Fourteen Rollins Seniors Selected For Who's Who In American Universities

Fourteen Rollins seniors are among those listed in the 1961-62 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Among the fourteen named this year is Linda Qualls who last year was the first junior at Rollins ever to be given this honor. The other thirteen students, six women and seven men, are Kristen Bracewell, Ted Bradley, Matthew Carr, Whit Chase, Jean Dickson, Mort Dunning, Mary Gadway, Susan Hazard, John F. Hughes, James Swan, Nini Thompson, Bill Tone, and Ruth Lynn Whittaker.

All students who have completed two years of college and are rated as juniors or seniors are eligible for this honor. A quota based on percentages is assigned the school each year.

Those who will be listed are chosen by those who were honored the previous year. The persons who the previous Who's Whoers choose must then be approved by a faculty committee appointed by President Hugh McKean.

Selection is based on character, leadership, scholarship, and potentialities. Character is a prerequisite. The students' record before entering college and while in college must be considered. The general reputation he enjoys among the students and faculty is also important.

Leadership qualifications are based on the students' extracurricular activities.

No certain grade average is required, but it is necessary that the candidate should be an outstanding student.

The student must also have potentialities of future usefulness to business and society.

President of Alpha Phi sorority, Miss Bracewell is also editor of the Flamingo and co-editor of the Tomokan. She is a term honor list student and the recipient of an Academy of American Poets award. An English major, she is a past member of the Chapel Choir and the Future Teacher's Club. She has also been a candidate for Miss Tomokan and Miss Rollins.

A biology major, Bradley has been president of Tau Kappa Epsilon for two years. An honor list student, he is president of the Rollins Scientific Society, a member of the Indoor Recreation Committee, and of the German Club. He has participated in intramural tennis and basketball.

Theme For 1962 Fiesta Is 'South Of The Border'

The biggest parade ever, an Ivy League singing group, and a regal banquet are some of the new features that will mark this year's "Fiesta Grande."

Jaye Tourgee and Barbara Batman, Fiesta co-chairmen, have announced that the theme of the 1961 Fiesta will be "South of the Border."

The first event of Rollins' spring extravaganza, which will coincide with baseball week, will be the crowning of a king and queen. They will have been elected before Fiesta, instead of receiving their titles on the last night, and will lead the parade on Thursday. At the suggestion of President McKean, the Fiesta committee has decided to invite all the school bands in Orange County to march in the parade, which will also feature antique autos and horses this year. After the parade, the president has offered to give a party for all the participants in the downtown show.

The committee also hopes to have a collegiate singing group as part of the entertainment this year, such as the Yale choristers who performed at Fiesta two years ago.

The following committee heads have been named to head the '61 Fiesta plans:

Third Foreign Film Of Year, 'Captain From Koepenick' To Be Shown Wed.

The third presentation of the Famous Film Series will be shown Wed., Dec. 13, in the Annie Russell Theater at 7:00 p.m. A German film complete with English subtitles, "The Captain from Koepenick" stars Heinz Rühmann.

One of the most delightful hoaxes in history has been turned into a classic film comedy by award-winning director Carl Zuckmayer. This is the true story of poor cobbler Wilhelm Voigt who, desperate to obtain a passport denied to him, donned a second-hand captain's uniform in a railroad station washroom. He then commandeered a squad of soldiers of the Kaiser's Imperial Army, and ordered them to arrest the Mayor of Koepenick and take him to Berlin. Having proved to an amused Germany that the authority of a uniform counted for more than a man, Voigt voluntarily surrendered and was granted his passport by the Kaiser.

Critics have said of the film that "Everything is done impeccably—acting, direction, dialogue, photography—everything is just right, including the reconstruction of pre-World War I Berlin, and for aficionados of the music of language, the low Berliner patois is delightful." The awards of best feature film, best actor, best director, and best screenplay for 1957 have been awarded "the Captain from Koepenick."

Men's Honorary, ODK, Honors Five At Tapping

Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary fraternity, honored five outstanding juniors and seniors and one faculty member at a surprise tapping in the Union Wednesday morning.

