Rollins College Leads Nation With New Type Curriculum Plan

Returning students have noticed that there is an air of excitement on the campus of Rollins College these days. The faculty and the students are putting a new curriculum into effect. It is a new concept for a liberal arts college, designed to achieve an aim expressed by one enthusiastic professor:

"No student will be allowed to leave Rollins without a solid groundwork of general knowledge."

To make this possible the faculty has overwhelmingly approved the "hourglass" curriculum. Its most important feature is that specialization will occur in the sophomore and junior years and seniors will return to a broad perspective of study in all the disciplines and will supplement this with independent studies resembling graduate work.

The freshmen will receive a year of solid grounding in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences, through team teaching and independent study, before selecting their majors.

MORE THAN two years have gone into the planning by a faculty committee headed by Dr. Donald W. Hill, Dean of Administrative Affairs.

A group of seniors counseled by Dr. Kenneth Griswold, a professor of education, became involved in the final stages. They approved so strongly they have drawn a special message for the incoming freshmen, expressing regret that they are leaving as the innovation begins.

"This institution," says this message, "has been carrying on research concerning radical new departures in the area of curriculum. You have been accepted in the most dynamic program that a college student may experience anywhere in the world. You will find it stimulating because it is based entirely on the individual and his unlimited potential."

"We are all seniors but we wish we were coming back to study under this new plan and we envy you."

THIS IS a rare tribute but the faculty shares the enthusiasm. President Hugh F. McKean sees it as an opportunity for the total development of student potential and total use of faculty resources.

The professors no longer will be confined to narrow specialties but may explore interdisciplinary fields and pursue interesting side interests.

President McKean, a former art professor, would welcome a student interested in the field of stained glass and would be a well-qualified guide for research in this esoteric specialty.

One Rollins professor, Dr. Jack Lane, is an expert on war — its causes and effects on humanity. While this fits into no standard liberal arts course, it is a fascinating possibility for study in the new plan.

Another faculty member, Dr. Herbert Hellwege, a chemist, has a seminar on energy, pursuing this subject through biology, botany, physics, astronomy and other fields in which it is a prime factor.

THE THINKING behind this new concept is simple. The body of knowledge is so vast these days that no one can really absorb it. Discovery comes so fast much that will be taught a decade from now still awaits the researcher and experimenter.

THE NEW curriculum, while the direct result of two years' study, is actually the culmination of thinking of many persons over many years. It carries out Rollins' concept that the private liberal arts college has a special mission to stimulate and pioneer, to avoid education that, in Dr. McKean's words, is "standardized, mass produced, efficient and cold."

Dr. Donald Hill Appointed To Post As College Dean

Dr. Donald W. Hill, former Dean of Administrative Affairs, has been appointed Dean of the College, the top academic position on campus. Dr. Hill replaces Dean Edwin S. Burdell, who retired on July 31. The appointment was made on the recommendation of the faculty advisory committee and with approval of the trustees.

Dean Hill

As Dean, Dr. Hill guides all academic matters of the 1,100-student campus college, its curriculum, faculty, admissions, registration and student deans. Also, he leads three other divisions: the Graduate Programs, the School of Creative Arts, and the Central Florida School for Continuing Studies at both Winter Park and Patrick Air Force Base. In the past spring term these four divisions altogether enrolled 4,427 students.

During the past two years, Dr. Hill led a faculty committee in the creation of a unique plan for undergraduate study, the "hourglass curriculum" which is now in effect. Prior to that, he worked with Dr. Charles A. Welsh in forming the Crummer School of Finance and Business Administration.

Dr. Hill first came to Rollins in 1958 and, except for a three year leave to earn his doctorate at the American University, taught economics until last year, when he became the first to assume the new position of Dean of Administrative Affairs.

In the business world, he helped develop the first marketing research group in the Long-Lines Department of American Telephone and Telegraph, New York City. In 1964, he was awarded a Ford Foundation fellowship for a continuing research project at Duke University in macro economic theory, and in the summer of 1965, held a fellowship at Case Institute of Technology. His publications cover labor and marketing economics.

Faculty advisor Dr. Herrick and freshman Bill Wise discuss plans during College Preparation Week.

New Orientation Prepares Frosh

About 400 freshmen and transfers arrived on campus Sunday, Sept. 18, to begin College Preparation Week. This new orientation program is a combination of last year's How to Study Week and Orientation Week.

College Preparation Week, directed by Dr. Fletcher, Dr. Herrick, and an eight-member steering committee, lasted until Sept. 26.

Steering committee members were seniors Bob Gustafson and Dutchy Bodenheimer, juniors Dan Pincetich and Susan Probasco, and sophomores Jack Myers and Josie Bidgood.

President Hugh F. McKean greeted the parents in Annie Russell Theatre after dinner with faculty advisers. He also addressed the newcomers in a meeting Sunday evening.

Monday and Tuesday, new students registered, filled out check lists and tried to prove their swimming abilities. A mixer Monday evening gave the new students a chance to get acquainted.

