President Hugh McKean Completes Fifteen Years As Rollins Head

Hugh Ferguson McKean completed 15 years as president of Rollins College on May 13. He was congratulated by several people who remembered the date, including the president of the University of Cincinnati. But there was no celebration of his anniversary; McKean was speaking to the Rollins College Parents Association in Cincinnati to raise money for the college.

Few people are still at the college who were here at the beginning of the McKean Age, but if anyone talks to them, they will find that during his administration, he has not always had the pleasure of announcing the institution of new curriculums, the building of new buildings, or the hiring of new, better teachers. Few people know it, but when President McKean took the helm of Rollins, the college was crumbling under the weight of financial troubles and internal dissension. Rollins College was consistently in such magazines as Time and Newsweek, and on the front pages of newspapers all across the country. The New York Times and New York Herald Tribune had permanent correspondents on the Rollins campus. This was probably the most troubled time in the college's history. It was then McKean assumed the presidency. The trouble began when the president of the college proposed the firing of a third of the college's teachers as an economy measure. When the list of teachers to be fired appeared, the campus boiled into turmoil. Some school has once again become its normal, peaceful, quiet self. But there is probably more that is newsworthy that has happened in the last 15 years than at any time before. But things like doubling the number of faculty members with Ph.D.'s do not get into the papers. Neither does the fact that Rollins has trebled faculty salaries in the last 15 years and spent $6.5 million in expanding the campus and improving facilities.

These things are not publicized, but they are things that have been accomplished since Hugh McKean became president of Rollins College 15 years ago. These were the things he was talking about to the people in Cincinnati, instead of sitting at home celebrating his anniversary.

The man responsible for these changes, Hugh Ferguson McKean, was born in Beaver Falls, Penn., in 1908. He attended high school in Orlando and Rollins College as an undergraduate, and thus had the opportunity to see the college from the outside and from the inside as well. He received his B.A. degree from Rollins in 1930, his M.A. from Williams College in 1932, and joined the teaching staff of Rollins the same year. He received a Doctor of Humanities degree from Stetson University in 1961, and a doctorate in space education from Brevard Engineering College in 1963.

He is a quiet, unassuming man who often works long hours, but really likes fishing, boating and animals.

million has been spent in expanding the campus and improving existing facilities, including $3.5 million for six major new buildings. The latest development in the long line of accomplishments of the McKean administration is the establishment of a new curriculum.

McKean's views on education are summarized when he says, "Rollins should stress teaching in the faculty and common sense in the administration . . . Knowledge by itself is not important. What man does with knowledge is what counts. Colleges should not concentrate on the subject so fiercely that they forget the student. They should seek to produce fine men and women, and education is of no real value if it does not do that."

Following this philosophy does not often put Rollins in Time magazine any more. But in the last 15 years, Rollins has known more growth and improvement than at any other time in its history. It has been accomplished under the quiet, unassuming leadership of Hugh F. McKean.

Illinois Cites Walt Waidley For Service

Walt Waidley, Rollins campus traffic officer for the past nine years, was recently presented with a bust of Abraham Lincoln. Governor Otto Kerner of Illinois was the donor of the statue. Officer Waidley had written the capital in reference to the governor's decision not to have the Cassius Clay-George Chivalo fight staged in Illinois. Officer Waidley was thanking the governor on behalf of the Department of Illinois, V.F.W., for preventing Clay from fighting in the state due to his unpatriotic comments in past months.

Mr. Waidley has quite a distinguished background. He served in the U.S. Army for nine years, during which time he was a welterweight boxer, and recipient of the Purple Heart for being gassed and wounded in action overseas. He later became Commander for the Military Order of the Purple Heart. Waidley is also past Commander of the Waidley Post of the V.F.W., which was named in honor of his family.

After leaving the service, Waidley was a member of the Aurora, Illinois Police Department for twenty years before his retirement. He was later made Honorary Chief of Police and was exalted for his outstanding services to his community. Walt is also an honorary member of the Delta Chi and X-Club Fraternities.

Officer Waidley's mother was recognized by President Woodrow Wilson as the mother making the greatest sacrifice during W. W. I. Mrs. Waidley had two sons killed and two more wounded during the conflict. Walter Waidley has been presented with flags which have flown over the Capitol by Congressmen Gurney and Herlong for his outstanding service and patriotism.

James Farmer

Farmer to Speak on U.S. Racial Problems

By Sara Perrott

James Farmer, a top authority on the civil rights revolution, will be coming to the Rollins campus on May 26th at 8:00 p.m., to speak in the Annie Russell Theatre. He will be sponsored by the Union Educational Entertainment Committee.

Mr. Farmer will speak on the problem of racial equality in the United States and the ways and methods that are being used by concerned Americans to meet this uprising dilemma. He is internationally recognized as an impressive spokesman in the struggle for racial equality among all men.

Mr. Farmer, the grandson of a slave, helped form the first chapter of CORE at the University of Chicago in 1942. This group was formed to apply the techniques of non-violence and passive resistance to the struggle for racial equality in America. Since that time, Mr. Farmer has been involved directly with the social, economic and cultural problems of America's Negro population. CORE has succeeded in interesting thousands of young Negroes who are willingly participating in sit-ins, stand-ins, sleep-ins, and jail-ins.

Being a very influential man, Mr. Farmer has a unique talent for keeping Americans aware that there is a civil rights revolution taking place in the nation right now. He led CORE members in America's first Freedom Ride, as a result, spending forty days in a Mississippi jail. In 1963, Mr. Farmer, who believes a leader must do more than just plan, was arrested following a civil rights demonstration in Louisiana.

Police, who used electric cattle prods and tear gas on the demonstrators, charged Mr. Farmer with "disturbing the peace and obstructing a sidewalk". In 1964 the CORE members protested racial discrimination and segregation by picketing certain states exhibiting at the New York World's Fair.

Mr. Farmer again attracted national attention during the hunt for the civil rights trio in Mississippi. Millions of Americans saw and heard his incisive comments when he appeared on many national television news shows. In addition Mr. Farmer was also a commentator or radio and television programs sponsored by the United Auto Workers of Detroit.

A highly educated man, Mr. Farmer received a B.S. in chemistry at the age of eighteen from Wiley College. He then studied for the ministry at Howard University's School of Religion, earning a Bachelor of Divinity degree when he was twenty-one.

Walt Waidley, notable campus patrolman, pays tribute to a recent Rollins visitor, The Fox.

The personable Walt reported that if he was still in his boxing prime, he would like to take on Cassius Clay. He added that due to the fact he has to work his way through college, there is no time for training. He also complimented the Sandspur for putting out what he called "the best Sandspur in my nine years at Rollins". He then added in an advisory tone, "boys, I'm proud of you . . . keep up the good work".

A triumphant President McKean is hoisted to the shoulders of jubilant students after he was selected to head Rollins fifteen years ago.

people supported the president; others strongly criticized him. Soon the community, college, and trustees were divided into two hostile camps, and common sense was lost in a flood of vitriol poured out from both sides.

Two weeks before commencement, the trustees, in desperation, removed the president and appointed Hugh McKean acting president. However, the ex-president refused to step down, and no one knew until the day of commencement whether the ceremonies would be presided over by one president or two.

Finally, the furor began to subside. In the middle of June, McKean was able to announce, "Everything is fine and running well."

This was the beginning of the McKean Age. Since that time, the

His love for animals is well-known; on the first day of the fall term, a student brought a young ocelot to his office to McKean's great delight. He is currently keeping two raccoons for a student who is not allowed to keep them on the campus.

McKean never speaks in public except when it is absolutely necessary, and would rather work quietly behind the scenes instead of openly. This approach to running the school has produced results.

In McKean's 15 years as president, an Honors Degree program has been instituted, How-To-Study-Week started, and a study abroad program begun. Rollins was the first college in Florida to affiliate with the College Entrance Examination Board. $6.5

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

Council Acts Questioned

One of the policies of the Sandspur this past year has been to attempt to report the activities as thoroughly as possible. We realize that the Student Government has the ultimate voice in dividing many vital matters that affect all students. For this reason we have presented both good and bad aspects of Student Council affairs.

