Student Legislature Monday approved 1965-66 allocations totaling more than $40,000. The only opposition was encountered on the $14,786 Union budget.

Independent men's representative Bruce Behrens moved that the Union allocation be slashed $200, but the other independent men's council member, Fred Gittes, asked that the cut be reduced to $190 to compensate for an error in the Special Projects committee budget.

Behrens seconded Gittes' amendment, thus making it part of his original suggestion. Pi Rho Sigma delegate Lee Mingledorff suggested that the proposed decrease be further lowered by $35 to balance another section in the Special Projects committee budget.

However, Doug Kerr, president of the Union Board of Managers, explained the discrepancy. Although the total estimated income expected by the committee for the freshman student directory plus the allocation asked for that project do not equal the estimated total expense, Kerr said, "things will work out."

Behrens' amendment was defeated and the Union budget subsequently approved.

Other appropriations approved by the Council were Flamingo, $1860.98; Tomokan, $13,500; Sandspur, $6,827.60; Theatre, $2,500; and R Book, $800.

IFC Cuts Year Waiting Period to Three Months

Former pledges may now be pledged to another group three months after breaking affiliation with the original house, Interfraternity Council has announced.

At its meeting last week, IFC voted unanimously to adopt an amendment to its by-laws, thus repealing the one year waiting period before affiliating with another Greek organization.

Amendment to IFC By-laws

Section 1: A member of a fraternity in Rollins College, or one who has been a member, may not become a member of any other fraternity on this campus, honorary or professional fraternities being excepted. The exception to the above may be that the members of some fraternity which is no longer represented on this campus may be eligible to join that organization which their own fraternity does not prohibit.

Section 2: A man who has broken a pledge or whose pledge has been withdrawn by a fraternity may not be pledged to another fraternity for three months following date of withdrawal.

Section 3: Should a man be pledged in violation of the above rules, the illegally pledged man is not to be permitted to enter the offending fraternity for three months from date of depledging. The errant fraternity shall be suspended from pledging for fourteen days from the first day of pledging of the new class of the following year.

In other IFC matters last week:

• Dean of Med Fred Hicks warned that any injuries sustained by pledges or actives through "Fun and Games" would be the responsibility of the fraternity involved.

• Dean Hicks asked the IFC to recognize Phi Delta Beta, the new local fraternity. IFC president Cary Kresge said that recognition is not possible now because Phi Delta Beta has not yet submitted a constitution or petition.

• IFC heard a suggestion that IFC and Pan Hellenic Council work up a joint committee to take over Fiesta for a social Greek weekend. Whether or not Greek Week replaces Fiesta, IFC-Pan Hell is discussing the possibility of some form of all-Greek event.

The Reverend Mr. William A. Constable, St. Petersburg, a consultant on the Rollins faculty and a former member of the English Department, dedicated a stone from Sligo, Ireland, for the Walk of Fame, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of William Butler Yeats, celebrated Irish poet and a winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature. Ceremony was held last week in observation of National Poetry Day.

The Rev. Mr. Constable was studying ancient and modern Irish literature when he met the poet at Oxford in 1924. He later traveled widely in Ireland, visiting Yeats' home at Sligo.

Assistant Professor Marion Folsom, English department, brought stone back from Ireland after attending the Yeats International Summer School in August.

Students, Friends Contribute To Howard Showalter Fund

Contributions to the Howard W. Showalter Memorial Fund already amount to several thousands of dollars, with a recent gift of $1,000 added from an anonymous businessman and leader in the community.

At least two students groups have contributed to the fund. The Student Council voted Monday night to contribute $500 from Student Association Funds, and Pi Beta Phi sorority also contributed to the fund.

The fund was created at the request of the Showalter family and will go to the Field House fund, in honor of Showalter's dedicated work in the drive to erect the Dean Arthur Enyart Field House.

First contribution to the fund came from the Central Florida Alumni Association, which gave $2,427 raised last spring for the field house.

Since the fund's creation, letters and checks have come in from all over the country, sent in lieu of flowers at the family's request. Showalter's range of friends was so great that, according to Alumni Director Marcus T. Young, "We don't even know some of these people. And I don't think the family knew a lot of them either."