Throughout the week the students, advisors and faculty were involved in discussions of academic and social problems encountered in the transition from secondary schools to college.

Also discussed were the new foundation courses, required summer reading and lectures on such topics as how to take notes, carry on research and write papers.

Friday was devoted to a tour of the library, a reading performance of "A Song for Rollins" and a talk on deferred rush rules.

After a long week of lectures, tests, reading assignments, and strange freshmen women's hours, relief was in sight. Following a little confusion, which seemed organized after the frantic rush of meetings during the week, about 400 freshmen and counselors departed Rollins for the day on Sept. 24 and headed for Cape Kennedy and later the pelican and the beach.

We were shown many of the administration buildings and training areas, and looked at the training capsule and Agena target used by the astronauts in practice and simulated flights. From this building we toured the space museum, viewing many of the rockets and missiles used in the earlier years of space exploration. Later in the tour we were ushered into the largest building in the world, the Vertical Assembly Building.

The wish of getting to the beach finally came true. The Rollins class of 1970 descended on the Pelican and quickly devoured all the food in sight. Some of the more brave souls plunged into the surf. Others discovered the sand a dryer and more enjoyable place. At one time or another, however, everyone enjoyed the tremendous sounds of The Moonrakers. The music could be heard for quite a distance down the beach and even enhanced some of the neighbors to come and observe the gaiety. Evidently the New Symerna Police heard the music too, but after the amplifiers were turned down a little, the policemen enjoyed the music also.

By 10:00 almost everyone was ready to go back to Rollins. After a few blasts on a whistle by Mr. Dick Stabell, the buses were loaded and on their way back to school. The day had proved to be an interesting, somewhat exhausting, but very enjoyable preface to a collegiate career.

Entering Class, Transfer Losses Alter Enrollment

A total of 1044 students, 39 less than last year's record enrollment, began classes last Monday, according to a statement made by Spencer Lane, Dean of Admissions. An unprecedented number of dropouts and transfers among the ranks of sophomores, juniors, and seniors during the summer is responsible for the decrease, since the total number of new students has increased slightly. The freshmen class totals 363.

Another interesting note in the enrollment is a breakdown by sex, showing 569 men (214 of them new here) and 475 women (including 190 new women).

Lane also stressed that this year's freshman class has shown by its scores on the College Entrance Examination Board tests that it is one of the best prepared classes in the school's history. The mean SAT score for the entering class was approximately 559, nearly 20 points above that of last year's class. A record amount of financial and scholarship aid has been granted to 98 new students.

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

With this, the first edition of the Sandspur, it is only proper that we define our editorial and news policy — and our purposes.

We feel that The Sandspur should be and will be a newspaper written and edited by students. We feel that the process of acquiring a college education involves more than academic pursuits and that the weekly production of a university newspaper is a vital part of this learning process for interested students.

Thus, we have made our goals twofold. First, we feel it is our duty to serve the college community. This means that The Sandspur is not a student newspaper, nor is it a house organ for the administration. The Sandspur is a college newspaper, with items of interest for all segments of our diversified community.

And in this respect, we will publish only news we feel will inform, enlighten or benefit members of the college. We will strive to evaluate articles on the news value and not whether someone would or would not like to see the information in print.

Our editorial policy will be one of open-mindedness. We will strive to bring to light the important aspects of all issues and clearly define for our readers our feeling on important subjects of the day.

We shall not hesitate to point out what we feel is wrong and right with the college system, our social norms, or our goals of life. We shall, as always, thoroughly research our topics for editorial discussion and hopefully present special insights into current problems.

These policies are not new nor are they novel. They are a continuation of ideas used in the production of the Sandspurs of past years.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Although I will not be returning to Rollins this year, it was my pleasure to revisit the campus shortly before the start of classes. Let me say that I am just amazed at the progress made over the short summer months. The fine carpet in the Beanery and the Crummer School are examples of this progress. I was also very impressed by the new independent dormitory. I am only too sorry that I won't be able to return to enjoy them and all the friends I made in my two years at Rollins.

However, with the new curriculum I hope that students will still have time to take advantage of the fine social life that I found at Rollins.

Again, best of luck to all my friends at Rollins.

Dean Sara Howden Speaks Out In and Around Rollins; Events at the Union

By Polly Perrott

(Editors Note: Periodically the Sandspur will invite prominent members of the faculty, staff, and administration to discuss some of the issues that confront Rollins. This week Dean Howden has consented to contribute her thoughts about the many changes in Rollins that have taken place over the summer.)

It is a privilege to communicate through the Sandspur with returning students as well as the new freshman class, and I wish to express my appreciation to the editor and staff for this opportunity. Already returning students have expressed their pleasure and in some cases their astonishment at the changes which have taken place during the summer in regard to the new look of the old, familiar campus. There is much to admire and the announcement that Rollins has received the government grant which will make the Field House a reality is another and major indication of the progress of the college.

