Union Sponsors Bitter End Singers In Concert

By Sara Perrott

Vilma Vaccaro, Tina Bohlman, Lefty Baker, Bruce Farwell, Kenneth Hodges — have you heard of these people? They compose the Bitter End Singers with a Dixieland-Rock-Folk sound.

They opened at the Bitter End on August 24, 1964, and their popularity has been rising ever since. President Johnson invited them to appear before the Congressional members at the White House. Mrs. Johnson, being so impressed, invited them to travel with her on her whistle-stop tour.

After six months of touring the United States and appearing at colleges and such nightclubs as The Embers in Indianapolis and The Tidlands in Houston, The Bitter End Singers came in to their own.

Representing a new dimension in entertainment, they perform as a group and also do single comedy spots. Their new sound, a combination of Folk-Dixieland-Rock, has begun to make an important impact on the musical field, being the first act of this type to have electrical instruments and being able to reproduce in their stage concerts the same sound as on records. Their music ranges from hard hitting rock songs such as "Hard Times", "The Joker", and Dixieland tunes, such as "Mississippi Mud" and "Basin Street Blues"; and folk standards, such as "Crawdad", "Good Night, Irene", and "Walk Right In".

They appeared this spring on "The Steve Lawrence NBC Follies" and on "Shindig". Plus four repeat shows on "Show Street" with Phyllis Diller.

Their first album "Discover the Bitter End Singers" was followed by "Through Our Eyes", both on Mercury label. Variety said of their show that it combined "Lots of animation and high theatrical sight values with strong vocal arrangements".

On April 30 the Bitter End Singers will appear in the Winter Park High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Rollins students are admitted free.

A Song For Rollins Opens At ART

All students are especially invited to attend one of the performances of "A Song for Rollins" to be staged at Annie Russell Theatre Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

Opening performance of the historical drama was given before a capacity audience Thursday evening.

Prof. Wilbur Dorsett completed the play, after two years of researching and writing, in 1961 and it was presented for the first time that year with great success.

A cast of 50 actors from the campus and the community is featured in the full-scale production that is complete with music, scenery, authentic costumes and plenty of action."

The story concerns the founding of Rollins College as Florida's first institution of higher learning. It also covers the initial 10 years of Rollins' history.

Friday's performance is slated for 8:30 p.m. and the curtain will be raised for Saturday's matinee at 2:30 p.m.

Applications for the positions of Lower Court Chairman, Bearyery Chairman, Men's Rules Chairman, and Traffic Committee Chairman will be accepted until Saturday, April 23. Also open at this time are positions on the Lower Court, the Upper Court, and the Investigating Committee.

Applications should be submitted to Bob Gustafson, Box 399, or to Jim Johnson, Box 868.

Alumni Reunion Set

Several hundred Rollins graduates are returning to the campus of their Alma Mater this weekend to participate in the 1966 Alumni Reunion, according to a recent announcement by Mrs. Robert Yergey, '53, chairman of this year's reunion.

One highlight of the Alumni Reunion is the first annual Alumni Art Festival which will exhibit works of 14 alumni who are distinguished artists. The art exhibit is set up in the Union building and at the Alumni House. Students and campus visitors, as well as Alumni, are welcome to this event.

Activities officially opened Friday with registration and the traditional picnic, water show, and sky-diving on the lake front at night. Following the picnic, Alumni met informally at the Alumni House and at the Winter Park Racquet Club.

One of the most important events of the three-day Reunion will be the Annual Alumni meeting in Rose Skillman Hall at 11 a.m. Saturday. This meeting precedes the President's luncheon at noon. Initiated last year, the luncheon features an informal report on the College by President McKean. After the meeting arrangements have been made for Alumni to go to the Annie Russell Theater for a special performance of A Song for Rollins.

The big event of the weekend is the reception, dinner, and new president, to be selected by the Alumni Board of Directors earlier on Saturday, will be announced.

Sunday will feature the Alumni service at the Chapel and the traditional luncheon for earlier graduates at 1 p.m. in the Union, which will be closed for the event.

During free time on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday the Alumni will tour the campus and will have an opportunity to participate in a round-robin tennis tournament on the College Courts.

At last year's Reunion, the Alumni Board of Directors initiated a plan to select a winner of a free trip to the campus for Reunion weekend from those Alumni who have contributed to the annual Alumni fund. This year's winner is Dr. Bayard Morrison of the class of '53. Dr. and Mrs. Morrison are from Bethesda, Maryland, where Dr. Morrison is on the staff of the national institute of health. Dr. and Mrs. Morrison are the special guests of the Alumni for the entire weekend activities.

Rollins Students Demonstrate Displeasure of Recent Suspensions

About 350 Rollins students demonstrated their displeasure over the recent suspension of four students Tuesday night before President Hugh McKean, Dean of Men Fred Hicks and Dean of Women Sarah Howden.

At the outset, students congregated in front of their fraternity houses in what possibly could have become a noisy, riotous demonstration; but, the appearance of McKean brought the students into an orderly question-and-answer session in front of the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

McKean, Hicks, and Howden stood in the center of a circle of students and answered questions concerning the Tuesday morning suspensions of four students for infractions during the past Fiesta weekend. The primary objection of the students was the handling of the cases by the Deans and the Upper Court. Howden was also questioned as to her alleged actions against a number of freshman girls.

McKean told the students, "I'll be frank; when I became president of the college 15 years ago, I decided to build the finest college possible with the help of faculty and students. The college stands for integrity, freedom, and high moral standards.

Would you like it any other way?"

One student spokesman asked Dean Hicks to reiterate the findings of the higher judiciary court and to review the reasons for the cases being referred directly to Upper Court instead of the normal procedure of Lower Court action.

Hicks then stated that his reason for using the Upper Court judiciary body was that in one case the student had previously appeared before the Lower Court constituting automatic Upper Court jurisdiction; the other case was referred likewise to protect the privacy of the individuals involved.

