72nd Year No. 1

THE ROLLINS SANDSPUR, WINTER PARK, FLORIDA

Parents' Weekend To Be Held Feb. 11, 12, 13

Students and their parents will have an unusual opportunity to meet together on the Rollins campus when the annual Parents Weekend is held on February 11-13. The program for the Parents Weekend attempts to accomplish two main objectives. First, it is possible for a large number of the parents to visit their sons and daughters and see them in the Rollins environment. Second, parents are given the opportunity to meet and talk with the professors.

A full slate of activities has been arranged for the visiting parents. Following Friday's registration, a reception will be held at the First National Bank at Winter Park between 2 and 5 p.m. After this, a cocktail party and dinner is planned at the Langford Hotel, where parents and faculty will become acquainted. At dinner that night, President McKean will speak, outlining the present goals of a Rollins education and discussing the changes in physical plan and curriculum which will take place in the future. At 8:30 p.m. the Annie Russell Theater production of School for Scandal will be shown to the parents.

On Saturday morning parents will have the opportunity to talk with the professors. The annual business meeting of the Rollins Parents Association at 12 noon will elect new officers, discuss future plans, and present awards to members who have made outstanding contributions to the college. After this meeting the remainder of the day and evening will be free for parents and their children to take advantage of the activities in the area.

Parents Weekend will end on Sunday with a special parent-student service in the Chapel. Following this, coffee and donuts will be served at the freshmen dormitories.

This Parents Weekend is headed by Sue Stiles. Members of the committee who have been working for Parents Weekend since last February are Bill Blackburn, Carol Bowersock, Margi Ehle, Cary Kresge, Ed Maxey, Polly Perrott, Sue Raynor, and Lindley Willson, who all operate under the leadership of Mr. Robert Bahnson, Rollins Director of Development. The Parents Weekend Committee for 1966 anticipates an increase in the number of visiting parents and expects a successful weekend.

Chuck Olsen and Bob Balink raise the American flag while Doug Kerr and Niels Menko raise the Holland flag. Looking on are President and Mrs.

Hugh McKean, Dean Burdell, Vice President Tiedtke, Robert Crane, new trustee; Dr. Paul Douglass, Dr. Hellwege, and Marc Young.

Country Of The Year Opens

The Netherlands flag was raised at the entrance to Carnegie Hall on Tuesday, December 14, where it will fly alongside the American flag as part of the Country of the Year Program.

Among those participating in the brief ceremony which officially marked the beginning of the observance of the Netherlands Year were President and Mrs. McKean, Robert Crane, a new trustee, Dean Burdell, Vice President Tiedtke, Dr. Paul Douglass, Dr. Hellwege, and Marc Young, Director of Alumni Affairs.

Rollins trustees selected the Netherlands as Country of the Year to continue a program that was initiated three years ago to advance international understanding by studying a particular foreign country in depth throughout the academic year.

President McKean is serving as chairman of the Country of the Year Committee, and Marc Young is the executive chairman. Other members of the Committee and their area of responsibility include: Academic Encouragement—Audrey Packham, Robert Costello, Virginia Mack, and Bob Balink; Fine Arts—James Kornwolf, Thomas Breckman, and Charles Nisbet; Off Campus Hosts and Arrangements—William Fletcher, Sue Raynor; Publicity-Public Relations—Fran Conklin, Bea Wilder, William Deitenbeck; Student Activities—Doug Kerr, Sue Raynor, Chuck Olsen, Cary Kresge, Patsy Blackburn, and Fred Suarez.

These Committees have already been hard at work organizing a full schedule of activities to acquaint the College with the history, economic achievements, cultural heritage, and traditions of the Dutch nation.

This year the Fiesta Committee plans to correlate its activities with the Country of the Year Program. The theme of Fiesta this year will be Holland, and the floats for the parade will be built with the Dutch theme in mind. A special "Focus on Holland" event on April 15 will feature folk dancing, folk singing, and a Dutch meal. An art festival on the library lawn will highlight some of the cultural and artistic accomplishments of the Netherlands.

Rollins College radio station WPRK is featuring several special programs on the Country of the Year. Every Monday evening at 7:30 a program of music by Netherlands composers will be presented. On Thursday evenings at 7:00 a series of Holland Music Festivals will be heard. On Wednesdays at 4:30 there will be a program of the latest jazz from the Netherlands. In addition, the WPRK special events crews are ready to interview anybody on campus who has thoughts about the Country of the Year.

There will be a special Rollins student "Holland Day" set for Wednesday, January 26, and will include a Dutch breakfast and dinner. Holland slides will be shown in the Union during B period.

The menu for the day will consist of:

Breakfast:

Hot chocolate, boiled eggs, and ham and cheese.

Dinner:

Typical Dutch meal of rice, meat, Indonesian sauces and side dishes of chopped bacon, fried bananas, peanuts and cucumbers.

Counselors To Meet Here For Conferance

High school principals, headmasters, and guidance counselors from 23 states will converge on the campus to take part in the Seventh Annual Rollins Conference on January 28-30. The event, according to its coordinator, Dean of Admissions Spencer Lane, is designed to acquaint as many high school educators as possible with the environment and opportunities at Rollins. In turn, these counselors will be able to offer first hand advice and information to high school students. Thus, this program is an important means of reaching prospective students and interesting them in attending Rollins.

Ample opportunities are available for conference participants to get a complete picture of student life. After registration on Friday, tours of the campus will be conducted by the student guides, and participants will eat dinner in the Beanery. Later small groups will meet in New Hall to engage in informal and candid discussions with student groups. Activities on Saturday will include a morning talk by President McKean, a progress report on the Honors Program by Dr. Wavell, and a panel discussion of "Proposed Curriculum Changes at Rollins" led by Dean Hill.

Beth Davis watches as her parents register for Parents Weekend.

Armstrong To Speak On Viet Nam

Kenneth Armstrong

The war in Viet Nam will be the subject of a lecture and short film on Monday, January 24, at 8 p.m. in Bingham Hall. The Union Educational Entertainment committee brings South Viet Nam expert Kenneth S. Armstrong to the Rollins campus to discuss this controversial issue.

Armstrong's first-hand information is based on his three extensive assignments in Viet Nam. During this time he has been up to the front lines in helicopters and has viewed the death-filled rice paddies. Armstrong is always seeking the story behind the headlines. His understanding of the Viet Nam war is made possible by his having familiarized himself with all types of South Viet Nam people.

In a letter referring to a recent lecture of Mr. Armstrong's, the Ripon student body president wrote, "The Ripon College student body found Mr. Armstrong to be a very interesting and educational speaker."