We have just completed the new form of orientation: that is, College Preparation Week. The student-faculty committee which planned College Preparation Week felt that the freshmen who were going to be the first class to work under the new curriculum should have an opportunity to learn what would be asked of them. Accordingly, a great deal of planning and hard work went into the project and the overall reaction is favorable. While the experience is fresh, I would very much appreciate any criticism and recommendations for improvement from those involved, and I will be happy to pass this along to next year's committee so that we can have an even better College Preparation Week next Fall.

It is perhaps necessary to give information to those who did not participate in the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic deliberations on rush rules, as the whole college will be affected to some extent by this change, and a thorough understanding is necessary if the new plans are to work.

In the first place, the rules affecting new students have been worked out by the social groups through their representation in the Interfraternity Council and the Rollins Panhellenic Association. Both groups have indicated their willingness to review the regulations if it appears that hardship are being experienced by some students. I would advise anyone so affected to get in touch with the appropriate officer: Charles Schoene, president of the Interfraternity Council; or Leslie White, President of Panhellenic. You may be assured that they are anxious to have the system work to the best interests of both the social groups and the new students, and they will relay your suggestions to the meetings of their groups.

All new students have had the opportunity to obtain an explanation of the role of the Rollins Student Association and the procedures of the student government. Because these matters are somewhat complicated and students must understand fully if they are to act responsibly as Rollins students, I should like to offer the services of the Student Deans if we can assist in any way in the search for answers. It may be that groups would find it valuable to ask for a discussion type meeting with student leaders or the Student Deans in order to become better acquainted with the existing structure and procedures. If so, I will be glad to assist in calling such a meeting.

I should like to say a word to senior Rollins women who are eligible for the key privilege. It is necessary for the Chairman of the Women's Rules Committee to work out certain plans before the keys may be issued. I believe that it will not take very long to put this privilege into action, and since the experimental use of the senior key plan last year was quite successful, we are looking forward to another year under the same system. The procedures I speak of are to insure the security of other women living in the dormitories who do not have the key privilege.

I have every reason to believe that this will be a wonderful year for Rollins students, new and old, and I should like to take this opportunity to extend my best wishes for a successful year to all Rollins men and women.

A joint meeting of the Student Center Board of Directors and Program Administrative Council was held September 27 in the Student Association Room to make plans and discuss events for 1966-67.

Tentative plans, which were organized and submitted to the Student Legislative for approval late last year, call for an increased slate of activities. Looking forward, the proposed program for this year is highlighted by a great increase in the number of nationally prominent entertainers and speakers who will appear on the campus.

The Student Center has scheduled an all-college dance this Saturday, Oct. 1 at 8:00 p.m. on the Student Center Patio to introduce the individual committee chairmen and the organizational structure of the Student Center. The committee chairmen will be delighted to, stationed around the dance floor, discuss the function of their committee and take applications for membership from interested students. A Raisin in the Sun, starring Sidney Poitier, will be sponsored by the Films Committee in Bingham Hall tonight at 7:00 p.m. Admission free to all Rollins students. Be sure to come and see this award winning film.

Pepper Urges Students To Work At Government Jobs

Congressman Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) urged Florida's "ablest young people" to apply for summer jobs with the Federal Government and "find out how their national government really works."

"Whatever career a young person plans, it will help him or her to know something about the operations of the Federal Government," he said.

We should encourage our ablest young people — the future leaders of our state — to take the qualifying examinations for employment with the Federal Government next summer.

Applications for the first examination must be filed with the Civil Service Commission by October 21.

Student Council Reports

By Al Hollon

The first meeting of the Student Council was convened by Student Association President Bob Gustafson on September 26 in the Union basement. At the outset of the meeting Bob extended an open invitation for all students, especially the entering freshman class, to attend Legislature meetings and participate in Student Government affairs.

Nancy Hopwood, chairman of the Women's Rules Committee, reported that the faculty will soon reconsider the Legislature's proposal to extend the closing hours for upperclass women to 1:00 a.m.

Scotty Green, chairman of the Traffic Committee, announced that the deadline for purchasing traffic stickers would be September 30. After that date the price will be raised to $10. Scotty also stressed that strict enforcement of traffic regulations will begin next week; all cars without parking decals and all cars illegally parked will be ticketed by the campus patrolmen. This year the fine for violations will be two dollars per ticket, one dollar less than previously.

Student Association Comptroller Debbie Wood then gave her report. She emphasized the fact that a decrease in enrollment this year will make it necessary to reconsider and reorganize last year's tentative budget allocations. Last year the $50 Student Association fee charged each student provided $53,600 to support the activities of the Student Association. This year's fund was expected to amount to $56,100; however, due to a drop in the number of students attending Rollins, only $50,700 will be available for student government use.

Miss Wood also announced that the Freshmen Student Directories, for which the Legislature had allocated $500 last year, are ready for sale.

Student Association Vice President Bill Blackburn, chairman of the Standards Committee, announced that the special committee to study reapportionment of the Legislature would meet Wednesday at 8:30.