President McKean was asked by one student to review the decisions of the Upper Court. McKean said that he would willingly review the cases, but later stated that, "The Upper Court wouldn't serve much purpose if I could overrule it."

President McKean also emphasized that it was the students who set up the court system last year. He suggested that if the student body is unhappy with the system, it should be looked into by the Student Association and the certain ambiguous areas be clarified.

Dean Burdell Will Retire From Post

Dean Burdell

Dr. Edwin Burdell will retire from the position as Dean of the College on July 31, 1966, according to a recent announcement by President McKean. Dean Burdell plans to devote his entire time to serving as an educational consultant to the Cranbrook Foundation, Detroit, and the National Recreation Foundation, New York.

In expressing his deep regret at Dean Burdell's retirement, President McKean mentioned his great contributions to the college, especially his leadership in strengthening the Patrick Air Force Base Branch and developing graduate programs through the Graduate Council.

While at Rollins, Dean Burdell is responsible for many innovations, including the Deans Council, which has met weekly to discuss current campus problems, as well as the reorganization of the committee on admissions, academic standing, scholarships and financial aid.

President McKean and Dean Howden answer questions from the surrounding students.

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

This weekend marks the return of many former Rollins students and graduates who will be revisiting the campus. Rollins has produced many fine Alumni who have distinguished themselves in many professional and business activities throughout the country. The college needs and deserves their continued interest, loyalty and support. These Alumni are proud of their Alma Mater and they continue to demonstrate their pride with interest and support. We as students of Rollins can also be very proud of our school particularly so with the accomplishments and the forward strides which are taking place. Certainly evident of this is the construction of the new field house and science building. It behooves us then to take a few moments of our time during this weekend to go out of our way to give the returning Alumni a warm greeting and a word of welcome. We are sure that students would appreciate a similar warm welcome when returning to visit the campus in the all too near future.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Upon reading the school calendar for the 1966-67 season, I felt obligated to point out a very potential danger which has evidently been overlooked by the administration. Rollins College has been extremely fortunate in regard to the number of lives lost traveling to and from school during vacations, but can this good fortune last if WE MUST TRAVEL ON NEW YEAR'S DAY NEXT YEAR? I don't think so, the odds fall against the driver during this period. Students and faculty living in northern states will be forced to drive on both New Year's Eve and New Year's Day since classes begin a period Jan. 2. Women must be back by 12 p.m. Jan. 1. I sincerely hope this fault in the 1966-67 calendar will be remedied by the administration, so that this letter will not have to be published again in this paper on Jan. 7, 1967 as a morbid I told you so.

Thank you,
Roger Badgett, Jr.

Dear Editor:

"You can't judge a book by its cover," has again been proven a fatal truth. Rollins, as pictured in the catalogue, "is beautifully landscaped and its physical plant emphasizes a traditional Spanish-Mediterranean architecture," and its education is geared to the individual through the conference plan. This is the cover, but what's inside? The Rollins Family? Faculty and students working together? ... Doubt it! Faculty working for the students? ... Doubt it! Students working for the school? ... Doubt it! Is this a farce?

Rollins' main interest is supposed to be the individual, yet it is constantly sacrificing the individual for the whole. This is a hard statement to argue, but let's look deeper into how this is done. When a student is accused of violating a college rule on the grounds of circumstantial evidence, he is given the "American privilege" of a court trial. The American privilege extends the defendant the right of being considered innocent until proven guilty by an unbiased group of judges who have based their decision on proven fact rather than opinion. Examine the Rollins structure: Aren't the chosen "examples" guilty until proven innocent? Is this Rollins judicial system a court or a "TICKET TO RIDE"??

— Night At The Flics —

By Benjamin Morrison

The Oscars were Monday night and I assume everyone who cared found out who won.

Speaking of Oscars, The Oscar at the Seminole Cinema is up for the Grand Booby Prize. Undoubtedly the worst acting, direction, and script of the year. A drama, the movie is quite, quite funny. Unfortunately, occasional passable acting and acceptable lines intrude on the mirth. But, generally, it's all so very bad as to be hysterical.

Stephen Boyd is the guy out to get the Oscar. His overacting (the last scene is perhaps his funniest) is so gross as to be indescribable. Elke Sommer (also known as Alka Seltzer) has the advantage of not quite speaking English, much less understanding it, so, she doesn't even try to act. Tony Bennett does try, which is his mistake.

The plot is very involved and generally unresolved. Frankie Fain (Boyd) starts as a lascivious Horatio Alger. He's discovered by a sex-starved talent scout (Eleanor Parker) who knows where his talent lies. Nevertheless, he ends up in movies, hits close to the top, goes back near the bottom, and then gets an Oscar nomination. Chance for the top! He steps on everybody — his agent (Milton Berle), his wife (Sommer, whose attire is anything but matronly), his flunkie (Bennett), just everybody. Blackmail gets involved for some reason (I forget just why). Everything is ugly, ugly. Except Boyd's blue shirt, which he takes off only for the inevitable Bedroom Scenes, but which is otherwise ubiquitous. I promised not to reveal the ending, as it's a surprise, and it doesn't matter anyway.

Tony Bennett throws in some Penguin Freud at one point in an attempt to justify (rather than explain) Boyd's character. The justification doesn't work, and neither does the character.

The big debate is whether or not anybody connected with the movie meant it to be funny. It sure turned out that way. If you go expecting the worst, you'll get it. Plus lots of laughs.

The Plaza had a sneak preview for A Thousand Clowns. Excellent movie. I'll review it in a later column.

Nobody Waved Goodbye had a short run at the Colony. A Canadian film, it was photographed and directed like a television documentary. A good movie, burdened with an overly corny plot but with many good moments. All about the Pepsi Generation and how miserable it is.

Johnny Tiger had its world premiere at the Parkwood Cinema in Orlando (!). Formerly titled Laugh of the Crying Owls, which was gratefully changed, it features several Rollins students as set decoration. The stars are Robert Taylor, Geraldine Brooks, Chad Everett, and Central Florida. Should be worth seeing for the set decoration.

