Fiesta Committee Gives Report To Student Council

The Fiesta Committee's report of progress to date was given by Co-chairman Barbara Batman at Monday night's meeting of the Rollins Legislature.

The Dance Committee has engaged the Fern Creek Armory and a jazz band for the Friday night dance, and the American Legion Hall in Orlando for the formal dance on Saturday night, with music to be provided by the Meyer Davis Band. The Spanish Hacienda theme for both dances will be carried out with the help of three interior decorators who donated their services.

Floats from all but four Rollins social groups, two bands, an antique car organization, and the Western Florida Saddle Club have so far been scheduled to participate in the parade.

The winner of this year's raffle will have a triple choice among a trip to Nassau, a $100 gift certificate to the Toggery Shop, or the same amount to the Music Box.

In the financial department, no money has been spent yet. The entire budget has been estimated with $1,350.66 allocated by Legislature, and $3,000 to come from tickets at $5.00 per person. This will give about $1,200 profit from tickets alone, plus whatever the raffle, and the midway bring in.

Bill Tone asked, concerning the raised price of tickets, "whether the students realize that they are in effect donating $1,000 to the Fiesta scholarships directly." He added that about that amount is given for that purpose by the Legislature.

Miss Batman replied that "the purpose of Fiesta, above and beyond three days of fun, is to provide money for scholarships."

Frank Dunnill, vice president of Legislature and liaison to the Union Board of Managers reported on a joint meeting of Union committees for evaluation. Don Nesbitt again brought up the problem of lack of communication among students, the Union, and the Legislature "in connection with allocations to Union projects to which a disproportionate number of students go as compared with the amount of money used."

Dean Dyckman Vermilya said that "the success of an event cannot always be estimated by the number of students present, since interests vary so widely, and as many people as possible should be allowed to follow their recreational interests." He added that "the Union in its present embryonic state certainly hasn't failed, but more work in other directions as indicated by surveys will be necessary."

Ken Graff, president of the Rollins College Amateur Radio Association, reported that the station will start transmitting messages home for students as soon as they can get their main antenna and tower delivered and set up. The equipment is set up in the Barz

Rollins May Host New Grad Branch Of Univ. Of Florida Engineering School

Rollins may host a new graduate branch of the University of Florida's School of Engineering next September.

The announcement was made earlier this month to the Central Florida Development Committee by Dr. Myron R. Blee, director of the Florida Institute for Continuing University Study, and Dean Joseph Weil of the college of engineering of the University of Florida.

President Hugh F. McKean has offered sections of the Park Avenue Elementary School, recently purchased by the college, to the Institute for occupancy by the engineering school.

Administrative help and registration aid were also offered by McKean. Control of the graduate school and curriculum will remain with the University of Florida.

The proposed engineering school is part of the master of engineering program made possible by a $25 million bond issue to finance university construction approved

Asakai To Present Convocation Address

Ambassador Koichiro Asakai, the Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of Japan, will be the featured speaker at the 76th annual Founder's Day Convocation, Mon., Feb. 26.

Ambassador Asakai is regarded as the foremost expert on economic affairs in Japan's ministry of Foreign Affairs. Having served in his present position since April of 1957, he is one of the youngest men in Japanese diplomatic history to hold a major ambassadorship.

Before taking up his duties in Washington, D. C., he served as Japan's ambassador to the Philippine Islands. Prior to this appointment, he was the Japanese post-war Envoy Extraordinary and minister Plenipotentiary in London.

The Japanese ambassador is the second official representative of his country to visit Rollins College. In 1954, Ambassador Renzo Swada visited the campus as an Animated Magazine speaker and was awarded the Doctor of Laws degree.

The Convocation will include the conferring of several special awards by President McKean, Dean Theodore Darrah, and members of the Board of Trustees. Among the honors to be given are the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion and certificates for members of the student honor groups, including the Rollins Scholars, the President's List, and the Term Honor List for fall term.

Members of the academic honoraries will also be introduced. These organizations are Key Society, Rollins highest academic honorary; and Phi Society, freshman scholarship honorary.

The 60-voice Rollins Chapel Choir is included on the Convocation program and will be accompanied by Catherine Crozier, organist. The choir, directed by Robert Hufstader, will sing "Greater Love Hath No Man" by John Ireland. The soloist will be Barbara Behm. The second selection will be a Southern folk song, "His Voice As the Sound of a Dulcimer Sweet," featuring Elvin Johns, guitarist.

Classes are to be dismissed for Convocation from 9:30 a.m. until 1:45 p.m., comprising B, C, D1, and D2 periods. The Dean's office has requested that Chapel Ushers and Choir members be excused from classes at 9:10 a.m. and that all college personnel participate in the Convocation.

The academic procession for Convocation will comprise the faculty, seniors, Rollins Scholars, Term Honor List and President's List students, and special guests. The procession is to form at 9:40 in front of Carnegie Hall. Faculty members and seniors are asked to wear caps and gowns, available today in the basement of the Ad Building; others are to wear white dresses and dark suits.

Publications Posts Open; Application Deadline Feb. 28

Publications Union Chairman, Kristen Bracewell, has announced that the Publications Union is now taking applications for positions in the publications: Tomokan, Sandspur, R-Book, and Flamingo. Applications must be made in the form of a letter stating qualifications and/or desire to fill the position. The deadline is Wed., Feb. 28! Letters should be sent to Kristen Bracewell, Box 108, Campus Mail.

The following positions are open: Tomokan: editor, business manager, copy editor, layout editor, office manager, sports editor, Greek editor, and class section editor.

Flamingo: editor and business manager. The art editor and editorial board positions are to be chosen in the Fall by the editor through letters of application. R-Book: editor. Sandspur: editor, business manager, and advertising commissioner. The other positions will be appointed by the new editor.

MBA Program Adds Course In Wages, Salaries

A graduate course in wage and salary administration has been added to the curriculum of the upcoming spring semester of the Master in Business Administration Program at Rollins.

Other courses for the Feb. 12-May 31 term are business law, investments, managerial accounting, public finance and business communications. Research projects and thesis may also be taken by arrangement.

Dr. Charles Welsh, program director, reminded students who registered for thesis last fall that they should re-register in order to receive degrees in June. Degree candidates must also file their Master's theses by May 15.

Students who plan to receive degrees later than June may register for the first semester of thesis, provided prior permission is obtained from Dr. Welsh.

Each candidate for the MBA sets up an individual study program in accordance with the course he has completed for his Bachelor's degree and his preference for specialization.

Additional specialized courses are being added to the program as it develops. MBA classes meet at night in the Park Avenue School.

ON DISPLAY IN THE BOOKSTORE at the present time are a number of books on the subject of "Know Your Enemy" and "Know Your Government."

Bookstore Display Features 'Know Government, Enemy'

It is important to know your enemy, but it is even more important to know your own government, according to Clarice Yarborough, of the Rollins College Bookstore who has prepared an exhibit of recommended books so citizens can know both.

Mrs. Yarborough has been manager of the bookstore for ten years and has developed the current display into an unusually significant exhibit of paperback books dealing with both the enemy and our own government.