Tapped at that time were three seniors, Matt Carr, John F. Hughes, and Elias Terzopoulos; two juniors, Don Brown and Leon Hollon; and one faculty member, Dr. Paul Vestal.

The usual Wednesday morning conversation in the Union was interrupted by Mort Dunning, president of the local ODK circle, who announced that the organization which was established at Rollins in 1931 and is now the largest men's leadership honorary in the nation, would recognize its newly elected members at that time.

Membership in ODK is conferred on junior and senior men who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, athletics, student government, social and religious affairs, publications work, and in the arts.

Carr is a member of the Key Society and Phi Society. Student Council representative for the Independent Men, he is a member of the Investigation Committee. Carr was the recipient of an Oslo Summer Scholarship last year. A psy-

'Censorship In Communication' Is Topic Of First Forum Of Academic Year

By LINDA BERNSTEIN
Sandspur Staff

"This subject has almost as many facets as a gem-cut diamond," said Mr. Marc Frutchey of "Censorship in Communication" in Tuesday night's Pi Gamma Mu Forum and his comment described what followed. The program sponsored by the social science honorary consisted of brief talks by Frutchey, director of the Rollins Radio Station, WPRK; Mr. Frederic Babcock, editor of the Winter Park Sun Herald; Mr. William Felton, Professor of Sociology; and Dr. Bruce Wavell, Professor of Philosophy, followed by a question and answer period.

Mr. Frutchey went on to describe several kinds of censorship concerned with the communication media of radio and television. In the conventional censorship during a war, information is distributed to the news media by the government. "We are at war now," he added, "but in this war, the news media must exercise their own controls so as to avoid giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

Self-imposed censorship on the basis of taste, ethics and morals could be effective—"if upheld, no other censorship is necessary. However, we are slipping," warned Frutchey. "Less and less rigidity, and lower standards are pointing the way to an end in externally imposed censorship, odious because of an agency set up as a 'demigod' ruling all news presentation."

To counteract this trend, the Central Broadcasting System has a non-compulsory code that stations subscribe to which sets standards of good taste. In summing up, Frutchey said that the commercial media of the air "reflect a culture which is actually built by education, the churches, and home."

Mr. Babcock, as former book editor of the Chicago Tribune, illustrated his main point with the example of a book reviewed in The New York Times which extolled Castro as "a great statesman . . . the savior of his people." "In light of Castro's confession speech, where does this put the New York Times now?" he questioned. "Would the paper have been justified in censoring the review?"

He answered these rhetorical questions by relating the Chicago Tribune's policy of "killing morally objectionable books by ignoring or ridiculing them." He said that the American Book Publishers "invites outside censorship by refusing to set up standards for self-censorship." Equation was made between "the author's right to choose his subject and the newspaper's right to by-pass junk and review worthwhile literature."

Felton considered censorship as a method of social control. The character of social control is that of "rules of the game with censorship of deviation so that people can live together." An attitude toward mass communication which has been taken is that "what people don't know can neither help them nor hurt them." It can't hurt them in the sense that conflict in beliefs confuses people, and by presenting only one simple viewpoint, people can be kept "happy though harnessed."

This results in "the exploitation of the masses by the privileged few who have the power to withhold education." This viewpoint is reflected in today's mass media which often concentrates on "trivia and news which is slanted, misrepresented, or soft-pedaled."

Felton said from his point of view, he "objects to all censorship, except that exercised to prevent hurt." He feels that the mass media of communication could be used for "education of the people for democracy."

Wavell gave the philosophical issues connected with censorship. One of two points of view is the "authoritarian" which is held by people who think that they have found the truth and advocate the maximum of censorship to impose their truth upon others. The other is the "libertarian" which considers truth difficult to find and would remove the barrier of censorship as much as possible so that as many as possible could aid in the quest. Wavell favors the "libertarian" point of view, but points out that practically it must be tempered with judgement so that other principles would not be infringed upon.