The Group, the controversial film based on Mary McCarthy's controversial novel, is on now at the Plaza. Mixed reviews. The story concerns eight coeds who grow old disgracefully.

Darling is on now at various drive-ins. How Not to Rob a Department Store and Secret of my Success are two comedies scheduled for the Colony. As of deadline, no schedules available for the Park theatres. And, inevitably, Sound of Music at the Beacham.

Rollins Alum Makes Good! Tom Chomont, '64, is mentioned in the April 14 Village Voice. Tom wrote film reviews for the Sandspur a couple of years ago, was an art major, and went on to study film-making in Boston. He pioneered the showing of experimental films at Rollins, one of the most outstanding was a Gregory Markopoulos production called Twice Man. In Jonas Mekas' "Movie Journal" in the Voice, Mekas interviewed Markopoulos, who mentions, in reference to new avant garde films, "... some footage by a young film-maker in Boston, Tom Chomont, his footage (unedited) for 'Night Blossoms.' I was particularly impressed with Mr. Chomont's footage because it reminded me of the painting (form and color) of Odilon Redon," a French symbolist (1840-1916).

See you in the pictures.

Before you read this grapevine, you must be a model student. If you aren't, you should transfer immediately. Do not pass go, do not collect any diplomas.

The government has finally come up with a unique draft device — Upper Court. Only one person has been deferred in 10 years.

The most classic statement of last year was, "I'm always happy to see Rollins students." This year — "What's your name?"

The big question is, "What has two years, risks given to us?" Answer: Last year we had to go to his house ... this year he comes to ours.

Anyway, Rollins has fested and now the administration is feasting.

Sigma Nu, Alpha Phi Team Victorious In Intramural Debate Championship

By Bob Franklin

Alpha Phi and Sigma Nu are the intramural debate champions. In the final debate they defeated representatives of Phi Mu and Delta Chi. The debaters were Evelyn Cook of Alpha Phi, Dave Lord of Sigma Nu, Anne Hathaway of Phi Mu, and Niels Menko of Delta Chi. The two teams had proceeded through a series of debates sponsored by the Union Educational Entertainment Committee and the Speakers Bureau. They have now this year's trophies.

The topic of the debate was "Resolved: That Red China be admitted to the U. N. Evelyn Cook and Dave Lord were arguing the negative, while Anne Hathaway and Niels Menko were arguing the affirmative. The affirmative stated several reasons for believing that Red China should be admitted. First was the position of Red China's place in the world today. It is the most populous country, it has the atomic bomb, and it is developing a stronger government. They also pointed out that the purpose of the United Nations is for communication between governments, peace and services for all the world, and treaties between the nations. They blamed the United States for blocking admission and said that this is wrong. They said that we must begin communication with Red China immediately, for Red China is nevertheless a major force in the world. Letting them in would be the lesser of two evils. Also, a majority of the nations in the U.N. want to admit Red China, but there are not enough to pass the 2/3 vote requirement. However, admission is inevitable and we would be better off in the eyes of many neutral countries if we recognized the People's Republic of China and let her into the U. N. They said we should not make too big a deal of whether or not she is a peace loving nation, for there are many in the U. N. which are not.

The negative countered with several arguments. They said Red China does not live up to the qualifications for membership as mentioned in the U. N. Charter—that of a peace loving state which accepts what the charter says and accepts the other obligations of membership. Red China is not peace loving because we still have men holding them back in Korea. The Red Chinese goals do not coincide with the U. N.'s. Also, a nation does not have to be member to participate in U. N. discussion. Anyhow, Red China's comments on the U. N. have always been very critical, demanding reorganization before entering. The negative also argued that Red China herself has never applied for admission to the U. N. It has always been another nation that wanted her in. Her principles are opposed to the U. N. and she will not be a help, but will be a hindrance.

Janet Wolf Awarded Miss Rollins Crown

By Jean Colvin

An expectant hush fell over the audience in the Gamma Phi courtyard Saturday afternoon as they waited to hear what the judges' decision would be. The three finalists were announced; then Randy Rogers, last year's first runner-up to Miss Rollins, crowned the new Miss Rollins—Janet Wolf. First runner-up was Tina Godwin, representing Alpha Phi, and second runner-up was Sunny Edwards, the Phi Delta Beta candidate.

The judges were three men and two women from the Winter Park-Orlando area. Two of the men are connected with local banks; the third is a telephone company executive. Ivey's fashion director and a representative of Patricia Stevens Modeling School completed the panel of five. The 16 contestants were judged on personality, poise, face and figure. A tea was held in the Kappa lodge before the fashion show for the judges to meet and talk with the girls.

Mrs. Fred Hicks was the commentator for the fashion show, in which each contestant modeled three outfits: a sports ensemble, a cocktail dress, and a bathing suit. Most of the clothes, except for the swimsuits, were borrowed from Proctor's.

Miss Rollins is 18-year-old

Janet Wolf, a freshman from Mansfield, Ohio. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and already well known around campus as a cheerleader, as well as being a Campus Guide. Her major is Elementary Education and her future plans include becoming a second grade teacher.

Tina Godwin, a 19-year-old sophomore, is from Washington, D. C. She is vice president of her sorority and is majoring in English, which she hopes to teach on the high school level. Second runner-up, Sunny Edwards, from West Palm Beach, Florida, is also a sophomore and president of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her major is English, too, and her future plans include teaching.

In and Around Rollins; Events at the Union

By Sara Perrott

The Union Fine Arts Committee is holding a Folk Sing in the Alumni House on April 24th at 7:30 p.m. Outside entertainers will include Jimmy Rogers, Jimmy Balow, and Al Stole. Rollins students will also participate. Everyone is invited to share this enjoyable evening.

Sunday, the 24th of April, the Union Host and Hostess Committee will sponsor the Bridge Tournament in the Union at 1:30 p.m. A trophy will be presented to the winner.

The Bitter End Singers will be appearing in the Winter Park High School Auditorium on Saturday, April 30th, at 8:00 p.m. Rollins students will be admitted free. This event is sponsored by the Social Entertainment Committee.