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Armstrong's past three years have included over a year of observing, reporting, and producing documentary films in Southeast Asia. Before this, his film topic had been satellite countries and the Soviet Union. Once director of News and Public Affairs for Cleveland's WJW-TV, he has also had reports featured in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A. G. Bush Dies

Rollins has lost a great friend in the death of Mr. Archibald Granville Bush, 78, industrialist, philanthropist and trustee of the college, who died Sunday at his Winter Park home.

He will be long remembered at Rollins for his leadership as well as his great contributions to the College, including the funds for the A. G. Bush Science Center.

Chairman of the executive committee of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. (3M), Bush received lifetime honors from the college last Thursday.

Memorial services for Bush will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church of Winter Park.

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

This issue marks the 72nd year of publication of the Sandspur. In the recent past there has been much discussion about the role of a student newspaper on the Rollins Campus. Part of this discussion has been reflected by the Publications Union which has made important changes in the Sandspur. For one thing, future editors will take office at the beginning of the academic year and serve for the remaining part of the school year, instead of changing editors at the end of the Fall term. This, the term of office of the present editor will only last two terms, making the transition which we have just made possible.

This is not the only change. We have revamped the physical layout of the paper, using the letter press process of printing which will allow us to produce a neater paper on more attractive stock. There are also changes which are not so noticeable, at least not at first. We would like to think that our readers are so engrossed in what they are reading that they will read every word, and we want to give them something worth reading. To do this we need to develop a newspaper that does not just represent the viewpoint of one person or one social group but a newspaper that reflects the interest and opinion of the college as a whole. At the same time we wish to promote student participation and identification with the college. As has not been the practice of the past, we plan to work closely with such important campus organizations such as the Student Council and the Student Union. Thus, unlike past editors, we are not interested in controversy for controversy's sake but when we feel that we have something worthwhile to say, we will not hesitate to say it.

Unlike the past editors we have not had the benefit of the co-operation of the outgoing staff. We have had to start from scratch in straightening out circulation lists, printing contracts, budgets, and office operations.

In spite of the initial difficulties, we plan to bring out a Sandspur of real merit. We hope to move forward to an improved Sandspur during the remainder of the year.

Library Losses Reported

A recent investigation by Mrs. Alice M. Hansen, head librarian, has brought to light the startling fact that losses of material have reached critical proportions. Many encyclopedias, reference books, and bound periodicals have been taken out of the library and not returned. Last year this loss amounted to over $1,000. This prevents many students from obtaining books which are needed for completing assignments. This also places a burden on the library since it has to replace these missing items. At the same time the excessive loss of library material presents a bad image of the character of the Rollins student. This is a situation which needs to be corrected by responsible action on the part of every individual. In a college like Rollins, where the library facilities are appropriate to the size of the school, it should be the duty of every student to use the library with care and consideration.

A Note To Parents

We know that all parents desire to be informed about all phases of activities on the Rollins campus. With this in mind, we realize that many of you sent in your money at the beginning of the year to receive the school newspaper. However, in many cases, those who subscribed have not been sent all of the issues. In addition, the change in editors has left the present staff in the position of not knowing who is to receive copies. We are deeply concerned about this, and we wish to do anything we can to correct the past mistakes and fulfill the obligations of the Sandspur. Therefore, we have come up with a workable solution to the problem. If all of those who have sent in their money will just let us know who they are, we will be glad to send you your copies for the rest of the year. We also have on hand a number of back issues which we will also let you have upon request. A reply form is below for your convenience.

At the same time we would like to make it known to all parents that the Letters to the Editor column is open for contributions from parents. If there are any comments or questions you would like to ask, please feel free to write in and let us know what the parents think about different campus issues.

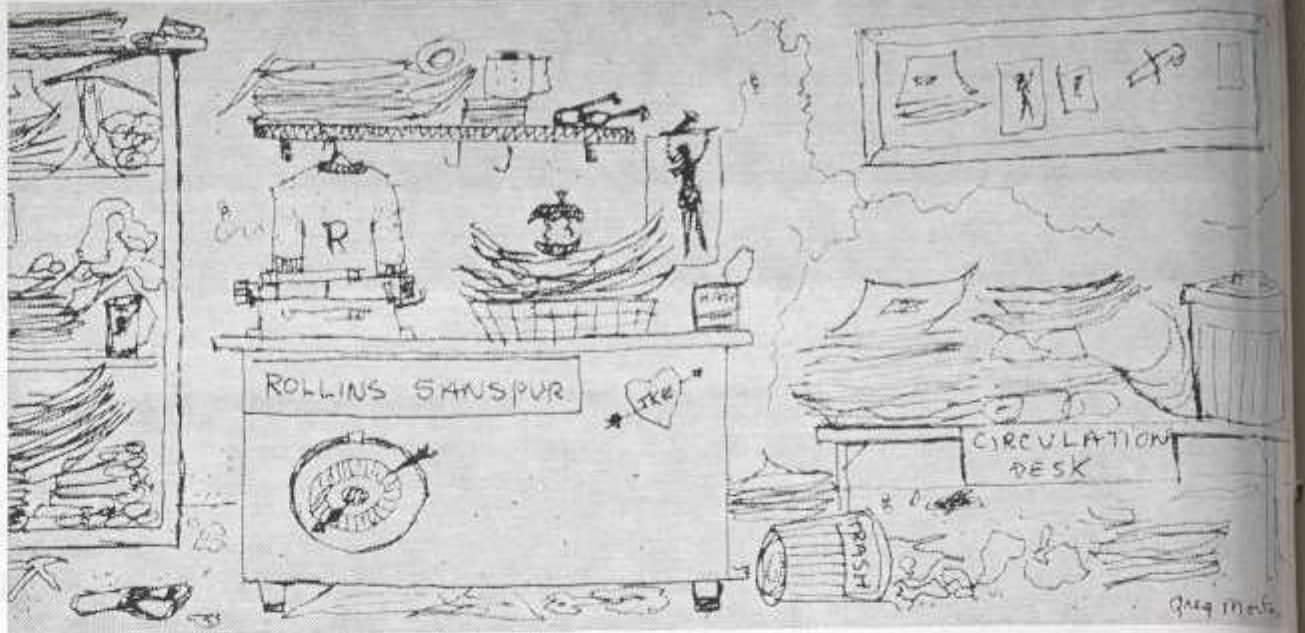

To you parents who have not yet subscribed, we would like to extend an invitation to receive the new Sandspur for the remainder of the school year. The nominal charge for this service is $4.00, which includes postage and handling.

— I have paid my money for the SANDSPUR. Please send me all future copies.

— I would like to have back issues which I have paid for.

— I would like to subscribe for the duration of the school year and have enclosed $4.00.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

I assume that your coverage of the South Viet Nam question was designed, at least partially, to elicit response. If so, I am responding.