Young told the Sandspur that "It truly is a very heart-warming experience to find this kind of response coming in from alumni and friends, including both staff members and students."

When the Alumni Board of Directors officially created the Showalter

Memorial Fund, it appointed Al Chubb chairman of a special committee to supervise the fund. A Rollins graduate of 1953, Chubb is vice president and public relations director of the Commercial Bank.

In creating the memorial fund, the Alumni board passed the following resolution:

"In Memory of Howard W. Showalter, Jr.

Because of his unfaltering loyalty and dedication to his Alma Mater, because of his willingness to assume any role in furthering the goals of Rollins College, because of the integrity of his leadership, because of his untiring efforts for any just and worthwhile cause, because Rollins College and each and all of us who shared his love for the college, have benefitted from knowing him, and because he exemplified, throughout his entire life, the very best that his family, his friends and his Alma Mater could expect or find in any man,

Therefore, we, the Board of Directors of the Rollins College Alumni Association do herewith express our sincere sympathy to the family of Howard W. Showalter, Jr., remembering them in our thoughts, in our prayers and in our actions,

Wilder Heads News Bureau

New director of the Rollins News Bureau is Beatrice Wilder, formerly a member of the Tupperware public relations department.

For the past six years Miss Wilder has been publications editor for the Orlando company. Previous to that, she spent two years on the Rollins campus as secretary to Rollins Vice President Dr. A. J. Hanna.

A native of New York City, Miss Wilder was graduated from New York University. Before coming to Winter Park in 1956, she was a research assistant in the Business Research Bureau, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. on the staff of the economist.

Reporter Gets Down to Nitty-Gritty Of President Johnson's Operation

By Jeff Greenfield
Collegiate Press Service

The awesome power of the President of the United States has made him the most newsworthy figure in all history. Every pronouncement, every gesture is analyzed and dissected by hundreds of men and women whose sole job is to report the activities of the Chief Executive. With the President currently recovering from an operation, these stalwart newsmen must now look to new areas which will occupy the attention of the public. Given the exhaustive job usually done on anything a President does, we may soon expect something like this:

ANNOUNCER: Because of the special report on the condition of the President the following programs will not be seen tonight: Hillbilly Neurosurgeon, Frontier Rabbi, Secret Spy Doctor, and Pantomime Quiz. We take you now to the White House, and Roger Chuck.

CHUCK: Thank you, Bill. All night long a crowd of reporters and photographers have kept a ceaseless vigil outside the White House, waiting for the latest word on the condition of the President. Thus far, these facts are clear. He has spent the 10th day of his recovery from the crucial gall bladder operation. Now, as you can see by this map, the gall bladder of the President is located about where you'd normally expect to find the gall bladder of the plain old average citizen.

ANNOUNCER: Rog, most of our audience probably saw the three-hour special last night, "The Gall Bladder-- Lynchpin of Democracy," so I...

CHUCK: Right George, I guess we can skip it. Now the President, who has undergone the 45,987th such operation thus far this decade, is now...

ANNOUNCER: Rog, I think we've pretty well filled in the audience with the one-hour color special on the history of gall bladder operations of the decade, so...

CHUCK: OK, Tom, right you are I'll get right down to it. The President is now resting on a model A 571 Sealy Posturepedic Mattress, on a White and Williams frame X bed, in the special presidential suite of the Bethesda Naval Hospital. He is wearing gold and blue pajamas.

ANNOUNCER: Rog, I wonder if could give us the political significances of those colors?

CHUCK: Sure, Pete. The political significance is that his other pajamas are in the laundry. Now thus far he has eaten three slices of toast, an egg, orange juice, a tuna salad sandwich on white...

ANNOUNCER: I think it's important to point out that when the President improves, he'll be able to eat rye bread, isn't that right, Rog?

CHUCK: Right, Ed. Rye and Pumpernickel.

ANNOUNCER: Pumpernickel, huh? CHUCK: Right.

ANNOUNCER: Funny, I didn't know that pumpernickel went with tuna salad.

CHUCK: Well, Walter, we just had a press briefing on that. Apparently that's the personal preference of the President. Another symbol of dynamic individuality.

ANNOUNCER: Right you are, Rog.