Miller Announces Cast For 'Look Homeward Angel'; Newman, Ivey, Kellogg In Leads

By DANA IVEY
Sandspur Staff

Casting results for the second Rollins Players presentation of the Annie Russell season were announced last week by director Eugene Miller. The play, Look Homeward Angel, is an adaptation by Ketti Frings of Thomas Wolfe's novel. Miss Frings' comedy-drama won the Pulitzer Prize in 1958 and the New York Critics Award the same year. Former Rollins student Tony Perkins played the role of Eugene Gant on Broadway.

In the ART production, Eugene Gant will be played by Hal Newman, a non-matriculating student at Rollins. He attended NYU for a year and a half, where he appeared in The Rivals, The Man Who Came to Dinner, Waiting for Lefty, and Stalag 17.

Eugene's mother, Eliza Gant, will be played by junior Dana Ivey, who was seen as Lady Hurf in Thieves' Carnival.

W. O. Gant, Eugene's father, will be performed by Peter Kellogg, also a junior. Kellogg appeared last year in Brigadoon, and Tiger at the Gates and had the lead in Playboy of the Western World. He has also appeared in Guys and Dolls, Romanoff and Juliet, and Macbeth.

German Club Has Christmas Party

The German Club, Der Deutsche Verein, held its traditional Christmas party last night in the French House. Guests included German people living in the community, German students from Boone and Edgewater High Schools, and the German students living and studying at Rollins this year.

Sigrid Pfisterer, German exchange student, told the group about the celebration of Christmas in her native land. She and other German students sang some of the less familiar German Christmas songs, and the whole group sang other carols.

Other various musical selections were presented, including the playing of several pieces on the accordion by Bill Chapman. Several readings in German were given, including a modern German Christmas story. Then Saint Nicholas made his annual visit and distributed gifts, not uttering a word of English.

Rick Halsell, a senior, will portray Ben Gant, Eugene's brother. Halsell played in Blithe Spirit and Tiger at the Gates last year, and in previous years he has appeared in Macbeth, Arms and the Man, The Chalk Garden, and Tea-house of the August Moon.

Luke Gant, the sailor-come-home brother, will be played by Butch Gibbs, who had several roles in last year's productions and will be returning to Rollins next term.

Helen Gant Barton, Eugene's sister, has been cast with freshman Jean Christy. Jean has done extensive work with the junior theatre of Fort Lauderdale.

Eugene falls in love with Laura James, a character who will be portrayed by Anne Lynn Kettles. Miss Kettles, a senior, appeared last year in Blithe Spirit, Tiger at the Gates, and Macbeth the year before.

Sallie Off has been cast in the role of Mrs. Pete (Fatty). Miss Off is a sophomore and was last seen in Thieves' Carnival as Eva.

Senior Gary Brouhard will play the role of Dr. Maguire. Brouhard had the lead in Tiger at the Gates last year and was also seen in Playboy of the Western World.

Will Pentland (Eliza's brother) will be played by sophomore Fred Chappell, who made his debut on the ART stage as Lord Edgard in Thieves' Carnival.

Madame Elizabeth, a well-known figure of the town, has been cast with senior Marion Love. Hugh Barton will be played by Dave Ranier and Tarkinton by John McMahan.

The boarders of the Dixieland Boarding House, where the action takes place, are as follows: Mrs. Snowden, Mary O'Brien; Mr. Farrell, Peter Jan de Voogd; Miss Brown, Candy Diener; Jake Clatt, Rusty Friedman; Mrs. Clatt, Margie Stevens; and Florry Mangle, Gail Lungershausen.

Director Miller is very enthusiastic about the production of this play. Commenting on the casting, he said, "I feel this is the strongest possible cast. I haven't had to compromise a role in a single case." Mr. Miller elaborated by saying, "I sincerely feel that this production will measure up to almost any professional production that this play has had. The play itself is a moving and beautiful theatrical work, and with the cast I have, I am confident that no nuance of the author will be overlooked."

Ann Baker Reviews Book On Mexico In Baroque Period At Cafezinho

"Baroque Times in Old Mexico," a book about 17th century persons, places, and practices, will be reviewed at the Cafezinho at 10 a.m. Saturday (Dec. 9) in the Rollins Casa Iberia.

