Alumni Group Picks Leaders

The election of five directors to the Rollins College Alumni Association board of directors was announced by Marcus T. Young, director of alumni affairs, at the annual alumni weekend, held on the campus April 22-24.

Newly elected were: Benjamin Ayerigg, class of '49, Maitland; Mrs. John H. Divine, III, '39, Orlando; Robert F. Stonerock, '41, Orlando; Don W. Tauscher, '56, Sanlando Springs. Kenneth F. Pelouquin, '54, Winter Park, was reelected for his second term. Members serve for a three-year period.

Previous to holding his present position as a WDBO-TV newscaster, Ben Ayerigg was director of audio-visual aids at Rollins and a member of the English department.

Also elected was Mrs. John Myers, Ashland, Ohio, to serve as alumni trustee on the Rollins College Board of Trustees.

Ken Pelouquin is immediate past president of the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce. Director and corporate secretary of the Winter Park Telephone Co., he is active in numerous business, civic and social organizations.

He has done much in recent years to further a mutually helpful relationship between the college and community.

Mrs. Divine, the former Frances Daniel, is a former president of the Rollins alumni association. Before her marriage she was engaged in social service work in the Orlando-Winter Park area.

A former treasurer of the alumni association, Don Tauscher is vice president of the Commercial Bank at Winter Park and a director of the South Seminole Bank at Fern Park.

Bob Stonerock, New Alumni President

All four of the Stonerock family are Rollins-oriented. Robert and his wife, the former Mary Marchman of Orlando, were in the class of '41. Their daughter Mary Sue won honors at entrance in 1963; Robert, Jr., is a member of the present freshman class. Stonerock is a certified public accountant and has been president of the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Also elected was a new alumni trustee to serve on the Rollins College Board of Trustees. She is Mrs. John Myers, '41 of Ashland, Ohio, the former June Reinhold of Jacksonville.

Her father Paul Reinhold is chairman of the board of Foremost Dairies. Both Mr. and Mrs. Myers

Young Democrats Hear Police Chief Ray Beary

By Erich Sippel

At a meeting of the Rollins Young Democrats last Wednesday evening, Winter Park Chief of Police Ray Beary discussed the laws regarding drinking by Rollins students.

"There are three dangers in students' drinking," said Beary. "First, if they are driving, they can easily hurt themselves and others also. Second, if a boy or girl has been drinking, it can lead to too much sex. Third, it can cause 'false courage' — 'a chip on the shoulder' attitude that might cause a person to start a disturbance."

Clarifying the laws regarding buying alcoholic beverages under a false I.D., he said that a person may be fined from $5.00 to $500, and the liquor store may lose its license if it fails to take "reasonable precautions" against the sale of liquor to minors.

When asked what constitutes "possession" of alcohol, Chief Beary replied, "If it is on his person or immediate area, and if he has been drinking."

Beary also revealed that he has met several times with the Rollins administration and hopes to have a "good, close relationship" with Rollins.

He also discussed police control of syndicate activities in central Florida. He said that police know who the leaders of the syndicate are, and whenever they come through Winter Park, they are stopped for a "routine check." Airplanes are also used to check illegal activities they might be engaged in.

"Our pressure and harassment tactics must be working," said Beary. "They are beginning to turn in desperation to violent types of crimes, such as murder, burglary, and crimes of this kind."

Also present was Barney J. Cohen, Democratic candidate for the state Democratic committee.

"The chairman of the Democratic Party in Orange County is trying to set up a political machine to pick candidates for offices," have taken a keen interest in Rollins since their graduation. Myers was named "Alumnus of the Year" in 1962 and is the donor of a number of valuable paintings to the college. Their son John III is a member of the present freshman class.

charged Cohen. This machine will lead to corruption, he maintained. "Corruption follows money and money will try to buy votes and nominations."

He called on the Rollins Young Democrats to help him in his fight for clean government. "You'll get a bang out of it, and we'll win," he said.

Douglass Named To Study Local Church Doctrine

Dr. Paul F. Douglass, Professor of Government, Rollins College, has been named to the study committee of the section on educational development by the Methodist Church. The committee is part of a team which will review and help formulate a theoretical foundation for the work of the local church in contemporary society.

The group has begun work on a task force paper entitled "Our Presuppositions for Theory Development for the Church's Educational Ministry." Douglass is the author of "The Group Workshop Way."

An 80-page report has just been issued by the National Council of Churches on the activities of the Task Force on Leisure, which is headed by Dr. Douglass. The study, made possible by a grant from the Leisure World Foundation, developed from a work seminar at Princeton University under the chairmanship of Douglass.

Four sub-task forces were headed by Hugh Galusha, Jr., president of the Federal Reserve Bank, Minneapolis; Donald W. Winne, deputy attorney of Nevada; Dean Robert Corrigan, New York University; Perry Norton, professor of planning, New York University; and Dr. Douglass. The Task Force will convene again under the Rollins professor's chairmanship at Princeton in mid-June.

Douglass is a trustee of the National Recreation and Park Association, which holds its annual meeting at the Hunt Club, Cleveland, at the end of May.

Rep. Edward Gurney To Talk At Graduation

Congressman Edward J. Gurney will be the speaker at commencement June 3 in Knowles Memorial Chapel, 10:00 a.m.