CHUCK: Now, because of what some of us regard as outrageous news management, we have been unable to get a full report on how the President is doing on his bodily functions. Hopefully we'll be able to give you a full quantitative and chronological report shortly, so our listeners and viewers can better understand the workings of the democratic process.

ANNOUNCER: Keep on pluggin' Rog.

CHUCK: Right Chet, I see my time is just about up, and I know you'll want to switch over to Chuck Roger who will be running the Isolated Camera shots of the actual operation, along with stop action photos and diagrams of the President's lower intestine. This is Roger Chuck, live, from the Isle of Pancreas.

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

On the Mailroom Front

We don't like to dig up old bones to pick, but we do not believe that the wall in the Union which blocks off some of the post office boxes is any more useful than it was when we first made mention of this nuisance last winter (See Sandspur January 20, 1965).

As far as we can tell, the wall's only purpose is to house the Union Calendar, which certainly would be more effective, if not equally so, in just about any place other than where it is now. We all know that it causes a jam-up every week-day morning at approximately 9:32 when 1,075 angry Rollins students and 100 or so faculty come charging into the cracker box-type mail room.

In our first editorial concerning this matter, we offered a solution to the mail-box shortage (up to 10 day students share one box) in addition to the problem of getting several hundred persons through a tiny door.

It's a simple matter, true. But don't simple matters usually have simple solutions?

Counting Our Blessings

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (CPS)—Some students at Kalamazoo College are getting verbal grades.

What they hear, simply, is the recorded voice of their professor evaluating and grading their term papers or lab reports. By replacing the red pencil with a dictation machine, several professors have found that they can give students more than twice as many comments without increasing the time it takes to grade a set of papers.

The school has not had the opportunity to evaluate the system scientifically but some observations, based on the 200 students involved in the initial test, have been released.

Thus far the system has been tried by professors in the English, history, philosophy, and chemistry departments. All the teachers who have tried the new form of grading plan to keep using it. Dr. John B. Moore, who introduced the system at Kalamazoo, says that student-teacher contact is greatly increased. Dr. Moore originally tried the idea in an attempt to save grading time. Instead, he found he was spending about the same amount of time grading papers but was making far more detailed comments than he did with a pen.

There have been no student complaints and much praise from those who felt they were receiving more personal attention. "We get a lot more understanding just by hearing the tone of the professor's voice," once student said.

And at Rollins we get a lot more understanding just by sitting with the professor and conducting a two-way discussion.

All She Wrote

WASHINGTON --Every school is having its parking problem and American University is no different. University officials feel the problem is so grave, in fact, that they have computerized it.

Officials say the new system will allow the business office to compute within 24 hours a list of parking offenders. Disciplinary letters will be prepared automatically by the data processing system and will be mailed to an offender within 24 hours.

According to the parking and traffic regulation office, "any student who receives three or more parking violation tickets during a school year will receive the following disciplinary actions:

- *Three violation tickets--a warning letter.
- *Four violation tickets--a 30-day suspension of parking privileges on university property.
- *Five violation tickets--dismissal from the university."

Letter to Editor

Editor:

In reference to your article, "Peaceniks in D.C.," published in the October 14 issue, I would like to commend you on a very timely piece. These Communist groups W.E.B. DuBois Clubs, the National Committee to Abolish HUAC, and other such groups, seem to have become very prominent on college campuses within the last few years.

In my opinion, some means should be found to ban them from our campuses; such groups that advocate the overthrow of our form of government have no right to assemble. These organizations tend to become very dangerous, especially when they are allowed to demonstrate in our Nation's Capital.

Peter Keyes

Editor,

In response to the letter of the last issue concerning the night school students having to buy parking stickers: last year the night school students habitually parked in zones clearly marked for no parking due to the presence of a fire hydrant, U.S. Mail zone, or other obstacles which would cut off traffic; habitually parked on the grass, in front of fraternity and sorority houses, on the sidewalk and, yes, even in the middle of the street. The students parked at the barricade on Holt Ave. so that there was barely enough room for one car to pass through.

When one compares the cost the night students pay per term hour and the cost that the boarding students pay per term hour, one might be able to see the resentment by the boarding students when they cannot find a place to park. I feel that the author of last week's letter has forgotten that it is still a privilege to attend Rollins College.

Government Control Threatens Education

The Collegiate Press Service

The chairman of the House special subcommittee on education says there is still no federal control in education but that there are some danger signs.

