The parents weekend committee, under the direction of Mr. Robert Bahnsen, Director of Development, has formulated plans for this year's activities.

Parent's Weekend Set For February

Students and their parents will have an unusual opportunity to meet together on the Rollins campus when the annual Parents Weekend is held on February 10, 11, and 12. The program for the Parents Weekend attempts to accomplish two main objectives. First, it is possible for a large number of the parents to visit their sons and daughters and see them in the Rollins environment. Second, parents are given the opportunity to meet and talk with the professors.

Tentative plans have been completed to make the weekend enjoyable and beneficial to both visiting parents and students.

Because of the comments last year about the lack of time allotted for parents to see students the committee has decided to leave Friday night free. After registering in Crummer and perhaps taking a tour of the building Friday afternoon, parents will be free to go back to the Langford and collapse from the trip or take you and all your friends out to dinner or anything else they might feel inclined to do.

Saturday morning freshmen parents will be given the opportunity to hear Dean Hill discuss the new curriculum in the Beanery at a 9:00 breakfast. Faculty advisors will be there also to answer individual questions. At eleven o'clock Saturday morning the Parents Association Meeting will be held and at noon we will have a picnic on the library lawn. Then Saturday evening the parents will attend a reception and dinner at which time President McKean will speak.

On Sunday there will be a special parent-student service in the chapel and coffees in all the residence halls. Many freshmen parents will be seeing their sons' and daughters' new fraternities and sororities for the first time.

Parents Weekend is organized under the guidance of the Director of Development, Mr. Robert Bahnsen, members of the committee are, Pam Booth, Bob Farwell, Pat McFadden, Scott Matthews, Sara Perrott, Steve Richards, Lianne Somerville, and Lindley Willson. Please encourage your parents to come; everyone always enjoys the weekend and this year should be no exception.

Faculty Evaluation Survey Is Not A Personality Poll

MONDAY IS THE DAY.

It is then that every Rollins student will receive one faculty evaluation sheet for each of the courses in which he is presently enrolled. Distribution will take place as follows:

All boarding men, whether affiliated or unaffiliated, will obtain the evaluation forms from their respective resident heads or counselors.

Freshman boarding women will receive their evaluation sheets from the student counselors in Elizabeth Hall.

Both affiliated and unaffiliated women will receive these evaluation forms from their Student Council representatives.

All day students will obtain their evaluation sheets through the Campus Mail.

Every faculty evaluation sheet is comprised of three basic categories: 1) Organization and Subject Matter, 2) Examinations and Assignments, and 3) General Characteristics. The data presented on these forms does NOT constitute a popularity poll. Instead, it measures only the effectiveness of instruction and the professor - student relationship. There are four possible ratings.

Upperclassmen will place an approximate cumulative average at the bottom of each evaluation paper. This must be done to insure the validity of the final computation. Due to the lack of a grade average in the case of freshmen students, however, all freshmen will be asked to sign their names to each evaluation sheet in anticipation of future cumulative average factors.

Each student should return his evaluation forms to the person from whom he received them before noon on Friday, December 16.

The computation of these evaluations will be conducted immediately, and the results will first be viewed by a student committee and a random sampling of professors.

The above details of the faculty evaluation program have been deemed, by the thirty members of the evaluation committee, as the most effective combination of both student and faculty comment, recommendations, criticism received throughout the past week.

REMEMBER: This is a pilot program. The validity of the results of this evaluation project shall determine its publishing.

The student shall determine that validity.

Shell Museum Opens Season

One of the largest collections of valued shells on display in the new world opened recently in the Rollins College Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum.

The collection, considered one of the finest in the world, was presented to Rollins by the late Dr. James H. Beal. The building which houses the collection was presented by Dr. Birdsey L. Maltbie, long-time friend of Dr. Beal.

Several years ago James R. Miller of Silver Springs, Florida, presented Rollins with a large and valuable collection of Mollusks (shellfish) which joined the Beal collection. Miller's shells contain about 3,600 species and varieties, of which approximately 1,500 are marine, 1,400 land, and 700 fresh water. Local grade school children who have visited the Shell Museum have drawn their impressions of numerous shells, and their artistic efforts are on display.

Among the thousands of shells on exhibit at the Rollins museum is a cameo conch which once belonged to King Victor Emanuel of Italy. Perhaps the rarest shell on display is the one called Glory of the Sea. There are only 24 known specimens of this shell in the world, and the last one found was in 1838.

The Beal-Maltbie Shell Museum is open to the public from 1:5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and from 2:5 p.m. Sundays. Students with ID cards are admitted free.

Pi Phi Calls Gift Project Successful

The recent Pi Beta Phi project to send Christmas gifts to our soldiers fighting in Viet Nam was well supported by the campus as a whole. The total amount of money collected was $285.00, which is an indication that the students at Rollins are aware of what is happening in the world and are concerned about the outcome of the present struggle.