The United States representative from this district is a familiar figure on campus. Earlier this year he and his wife, the former Natalie Alhborn, were guests of honor at a student reception sponsored by the Center for Practical Politics.

Rep. Gurney is a native of Portland, Maine, and received his early education in Skowhegan and Waterville. He was graduated from Colby College with the bachelor of science degree and then went on to Harvard Law School where he earned his bachelor of laws. He received the Master of Laws degree at Duke University Law School in 1948.

Gurney has had a distinguished military record. Commissioned a Second Lieutenant early in World War II, he rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He was in action overseas with the 8th Armored Division in France, Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He was awarded the Purple Heart and Silver Star.

The congressman maintains his law office in Winter Park with his partner John T. Skolfield, Jr. He served this city as City Commissioner for six years, 1952-58 and as Mayor 1961-62 before his election to Congress in the fall of 1962.

Rep. Ed Gurney

In the House of Representatives, Gurney serves on the Science and Astronautics Committee, the Space and Aeronautics Task Force of the House and the Government Operations Committee.

Rollins Leaders Take Part In Annual SUSGA Conference

Ten Rollins students will leave campus early Thursday morning to attend the annual conference of the Southern Universities Student Government Association which is being held May 5, 6, 7, at the Hotel Robert Meyer in Jacksonville, Florida. SUSGA is a communication and service organization comprised of sixty-five member colleges from eight states in the southeast.

The convention opens with a Keynote Address and a luncheon, followed by an afternoon of panel discussions. Some of the major topics to be discussed are: the role of student government, the executive branch, student senates and legislatures, judicial systems, and honor codes. The first day's business will conclude with state caucuses. Excellent entertainment, including the Town Criers, Dinah Shore, the Bitter End Singers, the Fabulous Five, and Hank Ballard and the Midnighters, has been scheduled for both evenings.

Friday morning, seven more panel discussions will be presented. In the afternoon the delegates will be taken on a tour of Jacksonville and Jacksonville University. The convention will close with a morning session on Saturday when the introduction of the 1966-67 Executive Council will be made.

The following students will attend the SUSGA conference: Bill Blackburn, Vice-President; Carole Conklin, Secretary; Debbi Wood, Comptroller; Al Hollon, Men's Rules, Tom Sacha, Chairman of Lower Court; Scotty Green, Traffic Committee Chairman; Laura Barnes, Delegate-at-Large; Pete Keyes, Delegate-At-Large, and the new Chairman of Women's Rules.

The Rollins Art Group cordially invites students faculty members to attend a reception honoring Professors Jim Kornwolf and Jim Anderson at Casa Iberia, Friday, the thirteenth of May, 3:30 p.m.

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

Following the Sandspur's policy of attempting to keep students informed on all campus activities and issues, we are printing in this issue the text of the speech which was presented to the Student Council on Monday night by former Student Association President Chuck Olsen. This report marks the end of two years of progress and leadership in student government.

We feel that there is one point that needs emphasizing; that is, the need for more active student participation in the affairs of campus government. The fact that two candidates for office ran unopposed in this year's Student Association elections seems to indicate a need for more active participation. At Rollins we are fortunate that we have so much power and authority placed in our student government. However, if student government does not succeed and succeed strongly, we will lose what we have.

The fact that the faculty has taken the problem of reapportionment under consideration indicates that there are those who are ready to intervene in student affairs, given the chance.

What is needed is a large number of people who are willing to work constructively to make student government at Rollins move ahead. With this in mind we must move forward, benefiting as many groups and interests on campus as possible and not just a limited few.

Letters To The Editor

I note that Student Association Vice-President Bill Blackburn has appointed a committee to examine the reapportionment issue and, presumably, to come up with an enactable plan. It seems that after a year of inane and incessant bickering the Legislative majority has finally decided to get to work.

Now all we have to worry about is what the product of the consequent deliberations will be. In view of past events and the fact that Independents are outnumbered by Greeks on the Reapportionment Committee, it would be foolhardy for Independents to expect anything more than a monstrous travesty of reapportionment. Already we are hearing talk around campus about "districting." While this attempt to have the independent representatives elected by specific dorms sounds innocent enough, any fool can see that the reason for Greek support of this proposal is not, as is claimed, a desire to increase the immediacy of representation for Indies but rather a desire to divide the two Independent organizations into a multitude of factions. The old "divide and conquer" theory seems to be very popular on fraternity row these days.

There are, however, other, even more clever means by which the Greek majority might dilute the effective strength of the Independents in a reapportioned Legislature. Not the least of these is President Bob Gustafson's call for representation for New and Elizabeth Halls. Thus two additional seats would be created, two seats which would inevitably fall to Greeks. It may also be presumed that the Class Presidents would be available to resume their recently lost role as voting members of the Legislature in the event that the "GDI's" became too "uppity."

— Night At The Flics —

By Benjamin Morrison

As promised a couple of weeks back, A Thousand Clowns will herewith be reviewed, with gusto.

The film was sneak previewed a while ago and is the current attraction at the Plaza Rocking Chair. And it is an excellent movie.

Nominated for four Oscars (including Best Picture), Thousand Clowns won an award for Best Supporting Actor (Martin Balsam) and has consistently superior performances by a cast drawn almost totally from the Broadway version.

