Student Council Elections Today

Today marks the culmination of election week with the election of a new president, vice-president, secretary, and comptroller of the student council. The following students are running for student council offices: President—Grant Jennison, Bob Kirouac, Bob Stone; Vice-President: Cam Jones, Steve Schoen, Dave Schechter; Secretary: Penny Moore, Katey Classen, Elaine Lawrence; Comptroller: Danny Carr, Roger Hammond.

Following are the statements of the candidates for the office of President in answer to the question "What in your opinion is the most important problem faced by the student council?"

Grant Jennison: "... to establish itself firmly in the minds of the students as an effective, polished, and worthwhile body for giving force to their opinions, desires, and ideas."

Bob Kirouac: "I feel that the greatest problem facing the Student Association is to get the students to acquire a genuine interest in the affairs of the student association and the Rollins Union."

Bob Stone: "The biggest problem facing the Student Association is that of uncovering the spark of school spirit in each student and fanning that spark until it grows into a flame and finally bursts into brilliance. The solution of this problem is an idealistic goal, and perhaps it can never be fully realized, but the attempt is necessary if Rollins is to achieve the participation that is badly lacking in many activities."

The candidates for vice-president of student council have released to the Sandspur the following statements:

Cam Jones: "Within the next year, the Student Council has the opportunity to strike out as a proven body. Assuming that the Faculty Review Committee approves Student Government, the Legislature will enjoy the confidence of this backing, and should be able to speak even more strongly for student opinion and action. What we accomplish with this is squarely in the hands of every Rollins student through his representatives and officers. I should think it ill behooves any of us to let this slip through our fingers."

David Schechter: "As a candidate for the Vice-Presidency I feel you should know how I stand on certain issues that concern the Vice-President of the Student Association. The Vice-President

Field House Discussed

Wednesday March 6, in the Alumni House student and alumni leaders discussed the field house questions and its related problems. Representing the alumni were Tom Nelson, president of Alumni Inc., Eva Carson, immediate past president, and Ray Kirk, director of the Alumni Association. The student action committee composed of Frank Dunnill, Lenny Suskin, Bob Legler, Barry Lasser, Ed Flory, and Dave Chinoy completed the forum.

After a brief introduction by Student Council President Dunnill, the meeting followed the form of an informal but serious discussion.

Tom Nelson announced administration approval of a more realistic figure of $300,000 instead of the original $500,000. The last remaining obstacle to a rejuvenated fund-raising now is the announcement of a new national chairman which is expected within a few days. Mr. Nelson, commenting on the drive expects almost a complete reorganization of the project following the naming of the new chairman. When asked about the current stagnation of the drive, Mr. Nelson said that publicity had run ahead of the actual drive and that lack of proper and realistic planning had hindered the project from the beginning.

The general consensus of the student committee concerning another solicitation of students either through social groups or student council will not benefit the project in terms of dollars and cents and would serve only to place the students in the same position as before—that of donating to an inactive project.

The action committee assured the alumni leaders, however, that student interest in the project is keen and that as soon as the project was "off the ground" additional assistance by the students would be forthcoming.

EDITOR'S NOTE: As this paper went to press, the News Editor was informed that the new chairman has tentatively accepted the position. More on this subject will be forthcoming in the next issue of the Sandspur.

I feel the Union has no real image on this campus, and this is something I would work for by improving communications through the publicity committee and other channels. As a member of the Executive Board, I would work to accept the deal offered us for the use of Sanlando Springs. In short, I am willing to work to improve the lot of the student here at Rollins."

ernment at Rollins is still in its infancy. Strong leadership is necessary to secure for the students the form of government to which they are entitled. My promise? to strengthen student government for the benefit of all the students.

Movies to See

By Tom Chomont

If you are one of those people who like to go to the movies to give your mind a rest this column will provide a good index to films that should be avoided. Thought-provoking films do not often play around here so you will have a large selection of films to choose from.

Last week, for instance, we should have warned you about Days of Wine and Roses which was on a second-run showing at several theatres. This film did have a point and a purpose, and if it tended to resemble the structure of an informational dramatization (you know, like the film the biology department shows on ulcers) at least it made the best of it.

The story takes us into the lives of a plain Joe and his wife Kirsty as they move from heavy social drinking into chronic alcoholism. The style of narration evokes the world of the inebriate while maintaining a sober viewpoint. While insensitive viewers and youngsters may find the early drunk scenes very amusing (why do audiences think that a drunk scene has to be funny?) they will begin to sober up when Joe (Jack Lemmon) smashes a greenhouse searching for a bottle of booze bawling like a baby, then wakes up hysterical in a straight-jacket.

Director Blake Edwards' film style is perfect for this story (it was meaningless in Breakfast at Tiffany's . . . all those soft-focus close-ups!); he was already using the appropriate narrative devices back in his Peter Gunn days on television. Edwards no longer uses devices that call attention to himself as director, they are all related to the narrative. Thus the cut from Kirsty (Lee Remick) screaming, as her father puts her under the shower to sober her, to Joe screaming as he wakes in the straight-jacket is both a device of paralleling their progression and a link between the action. Unfortunately there is one flaw which one would not expect of a technical virtuoso such as Edwards; in the last shot as Joe looks out a window with an electric sign "BAR" reflected in the glass, the shot dollies into a close-up and the size of the letters remain the same, the reflection was printed on the film. The impact is more than a little disturbing.

Jack Lemmon gives a very effective performance, although tinged with comedy by association with his previous roles. As his wispy wife, Lee Remick is excellent and allows herself to be photographed under the most unflattering conditions of lighting and lack of make-up. One never doubts the reality of their performances. Charles Bickford is also very good as Kirsty's brooding, Norwegian father, and Jack Klugman is well cast as the AA member who helps Joe rehabilitate himself.

JP Miller's screenplay (adapted from his own teleplay) is commendably uncompromising (tho I understand that one scene in which a bottle of perfume is drunk when the booze is gone was dropped in transfer to the screen). Phil Lathrop's photography makes good use of shadow. DAYS OF WINE AND ROSES. Directed by Blake Edwards. Produced by Martin Manulis. Written by JP Miller. Photographed by Phil Lathrop. With: Jack Lemmon, Lee Remick, Charles Bickford, Jack Klugman. A Warner Brothers release.

Papa's Delicate Condition smacked of W. C. Fields, was all Jackie Gleason, and its best moments were not filmic ones. Curiosity interest: Glynis Johns, a Britisher, doing a deep Southern accent.

Tuesday at 7:30 is Vittorio DiSica's The Bicycle Thief. Upon its original release, it was condemned by the Legion of Decency. Recently it was reclassified with a "B" rating (objectionable in parts for adults). DiSica's later films include Miracle in Milan, Umberto D, The Roof, Two Women, and "the Raffle" for Boccaccio '70. The Bicycle Thief and Rossellini's Open City are usually credited with establishing the Neo-Realist cinema in Italy, where it has reigned until recently with the innovations of Fellini and Antonioni. It is undeniably a film classic (it was chosen among the 10 best films ever made at Cannes some years ago and also by a panel of photographers for Popular Photography). It is recommended sans le prevoir.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

During the past few weeks there has been a good deal of talk in the Sandspur about the apparent lapse of interest on the part of the alumni in the fundraising campaign for the Dean Enyart Field House.

The main criticism from the student body seems to be that there is no planned organization made up of the alumni to cover the country in a systematic fundraising drive.

There also seems to be the question of INTEREST on the part of the alumni. In short, there does not seem to be any.