Rep. Edith Green (D. Ore.) and the ranking Republican on her committee, Rep. Albert H. Quie (R. Minn.), held a special press briefing on the problems of education early this week (Oct. 5) during the Education Writers Association meeting here.

Mrs. Green said she is concerned about "the ability of an administrator to run his institution as he thinks best with federal aid." As an example, she cited what federal matching funds have done for education.

A school might feel it needs a new humanities building, she said, but find matching funds available for a science building. So the school takes what money it has, gets the matching funds, and builds the science building.

Rep. Green said there is always a phrase in every education bill that says no federal agency will have control over the curriculum of any institution getting federal funds. "It is a nice phrase," she said, "and schools need to see that it is enforced."

Mrs. Green disagreed with "some colleagues in the House who want to investigate local school situations." She said she would not feel that she should even go to the school board in her home community and demand as a member of the House to investigate local problems.

Along the same lines, she said she felt the statement this summer by Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel that discrimination in sororities and fraternities could be grounds for schools losing federal monies "went beyond the federal interest." Mrs. Green said she felt the language of the Higher Education bill, now in a Senate-House conference committee, "reflects the feeling on this."

One of the points of contention on the bill in the committee is just how far discrimination in Greek letter organizations will affect a school's federal aid funds.

The progress of the bill itself is in doubt, Rep. Green said. "It depends almost solely on what happens with the legislation to repeal section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act that's now on the floor of the Senate and whether there is a filibuster."

Rep. Quie noted that the government is now providing a broader scale of aid to junior colleges and Rep. Green cautioned that junior colleges might become the "purge barrel of the future because it's much easier for a congressman to know the needs of a junior college in his hometown than those of a four-year school 500 miles away."

(Ed. Note: Sherry Haug is editor of the Valparaiso University Torch and is one of the student editors in Washington this week to cover the EWA and American Council on Education meetings.)

The Mayor was campaigning for reelection. "Bill, my old Buddy," he said to an old school mate, "can I count on your vote?" Bill hesitated. "But Bill," said the Mayor, "look at what I've done for you! Two years ago I got your father a job in the tax department. A year ago I got your sister a job teaching school. Last summer I put your son of the Police Force Right, Bill?" "Right, Mayor! But what have you done for me lately?"

Such is the response of those who are always on the receiving end; all they want to know is: What's in it for me. Some time ago someone summarized the whole matter. "We have learned to conjugate the verbs to have and to get to the exclusion of the verbs to be and to give."

Trout-Pittman Announce Engagement

By Gerry Langford
Society Editor

Mr. and Mrs. James Trout have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lynn, to James Pittman. The wedding will take place on December 30, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Jim is a Beta attending Penn State University.

A sophomore in Pi Beta Phi sorority, Lynn left on Oct. 15, to make arrangements for the big event.

On the Tuesday before she left, Lynn Forte, Sally Ewell, Mary Campbell, Jean Morey, Nancy Hopwood and Ronnie McFall gave Lynn a rousing send off "Hen party." The report of the party was: "It was TERRIFIC!" (Be sure and ask the girls to recite some of their "Poetry.")

On Wednesday Pi Beta Phi gave Lynn a lovely wedding shower. On Friday about fifteen girls including Lynn Forte, Sally Ewell, Saber Whiting, Niente Ingersoll, Nancy Hopwood, Laurie Gordon, Nancy Hutton and Mary Campbell escorted Lynn to the airport. The girls formed two lines out on the runway and threw rice on Lynn as she walked through the lines toward the airplane. Because of her tears and the excitement, Lynn dropped her hat box full of gifts and souvenirs. The event ended in tears for all attending.

Three Rollins girls are flying to Harrisburg to participate in the wedding. Sally Ewell is the Maid of Honor and Jean Morey and Nancy Hopwood are Brides' maids. The girls will wear floor length, long sleeved, A-line deep red velvet dresses with trains. Each will wear a pill box hat and carry a white fur muff.

Lynn will wear a floor length satin gown covered with lace. The gown has long sleeves and is fitted in the waist.

Lynn and Jim will honeymoon for two months skiing in Utah.