Prominent Chicagoan To Aid Pres. McKean

James M. Sheldon, Jr., has been appointed Assistant to the President of Rollins College, President Hugh F. McKean announced Monday.

Sheldon, who has worked as assistant to the President of the University of Chicago since 1957, will coordinate the Public Affairs, Publications and Development Programs at the College. He will work closely with the President's Council, a group of 100 business leaders from the Central Florida area invited each year to serve in an advisory capacity to the President.

His positions in community endeavors have been many, including the chairmanship of the March Of Dimes, participation in the Chicago Crime Commission and membership in many Chicago civic organizations.

In his spare time Sheldon will probably be seen at Dubs-dread Country Club, for he is an avid golfer. He is a member of the U.S. Seniors Golf Association.

"We are privileged to have a man of Mr. Sheldon's background and experience join the Rollins administrative staff to assist us in our development program," President McKean said.

Sheldon graduated from the University of Chicago in 1931, and joined Chas. A. Stevens & Co., Chicago. He became a buyer and was subsequently appointed Divisional Merchandise Manager for the retail firm in 1940. He was selected Vice President in 1946 and served in that capacity until 1957.

The Publicans Union has announced that applications are open for the position of R Book editor. Any student in good standing who has worked on a Rollins publication for two terms is eligible to apply for this paid position. Applications should be submitted to Sharon Rosewicz, Campus Mail, by October 15.

Library Receives Microfilm Index From Donations

An $18,790 microfilm file of the New York Times, from its establishment in 1851 to the present, has been donated to Rollins College.

Dr. A. J. Hanna, First Vice President of the College, said the complete file, which includes a printed index, was donated by the Rivco Foundation, the Chauncey and Marion Deering McCormick Foundation, by corporations and small businesses, and well known leaders in industry and the arts from many parts of the country.

"This gift makes it possible for Rollins students and faculty, and the many people in this area to make use of this indispensable and monumental reference work," Hanna said.

The permanent microfilm edition of the Times, covering more than a century of publication, occupies less than one percent of the space required for the paper edition, thus eliminating expensive storage space.

Dr. Charles A. Welsh, Dean of the Crummer School of Finance and Business Administration, said "the New York Times is an essential specific reference for graduate research in Business Administration because it constitutes the major current information journal in the entire field. The Times provides more frequent and precise data on a larger number of industries than any other comparable daily news medium."

Mrs. Alice E. Hansen, Rollins' Chief Librarian, stated that the New York Times is generally regarded by both undergraduate and graduate students as the world's most reliable and objective newspaper.

Gustafson Discusses Issues

I would like to welcome back each and every upperclassman and extend an additional welcome and hello to the class of 1970.

I hope you all have had a wonderful summer and have come back ready to accept the new challenge which Rollins will offer us all this year. Some of these challenges are old, but many of them are new. The freshmen have now been coined as the "Pioneers of a new era" at Rollins. This new era has ushered in the hour-glass curriculum which appears to be a new and dynamics thought in the field of education. In the past week, the freshmen have already experienced this new era at Rollins — perhaps that is why we have not seen too much of them. All joking aside, they have their work cut out for them, and so do we as members of what is now being referred to as the "past generation." We, the upperclassmen, must now take upon ourselves the job of reviving our old spirits and old ways to meet the challenge of making Rollins the best small liberal arts college in the Southeast. It can be done and it must!

I do not propose that we make Rollins into an academic asylum; I feel that Rollins must draw the well-rounded students who can and will participate in all phases of college life. This, then, can be taken as a note of congratulations to the people in the Admissions Office for what appears to be the best freshman class ever. However, I hope they will continue to remember that Rollins does not thrive on academics alone, but on all aspects which combine to form college life.

I also hope that the student body will back its Student Association and make it the means through which the students as a whole can express their desires and goals. This, too, is important if Rollins is going to succeed in its new step forward.

In closing, I wish to thank all the members of the Student Preparation Week Committee for their fine work in making this past week a truly successful orientation for the freshmen. May this year carry with it the success of Rollins and its student members, as well as the hope that we will all pitch in and get the job done.

IFC, Panhel State Deferred Rush Rules

Last week the Interfraternity Council, under its new President, Charles Schoene, formulated the rules for deferred rush. Bill Blackburn was also elected Vice-President.

Chas. is a senior from Orlando, Florida. This year he is also President of the X Club. Before he signed to play professional baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals, Chas. pitched for the Rollins Tars and played basketball and soccer.

The IFC believes that the purpose of deferred rush is to help improve Rollins College academically, while at the same time, the Greek system is strengthened. Under the new rush schedule freshmen will be allowed to work on getting their and to make sure they have found the right fraternity for themselves. In the past, freshmen have been confronted with this important decision of choosing a fraternity while being confronted with the difficulties of college life.

These new rules will also strengthen the fraternities. First, the fraternities won't be able to rush anyone who doesn't have a 6.0 average. Under this rule fraternities won't be running into the problem of being unable to activate pledges who have not made their grades. The Greek organizations will also now have more time to present a realistic picture of themselves and at the same time they will be able to better evaluate the new students.