I wonder if the alumni of thirty years ago know what goes on at Rollins every week. They should have a very effective tool to keep up, or renew, their interest in Rollins, the Rollins Sandspur. Has every Rollins alumni been sent publicity about the Sandspur, including perhaps one free Sandspur, subscription rate for one year, five years, or lifetime? and some amount of propaganda to the fact that one can have an interest in their college only if they know what is going on? I don't mean an alumni bulletin, published by the alumni, sent out three or four times a year. I mean a student-published paper, mailed by the students every week, and with the students encouraging interest in the alumni in their college. If someone answers the preceding statement by stating that to mail and address such a huge amount of Sandspurs is impossible because of the lack of time and manpower — I say let the student government subsidize an addressograph machine. It is an investment not only in the college but in the future.

Why doesn't the Sandspur set up a Mailing Department? This should be handled by the students, not by the alumni department. How many alumni have even read the spread on the Field House which appeared in the Sandspur a few weeks ago — because they never received a paper?

In short, if we want alumni to have an interest in Rollins, and to give money to various building campaigns, we at least ought to get and keep their interest in Rollins by letting them know what is going on at their "old school." Here is a chance for the Student to contribute to the cause of the much-needed Dean Enyart Field House. Let's do it. Peter Kellogg

Dear Editor:

I wish to voice an objection to the Wednesday night Fiesta entertainment which, several students have agreed, was in very poor taste. The performance of Ballard and his Midnighters which masqueraded under the misnomer of "concert" hit a new high level of coarseness and left a coat of tarnish on whatever sterling purposes Fiesta may have.

The performance was not only crass; it showed a remarkable lack of talent. The music (?), both vocal and instrumental, was poor even in its own field. It could not begin to measure up in quality to Yale-Augmented Seven which we had the pleasure of hearing at last year's Fiesta.

Whoever was responsible for arranging this performance has certainly done an injustice to the majority of Rollins students either by securing the entertainment without knowing what it was or by assuming there would be within the student body a high level of tolerance for or appreciation of such crudity. Jane Ruble

Dear Editor:

On the night of March 27, 1963, the Fiesta Committee proudly presented a mistake. The mistake was Hank Ballard and the Midnighters. Normal expenditures do not usually include a 1,000 dollars for a supposedly enjoyable display of gross indecency.

Various comments on the performance included "horny, gross, dirty, and disgusting." Although it was tagged as a Concert turned out to be of questionable musical taste, there was no doubt about the unnecessary lewdness in the actions and words of the performers. If the audience had followed the performers' extremely suggestive mannerisms, what was tagged as a concert could very well have turned out to be an orgy in the classical sense with a group fertility rite as a sidelight.

Possibly the Fiesta Committee had no previous idea of how the performers would carry on, but that does not erase this distasteful incident that occurred. Perhaps the Fiesta Committee would do well to bear in mind that an announced All-College Fiesta Rock and Roll Concert should not become a stag party and the entertainment should be thoroughly investigated before it is presented. Pete Mulliken

'ROUND ROLLINS

By Deb 'n Air

"Oh, I see. Your mother and father AND grandmother all died. All at once. Gee, isn't that a shame? And you want to borrow my car to go to the funeral? You mean it's NOW? Well don't you think maybe you should wear long pants? I mean to your own parents' and granny's funeral, it seems to me that it might be nice if . . . Oh, Granny would have wanted it informal. She always went around in Bermudas herself. There is only one funeral ceremony, huh? Oh, I see, Granny liked to keep the family together. What? No, the top doesn't go down. No, not even if you do press a button and unjiggle a bunch of little catches. Forget it?! But, what about the funeral? Oh, I see, it has to be a convertible. Granny would have wanted it that way. Well, I'm awfully sorry about the whole deal. You'll try someone with a convertible? I really don't see why that is so important, even if Granny would have . . ."

Time passes. Grains of sand sprinkle down slowly. I speak again.

"You couldn't get a convertible. Everyone is using his own and going to the beach. Well, I KNOW you still have a funeral to get to, but will a plain old sedan do? Oh, I see. Granny liked all Fords, and not just convertibles. Well, the car isn't too clean, and it's almost out of gas. You'll fill it up? Oh, fine then. Here are the keys, and make sure the attendant checks the battery 'cause I think the—Hey, wait! Oh well . . ."

About ten hours later the old red Ford comes sputtering back, out of gas, with the battery dead, beer cans decorating the sandy floor, and Snakey-Shake wrappers stuck with mustard. Another day in the life of my poor auto.

As I was saying, people find the darndest excuses to borrow my car. Nobody, but NOBODY, must have any living grandmothers left, what with all the funerals that one poor Ford has been to. And all those poor dates who sprain their ankles and can't walk to the Union even. And parents who fly in unexpectedly and just have to get a ride from the airport. And on and on.

No one, but NO one should miss the thrill of having a car on campus. If you think the excuses for being late to 8:30 classes are wild, just have a car sometime and listen to the reasons that people just can't wait to borrow it. No one ever wants the car just to go to the Union or the Bank or anything normal like that. Always to Fort Lauderdale for Granny's funeral or maybe to Daytona 'cause there's a special on cigarettes ($2.39 a carton) or any one of a thousand places for any one of a million reasons.

Now if I got gas put in, it might be all right. But for some reason there just aren't any gas stations open in a hundred mile radius. And maybe if a little Esso does happen to trickle into the gas tank, do I get the Green Stamps? Not on your life. Not so long as there is an empty Greenie book on the whole Rollins campus. I wouldn't mind this too much, either, if the car just didn't come back with dents all over it, the seat covers all slashed, and cracks in all the windows.

Not that I'm bitter about loaning out my car. Oh

Barbara Rainer Is

Democratic Worker

March 26th was the big day for candidates running for the state legislature. It was also a big and busy day for Rollins College student Barbara Rainer, one of the youngest and most energetic workers in the local Democratic Party.

Barbara, a Rollins junior majoring in political science, turned 21 last Nov. 10, registered to vote two days later, and shortly after became the Democratic committeewoman for Precinct 64.

"It was through the Center for Practical Politics, so ably directed by Dr. Paul Douglass, that I first became aware of my responsibilities as a citizen. And it was here that I was first introduced to the fascinating subject of political science," she said.

The Rollins junior, who has been on the Dean's list every term since coming to Rollins, is president of the Rollins Young Democrats and chairman of the state Teen-Dem committee for the Young Democratic Clubs of Florida.

After graduating from Rollins, this outstanding student plans to go on to law school, after which she hopes to embark on a career in politics. Commenting on her plans, she said, "The woman's role in current affairs is an ever-increasing factor in the political picture today. Women have proved themselves capable of assuming responsible positions in the political as well as the business world.

"I hope to live up to the example that has been set by women preceding me in this area, for example, Beth Johnson, Florida's first woman senator who is held in such high esteem in Orange County."

Barbara's duties as committeewoman for Precinct 64 include keeping an up-to-date card file of the Democratic voters in her precinct and representing the voters at county executive committee meetings.

On election days she is responsible for getting out the vote, setting up committees of poll watchers, and setting up telephone and transportation committees.

As chairman of the state Teen-Dem committee, Barbara has played an active role in the Teen-Dem movement that is spreading over the entire state of Florida. She feels the primary purpose of the clubs is "not just to recruit future members for the Democratic Party, but to interest high school students in political education and political activity."

Being a true politician, Barbara preferred not to make any predictions on today's election results, but you may be sure you'll be hearing from her in years to come.

no! It's just that when the Ford comes back decorated with parking tickets made out to my license number, the police have a habit of getting rather perturbed at me.