Jason Robards (he's dropped the Jr.) is Murray, a man of many talents and no ambition. His nephew Nick (a young man of many names) is played by Barry Gordon, an actor who is anything but the usual mindless moppet. Murray is Nick's unofficial guardian, and therein lies the conflict. Seems The Powers That Be think jobless Murray is incapable of guarding anybody. So along comes social worker Barbara Harris to "do the right thing," meaning Murray gets a job or loses Nick.

Needless to say, there are complications. Funny complications. The script, adapted by Herb Gardner from his play, is hilarious. A fun movie. And, like most good "fun" movies, something serious to say. Is conformity a good thing? Very nicely, the film never answers its own question, but the ending allows the audience to make its own decisions. Happy ending? I wonder.

Anyway, go see it.

Oh, if you have complaints, me too. The film is too long (my universal criticism these days) and perhaps too ambiguous for its own good. But it more than compensates. The sequences of wanderings in New York City are particularly good, in the best Richard Lester (Hard Day's Night, Help!, The Knack) tradition of planned spontaneity.

As the film ends before this will be published, I won't go into a full review of Tenth Victim, recently deceased at the Park East. I will say that Marcell Mastroianni and Ursula Andress are perhaps the most magnificent-looking actors of our time, and the film was a joy to watch.

You could have fooled me, but I just got around to seeing Sound of Music at the Beacham. Nothing could possibly deserve the raves it got, and it doesn't, but I was pleasantly surprised. Nobody raved about Christopher Plummer, only I'm going to now, as he's the best thing in the movie, and is one of the best actors around now.

The Colony has The Sky Above... The Mud Below, a recent Oscar-winning documentary, and Andy, a view of life through the eye of a forty-year-old mentally retarded adult (funny, you only hear about retarded children).

The Shop on Main Street, the newest Best Foreign Film Oscar-winner, is new to the Park East. Billed as a tragi-comedy, the movie concerns a sort of "Mrs. Pawnbroker" and her relationship with a Nazi. The umpteenth remake of Agatha Christie's mystery (but, thankfully, without spies). Ten Little Indians is at the Park West, and stars Hugh O'Brian, Shirley Eaton, Fabian (now you know whatever happened to), and at least seven other actors of indeterminate life expectancy.

The Parkwood Cinema isn't saying if Johnny Tiger will still be on, but if not, the previously-forecast Flight of the Phoenix should be the replacement. The Collector

All considered, the opportunities available to the Legislature for selfishly motivated mischief on the reapportionment issue are many.

There is, however, also a great opportunity for the exercise of statesmanship. By giving the Indies unqualified, undiluted reapportionment, the Greek majority can earn the respect of the unaffiliated minority and forever end the senseless animosity between Greeks and Indies. The alternative is an atmosphere of bitterness, resentment, and rancor.

Harper's Sets Jamaican Fest For Tuesday

Harper's is the place. Tuesday, May 10, is the day. And 7 p.m. is the time of the annual Rollins-Harper's Jamaican Festival.

This party, always given during the spring term, is designed to ease the heavy work-load and academic pressure that spring term always brings along with it.

Jerry Gnazzo, general chairman of the event, promises bigger and better prizes for all of the contests and games but places emphasis on the awards for the two best costumes in the Jamaican tradition. Gnazzo also wishes to reassure the student body that Marsha Mulligan will have absolutely nothing to do with the selection of the games.

The Barnett Family, proprietors of Harper's, will be serving up the potent potables, aptly named "Jamaican Farewell."

So if you're over 21, love the limbo and the islands, the Jamaican Festival will enjoyably round out your spring term's social life.

Student Council Reports

By Al Hollon

The May 3 meeting of the Legislature opened with the Annual Presidential Report of Chuck Olsen, President of the Student Association for the past two years. Olsen's report proved to be very informative. He hoped the Legislature would seriously consider his suggestions for changes in the Student Association.

Debbie Wood, Comptroller, informed the Legislature that organizations receiving allocations from the Student Association must submit their report of expenditure immediately to the comptroller.

Bill Blackburn, Vice-President, reported that Andy Scudder is the new voting member from Kappa Alpha Theta.

Under Old Business, the proposal reducing the minimum meetings from 10 to 5 for candidates for the Student Association was untabled. An amendment changing the number to 8 failed to gain a second. The proposal of 5 meetings passed.

The proposal creating two traffic committees was untabled for discussion. It was pointed out that there would still be three students, including the chairman, on the student committee. This proposal was passed.

Under New Business, Bob Gustafson, President, read a letter from Steve Combs, past Sandspur Editor. Combs gave his account of the Sandspur budget for Fall term, and he said that his figures differ from those of Bill Renforth, Managing Editor of the present Sandspur staff. Debbie Wood, Comptroller, said that she was with Renforth when he obtained his figures from the Administration Building. Debbie also stated that Renforth's figures equal those that she has in her records.

Bob Gustafson, President, announced the selection of the new chairman of the standing Committees. Gustafson selected Jerry Lang, Men's Rules; Scotty Green, Traffic Committee; and Craig Wandke, Beanery Committee. These three new chairmen were confirmed by the Legislature. Gustafson also announced that the Judicial appointments will be made known after the May 9th Faculty meeting. The Faculty will act on the new constitution at that time.