Student Council Reports

By Al Hollon

The April 18th session of the Legislature opened with debate on the Sandspur allocation of $1,000. Fred Suarez, the Sandspur editor, opened the debate with a report from the meeting of the Publication Union's meeting that same afternoon. Suarez pointed out that the Publication Union gave its support to the proposed allocation of the Sandspur. Larry Shrumphf, president of the Publication Union, supported Suarez's report. Bill Renforth, managing editor of the Sandspur, read a detailed listing of the Sandspur for the last two terms. Renforth was asked many questions concerning the budget. After a lengthy discussion, the allocation was passed unanimously.

President Bob Gustafson read a proposal from the Faculty Administration Committee which would place a deadline of October 15, 1966, for the Legislature to pass a reapportionment measure. Chuck Olsen said that this amount of time was too short, and that the Legislature should wait until the Independents organize themselves next year in the new Independent Men residence hall. Olsen said the Legislature should petition the Faculty Administration Committee for more time on this issue. This was tabled for a week.

Al Hollon proposed that the Legislature create a Finance Committee to investigate all proposed allocations coming before the Legislature. This committee would also receive itemized monthly statements from organizations receiving money annually from the Student Association. Hollon impressed upon the fact that the Legislature should exercise a tighter control over the students' money. Hollon agreed to amend his proposal to make this committee a temporary one in the face of an upcoming committee which is going to investigate the entire Student Association structure. Hollon's proposal was tabled for one week.

Fred Gittes introduced a change in the constitutional by-laws concerning Student Association elections. Gittes' proposal would decrease the minimum 10 meetings to be eligible to run for a Student Association office to two meetings. Debate followed whether or not a person could familiarize himself with procedures of the Legislature in two meetings. The fact that 10 meetings are too many was also discussed. From the opinions expressed, the Legislature seems more likely to decrease the number to five. This proposal was tabled for one week.

President Gustafson announced that he was extending the time for applications for positions on Lower and Upper Courts, the Investigation Committee, and the chairmanships of the Traffic, Men's Rules, and Beanery Committees until Saturday, April 23. Applications should be sent to Bob Gustafson, Box 399, Campus Mail. Gustafson also stated that he is going to follow the previous administration's policy of dismissing any legislator who misses three meetings of the Legislature without an excuse.

So far since World War II we have increased population at 1.1 percent a year. The birth rate in the U.S. has been dropping since 1958, the end of the "war babies" and this slower rate indicates and individual preference for having children. Though farmers have decreased in numbers, farm productivity and mechanization have climbed to where we now have thousands of acres idle under control programs, and distribution of foods around the country is the only problem.

But what of the underdeveloped countries? The population of Latin America in 35 years will more than double to 385 million, and all countries except Mexico, Argentina, and Uruguay have food problems.

To distribute and help food production in these underdeveloped countries, a projected increase in food production and improved diet would be the things to start with. Also, agricultural yields could be increased by increasing the acreage to the farthest limit, then applying maximum input (labor & capital) into the acreage. The enigma all these areas face however, is the enormous amount of capital required to help them out of underdevelopment, and the improbability of their raising this capital.

If there are to be stakes in the future for the human race, then time is running out for restricting the population of the world. Birth control, with its rapid technical developments will be the main means of accomplishing this. Underdeveloped countries have realized this for quite a while, and even now, developed nations, such as the U.S., are coming around by stimulating interest in birth control and by pulling down governmental barriers to it.

In summary, Dr. Arnold emphasized that the man-land relationships in underdeveloped countries are worse than they were when the present developed countries initiated their development. The production with the minimum cost of capital and labor, because they are of prime importance elsewhere for national growth. The Malthusian conclusion is not inevitable, but it is a problem of great magnitude which must be avoided.

Dr. Arnold States Population, Food Problem At Honors Talk

By Heywood Cooper

The Honors Lecture Series presented this past Monday, Dr. Arnold, who spoke on "Population, Food, and the Future of Man," or more precisely, "how can the world feed its people?"

Looking into the future, we see many problems of increasing magnitude which man will have to solve, and the problem of population as related to food production has a priority among these. During the last 35 years the human race has doubled and will continue to do so every third of a century. The world's food production has, on the other hand, decreased. The biggest population increase will be in under developed countries where food production and supply is a major problem already. This was the basis for Prof. Arnold's talk.

To begin with, Dr. Arnold brought out various aspects from "An Essay on the Principle of Population" written in 1798 by Thomas Robert Malthus, an English clergyman. During Malthus' time, the idea of mercantilism, which called for a large population, abundant and cheap labor, and an excess of export over import, was the popular economic philosophy.

Malthus argued that population would soon increase its food supply under the present conditions, and that only the "positive checks" disease, war, or starvation would limit population. He also emphasized that these positive checks to limit population were not as important as "preventive checks" were, and so Malthus in a way introduced the idea of birth control, though he meant for the population to be limited by a moral attitude and abstention from sex.

The "Law of Diminishing Returns" was another of Malthus' arguments against mercantilism. He stated that the amount of arable land in the world is relatively fixed, and though intensive cultivation can increase the supply of food, increasing it beyond the supply of land becomes an increasingly difficult task.

Technological changes, Scientific Advances, and Birth Control, as Malthus said they would, have helped the world escape so far these "inevitable" as he termed them, and yet he said we could not manage to do this forever.

The United States is the most advanced country in the world and will have a fairly steady rate of population increase with a healthy increase with a healthy increase in food production. In 100 years the U.S. may have a population of 1 billion.

Niente Ingersoll, representing Sigma Nu, and Bob Heineman, representing Kappa Alpha Theta, were elected as King and Queen of Fiesta. The King and Queen led the annual Fiesta parade last Friday. Niente is a sophomore English major from Tulsa, Oklahoma; Bob hails from Arlington, Virginia, and majors in business.