First I would like to say that while few would claim that protesters against American involvement in Viet Nam speak for a "whole generation," or even for a majority of the American people, it should not be concluded that this opposition is composed of "kooks," "beatniks" and/or communists. As a matter of fact, the debate is being conducted on a much higher level than this; the opposition includes such noted authorities (and ostensibly patriotic, red-blooded Americans) as Hans Morgenthau and Bernard Fall, to name but two.

But, of course, the problem is not the protesters but Viet Nam itself. That American involvement in that country is being debated at all indicates considerable confusion as to why we have committed ourselves so heavily there. The present administration has done nothing to alleviate this confusion. On the one hand, Secretary Rusk and Ambassador Goldberg state that we are in Viet Nam to support a freely-elected, independent government from aggression. Now everyone knows there is no freely elected, independent government in South Viet Nam; there is only the government under a military leader that this country allows to exist. In addition, this justification seems to imply that we and the South Viet Namese military leaders would allow a communist government, if freely-elected, to control that country. This I seriously doubt. This justification seems clearly refuted by our own actions.

On the other hand, President Johnson and Secretary McNamara tell us that we are in South Viet Nam to halt the spread of Communism; they invoke the old "domino theory" that as goes South Viet Nam so goes all Southeast Asia. This is the most popular justification for it is simple and direct, it appeals to the American moral crusading sense by pitting good against evil—the good guys against the bad guys. Moreover, it is a safe theory because it cannot be proved or disproved unless we withdraw from South Viet Nam, which does not seem likely in the near future.

I am uncertain about this justification for two reasons: first, we do not have the resources to contain the spread of communism in Southeast Asia, for as every schoolboy knows that area is ripe for communist penetration. Only a drastic change in the social, economic and political situation will make that area stable. If the struggle in Viet Nam shows nothing else, it makes perfectly clear that that area's problems will be solved, not by military force, but by revolutionary change.

My second concern with this anti-communist crusade justification is that Red China, not communism per se, is the motivating power in Southeast Asia. Even if we eliminated the communist threat there, the power of Red China would remain. Sometimes, somewhere the United States must come to terms with this nation, as the Southeast Asians are now trying to do.

Where this leaves this country I do not know. I do know that no one has given me a satisfactory, acceptable justification for the tremendous American commitment in Viet Nam. I can only hope that the protesters will continue to march, that writers will continue to oppose in order to force the present administration to construct a Southeast Asia policy on firmer foundations. In the meantime, I find little educational benefit from seeing repeated the same old clichés and commonplaces about how the spread of communism is undermining our free institutions and how this nation is the great protector of the free world against Godless Communism, et cetera. It is full of sound and fury, but is it the basis for a rational foreign policy?

Dear Editor:

For the past several years in January, Rollins College has been honored to have as guests on our campus, leading guidance directors, school principals, headmasters and headmistresses from some of the nation's leading secondary schools.

For the most part, these are schools from which large numbers of Rollins students have graduated. They come to Rollins, at our invitation, to talk with students, to consult with the faculty, and to hear of our plans for the future.

Without a doubt the high spot of the conference is the Friday afternoon campus tour given by students, followed by dinner in the Beanery and concluded with a discussion held between students and counselor guests.

Our school friends will be on campus January 28 and 29, and we shall certainly appreciate your courtesy to these visitors and distinguished guests.

SPENCER LANE
Dean of Admissions

Editor:

Not too many years ago, Rollins was a little school in Florida whose daring innovations were continuously leaving the academic world shocked and amazed. The Rollins of that day was a school dominated by a vigorous spirit of intellectual adventure. It was a school that had the intellectual courage to forsake the security of traditional methods for things like the conference system of education, four year admissions, and gradeless courses. Controversy, the first step towards understanding, was inherent in the program and objectives of the college.

Does the Rollins of today still have the intellectual courage that enabled the Rollins of the past to withstand and thrive on controversy? Regrettably, it does not. Our college has become so spineless, so afraid of anything that might cause the slightest ripple of dissension that our Student Association has seen fit to cancel the long scheduled appearance of the controversial Negro author LeRoi Jones. This action was taken, it is clear, simply because Jones has the habit of attacking our white middle-class society in rather caustic and picturesque terms. What our student leaders seem to have forgotten is that to the true intellectual, there is nothing that is sacred or above challenge. If this college is really interested in the search for truth, supposedly the purpose of both intellectuals and colleges, it would seem that we should be eager to hear Mr. Jones' views regardless of his obnoxious qualities.

UNION RETREAT AT PELICAN

On the weekend of January 8-9 the Student Union held its annual leadership conference at the Pelican in New Smyrna Beach. The Student Union Retreat, directed and organized by Laura Barnes, vice president of the Program Board, was attended by twenty-eight students who had been selected to participate because of their active involvement in Student Union activities. On the first day the conference divided into five different groups to discuss some of the important posed talk on March 15 by the controversial Negro author Leroy Jones. It was felt by the Union Board of Managers that the $700 he would receive for speaking at Rollins could be better used in having a speaker who is more of an acknowledged expert on the civil rights movement. Several persons, however, expressed the view that Jones should be allowed to speak on the Rollins campus.

Another suggestion to improve

issues and problems that confront the Union and its activities. Then on Sunday the groups came back together to meet as a whole and reviewed some of the proposed solutions for Union problems which were discussed in individual groups.

The two main issues which came to the forefront of discussion were the problems of student apathy toward the Union and the problem of improving the Union program. Jack Lindquist, director of the Union, and assistant to the Dean of Men, summarized the discussion in these words:

Apathy and lack of awareness of the vital concerns outside the insulated Rollins community seemed to retreat delegates the weakest aspects of the campus extra-curricular atmosphere, and The Union is determined to sponsor faculty student forums and to bring in national figures who will somehow stimulate students to achieve interest and involvement. With leadership the caliber of these delegates, inroads on campus apathy may just succeed, and I certainly wish the Union luck.

One point that was emphasized in the discussion of student indifference was the need for student loyalty to the college and its activities, instead of mere allegiance to their social groups. It was felt that fraternities and sororities should work more closely with the Union in all matters. For example, fraternities and sororities could sponsor individual cocktail parties before the all-college dances.

The second point brought out in the discussion was the need to widen the horizons of the activities of the Union. The need was seen to develop quality programs which would meet the interests of the students. Also evident was the need for increased publicity for Union events.

One step forward that the Union has recently taken is the initiation of its Distinguished Personality Series which brings noted speakers on campus to discuss controversial topics of national importance. One problem that arose was the recent action of the Union Board of Managers in cancelling the pro-

Union programs was to utilize better means of publicity to encourage participation and generate enthusiasm. Specific suggestions were: centralized bulletin boards, use the lighted Union publicity board in the Beanery more effectively, utilize the WPRK facilities for Union activity coverage, and to reorganize the Union calendar.