Ann Ragsdale Baker, 1961 Rollins graduate and Spanish teacher at Edgewater High School, will speak on the interpretation of Mexico by Dr. Irving A. Leonard.

Music Guild Holds Recital, Picnic Fri.

HONORARIES DESERVE RECOGNITION

As shown by several stories throughout this issue, this seems to have been the week for honoraries to tap. Last Wednesday morning in the Union, ODK, the men's leadership honorary, welcomed 6 new members into its ranks. Over the weekend, Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary, tapped, and the fourteen new members of Who's Who were announced this week.

Rollins has even more honorary organizations than this. The two scholarship honor societies, Key Society and Phi Society, recognize those students outstanding in scholarship. The local Order of Libra recognizes women for outstanding achievements in the fields of leadership and scholarship.

There are also a number of honoraries in specialized interest fields. Theta Alpha Phi and Rollins Players recognize outstanding theatre students. Pi Kappa Lambda honors music students who excel in their fields. Zeta Alpha Epsilon is an honorary scientific fraternity designed to recognize outstanding students in this field and to promote a broadened interest in science.

Phi Sigma Iota, established last year on this campus, gives recognition to deserving language students. And finally, the men's and women's R Clubs recognize the outstanding athletes on this campus.

These honorary organizations serve a useful and necessary function on this campus but many students do not even know of the existence of some of the various societies.

These honoraries not only give recognition to students but deserve to receive recognition from the other students on this campus.

Scholarship is the fundamental purpose of this and all colleges. These organizations represent achievement in this field. We hope that all the students at Rollins will become aware of the honoraries on this campus and recognize the purpose to which they are dedicated.

Community Service Aids Youngsters

By PAT TEAGUE

Children from the Orange County Parental Home will have a merrier Christmas this year than they might have had, thanks to Rollins Community Service Club.

The party for the youngsters, many from broken homes and with serious personal and family problems, will be given for them Sunday in the Rollins Union—complete with Christmas carols, hot chocolate and gifts distributed by a well-stuffed Santa Claus.

But this party, the club's second annual one for the children, is just one of the projects of the Rollins group whose purpose is explained by its name.

Paula Horowitz, president, recalls last year's party, "It was a tremendous success. The children had a lot of fun but I think we had the most fun. It was wonderful to see those children having such a good time."

Volunteer service at a Winter Park day nursery is another club project. Coeds spend weekday afternoons playing with the children, reading stories to them, and supervising other activities until the parents arrive at 5 p.m.

Besides helping in various ways at Winter Park Hospital, the members are now looking into the Orange County Department of Public Welfare. The director of this department will speak at the club's next meeting to outline ways that the Rollins students can be of service.

Service on a national and international level is seen in the UNICEF Christmas card project. Members are selling cards which say "Season's Greetings" in several languages, and proceeds will go to UNICEF.

Yet not only does the club take projects for groups, but also for individuals. For example, five members are planning to help an invalid nine-year-old boy with his school work. The boy, injured in a serious accident, has been confined to his bed for several months.

Another example of service to individuals is a Negro boy who will receive help for his college expenses from the Community Service Club funds.

Miss Horowitz seems to sum up the general attitude of the club when she says, "We're always on the lookout for people who need our help."

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. DARRAH

The Christmas season is a time for thoughtfulness, friendship, carols, presents, dreams and secrets. We can't escape being touched by the spirit of this season of the year, and we don't object. In our heart of hearts we know that we ought to feel and carry on in the Yuletide way all through the year.

The fact that Christmas comes each year with its ever fresh appeal makes us wonder if somehow or other we don't lose the spirit of this precious season in the humdrum traffic of the year. And, as we say, we should live every day as Sunday, so, we might add, every season should be Christmas with its gay and thoughtful mood and extra gift of kindness and good cheer.

Columbia Newspaper Becomes Independent; Students Protest Tests

(UPS)—The Columbia University student newspaper, The Daily Spectator, will become an independent membership corporation in 1962, the editors have announced. This is supposed to free the newspaper from financial dependence on the university.