X Clubber Scotty Green grabbed the first week intramural football scoring lead with 18 points on three touchdowns in the Club's 40-0 victory over Pi Rho. Trailing Green are TKE passing combination, quarterback Dave Bussler and end Boyd Gruhn.

Gruhn has 14 points on a pair of touchdowns, a pass and an interception, and two extra point passes. Bussler is a point behind on two TD runs and a conversion. Two of Green's scores were on passes from quarterback Chuck Olsen and the other came on an interception runback.

TKE also grabbed the leadership in several other grid categories after their record 73-0 plastering of the Independent Men. Left-handed quarterback Dave Bussler heads the passing department with six TD passes and seven conversion aeri-

Bussler, who is third in scoring with 13 points, has accounted for 56 points in only one game. TKE also leads the league in total team scoring, 73 points, and is tied for the leadership in team defense with the X Club, permitting no points by the opposition.

Behind Gruhn and Bussler in the scoring race are Chuck Thomas of Delta Chi, Chuck Olsen of the X Club and Dave McKibben of TKE. The Clubbers are second in scoring with 40 total points.

Univ. of Miami Trips F.S.C., 3-1

The University of Miami continued its winning ways Oct. 9 defeating Florida Southern College 3-1 in Miami.

Inside Victor Gavancho led the way for the Hurricanes with two goals to give him the team leadership at four tallies. Miami dropped defending Florida Intercollegiate Conference champion Stetson 7-1 in their opener.

Delts Capture Grid Lead; TKE Swamps Indies, 73-0

Delta Chi came from six points behind to trip the X Club Tuesday and take over sole possession of the intramural flag football league lead. Last week TKE erased a three-year-old scoring record with a 73-0 romp over the Independent Men and Lambda Chi dumped the Faculty-Grads 27-12.

Rain postponed the Sigma Nu-KA game Monday, forcing the Snakes to begin their title defense next Monday against Pi Rho Sigma. Sigma Nu, league champion for the past three seasons, will be shooting for its 26th consecutive win.

Thursday unbeaten Lambda Chi faces the Independent Men. Next week's schedule includes Pi Rho Sigma vs. Sigma Nu on Monday, Independents vs. KA on Tuesday, Faculty-Grads vs. X Club on Wednesday, and Lambda Chi vs. TKE on Thursday.

X Club quarterback Chuck Olsen passed to Ken Sparks midway through the first quarter to give the Clubbers a 6-0 advantage. Olsen's extra point pass was incomplete.

In an apparent kicking situation Barry Milner threw a touchdown aerial to Chuck Thomas, knotting the score early in the second period. Milner's conversion pass was also unsuccessful.

The Delts moved ahead to stay when Thomas took the second half kickoff on his own goal line and raced 80 yards for his fourth touchdown of the season. Again the extra point try missed.

After stopping the Club following the kickoff, the Delts completed four straight long passes, all of which were nullified by penalties, and Bill Bartlett was forced to punt.

The Club moved the ball to the Delt 35 on a run by Olsen and a pass to Scotty Green, but, on the first play of the fourth stanza, freshman Murray Geiges picked off an Olsen aerial on the Delt 30 to halt the drive.

With the aid of a 15-yard penalty Delta Chi drove to the Club 29.

However, the drive stalled when Thomas dropped a fourth down pass on the one yard stripe. The final minutes ticked off as a penalty moved the X Clubbers into scoring range, but Ken Sparks bobbled an Olsen throw near the end zone and two successive losses forced them back near midfield.

The Delt defense saved the game by breaking up Olsen's two desperation passes to Ken Sparks in the final seconds.

Eight Tekes scored during the record shattering contest with senior Boyd Gruhn's 14 points leading the way. In all, TKE racked up ten touchdowns, nine conversions and two safeties.

Quarterback Dave Bussler, who scored 13 points and was on the throwing end of 43 others, opened the Teke onslaught with a 41-yard scoring strike to center Ed McNair. End Pete Exline grabbed Bussler's extra point pass to put TKE ahead 7-0.

Following the kickoff, Dan Pince-tich snatched Indie quarters. Mickey Hand's flag in the end zone for a safety, and before quarters ended Bussler romped 30 yards for another score.

Bussler started the Tekes run again in the second period by driving Ed Geiger for a two-point conversion. Bussler then hit Exline and Gruhn with TD tosses before Gruhn played an indie aerial for his second tally of the quarter, upping the count to 38-0 at halftime.