It has been brought to the attention of many students and also the concerned Sandspur staff that some of the issues and decision of the Council have become a source of controversy on the campus. Many students feel that these decisions have not been given their due consideration. We realize that the Executive Board is still learning the intricate processes of Student Government under the able leadership of Bob Gustafson, but what has happened about these important aspects of Student Council affairs:

First, the weekly newspaper article "Gustafson Discusses Issues." What has happened to this column? The Sandspur has repeatedly approached the Student Council President and asked him to make this weekly report to the students, but results have been futile. Is it that such issues as the new curriculum, deferred portionment, extension of women's hours and Fiesta are not important?

Second, Lower Court appointments. Since the Lower Court had fewer cases than ever before this past year, why was the already over populous investigation committee increased from 10 members to 14? Also, the Lower Court chairman is on executive appointment; however, the legislature was asked by the president to vote by secret ballot for their choice of two candidates. This matter seems rather odd, since only one of the candidates had any previous judicial experience. Is this a middle of the road policy? Is this evidence of the spoils system on our campus?

Third, Upper Court. After the Student Council President unexpectedly resigned his post as Upper Court member, his appointment of two students without any judicial experience whatsoever meant that two novice students would be serving on Upper Court next year. Is this the type of people we want to protect our rights on the most powerful judicial body?

Fourth, what happened to the Finance Committee? This body was established to review all proposed allocations and was given the power to subpoena records and accounts. However, the Executive did not appoint this committee until after the vast majority of allocations were made. As a result over $40,000 was allocated without due consideration. Is this all the President cares about our money?

Fifth, what is happening to our Fiesta? Will there be a Fiesta next year? At the last faculty meeting a motion was made and tabled to abolish Fiesta. At the last meeting of the Student Council the President finally got around to announcing that the chairman would be appointed on May 30th, only three days before the end of school. Thus the students are virtually without a representative to speak for them in this important matter. Will the faculty be allowed to take away our Fiesta by default?

Finally, S.U.S.G.A. Coordinator. Why was the most qualified candidate for the newly created post of Rollins S.U.S.G.A. coordinator passed over when the Student Association President made his appointment? This ignored candidate was narrowly defeated for the

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Since this year is quickly drawing to a close, and this will be your last Sandspur, I would like to take the time to personally thank you for your endless hard work and efforts you have put forth these past two terms. I feel as though the Sandspur has been greatly improved this past year, and I believe it is probably the best paper I have seen in my four years at Rollins. I say this for a number of reasons. First of all, you have expressed student opinion the way it should be expressed. Secondly, you have made the paper one that should be read entirely by diversifying your articles. Thirdly, you have secured an excellent staff which is essential for any successful paper. Fourthly, you have covered well the student council and its activities, and at the same time given me the privilege of writing the weekly column, "Olsen Discusses Issues."

For these things I think you should be personally commended. It should be realized, however, that more improvements could be made in the paper, and I hope the new editor, Bill Renforth, will take over exactly where you leave off this year.

Finally, I would like to say that it has been a pleasure to work with you over these past two years while I have been President of the Student Association. Your responsible work has added a great deal to the Sandspur this year, and at the same time, has improved our Fiesta program greatly.

For all these things, I am most grateful.

Sincerely,
Chuck Olsen
President
Student Association, 1964-66

DEAR EDITOR:

I think that I speak for the great majority of students who went to Fiesta, in saying that it was a memorable occasion. The All-Star football game, the softball game with the King and His Court, the floats, the dances, the Holland dinner, and the Art Festival were all part of a very entertaining and educational four day weekend.

What is going to happen to Fiesta? With the hush-hush policy of the student council (which should have said something by this time), the student body is wondering.

Why doesn't the school paper inform us, or don't they have any information from the student council? The student body is waiting!

Sincerely,
Ken Hill

position of S.U.S.G.A. Vice Chairman in charge of the entire state of Florida. Isn't it a shame that a person whom many Floridians felt was qualified to direct S.U.S.G.A. activities throughout the state can't even be considered for this job on the Rollins campus? Bob Gustafson did not feel that this Executive Board appointment needed legislative approval. However, the original proposal stated that this appointment would definitely require approval of the legislature. This matter will have to be clarified next Monday night in order to rest student dissatisfaction.

We realize that the President is still learning and adjusting to the complexities of student government at Rollins. We hope that this statement will serve as some constructive criticism that voices the thoughts of many students. However, it must be remembered that this type of leadership could, and very well may, lead to faculty intervention in Student Council affairs. Already this term the faculty has thrust deferred rush on us, vetoed an extension of women's hours and threatened to abolish Fiesta. We hope the voice of the past Student Association President Chuck Olsen—"Stay united and strong or fall prey to faculty intervention"—and the admonition of Grant Jennison to "Improve Government or risk faculty takeover" will be given thoughtful consideration by those who are concerned.

It is rather interesting to know what some of our campus leaders will be doing this summer so here's the inside.

Scotty Green is going to be a public relations man for the Oscar Mayer Company.

Chuck Olsen is going to raise Saint Bernards and introduce Olsen coloring books to the public.

Dorman Baron is going to be a butler for Dick Gregory. Fleet Peoples will spend a year as a guide in the Sahara Desert.

Robby has taken an offer from the ABC to become one of its undercover agents.

Draper hopes to make a buck here and there.

"Hydro" is going to be a doorman at an "All Boy" nightclub.

Is Jim Hartley any relation to Henry Cooper? Gus: "I'll have to think this over more carefully. I'll talk to Billy about it later."

Donna (Red Light) Brodie is making a career for herself in the chemistry lab — at least the Doc thinks so.

Stormin' Dorman and Guinea Joe were a little late with the young ladies in Miami, about six months off pace.

Look, in the sky. It's a bird; it's a plane; it's a fox—happiness. Would you believe a Wednesday?

A recent survey has shown that the one thing Rollins men fear most about going into the army is getting their haircut.

The faculty is sponsoring a new type of dance next year. It's called Fiesta a Go-Go. Each group on campus forms a big circle around its float, and a selected member throws a match on it. From that point the local firemen take over. It's catching on like wildfire.

"Please don't toss out old books, jewelry and furnishings you no longer want — give these items to the Rollins College Scholarship Shop."

This is the plea of Midge Hillsinger, director of the shop at 150 Park Avenue, South.

Mrs. Hillsinger, will send someone to pick up your old junk if you're too lazy to haul it down there, too. Oh yes, you can keep no-longer wanted fraternity pins. She declares she will not try to talk you out of those. But how about other gifts once symbolic of true love? Give them to the shop that raises funds for deserving students. Okay?

New IFC President Ernsberger Outlines Rush Schedule For 1967

By Dave Lord

Last week the Interfraternity Council elected its officers for the 1966-1967 school year. Dave Ernsberger was elected the new president. Also elected were Charles Schoene, Vice-President; Norm Friedland, Secretary-Historian; and Gary Dering, Treasurer.

Dave is a junior from South Bend, Indiana. He is majoring in Business Administration and plans to enter the field of Corporate Management upon graduation. He was past president of the freshman class, is on the Sandspur staff, Beta Advertising Chairman, and Vice-President of the Young Democrats.

In a recent interview with Mr. Ernsberger, he was asked about his plans for the coming year. He said:

"During the past few years there has been a recognizable concern by all fraternities and the administration of the problem of fall term academic averages. This problem in the past has been due in a large measure to the position the freshman men are put in due to early fall term rush. For the first two to three weeks of a freshman's college life, he had been confronted and concerned mostly with the fraternity and social aspect of Rollins. This proved in a great many cases to be detrimental to the freshman's outlook of what Rollins necessarily needs to stress. This stress has to be put on academics and properly educating the undergraduate. It is, of course, true that a social education is necessary to a certain extent as long as it doesn't detract the academic purpose of Rollins.

Dave Ernsberger

"Therefore, since the social and time-consuming rush of the past few years has been proven to be detrimental to Rollins and its fraternity system, the Interfraternity Council and the faculty have decided that it would be in the best interests of Rollins College and fraternity men, as a whole, to go into a one-term deferred rush for the 1966-1967 school year.