To know your government and your enemy, she recommends: Selections from the Federalist, Hamilton; Common Sense and the Crisis, Paine; The Living Thoughts of Thomas Jefferson, Dewey; The Declaration of Independence, Becker; Constitution of the United States, William R. Barnes; Bill of Rights, Weinberger; How to Be an Active Citizen, Douglass; Goals for Americans, Kennedy; A Pocket History of the United States, Nevins and Commager; and The United Nations and How It Works, Coyle.

Inside the Birch Society, Gene Grove; Marx Against the Peasant, Mitrany; The Kennedy Government, Opatowsky; The Profile of Communism, Dexter; Das Kapital, Marx; Communist Manifesto to Marx; Masters of Deceit, Hoover; The Enemy Within, Kennedy; Khrushchev's Russia, Crankshaw; What We Must Know About Communism, Overstreet; The Day the Communists Took Over America, Moore; Communism, Meyer; and Essential Works of Marxism, Mendall.

Police of Albany, Georgia, will present opinions on the pro side.

"Does America need a conservative government?" will be the subject of discussion for March 14. Kenyon Taylor, President of the Orange County Young Republican Club will take the pro side, and President of the Orange County Young Democrats Club will represent the con side.

Poetry Society Offers Awards

The American College Poetry Society is announcing that its fifth semester anthology of college poetry is now being compiled for publication in May, 1962. This is an opportunity for students to have their works printed. The work must be submitted to Richard A. Briant, American College Poetry Society, Box 24080, Los Angeles 24, California, with the entrant's name, address, and school on each page.

Poems, which may reflect any subject, should not exceed 48 lines, nor may any individual submit more than five poems. Entries that are not accepted for publication will be returned if accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope. The Society, this year, will offer Recognition Awards of $5.00 each, to the five outstanding college poets. The poems cannot be otherwise acknowledged, nor can the Society compensate students for the work that is published.

All entries must be postmarked not later than Thursday, April 12, 1962, to be considered; decisions of the Society judges are, of necessity, final.

Center For Practical Politics Lists 'Pro And Con' Schedule For Term

The Public Information Program of the Center for Practical Politics and WLOP-TV sponsors the program, Pro and Con, every Wednesday from 8:00 to 8:30.

February 28, the subject of discussion will be "Is Kennedy's Medicare proposal best for America?" Representing the pro side will be Nelson Cruikshank, Economist of the AFL-CIO, and representing the con side will be Dr. Jere Annis, M.D., Watson Clinic, Lakeland.

On March 7, Robert W. Saunders, Field Secretary NAACP, will be representing the con side of the subject "Can constitutional rights of citizens be achieved through peaceful means?" The Chief of annex, next to the Fred Stone Theatre, and classes in elementary radio theory and Morse code are being held every Tuesday night at 8:00 for those interested. A request has been sent to the Federal Communications Commission for official listing and call letters. When the tower and antenna are paid for, the club will have spent its entire $500.00 allocation.

Along with two other new clubs the ARA applied for official recognition by the Legislative Body. The Psychology Club and the Amateur Radio Association submitted their constitutions, but the Yacht Club and Sailing Team did not, so the motion for their recognition was tabled until next week.

The R Book was allocated $800. Sally Zuengler, comptroller, gave an approximate report on the financial state of affairs to date. From the $45,500 income at the beginning of the year, there were expenses amounting to $10,000 and allocations of $26,500, leaving $9,000. About $7,500 of this amount is set aside in the bank as an investment fund to draw interest, leaving a working amount of $1,500 for the rest of the year.

A Clearing Committee was appointed which will consist of the Executive Committee and Tom Dolittle and Lauren Kiefer. This committee will attempt to solve the problem of lack of communication between students and the government.

Dr. Kathryn Hanna To Review Rojas' 'San Martin' At Cafezinho

Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna will review Ricardo Rojas' San Martin, Knight of the Andes at the Cafezinho presented by the Inter-American Center of Rollins College at the Casa Iberia, Saturday, February 24, 1962, at 10:00 a.m.

Dr. Hanna holds A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. degrees from Northwestern University and L.H.D. from Rollins. She has done research in England, France, and several Latin American countries, and has been decorated by the French government for her research in writing. Dr. Hanna has also served on several State Commissions, dealing with such subjects as history, libraries, education, conservation, and constitutional revision.

Mr. Richard Stockton Conger, of Princeton, New Jersey, will be the chairman for the book review. Subscribers, trustees and other special guests of the college for Founders' Weekend are invited to attend.

UNITED WE STAND

The entire academic world is agog over the success of the Associated Colleges Plan—ACP, for short. I mean, you go to any campus in the country these days and you will see students and faculty dancing on the green, blowing penny whistles, grabbing each other by the elbows and yelling, "About that ACP, Charley—like wool!"

And who can blame them? The ACP is a plan not only simply brilliant, but also brilliantly simple. All it is, is a loose regional federation of small colleges. Let's say, for example, that in a given region we have a pair of small colleges, each with its own academic specialty. Small College No. 1, let's say, has a fine language department; Small College No. 2, let's say, has a fine science department; No. 3 has a fine music department; etc., etc.

Well sir, under the ACP these various colleges federate. A student in any one of the colleges can take courses in the specialty of any of the other colleges and—here's the beauty part!—he will receive credit for the course at his home college. Thus he enjoys all the advantages of a big university without losing the comfy coziness of a small college!

Well sir, you can see what a good idea the ACP is. I respectfully submit, however, that just because a thing is good is no reason not to try to make it better. Like, for instance, Marlboro Cigarettes. Marlboros were good from the very beginning, and people found out quickly and sales zoomed. But did the makers of Marlboro say, "Okay, we've got it made. Let's relax?" Well sir, if that's what you think, you don't know the makers! They did not relax. They took their good Marlboros and kept improving them. They improved the filter, improved the blend, improved the pack. They researched and developed tirelessly, until today Marlboro is just about the most admirable cigarette you can put a match to. There are, in fact, some people who find Marlboros so admirable they can't bear to put a match to them. They just sit with a single Marlboro in hand and admire it for ten, twelve years on end. The makers of Marlboro are of course deeply touched by this—except for E. Rennie Sigafos, the sales manager.

But I digress. The ACP, I say, is good but it can be better. Why should the plan be confined to small colleges? Why should it be confined to a limited region? Why not include all colleges and universities, big and small, wherever they are?

Let's start such a federation. Let's call it the "Bigger Associated Colleges To Encourage Richer Intellectual Activity"—BACTERIA, for short!

What a bright new world BACTERIA opens up. Take, for example, a typical college student—Hunrath Sigafos (son, incidentally, of the Marlboro sales manager). Hunrath, a bright lad, is currently majoring in burley at the University of Kentucky. Under the BACTERIA plan, Hunrath could stay at Kentucky, where he has made many friends, but at the same time broaden his vistas by taking a course in constitutional law at Harvard, a course in physics at Caltech, a course in frostbite at Minnesota and a course in poi at Hawaii!