Founded in 1877, The Spectator, has received an annual subsidy of $14,000 from the university. Advertising revenue has accounted for the rest of the budget of about $33,000.

The subsidy has already been withdrawn by the university, but it has agreed to buy space temporarily for a daily notice column. In addition, the administration will purchase subscriptions for the faculty.

The paper, now distributed free, will be sold next year at $5 a subscription for campus residents. Copies will also be sold for 5 cents each at vending stands on and near the campus.

Total financial independence will not be achieved for several years, according to the editor-in-chief. "As more students purchase the paper," he said, "the university will gradually withdraw its subscriptions. But we can't expect all readers who have been receiving Spectator free to suddenly buy a $5 subscription. It will take time."

(UPS) — While most of the rest of the country spent Thanksgiving Day enjoying the traditional turkey feast and the company of friends and relatives, 13 Grinnell College, Iowa, students spent the day fasting and picketing before the White House.

They had traveled half-way cross country to spend three days fasting and demonstrating to "go on record" opposing the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere and desiring constructive steps toward lasting peace.

They pooled their resources to buy two old cars, and were lent a third, and newer, car by a local insurance broker. And they carried with them money raised at a rally at the college, and a resolution passed by the Student Senate condemning nuclear tests and opposing U. S. resumption of atmospheric tests.

During their three-day stay in Washington, they were joined at times by students from several other colleges. Students came from Bluffton, Ohio; Cornell, N. Y.; Syracuse N. Y.; Amherst, Mass.; Carleton, Minn.; Smith and Mt. Holyoke, Mass.; University of Pennsylvania; University of Massachusetts; Columbia, N. Y.; and George Washington, Washington, D. C.

Perhaps the best way to understand the hopes and fears, and the goals of the students is to read the statement of purpose distributed by the Grinnell students. It reads in part:

"We are a group of individual Grinnell College students convinced of the danger of the nuclear arms race. The imminence of this danger has been reflected very graphically in the number of bomb shelters which have been constructed recently throughout the United States.

"We oppose atmospheric nuclear testing because of the dangers of radioactive fallout and because it accelerates the arms race. We condemn the Soviet Union for its test series, and we support the President's reluctance to resume testing.

"If our demonstration makes others give more thought to the problem, if they are moved by what we have done, if they decide to make a commitment to work for peace, then we will feel that our efforts have been worthwhile."

It seems as though almost everybody who possibly could do so turned out to support the Tars in their second (and more glamorous) home basketball game the other night. This was evident in spite of the fact that the game was played on a Monday night, which is generally a bad night for anyone to plan to do anything.

But now we're all sitting around and waiting to see what the story will be during the next few games, because they will show us what to expect for the duration of the season. In the past, spirit seems to have died out as the season grows older. Anybody can make a good start, but it takes a lot more to keep it up. There's no reason for us not to keep it up, because win or lose, the Tars always put on a good show, as was certainly evidenced by their efforts against old rival Stetson Monday night.

Coach Nymicz is optimistic about this year's team. He says that he has the material to mold a good ball club by the time the season has progressed a little. But a team is dependent on the support it gets also, and many good ball clubs have been beaten by their support, or the lack of it, just as surely as they have been beaten by their opponents.

Dan also says that he is disappointed when he sees a full gym down at Winter Park High School for an intramural play-off or all-star game, and then sees no interest at all when the varsity plays in the same gym on another night. Let's not let fraternity or sorority spirit and enthusiasm nose out school spirit. We're still part of Rollins College whether we wear triangles, crosses, keys or horseshoes on our chests. You have room for both kinds of spirit, so let's start showing some of it. Stetson showed up down here with a band the other night. We have the material for one right here, but the people who could make it a success seem to be unable to even get out for a home game a few blocks from their houses.

Our need for a field house at Rollins would certainly be emphasized if we could fill the WPHS gym to overflowing every game night. We all know we could do it easily. Let's show ourselves, the community, and the administration that we can. Show up in high spirits for our next game.