IFC wants to make deferred rush as easy as possible for both the upperclassmen and the freshmen. Thus, they tried to make simple rules that would minimize the desire for fraternities to dirty rush, while still safeguarding the freshmen from the pressures of choosing a fraternity. These weren't made with the purpose of separating freshmen from upperclassmen and this is the reason for on-campus rush, which gives new students a chance to meet fraternity men and to assimilate themselves into college life.

IFC is going to find themselves very busy throughout the fall term working on a rush program for January and policing the new rules. The council also hopes to arrange an athletic and social program for the freshmen which would be a substitute for the fraternity activities.

In formulating the new rush rules the IFC has worked with the Pan-Hellenic Council in solving mutual problems.

Leslie White, a senior Kappa from Winter Park, was elected president of the Panhellenic Association. Like IFC, Panhel has attempted to formulate simple, easily enforced rules for deferred sorority rush.

In essence Panhel wanted to insure that "natural relationships" would develop between the freshmen girls and sorority women. The objective is that a realistic picture of life at Rollins should be presented during the first team, not one discolored by the complications of a rush situation.

For this reason provision has been made for contact between freshmen and upperclassmen, but an attempt has been made to eliminate the pressures of open rush.

Charles Schoene

grades. At the same time new students will become unified as a class. In the past, rushees haven't had enough time to look over each fraternity thoroughly

FRATERNITY DEFERRED RUSH RULES

Any person who has not attended Rollins for more than one term shall be considered a "freshman" and bound by these rules. Any male who has attended Rollins for more than one term shall be eligible for immediate pledging.

Upperclassmen shall be defined as undergraduates, graduate students, alumni, or representatives of a fraternity.

1. No upperclassmen (including Greek men and Independents) will be allowed in New Hall or the first floor of Rex Beach Hall (except members of the Interfraternity Council, Counselors or Resident Advisors) during the Fall Term.

For purposes of obtaining linen on the proper day and using the Weight Room in New Hall, upperclassmen may enter through the back door of the New Hall. No upperclassman will be allowed to walk through any units in New Hall.

2. Likewise no freshman will be allowed in any upperclassmen's residence hall during the Fall Term.

3. No freshman will be allowed in upperclassmen's cars at any time during the Fall Term with the following exceptions:

a. Upperclassmen who participate in varsity sports are allowed to transport freshmen members and candidates of their same team directly to and from the practice field during designated practice times.

b. Freshmen will not be allowed in Resident Advisor's or Counselor's cars except in case of an emergency.

c. Freshmen can be in an upperclass woman's car only if no upperclassman is present.

4. Freshmen or transfer students who have cars will not be able to transport any upperclassmen at any time.

5. There will be no off-campus rush during the Fall Term.

6. On-campus rush with the exceptions of rules 1 and 2 will be allowed.

a. "On campus" is defined as the campus of Rollins College, Lake Virginia, and Dubsdread Country Club (from 1 PM to 7 PM) and any area used for an all college-sponsored function, except the Pelican.

7. At the end of the Fall Term a freshman must have a 6.0 average (minimum of 16 credit hours) in order to affiliate in any way.

8. There will be no fraternity sponsored functions for freshmen on campus.

ENFORCEMENT

Any I.F.C. member may report what he consider to be "dirty" rush to the I.F.C. A majority of the I.F.C. shall determine the guilt or innocence of the accused. (The defending fraternity (ies) cannot vote on this determination).

For any violation which is reported to the I.F.C. by 2 I.F.C. members who are eyewitnesses, the defending fraternity(ies) shall be automatically quidty.

The penalties for dirty rush shall be not less than a fine of $50 and a loss of 20% of the pledge quota, and not more than a fine of $300 and loss of 66% of a pledge quota.

Any freshmen involved in dirty rush shall be barred from affiliation for the remaining academic year.

IFC, Panhel Announce Rush Rules Revision

PANHELLENIC DEFERRED RUSH RULES

Objective: "It is your conduct on campus as ladies, your leadership in campus activities and your interested attention to your academic work as students in your classes that makes you and your sorority attractive to rushees. If your reputation is above reproach and the ideal to be achieved, the freshmen will rush you more than you rush them."

A rushee shall be defined as any freshman or transfer woman. There will be open rush for returning upperclassmen.

I. Communication

A. On campus

1. Residence halls

- No rushee may enter a sorority house or a sorority woman's room.
- No sorority woman may enter Elizabeth Hall or any rushee's room except for sheets.

2. Written communication other than campus related correspondence is prohibited.

B. Off campus

1. All school functions are exempt.

- Rushees may not be entertained by sorority women during Thanksgiving or Christmas vacation.
- No sorority woman may entertain rushees if either signed out for the weekend.
- No rushee may attend any off campus Greek function where sorority women are present. A function shall be defined as more than 4 people or two couples.