"The problems which the I.F.C. expects to find in setting up this deferred rush are not as complex as they might seem. At Rollins we don't feel that it would be feasible to try to set up some sort of system for a deferred rush based on complex and stringent rules and regulations. Instead, the deferred rush which we expect to install next year will attempt to keep the problem of "dirty rushing" to a minimum while still safeguarding the freshmen from the day after day pressures of choosing a fraternity.

"The deferred rush points up so many plus aspects that the problems and negative feelings can be overshadowed. To fraternity men this rush will prove to strengthen each individual house. The fraternity men will be much surer of the type of men they are going to pledge through knowing them better by the end of the first term. They will be more capable of knowing what kind of freshmen they are pledging academically since only those which have been proved capable of college work will be allowed to join their house.

"But more important than this aspect is the idea that each fra-

The Senior Workshop presentation "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off" will be presented in the Annie Russell Theatre. Luis Barroso, senior Theatre Arts major, is the director.

Senior Play "Stop the World—" Opens at ART

Each year Senior Workshop Projects are anticipated with a great deal of enthusiasm, because these projects are a culmination of everything that the senior has achieved and learned in the four years at Rollins. Perhaps this year more than any other year, some very good projects have been presented. The Fantasticks, scenes from A Thurbur Carnival, scenes from Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, and The Room are examples of what has been done.

ternity will need to strive within themselves for maximum efforts—in the areas of academics, activities, and leadership.

"In the area of leadership and activities there has been a generally lackadaisical approach to strong student leadership in recent years. Often we have had student leaders who are too middle-of-the-road in their approach to properly act as a representative voice of the student body. The I.F.C.'s proposal for one year of a status quo rush followed by a deferred rush the following year was voted down by the faculty two weeks ago. This further points up a need for a greater student voice by competent leaders in the important decisions of Rollins. If we are to have a true Student Government we have to have true student leaders. With a deferred rush, increased emphasis will be put on how active each fraternity is in student affairs.

"Not only will this deferred rush help to insure proper choice of pledges by the fraternities, but it will give the freshmen a chance to take a good long look at the house which best fits his interests and ambitions.

"The Interfraternity Council is ambitiously looking to next year and the adventures of a new rush system to gain its needed position of importance as a strong, representative voice of all Greek men. With a successful deferred rush, all sides of the campus will benefit by initiating the new curriculum with a revitalized outlook to Rollins and to student aspirations."

This term Stop The World—I Want To Get Off, the show that captivated Broadway audiences during the season of 1962, is coming to the Annie Russell Theatre in an adaptation into one act instead of the original two acts. The show will still contain the memorable songs that have made this musical a hit anywhere it is presented.

Directing the present production is Luis Barroso who is a senior English and Theater Arts major. This show will be Barroso's final project in Theater Arts for this year. Earlier in the year he directed A Thurbur Carnival and last term the Shakespeareana scene from A Midsummer's Night Dream. His directing accomplishments have led him to apply for the directing program at Tulane University where he has been accepted and granted a full scholarship.

Barroso is also playing the lead role in Stop the World—that of Littlechap. This presents him with the dual challenge of directing and acting in the same show. Jeanne Hardy will be playing the role of Evie. Her role is quite difficult since she also has to play the counterparts of Evie in the Russian Anya, the German Ilse, and the American Ginnie.

The chorus, which is the type of chorus used once in the Greek drama is composed of Nancy Butler, Elaine Currier, Chris Forrest, Sandra Foster, Chris Kelly and Jane Kibler. The present play contains a Narrator which will be played by James Ragan. The music is being directed by Bill Millard.

If you like such songs as "What Kind of Fool Am I?", "Once in a Lifetime", and "Gonna Build a Mountain", come and enjoy them at the Annie Russell Theater on Wednesday, May 25, 1966 at 8:30 P.M.

Pi Phi's Victorious In Sigma Nu Relays

On Sunday, May 8, the Pi Phi Sorority won the first annual Sigma Nu Relays. Until about 3:00 p.m., Sunday afternoon, it looked like a steady heavy rain would cancel the whole affair. At 3:00 p.m. the skies had cleared temporarily and the Sigma Nus decided to go ahead with the relays. Tom Sacha and Jack Zimmerman, co-chairmen, busily went to work setting up the Sandspur Bowl (which looked like Lake Virginia), for the different events, and notifying the supposed sororities that the relays were going to be run.

Burch, and the Kappa team of Carol Conklin and Cathy Creighton. The Chi Omega's pushed the Kappa team to the ground and Gaye and Lynn leaped on their opponents and broke their balloon. The Pi Phi team of Ronnie McFall and Lynne Fort placed third.

In the Egg Yagg the girls got a chance to try their throwing arms out. The eggs wouldn't break for anything in this event. They would be thrown and would bounce on the ground several times without breaking. The Phi team, led by Cathy Andrews, managed to keep their egg in one piece longer than Kappa veterans, Jane Blalock and Stevie Brewer, fight to the end in Tug of War contest during the Sigma Nu relays.

The rain began again just about the time the relays started, but it just added to the fun of the afternoon. Everyone got so wet standing in the cloud burst that they didn't mind falling in the mud, getting hit by rotten eggs, or being covered by whipped cream.

In the first event the girls proved they still knew how to move along well on stilts. The Kappa team of Stevie Brewer and Linda Buck nipped the Pi Phi team of Hanna Hempstead and Laurie Gordon. A great deal of credit should be given to Joan Elston who took third place by going both ways for her sorority. If you think this is easy to do, most of the boys could only go about half a lap before falling flat on their faces.

The next event, the Ballon Bust, looked more like a football game. Two girls were tied together at the waist and ankles with a balloon on one leg. They had to try to break everyone else's balloon without breaking theirs. This event turned into quite a bruising affair between the Chi Omega team of Gaye Clifton and Lynn

Trade Expert to Interview Students

The American Institute for Foreign Trade will be represented on the Rollins College Campus on May 7th by Mr. Marlon E. Willson, an Alumnus Educational Counselor for the Institute.

Mr. Willson is an outstanding Florida businessman who has established companies in Costa Rica, Colombia, and the Dominican Republic. He is a graduate of the University of South Dakota and The American Institute for Foreign Trade and was recently named president of the American Club in Miami.

The continuing objective of The American Institute for Foreign Trade since its founding in 1946 has been to prepare college graduates to assume posts abroad in international business management, government service and executive positions in the home offices of firms having extensive foreign interests.

Mr. Marlon Willson

AIFT's curriculum emphasizes three main field—languages most wanted by companies (Spanish, Portuguese, French), area studies, and world trade and banking. Language classes, taught by native teachers using the most advanced methods, are limited to eight students. International business courses, presented by scholars with a minimum experience of ten years as executives in foreign lands, are tailored to needs of students in classes of seminar size. The training is rigorous, with three to five hours a day on language study alone and the balance of a full schedule divided between area studies and the technical side of foreign trade.

Students interested in the international economic field are invited to arrange an interview with Mr. Willson through the Placement Office.

"The Future of Society" Discussed At Final Honors Lecture Symposium

On Monday, May 16, the Honors Lecture Program presented a symposium, the last of this year's, on "The Future of Society." The panel was composed of Dr. Lively of the psychology department, Professor Conway of the philosophy department, and a student, Mr. Robert Young.

Mr. Young began the discussion by citing the importance of culture in society. He said that he shared the same viewpoint of culture in our society as that of T. S. Eliot, that culture in our society is nearly dead. Culture is changing into a mechanism in society; the decay of the church, the inadequate schools, changing manners and morals, and pervasion of the state into human life are resulting in the decay of society itself. The aimlessness of contemporary life, the emphasis upon materialism, the fact that there may not be a scientific solution to everything, and the loss of the conditioned individual show little promise for the future growth of culture in a society such as ours. Mr. Young quoted T. S. Eliot as saying, "Culture is organic . . . you can't plant a tree, only the seed, and just watch it grow."