Here are some of the comments made by Union leaders at the conference:

DOUG KERR, PRESIDENT OF THE UNION BOARD OF MANAGERS

One aspect of the Rollins Union which has been continually criticized, and rightly so, is the publicity. However, there has been a reorganization of the publicity committee, and the present set-up is, I feel, adequate to promote Union programs.

One major problem we confronted in the past year was the lack of publicity and cooperation with the Sandspur. Therefore, some of the events which were unsuccessful due to lack of publicity will, in the future, be successful if there is more cooperation and publicity given by the Sandspur.

BOBBIE WARTHAN, SECRETARY, BOARD OF MANAGERS

One of the chief problems that has been found in the actual formation and effective running of Union Committees has been student apathy. The correction of this problem must start with freshmen, and through them it must filter up to the upper-classes in order to weed out those people of the old caste who have not and do not care. Until these people are removed, Rollins cannot function as the institution it is. It is hoped that through the reshaping of the Union this will be carried out.

LAURA BARNES, VICE-PRESIDENT, PROGRAM BOARD

It is about time that Rollins students showed more loyalty and interest not only to their sorority or fraternity, but to the various committees or school activities that they belong to.

CHUCK OLSEN, PRESIDENT, STUDENT LEGISLATURE

During the beginning of the year, extra time should be devoted to the selection of the chairmen of the various Student Union Committees. The Chairman must be interested in the type of committee he is responsible for and should generate as much enthusiasm as possible to the members of that committee.

PETE GREASON, CHAIRMAN, INDOOR - OUTDOOR; CAROLE CONKLIN, INDOOR-OUTDOOR

We have found that there is a good amount of enthusiasm for the Union, but it has too often gone undirected. The Union must attempt to provide a more two-sided exposure to current problems, for this is the goal of the liberal arts college.

SUE RAYNOR, CHAIRMAN, EDUCATION ENTERTAINMENT

More upperclassmen should participate in the leadership and make-up of the Committees.

GEOFF ROBERTSON, SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENT CHAIRMAN

Invest a certain amount of money into centrally located bulletin boards to advertise events.

GREELEY WELLS, FINE ARTS CHAIRMAN

It should not be said that the Rollins school spirit is good or bad, right or wrong. These arbitrary value judgments are meaningless. A college spirit does exist, and concerned people should deal with it as it exists, although it may not reflect the image they commonly hold.

MIA HANSON, FINE ARTS,

There should be a great deal more diversification in Student Union activities, such as having student poetry or special type dancing.

Phi Delts At New Quarters In Pflug House

At the beginning of the winter term the members of the Phi Delta Beta local fraternity, who are presently petitioning the Phi Delta Theta National Fraternity for a charter, moved into their fraternity house at 432 Chase Avenue. The Pflug House now allows the Brothers to live in one dorm for the first time, thus enabling them to build fraternity spirit and enthusiasm.

The Brothers were pleased to see President Don Handy return after a term of absence, and to learn that he will soon be traveling back home to Indianapolis to get married.

The House, which at one time housed a sorority, is a unique two story building affording living quarters for eighteen men. Among its many assets are central and unit air conditioning, a new color television set, a large backyard bordering on the public beach, and adequate parking facilities. The Brothers of the Phi Delta Beta Fraternity would like to invite anyone to drop in and see the house for themselves.

Craftsman Award Given Professor Jim Anderson

Professor Jim Anderson, a member of the art department faculty at Rollins College, won a first place award in the recent Florida Craftsman Show at Deland. His winning entry was a cast gold ring with black opal stone. This medieval ring was selected by the Smithsonian Institute to be exhibited and circulated throughout the United States for two years. Anderson has also been chosen as one of eleven artists to represent the crafts in the Florida State Fair.

The Rollins instructor holds the Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Georgia, and has been a member of the Rollins faculty since 1961.

Mr. Anderson was also the winner of the jewelry award in "Craftsmen of the Southeastern States" which was exhibited in Atlanta and at the Museum of the Contemporary Crafts, New York City. In addition, his exhibits at last year's Sidewalk Art Festival in Winter Park won "best of show" and first place awards in the crafts.

Congress Swings Into Action

The 89th Congress opened its second session on January 10th with a ready made agenda of legislative matters left over from 1965 and the prospect of other proposals to come.

The federal budget for the next fiscal year was still undergoing review by President Johnson and his Administration as the new year opened. Since the new budget must blend domestic requirements and the rising military outlays necessitated by the war in Viet Nam, the fiscal decisions now being made will in a large measure determine the scope of the Administration's program for the coming year.

In his State of the Union message, the President already has indicated, however, what some of his proposals will be.

In the civil rights field, the President announced in November that he would seek legislation aimed at preventing "injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries" in both federal and state courts.

Several labor measures are also high on the President's list of legislative goals for the year. These include the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act provision permitting states to ban union shop agreements, extension of the minimum wage, higher pay for overtime work, and major improvements in the unemployment insurance program.

The repeal of Sect. 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act was approved by the House of Representatives last summer, but consideration in the Senate was blocked by a late session filibuster led by Everett M. Dirksen.

Congress also adjourned in October without appropriating funds for the federal rent supplement program authorized in the housing act and the teacher corps.

The President then said that he would press for quick action in the new session to obtain funds to implement both of these new programs.

Other measures on the legislative agenda include the firearms control bill to curb the mail order traffic in guns and the proposal to reform the electoral college, making it mandatory for electors to follow the decision of the majority of voters in their state.

Annie Russell Theater Starts School For Scandal Production

By Sheri Bickley

Rehearsals have begun again in the Annie Russell Theater. The Rollins Players first production this term will be Richard

Harry Bumper. Moses, Trip, Snake, and Careless will be played by Gary Young, Patrick Molloy, Joe Costa, and Bill Burkes respectively. The servants and gentlemen include Chris Kelly, Rehearsing for upcoming theater production are: L-R, Luis Barroso, Penny O'Dell, and Anne Hathaway.

Sheridan's School For Scandal. This Restoration play is typical of the comedy of manners and is filled with all the delicious wit and satire of the period. Mr. Sheridan's play primarily exposes the vices and follies of the eighteenth century, and concentrates particularly on "the Scandalous College."

School For Scandal, under the direction of Charles Nisbet, includes a fairly large cast. Rollins is privileged to have guest performer Tom Hull to play the role of Sir Peter Teazle. Mr. Hull, who now lives in New York, is versatile in many fields. He has appeared in summer stock, directed, and worked in both television and films. We are looking forward to having him with us.