Senior Jack Sutliff Believes In Many Campus Activities; Thinks Union Success

By ANN PUDDINGTON
Sandspur Staff

"I am definitely opposed to getting into one rut," said senior Jack Sutliff. Jack believes in having a conglomeration of activities and interests on campus, and because of these, he will be sorry to leave Rollins.

Besides being president of his class for three consecutive years, his interests range from managing the crew team to "dabbling in the Union." Jack's major, human relations, is also a means of getting "a broad knowledge of several fields rather than pursuing one particular subject."

Jack's opinions of Rollins include both definite praise and criticism. For example, he feels that the new student government is a good idea as an executive body but leaves much to be desired as a judicial body.

"The lower court should have to do just with minor offenses, like parking tickets, but when offenders are brought before the court after having already been tried by local civil courts, this is a case of double jeopardy and miscarriage of justice. But . . . anything within the confines of the campus is within their jurisdiction," he added.

Commenting further on the subject, he said that closed sessions show a lack of democratic principle which is just what the system is based on. However, "the systems trains students to respect the judgments of their contemporaries, even if the behavior of the members of the lower court is questionable."

On the other hand, Jack sees the Union as a successful organization especially since fifty per cent of the student body is connected with it through committees. "This is a larger percentage than in other well-known colleges," a statement which he bases on a meeting of the South Eastern Conference of College Unions held last Spring.

Some other reasons why Jack will be sorry to leave Rollins is because of the size of the student body. "This is especially good for the student-faculty ratio, and in classes, a student can use the Conference Plan to air his own views." A Sigma Nu, Jack likes a social group for the members in it not for the sake of "membership."

SENIOR JACK SUTLIFF assumes a typical pose. Jack was president of his class for three years and last year headed the Rollins Union.

And . . . "Rollins has plenty of functions which are to the advantage of the community and the school," he added, referring specifically to some of the "important guests" we have had here. In other words, "Rollins offers a good deal for everybody who is interested."

Jack's future will probably have something to do with radio, and it will definitely have something to do with service—Naval OCS.

Delts, Gamma Phis, Pi Phis, Thetas Defeat Opponents On WPRK Show

By TOM PARRISH

Have you heard the Rollins Quiz Show over WPRK lately? If you haven't, you have missed some exciting intellectual competition as our fraternities and sororities battle it out in a game of wits.

Last October 17 on Tuesday night at 7:30, Lambda Chi bowed to Delta Chi on a toss-up question giving Delta Chi a score of 40 point and Lambda Chi a score of 35. A week later the Kappas lost to the Gamma Phis. Sigma Nu won their contest because the KA fraternity just couldn't show up. All teams losing by a forfeit are out of the running in this series of quiz shows.

In the first week of November, the Pi Phi's defeated the Independent Women with a record breaking score of 60 to 45. The Independent Men lost by a forfeit to the TKE's but a week later the Thetas edged out the Alpha Phi's in a rousing contest of wit and knowledge.

Listen in on your FM radio to the 91 point 5 spot or listen to the Rollins Quiz at the Union every Tuesday night at 7:30. Support your fraternity or sorority as they compete in the Quiz Show; a contest offering awards of free LP albums at the close of each show and grand prize trophies to the winners of the women's series and the men's series.

Tars Drop Cage Season Opener To Huntington Hawks By Score Of 62-61

Rollins College dropped its 1961-62 basketball season opener Saturday night to the Huntington College Hawks from Montgomery, Alabama, in the last five seconds of the contest, 62-61.

Rollins opened the game by spotting the visitors 10 points in the early minutes. Led by their "Mutt and Jeff" combination Ralph Tanchuk and Mike Bailey, the Tars took command of the tilt with twelve minutes remaining in the first half.

The Tars lead was 26-20 at halftime but they were tied early in the second half 36-36 as both clubs showed offensive power that was lacking in the first half.

The lead changed hands five times in two minutes midway through the period before the Tars burst through for a nine-point lead with five minutes remaining.

Tanchuk was high point man for Rollins with 15, followed by Tom Weber with 11, Butch Hearn with 10, and Bailey with 8.