A 20-yard touchdown aerial by Bussler to Pincetich and Bussler's conversion pass to blocking back George Neslie were the only scores in the second half.

With the Tekes needing 26 points for the record the Independents opened the final stanza by engineering their only drive of the game. Hand hit Bruce Behrens with a 30-yard pass as the Indies moved to the TKE 15 before surrendering the ball on downs.

Sophomore flanker Dave McKibben gave the Tekes a shot at a record, scoring two quick touchdowns on a 65-yard pass play and an 11-yard interception. Bussler's TD aerial to Allan Curtis put the Tekes within six points with only 10 minutes left.

About a minute later, Mario Monteto stopped the Indies last effort with a 21-yard return of an intercepted pass, making his way to the nine yard stripe. A play later Bussler sped around right end in the 72nd point and then hit Gruhn with the final conversion of the game.

Despite playing in a heavy rain, Lambda Chi jumped off to a 27-0 lead before the Faculty-Grads contest and coasted to a 27-12 victory.

Quarterback Don Phillips flipped a scoring aerial to end Jim Ackerman early in the second quarter to Lambda Chi rolling, and then converted on a pitch to Bob Gustafson.

After a 40-yard pass to Pete Fonts put the ball on the 1-yard

The X Club, runnerup to undefeated Sigma Nu last season, lost only two starters off their 1964 squad and should continue to be one of the top flag football teams in intramurals this fall.

Their only defeats last season were at the hands of the Snakes.

The Club offense will be in the hands of quarterback Chuck Olsen again this year. In ends Scotty Green and Ken Sparks, flanker Jimmy Oppenheim and center Rusty Shapleigh. Olsen will find speedy, if not experienced, receivers. Back up pass catchers will be Paul Julius and Pete Greeson.

One of the fastest sprinters on campus, Sparks should be an able replacement for 1964 graduate Jim Stein.

Also in the backfield with Olsen will be blocking backs Gary Lavin and Jock MacIntosh, spelled by Al Hollon and John Pinder. Terry Carr was a regular blocking back last year.

be Barry Russomanno, 6-4 from West Caldwell, N.J., who has an injured leg, and Jim Murphy, also 6-4 from St. Petersburg, recovering from an appendectomy.

Within the next two weeks Coffie will pare the squad to the 14 he will carry during the season, therefore giving the players more time to work as a unit.

Nightly practices are primarily fundamentals drills, including dribbling, passing and shooting, and conditioning Coffie said. Some of the basic Tar plays are being reviewed, he added, and the boys will work on the fast break offense frequently.

"We looked pretty good right now and the experience shows," Coffie said, "but we have a long way to go. I've got to see how the new boys look and how far the returning players have come before I can be sure, but I think we can get the ball and fast break."

In later drills Coffie will try to teach the new Tar cagers the time to try fast breaks and prepare them for pressing defenses. "Last year we lost at least four games because we panicked when the opponents pressed us," he added.

Four of last year's starting five, Tom Sacha, Millard Nixon, Dave Pearlman and Gary Kilmer, are back this season, as are veterans Jack Ceccarelli and Ken Hill, who did not letter in 1964-65. Bob Chandler, who was ineligible as a transfer last year, will be bidding for one of the guard spots.

Nixon, 6-5, plus transfers Richard Wright 6-7 and Ed Albers 6-6 could provide the Tar with the big rebounders they have needed for several campaigns.

73-0 Bad Sports?

Much has been said about TKE's record massacre of the Independent Men's flag football team last Wednesday. Several people criticized the lopsided 73-0 verdict as a display of poor sportsmanship, but apparently none of them were Independents.

Since the Tekes were on the opposite end of the previous record slaughter, losing to Sigma Nu 71-0 in 1962, seniors like blocking back George Neslie and end Mario Mazzonetto know how it feels to lose big. In fact, it was Neslie and Mazzonetto who engineered the safety which foiled the Snakes 69-0 plans.

Anyway, unless you figure 28 points in the final quarter signifies a bid for the record, TKE did not pour it on. Quarterback Dave Bussler and his receivers employed only three or four different pass patterns, and all 10 Tekes dressed for the game played as much as possible.