C. No sorority woman may receive affiliated relatives of rushees.

II. Transportation

No rushee may ride in a sorority woman's car unless a woman from another sorority, a Rollins man, or a Rollins faculty member is present in that car.

III. Enforcement

A. A Board of Enforcement and Appeals shall consist of Panhellenic delegates and the Panhellenic President.

B. A president of a chapter knowing another sorority has violated Panhellenic regulations should contact the president of the group committee the violation. The chapter committing the violation should report the information within 24 hours, or the other chapter is responsible for reporting it.

IV. Eligibility for Rush

A student is eligible for Rush only if he has completed 16 hours, maintains a 6.0 average, and is not on social or academic probation.

The following suggestions were moved and carried.

- Sorority women are allowed to wear their pins.
- A Panhellenic tea will be held this year.
- Sorority and fraternity songs will be sung in the beanery at designated times.
- A revote will be called for concerning these deferred rush rules in two weeks.

L. C. Strong Dies

Rollins has lost a great friend in the death of L. Corrin Strong, a trustee of the college since 1946 and former United States Ambassador to Norway, who died September 19.

Strong, at the time of his death, was President of the Hattie L. Strong Foundation in Washington, D.C. and Chairman Emeritus of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

President Hugh F. McKean, said, "We at Rollins College are grieved at the death of Corrin Strong, a man who believed strongly in independent American education and who did so much to build Rollins College."

Two buildings on the Rollins campus, Strong Hall and Corrin Hall, are named for Strong. Among his many gifts to Rollins, Strong provides scholarships for selected students.

Lead Booters

As Drills Begin

About 50 players, including 30 freshmen, turned out for soccer practice Monday, as coaches Joe Justice, Ernie Wraschek and Boyd Coffie began drilling their charges for the season's opener with St. Leo, just two weeks away.

Although 19 letters were awarded at the close of the 1965 season, only nine lettermen showed up this season, including a pair of 1964 veterans who sat out the last campaign.

All-State and all-Florida Intercollegiate Conference center forward Willie Flohr heads the returning contingent. A sophomore, Flohr led the Tars with 11 goals last season.

Also back are three-year letter-winners Ricky Mello, Pete Taylor and Ted Staley on the front line and two-year veterans Chuck Gordon, Dorman Barron and Bob Schabes, all backs, and John Nathan, a goalie.

Center forward Jeff Birtch, with one year of experience, rounds out the veteran cast.

Rollins' first soccer test is an exhibition with the Free University of West Berlin Wednesday at the Sandspur Bowl.

Opponent's Outlook

Soccer Foes

Although Rollins lost more than half of its 1965 soccer lettermen, hopes for its first Florida Intercollegiate Conference title since 1960 are strengthened by the losses suffered by FIC rivals Stetson and Florida Southern.

Both Florida Southern, the defending FIC titlist, and Stetson, second in 1965, lost key players by graduation, as did 1965 state champion Miami.

South Florida, however, returns nearly a full squad, while St. Leo is virtually an unknown quantity.

St. Leo

The tiny Dade City Catholic college completed its first intercollegiate soccer season with a 0-10 record, including a 3-1 loss to Rollins. Since the school advanced from the junior college ranks last season, most of the 1965 squad should be back.

South Florida

South Florida of Tampa impressed in its first year of soccer competition by posting a 6-4 record, including 4-6, 2-1, split with the Tars.

The Golden Brahms suffered no major graduation losses and boast All-Staters Helge Velde, who scored 13 goals at center forward, and Brian Holt, a halfback.

Miami

The perennially strong Hurricanes breezed to the unofficial state title last season with an 8-1 record, losing only to national champion St. Louis and crushing Rollins 4-1 and 5-3.

Gone are All-State forwards Victor Gavancho, and Ramon Poo, plus regulars Wayne Pascarella (wing), Juan Rubio (inside), Neil Henderson (halfback) and Arturo Montealegre (halfback).

All-State goalie Jorge Rubinstein and center forward Reggie Vorbe, who scored 13 goals last year, are key returning veterans.

Stetson

Splitting with Rollins, 3-1, 1-3, in 1965, Stetson's Hatters finished with a 3-5-2 slate and took second in the FIC with a 1-2-1 record.

Three all-conference performers, halfback Lennie Grace, fullback Gene White and goalie Pete Fulton, graduated. All-FIC inside John Heald is key veteran, joining lettermen Don Jacobson (forward), Duane Algaier (fullback), Vining Bigelow, John Leland and Rick Badgely (halfbacks).

Florida Southern

1965 graduate Terry Darby led the Moccasins to a 5-4-1 season plus the FIC championship last season with 16 goals. Southern defeated Rollins, 3-2 and 2-1.

Besides Darby, Southern will miss all-conference goalie John Hayes and halfback Kurt Hoch. Don Sabatini, all-FIC and all-state, joins veteran Bob McOsker on the fullback line, but halfback and front line must depend on freshmen and reserves to replace Darby.