Other members of the cast include Chappie McDonnell as Sir Oliver Surface, Luis Q. Barroso as Sir Joseph Surface, Anne Hathaway as Lady Teazle, Gigi Farragut as Lady Sneerwell, and Cathy Haburton as Mrs. Candour. The cast also includes Bill McNulty as Charles Surface, Nancy Butler as Lady Crabtree, Martin Rosenthal as Sir Benjamin Backbite, Penny Odell as Maria, and Roger Miller as Sir

Marcy Edwards, Fred Valentine, Ladd Levis, and Andrew Groat.

This show will be in rehearsal for the next three weeks. Student night is scheduled for Monday, January 31.

Scores Revealed By Barristers Club

Nine men taking the Law School Admissions Test offered by the Educational Testing Service at Princeton averaged 526 in scores as compared to an average score of 453 last year, Frank Amatea, Chancellor of the Barrister's Club, announced after a conference with the pre-law advisers.

The variation in the scores was 313 points, ranging from 712 to 389. The highest score of 712 was attained by Bruce Parker.

Not only did the Rollins students show an improvement over last year's performance in the general scores of 73 points, they also showed a gain of six points in general background and three points in writing ability. In 1964 the top score by a Rollins student was 593. The range was from 290 to 593, the writing ability from 32 to 65, and the general background from 21 to 57.

Preparing for WFTV's Pro and Con show are: L-R Benedict Sonz, Robin Engle, Dr. Paul Douglass, Astra Michels, and David Johnson.

Rollins Students Prepare For Television Program

A panel of four Rollins government students, Astra Michels, '69, Annapolis, Md., David Johnson, '69, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Robin Engle, '68, Chevy Chase, Maryland; and Benedict Sonz, '69, New York, is hard at work preparing for the seventh annual winter season of the award winning television show, Pro and Con.

This series of thirteen weekly discussion programs is presented in the public interest by WFTV, Orlando, and the Rollins College Center for Practical Politics. Participants on the program include selected national experts, qualified regional and state civic leaders, citizens, public officers, political and economic representatives. One day it might be Willis Stone from Los Angeles, who arrived on January 9th to take part in a panel on the Liberty Amendment; or Myrth Squire, society editor of the Gleaner, Kingston, Jamaica, to argue with Art Hallglen, COPE Director of off-shore labor for citrus harvesting; or Alfred Baker Lewis, down from New York to discuss the liberal politics of the Americans for Democratic Action. At lunch you can find panel members conferring with Jim Clendenin, editor of the Tampa Tribune, or John Pennekamp, of the Miami Herald. These guests will face the student panel which has prepared itself to ask searching questions on the issues.

The topics are selected and developed through research conducted by the Rollins government department and the Center for Practical Politics. Subjects to be discussed in forthcoming weeks include, the right-to-work law, metropolitan government in Dade County, public support of private schools, unicameralism, and the Florida Cabinet system. Dr. Paul Douglass, professor of government, acts as moderator and director of the programs.

The program itself has a double function. First, the telecasts present to its viewers free discussion of ideas by authorities in their fields. Second, the programs provide a laboratory where students work with experts and community leaders. For example, the preparation of two projected shows will take some of the panel members to Puerto Rico to deal with the island as the fifty-first state and to Havana to do a show with Castro on the subject of whether Castro is good for Cuba.

The Pro and Con programs is one of the presentations which earned for WFTV the Alfred I. du Pont National Award in 1964 for "outstanding service to the community and to the nation;" the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Award as the "television station that best served youth in 1963;" and the first annual U. S. Conference of Mayors and Broadcast Pioneers Award in 1963.

The show may be seen weekly on Sundays at 6:00 p.m. over WFTV, Channel 9.

Student Council Announces New Constitution

Editor's Note—

After a term of work and deliberation the Constitutional Revision Committee has released its report. The report consists of a completely revised constitution and set of by-laws for the student association. The committee, appointed by the student council at the beginning of the year, was charged with the task of updating, improving, and codifying the constitution and by-laws of the Student Association. In practice this meant that many outdated and superfluous regulations were eliminated; at the same time several of the recently adopted rules of procedure were incorporated formally into the written constitution. Thus the end product is an up-to-date, clear, and accurate presentation of the rules governing Rollins student government.

The members of the Constitutional Review Committee were: Chuck Olsen, Patsy Blackburn, Peggy Henry, Bill Caler, John Deming, Al Hollon, Dave Dugdale, Fred Gittes, Laura Barnes, Jean Morris, and Sandra Dower. Dr. Bruce Wavell served as faculty representative to the group.

The most important change in the new constitution is the method of conducting elections for class officers. Under the new ruling all class elections will be held on the same day in the third full week of the fall term. Previously freshmen held elections several weeks after upperclassmen. Also, the standards for holding offices have been reduced. Now a seven-point cumulative average is required to hold a school office, instead of the 7.8 cumulative needed before.

Final action and ratification of the new constitution and by-laws will be considered by the Student Council at its next regular meeting on Monday night. A two-thirds majority vote will be required for approval.

Article III of the Constitution of the Rollins Student Association requires that notice of proposed amendments to the constitution appear in the college newspaper before final consideration. Thus, the Sandspur publishes the entire text of the new constitution and by-laws. We do not expect this to be interesting or exciting reading; nevertheless this is important because these regulations form the laws for student government at Rollins. If the Student Association is to function effectively as a representative of the student body, every student needs to understand how student government operates and we hope that you will take the time out to give what follows some of the attention that it deserves.

Chuck Olsen
President Student Council

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE ROLLINS STUDENT ASSOCIATION

To promote the best interests of the students of Rollins College and to provide efficient self government of the student body in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the College, we the students of Rollins College establish this Constitution for the Student Association of Rollins College.

ARTICLE I. Purpose

The name of this organization shall be the Rollins Student Association. Its purpose shall be twofold. Any social group may petition its representative to vote for or against any measure brought before the Student Legislature. If this petition is signed by more than one-half of the petitioning body, the representative must honor said petition accordingly. Failure to honor said petition constitutes grounds for recall. Siemer scores 2 points despite pitfall!

Tar Cagers Meet Mercer Friday

After the one-game road trip the Tars return home to host Mercer University at 8 p.m. Friday at Winter Park High School.

Capitalizing on foul shots, Rollins dumped Augusta 81-66 at O.J.C. Jan. 8. The Tars also out rebounded the Jaguars 50-34 as Millard Nixon and Ed Siemer grabbed off 15 apiece.

Mercer, which downed Rollins twice last season enroute to a 12-12 campaign, capitalizes on fast-break offense. Guard Bob Reeves, who averaged 19.4 points per game last year, sparks the attack.