But, come to think of it, I've gotten a whole new sense of values from owning a car. There's some old saying about never appreciating something until it's gone, and you talk about somebody who is appreciative just all the time. As I trudge across campus laden down with books fighting to get to class on time, I really appreciate that car I see whiz by filled up with five or six blondes. Five or six blondes? Are they going to Granny's funeral, too? Oh, I see. She would have wanted it that way.

Brutus Returns!

The Gamma Phi's won the prize for the best decorated booth, but where was the booth? Ask April and Scribbie, who worked on the reconstruction team. — Bucky and Biddie and Sue became senioritas over spring and saw a Mexican floor show, huh, Bucky? — Sue Todd went to Ohio to see Larry and almost didn't come back. — The girls were so organized for Fiesta that certain Gamma Phi's became Committee Conscious, right, girls?

Rich Cole returned to campus to supervise this year's Fiesta. — Enrique Huber was pleased tremendously to find that he is still the big "A" man. — Ed Maxey's girl, Suzi, was approved by all the Delt's. — Somehow John Swanson managed to drive Sheri Jones in the parade. Hey, John, what's the story? — Bill Cigich's girl, Diane, was serenaded in the darkness of the chapel garden by the Delt's with cigarette lighters! — It's understood that Jeff Fisher is going to Eatonville next weekend. — Hey, Dools, what's Gini doing singing the KA song? — Ken Graff, the "A," could become the big "A"; he has Mimi's vote. — The Delt's would like to have Bebe design their float next year. — After the fine showing at Fiesta, the Delt's decided it's safer to walk around in pairs.

The X Club and especially the Blade feel that they were unfairly overlooked in the balloting for the best float! — At a recent X-Club beer party, Bill Leydig had unfortunate mechanical trouble with his levies. — Bill Lauerbach made a tremendous punch for a pre-dance party last Saturday night. It had everybody feeling good by the time they reached the dance.

"Kiss me again Peggy" had a swinging time at Fiesta, but next weekend will be even better. — Maria went to the library Friday night. — Beth danced to the tune of "Changing Partners." — Anyone for Black Jack, Joan? — Between other official engagements, Peter found time to take Glancy to Fiesta. — Meet me at the midway, Mimi!! — Emily welcomed Rich Cole back to campus life. — Dersevere, Darby! — Cam wasn't the girl; she was just the date. — Sandy Jordan announces her engagement to Uel Gardner of Maine. — Kathe Stone is pinned to a Beta at University of Florida. — Joy Klinkman was lavaliered to Skip Carlson (Sigma Nu) last Saturday night. Congratulations, Chi O's!

Saturday the Sigma Nu's held an informal meeting with the Sigma Nu Alumni of the Central Florida Area. The purpose of this meeting was to stimulate interest in the Rollins chapter and the possibility of organizing a Sigma Nu Alumni Club. This meeting was very successful, thanks to Pete Gannon, Alumni Contact Officer. — The Sigma Nu's almost lost their float for Fiesta because of a fire. However, Tom Edgar saved it with his brilliant fire fighting skill.

Spring vacation proved to be worthwhile for several Kappa's. Francie Heinz is now engaged to Ralph Tanchuk; Marilyn found a wedding dress and Susan Hicks had a wonderful time in New York. To top it off, they arrived back to a welcoming committee of Duke boys. — For the third year in a row, Kappa won the field day, adding a new trophy to the collection. How many events did you participate in, Bliss Britt?

There were those Phi Mu's who went to Nassau over Spring and came back with glorious tans. Those who went North returned to Fox Hall pale and sick with envy. Nevertheless, everyone had tales of vacation. Malitta tampered with telephones again. Linda couldn't wait to get back. — Biggs was on a cloud with Harry here for Fiesta. The big weekend also brought Jill Raymond, Joy Ponta, and Ellen Montague to the Rollins campus. — Fiesta had a certain romantic air about it as Elaine Lawrence and Doug Kerr (Sigma Nu) were pinned, and Missy Mead and Tom were lavaliered. — Mary McKechnie visited the Phi Mu's and found her stay to be quite profitable. — Elaine Lawrence was installed as Panhellenic President on March 26. — Dana Ivey was cast as Kate in All My Sons. — Missing—a couple of elephants!

Saw the Lambda Chi's at the beach Sunday, and Dick was playing golf. Therefore, one deadline was missed.

Tau Kappa Epsilon initiated Gay Hendricks, Balthasar Heyer, O'Rourke, Bob Procter, and Bob Wiley. Congratulations. — If anyone wants a piece of Kleenex, just ask any TKE. — They made over 1500 carnations for their float for Fiesta.

The new KA officers are Louis Farrelly, president; Bishop Jordan, vice president; Robert C. Balink, recording secretary; Kennedy Clark, treasurer. — Pinned were John Wrather to Andy Knapp of Lauderdale, and Clark Smith to Elke Arndt (Theta). — Vacation spent by most KA's in Nassau with a few going to the snowy north to do some skiing. Doser to Mexico and a good party. — Everyone is most upset about the loss of Hugh. — Finally, after exhausting all their funds on the float, a booth(?) appeared on the Midway with people trying madly to win the $7.50 prize offered. The backboard used for the baskets is now up for sale as an original work of art.

During the Spring vacation the resident heads entered a croquet tournament arranged by Mrs. Reginald Pierce, who acted as referee. The tournament got underway at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning in back of Lucy Cross Hall. Those reaching the quarter finals were: Mrs. Wretman and partner Miss Cash, Mrs. Hanna and partner Mrs. Penn, Miss Armstrong and partner Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Milford and partner Mrs. Meade. The game continued after a luncheon break with Miss Cash, Mrs. Wretman, Mrs. Hanna, and Mrs. Penn reaching the finals. This was a closely contested match. Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Penn won the match and became the Rollins' Resident Head Croquet Champions. Miss Jean Snyder was the official photographer.

The entertainment for the day was a Fashion Hat Style Show, which took place on the loggia of Lucy Cross Hall. The judges were Mrs. Bartholomew and Mrs. Council with Mrs. Pierce acting as commentator. Mrs. Slusser's hat was voted the winner. It was named "The Easter Bonnet" and consisted of a green nest filled with Easter eggs, rabbits, chickens, Spring flowers, and a pale green tulle flowing veil. The beautiful two-tone blue hat with a red rose, giving it "The Forward Look," worn by Mrs. Reddens, received an honorable mention. The most original hats, worn by Mrs. Meade and Mrs. Morganwroth, were two identical turbans, one pink and one blue. They were called the "Tissue Twins." Mrs. Davis, of the Casa, modeled a doll's hat.

Dean Rich

Dean Rich Resigns

John Oliver Rich, Dean of Admissions at Rollins College, participated in an international conference sponsored jointly by UNESCO and the International Schools Association in Paris, France, held April 1st-3rd.

The theme of the conference was the Mutual Appreciation of the Cultural Values of East and West, with particular consideration of how cultures affect one another in international schools.

Conference participants included ministers of education from such countries at Tanganyika, Denmark, and Afganistan; and directors of international schools in France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany and the Benelux countries.

Last summer Dean Rich completed a survey of independent multi-national schools in Europe, some results of which will appear in a "Guide to Boarding Schools Abroad" to be published next month by the International Schools Foundation.

Dean Rich recently announced his resignation from Rollins, effective August 31st, and has been offered a post as executive director of the International Schools Association with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

The Rollins Dean of Admissions will confer with I. S. A. officials in Geneva on April 4-6, returning to Winter Park on April 8.

Rollins Participates In Yale Festival

Some 20 theater arts students at Rollins participated in the Seventh Annual Yale Festival of Undergraduate Drama, March 22-24.