ROLLINS COLLEGE (61): Heitz 2-2-6; R. Tanchuk 6-3-15; Bailey 3-2-8; Weber 4-3-11; Hurt 2-0-4; Hearn 4-2-10; Casey 2-1-5; Farnworth 1-0-2; Totals: 23-13-61.

Tars End Soccer Season With 3-2 Tally; Miami Tops

By ENRIQUE HUBER
Sandspur Staff

The Rollins Tars finished their season by playing the University of Miami twice. The two games were the hardest and best played in the history of the FIC championship.

The first game, played on the Sandspur Bowl, ended in a 2-0 victory for Miami. This was a classic game remaining scoreless until the last five minutes of the game. Two goals were scored in rapid succession giving Miami the win.

The second game was played at Miami on Thanksgiving Day. The game was drastically marred by the poor and incorrect calls of an inefficient referee. This was another classic game for no scoring was done until late in the third quarter.

Miami made the first goal on a free penalty kick given to them by the referee. Rollins came back for a first tally as Tibor Menyhart scored from a center by Enrique Huber. Rollins goalie, Mike Watson, put on a spectacular show as he kept stopping all the bullet shots fired at him by Miami.

The Rollins fullbacks did a tremendous job, but Miami finally squeezed through for a second goal. Rollins came back shortly, to have Menyhart score on a penalty shot. With only two minutes to go, Miami broke the tie for a 3-2 victory over the Tars.

Over 2000 spectators cheered for two hours in what has been called Florida's best intercollegiate soccer game.

This year the Tars will lose 9 of their varsity players leaving many vacancies for the newcomers to make the Tars FIC champs next year and bring back the trophy that Rollins lost to Miami this year.

Sports Notes

Congratulations Due To Soccer Team; Detling Top Scorer In IM Football

By WAYLON LEE

Sandspur Sports Editor

THE ROLLINS COLLEGE SOCCER TEAM ENDED THE SEASON OVER THE THANKSGIVING HOLIDAYS BY ALMOST BEATING THE CONFERENCE CHAMPION, MIAMI. It is a team judgment among both coaches and players that this game in Miami should have been the play-off game for the championship. However, injuries played a big role in the final record of this years team. I don't think anyone will doubt that Rollins played some tremendous home games, winning three out of four, it's too bad that injuries to key players hurt so badly on the away games. For the "home folks" who saw only the home games, we say, "Congratulations for a fine season."

THE ROLLINS COLLEGE BASKETBALL TEAM HAS PLAYED TWO GAMES THUS FAR AND LADY LUCK HAS PLAYED THE SPOILER. Both games have been lost by a total of eight points. I was certainly hoping that the Tars could pull out the opening victory and get a team momentum going. However, even if they didn't they gave a tremendous display of hustle and teamwork, and the school is proud. The future looks brighter and brighter, and just as soon as a few freshmen get some experience and the veterans become smoother, Rollins basketball team will be tough.

CONGRATULATIONS TO RALPH TANCHUK AND MIKE BAILEY ON BEING SELECTED CO-CAPTAINS OF THE BASKETBALL TEAM. This is real honor and both are deserving.

MGA Exhibits Etchings Of Holland's Golden Age

"The Golden Age in Holland" will be shown in 50 etchings and engravings at the Morse Gallery of Art at Rollins through Dec. 20.

Holland's most famous print-makers are represented in the exhibition, devoted to the unique development of the genre scene.

In the prints the pleasures and surroundings of everyday life are elevated into the realm of art with a directness and attention to detail that has not been surpassed.

The artists include Ferdinand Bol, Rembrandt van Ryn, Jacob va Ruysdael, Jan Both and Cornelis Dusart.

The demand for works of art in 17th century Holland resulted in an enormous increase in the production of prints. The dominant technique was etching which allowed free play of line, more subtle use of light and shade and a softer impression of design.

The exhibition of Dutch genre prints is touring museums and art institutions throughout the county under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

It may be seen daily at the Morse Gallery from 2 to 5 p.m.

Dr. Grover's donations also included a framed facsimile of "The St. Christopher Heiligen," oldest known piece of European printing bearing an indisputed date, and a reprint of the "Diary of the Siege of Derry," 1887.