What were the Tekes to have done? Refused to score after they had a substantial lead? If they had done something like putting a lineman at quarterback (which wouldn't be any disadvantage since center Ed McNair, Neslie and end Boyd Gruhn have all been starting Teke field generals in years past) or trying to run up the middle, it would have been just as embarrassing to the Indies.

Now, I suppose that it will become a contest to see who can run up the biggest score against the Indies. If a team is not good competition for the other teams in the league, its opponents should treat it like a practice team, disregarding the Indies and working on their own offense and defense, no matter what the score. The Indies enjoy playing.

TKE got a lot of breaks which contributed to the high score, such as two safeties, two TD interceptions and two more swipes that set up scores.

Just a few notes from here and there:

It was good to see Jim Kaat in the World Series the past two weeks. Kaat, who won the second game for the Minnesota Twins, was a frequent visitor to Rollins baseball practices last spring while the Twins were training in Orlando.

Kaat and Jerry Kindall, a Twin infielder, spoke to a number of Rollins athletes at an organizational meeting of a campus group of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes last March.

Despite dropping two series games, Kaat posted a 3.86 E.R.A. Both his losses were at the hands of -- you guessed it -- Sandy Koufax.

Remember those penalty kicks explained in the last edition of Tarpaper? Well, it was one of those direct penalty jobs when the goalie alone tries to defend 192 square feet of goal without moving until an opponent standing only a few yards away boots the ball at the net that gave Miami the momentum.

Tars Drop Second, 4-1 Host Lions Saturday

For the second consecutive Saturday Rollins' soccer team failed to pick up its initial 1965 victory, this week failing to the undefeated University of Miami 4-1 on the Sandspur Bowl.

The Tar booters wind up a two-match home stand at 2 p.m. Saturday as they host St. Leo College from near Dade City. St. Leo's Lions have never met Rollins in a regular season athletic contest.

"We played St. Leo in a practice match last season," Justice said, "and they showed a fast moving offense with a number of Latin Americans forming the nucleus of the attack. We can't take them lightly."

Rollins again "looked good in defeat," according to Tar coach Joe Justice, but he added, "I wish we would play a bad game and win."

Much of this week will be spent learning the rules, he said. "We just can't keep beating ourselves by not knowing how to play the game."

Justice and Coach Ernie Wraschek plan to go with approximately the same lineup Saturday as they used against the Hurricanes. Gordon Steen and Roy Clark should start as wings, Wil Flohr and Ted Staley at inside, Jeff Birch as center forward, Tom Thompson, Larry Maura and Doug Kerr at the half, Bob Schabes and Steve Feller as fullbacks and Lane Taylor in the goal.

Taking advantage of a Tar error, the Hurricanes grabbed a 1-0 lead early in the first quarter last Saturday. Miami added another tally before the period was through and then withstood a late Rollins charge to take the match.

Veteran inside Ramon Poo, playing halfback to bolster an injury-riddled line, sent Miami ahead on a direct penalty kick with only 1:53 gone in the opening stanza. The free boot was called when Tar fullback Feller touched the ball with his hands while in the penalty area.

Miami continued to press the attack throughout the quarter and scored again on Victor Gavancho's goal with 5:20 left. Gavancho, Miami's leading scorer with five tallies, pumped the ball into the left corner of the net.

After a scoreless second quarter, the Tar offense began to click, virtually dominating play in the third frame. Rollins battled back to trim the lead to 2-1 on freshman Flohr's 15-yard boot with 10:50 remaining in the third period.

However, Hurricane halfback Herbert Meerman found center forward Reggie Vorbe ahead of the Tar defense on an in-bounds throw in and the Haitian booter's kick eluded goalie Taylor to give Miami a 3-1 bulge.

Inside Juan Rubio closed the Hurricane scoring on a 20-yard scoring boot with 16:20 left in the final frame.

The Tar booters tried to battle back, but Miami's sophomore goaltender Jorge Rubinstein gobbled up everything that came his way. Rubinstein finished the match with 14 saves to 11 for Taylor.

Tar coach Joe Justice attributed the loss to Rollins mistakes, but lauded the performance of Flohr, who has accounted for three of the four Tar goals this season, Taylor, Feller and halfback Chuck Gordon.