The Sandspur staff sent its request for salaries for Spring Term. This request was passed by the Legislature.

Dutchy Bodenheimer, a member of the Orientation Committee, requested that the Student Association provide the money necessary for the Freshman Directory. This request was tabled.

Fred Gittes distributed information concerning the Speaker's Bureau. Gittes said he wanted the Legislature to be informed on the Bureau's purpose and accomplishments.

President Olsen Presents Annual Council Report

The final duty of each outgoing president is to present a yearly report on his administration. In this report the president must summarize the successes and failures of his administration and indicate why such events occurred. For the second straight year it is my privilege and pleasure to present to you, the students of Rollins, this annual report.

As I look back on this past administration, I feel as though my job as president was a much easier one. I say this for a number of reasons. First of all, Thanksgiving vacation was returned to the students without further commotion. Secondly, we did not have to draw up a social code. And finally, there were no riots with which to contend.

This year, I feel, has been relatively calm. The students of Rollins seem to be changing their attitudes about certain things. This is reflected in the relatively few Lower Court cases occurring this year. On the other hand, I feel that the students are not taking enough interest in their college. Student government is the spokesman for the students, and yet we only see approximately 25-36 students at each meeting. Thus, when the Student Government elections came up this spring only two offices had more than one candidate running. Is this all the students care about their government? I hardly think so, but at times I wonder. Therefore, my first recommendation is that you involve more students in our government. This can be done in a number of ways. First of all, restructure of the government is a good idea. Separation of powers should be incorporated in this restructure. Reapportionment is also necessary, and with an increase in the size of the voting body. Thirdly, increasing student participation could be accomplished by creating more positions. The setting up of a Fiesta Committee with one chairman and three other people creates three new positions and is an excellent innovation. These are just a few of the recommendations I make to the council for the coming year. My past administration did not involve the students as much as it might have, and as a result, some of the students lost interest.

The legislature was rather sluggish this year. Only a few students had the initiative to question major issues. Most of the legislators came to the meetings out of requirement and merely sat back and listened rather than involve themselves directly. If we want to strengthen our government, we must have not only capable students, but interested students. For without their leadership and interest, our government will lay fallow, resulting in faculty intervention. I emphasize this because there are a few now among the faculty and administration who will intervene, given the chance.

The council must consider carefully all issues on the floor to decide what should be passed or defeated. I ask all students to bear this in mind. To you, the new legislators, I say that you should be as helpful as possible to your new Executive Board. They are learning at the same time as you, and if your cooperation is secured the council will be a united and stronger body.

And now for an analysis of the standing committees:

Men's Rules

Under the able leadership of Al Hollon, the committee completely revamped Men's rules. Al also worked very closely with me on the Constitutional Revision Committee, helping in the revision of the Constitution and Constitution By-Laws. At the same time this committee worked closely with the Women's Rules Committee to obtain the open-house privileges recently accorded the students. The Men's Rules Committee has labored quite effectively this year, and I would like to personally thank Al and his committee for the fine job they have done this past year.

Women's Rules

This year one of the main jobs of the Women's Rules Committee has been to set-up the Women's Senior Key Privilege. Sandra worked very closely with Dean Howden and her committee to establish this program and make it work. For their efforts the committee has been rewarded by the key privileges' successful first full year of use. Also, the Women's Rules Committee has worked with the Men's Rules to secure the aforementioned open-house program. Thank you for a fine job, Sandra.

Beanery Committee

This year the Beanery Committee worked under two chairmen: Dave Dugdale and John Pistor respectively. Through the cooperation of Mr. Theil and the committee itself, the Beanery has improved its food quite significantly. We always hear students complain about the "Beanery food", but I can assure you that most of the food we get is not as bad as the food which is served in other institutions. Nevertheless, I am sure that the griping about food is traditional at Rollins and will go on indefinitely. If the Beanery Committee secured a constant diet of steaks for the students, complaints of monotony would be forthcoming. This committee has my sympathy.

I was disappointed in the committee in one respect. The dress rules were not enforced. Consequently, many students are breaking these rules, and I am sure many of the offenders are not even aware of their error. Therefore, I would like to recommend that the next Beanery chairmen immediately enforce the dress rules so that the students will not become too lax in their dress, especially during this, the Spring Term at Rollins.

Traffic Committee

If there ever was a thankless job, it is that of Traffic Chairman. However, Geoff Robertson and Dr. Lane did an excellent job in setting up and enforcing the rules. Improved traffic and parking regulations have reduced the number of tickets given out each day from 30-40 to only 5-10. A comprehensive study of parking facilities eventually led to an additional twenty parking places installed on campus. The committee, at the same time, re-established the Traffic Court, but only had to use it a few times during the year. The hiring of a scholarship student to handle and process all the traffic tickets worked very effectively. I hope that the new Traffic Chairman will follow this same practice.