Dr. Lively took the viewpoint of the social scientist, "who is influenced by what he hopes for." Man is the "tool using animal", and this sets him apart from other animals. The past, for thousands of years, has been changed through the use of different types of tools, but the man—the human being—has not changed. There are biological and cultural changes, or evolutions, in society, and while the biological changes are irreversible, the cultural evolutions are reversible, in that history often repeats itself.

Professor Conway asked us to think for ourselves as to whether or not society had a future, implying that it might not. He felt the best way to consider this gloomy aspect was to ask yourself, "What is society?", and "What ought society to be?" Mr. Conway contrasted two contemporary societies, the U.S. and USSR, in the light of the changes both societies are undergoing; the U.S. is becoming more socialistic, and the USSR is becoming more capitalistic and wealthy.

"In the future," said Prof. Conway, "I assume there will be some basic social goals sought after by international agreement. In a society like this, which might evolve, what would the set of values be like? It is doubtful religion would play a big role in this future society, because of the schizophrenia in today's society as a result of outdated Christian values which we have not bothered to replace. Christianity simply does not seem to function any more, so how can it function in a future society?" Mr. Conway also assumed that in this future society people will tend to enjoy themselves more, and this desire for happiness will be the basic function of this society. What else is there in life when there are no pains and obstacles to overcome? In an age when people no longer have any forced goals or social problems, and religion as we know it has collapsed, what will that society be like?

Eight Special One Act Plays To End Season

The last productions of the year which will mark the end of the Annie Russell season will take place this Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The plays that will be presented are all workshop productions that are done as lab work for theater courses. The plays that are being done this week are both directing class plays as well as senior workshop productions.

Perhaps one of the most interesting aspects of these students directed plays is that each of the plays in every way is taken care of by the students alone. This year in particular many of the plays that are being presented are original one act plays. These plays have come into being as a result of a playwrighting seminar that has been meeting once a week under the guidance of Mr. Charles Nisbet, assistant director of the Annie Russell.

Altogether eight plays will be presented in the three day period, and four of these plays are originals. As it stands now, the plays to be done are as follows: Dialogue by Charles Nisbett, directed by Jeanne Hardy; The Sandbox by Edward Albee, directed by David Jacobs; Trilogues in One Mind by Dana Cavallero, directed by Nancy Taggart; Purgatory by Yeats, directed by Pam Hurlbert; Hide and Seek by Gary Young, directed by Cathy Haburton; Gallows Humor by Richardson, directed by Anne Hathaway; Cliches Forever by Roger Miller, directed by Sheri Bickley; and Stop the World—I Want to Get Off, adapted and directed by Luis Barroso.

All of these plays are free to the students, and will begin at 8:30 P.M. in the Annie Russell Theater Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Announcements will be made daily in the Beanery as to which plays will be presented in the evening.

Student Council Reports

By Al Hollon

The May 9 meeting of the Legislature opened with a report on the SUSGA Conference held in Jacksonville from May 5 to May 7. Bill Blackburn, Carole Conklin, and Tim Sacha informed the Legislature of the valuable discussions. The entire delegation benefited greatly from the convention.

Nancy Hopwood was approved by the Legislature as the new chairman of Women's Rules.

Bill Blackburn, Vice-President, reported that initial meetings have been held by the Reorganization Committee. Blackburn also stated that the revamped Constitution and By-Laws of the Student Association were passed for the period between now and April, 1967. The Rollins Code of Student Conduct has not been passed at this time.

Under Old Business, the constitution of the Speaker's Bureau was approved.

Under New Business, Bob Gustafson, President, read a letter from Marc Young in which Mr. Young thanked the Legislature for sponsoring the after Chapel coffee during Alumni Weekend.

Gustafson also announced that the Faculty has not approved the re-organization of the Traffic Committees.

The following appointments were approved by the Legislature for the Lower Court Investigation Committee for 1966-67: Kathy TenEyck, Laura Barnes, Sara Perrott, Leslie White, Jack Myers, Dave Lord, Ken Payne, Barbara Liverett, Chuck Gorden, John Newbold, John Pinder, Mark Billson, and Norm Friedland. This is an increase of four over last year's committee.

The following appointments were approved by the Legislature for the Lower Court for 1966-67: Lynne Fort, Barbara Warthan, Elizabeth Bodenheimer, Al Hollon, Fred Gittes, Dave Bussler, Mike Stone, and Pedro Fonts.

The following appointments for Upper Court were presented to the Legislature: Susan Probasco and Tim Brown. Gustafson was questioned about these appointments. He said though these two persons didn't have any judicial experience, he felt that their character was more important. These appointments were approved by the Legislature.

Larry Schrupf announced that the Publications Union had selected Ed Dozier as the new R Book editor. Dozier was approved.

Doug Kerr presented the proposed Student Center budget for 1966-67. The amount $22,070.74, is an increase of $7,784.74 over the preceding year's budget. Kerr cited more speakers as the reason for the increase. This proposal was automatically tabled for one week.

There followed a discussion of the newly created Finance Committee. Legislators expressed concern over the comptroller of the Student Association serving as chairman of the committee and that the committee had not been activated. Debbi Wood, comptroller, agreed to serve as chairman only temporarily, at which time she would serve in the capacity of advisor. The fact was expressed that the Executive should not chair a Legislative committee.

Nona Gandelman submitted the Flamingo budget of $1,875.05 for 1966-67. This was automatically tabled for one week.

John Deming, the present editor of the R Book, requested an increase of $300.00 in the R Book allocation, making a total of $1,094.00. Deming cited the reason for the increase as being that the R Book is going to be completely re-written from cover to cover. This was automatically tabled for one week.

Mille Trapkin requested a $14,500 budget for the Tomokan; this was tabled. She also submitted a list of salary requests which was approved by the Legislature.

Larry Schrupf submitted a list of salary requests for the Publications Union which was approved by the Legislature.

Al Hollon proposed that the Student Association have a new position of SUSGA coordinator created by the Legislature. Hollon said that this position was needed to better the communications between Rollins and SUSGA. Hollon also stated that most Florida colleges have such a coordinator. This proposal was tabled by the Executive for one week.

The Fiesta Committee report was given by Bill Renforth who indicated that the income was $4,094. Renforth suggested that in the future the Legislature provide the necessary funds for free entertainment. In this way more students could attend the festivities.

Fred Gittes requested an allocation of $500 for the Speaker's Bureau. This was automatically tabled for one week.

The May 16th meeting of the Legislature opened with a salary request from Sabra Whiting, clerk of Lower Court. This request, 75 Dollars, was automatically tabled. Debbi Wood, Comptroller, announced that Bob Gustafson had selected her to be chairman of the Finance Committee. Miss Wood informed the Legislature of the following selections for the committee: Jim Oppenheim, Chuck Bauernschmidt, and Phin Fogg.

Under Old Business, the $500 allocation for Student Directories was untabled and passed. The Student Center budget of $22,074, the Flamingo budget of $1,875, and the Tomokan budget of $14,500, were all untabled and passed. The R Book allocation of $1,094 was untabled and passed. The Constitution was waived to permit the $300 increase in this budget, in order to have funds available for staff salaries. The proposed $500 allocation for the Speaker's Bureau was untabled and passed.

Patsy Blackburn presented some changes to the Rollins Code of Student Conduct. These changes were: 1) add, "all student conduct should adhere to the principles of safety, thoughtfulness, consideration of others, suitability, and decorum"; 2) The Procedural Committee shall consist of the Dean of the College, the Chairman of Lower Court, and the Student Dean appropriate to the case; 3) the function of the Procedural Committee shall be "To determine the referral of cases which the student Deans feel may warrant the protection of the privacy of students"; 4) add, "will be handled by the Upper Court in consultation with the student Deans"; and 5) add, "Unless a student is with her parents, she may not stay in a hotel or motel in the Winter Park-Orlando area." All of the preceding changes were passed by the Legislature.

Under New Business, Al Hollon proposed that a student be placed on each of the following faculty committees: Scholarship, Admissions, and Academic Standing. These students should be ex-official members, and would be appointed by the Executive Board with the approval of the Legislature. This proposal was tabled.