Women Golfers Win Big

By Jane Blalock

The Rollins College Women's Team, fresh from a 9-3 victory over the girl Gators at Gainesville, walked away with all the honors at the third annual Florida Intercollegiate Golf Tournament in Miami last weekend.

The 36-hole medal play tournament was held at the Miami Lakes Country Club.

In compiling points for the respective teams, the four lowest hole scores were tallied each day. The Rollins' Women finished with a total of 621, separating them from the remainder of the field by a margin of strokes too staggering to mention. The closest challenger was Barry College of Miami.

The five girls representing the team and their scores in order of finish are as follows:

Jane Blalock	76-80—156

Preston Alexius	79-78—157
4 Suzie Seeligson	80-78—158
5 Connie Hirschman	77-86—163

It should also be mentioned that Rollins not only walked away with the team trophy, but copped individual honors as well, placing 1-5 over the entire field.

Prizes were awarded at a joint banquet of the golf and tennis teams following play on Friday evening. Special awards were given for birdies, fewest putts, and a well-deserved prize was presented to Pennie Page for an eagle. Preston Alexius was the recipient of the award for fewest putts.

The next tournament scheduled for the girls is the Dallas Civitan Open to be played May 11-15 in Dallas, Texas. Such prominent names as Mickey Wright, Marilyn Smith, and Carol Mann will appear in the list of entrants along with several other big name pros and amateurs from all over the country.

The first place float in the women's division of the Rollins Fiesta parade was entered by Chi Omega. The float is based on a theme of Winken, Blinken and Nod. Taking the runner-up position for the sorority float division was Pi Beta Phi using a theme based on Hans Brinker and Silverskates. Sigma Nu won the runner-up trophy for the fraternity division with a float based on a Dutch boy with his finger in a dyke and a windmill in the background.

Latin Studies Dept. Sponsors Luncheon

On last Thursday, April 14, the Latin American Studies Department, under the direction of Dr. William G. Fletcher, sponsored its last formal function of the year, the annual Pan American Day Luncheon. This yearly event is underwritten by the two Winter Park banks, the First National Bank and the Commercial Bank, for the express purpose of establishing a scholarship fund for Latin American students.

The speaker at this year's luncheon was the noted Chilean economist and former Dean of the School of Economics at the University of Santiago, Mr. Luis Escobar. At present, Mr. Escobar is associated with the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and, until recently, had also been with the Pan American Union. In his talk on the general economic picture of Latin America, Professor Escobar saw many signs of hope in South America's future growth. Among these signs, Mr. Escobar referred to the various regional trade agreements such as the Latin American Free Trade Association and the Central American Common Market, both of which are designed to provide the Latin American and Central American countries with a broader base of markets.

The Chilean economist also noted that, "The main problem of Latin America is its shortage of qualified manpower. To the reduction of this problem, Escobar stated, "The Latin American scholarship program at Rollins College is invaluable."

The goal of the endowment is $100,000, and the luncheon proceeds of this year contributed $1,200, bringing the present total to close to $90,000. Dr. Fletcher stated at the end of the luncheon that every thing would be done to reach the intended goal by the next Pan American Luncheon.

KA's Lead Blood Drive

Now we can support our fighting forces in Viet Nam from the home front. The Kappa Alpha Order and the Rollins College Administration have united their forces to demonstrate to the nation the student support of the Viet Nam war effort. The Orlando Red Cross and the Central Florida Blood Bank are combining their efforts and equipment to administer the donation that will be shipped to Washington and from there it will go to the war front in Viet Nam.

On the 27th of this month, forms will be distributed to the student body in the Beanery during lunch and dinner. These forms must be signed by parents of the student giving him permission to give blood. This permission is necessary for all those students under twenty-one.

With all the demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam, this will provide a good opportunity for the students to demonstrate their support. We should not let this chance slip by.

THE ADVENTURES OF PAM AUSTIN

CHAPTER SIX
"Coronet saves the day."

Last time, we left Pam, hanging way out on a limb ... with only one way to go.

Alas! Is there nothing to save her from "Boredom Falls"?

Wait. Coming through that cloud of dust! Those suave good looks. That strong, silent demeanor. That mighty V8 power.

Those comfort-contoured bucket seats. And ... and that silver center console! It can only be ...

CORONET 500 to the rescue!

How about you ... isn't it time you dropped in to see Coronet 500 up close? Maybe it will save you from falling into a rut!

Grid 'Stars Edge Stetson In Fiesta

TKE's Dan Pincetich downed Stetson quarterback John Davis for a fourth period safety last Friday to give Rollins' All-Stars a 14-13 come-from-behind victory in the first annual Fiesta Football Classic.

Pincetich's grab came only a play after the Tars had pulled within a point of the Hatters, 13-12, on a two-yard scoring pass from KA Steve Ward to Jack Lindquist for Rollins, five to Thomas and four to Lindquist. Davis clicked on 12 of 25. Stetson picked up 11 first downs to six by the Tars.

quist of the Faculty. Rollins' bid for the tying extra point was thwarted.

After stopping Stetson's initial drive of the game, Rollins quickly moved inside the visitors' 10-yard stripe on two long passes from Ward to Delt Chuck Thomas. Ward scored on a short run, but a penalty erased the tally and the Hatters held.

Moving nearly the length of the field on three completions, the Hats broke the scoring ice as Rick Cohen made a leaping catch of a Davis aerial early in the second quarter. Stetson stretched the lead to 7-0 on Davis's conversion toss to Dave Ellerman.

Rollins cut the margin to 7-6 in the third quarter, taking the second half kickoff and scoring on a 16-yard toss from Ward to Lindquist after Ward had hit Thomas with a long gainer. Stetson's Steve Buchanan intercepted Ward's conversion pass.

The Hatters came right back as Davis ran two yards, capping a long scoring drive. Rollins broke up Davis' try for the extra point to trail 13-6 at the end of the third frame.

Failing to move the ball after the safety, the Tars punted to Stetson and, after the Hatters had moved near the Tar 20, halted the drive with three long losses.