Ralph Green, Sallie Off, and Linda Peterson presented THE LESSON under the direction of Dr. Arthur Wagner. THE LESSON was performed with great success a few years ago in Rollins' Fred Stone Experimental Theater.

Fourteen colleges and universities presented plays this year. Among them were Harvard, Vanderbilt, Adelphi, and Bennington. After each group of productions there was an open discussion in which all members of the festival could comment on the shows they had just seen.

Participating in the Yale Festival for the third year, Rollins was the first school outside the New England area to be invited to the Festival.

Lane Named New Dean

Spencer Lane, director of development at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., has accepted the post of Dean of Admissions at Rollins College, it was announced by President Hugh McKean.

Lane will assume his new position July 1, 1963. He succeeds John Oliver Rich who recently announced his resignation.

Lane leaves MacMurray College after more than 10 years of service. He joined MacMurray in 1952 as director of admissions and has been director of development since 1961.

Under his leadership, the Jacksonville MacMurray Associates and the Parents' Association were organized. The Jacksonville Associates, composed of business and civic leaders, serve as liaison between the community and the college. The Parents' Association aids the college in the selection of students, conducts an annual fund drive and sponsors special parent weekends on campus.

Before coming to MacMurray, Lane was an admissions counselor at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., where he was also a member of the faculty as an English instructor.

Lane has served as secretary and member of the board of the Association of College Admissions Counselors for three years and is a past director of placement for that organization.

He was graduated from the University of Missouri with a master of arts degree in English. His bachelor's degree, also in English, was earned at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo.

Lane, a native of Knob Noster, Mo., is married to the former Mary Laurie of Marshall, Mo. They have three children: William, a freshman at Kansas University; Van, a senior in Jacksonville High School, and Joye, a junior at Jacksonville High School.

Alumni Plan Reunion

Special guests during the Rollins College Alumni Reunion Weekend, April 26-28, will be the anniversary classes with numerals ending in 3 and 8.

After registration at Rollins' Alumni House Friday, April 26, activities will get underway with a picnic on the lake front at 6 p.m. A water show and sky diving will provide entertainment. Individual class parties are scheduled for 8 p.m.

Saturday, the annual meeting of Rollins alumni will be held at 10:30 a.m. in Bingham Hall. A Gay 90's luncheon at 12:30 will feature Dr. Fred Ensminger, '97, and Mrs. Rodman Lehman, '27.

Theodore Darrah, professor of religion at Rollins and dean of the Knowles Memorial Chapel, will be the featured speaker at the Reunion Dinner Saturday night.

Sunday, the fraternities and sororities at Rollins will hold open house between 9 and 9:45 a.m. when the convocation is scheduled. Dr. James L. Tullis, class of '36, will be the convocation speaker.

This famous Rollins graduate was honored in 1958 by the Glycerine Producers' Assn. for his revolutionary new technique of preserving whole blood, which is expected to make possible the stockpiling of whole blood for two years.

Students Visit Mayan Ruins In Mexico

A tired group of Rollins students arrived at the Tampa airport Sunday, clutching souvenirs from a 9-day field trip to Mexico over the spring holidays to study the Mayan ruins on the Yucatan Peninsula.

Meeting the students at the Merida airport upon their arrival March 15 was the American vice-consul, a representative of the Benjamin Franklin Institute, the head of the local tourist department, a Rollins alumnus, and 20 boys in uniform from the Ariel School.

The first day, the students "just walked around town and got acquainted," according to Dr. Lillian Gleason, associate professor of Spanish at Rollins and faculty director for the trip.

A trip to Chichen Itza was scheduled for March 17-18. The tour group traveled in a bus 75 miles east of Merida to visit the site.

Here the students climbed inside the Castillo Temple, a pyramid, to see the famous ChicMol there. This particular statue "had jade eyes which the guide said were worth $1 million each," Dr. Gleason said. "We do know that the ancient Mayans had trade with China, but one still wonders how the jade got there."

The fifth day of the tour was spent in Merida. The group called on the American consul, the mayor, and Dr. Andrews who is heading a Tulane archaeological expedition. The students also visited the Maya Museum, the University of Yucatan, and the high school libraries provided by the Hispanic Institute of Florida and the Rotary Club of Winter Park.

March 20, the group visited the ruins of Uxmal, and the next day "We took our jungle trip to Kabah, Labna, and Sayil," Dr. Gleason said. Squeezed together in four jeeps, the group set out for the isolated ruins.

"We had trouble with one jeep, and two jeeps got lost, but the kids said it was their best day," the trip director said. "After going through 50 miles of jungle, you suddenly come upon a level spot of five or six acres filled with buildings that look like palaces. The carving on them is magnificent."

Gustavo Heredia Escalante, an alumnus of Rollins and a descendant of Francisco de Montejo, the Spanish conquistador who conquered the Maya, invited the students to his henniquin hacienda March 22. "We had a feast," Dr. Gleason said. "There was good Mexican food, and everybody danced and sang."

Saturday, the group toured the Tulane excavation site at Dzibilchaltun. In the afternoon everyone was free to go shopping for souvenirs. Stuffed turtles were a popular item with the boys, causing considerable amusement among the Mexicans at the airport the next morning.

Leaving Merida Sunday, the students arrived back in Winter Park just in time for the beginning of the spring term at Rollins Monday.

During Pan American Week at Rollins, the students will present a program on their trip, and an exhibition of Mayan artifacts will be on display at the Casa Iberia.

REVIEW OF FIESTA

"The Old Folks At Home" was the Delta Chi fraternity's effort to win honors in this year's float competition, and that it did, tying for first place with the Sigma Nu's.

Due to the lack of sufficient funds necessary to enter the float competition in a grand manner, the X-club put forth "The Blade" as their sincere effort to enter a "float". This is another example of the fun had by all at this year's Fiesta under the excellent leadership of co-chairmen Pete Marino and Al Lipsky.

Shown here is the float entered by Kappa Alpha Order, the locomotive "General Robert E. Lee". The parade down Park Avenue Thursday afternoon preceded the opening of the midway on the Sandspur Bowl. Many were on hand for this once a year spectacular looked forward to by everyone.

"The Old South" started off Wednesday with the crowning of a royal pair to reign over the festivities, Southern belle, Miss Jane Burdick, and a Southern gentleman, Col. Chip Whiting.

Thursday dawned with the last feverish preparations of floats and the resulting parade along Park Avenue. After the parade, President McKean officially opened the Midway. The evening was highlighted by an informal dance starring Bo Diddley.

Commenting on this year's Fiesta activities, Co-chairman Pete Marino says, "Realizing that the ultimate goal of Fiesta Weekend was the raising of funds through fun, I can honestly say that this year's activities resulted in a weekend of fun for all who participated in addition to raising money for scholarships."

At 4:00 p.m., immediately following the parade, the midway opened with more fun and thrills for one and all. Among the many new rides on the midway this year was the "Scrambler", pictured here, with several fun-loving students.

At the conclusion of the fashion show we see Miss Rollins for 1963 Sandy Norvell being crowned by last year's winner, Jane Burdick as Nancy Collins and Ginny Petrin look on.

"The Sugar Mill" entered by the Sigma Nu fraternity moves with all its splendor down Park Avenue. This was one of the two floats tying for first place in this year's competition. Seated in the middle of the sweeping lawn by the river stream is Miss Sandy Norvell.

One of the highlights of the Miss Rollins fashion show held at the Gamma Phi Beta patio on Saturday afternoon was the singing entertainment provided by the Bermudas. The Bermudas are from left to right Pete Gannon, Terry Murphy, Ed Elicker, and Sam Thomas. Among some of their selections were "Marianne", "The Greenback Dollar" and the original composition by Pete, "The Garbage Man."