Bill Renforth, Editor of the Sandspur for next year presented an itemized budget request of $9,965.00 at length. This was automatically tabled for one week.

Nancy Sharpless requested a $3,500 allocation for the theatre department. This was automatically tabled for one week.

Student Center Leaders Reveal Plans For 1966-67

The Rollins Student Center was formed in 1960 to provide all-college extracurricular education, entertainment and recreation within its purpose: "to serve as an official center of student life, to unify student activities, and to sponsor a broad program for the College community." Also, the Student Center at Rollins will serve as a tie binding faculty, students, staff, and alumni. It will aid in establishing a cultural pattern which will distinguish Rollins Students.

Last year, realizing that its offerings were inadequate, The Center revamped its entire organizational structure and program and made a plea to the Student Association for sufficient funds to formulate the best possible all-college extracurricular activities. We are sure you will agree that the 1966-67 all-college program exhibits the imagination, excitement, timeliness and variety to widen the horizons of every Rollins student.

The Rollins Student Center membership includes all students who have paid the Student Association Fee, faculty, and staff of Rollins College. The Student Center is governed by three main bodies: the Board of Directors, the Program Administrative Council, and the sorority and fraternity representatives.

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors consists of six students and five non-student members, elected and invested with their power in accordance with the Constitution, Bylaws, and Policies of the Rollins Student Center. The Board of Directors has the overall responsibility for all activities of the Rollins Student Center. It is the task of those faculty and students to assure you that each and every Union program is of the taste, timeliness, significance and excitement to warrant your support and attendance.

The Board of Directors of the Rollins Student Center shall elect from their student members a chairman, who shall be known as the President of the Center. The 1966-67 President is Barbara Warhan. Barbara has been the past chairman of the Union Films Committee and has served as Secretary of the Board of Managers. Being a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority, she has served her social group as treasurer for two years and was House Council President.

Laura Barnes was elected Vice-President of the Rollins Student Center, and she will also serve as the Chairman of the Program Administrative Council. Laura is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and is their House Council President. She has been past chairman of the Host and Hostesses Committee. Being very active in the Student Council program, Laura attended the Southern Universities Student Government Association Convention in Jacksonville.

Suzanna Aguirre will serve as Secretary of the Board of Directors. She was the past chairman of the Special Projects Committee. A member of the Phi Mu Sorority, she is serving as Pledge Trainer.

Other members constituting the Board of Directors are Elizabeth Bodenheimer, who is President of the Orientation Steering Committee. She is past chairman of the Union Rally Committee and has been a Rollins Cheerleader.

Bill Blackburn, the Vice-President of the Student Association, automatically serves as a member of the Board of Directors. Bill is a member of the Chapel Staff and of the Vespers Committee. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity and is their delegate for L.F.C.

The Comptroller of the Rollins Student Center will be appointed by the executive President. He shall have the responsibility for all financial affairs of the Rollins Student Center and shall advise the Board of Directors and the Program Administrative Council concerning financial affairs.

The Faculty advisors are Dr. Esther Strong—Sociology Department, Dr. Jack Lane—History Department, Mr. Mulson—Science Department, Mr. Bretnall—Cashier Office, and Dean Howden, Dean of Women.

Being Assistant Dean, Bob Kirouac takes upon himself the responsibility of Director of the Rollins Student Center. Dean Kirouac has been at Rollins College for six years and in that time has acquired a Bachelor of Arts degree and will earn this June his Master and Business Administration Degree. He will serve as an advisor and coordinator for the Student Center by giving his objectives and mature and comparative view point on what has been done in the past. He will be a link between the faculty administration and the Student Center. He has vast knowledge of the various phases of the Center here at Rollins as well as other national student centers.

Dean Kirouac is known to many of the Rollins students as the golf coach. Having lettered in golf for four years, he is quite capable of this position. He is a member of the honorary Omicron Delta Kappa Fraternity and a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Bob is an Algernon Sullivan scholar and a past chairman of the Men's Rule Committee.

Roderick Eason will be aiding Dean Kirouac as Assistant Student Center Director.

Program Administrative Council

The Program Administrative Council is composed of the committee chairman and is headed by the Vice-President of the Board of Directors, Laura Barnes. The co-curricular, educational, recreational, and entertainment programs and activities of the Rollins Student Center will be administered by the Rollins Student Center Program Administrative Council. The Council is the crux of the Center, for it is these chairmen and their outstanding committee members who dream up, work out in detail, and present the programs. Each committee chairman was interviewed by at least three members of the Board of Directors. Following the interviews recommendations for appointment to the Program Administrative Council were made.

The Program Administrative Council consists of committee chairmen of the following committees: Calendar, Educational Entertainment, Films, Fine Arts, Host and Hostesses, Publicity Coordinator, Rally, Social Entertainment, Efficiency, and Special Projects.

Calendar Committee

Bill Vogel, Chairman of the Calendar Committee, feels the main task of his committee is to publish series entitled "The World Around Us", and a program of internationally famous lecturers. Coming to Rollins will be Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, Vance Packard, Dr. Walter Judd, and Jules Pfeiffer. The success of this committee's activities is directly related to student support and interest.

Special Projects

Dave Hirsch is chairman of the Special Projects Committee. As its name implies, this committee handles all Union events not delegated to the other committees. Besides publishing the student directory and the advertising desk blotters, the Special Projects Committee puts on three International Dinners featuring food from various foreign lands. At Christmas, the committee buys presents for the surrounding area orphans and gives a party.

Host and Hostesses Committee

The Host and Hostesses Committee is planning a series of dances, picnics, and bridge tournaments to entertain the students next year. Sunday night dances highlight this committee's program, and they will include two nights of gambling to test your skill. A hand of bridge on Sunday afternoon will also be a part of the Host and Hostesses Committee.

Efficiency Committee

Kathy TenEyck serves as the Efficiency Chairman of the Rollins Student Center. She is Secretary of the Program Administrative Council and has held this position for two years. Kathy is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority and is their Corresponding Secretary. She is a newly elected member of the Investigation Committee.

Publicity Coordinator

The Publicity Coordinator, who is Sara Perrott, is responsible for the maintenance of the bulletin boards owned and operated by the Rollins Student Center. The publicity is the heart of the Union and makes or breaks the attendance at an event. Sara has the imagination and shrewdness it takes to sell fine programs to even the most apathetic student.

Fine Arts Committee

Art must antagonize its predecessors, it must be ahead of all times. The job of Peter Shaw and his committee for the following school year will be to present the faculty and student body with the art of the times. Most of this will be experimental work, and a controversy will surely arise concerning what is and what is not art. The controversy is welcome. Much of the program will center around the student artists themselves—painters, writers, craftsmen, dancers, musicians, sculptors, etc. Although the Fine Arts Committee will bring in from outside such artists as Lawrence Ferlinghetti and James Gamble Rogers, the students and faculty will provide most of the material for our programs.

As for the Committee itself, I am not looking for patrons of the arts or people who are interested in the arts. Those people are the audience. I want a committee comprised of artists—sensitive, intelligent, creative, talented people who will be able to handle the problems of artistic execution and enable art at Rollins to leave its safe little niche and move into the twentieth century position it deserves.

Social Entertainment Committee

The Social Entertainment Committee, headed by Jud Curtis, is planning a year of enjoyable concerts for the college. A large turnout is expected for the Righteous Brothers Concert which will be November 6, 1966 at the Orlando Municipal Auditorium. Jud and his committee have scheduled a fall dance directed especially toward the incoming freshmen. This committee has made exciting changes for the annual Christmas dance. There is a folk-singing concert planned later in the school year.

Rally Committee

The Rally Committee for 1966-67 begins officially with the choosing of cheerleaders. This year there will be ten girls chosen. Following this selection, comes the first rally for the soccer team. This rally will include a bonfire down by the lake. This means cheers, pep speeches, marshmallows and a good study break.

Rollins teams encompass such sports as soccer, basketball, baseball, tennis, sailing and water-skiing. The job of the rally committee does not consist of rallies alone. The students must be posted concerning all these events. It is our job to promote the spirit, and at the end of the year it is our privilege to award a trophy to the fraternity and sorority with the most spirit.