Girl Netters Win Fourth

Closing a perfect dual match season, Rollins women's tennis team downed the Charleston (W. Va.) Junior Wightman Cup team 8-2 last week.

The Tar girls defeated Florida, Florida State and South Florida in dual matches and won the Florida State Invitational Tournament in Tallahassee.

This weekend the girl netters wrap up their season, defending their title in the Florida State Invitational Tournament in Coral Gables. Sophomore Guiliana Peterson and freshmen Gretchen Vosters, Wendy Overton and Mary Ann Foniri represent Rollins in the tourney.

Against Charleston the Tars won six of seven singles without being extended to three sets. Miss Overton, Miss Foniri, Miss Vosters, Miss Peterson, Rheua Stakely and Sally Ewell posted singles wins, while Nona Gandelman was forced to default in the third set of her match with Meg Rippetoe.

In doubles competition Rollins' number one and two doubles teams coasted to two-set victories, but Miss Rippetoe and Carol Keller teamed to down Miss Stakely and Mis Ewell in a marathon third match.

Charleston's top player, Jane Butts, who lost to Miss Overton 6-0, 6-1, will enter Rollins as a freshman next fall.

SINGLES — Wendy Overton (R) d. Jane Butts, 6-0, 6-1; Mary Ann Foniri (R) d. Patti Baisden, 7-5, 6-1; Guiliana Peterson (R) d. Susan Havorka, 6-2, 6-1; Gretchen Vosters (R) d. Martha Thornhill, 6-2, 6-0; Meg Rippetoe (C) d. Nona Gandelman, 1-6, 6-4, default; Rheua Stakely (R) d. Antoinette Bond, 6-4, 6-1; Sally Ewell (R) d. Carol Keller.

DOUBLES — Overton-Vosters (R) d. Butts-Baisden, 6-1, 6-2; Foniri-Peterson (R) d. Havorka-Thornhill, 7-5, 6-1; Rippetoe-Keller (C) d. Stakely-Ewell (R), 10-8, 5-7, 6-1.

Netters Coast to FIC Title; Host FSU in Grudge Match

By Rick Strauss

The Rollins College tennis team continued its unblemished record last week as it swept matches against Oglethorpe, Notre Dame, Furman, Stetson, and by winning the first annual Florida Intercollegiate Conference tennis title.

The Tars got off to a good start Monday as they blanked the Oglethorpe squad from Atlanta, Ga., 9-0. In this match Cliff Montgomery set a new time record by defeating his opponent 6-0, 6-0 in just 25 minutes.

Tuesday the Rollins netters met a formidable Notre Dame doubles combination, yet swept five of six singles matches to assure their 19th win. McCannon, the only local singles loser, met a tough competitor in Jasjit Singh, a high ranking player from India.

Menko (R) defeated Brown (ND), 7-5, 3-6, 7-5; Singh (ND) defeated McCannon (R) 5-7, 6-2, 7-5; Montgomery (R) defeated Rosello (NR), 6-4, 1-6, 6-3; Hawley (R) defeated Rieser (ND), 6-1, 7-5; Griffith (R) defeated Murphy (ND), 6-2, 6-4, and Woltmann (R) defeated Sapps (ND), 6-2, 6-2.

Singh-Rosello (ND) defeated Menko-Cowin 3-6, 3-6, 6-4; Brown-Rieser (ND) defeated McCannon-Montgomery 6-1, 6-1, and Murphy-Honerkamp (ND) defeated Starbuck-Smith 7-6 (R) default.

On Wednesday and Thursday the netmen defeated Furman and Stetson by scores of 8-1 and 9-0 respectively. In neither the Oglethorpe, Furman, or Stetson matches did the Tar singles players lose more than 3 games in any one set.

The busy schedule concluded on Saturday as the F.I.C. tourney between Rollins, Stetson, Florida Southern, and Tampa was held.

For some unknown reason (probably vacation) no representatives from the Tampa squad showed, thus causing them to forfeit all of their points.

Rollins won in each of the 6 singles divisions and the 3 doubles divisions with the final tally reading Rollins 18, Stetson 6, Southern 3, and Tampa 0.

Rollins hosted this first annual event which from hereon will be rotated between the participating schools.

The successful week on the Rollins courts left the team with 21 consecutive wins and no defeats; Montgomery and Griffith still undefeated; a singles winning percentage for the season of .910 and Norm Copeland's ten year coaching record at 73.

This weekend the Tars travel to Cape Coral, Fla., to participate in the 4th annual State Championships. Last season the Rollins team took home the runner-up trophy with Miami placing first, Florida State third, and Florida fourth.

Next week the Tars will face St. Leo, Florida State, and Tampa on Mon., Tues., and Wed. respectively with the grudge match being Rollins vs. F.S.U. In their last two duels, the Tar squad has bettered the Seminoles 5-4 with many disputes by both coaches.

In this exciting battle scheduled for 2 p.m. Tues., we will see umpires for every match for the first time in regular match history at Rollins.

There were so many disputed line calls and foot faults, that both coaches agreed it would be better for every match to be properly supervised.

Next to the Miami match of May 14, this should be the most colorful match of the season.

Tar Nine Rated 22nd in Country

After winning 12 straight games and winning the Baseball Week Tournament, Rollins pushed its way into the top 25 collegiate baseball teams in the nation, ranking 22nd in Collegiate Baseball's April 15 poll.

Only one Tar opponent, Harvard (32), and ten other Southern schools finished in the top fifty. Auburn and Florida State rated four-five, behind Southern California, Texas A&M and Washington State.

Rollins also was one of eight schools to place two players among the fifty best major-college hitters in the country as Bob Schabes (27th at .407) and Chuck Olsen (41st at .397) made the list.

A third Tar, Bob Gustafson (.395), would have earned a spot if he had had the necessary 2.5 ABs per Rollins game. Ohio University, Indiana, Long Island University, Texas Tech, Texas A&M, Texas and Arizona also put two players in the top fifty.

