneva Drinkwater, professor of history, is also listed. A charter member of the local chapter of the American Association of the United Nations, Dr. Drinkwater is currently serving as its vice president.

Dr. Kathryn A. Hanna, wife of Dr. A. J. Hanna, is a noted Florida historian as well as author and lecturer. Mrs. Hanna is an honor graduate of Northwestern University and is active in many civic, educational, and historical organizations.

Head librarian of Mills Memorial Library, Mrs. Alice M. Hansen is one of the few librarians honored by inclusion in the reference. A graduate of Vassar College, Mrs. Hansen has done graduate work at Columbia, Harvard, and Carnegie Institute of Technology. She has served in her present position at Rollins since 1952.

Miss Constance Ortmayer has been on the faculty as Professor of Sculpture since 1937. After studying art and sculpture at several American colleges and universities, Miss Ortmayer spent five years studying and traveling extensively throughout Europe.

Miss Florence Petersen, who once served as director of the Graduate Department of Social Economy at Bryn Mawr, was a part-time professor in economics at Rollins from 1959. She also has served in the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and is the author of several works.

The seventh Rollins woman recognized in the reference work is Mrs. James (Ann) Ramsey, administrative assistant to Pres. Hugh F. McKean. Mrs. Ramsey was active in the social welfare field in has been with the college in this capacity since 1957. Before coming Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska.

SMU In Search Of Alma Mater

Due to the fact that Southern Methodist University has not been able to acquire the standard of excellence desired, they have announced that the Caruth Competition for the composition of a University alma mater-type song will be extended for one more year. The contest is open to any professional or amateur composer in this country, and to foreign students studying at American colleges.

On the basis of the judging, awards of $1,000 for first prize, $600 for second prize, and $300 for third prize will be made in June of each of the years 1961, 1962, and 1963. Of these nine, the grand prize of $1,500 will be awarded to the best in November, 1963. If SMU should adopt the song as its alma mater, an additional $2,500 will be awarded.

No contestant may enter more than one song in each of the three years of the contest. Entries should be submitted in duplicate, with name and address on one copy and no identification on the other. Further information is available from, and all entries should be sent to: The Caruth Competition, P. O. Box 174, Southern Methodist University, Dallas 5, Texas.

Donnelly Elected German Club Head

The German Club held its first meeting of the 1960-'61 school year Wednesday of last week.

At the afternoon organizational meeting held in the French House, officers were elected and tentative plans for the year's agenda were discussed.

Tom Donnelly is the new "president" of the German Club; and Jim Hamilton and Joan Spaulding were elected respectively as "kassier" and "sekretar" (treasurer and secretary).

Herr Rudolf Fischer, sponsor of the organization, and President Donnelly stressed that membership in the German Club is open to all interested students who have taken German or are taking the language at present.

Meetings will be held twice a month at the French House; the next will be Oct. 19.

Alumni To Answer Queries For SEA

The Student Education Association will hold its first meeting of the 1960-61 school year next Tuesday, October 25, at 7:00 in the Alumni House. All old members and those interested in becoming members are invited to attend.

Mr. Ray Kelly, latest addition to the education department, will be present at this meeting, as will Professor of Education Miss Audrey Packham.

A few 1960 graduates in the field of education will be present for a question and answer session.

"The professional organizations give you that extra spark to continue in the educational field," stated Mr. Kelly in urging education students to attend.

"This meeting should prove interesting for everyone, so y'all come and get professional," adds SEA president Ceci Demetree.

Emory U. President Visits Campus

Dr. Goodrich C. White, president-emeritus of Emory University, visited Rollins last week to consult with college officials on administrative problems.

The educational executive was asked by Pres. Hugh F. McKean to observe administrative operations at Rollins. The Association of American Colleges makes such visits to college campuses possible through its Administrative Consultant Service.