The collection of traffic fines proved to be a continuing problem. Originally, the committee was going to enforce a system that would not allow a student to register if he did not pay his fines. Unfortunately, a technicality was discovered which did not allow this procedure. However, any student who has not paid his fines at the end of this term will not be allowed to register for next year. I would like to appeal to Mr. Tiedtke to waive this technicality that assures a student registration if he has paid his fees. If it can be waived our traffic committee can enforce its fines, and parking problems on the Rollins campus will be greatly decreased. I would like to thank Geoff for his fine job this year, and at the same time extend my thanks to Dr. Lane, who has worked endlessly to improve the committee and its structure.

Lower Court

This year the Lower Court has had only a few cases. Therefore, it is hard to evaluate the court and the job that has been done by its chairman, Jim Johnson. I do believe, however, that the court worked together very capably, and at the same time showed no prejudices. The court definitely improved in strength and respect in comparison with previous years. I attribute this growth in respect to the individual members of the court. This year we had people who were respected by all other students and for this reason the image of the court improved.

Chuck Olsen
Past President, Student Council

My personal thanks go to Jim Johnson, who has worked very hard this year getting the files completely up to date and organizing them according to precedent.

I feel that the Lower Court must have the respect of the students in order to function properly. The only way this can be accomplished is to screen all candidates thoroughly and appoint only those that are respected by their fellow students.

Upper Court

The Upper Court has handled more cases this year than ever before and at the same time has taken on a new image — that of a "hanging" court. Therefore, I would like to recommend that all cases be reviewed by the Lower Court first. Exceptions to this would be sexual offenses, drug addiction and alcoholism. By having all cases come before the Lower Court first, the seriousness of the offense can be considered and then it can be appealed or referred to the Upper Court for further investigation. The proceedings of the Lower Court, of course, would have to be just as confidential as those of the Upper Court if this proposal were to be accepted. I strongly believe that if our courts are to function effectively, all cases should be referred to the Lower Court first and handled from there. Students must have the freedom to appeal decisions, but have no right to repeal if the case is referred to the Upper Court first.

Sandspur

A very important and integral part of college life is communications. The Sandspur, under the editorship of Fred Suarez, has done a most impressive job in this respect. Fred has had an excellent staff to work with this year, and I would especially like to single out Bill Renforth for doing an excellent job in aiding and assisting Mr. Suarez. Through the endless efforts of these two students our paper has been most informative and interesting. At the same time, it has covered the student council meetings thoroughly and has given me the opportunity to write the weekly Column, "Olsen Discusses Issues." This weekly column is most important, I feel, in communicating ideas and opinions on certain pertinent student issues. Therefore, I would also like to recommend that the new president, Bob Gustafson, continue this practice. I would also like to recommend that the Sandspur continue to cover the council meeting as thoroughly as it has done this past year.

Again my thanks to the entire Sandspur staff and its able editor, Fred Suarez.

Fiesta

The Country of the Year, Holland was this year's Fiesta theme. In all I believe the program was much improved over the past Fiesta programs. I commend the students for supporting Fiesta this year and for buying their tickets in blocks. The Fiesta Chairman, Fred Suarez, did an excellent job in securing good entertainment, and, of course, President McKean sponsored an excellent dance for us on the last night of Fiesta. I would like to recommend that if the Student Association has a surplus in its budget, as it did this past year, that it pay for Fiesta entirely and thus allow students to go to these events free of charge. By doing this I believe more students will participate in the events, and they will be relieved of this added financial burden. Many students who did not attend Fiesta this year probably did so for financial reasons.

My thanks is once again extended to those who worked so hard on the Fiesta Committee, and also to its chairman, Fred Suarez.

Union

For the second straight year, the Union showed indications of improvement. The Educational Entertainment Committee with its outside lectures did a commendable job. The big-name entertainment, although it did not come as frequently as I had anticipated, was also excellent.

The Union must, however have your support if it is to continue to improve. Without your interest, its activities are not worthwhile. Therefore, I urge each and every one of you to support the Union, even more than you have done in the past. It can get an increase in its budget for new events and it can secure big-name entertainment, but if you do not want these events, no effort will be made. Therefore, do all you can to make the Union a better organization, not only for yourself, but for your fellow students as well.

Let me now go into some of the legislation that appeared on the floor during the year:

One of the first pieces we passed was the Social Code under which we are now operating. This Code, of course, eliminated the controversial double jeopardy question which had perplexed many Rollins students in the past. The implementation has proven very successful. I hope it will work as well in the future.

Our budget as mentioned earlier, was well within its limits. Therefore, there was no need to raise our Student Association fee for next year. Since we did have such a surplus, I can anticipate no financial problems for the new Executive Board in the up-coming year.

The legislature distributed allocations to various groups that are not under Student Association jurisdiction. We allocated $500 to the Howard Showalter, Jr., Fund in order to help begin the Fieldhouse. In all, the Association raised $1100 for the Fieldhouse, which is scheduled to begin sometime within the year. We also allocated $250 to Chapel Fund, and $250 to the Rollins Concert Series.

Probably the two most important issues that arose in the legislature this year were the proposals for reapportionment and the question of whether the class presidents should have a vote.

On the question of reapportionment, the legislature pondered week after week. Finally, after a very close vote, the motion was defeated. I would like to recommend that the faculty ultimatum be delayed until at least the middle of the fall term next year. I think by this time, the legislators will have had ample time to make a definite decision on how the Association should be reapportioned.