CHARLES SCHOENE

... Goes Pro

Schoene Signs

Card Contract

Charles Schoene, veteran Tar right-hander, capped a successful college pitching career this summer by signing with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Included in his contract, the full details of which are traditionally not disclosed, was the completion of his college education at Rollins.

After downing Florida Southern 2-1 on a one-hitter in his first start April 25, 1964, Schoene went on to post a 13-8 record in three seasons as a reliever and starter for the Tars.

Schoene's best season was his freshman year, when he posted a 3-1 won-lost record and registered a 1.97 ERA in 32 innings. In succeeding campaigns the former Orlando Oak Ridge High School star logged 5-3 and 5-4 marks with ERA's of 4.11 and 4.01.

Posting a 3.60 lifetime ERA, with 82 strikeouts in 145 frames, Schoene also batted a creditable .226.

The Rollins baseball team embarks on a tour of Ecuador.

Coleman, Lasorsa Hurl Rollins By Ecuadorians

GUAYQUIL, ECUADOR—Behind the tight pitching of freshmen Gale Coleman and Joe Lasorsa, Rollins swept three of four meetings with the Ecuadorian national all-stars during an exhibition tour last June.

Coleman, the leading hurler in Florida Intercollegiate Conference last spring, shutout Ecuador 9-0 on three hits in the opener, then wrapped up the series 9-4 with a five-hitter the final day.

Lasorsa handcuffed the all-stars 2-0 in a ten inning duel with Ecuador's ace Raul Gutierrez in the second contest, permitting just three hits and fanning nine.

Ecuador took advantage of Jack Ceccarelli's wildness for a 7-4 decision the third time out.

Snapping a six-game drought, the Tars shelled Ecuadorian starter Ernesto Tunon for 14 hits in the opener.

After fanning three of the first four hitters he faced, Ceccarelli yielded a second inning run on a walk and two passed balls by catcher Jeff Burns.

Rollins knotted the score on two singles and Gustafson's double in the third, but the Ecuadorian all-stars iced the game with four markers on three walks, three singles and an error in the bottom half.

GALE COLEMAN
... Logs Pair

Ecuador added two more in the fifth, while the Tars picked up three in the ninth on Fonts' shot over the left field wall.

In the trip finale Rollins spotted Ecuador a 4-2 lead before exploding for six tallies in the last three frames.

After cutting the margin to 4-3 on Tom Flagg's sacrifice fly in the fifth, the Tars went ahead for good on singles by Boyd Gruhn and Schabes, sandwiched around Tom Flagg's triple.

Fonts' two-run single capped a three-run eighth.

JOE LASORSA
... Wins Duel

Bob Schabes drove in three runs with a triple and two singles, while Pedro Fonts added three more tallies on a double and single.

In the top of the tenth in the second game Bob Gustafson doubled home Lasorsa, who had walked and moved to second on a sacrifice, to snap a scoreless deadlock. Dorman Barron scored Gustafson with a double for a 2-0 margin.

Lasorsa allowed only two runners as far as third, loading the bases with one gone in the first, and permitting Mike Perez to reach the hot corner on a walk, stolen base and a throwing error in the sixth.

When scheduled starter Ed McNair was sidelined with the native intestinal affliction, Ceccarelli, who had not pitched since April 5, shouldered the load.

Tars Tumble 4-3, 8-3, In New York Tourney

NEW YORK—Unable to halt the tailspin that ended the regular season, Rollins dropped two straight games in the NCAA College Division Atlantic Coast regional baseball tournament in Yankee Stadium last June.

Pinch-hitter Gary Delosh blooped a two-run double down the left field line in the seventh inning to give Oswego State a 4-3 comeback victory over the Tars in the tourney opener.

Rollins tagged winner John Wynne for three runs on six hits in the first four frames, but couldn't deliver the clinching blow, leaving seven runners stranded.

After Bob Gustafson walked with one gone in the first, Dorman Barron's long triple and Bob Chandler's single up the middle put the Tars in front 2-0.

Two errors and a walk loaded the bases with one out the following inning, but the rally stalled when Barron's towering drive into the right-field seats curved two feet foul.

Bob Schabes tallied the final Tar marker in the third on a wild pitch after doubling and reaching third on a ground out.

In the consolation game the following day the Tars took a 2-1 lead on a double by Bob Schabes, singles by Chandler and Pedro Fonts and Joe Lasorsa's ground ball.

Tom Flagg led off the fourth with a double, but was cut down trying to score on Barron's single to right.

Wynne permitted the Tars only two hits after that.

After blanking the Lakers on one hit for the first four frames, Tar starter Charles Schoene yielded a pair of fifth inning tallies on a double, a triple and a ground out.

Two innings later a walk, an unsuccessful fielder's choice, a sacrifice and an intentional pass set the stage for Delosh's game winning hit.

Festive Atmosphere Prevails As Athletes Spread Goodwill

By Jack Ceccarelli

After leaving Miami International for a week-long goodwill tour to Ecuador, Rollins' baseball and basketball teams arrived in Guayaquil after a seven-hour plane flight.