Fred Mayer of Florida Southern (.406 for 30th) and Dan Sikes of Tampa (.395 for 44th) were the only other Florida Intercollegiate Conference batters rated.

Other Tar opponents recognized were Pete Caldwell, Georgia Tech, and Sikes, Tampa, fifth in triples; Skip Lujack, Florida, tenth in doubles; Rufus Frazier, Florida, fourth in RBI; Ray Viet, Tampa, fourth in ERA; Bruce Aitken, Florida Southern, sixth in ERA; Butch Crook, Georgia Tech, second in strikeouts; Joe Pizzano, Tampa, third in stolen bases; and Frank Oktaveck, Florida Southern, fourth in stolen bases.

Released by the NCAA, the ratings did not include last week's games. Distinction between major college and small college standing is based on schedule faced, not on size of the school.

Tars Sweep Hats For FIC Lead

Rollins surged into the Florida Intercollegiate Conference base-lead last week with a trio of wins over Stetson University. The Tars tripped the Hatters 6-3 in Lakeland Wednesday, then polished off the Hats, 5-1 and 9-1, in a doubleheader here Saturday. Junior Charles Schoene and freshmen Rick Shotwell and Joe Lasorsa each garnered their first win of the season in the Stetson series.

In the single game Rollins grabbed a 1-0 advantage in the second on Chuck Olsen's two-out single and a triple by Gordy Lynch, but Stetson picked up single tallies in the fourth and fifth to move in front.

Singles by Dorman Barron, Olsen and Lynch sandwiched around an error pushed the Tars back into the lead in the sixth, but the Hatters tagged Schoene for the tying marker in the bottom half of the inning.

After the Tars opened a 6-3 gap with three runs in the top of the seventh on singles by Schoene and Barron, Bob Gustafson's fielder's choice and a double by Bob Schabes, Schoene walked two Hatters with two out, then wild pitched them to third.

Freshman Gale Coleman (3-0) came on to fan pitcher Craig Gruber to end the threat. After handing out two straight walks to open the eighth, Coleman struck out six in a row to end the game.

Three days later the Tars had to come from behind again, erasing a 1-0 Stetson advantage with two runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth.

Bob Chandler opened the fourth with a single and Schabes forced him at second. Two runs scored as Olsen singled to left Rollins' Florida Intercollegiate Conference hopes were dimmed last week as junior first baseman Don Phillips was sidelined for about three weeks by a blood tumor on his hand.

Through the first 18 games this season Phillips had batted .309 and driven in 15 runs. He also led the team in walks with 12 and putouts with 160.

Until Phillips returns, outfielder Bob Gustafson will handle the first base chores, while Dorman Barron will take over Gustafson's spot in left field.

and followed Schabes across the plate as left fielder Dane Starkey missed the ball.

In the fifth Gustafson drove in Flagg, who walked and moved to third on a throwing error, with a sacrifice fly. A walk to Chandler and Schabes' single then set the stage for Olsen again as the senior catcher singled, sending two runs home as the ball eluded left fielder Rick Burns.

Shotwell scattered four hits and walked four more en route to an easy 5-1 win.

Scoring three runs in the second inning of the nitecap, Rollins led all the way and Lasorsa checked the Hats on one hit until he yielded a lone tally in the sixth. Lasorsa finished with a four-hitter and six strikeouts.

Singles by Schabes, Lynch and Pedro Fonts, following Chandler's walk, accounted for the trio of second inning runs. Schabes, Olsen, Fonts, Gustafson and Barron banged out safeties as the Tars erupted for six clinchers in the fourth.

Schabes, top Tar hitter at .415, banked out three hits, to pace a 12-hit attack in the nightcap.

Resuming Florida Intercollegiate Conference play, Rollins' nine journeys to Tampa Saturday for a doubleheader with the improved Tampa Spartans.

The Tars then host the University of South Florida, 8-2 victims in Tampa last month, at 3:30 p.m. Monday at Harper-Shepherd Field before returning to the FIC battle against Florida Southern in Lakeland Wednesday.

Defending FIC champion Southern invades Harper-Shepherd Field April 30 to wrap up the FIC season in a crucial doubleheader with the Tars.

Off a 12-9 1965 campaign, Tampa won its first five games this season behind the pitching of righthanders Ray Viet and Wayne Harden and the hitting of third baseman Dan Sikes.

Viet, 3-0 through April 9, ranked fourth among the nation's pitchers last week with a 0.29 ERA. Harden, a 6-8 basketball center, posted a 4-3, 1.33 ERA mark last season.

Batting at a .395 clip through last week, Sikes was 44th in batting and rated fifth in triples. Speedster Joe Pizzano, Tampa second sacker, batted .403 last season and was third in the nation last week with 9 stolen bases.

Coach Joe Justice's Tars entered the Tampa series with a .320 batting average and an ERA of 2.45. Six Tar starters were over the .300 mark.

Rightfielder Bob Schabes and catcher Chuck Olsen are still battling for the hitting lead with .415 and .412 marks respectively. First baseman Bob Gustafson is a step behind at .380.

Further down the line are left fielder Dorman Barron (.333), second baseman Bob Chandler (.321) and third baseman Gordon Lynch (.314). Shortstop Pedro Fonts (.258) and center fielder Tom Flagg (.247) round out the Tar cast.

Despite a batting slump Flagg still leads the team in seven categories, including runs (22) and walks (12). Schabes has pulled away in the RBI department with 21 in only 19 games.

Among the regular moundsmen freshman Joe Lasorsa boasts the top ERA of 1.33, followed by Ed McNair, 1.53, Rick Shotwell, 1.88 and Gale Coleman, 2.10. Coleman has 36 strikeouts in 26 innings.

Chandler's Hit Nips Tampa 8-7 in 10th

Bob Chandler tripped over the center fielder's head, scoring pinch-runner Ed Siemer from first base, to give Rollins an 8-7 tenth inning decision over Tampa here Wednesday.

The victory gave the Tars a perfect 4-0 Florida Intercollegiate Conference slate and evened second place Tampa's FIC record at 2-2. The Tars travel to Tampa for a twinbill Saturday.