It was decided that class presidents should not have a vote in the legislature. This decision came after a tedious filibuster by one of our legislators. I do not agree with this decision entirely, mainly because the legislature needs students who are leaders such as these presidents are. I would like to recommend that the legislatures seriously consider reinstating these presidents to a voting capacity when they consider the question of reapportionment.

Finally, our first retreat proved to be quite successful. Everyone who attended learned quite a bit about our Student Government Association, and at the same time, they were able to exchange ideas. Many of the recommendations I am making in this report are direct results of this retreat. It proved beneficial to me since I learned a great deal also. Therefore, I suggest that the legislature continue to hold the retreat and possibly make it an annual affair. However, I believe it advisable to hold this retreat in the Fall. My reason is simple. In order to legislate the recommendations resulting from the retreat, you must have time for thorough discussion of the proposed changes.

The Executive Board and a group of legislators revised the entire Constitution and Constitution By-laws, and at the same time did likewise to the rules and regulation of the R Book. Thus, the new administration has an entirely up to date Constitution with which to work. My thanks go to each and every person who ably assisted the Executive Board in these revisions.

In conclusion, I would like to re-emphasize my points and recommendations. First of all, remember you must remain a unified and strong body, for it is you, the Student Association, who express the views and opinions of your fellow classmates. Therefore, it is imperative that you remain united and strong or fall prey to faculty intervention.

Secondly, you must reapportion yourselves, but do not reapportion without giving it much careful thought and consideration. I do not believe it can be done by October 15, 1966 and therefore recommend that an extension of this deadline be sought.

Thirdly, you must strengthen your judicial system if you expect to continue regulating yourselves. This is most important, for if you have no student courts, you have

Alpha Phi Readies Annual Fashion Show

By Tina Godwin

Alpha Phi Sorority under the Guidance Standards Chairman, Nancy Sharpless, is sponsoring a fashion show on Sunday, May 8. It will be held in Bingham Hall and will begin at 2 p.m. All housemothers and Rollins women are welcome.

Apparel for the show is being generously contributed by Matthews, a women's apparel shop located in the Winter Park Mall. The types of clothing shown will be stylish and quite appropriate for wear on the Rollins campus. Of course, the fashions will vary from bathing suits to party dresses, but all will be new and intriguing. The appeal will be to those women of many tastes and many moods — women "on-the-go" — the younger set.

The origin of this fashion show is rather interesting. Each school year Alpha Phi Sorority is required to have at least three one to two hour Standards Meetings. These meetings are divided up so that there is one per term. The Standards Chairman must organize each meeting, sometimes with the assistance of a committee which she appoints, and present it to the sorority. In the past these meetings, which are mandatory for all sorority members, have been unfortunately dull and have as a result been classed with other "unpleasant duties" which arise occasionally within the sorority. The purpose of these meetings is basically to instruct the sorority members in the "social graces" or to refresh their memories along the same lines. It is not difficult to see how these meetings could become bogged down in protocol.

Last spring the Standards Chairman, Nancy Sharpless, first initiated the idea of the fashion show as Alpha Phi's spring Standards Meeting. It involved sorority members as models only. Housemothers and members of other campus social groups were invited and the turn out was encouraging. The sorority members enjoyed working in the show so much that it was decided to continue the idea this spring, but with a few added improvements.

The biggest of these was the invitation of members of other campus social groups to contribute models to the show. This was an attempt to unite the Rollins women in a fun-type endeavor and reinforce often times weak interaction between these groups. Models for the show will be the best each sorority has to offer: Suzanne Pemberton, Pi Beta Phi; Polly Perrott, Gamma Phi Beta; Sunny Edwards, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ann Elmore, Phi Mu; Barbara Alderson, Chi Omega; Pam Booth, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Lee Ann Jurich, Independent Women; and Sylvia Kuta, Alpha Phi. Hopefully, this activity will continue in years to come to maintain friendly and enthusiastic communication between Rollins women.

Sincerely,
Chuck Olsen,
President of Student Association

ROLLINS' DOUBLEPLAY COMBINATION CLICKS AGAIN
... Pedro Fonts (L), shortstop, and Bob Chandler, second base.

Chandler, Fonts Key Tar Baseball Surge

One of the chief reasons for Rollins improving its record to 23-5 from an 18-14 record of last year is the improved play of Pedro Fonts and Bob Chandler. This year Fonts moved over to Chandler's spot at shortstop and Chandler moved to second. The change has proved to be very beneficial to both players, and has given Joe Justice a solid doubleplay combination that can come up with the big play. Besides their defensive play, they have helped to make the Tars the good hitting team they are.

Pedro has followed his pattern as a late season hitter. He got a bad start this year (.217 13-60 through the first 19 games) then broke out with 4-6 in Stetson's doubleheader. In the last nine games he has boosted his average 90 points to (.307) on 14-28 .550 showing. His best agmes are 2-4, 4 RBI versus Amherst (Mar. 22), and 3-4 vs. Fla. Southern (Apr. 27). Fonts is second on the team now with 22 RBI which is unusual for a number 8 hitter. This tsrength near the end of the batting order really makes it hard on opposing pitchers because they have no easy batters whom they can let up on.