During his visit to Rollins Dr. White conferred with college trustees, officers and faculty committees. He also met with the college's members of Phi Beta Kappa, for which he serves as senator.

Tars Smother Emory In Opener; Meet Fla. Southern Here Today

Rollins successfully opened its soccer season last Saturday with a smashing 7-2 victory over Emory, and the Tars will try for similar results in their bout with Florida Southern here tomorrow at 2:00 p.m.

The Tars could do no wrong as they coasted to an easy win over the much improved Emory University squad. The Tars controlled the ball throughout the game with little exception.

Some of the finest soccer seen anywhere was displayed by the Tars in Atlanta. They used a short game and much teamwork as they rolled up their impressive core.

In this year's game Elias Terzopoulos took high scoring honors with a three point barrage that in itself was enough to break the back of Emory. Right behind Terzopoulos was Chick Guerrero and Demetrios Coutsolioutsos, each with two points.

Emory started the scoring early in the first quarter on a penalty shot granted because one of the Tars blocked the ball with his hand. The ball whistled past three Tar defenders and into the net for the tally. Two minutes later, however, Guerrero broke away from the Emory defenders and quickly evened the score by himself.

Rollins next score came when Coutsolioutsos booted a free kick from the edge of the field into the net for the point, a distance of about thirty yards.

Not to be denied, Terzopoulos booted a shot into the net from an fired the ball between the goal almost impossible side angle and post and the goalie like a rifle shot.

Rollins fourth consecutive point came late in the first quarter when Guerrero passed through the Emory defense to fast-breaking Coutsolioutsos, who then outran his pursuers and blasted the ball past the dumbfounded goalie.

Late in the second quarter Emory came to life and took control of the ball temporarily to score their second and final tally of the day.

In the second half, the Tars dominated the play equally as well as they had in the first half. Terzopoulos started the action, with a bang by scoring his second goal of the day by deftly booting a pass from Coutsolioutsos right by the goalie for the fifth Rollins score.

Although the two Greeks and Guerrero controlled the scoring column, the rest of the team played an exceptional game. They exhibited great skill, teamwork and practical know how in controlling the ball, keeping it on the ground and in short passing; thus keeping possession of the ball the majority of the afternoon.

The team is full of desire, spirit and drive; and, if the Tars' good fortune continues, they may be invited to enter the Eastern National Championships held in Brooklyn, N. Y. this Nov.

This year's team isn't greatly changed from last year's, but there is much more experience and some added new talent. There are changes in strategy, however, in that the team is booting more than ever before and hitting more while the short-passing game has replaced the wide-open, long-passing game.

Sportin' Life Pittsburg Rejoices At Series End; Support Urged At Soccer Game

By HARDHEAD

Well another series is overteam. What makes the game and many people are happy, even more interesting and but Pittsburgh is delirious, more difficult is the fact that More celebrations there than no play is ever the same. This tons of steel after the Buc's presents a wonderful challenge to the teammates to overcome in achieving their purpose—points.

As gay as it was in Pittsburg, it was just the opposite in New York. Stocks took a dip, salaries took a dip, and the Yanks felt like dipo.

Dick Stuart will probably order another car load of crewing gum. Mazerowski will undoubtedly have carbon copies made of that bat, and Danny Murtaugh will most likely wear his uniform all winter long. Regardless of who won or lost, however, it was a good series wasn't it?

The football games are going to be amazing this fall. With the pledge race over and all the totals in, it looks like everyone did well. The added strength of the freshmen and transfers has already been felt in some of the practice games this week, and they will certainly be one of the deciding factors in the other intramural sports this year.