I admit there are still a few bugs in BACTERIA. How, for instance, could Hunrath attend a 9 o'clock class at Harvard, a 10 o'clock class at Hawaii, an 11 o'clock class at Minnesota, and still keep his lunch date at Kentucky? It would be idle to deny that this is a tricky problem, but I have no doubt American ingenuity will carry the day. Always remember how they laughed at Edison and Fulton—and particularly how they laughed at Clavicle who invented the collarbone.

Three cheers for American ingenuity, which gave us the ACP, the collarbone and MGM... that's the Mighty Good Makin's you get in Marlboro, the filter cigarette with the un-filtered taste. Settle back and enjoy one. You get a lot to like.

Musical Page To Be Featured In Animated Mag.

A "musical page" will be an innovation on Rollins' 35-year-old Animated Magazine.

The magazine is scheduled for "publication" Sunday, February 25, at 2:30 p.m. in Knowles Memorial Chapel.

The theme of this current issue of the Animated Magazine is "What Lies Ahead?" Florida's Governor Farris Bryant and Florida's Senator George A. Smathers will appear on the program.

The "musical page" consisting of 18 male voices, is intended both to "add a charming new touch to the Magazine, and to dramatize the arts program of Rollins," according to Hugh F. McKean, President of the College and editor of the Magazine. This choir will be directed by Mary Gadoway, student conductor.

The Animated Magazine is the highlight of Rollins' Founder's Week, during which the College celebrates the anniversary of its founding, 76 years ago.

Seats are held for those holding tickets until 2:20 p.m., after which the Chapel is open to the public.

The overflow crowd will find seats in the Annie Russell Theatre where they can hear the program over a public address system.

Campus Sing Set For May, Groups Participating To Notify By March 2

The biennial Campus Sing sponsored by the Independent Women, will be held on May 6, 1962. It will be held in the Union Patio, or in the Annie Russell Theatre in case of rain. Judges are to be chosen from the Rollins Conservatory and area musicians. A trophy for the winning sorority and fraternity will be presented.

There must be a minimum of

Students To Give Recital Tonight

As a part of the Founder's Week Program, a conservatory student recital has been planned for tonight at 8:30 p.m. The concert will be held in Martin Hall.

The following students will participate: Martha Niepold, Sinfonia No. 7 in E minor by Bach; Ken Strickler, Sinfonia No. 8 in F major by Bach; Joan Norvell, Nocturne in D flat major, Opus 27, by Chopin; Lee Carey, Intermezzo No. 1 in E flat major and No. 2 in B flat minor from Opus 117 by Brahms.

Also appearing on the program will be Sally Schreiber, Nocturne, Opus 37, No. 2 by Chopin; Jeanne Deemer, Ich Liebe Dich by Grieg, and Zueignung by Strauss; Susan Jekel, Fur diesti, o boccer bella, by Lotti and Se tu m'ami, by Att. Pergolesi; Lee Davidson, Virgin, tutoo amor, by Duranti, and Per la gloria, by Bononcini; and David Lindeman, Sea Fever, by Freland, and Blow, Blow by Quilter.

BLIND COMPOSER AND ORGANIST of Paris' Basilica of St. Clotilde, Jean Langlais, will be a special feature of this year's Bach Festival. He will present an organ recital next Friday at 4 p.m.

Pi Gamma Mu To Hold Forum On 'Cleavage In Our Society'

Phi Gamma Mu will hold its Winter term forum Wednesday night, February 28 at 7:30 in Dyer Memorial. The topic will be "Cleavage in our Society." Three faculty members, Dr. Hamilton, Mr. Landsman, and a science professor will each give ten minute talks based on the book Conflicts in Culture by C. P. Snow. The subject will be the conflicts of science and the humanities with an emphasis on the differences of languages.

After the talks, three students will question the professors. They are Matt Carr, Bob White, and Lee Rogers. This will be followed by an open discussion. Nini Thompson, Pi Gamma Mu president, will act as moderator. These forums are held once a term.

Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honorary, requires a B average. Membership is determined by a majority vote of the chapter under the supervision of faculty members. To be eligible, a person must have a minimum of thirty term hours in the four core subjects of history, political science, sociology, and economics. In addition, he must have distinguished himself in the social sciences.

Miss Thompson is a sociology major. A member of Libra and Phi Society, vice-president of the Chapel Staff, a judge on the Lower Court, and secretary of the French club, she resides in the Senior House.

Square Dance, Picnic To Climax Founders Week

At 6:30 p.m. Sunday night, in front of the library, 1,000 people will be served at a picnic to climax Founder's Week. The decorations will be Japanese lanterns put up by the Union Fine Arts Committee.

The menu consists of cold roast beef, ham, turkey, salami, and cheese served with potato salad, pickles, rolls, and ice cream. There will be eight serving lines instead of the usual four at picnics. In case of rain, the food will be served in both the Beanery and the Student Union.

After the picnic, there will be an all-college square dance in the union beginning at 8:30. Many guests and trustees of Rollins will be present.

Bach Fete, Student Program To Be Presented Next Week

A special student performance Saturday, March 3, will climax the 27th annual Bach Festival of Winter Park, to be held March 1 and 2 in Knowles Memorial Chapel.

Featured work of the 1962 Bach Festival will be Beethoven's Mass in C Major, Opus 85, which will be presented Friday night at 8 p.m. and again on the Saturday morning program.

The student performance, to which Rollins students and high school students from all over the state will be admitted free, will also include selections by Bach from the programs of the Festival's opening day. A program of vocal and instrumental music will be presented at 4 p.m. Thursday afternoon, and the Bach Choir and soloists will perform four church cantatas that evening at 8 p.m.

Tickets for the Saturday morning performance will be available to the College beginning Tuesday, February 27, in the Information Office, Administration Building, as long as the supply lasts.

A special feature of this year's Bach Festival will be an organ recital to be presented by French composer Jean Langlais at 4 p.m. Friday in the Chapel. Two selections from the "Missa Solenne" by the blind organist of Paris' Basilica of St. Clotilde will be presented by the Chapel choir at the Sunday service on March 4, in honor of Langlais' visit.

At 10:30 a.m. Friday, Paul

TKE Give After Chapel Coffee Sun

Tau Kappa Epsilon has been chosen to hold an open house and coffee for the college and its guests after chapel on the Sunday of Founders Weekend, Feb. 25.

The affair will be held at the O'Neal House on Chase Avenue. The visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the fraternity house and see one of the older buildings on campus, built in 1925, and compare it to Elizabeth Hall, one of the newest structures at Rollins, where a similar coffee is being held by the Freshman Women.

All students, guests of the college, alumni, and faculty are invited to attend. The principal speakers for the Rollins Animated Magazine, including Florida's Governor Farris Bryant, U. S. Senator George Smathers, and Dr. Robert C. Seamans, Jr., Associate Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, are expected, and will have the opportunity of speaking with the TKE's and other Rollins students and alumni.

Tau Kappa Epsilon is the largest national fraternity in the United States, and the Rollins Zeta-Phi Chapter has distinguished itself by being first among Rollins fraternities in scholarship ever since its establishment here in 1958.