"If we hadn't given them that penalty kick early in the game and if we hadn't muffed our own (Rubinstein blocked Birch's penalty try)," he said, "this might have been a different game."

"We made another mistake in going up the middle every time instead of passing to the wings," Justice added. Center forward Birch and inside Flohr and Staley took about half of the Tar shots.

Unbeaten in three starts, Miami takes on St. Louis University in Miami Saturday.

Tar Sailors Finish Second In Winter Garden Regatta

By FRANK WEDDELL

Members of the Rollins Sailing Club took their second straight second place trophy Sunday in the Winter Garden Sailing Regatta on Lake Apopka.

Freshman John Thayer finished second in the overall standings and senior Jack Roberts won two of three Regatta class races.

This Regatta, unlike the Lakeland races a week ago, involved 11 different sailboat classes and five Rollins boats were entered in the Sunfish class. Races were staggered according to the speed and sail size of the class.

In the opening event, Tar boats crossed the finish line one-two, but the pacesetter, piloted by Roberts and Chris Wilder, was disqualified for touching a buoy when it spun around, wiping out most of the competition, early in the race.

Therefore, Thayer in the second Sunfish across, was awarded the victory.

After battling Bruce Blackman of Winter Park for the lead in the second race, Roberts and Wilder caught a heavy gust and coasted to an easy win.

"We were passing bigger boats two classes ahead of us," Roberts said. "It was like a sleigh ride. I've never gone so fast in boat so small."

The final race was a repeat of the second with Roberts and Wilder winning easily. Thayer, who finished third in the second race, was fourth in the third.

Blackman took first place in the tourney, followed by Thayer. Also competing for Rollins were Debby Davis, John Thorp, Pam Miller, Ladd Lewis, Ben Sonz, Candy Frazer, Sherry Stewart and Hal Slack.

The wind on the lake was extremely high and brought a lot of action for two rescue boats from the Winter Garden and Ocoee fire departments. These boats spent the day righting and towing disabled craft, including one Rollins entry which had a mast stuck in the mud.

Girl Netters Tackle FSU

The Rollins women's tennis team travels to Tallahassee Saturday to face the Florida State University women netters, according to Miss Virginia Mack, director of women's sports.

Making the trip will be veterans Pam Lewis, Guiliana Petersen, and Cheryl Swift, plus freshmen Mary Ann Foniri of North Scituate, Mass., Wendy Overton of Ormond Beach and Gretchen Vosters of Wilmington, Del.

Last year the Rollins women defeated Florida State.

with a 13 yard scamper. Phillips again hit Gustafson for the extra point.

The final Lambda Chi marker came on Phillips' TD pass to Joe Bohannon and the Phillips-Gustafson conversion team clicked again to stretch the lead to 27-0.

Battling back the Faculty-Grads moved the ball to the Lambda Chi 3 in the third period after a 25-yard run by quarterback Boyd Coffie and Coffie's 25-yard pass to Dave Schechter. Coffie dove in for the score, but the extra point pass was incomplete.

Bob Balink returned an interception to the end zone for the final score of the game.

TKE and the Faculty are battling for the tennis leadership with identical 1-0, 10 match point records.

The Faculty and the X Club won their tennis openers last week to challenge TKE for the top spot. Matches between Sigma Nu and Delta Chi and between Pi Rho and Lambda Chi were postponed.

USF Brahman Drop First, 4-1

The University of South Florida booters suffered their first loss Oct. 9 as they fell to Jacksonville University 4-1 in Jacksonville.

The USF Golden Brahman face Rollins on the Sandspur Bowl Nov. 6 and host the Tars in Tampa in Dec. 4. Jacksonville, a former Florida Intercollegiate Conference foe, does not face Rollins in soccer this season.

A week before, USF dumped another future Rollins opponent St. Leo College, 4-2 as Helge Verde scored all four Brahman goals. South Florida played Stetson Saturday.

League leading TKE faces the Delta Chi netters Thursday. Lambda Chi and the graduate students square off next Monday and Sigma Nu-Delta Chi and Faculty-TKE matches are slated for next Tuesday.

Ping Pong competition kicked off Wednesday in four dormitories and continues next Wednesday in New, Rex Beach, Rollins and O'Neal Halls.