For a hard position like shortstop where you have to be in the right spot at the right time or you're out of luck, Fonts has done a satisfactory job. Fonts in his eagerness at times to make a play at second looks up on balls too early. With time Fonts will get used to those hard-hit balls directly at him. Both Assistant Coach Boyd Coffie and Justice have spent many practice hours hitting to shortstop and Pedro feels it has helped him.

Pedro contributes a great deal of his success to Bob Chandler. "Playing next to Chandler is an unique experience," Fonts says. "He has helped tremendously the last two years. I consider him one of the finest second basemen in college ball."

The other half of this doubleplay combination, Chandler, has done an outstanding job defensively. He had an 18 game fielding streak that included 97 chances snapped by the rule book against Harvard on April 5th. He was charged with interference in the final inning. Since that time he has handled 44 chances in 10 games flawlessly. Including summer ball, Bob has handled over 283 chances at second committing only three errors. The move from shortstop to second base has really improved Bob defensively. Chandler has to be given a lot of credit for improving himself from his poor season last year when he committed 22 errors.

Chandler has also been one of the leading hitters on the team all year. He got off to a fast start this season, batting near .400 until after Baseball Week. Since the Harvard game when he had a twelve game hitting streak snapped, he has leveled off to a .330 average. Chandler had probably one of the most important hits the Tars have had all season when he drove home Ed Siemer, the winning run for a 7-6 win over Tampa. Besides being a good hitter, Chandler gives the Tars a threat on the base with his nine stolen bases.

Coach Justice has again improved the Tars this year by making a switch in personnel and thus he now has a solid infield in which he can rely for its clutch play.

Schabes Leads Olsen As Swat Race Closes

With only four games remaining sophomore right fielder Bob Schabes holds an 18-point advantage in his quest for his first Rollins batting title and the Tainter Trophy that goes with the crown.

Schabes, who has been around the .400 mark since cracking the lineup after the first two games, is swatting at a .393 clip to catcher Chuck Olsen's .375.

Olsen, a senior, tied Bob Gustafson for the title two years ago at .381. Gustafson, second to Allen Burris last season, is third with a .350 mark.

Bob Chandler (.327), Don Phillips (.309), Gordon Lynch (.308), Dorman Barron (.308) and Pedro Fonts (.307) are battling for position further back.

Schabes also leads the team in runs scored (30), hits (35), runs batted in (25) and slugging percentage (.472).

Within the mound corps a battle is developing between freshmen Joe Lasorsa (4-0, 1.73) and Rick Shotwell (5-0, 2.09) for the team leadership in ERA. Gale Coleman (4-0, 2.75) leads in strikeouts with 59.

Four Tars Ranked Rollins Slips in Poll

Despite winning the Florida Intercollegiate Conference title with an 8-1 record, the Tars slipped to 27th in Collegiate Baseball's second national poll of the season. They placed 22nd two weeks ago.

Long Beach State, Stanford and Fresno State dropped out of the top twenty ahead of the Tars, while Chapman College of Orange, Calif., Oklahoma State and Nebraska gained ground to pull in front of Rollins.

Southern California (32-8) edged Arizona State (32-7) and Florida State (21-7) to retain the top spot.

Four Rollins players, two more than two weeks ago, were listed among the nation's statistical leaders compiled by the NCAA through games of April 23.

Freshman Gale Coleman placed fourth in strikeouts with 48 whiffs in 33 innings for a 13.1 per game mark. The southpaw fireballer, 4-0, 2.75, has since boosted his strikeout total to 59 and his average to 13.3.

Another of Rollin's frosh mound trio, right-hander Joe Lasorsa, rated 18th in ERA at 1.06. However, Lasorsa (4-0) has seen his ERA dip to 1.73.

Top Tar hitters Bob Schabes and Chuck Olsen remained among the country's 50 best batters. Right fielder Schabes upped his average a point to .408 to hold the 27 spot, while catcher Olsen climbed eight notches to 33rd without improving his .397 average.

Both Schabes (.393) and Olsen (.375) have slipped considerably since the statistics were compiled. Only four other teams placed two players in the top fifty batters.

Tampa's Ray Veit took over the nation's top ERA spot with 0.29 when Rollin's four earned runs off him were not reported. Florida Southern's Charlie Simmons, beaten twice by the Tars last week, was 12th in wins with his 7-3

Tars Sweep Southern For Conference Crown

Rollins sewed up the Florida Intercollegiate Conference baseball title Saturday, sweeping a doubleheader from defending champion Florida Southern, 9-3, 4-0.

The twin wins closed the Tars' SEC slate at 8-1 and boosted their overall record with a pair of two-game series with Miami and Florida remaining.

Bob Schabes' three-run home-run in the first put Rollins ahead to stay in the opening slugfest. In the nightcap freshman left-hander Rick Shotwell fired a five-inning one-hitter and belted a two-run single to chalk up his fifth win without a defeat.

Southern jumped on Tar starter Joe Lasorsa for a couple of first inning tallies on Gary Morgan's single and back-to-back doubles by Fred Mayer and Steve Hockensmith.

Rollins came right back with a single tally on a walk to Tom Flagg, an errant pick off and Dorman Barron's single. Bob Chandler walked before Schabes unloaded the deciding blast.