Chandler's two-out blow prevented the game from being called a tie because of darkness.

Tampa came from behind twice to tie the game, reversing a 7-2 advantage with a five-run rally in the eighth.

Scoring single tallies in the first and third, Rollins led 2-0 before the Spartans tagged starter Gale Coleman for two runs on four singles and a hit batsman in the fourth.

Rollins scored first when Bob Gustafson walked, advanced to third on a single and a stolen base and scored on a wild pitch. Tom Flagg registered the second marker on Dorman Barron's single, after walking and stealing second.

In the sixth the Tars drove Tampa starter Wayne Harden to the showers with a pair of runs on four hits, including RBI singles by Flagg and Barron, and two walks. Reliever Bill Guerriero retired Chandler on a pop up with the bases loaded to end the threat.

Pedro Fonts capped the Tar scoring with a three-run homer, the first of his collegiate career, in the seventh.

Jumping on Coleman in the eighth, the Spartans tallied twice on four singles before Charles Schoene, the eventual winner, relieved.

With two out Schoene walked Guerriero to load the bases, then passed left fielder Tony Ciavarelli to force in a run. However, while arguing the call, catcher Chuck Olsen threw the ball into the dugout, scoring another run.

The tying run scored a minute later on a wild pitch.

Tampa threatened to go ahead in the tenth, putting runners on first and third on two walks, a sacrifice and a wild pitch, but Schoene fanned Ciavarelli to close the door.

Snakes Lead Softball Race

By Pete McCusker

Men's Intramural softball got under way April 6, when Sigma Nu demonstrated that it had not lost its championship form of last year, as it defeated KA by the score of 34 to 0 in four innings.

The timely hitting of Ted Alfond and Joe Bohannon, each with a double and a home run, gave Lambda Chi a 9 to 7 win over Sigma Phi Epsilon, April 11.

For the second time this season, the pitching of Bill Jackson and the hitting of Brian Payne, Jack Zimmerman, Millard Nixon, and Tom Sacha proved to be the edge as Sigma Nu defeated the Faculty Grads, 11 to 5.

Lambda Chi also won its second game of the season as it defeated KA, 17 to 15, on Monday. Lambda Chi had 14 hits, 3 of which were home runs by Tony Levecchio, Ted Alfond, and Tim Brown.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won its first game this season on Tuesday as it defeated TKE by the score of 11 to 1. The Sig Eps were led by John Apleby with two walks, a single, and a home run.

X Club scored a come-from-behind victory over Delta Chi on Monday. The Delts broke to a first inning 3 to 0 lead and held the Club to only one hit in the first 3 innings.

Tar Crew Primes for State Race

By Mike Miller

As the regulation season draws to an end, the rumors are, around the state, that the Rollins Crew dynasty has finally come to an end.

For the past twelve years, Rollins Varsity has been the victor in the "state race" which includes all of the Florida Colleges that participate in crew.

Wednesday's defeat at the hands of Florida Southern, in both the J.V. and Varsity races has more than confirmed this rumor in everyone's mind — except the Rollins crew.

A short time ago the decision was made that when the crew went to the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia, the J.V. boat, which is all Freshmen, would travel as a Freshman boat; thus increasing the chances of not a second or third place finish, but of a first place.

According to Crew Coach Jim Lyden, "the power is there, in that J.V. boat. All they have to do is harness it for a little over five and a half minutes."

What he means by "harnessing" this power is the development and perfection of the split-second timing that is necessary for a win.

In the two races that the J.V.'s have won, as always, the power was there, but that was all. It was sheer power that guided the J.V. boat to these early season wins over Amherst and LaSalle, but in the state race, and especially the Dad Vail, the competition cannot be overcome by power alone.

The "timing," all eight men putting their oars in the water at the same time; and the "set," all eight men sitting exactly in the middle of their seats and looking straight ahead, are equally important factors that combine to produce a victory.

At a meeting of the J.V. crew the night before the Florida Southern race, the consensus of opinion was, "this race can make us or break us as a boat: if we win, there is no problem in the state race; if we lose, it's all over."

The J.V.'s lost, as did the varsity but the "funseekers", as Coach Lyden so jovially has named the J.V. boat because of its spirit, unity, and guts, are still out there — with more determination than ever to win the state race and go to Philadelphia.

In order to do this, they have stepped up their training program to almost impossible limits — a completely revamped practice schedule, with two days a week practice held at 6:30 in the morning, and the other days having practice at odd times so that they can receive more individual coaching from one of the best, Coach Jim Lyden.

The varsity boat, having more experience, does not face the tremendous task that the J.V. boat does, however the varsity oarsmen continue working equally as hard.

Because of this Rollins can expect a Varsity and J.V. victory at the State Race and an equally good showing at the Dad Vail.

King's Court Trips Rollins

By Bill Jackson

Last Saturday in C. L. Varner Stadium, the Rollins All Stars met the King and his Court, minus Eddie Feigner, the King and another player who missed the game because of illness.

Unfortunately for Rollins the Court was enough to handle the All Stars. Bob Balink, playing for the injured pro, turned in an outstanding performance to help defeat his teammates.

The Tars drew first blood when Jack Zimmerman tripled and scored on a hit by Scotty Green. In the second inning, Tom Sacha singled and then pitcher Bill Jackson helped his own cause by hitting a two-run home run to center field.

Jackson shut the Court out for three innings, but in the fourth a wild streak coupled with two hits and two bases loaded errors gave the Court five big runs.

The fifth inning was scoreless and then in the sixth, the Court scored again on a hit and a towering home run to right field. This ended the scoring for the Court, but the Tars could only garner one more run in the seventh.

The Tars hitting was led by Jackson who had a home run and a single, Zimmerman with a triple and double, Millard Nixon with a triple, Tom Sacha with a double, and Scotty Green with a single.

Jackson fanned nine of the Court, while the Court pitcher registered 15 strikeouts.