Elizabeth Hall To Hold Open House

Elizabeth Hall, the freshman womens' dormitory, will hold two open houses in the near future.

As a part of Founder's Week, the dormitory will be open Sunday morning, February 25, immediately after Chapel. All patrons, faculty members, staff, students and special guests of Rollins are extended a most cordial invitation to visit the "Elizabeth Hilton."

All the girls' rooms will be available for inspection. Also the living room, the Venetian Parlor, the Bamboo Room, the date room, the kitchens, typing rooms, laundry rooms and study lounges will be open.

In the near future on a Sunday afternoon from 2-5:00 p.m. (the date as yet has not been determined), Elizabeth Hall will again be open to the public. There will be a receptionist at the desk and the girls will act as hostesses on the different wings, explaining the history of the many antiques and tapestries in the dormitory. As the rooms will again be open, visitors are asked to respect the girls' personal belongings.

Apple cider and cookies will be served in the Recreation Room.

Columbia Offers African Program

Teacher's College, Columbia University, and the University of London, Institute of Education have a combined program to prepare holders of a Bachelor's degree for service as teachers in African schools' colleges and secondary schools and as educational supervisors and administrators.

The program has been prompted by the growing need in Africa for highly competent people in the aforementioned fields which has not been entirely satisfied by the many Government programs.

Study will consist of a full year, spent half at Columbia, half in London.

Minimum requirement for admission to the program is a Bachelor's degree. Regular academic credit will be granted for the program, and with attendance of the preceding Summer Session at Columbia, the student is eligible for a Master's degree.

Seniors interested may get additional information from Dean Dyckman Vermilye. Completed applications are due before March 1.

Rollins Watches Glenn

Last Tuesday, the campus was in a state of excitement for the major part of the day. Astronaut John Glenn was going up into space. Then at 9:47 a.m. he was up and the wait began. After three globe-encircling orbits, he was down, his space capsule floating in the Atlantic.

During the whole of this news-making event, Rollins was alert. Televisions were on all over campus with crowds of people sometimes viewing them. Radios were on everywhere and when one was not in reach of a radio, he usually had one with him.

Classes were called off or held in front of television sets. The ones that met were attended restlessly. Rollins was interested—really interested in something that was going on. We found this very refreshing.

Many other events of great importance go on in the world but the only things that really seem to penetrate into the miniscule Rollins world are space flights, and, last year, the presidential election.

Last May the school was in a similar state of tension when Allan Shephard became America's first man in space. In fact, we even had a Fox Day! Tension also gripped the school on election night in November, 1960.

Why is it that so few things really interest the students here? On other campuses, students get up in arms or develop extreme interest in a wide variety of other things. Something must be missing here because there are so few deep interests.

This is not a simple matter of let's try to do better or let's try to do this or that. Something is hollow at the core. The basis of a college is intellectual learning. Are we being challenged enough in our courses to promote this sort of an attitude? Are we trying to be challenged? Are we taking the sort of courses that present this sort of challenge? or are we just getting by with what we consider "snap" courses?

It has been said that the students are sick. Are they? Why can't there be more of the John Glenn sort of experiences?

Discover Rewards Of Leading Balanced Life

By MARY GADWAY
President, Order of Libra

Editors Note: This article begins a series of editorials by members of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary, and the Order of Libra, women's leadership honorary.

Last week thirteen women were tapped for membership in the Order of the Libra. Why were THEY chosen from among the junior and senior women on campus?

Many who were not tapped have higher grade averages, or more activities or a more exciting social life.

What is it, then that Libra looks for when she chooses her new members? There's a one-word answer: balance.

Libra seeks to recognize those women on campus who have consistently combined high scholarship with active participation and leadership in a wide range of campus activities.

But how you may ask can I get high grades and still have time for the many extracurricular activities such as athletics, fine arts, publications, social group, clubs — ad infinitum.

Good question. But any girl in Libra could let you in on the secret: develop a love for learning (not just from books), a sense of responsibility, and a conviction that "the more you have to do, the more you can do."

But don't believe everything a girl in Libra tells you. Instead, we sincerely encourage you to discover for yourself the personal rewards and satisfactions that come from leading an active, balanced life!

Lower Court Chairman Bill Tone Answers Letters Questioning Court

By BILL TONE

The three letters addressed to the Courts that have appeared in the recent issues of this paper are good because they show an interest in our government and sponsor new ideas as to the theory and the function of this still-young endeavor. The questions posed and the answers given in these letters cannot adequately be answered in one article, but perhaps they may be simplified and somewhat explained.

One of the letters was concerned with student knowledge of the Court system; that students were not aware of their rights and therefore were subject to perjury before the Courts. It is the policy of the Courts to inform any student prior to the time he is to appear before the Courts of the accusation against him, and to explain the system to him. If the student is to come before the Lower Court, the Investigation Committee speaks to him before they talk to any of the other people who may be involved, and at this time the system is explained.

What had happened to the desire for student government was the topic for another letter. The answer was simply that the students were afraid of the Courts because all the Courts had to do was snap their "judicial fingers" and presto ipsofacto you were no longer in college. This reasoning resulted in the conclusion that students were afraid to vote their opinions; hence, they had retired to "safe street" rather than chance being erased by our government. One of the reasons the student wanted this type of government was to stop this type of arbitrary dismissal from happenings. One might say, we wanted our rights protected. An incident such as the one described above has not happened this year.

As for the desire to have student government; I feel that it is even stronger now, as evidenced by these letters.

The graphically described and misunderstood item "quasi-judicial," was explained in another letter. Quasi (resembling) — judicial was used to describe the Lower Court when it first began. At that time it was explained that the Court could not function properly under a structure similar to the courts "downtown" and that it had been changed accordingly.

The very nature of the constitution enables the various departments of the government to evolve and change into mechanically strong and properly directed organs of the governments that are able to carry out their respective jobs.

If it is possible to find a student or group of students who are capable of being prosecutors, both mentally and emotionally, if they can be balanced with equally capable defense counsels, and if everyone involved is able to spend three or four hours per case, and the courts can be assured that all the arguments are presented, then a system of complete judicial procedure could be adhered to. And even then there arises the possibility that the courts would become a place for a guilty person to escape his due punishment.

All one needs do is go downtown and look at the record of those known criminals who have escaped justice through law. If it is the purpose of the Courts to allow a student who has committed an offense to go unpunished because he has a better lawyer, or because the prosecution does not wish to prosecute a fellow student, then we should have that "quasi-judicial" structure.

However, the fact that the system of prosecution and defense is wrong for our purposes at Rollins does not mean that our system will not change and evolve into something else quite different.

Mr. de Voogd compared the present system to that in the USSR and said that it could have existed during the Middle Ages in Europe. I know little of the system in Russia, but during the Middle Ages men were prosecuted and convicted on trumped up charges, punished for political reasons by a politico-oriented church, and the punishments were blood-curdling to say the least.