Through the Augusta game Jan. 8, Nixon led the Tars in both scoring and rebounding, averaging 17.4 points and 12.6 rebounds per game. Bob Chandler was second offensively with a 15.2-point average.

Siemer (12.6 points per game) and Gary Kilmer (10.9) are also hitting in twin digits. Dave Pearlman has posted a 7.4 point average.

Siemer is second in rebounding with 10.5 rebounds per contest, followed by Kilmer at 7.4. Kilmer is Rollins' top outside shooter, registering 43.6% of his shots, while Pearlman has hit on 75% from the foul line.

As a team Rollins has bucketed an average of 71.3 points to opponents 82.6. The Tars also trail their opponents in rebounding (55.4 to 45.1), field goal accuracy (43.1% to 39.4%) and foul shooting (60.9% to 67.2%).

Thomas Wins Scoring Title

Sophomore Chuck Thomas, who led Delta Chi to a victory in the Shaughnessy playoffs, easily captured the intramural football scoring championship last term with 99 points, according to Sandspur statistics.

Dave Bussler of Tau Kappa Epsilon took passing honors with 199 points and league co-leaders TKE and Sigma Nu topped the rankings in team offense and defense, respectively.

Thomas tallied 16 touchdowns and three extra points for a 24-point edge over runnerup Boyd Gruhn of TKE. Gruhn, a senior, scored 11 six-pointers and nine extra points, best in the league, to take second place by 20 points.

Sigma Nu's Jack Zimmerman, Bob Lewis and Cliff Montgomery, TKE's Al Curtis, Ed McNair and Bussler, Lambda Chi's Pedro Fontes and the X Club's Scotty Green round out the top 10.

Missing from the list are Gary Dering of KA and Jack Lindquist and Bob Balink of the Faculty-Grads, who were hindered because no scoring record was kept of F-G's 32-29 win over KA and 41-0 victory against the Indies.

Dering registered 39 points in seven games, while Balink and Lindquist had 25 and 24 respectively through six encounters. The record of quarterbacks Steve Ward of KA and Boyd Coffie of the Faculty-Grads is also incomplete.

Firing for 30 touchdowns and 19 conversions, Bussler coasted to an 82-point bulge over Ward. Bussler also tallied 45 points to tie for sixth in the scoring derby.

A point behind Ward's 117-point total was Sigma Nu's Bill Jackson, followed by Barry Milner of the Deltas and Gordy Lynch of Lambda Chi. Jackson and Lynch shared quarterbacking chores with teammates.

Team offensive ratings nearly duplicated the final season standings as TKE led the pack with a 36.1 point per game average. Co-leader Sigma Nu finished nearly nine points back at 27.5 p.p.g.

On defense, on the other hand, Sigma Nu led the league, permitting only 7.5 p.p.g., while TKE was runnerup at 10.5 p.p.g.

Surprisingly, seventh place X Club (2-6) took third in defense with an 11.3 p.p.g. mark. The Clubbers lost five games by a touchdown or less, but registered only 16.3 p.p.g. themselves.

TKE posted the top offensive display of the campaign in their record breaking 73-0 blanking of the Independent Men Oct. 13.

Sigma Nu's three shutouts also led the league, while Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Indies were held scoreless five times apiece.

Kappas Hold Lead In Women's IM

Kappa Kappa Gamma leads in women's intramural standings with 210 points after successfully defending its basketball crown in a three-way playoff last term.

Kappa Alpha Theta (185) and Chi Omega (160) are second and third respectively.

Softball is on tap for women athletes this term.

TOM SACHA GRABS REBOUND AGAINST SOUTHERN
... his injury hampers Tar drive

Tar Cagers Lose Pivot Tom Sacha

By David Lord
Sports Staff

Rollins' basketball team suffered a severe setback when co-captain Tom Sacha tore ligaments in his right leg during the holidays.

Sacha's leg will be in a cast until Jan. 19, but it is doubtful that he will see action after the cast is removed.

Through Rollins' first eight games Sacha had 25 rebounds and was averaging 8.9 points per game at the pivot position. His best outing was a 15-point performance against the University of Tampa Dec. 9.

He also hit for double figures against Stetson Dec. 1 (14) and Georgia State Dec. 14 (12).

Last year Sacha led the Tars with 102 field goals and 49.3% shooting accuracy from the floor. He hauled down 114 rebounds and averaged 10.1 points per game.

As a freshman during the 1963-64 campaign, Sacha played in 24 of 26 contests, gathering 58 rebounds and 107 points with a 4.5 point per game mark.

Sacha played prep basketball at St. Petersburg's Northeast High School.

With Sacha sidelined Coach Boyd Coffie faces the remainder of a 20-game slate with what he calls "an iron-clad five," and foul trouble or injury to any starter could make the difference in a game.

Dave Pearlman, sophomore co-captain, replaces Sacha in the lineup, joining Bob Chandler in the backcourt. Guard Gary Kilmer has shifted to forward with Ed Siemer and Millard Nixon is handling pivot chores.

Sacha is now handling announcing at the Tars' home games.

Also lost to the Tars during the Christmas layoff were reserves Richard Wright and Ed Albers, who dropped out of school.

To fill out the Rollins roster Coach Coffie has recruited former Tar cagers Bill Jackson, Charles Schoene and Don Phillips.

Phillips was a starter two years ago and averaged 4.7 points per game while grabbing 97 rebounds.

Schoene, who led Orange County scorers in 1963 at Oak Ridge High School, saw limited action last season after leading the freshmen team in scoring the year before. He plays baseball and soccer besides basketball.

Jackson played in one game during the 1963-64 campaign.

Justice Meets NCAA Bosses

Joe Justice, Rollins' director of athletics, attended the winter baseball meetings of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in Washington, D. C., Jan. 7-8.

Representing the Eastern College Division on the NCAA Baseball Rules Committee, Justice helped reevaluate and standardize college baseball rules, especially those governing suspended games and protest procedure.

The committee also reviewed speed-up baseball rules, which were introduced by Justice during Rollins' Baseball Week in 1957. Devised to cut the time of games, speed-up rules are used in all Florida Intercollegiate Conference games.

Justice also scouted basketball prospects during the trip.

Varsity Baseball Meeting Slated

All Rollins men interested in playing varsity baseball should meet with Coach Joe Justice at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday in Room 4, Carnegie Hall. Players not registered for baseball may attend.

Siemer Leads Rollins To 3rd Straight Win

Ed Siemer hit on a long jumper with one second remaining to give Rollins a 64-63 win over Florida Intercollegiate Conference rival Tampa last Monday.

The win was Rollins' first in the FIC since the Tars dumped Tampa 66-60 Jan. 15, 1964, and marked the first time the Tars had reeled off three straight victories in five years.