The tug of war was one of the many strenuous events which took place on the lakefront Friday morning.

V.A. Reports Pensions

Today, more than two years after the law was passed, Veterans Administration officials said many Florida widows and orphans of World War II and Korean conflict veterans who were not disabled are apparently unaware they are eligible for pensions under certain conditions.

Before July 1, 1960, widows and children of World War II or Korean servicemen were entitled to pensions only if the deceased veteran had a service-connected disability at the time of his death.

Beginning on that date, Congress provided pensions for the widows and orphans of these veterans on an equal basis with the pensions for the World War I veterans' widows and orphans. It is no longer necessary for the veteran to have had a service-connected disability, Anne H. McLean, Orange County Veterans Service Officer, pointed out.

The pensions range from $25 to $60 monthly for widows. For each child, $15 a month is added. The pension for orphans is $35 monthly.

This benefit may be payable to a veteran's child or children even though the widow is not entitled to the pension because she remarried or her income or net worth exceeds certain limits, Anne McLean added.

The income limit is $1,800 yearly for a widow and $3,000 annually for a widow with a child or children.

The income limit for orphans is $1,800 yearly, exclusive of earned income.

The pension is paid if the deceased veteran was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and had 90 or more days of service or was discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

Student To Study In Spain

George Bridge, a sophomore at Rollins College majoring in art, has been granted admission to New York University in Spain at the University of Madrid for the academic year which begins Sept. 2.

Spending his junior year in Madrid, Bridge will have to rely heavily on his training at Rollins in Spanish, as all classes will be conducted in that language. He will take "saturation" courses in Spanish during September, before actual classwork begins in October.

The Rollins sophomore hopes to take several art history courses while at the University, as he is an admirer of the School of Spanish Realism and contemporary Spanish artists. He also hopes to spend much of his time at the Prado.

Reeve Essay Contest

Men students of Rollins College are reminded of the closing date for participation in the annual General Charles McCormick Reeve Essay Contest. Entries should be sent to Prof. Nina Dean, Box 79, Campus Mail, no later than 12 noon on April 17. Shortly after this deadline, a faculty committee may select as many as six winners, each of whom will be awarded a $75 prize.

Essay contest winners will compete early in May in the Reeve Oratorical Contest, delivering ten minute speeches based on their papers. The speeches must not be read, but must be delivered with or without notes. The student who is judged to have delivered his material most ably will be awarded $50 or the Hamilton Holt Medal.

It is required that the essay be on one of the designated topics or upon some aspect of one of the topics. In general, research papers written for freshman English should not be submitted unless the contestant's professor recommends that the student turn in such a paper. The essays must be typed on standard 8½ by 11 inch paper and carbon copies will not be accepted. There is no limitation set on the length of the entries.

Much attention is given by the judges to the scholarly apparatus of the essays. Footnotes and a bibliography should be included with each essay submitted, and the form recommended by the HARBACE HANDBOOK, Chapter 33, should be followed. Each contestant should sign his entry with a pseudonym and attach a sealed envelope containing the pseudonym and his real name.

Mrs. Dean, this year's chairman of the Reeve Committee, stresses that the entries should not merely present a summary of what has already been written about a given subject, but should also present original conclusions on the part of the student-author.

The 1963 topics are as follows:

1. The impact on mankind of a recent scientific discovery.
2. The arts as an enlargement of life.
3. A comparison of the Northern and Southern generals of the Civil War.
4. The problems of management in introducing automation.
5. The humor of James Thurber.

The local Navy Recruiting Office has announced that the Navy Officer Procurement Team will be at Rollins College Student Union on April 8th and 9th to interview qualified applicants for the Navy Officer Candidate School program. OCS is the Navy's way of preparing college graduates for careers as commissioned officers. Men and women who have a college degree or will receive their degrees within the next nine months may apply. For further information contact your local Navy Recruiting Office. Telephone 424-7001.

6. The impact of Land's color experiments on the major color theories.

7. The avant-garde theater and its vision of life.

8. The liberal arts college of 1970.

9. The Caribbean, an American lake 50 years ago, and now.

10. The nature of human nature is what man makes it.

11. Roman Catholicism and the presidency.

12. Culture under the Soviets.

13. The promise of tomorrow (political, cultural, economic, or scientific.)

French Club Announces Lecture

Mr. George Duca, Secretary General of the Alliance Francaise for the United States, will give a lecture to the members of the Alliance Francaise of Rollins College at the Maison Provencale, on Saturday, April 6th, at 7:30 p.m. He will speak on "The Four Worlds I Have Lived In."

The President of the Alliance, Countess R. van der Stegen, will entertain, at her residence on McKean Circle after the lecture, personalities of Rollins College and members of the board of the Alliance, in honor of Mr. Duca.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: JOE AMWAKE

Joe Amwake (B.S., 1959) is a Sales Engineer with the Long Lines Department of A.T.&T. Joe supervises five people who are responsible for the sale of intercity telephone services in the state of Alabama. Quite a responsibility for a man who's been in the business only three years.

Joe had demonstrated on earlier assignments that he could handle responsibility. For instance, on his first telephone job he coordinated the installation of new teletypewriter services in Detroit. This earned him his job as Sales Representative where he contacted important network television customers, among others. Then came his latest step up.

Joe Amwake and the other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.

Schooner for Summer Cruise

Cruise for Adventurous Students

Students from colleges all over the country will take their studies to sea next year. A coed group of adventurers, including undergraduates, graduates and instructors, will circumnavigate the globe aboard the 190-foot schooner Yankee Clipper. The beautiful, air-conditioned ship, formerly owned by millionaire George Vanderbilt, has been modified to provide quarters for 50 passengers.

The Yankee Clipper will depart Miami in January, 1964, on the 12-month, 50,000 mile expedition to offbeat islands and colorful ports of the South Seas, East Indies, Indian Ocean and tropical Atlantic. About 35 landfalls will be made and more than a dozen foreign countries visited on the unique, share-the-expenses voyage now being organized by Capt. Mike Burke of Miami, owner and operator of Windjammer Cruises, whose famous brigantine Yankee recently completed her fifth round-the-world cruise.

The expedition's ports-of-call will include remote Easter Island, whose great stone heads have confounded explorers and archaeologists for centuries . . . historic Pitcairn, where the descendants of the Bounty's mutineers still live . . . incredible Galapagos where Darwin, noting the strange animal life, developed the basis for his theory of evolution . . . incomparable Tahiti, with its lush natural beauties and lusty female beauties . . . mysterious Bali, with its aura of the Orient . . . sleepy Zanzibar, spice island off Africa, where an inland safari will be arranged for interested passengers . . . and dozens of other exciting spots where cruise ships never call.

Capt. Burke's Windjammer Fleet is the largest of its kind and has carried over 12,000 passengers during the past decade.

Five of his ships—Polynesia, Tondeleyo, Cutty Sark, Mandalay and Caribee—are used for 10-day cruises in the Caribbean and Bahamas, while the others are employed on extended ocean voyages.

"This round-the-world expedition is my real love," Burke said. "We're following a tradition set by the Yankee's former owner, Commander Irving Johnson, and we'll keep it going as long as there are people with adventure in their hearts and a bit of salt water in their veins."

Capt. Burke added that Yankee Clipper will carry a crew of professional seamen, but all passengers who wish may stand wheel watches and learn to tend a sheet and splice a line. Classes in marlinpike seamanship and navigation will be held, and the ship's library will be well stocked with volumes on nautical lore as well as books about countries and islands to be visited. The ship's complement will include a marine scientist and a historian who will give informal lectures illustrated by slides and movies. A physician will also be aboard.