If the student government or the Lower Court functions in this manner, I say it is wrong and abolish it. If the Courts are trying innocent students, who come before them for having done absolutely nothing, and if these same students are being found guilty and punished, the system is no good. But, is this the case? Has the Court ever brought an innocent student before it, judged this person guilty and punished him accordingly? The answer is known by every student at

'ROUND ROLLINS

By Deb n' Air

Have you ever looked at the back of your Student Association card and really thought about what is written there? One thing it says is that a member of the Student Association is entitled to free admission to the All-College movies.

If you think a little further, you realize that those movies you have been going to on Sunday nights are open to all the college, are sponsored by the Student Association, and strangely enough, haven't been free. A little more thinking brings the inevitable result. A simple question. Why?

Well, in the past, these movies haven't been considered as All-College movies. But what could be more all-college than a movie that anyone on campus can go to, as long as there is room for him to sit down?

The Student Association seems able to dream up its own definitions for such things as All-College movies. Maybe they have declined to call the Sunday night movies "All-College" movies because the whole college could not possibly go to see them for the simple reason that they could not all get into the Fred Stone Theatre even if they stood there like a vertically packed can of sardines.

This reason doesn't make much sense, since there is no reason that these movies couldn't be shown somewhere where the greater part of the college could see them, like for instance the Annie Russell Theater, right across the street. But still the whole college wouldn't be there, so maybe I will have to bow in defeat to the Student Association on that point if they want to be exact, but exactness can be carried to ridiculous extremes.

To add to all the confusion, "Giant" was shown last Sunday night and no admission was charged, for no apparent reason. It seems that this should be the situation all the time, and not just that one time.

To cap it all, the Student Association and the Student Union and the Administration and everyone else seems to be squawking because the films don't draw large enough crowds to make them worthwhile.

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. DARRAH

No matter how smart you are at playing the angles the chances are that there will be someone just a little bit smarter. Hy Gardner tells the story of a man who bought fire insurance on a case of fine cigars, smoked them, and then put in a claim for the cost of the burned property. The insurance company paid the claim but had the man arrested and charged with arson.

In the long run the rather dull pedestrian way may be the shortest because it is the surest and the "wise guys" if they spent as much time and imagination in the straight ways of honest labor might find that they could succeed and with a clear conscience.

Shepp Answers Frosh Letters; Rule For Editors Is Questioned

Editor:

This is an open letter to the freshman who took objection to my review of the freshman show.

Critics and their reviews are always criticized by someone. However, these people fail to realize that a critic's review is his own opinion, and the critic is entitled to this opinion. He forms his opinion from what he sees on stage. Since anything put on stage is subject to criticism, the freshman show was thus subject to criticism.

In the first place, the freshman show was not reviewed as an ART production. It was reviewed with previous freshman shows in mind, the last two freshmen shows in particular. Compared to these past two shows, this freshman show came out as a miserable mistake.

In my review, I stated "... the freshmen seemed to enjoy what they were doing ..." I don't see how, after stating this, that I can be accused of failing to recognize the class spirit of the freshmen who worked on the show.

My opinions concerning the technical end of the show remain unchanged. After speaking with several students who worked on the show, I understand that there was complete lack of control backstage. This may account for the problems which were evident from the audience.

I assure the freshmen that there was nothing personal in my review. I simply reviewed what was presented without malice of forethought.

I wish to thank the numerous and enthusiastic student audience who came to see the "Inspector General." The next film, "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," promises to be as good as this one, if not better, according to those who have seen it. Rollins.

As to whether this could ever happen, I think not. Any system of government is only as effective as those people charged with running it. And the elected are only as good as those who elect them.

In a society the size of Rollins, the public mandate is felt by those elected, and they must respond in a conscientious way to this mandate. If they misuse their power, the students will hear of it, and the appropriate action will result. If an open court, or a partially open court will be an insurance of justice, it is something to be considered.

Whether the defendant should be present at the trial should be considered in both the light of protecting the student from false accusation and also in protecting him from emotional slander during the trial.

The important feature of the Courts is that they are structured in such a way as to be adaptable to changes, and that when a change seems good and is in response to the public mandate, I am sure that it will become effective.

My fear is that the whole system of government will become so static as to repulse change and this stagnancy may become its decay; on the other hand, we must be careful not to rush headlong into a change and find ourselves faced with even a greater problem than before we had effected the change.

Editor:

I read in the last Sandspur that our student publications may be discontinued next year because of the lack of staff members.

One solution to the problem would be to abolish the rule which prohibits men becoming editors of the publications.

There is such a rule, is there not?

Summer Job List Available

A directory which lists summer jobs for college students throughout the United States is now available.

The Summer Employment Directory gives the names and addresses of 1,367 organizations which want to employ college students. It also gives the positions open, salary, and suggestions on how to make application—a sample letter of application and a personal data sheet.

There are all types of summer camp jobs listed in every state; There are jobs at resorts in the New England States, the Northeastern States, the Great Lakes area, and the Western States. College students are needed in: 20 national parks and national monuments, 34 ranches in the West and New York State, summer theatres in 15 states, business and industry at scattered locations, and various departments of the government. In addition to these popular summer employers, many other organizations list their needs for summer help.

Students wishing summer work make application to the employers listed in the directory. Employers are included at their own request, and they invite applications from college students.

The Summer Employment Directory is available, at most colleges, in the student employment office, the library, or the Dean's office. Also, a considerable number of public libraries now have a copy of this directory.

Students who wish to have a Summer Employment Directory for their own use may obtain a copy by sending $3.00 to the publisher: National Directory Service, Dept. C, Box 32065, Cincinnati 32, Ohio.

Rollins Alumnus To Leave Broadway For Tour Of Duty With Army

Jack Mette, a Rollins graduate, who has been carving a stage career in New York, was recalled for duty in the U. S. Army last fall.

Pfc. Mette is now a member of the Special Services Section at Fort Lee, Va.

The former cast member of the Broadway hit, "Do Re Mi," has already made an impact on the army base in appearances with the Command Chorus and as a featured singer in the production, "Happy Holidays."

He will be seen again in February in a Special Services presentation, "An Evening with Jack Mette."

Five days before he was recalled into the army, Mette married Betty Kant, who appeared in "Do Re Mi" with him.

Mrs. Mette is still a member of the cast and has filled in for lead Nancy Walker.

Education Major Susan Hazard Enjoys Teaching; Lists Pet Peeve As Wasting Time

By ANN PUDDINGTON
Sandspur Staff

Susan Hazard whose long list of activities at Rollins has won her many honors is another one of the Senior Honor House girls who says, "It's a wonderful experience!" She feels it is valuable besides fun, "because it helps one to develop a greater sense of responsibility—the kind of self-responsibility that you have to face when you are on your own."

An elementary education major, Susan is now putting her courses to practical use at Audubon Park Elementary School. "The courses have been more advantageous than I had expected," she remarked. Regardless of preparation, Susan must have adapted herself extremely well to her third graders because, she said, "the term is going so quickly and I will really hate to see it come to an end."

"This experience in teaching," added Susan, enthusiastically, "has definitely made me want to obtain a Master's Degree in Education." Hopefully, she will start graduate school at the University of Colorado this summer.