This committee is not solely for the girls. We have found in past years that the deep bass voices not only carry farther but spur the teams on! The girls, not to be outdone, usually then yell louder, get more excited, and generate more spirit from the upper class males.

It should be a lot of fun and we hope that you can take part with us.

Union President States: $22,000 Budget Will Bring Prominent Speakers, Entertainers Here

The Rollins Student Center, formally the Rollins Union, is one organization at Rollins that not enough students are consciously aware of. However, as retiring president, I feel that the efforts of a good number of people in the past two years have made the Student Center the type of student organization which is necessary to an undergraduate life and is becoming better known. The 1966-67 academic year should prove this true. The $22,670.74 budget which the Student Center will be operating under will permit the various chairmen to present programs which will meet the demands of the college education outside the classroom. The budget will also permit a diversified, yet appealing variety of entertainment ranging from speakers and top recording stars to films, both foreign and domestic. The program will also include art shows, poetry readings, folk sings, informal dances, rallies, and special dinners.

My four years experience with the Student Center has given me the opportunity to both observe and work with an organization which has great potential and is finally beginning to produce. There is still a lot of potential remaining which I feel will be utilized by next year's Board of Directors and Program Administrative Council. The members involved realize the need for an organized and well run Student Center, and in preparing next year's budget they have attempted to plan a program which will most benefit the students, especially under the new curriculum.

The greatest single accomplishment of the Student Center this year was the writing of a new constitution and the approval of a new charter by the Student Legislature. This reorganization changed the name of the Union to the Student Center. There was also the addition of one new faculty member to the Board of Directors, thus enabling more faculty participation and closer ties with the administration.

Another change was the addition to the Program Administrative Council of Student representatives who will be used as communication links between the Student Center and the social and independent groups. It is hoped that these changes will better enable the Student Center to enact its business and provide for the students.

In closing, I want to thank everyone involved for the excellent job they have done this year. Without the individual efforts exerted there would not be the type of Student Center that presently exists. I wholeheartedly encourage all students to continue to support the programs planned and to become actively involved in the Student Center. Finally, I want to express my gratitude for having been given the opportunity to work for the Student Center and to help improve it.

Sincerely,
Doug Kerr
President of Board of Directors, 1965-66

It was during my freshman year at Rollins that the student government conceived of the idea of a student center with a full range of activities and interests which would reach the student body, faculty, and administration. Since that time the Rollins Student Center has made tremendous headway in providing programs of interest to everyone. Each year they have expanded the existing programs and have instituted a few new changes, the most recent being the concerts. Under the direction of Dean Jack Lindquist, I feel the Student Center has completed its most successful year and has an excellent program of activities scheduled for next year.

The one disheartening thing about the activities is that after all the time and effort the individual chairman and committee members put into the program often their reward comes in the form of student criticism.

For next year, the Center has concentrated a larger portion of its activities and programs into the fall term for the benefit of the freshmen who will be unaffiliated due to the deferred rush program. The budget for next year is over twenty-two thousand dollars, all of which comes from the student's pockets. With the new curriculum and deferred rush schedule, this is an excellent time for the students to contribute their share to making Rollins a better and more enjoyable four years out of their life, other than just through their student association fee.

Sincerely,
Bob Kirouac
Assistant Dean
1966-67

It has done my frustrated idealist's heart good to assist student leaders who are diligent and dedicated without pay. No one has worked harder than the likes of Doug Kerr, Bobbie Warthan and the committee chairmen that they have given so much to their college without demanding compensation puts them and the Student Center in a uniquely respected echelon in the branches of student leadership. I'm proud to have helped them even a little, and I wish the Student Center the success it deserves and the College needs.

Sincerely,
Jack Lindquist
Assistant Dean
1965-66

In looking toward the future of the Rollins Student Center, I find the greatest opportunity that Rollins College has ever had to provide the students an academic, cultural, and recreational program far exceeding those of the past. The changes brought about under the leadership of Doug Kerr, past President of the Board of Directors, have been made with the interest of the students in mind. The new Program Administrative Council is composed of responsible and capable students, active not only in this particular aspect of the college, but also in a great many other areas where they have exhibited abilities worthy of college students. These are the people who will worry about the successes and the failures of any program that is presented for the college. They must be prepared to receive any and all criticisms concerning the Student Center. Without their hard work the Student Center would not be what it has become or what it will become in the future. The substantial budget passed by the Student Association will provide the means for a diversified, stimulating series of events in which every student on campus can find some interest.

Bobbie Warthan

The students at Rollins are aware of the important issues of their times and the Student Center will give them the chance to hear qualified persons speak about the most pressing national problems. They have wanted the best in film productions; this they will have in both feature and foreign film series for next year. They have seen a need for big name entertainment so the Student Center will provide the Righteous Brothers. Naturally they want to have a good time; therefore, there will be numerous dances, folk sings, and annual special events.

However, without the support of every student on campus through their representatives, the Student Center cannot fulfill the aims it has established.

It is with great optimism that I look forward to a changing Rollins College. In view of the new curriculum and deferred rush, a more vital and dynamic Student Center—a Student Center of which every Rollins student is a member—will become one of the assets of the College of which every student will be proud.

Sincerely,
Barbara Warthan

Five Tars On Conference All-Stars

Rollins dominated the 11-man Florida Intercollegiate Conference all-star team, selected by the coaches, with five players. Tampa, Florida Southern and Stetson placed two men each.

Heading the Tar delegation is freshman lefty Gale Coleman, named the league's outstanding pitcher, along with pitcher Charles Schoene, first baseman Bob Gustafson, catcher Chuck Olsen and right fielder Bob Schabes.

Coleman posted a perfect 1-0 conference slate and saved two contests with shutout relief. Ranking fourth in the nation in strikeouts with 65, Coleman led the FIC with 29 whiffs in 16 innings, and posted a 3.38 ERA.

The league's winningest hurler with a 3-1 mark, Schoene ranked third in ERA at 2.66. He defeated each conference opponent once.

Schabes placed fourth in batting with a .406 average and led in runs scored with 12. Olsen batted .333, while Gustafson hit at a .294 clip and led the FIC with six stolen bases.

Shortstop Pedro Font paced Rollins' conference attack with a .444 average and a league high of eight RBI, but yielded the all-star spot to Frank Oktavec of Florida Southern, FIC batting leader (.500) and most valuable player.

Gordy Lynch was ninth in FIC batting ranks with a .346 average.

Freshman Joe Lasorsa topped league hurlers with a 2.21 ERA to gain one of two honorable mentions. The tiny fireballer posted a 2-0 mark and edged teammate Rick Shotwell (2.51) for the ERA crown.

Rollins easily copped the team batting title with a .321 average and led FIC moundsmen with a 2.69 cumulative ERA. Tar hurlers fanned 69 opponents in 67 innings.

Also named to the dream squad were pitchers Craig Gruber (Stetson) and Charlie Simmons (Florida Southern — honorable mention), second sacker Joe Pizzano (Tampa), third baseman Don Sabatini (Florida Southern), center fielder Dale Massing (Stetson) and left fielder Jim Frazier (Tampa).

Bob Schabes

Coleman Stays 4th In Whiffs

Only freshman southpaw Gale Coleman survived the Tars' late season slump to remain among national statistical leaders.

Despite losing his first game in five decisions against Miami two weeks ago and turning in a mediocre performance in the Florida finals, Coleman clung to the fourth spot in strikeouts with a 13.0 average on 65 whiffs in 45 innings.

He closed the campaign with a 12.9 strikeout average for nine innings, still good enough for fourth place nationally. Grolnic of Northeastern leads major college strikeout artists with a 16.0 mark.

Bob Schabes and Chuck Olsen, who ranked 27th and 33rd in batting two weeks ago, tumbled to .346 and .353 marks respectively. Hurler Joe Lasorsa lost his 18th place ranking as his ERA climbed from 1.06 to 1.45.

Four Tar opponents were listed in the NCAA's latest baseball statistics. Florida outfielder Rufus Frazier was ninth in triples and sixth in RBI, while teammate Skip Lujack rated 34th in batting (.389) and eighth in doubles.