The event that I would push into the foreground right now is the soccer game this Saturday with Florida Southern. Probably one of the most exciting and interesting sports a person can watch is soccer. There is no one leader like the quarterback in football, and there is no one job esportshari cmfwy shrdl utao that requires specialized skills. In soccer, each man is a quarterback, and each man must know all the skills in the game. Even though he players are their own bosses, they must work in terms of how to score, and to score it takes the joint effort of all the Soccer is the national sport of more countries in the world than any other sport. This would prove that there must be something thrilling and exciting about this game to gain so many millions of avid fans all over the world. It's a beautiful sight to see an otherwise unrelated group forget their prejudices and discrimination, and to watch them to overcome the clumsiness of their most awkward appendages, their legs and head, to become skilled with them, and to use them to achieve a common goal.

Temper do flair, we'll admit, but it is interesting to note that 90 percent of the time the men are concentrating so hard on their desired goal that they don't have time to get mad. Getting infuriated over small grievances becomes insignificant when purposes of real value are instilled in men's minds. World, note of this game, why don't you?

The soccer game starts at 2:00 p.m. this Saturday. We have a great team that deserves 100 percent support, don't anyone let down.

The food is pretty good at the Beanery this year, but the basketball team is getting back so late from practice that it is not getting the full benefit of the evening meal. Now, if these boys are to play good ball, then something had to give,—coaches or time tables.

Flag Football To Open Monday

Next Monday, Rollins College will be host once again to the best loved of all fall sports, football. For the first time since 1958, flag football will again dominate the intramural scene. All the fraternities have been waiting anxiously for the opener which will pit the Delts against the Independent men.

In the past two weeks, heated practices have been held by the various teams, practicing their skills of passing and running, and also learning the pattern of play according to the Intramural Flag Football Rules.

For the benefit of those who have not seen flag football, the teams are composed of seven men, three of which must play on the line. Out of the remaining four, three are eligible pass receivers.

All-State Soccer Player Recalls Sport's 'Tennis Shoes, Mud Puddles'

"It all started with tennis shoes, sweatshirts, mud puddles, and snow," reminisces Bill Tone, All-State center half-back for the Rollins Tars soccer team.

Bill hails from Buffalo, New York, originally, and now lives in Clearwater, Florida. Third grade at Ridley College in St. Catherine, Ontario, Canada, marked the beginning of Bill's soccer career.

His love for the game also began in the third grade, and has grown steadily through Prep school and college. On the soccer field, Bill is singled out by his reddish-brown crop of hair and his tremendous drive and enthusiasm to win.

This drive and enthusiasm extends into his personal life too. He works hard when it's time to work, and he plays hard when it's time to play.

Bill went to the Hill School in Pottstown, Pa. for his secondary schooling, and lettered two years on the varsity soccer team and three years on the varsity hockey team. For his excellent play last year, Bill won All State Soccer Team honors along with Chick Guerrero, Mike Watson, and Cope Garrett.

On the academic side of his life, he is a pre-law major and maintains a B- to B average and does B plus to A- work in his major field. He has worked backstage on many Rollins theatre productions and has been head of make-up on many shows including this year's musical, Brigadoon. Bill is also the K A's Student Council representative.

Things that irritate Bill the

most are people who gripe about the beanery's food, and laws that bar shorts from the library after 7:00 p.m.

Bill plays center half back, and will be playing this Saturday against Florida Southern. If you haven't seen him play, upon doing so this Saturday you will have to agree that William Riddle Tone sure deserves those All State honors he received.

Phys. Ed. Crew Starts This Term

This past Wednesday, Phys. Ed crew started on Lake Maitland. Physical Education credits are gained in this program just as in tennis or golf. Coach Bradley is hopeful that this will prove to be a testing ground for the men who aspire to row in the spring.

Since crew doesn't start until spring term, the men will be separated from the boys very definitely by that time, and "Brad" will be able to select more easily the men that will be candidates for the JV and Varsity crews.

The Rollins crew teams will race once more against Tampa, Florida Southern, Jacksonville, Lassel, Amhurst, Purdue, AIC, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, and Marietta. After the regular season, of course, will come the State Championship race, and then the Dad Vail held in Philadelphia, which is the small college national championship.