Getting back to campus activity, of which she has plenty, it is evident that Susan's pet peeve—wasting time—is carefully avoided. She gives unselfishly of her time and services through Chapel Staff, Vesper's Committee, Community Service Club, and her sorority. She has been both secretary and president of Vesper's Committee, as well as a speaker, and president of Phi Mu Sorority.

She has been one of the fortunate ones to learn the effect of living with members of other social groups. "The result is in bringing the social groups together by respecting the ideas and opinions of the other girls in the house," she explained.

Matthews House is also gaining respect for Susan's musical talent and hobby—playing the flute.

Tour Of Classical World To Be Offered This Summer

A tour to Europe, of particular interest to students and teachers of the Classics, Art and History is being offered by Wakefield, Fortune, Inc., World Travel of New York and London. Entitled the "Golden Age" Tour, it offers participants an on-the-spot opportunity of studying the origins of Western Civilization, following an itinerary which includes most of the important corner-stones of the Classical World in Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The tour, which leaves New York by air on June 22, will be personally escorted throughout by Dr. Talbot R. Selby, Professor at the College of Charleston, one of the country's foremost authorities on the Classics. Travel on the Continent will be mostly by train and motorcoach with one or two sectors by boat or air and return to New York is by air on August 21.

The tour operators emphasize the fact, that although much of the tour is concerned with the Classical World of Europe, the history and scenery encountered along the route and many other activities of general interest will combine to make the "Golden Age" Tour an exciting experience for anyone—not only Classical Scholars.

College credits may be available to students of most colleges participating in the tour. To qualify for such credits, students will be required to submit a term paper to Professor Selby within two months of their return from Europe. An applicant should be sure to indicate in his membership application form if he wishes to be eligible for college credits.

The all-inclusive tour price from New York is $1975. Literature and further details may be obtained from Wakefield, Fortune, Inc., World Travel, 15 East 58th Street, New York 22, New York.

Actually, she has talents that are very wide in scope. She uses them on the Orientation Committee, the Investigation Committee of the Lower Court, in athletics, especially Varsity basketball, as a member of the Student Florida Education Association and as secretary of the senior class.

From all reports, the dance last Saturday night was great, and the band really swung. Rollins, let's see more of these kind of balls.

There was a Pep Rally in the Theta Parking lot on Wednesday, the 21st. If you went, you knew what it was about.

Matt Carr spoke at a general meeting of all people concerned with the Union. More about this later.

We've had the less vigorous dances, now hold on to your hats, Rollie Colliers. There will be a square dance in the Union Patio from seven to ten thirty Sunday evening, the 26th. Let's get there—squares and squares alike.

Cheek all display cases in the Union, they're pretty good.

Have a blast this week-end. Yours truly is heading for the rays.

Record Review

Score Of 'Fanny,' New Dukes Of Dixieland, 'Kiss Me Kate' Reviewed

By GERRY SHEPP
Sandspur Staff

Marcel Pagnol's Marseilles Trilogy has made the rounds as a book, a play, a French film, a Broadway hit, and once more as a new film. Under the title of Fanny, it was produced by Joshua Logan.

For the Broadway version, Harold Rome composed a wonderful score of light-hearted lyrics. The Broadway version was a hit as a musical comedy. The present film version is a light comedy, and the Harold Rome show score was adapted as the background music.

The scoring of the background music made use of the songs as mood pieces without regard for their original lyric content. The music has been adapted by Harry Sukman and contributes much to the joyful spirit of the romantic tale of two lovers on the Marseilles waterfront.

Morris Stoloff conducts the score with a light touch that brings the music swirling upward. The hauntingly beautiful themes—"Fanny," "Restless Heart," and "I Have to Tell You"—are handled in just the right manner. Each is pleasingly soft and lush. The sound reproduction is evenly spread, and the orchestra responds to the music in a thoroughly delightful manner. (Warner Brothers)

From their very beginning, the Dukes of Dixieland have been widely applauded. Their albums, now more than twelve collections, have been so successful that Audio Fidelity has released a collection of their best-selling numbers in the album The Best of the Dukes of Dixieland.

Composed of drums, piano, trumpet, clarinet, saxophone, trombone, string bass and guitar, this ensemble has all the elements necessary to produce true New Orleans jazz. Each member is an accomplished virtuoso in his own right, and they form a completely integrated ensemble even in solo numbers when it is not a question of a soloist showing off his technique but serving a functional purpose for the whole group.

Among the selections are such old favorites as "Wait 'Till the Sun Shines Nellie," "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," and of course, "Dixie." Each selection is given with care so that it sounds excitingly new. Additions not always associated with the group include "South Rampart Street Parade" and "Muskrat Ramble."

The sound reproduction is fairly good, but some of the selections are taken from older recordings that are not always clear sounding. All in all, though, it is a good collection of some of the Dukes' best numbers. (Audio Fidelity)

An all-time hit and one of Cole Porter's best musicals, Kiss Me, Kate has been re-recorded using the original cast. The orchestra and chorus is ably conducted by Pembroke Davenport.

The overture is carefully phrased, with muted trombones carrying forth a medley of the songs from the show. The overture leads directly into "Another Op'nin', Another Show" with the chorus expounding on the frantic work before opening night arrives.

Alfred Drake uses his voice effectively in "I've Come to Wive it Wealthily in Padua" and is especially good in "Were Thine that Special Face." In the "Wonderbar" duet with Patricia Morrison, their voices blend pleasantly as they waltz from speaker to speaker.

Patricia Morrison does not have a great voice, but it is just right for musical comedy. Her voice is quite pleasant in the lower register of "So in Love" and "I Hate Men" but tends to become weak and strained in the upper ranges.

I take objection to Lisa Kirk's voice. The album notes state that Miss Kirk's voice has "become brighter and mellower . . ." but I find it grating. She tends to sound more like Gravel Gertie than Lois Lane, especially in "Tom, Dick, or Harry."

Harold Lang is well cast as the undependable gambling dancer Bill Calhoun. He turns in a fine job in the gay tune "Bianca."

No one can forget the rather hot "Too Darn Hot" of Lorenzo Fuller and the thoroughly enchanting version of "Brush Up Your Shakespeare" of Aloysius Donovan and Alexis Dubroff.

There is virtually no surface noise on this disc, and there is an even sound distribution. This is one of the best show albums currently available and will remain so as long as Cole Porter is remembered. (Capitol)

lege and community, will join the soloists in presenting the music of the Festival.

Instrumentalists from the Florida Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Henry Mazer, conductor, and Alphonse Carlo, concertmaster, will participate in the Festival.

Bass soloist Mr. Sze will be participating in the Festival for the second year. John Tiedke, president of the Bach Festival, reports that Mr. Sze's performance last year was the best-received by Festival audiences of 26 years of soloists. These have included such outstanding voices as Metropolitan Opera stars Lisa Della Casa and the late Mack Herrill.

The Chinese-born bass-baritone has performed with the San Francisco and New York City Opera Companies and last year portrayed Sarastro on the NBC Opera's TV production of Mozart's "The Magic Flute."