"This is strictly a joint-venture," Burke emphasized, "with each passenger paying a share of the expenses. The actual cost will come to only about $12 a day, which will include all meals and other ordinary shipboard expenses."

As space permits, we'll accept applications for various segments of the cruise as well as for the entire voyage. That way, we pick up new faces and new blood from time to time throughout the year, which makes things more interesting for all concerned."

Further information and application forms can be obtained by writing to Capt. Mike Burke, P.O. Box 1051, Miami Beach 39, Florida.

First Frosh Crew Victorious

by Bob Carlson

On Monday, March 25, the Rollins junior varsity crew defeated an inexperienced "eight" from American International College. The Tars jumped to an early lead and continued to increase it; their opponents never had a chance to challenge for the lead. The visitors from Massachusetts on the water only a few days and the Tars' many miles of rowing made the race a one-sided affair. The two crews' times were 6:19:4 and 6:44:6. The next day the A. I. C. crew raced the first freshman crew ever to exist at Rollins. The frosh took the lead at the start and opened the distance between the crews, thus handing A. I. C. its second defeat in two days. The times for the two crews were 6:06:3 and 6:14:1. This freshman crew, more commonly known as the "Buzzards," was organized last fall due largely to the efforts of assistant coach Jim Lyden.

On Saturday the varsity crew took to the water against Purdue University and displayed an improvement over its previous races. The weather conditions were terrible; a strong cross wind and a little rain off and on made an exciting and unusual race. The Rollins varsity jumped to an early one length lead; but with about one minute of the race gone, Coach Bradley, the official starter, stopped the race when one of the Purdue oarsmen lost control of his oar and was knocked into the water by its handle. Coach Bradley retrieved the oarsman, and after putting him back in the Purdue shell, he started the race again. The Tars took command again with a one length lead in the first few strokes, and they continued to move ahead until they crossed the finish line seven lengths in front of the Purdue boat. The high winds and rough water made the rowing unpleasant and the times for the crews unusually slow; Rollins 6:33:6, Purdue 7:00:5. This was an easy race for the Tars but they are expecting to encounter a much improved Purdue varsity at the "Dad" Vail in May.

The preliminary contest between the junior varsity crews of Purdue and Rollins was again not much of a contest. The water conditions were not as bad for the JV races as they were in the later varsity contest. The Tars took a two length lead in the first minute and left the Purdue "eight" five lengths behind as they crossed the finish line in 6:01, over the mile and three sixteenths course.

At present the varsity and junior varsity crews are on their way to New York City where they will encounter Columbia University on the Harlem River. Columbia is a "big time" crew. They are not in the "Dad" Vail class but they compete in the I. R. A. regatta. Last year they defeated the Rollins varsity by 1½ lengths, but this year both the Tars varsity and junior varsity will be racing Columbia in an attempt to even the score.

The boating for the Columbia race has not yet been stated by Coach Bradley. The lineups for the races against Purdue were as follows: Varsity — bow, Elliot Randolph; 2, Edd Rupp; 3, Larry Schrumph; 4, Pete Davenport; 5, John Morrissey; 6, Alex Arnold; 7, Bob Carlson; stroke, Al Arbury; cox, Jan Carstanjen.

Tough Week for Tars

The combination of poor pitching, poor fielding and poor hitting left its mark upon the Rollins Tars as they dropped five of six games during Baseball Week. Although each element of the combination was spectacular at one time or another, only once did the Tars combine the three for a victory. This occurred when Rollins downed Amherst 9-2 behind the strong pitching of sophomore Jerry Joondeph. The Tars played errorless ball in the game and slammed out nine hits.

Bob Detling had two of the three hits.

Rollins tangled with Nichols State in the third game and Colonels from Louisiana came out on top 11-4. Freshman Al Burris made a strong debut for the Tars in the game, pitching 3½ innings of shut ball and driving in two runs with a double.

The fourth game, was above 9-2 victory over Amherst.

In the fifth game, the hot bats of Duke were too much as the

Rollins Baseball Week Trophy

Al Burris and Bob Ennis each drove in a pair of runs to lead Rollins at the plate.

In the first game of Baseball Week for the Tars, they absorbed a 5-2 defeat by Amherst. Stu Lathrop started for Rollins and was relieved in the third inning by George Blasius who held the Lord Jeffs to only four hits the rest of the game. The Tars picked up their two runs in the seventh on a pinch-hit single by Terry Williams.

In the second game Duke University slammed out three home runs and downed the Tars 6-0. Rollins played errorless ball but could not get started at the plate.

downed the Tars 13-3. Mike Clark relieved Stu Lathrop in the sixth inning and shut out the Blue Devils the rest of the game. Bob Ennis had three singles, and Al Burris his first homer of the season to lead the Rollins hitters.

In the sixth and final game of Baseball Week, Nichols State scored a 9-4 victory over the Tars. Only three of the nine runs were earned as Rollins committed errors. Al Burris continued his lusty hitting by slamming his second homer in two days.

Duke and Nicholls State took for the trophy with 5-1 record. Amherst and Rollins finished with 1-5 ledgers.

Sports Spotlight

by Bob Carlson

A senior from Chicago, Illinois, Robert John Carlson is chairman of the publicity committee in the Union, vice-president of the program board in the Union, and secretary of the R Club. During his four years at Rollins, Bob has been a member of the varsity crew team for three and crew team for four. Before coming to Rollins, he attended Lane Technical High School where he rowed for three years. During the last year, Bob held the position of house manager for the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Bob had never played soccer before he came to Rollins, but he said, "I am more than glad I could play without the experience, if it had been almost any other college, I couldn't have done so." In regard to this, he said, "The main reason I could play was due to the fact that the soccer league is so new and inexperienced." Carlson said, "Soccer doesn't have enough conditioning as compared to a sport like crew." He felt the lack of conditioning was a major factor in losing to a team like Miami. "It's one thing to teach a player something; but if he isn't physically fit, it goes down the drain." In regard to crew, Bob said, "Unlike soccer, crew needs such devotion that it is almost like a religion. If it is to be done properly, one must put crew above everything else." He felt that crew at Rollins is one of the best a person could expect to and at such a small college. Bob said, "The excellent caliber of crew at Rollins is due to excellent coaching and to a team that has a great desire to win."

When asked to comment about the college as a whole, Carlson said, "The administration has been accepting the wrong type of students and is becoming too one-sided." "The administration should also consider the athletic ability of the student which would enable the college to compete effectively with rivals. If this were done," he said, "the college would be able to achieve a name not only in academics but also in athletics, which is a must for any college today to obtain recognition."

In regard to the crew team and the present season, Bob said, "I'm sticking my neck out, but I feel this is the best team Rollins has ever had."

First Rollins Freshman Crew

Tar Crews Defeat Jax. U.

On Saturday, March 16, the varsity and junior varsity crews raced Jacksonville University on the St. Johns River. The junior varsity race was probably one of the easiest races the Tars will ever experience. Rollins covered the mile and five-sixteenths course in a very fast 6:37.0 due largely to the fast water conditions. The junior varsity race began with Rollins jumping a half length ahead in the first five strokes. After the JV saw their lead increasing, the stroke, Terry Murphy, dropped the stroke to 23 while Jax maintained a 34. But the Tars continued to open the water between the crews. Coming into the last quarter mile the Tars began a sprint at 30 strokes per minute, but since they were already 3 lengths ahead, they dropped their stroke and crossed the finish line rowing a relaxing 22 strokes per minute. The time for the Jacksonville JV was 6:51.9.