Trailing 58-56 with 3:07 left, Tampa rallied for six successive points to lead 62-58 with 1:16 remaining. Rollins narrowed the margin to 62-60 at the 0:51 mark, then fell three points back on Ron Stone's free throw 13 seconds later.

Millard Nixon hit on a hook with 0:09 left to cut the margin. Guard Wade Whitson was fouled two seconds later.

Shooting 1-1, Whitson missed the first shot and Tampa got the ball out of bounds, but Rollins was awarded possession when the Spartans could find no one open. Three passes set the stage for Siemer's dramatic shot.

"I knew it was going in as soon as I shot," Siemer said happily after the game. Coach Boyd Coffie thought it was "just great."

Playing his best game in a Tar uniform, Siemer led all scorers with 29 markers and pulled down 15 rebounds, also high for the game.

Spartan captain Dick Pusins was second in scoring with 16 points, followed by teammates Vic Thixton (15), Ron Stone (12) and Chris Wacenske (11) and Tars Bob Chandler (13) and Mil-

WILSON FLOHR
... all-stater

Coaches Name Flohr To All-State Booters

By David Lord
Sports Staff

Despite a mediocre 4-7 season, Rollins' soccer team placed freshman center forward Wilson Flohr on the Florida All-State squad, chosen by the coaches of the eight Florida teams.

Flohr, a Sigma Nu pledge, led the Tars with 11 goals, enough to rank him sixth in the state, and one assist. Three of his goals were scored on penalty kicks.

His best game this season was a three-goal "hat trick" performance as he led Rollins to a 6-4 win over the University of South Florida Nov. 6. Flohr also scored a pair in his collegiate debut, a 4-3 loss to Emory University Oct. 9, and in Rollins' 3-2 defeat by Florida Southern College Nov. 2.

Surprisingly, the only team to hold Flohr scoreless in two games was Stetson University, which split a pair with the Tars enroute to a 3-5-2 mark.

Soccer honors are not new to the freshman star though. At Rutherford (N.J.) High School in 1963 he earned a berth on the All-State team by breaking a school record with 21 goals.

Flohr's best showing that season was a five-goal effort against Cliffside Park High School. During the winter he played with the Hoboken Soccer Club, organized in 1912.

Last year Flohr shattered all scoring records at Cheshire Academy, leading his teammates to a 12-2 slate. His 26 goals bettered the old school record by nine and won him the Cheshire Outstanding Player award.

Terry Darby, Florida Southern's center forward, took state scoring honors with 16 goals, followed by Heige Velde of USF, Vic Gavancho of Miami and Reggie Vorbe of Miami with 13 apiece and Mario Leiva of the University of Florida with 12.

Darby, Velde, Gavancho, Leiva and Bob Burger of Jacksonville join Flohr on the All-State forward line. Rounding out the squad are halfbacks Brian Holt of USF, Ramon Poo of Miami and Lenny Grace of Stetson, fullbacks Carl Weinrich of Jacksonville and Don Sabatini of FSC and goalie Jorge Rubinstein of Miami.

Steve Feller, Ricky Mello and Lane Taylor also received votes for Rollins.

Last year the Tars had three All-Florida Intercollegiate Conference selections, Feller, Bob Ennis and Jim Nielson.

lard Nixon (11). Two days before the Tars chalked up the second win in their streak, dumping favored Augusta (Ga.) College 81-66. Capitalizing on 28 personal and four technical fouls committed by the visitors, the Tars registered 35 of 45 from the charity stripe.

After trailing 19-12 with 7:20 left in the first half, Rollins used two technical fouls to spark a surge and outscored Augusta 22-2 in the next three minutes.

Behind the outside shooting of Bill Domen, the game's top scorer with 26 points, Augusta whittled Rollins' 47-32 halftime margin to a 56-52 lead with 10:12 left.

However, the Tars quickly reeled off 13 straight points to put the game away.

Chandler led Rollins' shooters with 23 markers, followed by Siemer, 20, and Nixon, 19. Augusta's Andy Schwitter, 17, and Rollins' Gary Kilmer, 12, were also in double digits.

In a preliminary to the Augusta-Rollins game Orlando Junior College swamped Rollins' junior varsity 94-78.

Tar guard Gary Mercer led all scorers with 27 points, followed by OJC's Jim Gracey with 24 and Rollins' Ken Hill with 19. Charles Schoene, returning to the courts after a year's layoff, was also in double figures, hitting for 12 points.

Don Phillips (8) and Bill Jackson (0) also saw their first action in a long time.

Olsen Discusses Issues

As President of the Student Council, I have been asked by Fred Suarez, the new Sandspur editor, to discuss in the school newspaper some of the important events and issues which confront the student body. In these articles I will at times interject my own ideas and views on many of the problems involving not only the student government, but campus life as a whole. I for one, am glad to have this opportunity to reach as many of the students as possible with a direct presentation, for in the past the student government and the Sandspur have not always been able to work together.

I know that Mr. Suarez desires to work as closely as possible with the student government and all students. The staff he has selected is one of the best I have seen in my four years at Rollins. It is large and consists of representatives from all social groups and the Independents. This type of staff will give the students a newspaper that they can be proud of. This is advantageous, not only from the students' point of view, but from the point of view of the administration and faculty.

As I write this article, my thoughts return to the past administration. It should be understood that I am not writing this in a backlash spirit, but am merely trying to point out how easily a newspaper can fall prey to the evils of non cooperation and disorganization.

When I arrived early on campus December 30 to work with Mr. Suarez and part of his assembled staff, my original intention was to assist the new editor in renegotiating his printing contracts. However, on entering the Sandspur office we were amazed at its condition. Papers were strewn all over the floor. The place looked like a disaster area. Fred and I were ready to call in the Federal troops to help in the clean up operation. Eventually, however, things were straightened out. It was then that the real confusion began. There were no files to speak of in the office, one of the most necessary items in the running of a newspaper. Many hours were spent running about looking for such information as circulation lists, budget records, printing contracts, and other necessary records of the last editor. This was no way to run a newspaper no matter what the circumstances.

Apparently the past administrator had a faulty circulation department. Do you remember when your parents subscribed to the Sandspur last Fall? Do you know how many issues they are missing? It appears that a substantial number of the past issues were not received by the parents that are paid subscribers of our newspaper. This situation is unhealthy for the Sandspur, the students and the college itself. It shows a real lack of responsibility.

Enough said about the past Sandspur administration, rather let me welcome the new administration into office. However, at the same time I warn them of the pitfalls in editing a newspaper. In closing I welcome the new editor and his staff and wish them the best of luck in the future.

Congressman Gurney and wife discuss Republican future with Y.R.C. President Jenkins at Alumni House reception.