Miss Hobson, who, in addition to concert work, is currently associate professor of voice at Marshall College in Huntington, W. Va., has performed with many of the nation's leading orchestras. Her engagements have included opera and concert appearances with the New York Philharmonic, NBC Symphony, Cleveland Orchestra, National Symphony, Minneapolis Symphony, Pittsburgh Symphony, and the Philadelphia Or-

Rollins Invited To Send Delegates To Auburn Meet

Rollins College is one of 48 universities and colleges in the South who have been invited to send delegates to the annual Auburn Conference on International Affairs.

The ACOIA is a student conference to be held at Auburn University, and will have as its theme U. S. and Latin American Affairs. Letters have been sent to the President of the Student Body, the Dean of Men, and the heads of the Departments of Economics, Foreign Language and History and Government at Rollins containing details about ACOIA along with application blanks. Interested students may obtain further information by contacting one of these individuals.

This year an imposing array of speakers and advisors will be at the conference headed by de Lesseps Morrison, former Mayor of New Orleans and present U. S. Ambassador to the Organization of American States. In addition to Morrison, the ACOIA will bring to Auburn Rep. Armistead I. Selden, Jr. (D-Ala.), Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs and a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs; Dr. Jose Figueres, past President of Costa Rica; Dr. Basil Hedrick, Director of the Latin American Institute of Southern Illinois University; and representatives of Latin American delegations to the U. N. and consulates in the U. S.

Miss Hobson received her Master's degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory and was awarded a fellowship to Juilliard Graduate School, where she won the Naumber Award.

Miss Boatwright, who graduated from Oberlin Conservatory and attended the Berkshire Music Center on scholarship, made her operatic debut in Nicolai's "The Merry Wives of Windsor," singing opposite Mario Lanza.

Mr. Tiedke calls Winter Park's Bach Festival, the second oldest such festival in the United States, "one of the finest choral performances in the Southeast." Commented a reviewer in Musical America of the 1961 presentation, "The performances . . . rose to a level where no paternalistic praise for a 'provincial' affair is in order; the music making was competent and highly artistic. The choruses were crisp, accurate, and flexible, and the style of performance tasteful and authentic."

Jax, Miami U. Defeat Tar Cagers

By PETE MARINO
Sandspur Staff

Last Friday night, Jacksonville University with Roger Strickland beat Rollins 98-72. Jacksonville jumped off to an early lead 28-5 in the first half. Rollins managed to rally somewhat cutting its deficit in half 30-15. Jacksonville came back with a scoring binge, and at half time the Dolphins led 53-27.

Rollins played Jacksonville on even terms during the last half. There was a time when the Tars had cut Jacksonville's lead to 9 points.

Jacksonville sports the leading scorer (small college) in the nation. The 6-5 Dolphin cager hit 21 of 27 field goal attempts, netting a total of 46 points. High point man for the Tars was Jeff Heitz who scored 25 points. Leon Hollon and Butch Hearn were the only other two Rollins players in double figures. Hollon hit for 10, and Hearn for 12.

Monday night Rollins traveled to Miami to play the Hurricanes from the University of Miami. Miami beat the Tars 92-54.

Miami, who has won the Florida Intercollegiate Conference, hit 51 percent of its shots from the floor while Rollins hit for 45 percent from the floor.

Phi Mu's Win Over Chi Omegas

By BONNIE STEWART
Sandspur Staff

The Phi Mu team performed the most spectacular play of this year's intramural softball program when they ended the Phi Mu-Chi Omega game with a triple play. With Barbie Behm and Sandy Krumbiegel on first and second bases, Sheila Stacy hit a line drive to pitcher Joan Pinkerton who tossed the ball to first baseman Mickey Beane. The ball was then fired to second baseman Malitta Knaut before the two Chi Omega runners could return to their respective bases. The final score of this February 12th game was 7-4.

On February 14, Karen Parachek's home run in the first inning set the pace for the Theta's sixth straight win. The victims of this powerful team were the Phi Mus who earned eight runs while the Thetas accumulated 28.

Marked by their tenacious spirit, the Chi Omega team defeated the Gamma Phis with a 19-13 score on February 15. Although the Gamma Phis held the lead throughout the first four innings, the Chi Omegas went through their batting order twice and tallied twelve runs during their last trip to the plate. Gamma Phi pitcher Ginny Lawrence slugged the only home run of the game during the second inning.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma team was handed their fifth victory when the Pi Phis were forced to forfeit to them on February 13.

X Club Wins First Half Of IM Basketball, 6-0

The X Club has had several close games, but at the end of the first half of the intramural race, the "gum-droppers" have an unmarred 6-0 record. Bob Detling, Frank Dunnill, Hoppy Connor, and Brazel Moore were the big guns for the Club. Brazel Moore has led just about everybody in scoring throughout the first half.

The Delta Chis proved to be the surprise team this year as they ended up in second place. Actually the Sigma Nus and Delts have identical records, but the Delts upset the Snakes in their game earning position of Number 2. The TKEs earned fourth place in the same manner since they, along with the Lambda Chi's have 3-3 records. The Indies held down sixth place with a 1-5 record and the KAs follow with 0-6.

The Delta Chis have gone through the bowling season undefeated, in fact, only the TKEs were able to even stay near the Delts. Tom Doolittle, Breck Boynton, and Dave Connors have bowled consistently in every match. The TKEs, with Keith Breithaupt leading the way, are in second place with 4-1. The X Club and Sigma Nus are tied for 3rd place, with the Lambda Chis in 5th and the Indies in 6th Place.

This afternoon there will be a Shaughnessy playoff of the top four teams at Medallion Lanes. Everyone is invited.

Tar Baseball Team Begins Practice, Will Open Season vs. Gators In March

By WAYLON LEE

Sandspur Sports Editor

THE ROLLINS TARS BASEBALL TEAM, THREE WEEKS LATER THAN IN YEARS PAST, BEGAN PRACTICE THIS PAST MONDAY AT HARPER-SHEPARD FIELD. TOMORROW STUDENTS AND FANS WILL GET A PREVIEW OF THIS YEAR'S TEAM WHEN THE TARS PLAY THEIR FIRST INTRA-SQUAD GAME. Practice will be held daily, except Sunday, up until the first game.

The Tar baseball team will open its 1962 season against the University of Florida on Friday, March 16, at the University campus in Gainesville.

Last season the Tars came up on the short end the first four games with the always dangerous Gators, and this year Justice is hoping for a four game sweep by the Tars. Two at the beginning of the season and two at the end of the season.

Heading the list of returning lettermen will be Doug Baxendale, three time all-state center fielder, Hoppy Connor, all-state catcher and leading hitter last year, and Ken Salmon, all-state pitcher and outstanding player of the conference.

Other lettermen include Jim Emerson, Jim Cooper, Ralph Tanchuk, George Blasius, Jeff Kline, and Dave Tanchuk. Ed Flory is back and Frank Horne, another all-state pitcher from last year hopes to start spring term. Add to this list some outstanding freshmen and this year's team begins to look tough.

Joe says that if we can win the Florida Intercollegiate Conference we are almost guaranteed an invitation to the small college NCAA tournament, which is to be held in New Jersey this year. This is the goal of this year's baseball team and the early team spirit and attitude is tremendous.