Following the banquets and festivities arranged by the Sports Federation of Guayaquil, both Rollins teams filled their free time with clinics for school children and tours of the city.

The tours often lasted into the wee hours of the night as the Rollins lads unselfishly contributed themselves to activities for goodwill.

Amist mucho cerveza and the native attractives, the Rollins baseball team managed to win impressively three of the four games from Ecuador's national all-star team in Guayaquil, while the basketball team preserved its losing tradition by dropping four straight to Ecuadorian quintets.

Most of the Tars learned about Ecuador's people and customs and acquired enough Spanish to trade with the ever-present vendors of the native crafts and American treats. Walking along the streets of the market section, one would often solicit the wares of the natives in Guayaquil.

The Sports Federation sponsored many educational tours of Ecuador. The basketball team visited Quito's Casino and the baseball team, the Pilsener Brewing Company, after which cerveza fria was distributed to each member.

All enjoyed new and exciting experiences including manager Dave Lord. Dave, whose Ecuadorian moniker was El Gordito, preformed ably in Guayaquil with the assistance of "Dr. Carlos," a personal sponsor of the trip. Dave excited a crowd of 30,000 Ecuadorians with his soccer ability at half-time and later that night he excited several members of the basketball team with his shooting ability.

The acquaintance of "Dr. Carlos" proved invaluable during the entire trip and his knowledge of the Ecuadorian business sectors proved priceless. Aside from these fine points the Rollins students were welcomed and entertained as kings, especially Ed McNair, who spent most of his time on the throne in Ecuador.

Was the trip a success? Undoubtedly.

1966 victors of NCAA Small College Tennis Tourney in Swanee, Tennessee.

Rollins Netters Take Tourney

By Ferd Starbuck

After posting an excellent 24-1 record, losing only to Miami, the Tars sent its first four players, Niels Menko, Bob McCannon, Cliff Montgomery, and Chick Hawley, to the Sewanee, Tenn., courts to battle the top small college teams in the country.

Before play began Rollins was seeded fourth, behind three strong California teams. However, the netters quickly took the lead as all four won their first singles encounters.

Hawley and Montgomery were eliminated in the second round and captain Menko bowed in the third round. It was hard hitting Bob McCannon who carried the Tars to their first national title.

McCannon went into the tournament unseeded but began knocking off players left and right on opening day. He eliminated sixth-seeded John Norganger in the second round and bumped third-seeded Ken Stuart in the fourth to move into the semi-finals against unseeded Bill Hoyt of L.A. State.

After "Mighty Mac" won 6-2, 6-3, Hoyt could only say "He just played better than I did — a lot better".

The netmen took 17 points to 12 for the defending champion Californians. It was ironic that all season the singles victories won the matches; however, here it was the sharp doubles play of the two teams that secured the championship.

The freshman team of Hawley and Montgomery reached the semi-finals while the third seeded team of McCannon and Menko bowed in the finals.

Norm Copeland

Another national honor was bestowed on the team when World Tennis Magazine ranked Coach Copeland as the eleventh winningest coach in the nation. The winning of these two titles is an accomplishment of which Rollins can well be proud.

The prospects for '67 look very good with the addition of Ron Van Gelder, a Davis Cupper from the Netherlands, to fill captain Menko's shoes.

Out of the top six, the Tars also have McCannon, Montgomery, Hawley, and Griffith returning. Excellent depth will be provided by veterans Ferd Starbuck, Bill Kinne, Brian Smith, and John McDermid.

Tars Host German Booters

Kicking off the soccer season, Rollins' booters host the Free University of West Berlin on the Sandspur Bowl Wednesday.

The German team, one of the best in Europe, is in the midst of a month-long tour of the United States. Financed by the players themselves, the tour features games at Florida Southern and Miami College in Lakeland after the Rollins encounter.

Tar coach Ernie Wraschek has been instrumental in getting the West Germans here and believes the exhibition will provide both the fans and the players an interesting experience.

This game will continue the Rollins custom of frequent early season practice games with outstanding teams.

Frutchey Slates Changes In WPRK Programming

WPRK director Marcus Frutchey has interesting new facets and a time-extension in his next quarter's programming which begins Oct. 3.

WPRK is found at 91.5 mc on the FM band and is on the air 4:30 to 9:00 p.m. Monday through Saturdays, and 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Sundays. It is a production and speech workshop for students as well as practically the only source of classical music on the air in central Florida.

At 330 watts and close on the dial to its big neighbor WDBO, some listeners have trouble tuning in.

Starting Oct. 3, the first half hour on the air will often be "talk". Classical music then flows with a minimum of interruption from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m.

The extension comes at 9:00 p.m. with "The Rollins Readers" which will open to many unusual pages of entertainment, to readings of literature by Professors Mendell, Dorsett and others, and interviews on timely topics or playbacks of campus programs.

On Sunday afternoons, rousing classical hymns will open the program 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. The next half hour will offer documentary programs on the Metropolitan Opera Company. The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to a full-length opera.