The St. Johns is noted for its rough water and high winds, and race day was no exception. The Rollins varsity decided it would take advantage of the strong tail wind and the incoming tide and attempt to break the course record on the St. Johns. After the race, the Tars thought that they might have broken the course record when they heard their time was a fast 6:19.3. But the varsity went away rather satisfied that it will take a good crew to row a time as fast as theirs.

Last year in Tampa, Jacksonville's Junior Varsity won the State Championship and now this year that junior varsity is Jacksonville's varsity. The Tars were a little concerned about their opponents since this was Jacksonville's first race of the season. The Rollins varsity went off the starting line at 40 strokes per minute leaving Jax a length behind. The Tars have developed a good starting sprint as well as their already famous finishing sprint, but in their race with Jacksonville they seemed to rely on their sprinting ability by "easing off" in the body of the race. Consequently, they remained only 1½ lengths ahead of Jax until the last quarter mile when they began to pour it on. The Rollins varsity finished 2½ lengths ahead of the Dolphins. The time for Jax was 6:29.6.

Coach Bradley was pleased with the performances of his crews but he knows they could row better with more work; and that work came during spring vacation when the Rollins crews returned to Winter Park and began practicing twice a day. Upon their return from Jacksonville, the Tars found a new shell awaiting them. Captain, Ed Rupp put it this way, "A new boat is a tremendous morale builder." The varsity, junior varsity, and freshman crews rowed twice a day for the entire spring vacation adding another 70 to 80 miles to their log. When asked if he enjoyed rowing over spring vacation, one of the oarsmen replied, "No! It's painful and tiring, but it's the only way we'll beat Columbia."

Golfers Win Two, Lose Two

Over the Spring vacation, the Golf Team traveled to the University of Florida to play Florida and Georgia Tech in golf. Rollins lost both matches to Florida but beat Georgia Tech. The scores of the Florida matches were 16 to 11 and 20 to 7. Rollins beat Tech 15 to 12.

From there the team traveled to Ocala to play in the Florida Intercollegiate. After a strong start the first day, in which Rollins placed third, the team slipped to a seventh place finish among 16 schools. Bob Kirouac placed tenth in the individual scores with a 295 for 72 holes.

In a match with the University of Miami, the Golf Team won 20 to 7. This match was played during the first round of the tournament. Steve Probst and Bob Kirouac were low for Rollins with 73. Close behind were Todd Read with a 74 and Bob Reagan with a 75. This win evened Rollins season record at 3 wins and 3 losses.

Last Thursday the Rollins golf team beat Stetson for the second meeting, the Tars won 26 to 1 at Rio Pinar Country Club. Bob Reagan paced the Tars with a 75. The second match was held at DeLand Country Club where the Tars won 19½ to 7½. Bob Kirouac led a strong attack with a three under par 67. Todd Read turned in a one under 69. This win brought the Linksters record up to 4 victories and 3 defeats.

This coming week the Tars will host Columbia University for two matches, one at Rio Pinar and the other at Bay Hill.

On Thursday and Friday they will defend their F.I.C. Championship at Tallahassee. Mickey VanGerbig will also be there to defend the individual title he won last year at Bay Hill.

What's Your Sports I. Q.?

How do you rate as a sports expert? If you can correctly answer all four of these questions submitted by the Vitalis Sports Service, you're an Olympic champ; three right, a letter man; two, a bench-warmer; and less than two, you're a bookworm! Circle one answer to each question. Correct answers below.

I. The game of basketball originated in: (a) America, when a YMCA director, worrying about dwindling gym attendance, nailed up peach baskets and invented a game that could be played indoors; (b) England, when a small public school, not having enough team members for two complete volleyball teams, replaced the volley net with a hoop, and each boy competed for highest number of baskets scored; (c) Ancient Rome, when youths tossed small straw-woven spheres or "baskets" at pegs placed high on the wall to "snare" a basket.

II. In 1880 the number of balls needed to walk a batter was officially set at four. Prior to that time, the number of balls needed was: (a) three; (b) five; (c) nine.

III. Everyone is familiar with the present day hard-covered rubber golf ball, but the most widely used golf ball before the present gutta percha type was: (a) leather-covered and stuffed with feathers; (b) small round stone wound with layers and layers of string and dipped in glue; (c) ground shell and sand first sewn in cloth, then encased in leather.

IV. The first formal inter-collegiate football game was played in this country on November 6, 1869. The participants were: (a) William and Mary College and Notre Dame; (b) Princeton and Rutgers; (c) Harvard and Yale.

Answers: I. (a) founded by Dr. James Naismith, YMCA instructor, Springfield, Mass., in 1891; II. (c); III. (c); IV. (b) Princeton and Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J.

Tennis Team Victorious

by John Hughes & William Law

As of last Friday the Tar tennis team has compiled a 5-2 record losing close matches to the University of Florida and Duke. Stetson fell prey to the Tar netters by a score of 8-1 with Duke following suit the next day to the tune of 7-2. However, in the succeeding day's action the tables were turned. Duke emerged the victor by a close 5-4 score by virtue of a tight three set match in the number three singles when Dick Predmore of Duke defeated Duane Ackerman of Rollins.

On Friday Emory University visited the Rollins courts only to be swamped by an impressive looking Rollins squad. Emory was able to amass only 14 games throughout the entire nine matches with Rollins emerging victorious 9-0.

Coach Norm Copeland has positioned his men so that he can alternate John Lawrence and Ralph Grieco, his number one and two, to make the most of their individual talents. Copeland feels that due to the great depth of the squad, he can do this at virtually any of the positions, depending upon the opponent.

The following are the individual records for the season thus far:

	won	lost
Lawrence	2	3
Grieco	5	2
Ackerman	5	2
Balink	4	3
Doolittle	4	2
Law	7	0
Bruner	5	0

The week of April 1st has seen Rollins vie with Columbia University twice, Davidson, Hope College, and Amherst University. The following week will be a period of rest for the team for the week of the eleventh they will face University of North Carolina, which is usually one of the strongest teams in the east.

R.C.A.— Reports On Fiesta

Now that this year's Fiesta is over it seems appropriate to publish a report compiled by RCA and submitted to this year's Fiesta chairmen. Included in this report were suggestions, some of which were incorporated in this year's Fiesta and others that might be considered for next year.

News Editor

Introduction

Roundtable Group 3 has met three times during the last month to discuss the subject of Fiesta. The first meeting was a preliminary brainstorming session, the second a get-together with members of the Fiesta Committee and other interested students to exchange ideas, and the third a closing session to reach agreement on recommendations to be passed on to the general Roundtable.

The resulting recommendations, which are contained in this report, are of two kinds:

A. A single, far-reaching proposal to change the purpose and character of Fiesta.

B. A number of smaller, independent proposals aimed at improving specific details of Fiesta.

A. A NEW CONCEPT FOR FIESTA

President McKean has recently introduced an exciting new idea which promises to become a valuable Rollins tradition. Every year many of the major events in the college calendar will be devoted to the culture of a different country. The Animated Magazine, Convocation, Founders' Dinner, Exhibitions in the Morse Gallery and some concerts will be devoted to bringing to our campus some of the art, literature and distinguished representatives of the Country of the Year.

We feel that this program can be made, with the whole-hearted cooperation of the students and faculty, a unique and valuable addition to college activities. Not only will it enrich our social and academic life but, in the long run, it will bring credit to the college.

In view of these considerations, we recommend to the Student Council that the Fiesta each year be integrated with the Country-of-the-Year Program.

If this recommendation is adopted, we further recommend that attention be given to the following suggestions for putting it into effect.