In the second inning the Tars added two more on a walk, three errors and Chuck Olsen's infield single. Southern cut the margin in the third, chasing Lasorsa with two runs on doubles by Frank Oktaveck and Mayer, a hit batsman and a walk.

Again the Tars countered in the bottom half as they routed Gambill with a pair of markers on Pedro Font's leadoff single, two walks, a wild pitch and a passed ball, taking an 8-4 lead.

Southern pecked away against reliever Gale Coleman, tallying an unearned run in the fourth and two in the fifth, but Rollins' pulled to a 9-7 advantage in the bottom of the fifth on Chandler's two-bagger and Schabes' single.

The Moccasin's rallied in the seventh and final frame, tagging Coleman for a run on Doug Burek's double, a fielder's choice, a single and a walk. Charles Schoene came on to end the threat on a run-scoring ground ball and a strikeout.

In the nightcap Shotwell singled with two out in the second, scoring Schabes and Lynch, who singled and doubled respectively, to snap a scoreless deadlock.

The Tars added a pair of insurance tallies in the fourth on Olsen's single, a walk, an error and Tom Flagg's sacrifice fly.

Randy Lewis singled into left field with two out in the fourth to break up Shotwell's no-hit bid.

J.V. Crew (Funseekers) join hands together on victory cup after winning the State J.V. championship.

J.V. Crew Cops State Rowing Crown Easily

By Richard Jack

The rather large people sporting "T" shirts bedecked with crossed oars are probably members of Rollins' state champion J.V. crew.

The "Funseekers," as they call themselves, have collected a number of these rowing jerseys, for in crew the victor receives the shirt of the defeated.

Last Saturday Coach "Brad" Bradley's J.V.'s drove through the waters of Tampa Bay to bring home four of these prizes and to overwhelm all opposition in the State J.V. championship.

The 2000 meter (15/16 mile) course was crossed in a time of 7:04, 10 seconds ahead of second place Tampa.

Powerful Florida Southern finished third with Jacksonville, which defeated the Tars April 16, five lengths behind. The Crimseconds late.

With the state neatly sewn up, the Funseekers are readying for the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia a week from tomorrow. To take first place there they must defeat Marietta College and they are confident that they can; for "Funseeker" is synonymous with all the guts and sweat of 1500 lbs. of bone and muscle can put into eight oars.

The varsity oarsmen were less fortunate on Tampa Day. Despite a tremendous effort by all hands in the 90 degree heat they were unable to overhaul the mighty F.S.C. crew, losing the trophy by three seconds for the first time in six years.

Ready for Miami

Netters Rout Tampa Twice

By Rick Strauss

The Tar tennis team continued its winning ways last week by taking two matches from the University of Tampa 9-0. None of the singles players were extended further than 3 games in a set.

The freshman combination of Cliff Montgmoery and Jim Griffith remain undefeated in dual match competition and 'Griff has yet to lose a set.

The closest he's come was an 8-6 victory over F.S.U.'s Clint Murphey (who played number 2 in the latest match) even after Jim broke his only racket.

The statistics through 24 matches are as follows: singles winning percentage .916; all team winning percentage .859; Norm Copeland's ten year coaching record 147-53 for .735.

The Tars have one match left and it's against the University of Miami Hurricanes. The Miami squad had a 33-match winning streak going last week until they reached San Antonio, Tex., only to be handed a loss by Trinity College 5-1. (They play 4 singles and 2 doubles out there.)

The only victor was number three man, Frank Tutvin. According to Copeland, this is "the best chance Rollins has had to beat Miami in many years."

The match will be Saturday, May 14 at 1 p.m. on the Rollins courts. All the support that is available will be needed.

Sigma Nu's To Hold First Annual Relays This Sunday

By Dave Lord

On Sunday, May 8, at 3:30 P.M. on the Sandspur Bowl the First Annual Sigma Nu Relays will be held. The Relays consist of many unusual races among the sororities with the winning team getting the Lewis Trophy. The Sigma Nu fraternity believes that the Relays will assist in improving relationships and at the same time further communication and understanding with the fraternity.

The idea for these relays originated at Washington University in St. Louis. The competition there has met with great success for many years.

The first event will be a Stilt Race which will be followed by a Balloon Bust. The latter event will consist of two girls from each sorority. Each contestant will be tied at the ankle and waist and on the free leg of each girl there will be tied a balloon. Each team will try and break their opponents' balloon before either of the balloons are broken. This should be quite a bruising event.

Another event will be an Egg Yagg, where two girls from each sorority try and toss the eggs between each other over a greater and greater distance until the egg breaks.

Also on the schedule are a couple of muddy events. The first event in this category will be a Mud Jump which is similar to a Broad Jump. The other event will be a Tug-O-War where a sorority must pull the opposing team across the mud pit.

The Change of Paste should prove to be an interesting event. Four girls from each sorority will stand at one end of their lane and the other girl stand at the opposite end. Each sorority will be given (in buckets) one Man's shirt and one pair of man's pants. The first girl will then proceed to take the clothes out of the bucket and put them on. She will then run to the opposite end of the field. The second girl will go through the same process.

Other events like a Burlap Bounce and a Whip Dip will also be included.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity hopes this Sunday's event will meet with the success that it has on other campuses across the country and become a traditional event on the Rollins Campus.