Local contributors to the library are Dr. Louis Dublin, Mrs. Robert Hufstader, Dr. A. Knapp and Miss Mary L. Knapp, and Dr. A. J. Hanna.

Among their gifts were a German novel, collections of short stories, reference volumes and books on Latin America.

Prof. Alice Hansen, Rollins librarian, said other donors were Dr. Raymond E. Crist of University of Florida, John B. Fisher of Washington, D. C. and Sidney G. Tickton of New York City.

Theta Captures IM Basketball Trophy

By BONNIE STEWART
Sandspur Staff

With an undefeated record, the Kappa Alpha Theta group has once again captured the intramural basketball trophy. Marked by their accuracy and clever ball handling, this fast moving team claimed their final victory with a 59-31 score against the Independents on November 28.

By suffering only one defeat during the IM season, the Kappas clinched the number two spot. During the concluding weeks of competition, this group overtook the Independents, the Pi Mu team, and the Chi Omegas. The respective scores of 44-27, 62-12, and 44-18 are indicative of the strength which earned the Kappa players this runner up position.

Third place is occupied by the Indies with a record of six wins and two defeats. The Chi Omega team moved into fourth place by defeating the Gamma Phis 20-13 on November 14, and their final game of the season was a 35-29 win over the Sandspurs. The Phi Mus are next in line with a split record of 4-4. Their 29-23 victory over the Sandspurs followed by a 38-4 win over the Alpha Phi team on November 27.

Ranking number five are the Gamma Phis who terminated their season with a three point margin over the Pi Phi team in a game which ended 24-21. On November 20 the Sandspurs earned a 22-12 victory over the Pi Phi thus determining the final standings of these two teams. The Alpha Phis occupy eighth place with a record of 0-8.

Tars Lose To Stetson, Hatters By Seven Points

By BOB WOMBLES
Sandspur Staff

The Rollins Tars watched a thrilling second half rally fall short by only 7 points, 83-76, against the Stetson Hatters Monday night at the Winter Park High School gym. The Tars, who were down by 15 points early in the second period, fought to within 4 points with only 3½ minutes showing on the clock.

Rollins jumped off to a quick lead at 4-0 on a field goal and free throw by Tom Weber and another free throw by Ralph Tanchuk. Stetson came to life and the lead changed hands several times in the early minutes of the contest. Stetson went ahead to stay on a free throw, 17-16.

Rollins took the floor for the second half on the short end of a 40-28 score. With the help of Leon Hollon, Ralph Tanchuk, Tom Weber, and the performance of freshman Allen Burriss, the Tars roared back to within 4 points of the Hatters late in the game. Two bad breaks and a technical foul against Rollins left the score 82-72 in favor of the Hatters with only 45 seconds to go.

Senior Ralph Tanchuk was high point man for the Tars with 22. He was followed by Leon Hollon and Tom Weber who poured in 12 each. Next came Dennis Casey and Jeff Heitz with 7 each. Mike Bailey had 4 points. Phil Hurt and Butch Hearn rounded out the scoring with 2 each.

Box Score:

Jeff Heitz	3-1	7
Leon Hollon	4-4	12
Ralph Tanchuk	8-6	22
Mike Bailey	1-2	4
Tom Weber	4-4	12
Dennis Casey	3-1	7

It's All Yours

By JEFF CLARK

The term's just about ending, people are thinking about skiing in that cold, fantastic snow or surfing it off the sunny Florida coast, so let's make this week's column a quicky as one more week flies by toward that blessed Christmas vacation.

Speaking of Christmas, the Special Projects Committee of the Union is producing a student directory for a very reasonable price of thirty cents a copy. It will be sold December 13 thru the 15th in the Beanery and the Union and will contain the names of all students, their dormitories, their classes and their home ad-resses. This item could prove handy for those of you who want to get your Christmas cards out and for those lonely maids who are pining away for their gals and don't know addresses. Get this directory—once you leave in June, you'll find it even more useful!

One more thing—check the Student-faculty art display in the Union and don't forget the Christmas dance. Let's all get there and dance up a storm in celebration of the coming new year!