Florida Southern shortstop Frank Oktavec and Harvard shortstop Jeff Grate placed 30th and 35th in batting with .390 and .389 marks.

Lambda Chi Swims To Crown; Kappas, Pi Phi Tie In Women's

Lambda Chi led all the way to defeat Sigma Nu in the men's division, while defending champion Kappa Kappa Gamma rallied in the final event for a tie with Beta Phi in women's competition of the intramural swimming and diving meet Sunday.

Taking five of eight events, Lambda Chi, which finished second last year, edged TKE 71-58 for the crown. Third a year ago, the Tekes captured the other three races.

Freshman Jud Curtis sparked Lambda Chi with first in the 100-yard medley and the 50-yard butterfly and second in the 50-yard freestyle, besides guiding his teammates to both relay victories. His 1:11.8 time in the medley bettered the old record (1:13.0), set by Sigma Nu's Jeff Heitz last year, by more than two seconds.

Key man in the Teke attack was freshman Larry Roberts, who won the 50-yard freestyle and 50-yard breaststroke and took second in the medley. Lambda Chi's Terry Law won the diving competition, while TKE's Bill Rogers took first in the 50-yard backstroke.

Grabbing two seconds and a third, X Club freshman Jack Myers guided his team to third place with 29 points. Sigma Nu (13) and Sig Ep (8) rounded out the entrants.

Kappa edged Pi Phi by nearly two seconds in the 100-yard relay to grab a 50½-50½ tie with Pi Phi. Pi Phi had taken the lead in the previous event as Ele Riker won the 50-yard freestyle.

Gamma Phi Beta, leader through the fourth race, was third with 40 points.

Besides the relay victory, Kappa took three first and Pi Phi also garnered a trio of wins. Senior Jeannie Britt, who holds three meet records, sparked KKG with victories in the 25-yard backstroke and the 25-yard butterfly, and anchored the relay team.

Bama Rucker won the 25-yard breaststroke to supplement the Kappa scoring.

Engineering the Pi Phi advance from last year's fourth place finish was freshman Carol Hogan, who copped the 25-yard freestyle crown and finished second in the butterfly. Other Pi Phi winners were Hannah Hempstead in diving and Miss Riker.

In the only other event, the women's plunge, Gamma Phi's Sally Sawyer and Chi O's Stanny McNair tied with glides of 47 feet, five inches. Miss Sawyer was defending champion in the plunge.

Behind Gamma Phi in the totals were Theta (21), Indies (14), Phi Mu (13) and Chi O (10).

Miami Snaps Tar Net Streak 8-1 in Finale

By Rick Strauss

Rollins' tennis squad ended its most successful season ever last Saturday with a repeat of last year's 8-1 defeat at the hands of the University of Miami, thus ending the Tar 24-match winning streak.

Having lost to Miami by an identical score in Coral Gables last season after an 11-match streak, the Tars have now won 35 of their last 37 matches.

As reflected by the close scores in five of the nine matches, the Tars put up a good battle with the Hurricanes, but experience proved the difference.

Tar captains Niels Menko and Dick Woltmann, playing in their last intercollegiate match at Rollins, did quite well against rough competition going 3 sets with their foes. Menko's opponent, Frank Tutvin, is currently ranked among the top 50 amateurs in the country. The shining light for the Tars was Cliff Montgomery's comeback victory over David Tate in a close 4-6, 6-3 6-3 match to give the Rollins freshman an unblemished 25-0 season.

Cliff won the consolation division at last year's National Junior Championships in Kalamazoo, Mich. And, how ironic it was that Miami captain Juan Rubio playing his last match defeated Jim Griffith 7-5, 6-4 to leave 'Grif' 24-1.

Rubio had recently taken his only loss of the season at Mississippi State.

The Tars' 24 match streak included victories over such well known schools as Duke, Furman, Amherst, Notre Dame and double wins over Florida, Florida State, Davidson, Columbia, and Pennsylvania, co-champions of the ivy league.

All but three of the 24 wins were clinched in the singles with F.S.U. and Pen. requiring doubles victories.

The Tars took 133 of a possible 151 singles points for 90%; 184 of a possible 223 total team points for 83% and coach Norm Copeland, a former Rollins netter, finished his tenth successful season with an overall record of 147-54 for a phenomenal .731 record.

The Tars swept the Florida Intercollegiate Championships by winning each of the six divisions and tied for second in the State Open Championship at Cape Coral, Florida.

There are two post season events which tennis enthusiasts might be interested in. They are the NCAA college division tournament at the University of the South in Seawannee, Tenn., June 7-11 and the NCAA university division championships at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla., June 13-19.

Rollins will send four participants to the small college tourney and, according to Miami coach Dale Lewis, "should wind up within the top four contenders."

Miami, Florida Upend High-Flying Tars

Rollins' baseball team closed the season just as it began, losing four straight to Miami and Florida, but in between managed enough wins for a 23-9 record, one of the best in Rollins' history.

Away from home for two consecutive weekends the Tars fell into a hitting slump, while the previously effective Tar mounds-men had trouble with control and the gopher ball.

Wendy Leads Girl Netters

MIAMI — Seeded only second, Wendy Overton downed Peacy Kellmeyer of Miami in straight sets two weeks ago, leading Rollins' women to the state tennis title.

Miss Overton joined forces with Gretchen Vosters to take the doubles crown, 6-1, 6-2, over Miss Kellmeyer and teammate Barbara Cook. The individual sweep gave Rollins 13 match points to Miami's 7 and Barry's 0.

After drawing a bye in the opening round, Wendy rolled over Darlene Pitts of Miami (6-0, 6-0) and Miss Vosters (6-2, 6-3) to reach the finals.

Mary Ann Foniri, Guiliana Peterson and Miss Vosters posted 6-0, 6-0 first round victories before running into each other in the second round. Mary Ann, fourth seeded, eliminated Guiliana, 6-4, 6-4, while Gretchen downed Miss Cook, 6-1, 6-1.

In third round action Gretchen fell to Miss Overton and Mary Ann lost to Miss Kellmeyer 6-0, 6-2.

Mary Ann and Guiliana teamed in doubles play to eliminate Barry's Sturtevant-Fernandez combination, 6-0, 6-0 before falling to Miss Kellmeyer and Miss Cook, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Gretchen and Wendy defeated Miss Pitts and Choen of Miami, 6-3, 6-4 in semifinal play.

Rollins 7-0 and 3-2 decisions.

Fanning sixteen Tars, Bogle got all the support he needed in the opener on John Collins' three-run homer and a solo blast by short-stop Dan Stefkovich.

The Tars got runners to third in the first two innings of the opener, but could move only three men as far as second after that. Bob Gustafson led the Tars with three singles and four stolen bases.

Snapping a scoreless deadlock in the third, Miami tallied a single marker on Bogle's double and Tito Gomez' single before Collins unloaded his blast.

The Hurricanes added lone runs in the fourth, fifth and seventh to ice the game for Bogle.

In the wind up first baseman Dave Sonenberg tagged right-hand-

Rollins jumped on Rick Jones for lone runs in the first and ninth, but the basketball star hurled shutout ball in between to pick up his fifth win of the season.

Dorman Barron clouted a ground rule double over the center fielder's head after Tom Flagg singled and Gustafson walked in the first, but Jones escaped further damage by getting Chuck Olsen to hit into a doubleplay.

After Sonenberg tied the game with two gone in the first, Rollins was able to shove just two runners as far as second until the ninth. Miami went ahead to stay with two outs in the fifth as Sonenberg plated the singling Gomez with his second round tripper.

With one out in the ninth the Tars tallied on Gordy Lynch's single and a two-bagger by Pedro Fonts, but Jones retired Schoene Wildness was the problem against Florida's Gators in Gainesville, as Tar hurlers walked 20 batters enroute to 14-3 and 5-2 losses.

Rollins scored twice in the first frame of last Friday's opener on Bob Chandler's fielder's choice and Olsen's infield single after walks to Flagg and Barron, sandwiched around Bob Gustafson's single, loaded the bases.