'Sandwich Men' Cater To Students, Find 'People Are Craziest Things In World'

Four Rollins men have been finding that a good way to earn some spending money is through the appetites of their classmates.

Two Sigma Nus, Bob Anderson and Dave Tanchuk, and two Delta Chis, Demetrios Coutsolioutsos and Nelson Long, are the familiar "sandwich men" whose nightly visits to dormitories bring their supplies for midnight snacks.

The sandwich business was started about seven or eight years ago by a Sigma Nu to help fraternity brothers on scholarships. Each year the sandwich "franchise" has been passed on to a scholarship student.

Anderson, on a crew athletic scholarship, has run the sandwich route since his freshman year. He's found that business is good during fall term but sales drop off in mid-winter and spring.

He spends about $40 to $45 a week on supplies for his assortment of ham and cheese, egg salad, tuna fish salad, bologna, and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Profit ranges from $15 to $20 a week and sometimes lower during business "slumps."

He and his partner Tanchuk, who'll take over next year, have found that Elizabeth Hall buys the most sandwiches and the Kappa house the least. Pi Phi, Theta, and Gamma Phi sorority houses are about even in sales, and among Fraternities, the KA house buys the most.

Anderson, a business administration major from Philadelphia, sells his sandwiches from 10 to 11:30 p.m. Sundays through Thursdays. He arranges for a substitute when he has a hard night of homework or a weeknight date.

The Delta Chi "sandwich men" just started their business this year. They sell the usual variety of sandwiches but find that the "Cubans" are the best sellers.

For the 350 sandwiches they sell a week, Coutsolioutsos and Long buy about nine sandwiches loaves and 150 rolls of Cuban bread. The two fraternity brothers make them in the afternoons, with each one doing the selling every other week.

Coutsolioutsos, who started the Delta Chi route, says that he and Long visit only the fraternity houses and men's dormitories. When they finish the route about midnight, the profit ranges from $5 to $8 after deductions for groceries, usually about $13 a day.

The Greek student who is a business administration major hopes to go into Greek politics. At Rollins he's been a member of the soccer team, and of the All-State soccer team and of Pi Gamma Mu honorary society.

Both the Delta Chi's and Sigma Nu's have found the sandwich business to be good experience and a good way to make spending money.

Anderson offers a word of advice to any successor, "Be nice to the housemothers and don't get on their bad side." His general observation after four years of catering to student appetites in a business of up-and-down sales is "People are the craziest things in the world."

Letters Abroad Program Instituted To Further International Understanding

To further international understanding through the exchange of letters between the people of the United States and people in other countries is the purpose of Letters Abroad. Such correspondence can help create the climate of world opinion so necessary for peace.

For the individual, this is an opportunity to strengthen the ties between the people of the free world, to give a true picture of your country to others, to learn about other countries through the eyes of the people who live there, and to enrich one's life by gaining new friends.

Letters Abroad is open to people over 15 years of age. To begin a correspondence, write to Letters Abroad, 45 East 65th Street, New York 21, N.Y. A name will be sent to you and you will write directly to your new friend.

People from every walk of life take part in this program. A large group is composed of educated young men in their early twenties who are the future leaders of such countries as India, Indonesia, Japan, the Arab world and the new African republics. Overseas letters are most numerous from those under age thirty,

NSF Makes Grant For 2nd Math Summer School

The National Science Foundation recently awarded Rollins College a $7,620 grant to support its second Math Summer School for talented high school students.

Dr. Bruce Wavell, Rollins assistant professor, will again direct the school at which 25 students will study modern mathematical concepts.

The six-week session will be held on the campus of Rollins from June 17 to July 28. The curriculum will include courses in mathematical logic, probability and statistics, vector analysis with applications to physics and modern abstract algebra.

Dr. David Clutterham, chief of computer design at Martin Company in Orlando, will also teach principles of automatic digital computing.

A panel of distinguished mathematicians from industry and various universities will provide pointers in lectures on important contemporary applications of mathematics.

"Rollins' program is intended to equip outstanding students with a background in the new mathematics to inspire greater interest and expedite professional progress," Dr. Wavell said, "either in mathematics or in a field of science in which mathematics play a prominent role."

Last year more than 300 boys expressed interest in attending the Rollins school. More students from even a wider area are expected to apply for admission this year since allowance for traveling expenses have been raised.

Only boys in grades 10 through 12 will be eligible to attend as boarders. Four places are being reserved for girl commuters.

Prospective students must also have completed two years of algebra and one year of geometry by June, with an average grade of A. Their average grade in other subjects must be not less than B-plus.

Secondary school principals who have students satisfying these requirements should write to Dr. Wavell for the Selection Test.

Lanz Fashions Sponsors Contest

The Lanz College Coed Fashion Contest is opened to any matriculated college woman. Entry blanks must be postmarked no later than March 15, 1962, with winners notified not later than April 15. Soon after completing finals, the winner will fly across the ocean via Pan-American Jet Clipper, for a summer session at a European University of her choice.

To enter this contest, one simply has to go to any store carrying Lanz Originals and pick up an entry blank and folder. The contest has been designed so that it won't take a student away from school. All one has to do is fill out the entry on how she would plan a Lanz fashion show for her college campus or living group, including promotional plans, stage settings and merchandise to be featured.

Besides the first prize, there are second and third prizes. Second prize is a complete Lanz wardrobe, and third is a $150.00 Lanz merchandise certificate.

The impartial board of fashion personalities judging the contest includes, among others, Julia Coburn, Executive Director of Tobecoburn School for Fashion Careers, New York City, and Nancy Dinsmore, West Coast Editor, Harper's Bazaar.

South Carolina Libraries Offer Opportunities For Internships

There are now many opportunities offered by the library profession to juniors and seniors. Thousands of positions such as being a children's librarian or a bookmobile librarian, or working with rare books or the latest scientific data are now open in librarianship.

The public libraries of South Carolina are offering summer internships to be awarded on a competitive basis to college juniors and seniors who are in search of a profession. The internships are work-training positions in county and regional public libraries which have been selected for the quality of guidance and work they can offer. The interns will work full-time for three months at a salary of $150 per month.

The work will be planned as an introduction to the various phases of public library work with the purpose of giving the intern an opportunity to find out from firsthand experience what a public librarian is and does.

Internships are open to rising juniors and seniors and graduating seniors who have done the greater part of their college work in the liberal arts, who have at least a C plus or B minus average, and who are in good physical and mental health.

Application blanks and additional information may be obtained from libraries in South Carolina.

WP Police Give Observer Program

Chief of the Winter Park Police Department, Carl D. Buchanan, has offered to make arrangements for Rollins men to participate in a program of "riding shotgun" in squad cars. These men will ride with one of the regular officers as an observer for a tour of duty of eight hours, between 4:00 p.m. and 12 midnight on Friday and Saturday. The program will familiarize the men with every phase of the policeman's duties without entailing any assisting participation.

This program has been in effect for selected Winter Park High School seniors during the fall and is now open to any man on campus.

Any man interested can get forms for the program from Dean Vermilye.