- 1) That the Co-chairmen of the Fiesta Committee be appointed for the following year not later than at the end of the current Fiesta. An appropriate time might be at the Fiesta dance when other awards are made. This is to allow time for adequate planning of the entire Country of the Year Program for the following year.

- 2) That the Co-chairmen approach President McKean early in the spring term with the object of agreeing on a country for the Country of the Year Program for the following year.

- 3) That, as soon as possible after the selection of a country has been made, a President's Book be selected and ordered for all students, faculty (including incoming freshmen) and administration.
- 4) That the library be asked to build up a collection of books and periodicals on the Country of the Year, especially material containing colored pictures of national costumes, houses, etc., likely to be of use in planning of Fiesta.
- 5) That the Student Council consider the possibility of employing a more suitable name than "Fiesta" for the event — perhaps a translation of "Festival" into the language of the Country of the Year.
- 6) That the Fiesta sub-committees consider ways in which the details of Fiesta, e.g., midway design, floats, costumes, house decorations, Tortilla Flat, etc., could be made to reflect a typical Festival of the Country of the Year. We suggest that the Committee could get in touch with the appropriate embassy in Washington and ask for an advisor to spend a day or two on the campus to help with planning. Further advice might also be obtained from foreign students at the University of Florida or foreign exchange students in the South who could be invited down to our campus.
- 7) That the Fiesta Committee consider ways of involving the local community in the Fiesta. With the new "cultural look" to Fiesta, we should have no difficulty in involving the Chamber of Commerce, the City Government, the University Club and the Women's Club. The event might eventually become a town affair centered on Rollins.

Group 3 is agreed that the changes proposed above for Fiesta will in no way detract from its fun and entertainment value. On the contrary, we are sure that our proposal will make Fiesta more interesting for all concerned while it will provide it with a sound rationale which it at present lacks.

B. MISCELLANEOUS RECOMMENDATIONS

We have a number of recommendations to make concerning specific aspects of Fiesta which do not presuppose acceptance of the recommendation in paragraph A.

- 1) We recommend that more use be made of the lake and

Pan-American Luncheon Coming

A Pan-American luncheon to raise money for the Rollins College Latin-American Scholarship Fund will be held Friday, April 19, at 12:30 p.m., at the Country Club of Orlando.

The featured speaker will be Theodoro Moscoso, U. S. Coordinator of the Alliance for Progress. As the Alliance for Progress Coordinator, Moscoso, who holds the rank of an assistant Secretary of State, helps administer a multi-million-dollar annual program of financial and technical assistance to Latin America.

Prior to his appointment to this position in 1961 by Pres. Kennedy, Moscoso served as the U. S. ambassador to Venezuela.

Having held numerous public service positions during his career, the coordinator served as the first president of the Puerto Rico Industrial Development Co., a government corporation that started the economic development program called Operation Bootstrap.

Presidents Jerry Banks and Raymond Rosenfelt of the Commercial Bank at Winter Park and the First National Bank at Winter Park have agreed to have their banks underwrite the cost of the luncheon so that the total proceeds will be added to Rollins' Latin-American Scholarship Fund. It is expected that the Fund will receive approximately $800 from the luncheon.

lake front. A firework display in the middle of the lake would draw people to the lakeside. Boat rides might be given there and the trees illuminated.

- 2) We suggest that something might be done to improve the appearance of the Midway, which at present is not a credit to the college. A different grouping of the booths might help — say into a compact circle or rectangle. Something might also be done to improve the "subject matter" of the booths.
- 3) The Fiesta King and Queen might well be crowned elsewhere than in the Beanery — perhaps on the lake-front as a part of the lake-front attractions.
- 4) The dining hall, Union and Houses might be decorated.
- 5) We suggest that some events be provided for the older section of the local community, e.g., satirical sketches written by students and performed in the Annie Russell Theatre.
- 6) We recommend that the possibility of holding Fiesta in the Winter Term be investigated.
- 7) We recommend that the dances be separated by a night, as is planned for this year. The first dance should be informal — possibly a costume dance with prizes for the best costumes; and the second a strictly formal dance.

Music Treat In Store On 15th

Donald Waxman, composer, pianist, teacher, lecturer, conductor, and cellist, will give a lecture-demonstration at Rollins College on piano teaching and materials for young people from 10 a.m. to 12 noon April 15 at Martin Hall.

Waxman, who is on a tour sponsored by the Galaxy Music Corp., has composed several hundred teaching pieces which have been published under the title PAGEANTS. With his wife, Jho Waxman, he has organized the Music House, a small school in Nyack, N. Y., devoted to piano and theory.

Mrs. Waxman will accompany her husband to Winter Park and will assist in demonstrating the four-hand material to be presented at the Rollins lecture.

Waxman began his training at the Peabody Conservatory of Music at the age of eight, studying there for 10 years. After graduating in 1949, he entered the Juilliard School of Music where he received a B.S. in composition.

Robert Hufstader, the director of the Rollins Conservatory of Music, attended Juilliard at the same time as Waxman and remembers him well. For a short period, the Rollins visitor also studied at Trinity School of Music in London.

Waxman has given some 100 demonstrated lectures similar to the one he will present at Rollins. He has given solo piano recitals, including his own compositions, in Baltimore, London, and New York.

Grads Attention!

Dean of the Graduate Study Programs at Rollins College, John Tiedtke, today announced that beginning with the 1963-64 academic year the Graduate School of Business of the University of Chicago has agreed to an Accelerated Cooperative Program.

This program will make it possible for Rollins students to obtain both the A.B. and M.B.A. degrees within a five-year period.

George P. Shultz, Dean of the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago, informed Rollins that the Graduate Rollins students who have completed 90 semester hours of acceptable arts credit to make application for admission to the Graduate School of Business at the U. of Chicago.

Rollins students meeting the admission standards of the Graduate School of Business may work directly for the degree of Master of Business Administration.

Under this plan the student who completes successfully the first year of work in the Graduate School may receive the A.B. from Rollins. He would receive the M.B.A. from the University

Graduate Record Exam April 27

The Graduate Record Examination, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, as well as by an increasing number of donors of graduate fellowships, will be conducted at Rollins College April 27.

Those interested in taking examination are reminded applications must be made April 12.

These tests include an examination of general scholastic ability in addition to advanced tests of achievement in 17 different major fields of study.

A Bulletin of Information for candidates, containing an application and providing details of registration and administration as well as sample questions, may be obtained from college advisors or directly from Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

Political Books Exhibited

The American Society of Planning Officials will include the publications of the Center for Practical Politics among 100 selected books in the publication exhibit of the National Society of Planning Officials to be held at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle, Washington, May 5-9. At the close of the convention, the exhibit entries will be given to the School of Regional and City Planning at the Institute of Technology in Bandung, Indonesia, which was opened in 1959 under the auspices of the Government of Indonesia, the United Nations, and Harvard University Graduate School of Design.

These publications have enjoyed a world-wide distribution and are on the shelves of the major college and university libraries.

Rollins Receives Grant

Rollins College President Harry F. McKean has announced that The Associated Florida Private Colleges Fund has received a $250 unrestricted contribution from the Merck Company Foundation.

McKean, also president of the AFPCF, pointed out that this is the fourth consecutive gift to the fund by Merck and Company, Incorporated through the Merck Company Foundation.

The contribution will be divided equally among the four member colleges: Barry, Miami, Florida Southern, Lakeland; St. John's, DeLand; and Rollins.

President McKean stated that Rollins' portion of the gift will be used to augment faculty salaries.

of Chicago at the end of an additional year of work.

The student can thus attain both A.B. and M.B.A. degrees within a five-year period.