Congressman Ed Gurney Visits Rollins Campus

The Young Republican Club, in cooperation with the Center for Practical Politics, hosted more than three hundred guests and political dignitaries at an afternoon reception held in the Alumni House on January 6. Doctor Paul Douglass, officiating as master of ceremonies, cited the congressman for outstanding work in the last session of Congress on behalf of the people of the central Florida area. The officers of the YRC, Alan Jenkins, George Scarlett, Jan Billings, and Jim Blackman formed the reception committee and welcomed the guests as they arrived.

At the reception telegrams congratulating Gurney were received from Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois; Richard M. Nixon; Ray Bliss, National Chairman of the Republican Party; and Gerald Ford, Congressman from Michigan and Minority Leader in the House of Representatives.

Among the distinguished guests were several prominent local politicians, including Colonel John S. Pushing, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Orange County Republican Party; John Ducker, state representative from Orange County; W. P. Medcalf, County Republican Chairman; and Nina Locke, a member of the Florida State Republican Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney expressed their gratitude for the warm welcome and great turnout, adding that they thought the reception was "Just great." Congressman Gurney also congratulated Rollins on having the largest Young Republican Club in Florida, stating that it was indicative of the growing interest and strength of the Republican Party.

Congressman Gurney, having been on the national scene for three years, predicts a definite turning of the tide in favor of the Republicans, in spite of the fact that the Republican Party lost the last presidential election by the greatest margin in history. Continuing, he stated that increasing Republican victories, such as the recent election of Republican representatives in Georgia, make the prospects look better than ever.

Gurney then tore into the Democrats, saying that he felt the country was "getting fed up" with the Great Society and the "shoddy workmanship" behind its administration. Supporting his statement, he cited private surveys initiated and conducted by President Johnson which indicate decreasing interest in his programs. Concluding on a note of optimism Gurney said, "The public may look forward to an emphatic revival of Republican policies."

Dr. Nelson Heads AAUP Meeting

Rollins College played host to well over 150 college and university professors from the entire state of Florida at the sixth annual meeting of the Florida Conference of the American Association of University Professors held on the campus last Friday and Saturday, January 14-15. Dr. Wallace Nelson, assistant professor of Economics and Business Administration, heads the Florida chapter and was in charge of arrangements for the conference. Another Rollins professor of English, Dr. John B. Hamilton, is a member of the State Executive Committee. The Chapter Host Committee, composed entirely of Rollins personnel, included Professor Gleason, Professor Folsom and Professor Mack.

Following registration and a reception at the Alumni House, President McKean welcomed the group to the Rollins Campus at the Saturday morning opening session.

One of three discussion groups held in conjunction with the conference was led by Dr. Paul Douglass, director of the Rollins Center for Practical Politics, and Professor Gladys M. Kammerer, of the University of Florida. The subject was "Professors and Political Activity."

The luncheon address was de-

Fletcher At Cafezinho

The Cafezinho Book Review Series, a weekly review sponsored by the Latin American Department of Rollins, had as its reviewer this past week Dr. William G. Fletcher, Associate Professor of Latin American Studies and Director of Latin American Activities. Dr. Fletcher, permanent chairman of the series, relinquished his position to Mrs. Sandra W. Jones and embarked on both an interesting and informative review of Walt W. Rostow's The United States in the World Arena.

Walt Rostow, a Ph.D. in Economics from Yale, is currently Chief of the Policy Planning Staff in the Department of State. Rostow, who entered governmental service under President Kennedy, is perhaps best known for his work Stages of Economic Growth, a book in which he put forth his theories on the economic classification of nations.

The United States in the World Arena, as pointed out by Dr. Fletcher, is an interpretation of the goals of American foreign policy since the 1920's and an evaluation of this country's national interests in all corners of the globe. Perhaps the most interesting thesis uncovered by Dr. Fletcher and the most critically analyzed was the proposition put forward by Rostow that neither the United States nor Russia could ever hope to act unilaterally in the future due to the stalemate induced by the massive weapons systems possessed by both nations. This, Dr. Fletcher trenchantly pointed out, was most interesting in light of recent developments in Santo Domingo and Viet Nam.

Dr. Nelson

AAUP Florida Conference, presided at the afternoon business meeting.

Other highlights of the conference included a reception at the Casa Iberia on Friday evening and tours of the Campus conducted by the student guides.

Tars Dump Georgia State

Rollins basketball team closed its pre-Christmas season with a 100-82 win over Georgia State College of Atlanta, snapping an 11-game losing streak.

Trailing 47-41 at the half, the Tars rebounded with a 59-point second half explosion to coast to victory. Millard Nixon sparked the second half surge as he registered 23 of his 30 points.

All six Rollins players finished in double figures. Gary Kilmer and Bob Chandler tallied 17 apiece, while Ed Siemer, Tom Sacha and Dave Pearlman had 13, 12 and 11 respectively.

Coach Boyd Coffie's Tars had not broken the 100-point barrier since they dumped Southwestern 101-99 Dec. 3, 1983.

The week before, Rollins' record had fallen to 0-6 due to Florida Intercollegiate Conference losses to Tampa Dec. 9 and Florida Southern Dec. 11.

Tampa thwarted a late Rollins rally to post a 91-82 win and Southern overcame a 35-34 half-time deficit with a 57-point second half to win 91-59.

Nixon led Rollins in the Tampa game with 23 points. Siemer was high man against Florida Southern, scoring 19.

Soccer Race Stays Tight

Delta Chi, Lambda Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon shared the intramural soccer lead with 1-0 records after the first week of play.

Sig Ep upset Sigma Nu 1-0 Jan. 7 in the biggest game of the week. Pete Taylor headed in a marker to snap a scoreless deadlock in the third period.

The Deltas swamped KA 6-1 Jan. 10 as Tom Alexander tallied a pair of goals. Boyd Gruhn's score on a corner kick boosted TKE to a 2-0 win over KA Jan. 5. The Independent Men forfeited to Lambda Chi.

On tap this week are the following matches: X Club-TKE Tuesday, Indies-Sig Ep Wednesday, Sigma Nu-Deltas Thursday, Lambda Chi-TKE Friday and KA-Sig Ep Saturday.

IM Cagers Open Season

Intramural basketball began Monday as Phi Delta Beta met the X Club. This week's games include Sig Ep-Delt, TKE-KA, Lambda Chi-Faculty-Grads and Indies-Sigma Nu.

Defending champion Lambda Chi looms on the team to beat in the nine-team league, but a close race is likely.

Games start daily at 4 p.m. on the outdoor courts near Elizabeth Hall. Tournament games, Feb. 28-Mar. 8, will be played in Winter Park High School gym.