Scoring single tallies in the first four frames, Florida tied the score on a sacrifice fly and a squeeze bunt, before going in front for good on third baseman Dan Cushman's homer in the third.

Gustafson's single after Fonts had doubled cut the Gator margin to 4-3 in the fifth, but Florida capitalized on five walks for a six-run sixth.

After reliever Schoene loaded the bases with two out, the plate umpire gave Cushman first base for being hit by a pitch when even Cushman admitted the ball had bounced off the bat. Schoene then walked two in a row before surrendering a two-run single to Tom Shannon.

Three hits, including a pair of doubles, plus three bases on balls gave Florida four more tallies in the seventh.

Kirouac's Linksters Finish 14-4 In Matches; Slump In Tournaments

By Pete McCusker

Rollins' golf team continued its mastery in dual matches this season, posting an impressive 14-4 slate against stiff competition. Three of the four losses were to Florida and Florida State.

However, coach Bob Kirouac's linksters have been unable to turn in an outstanding tournament performance, thus rendering the season somewhat disappointing.

Nevertheless, several of the golfers excelled during the season. This is shown by the selection of four Rollins linksters to the all Florida Intercollegiate Conference Golf Team — Bob Lewis, Joe Browning, Jim Akerman and the only freshman to make the squad, Terry Law. For Lewis and Browning this was their second consecutive year as members of this dream team.

In tournament golf, the Tars impressed few people, but there were several bright spots made possible by certain individual performances.

In the Miami Invitational, Lewis finished fourth in a field of 198 players with a total of 289, and led the Tars to a fifth place finish among many of the best teams in the country.

Playing in the freshman division, Law also did well. Turning in a good performance in this tournament was Jim Ackerman, a consistent performer throughout the year.

Rollins finished third in the Florida Intercollegiate Tournament at Cape Coral with Lewis finishing sixth.

Probably the brightest spot of the season was the Tars' dominance of the Conference Tournament at Florida Southern in Lakeland. For the third year in a row, the Tars won the title, with Lewis finishing a distant second behind the fine playing Mac Brown of Florida Southern. Joe Browning finished third.

With most of the team returning next year and the possibility of several good recruits from the freshman class, the outlook for

'67 is very good. The experience gained from the past two seasons should finally begin to take hold and the result could be a very impressive team.

A golf team is nothing without its coach and Rollins is very fortunate in this respect. With the fine sportsmanship and hard work displayed throughout the year, Bob Kirouac has gained well deserved admiration from his fellow coaches throughout the state, not to mention an unending devotion from his players.

Gustafson Rallies For 2nd Swat Title

Consistent Bob Gustafson blooped a two-run single in the eighth inning of Rollins' 5-2 loss to Florida Saturday to win his second batting crown in three years with a .359 mark.

The junior first baseman hovered around the .350 mark throughout the latter part of the campaign and entered the final contest tied with senior catcher Chuck Olsen at .364.

Olsen, who tied Gustafson for the crown in 1964 at .381, was hitless in three trips, while Gus went one-for-four, to finish with a .353 mark. Sophomore Bob Schabes, plummeting with a 4-1 slate.

Bob Gustafson ... champion again

Trailing Lasorsa were southpaw Rick Shotwell (5-1, 2.64), right-hander Charles Schoene (5-3, 3.81) and lefty Gale Coleman (4-1, 3.89). Coleman led the staff with 65 strikeouts in 45 innings.

Gustafson topped his teammates in stolen bases with 12 thefts and Schabes led in RBI with 25 and scored with 30.

In other departments Pedro Fontes (.294) and Bob Chandler (.308) tied for the doubles lead with seven, Gordy Lynch (.282) slammed three triples and Tom Flagg took honors in homeruns (2) and walks (18).

Slumping in the final four contests, the Tars compiled a .296 team batting mark and a cumulative 3.14 ERA. As a unit the Tars handled a phenomenal 96.3 per cent of their fielding chances.

Rollins Holds National Spot

Despite losing four straight games to close the season, 23-9, Rollins remained in Collegiate Baseball's latest national college rankings.

After dropping two game sets to Miami and Florida in the past two weeks, Coach Joe Justice's Tars plummeted from 27th to 38th in the top fifty.

Southern California retained a slim lead over Florida State for the top spot. Rollins, FSU and Jacksonville (39) were the only Florida teams rated.

Maine, which split with Rollins during Baseball Week, was the only Tar opponent in the top fifty, placing 33rd.

Snakes Look For 3rd Crown

by Pete McCusker

The 1966 intramural softball season closed finding Sigma Nu, the only undefeated team, in first place. Following with six wins and only one loss was Lambda Chi.

Next came X Club and Delta Chi with identical 4-3 slates. Rounding out the standings were Sigma Phi Epsilon, 3-4; Faculty Grads, 2-3; TKE, 1-6; and KA, 0-6.

Highlighting the league leading Sigma Nu team was pitcher Bill Jackson.

Jackson, who was instrumental in last year's league winning team, again pitched masterfully as he led Sigma Nu to its 7-0 season. Using his "fast" ball and "funny" pitch, he was able to strike out 69 batters in the 43 innings.

Not only did Jackson excell in pitching, but he also led the league with seven home runs and compiled a respectable .414 batting average. Highlighting his hitting this season was a 4 for 4 performance versus Sigma Phi Epsilon May 9, when he hit a single and three home runs.

One of the most impressive facts still remains, however—the fact that Bill Jackson is a junior and will be back next year to add to his wins. With this fact in mind one can only expect another successful season and Sigma Nu being, again, a top contender.

X Club and Delta Chi met to decide third place in the final softball standings Monday.

Both teams brought 4-3 records into the closely contested game with the lead changing hands frequently. X Club ended up with a 9-8 win and third place.

Though out hit 11 to 8 by Delta Chi, the Club managed to hit with men on base and take advantage of several key defensive lapses by the Deltas.

Tar Nine Ends With 4 Losses

Continued from page 10 — two-hitter for seven innings, fanning eight, only to lose a 5-2 decision on a pair of errors and two passed balls.

Breaking a scoreless tie, Florida tallied a lone run in the fourth on a walk, an error, a passed ball and an infield out.

With two out in the seventh and runners on second and third, Lasorsa whiffed Shannon on a low curve that got away from Olsen, permitting one run to score. Olsen then threw wildly trying to cut down Shannon to open the door for another marker.

The Tars rallied with a pair of their own in the eighth on Gustafson's two-out single after safeties by Flagg and Chandler, plus a walk to pinch-hitter Rick Shotwell, loaded the bases, but Florida iced the contest with two runs on two hits and three walks in the eighth.

Right-hander Kelly Prior won his seventh game for Florida, while Lasorsa took his first loss in five decisions. Shotwell (5-1) and Coleman (4-1) also lost their first games of the season on the trip.

Chuck Olsen ... edged for crown from a .400 average three weeks ago, took third at .348.

Last season Gustafson was deadlocked with outfielder Allen Burris coming into the final Florida contest, but lost the title by a few points.

Freshman righty Joe Lasorsa took hurling honors easily with a 1.45 ERA. Losing Saturday's game, Lasorsa completed the campaign

Crews Close Sad Season

By Mike Miller and George Kuta
PHILADELPHIA — Marietta College of Ohio swept varsity, junior varsity and freshman divisions of the annual Dad Vail Regatta here May 13-14.

Wrapping up a disappointing season, Rollins took sixth in the frosh competition and lost out in the first heat of varsity action.

Although only one oarsman had rowed in major races before this season, the Tar junior varsity had been priming for the Dad Vail despite a unimpressive 3-6 season slate.

The all-freshman JV edged George Washington University to win its first heat and advance to the six-crew finals. However, the tension got to the Tars in the final round the next day and they finished sixth in the 18-team division.

In varsity action, Trinity, George Washington and LaSalle edged Rollins' number one boat to reach the finals. The Tars posted a 6:44 time on the course, fourth best of the day, but only the top three teams in a heat qualify.

Closing out their Rollins rowing careers were stroke Skip Carlson and Larry Schrupf, plus injured captain and stroke Fred Rossiter,