The donation is being used by the American Red Cross to buy books, magazines, and other longed-for items. They will be shipped in time to arrive by Christmas. If we have helped in a small way to lift the spirits of our men in combat and make them feel remembered, it is an achievement of which we can be proud.

The Union Rally Committee, under the direction of its chairman, Buttons Tunnicliff, has arranged for buses to transport Freshmen students to the basketball game Saturday night at Orlando Junior College Gym. Rollins will open its home season then by taking on Florida Presbyterian. The buses will leave from the Union at 7:45. Freshmen girls will be given late permissions if the game lasts past closing hours. Let's have a large turnout to support our team.

Chapel Service Extends Rollins Xmas Traditions

The annual Christmas Service at the Knowles Memorial Chapel will be held Sunday evening, December 15.

To accommodate the usual large attendance the Service will be given twice, at 8:15 and 8:30.

A third special Service is planned for Rollins students, faculty and staff at 7:30.

The program for the Service will be composed of music and scripture readings. The chapel choir, composed of 60 Rollins students and conducted by Robert Hufstader, will sing such Yuletide selections as "Come All Ye Faithful," and "Silent Night." Eight lessons from the Bible and eight pieces of music which illustrate the Christmas themes from the Old and New Testaments will highlight the program.

The program is almost as old as the Chapel staff. Tonight, continuing an annual custom, members of the Chapel staff are decorating the Chapel. A nativity scene is being displayed throughout December. Carved in Oberammergau, Germany by Alois Lang, it has been shown in the Chapel every year since 1937.

Opening the Service will be a candlelight procession of the choir. The candlebearers will be Susan Probasco, Joanne Dembitz, Elizabeth Bodenheimer, and Barbara Liverett.

The public Service is one of the Rollins activities most appreciated by the community. One person wrote a note which began "When I was a child, Christmas started when we went to the woods for the holly, the mistletoe, and the tree. In Florida Christmas begins with your beautiful Service. In fact, it is Christmas".

MERRY CHRISTMAS

THE 'SPUR SPEAKS

This issue of the Sandspur is the last of the term and the last of the year. In another week we will be leaving the worries of class behind for Christmas vacation. At Rollins the problems and plans of another year will be over, whether or not resolved, even though many of them will be resumed again next year.

The long awaited fieldhouse, Fiesta, professor evaluation and the after effects of the new curriculum are some of the many problems that will be encountered next year.

Against this background, however we must remember that a great deal has been achieved on the Rollins Campus in this last year and a great many changes have been made. With sufficient interest and participation a great deal more can be accomplished next year, but it does take interest and participation.

A Student Evaluation of professors, awareness of activities in student government, attendance at concerts, plays, lectures and athletic events — these will be areas deserving real student support. The various activities, meeting groups and organizations will still deserve contribution and cooperation from the student body. These should all be a part of student life.

Four years go by very quickly, but there is a very broad limit to what can be accomplished in that time. The opportunities are certainly here.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The subject of the food served at the Beanery has been run into the ground during the past year, but obviously to no avail. Since the boarding students at Rollins are required by the administration to pay for meals at the college cafeteria — a situation that I for one would like to see changed — we should be served food which at least is appetizing. I cannot believe that this qualification would eliminate all varieties of food except: chopped beef, ground beef, mashed beef, and hashed beef.

Sincerely,
E. M.

Letters To The Editor

Editor:

I have noticed a considerable difference in the academic atmosphere of the campus from last year to this. As a Freshman, I was disappointed in the academic initiative of the Student body. I felt there was a dearth of intellectual curiosity.

I have since realized that what I was looking for and not finding was a lacking in myself, not the Campus. I was disappointed in my own inadequacies without realizing it.

There is intellectual curiosity, academic struggle, and stimulating challenge on this campus. These things are found in each of us. The greatest mistake made by many students is in looking for these qualities in their fellow students and excluding themselves from their observation.

If every student finds these qualities of a good college in himself, then he will realize he has no complaint. We are not just IN Rollins College, we ARE Rollins College. The students and their attitudes are the college and its attitudes.

Editor:

Lack of communication seems to be one of the main complaints on the Rollins campus these days.

Just who are these complainers? Communication is a two way street. Information, details, announcements, etc. are available through the media of the monthly calendar, SGA minutes and meetings, and various posters about campus. I would venture to say that many students are not carrying their load in keeping themselves informed. Let these complainers try utilizing the above-mentioned media. I would dare say that their complaints about the lack of communication would stop.

N. N.

Editor:

I think I have a reasonable objection to air. It seems that some of the instructors are still living and grading in the puerile atmosphere of the high schools from which they recently emerged.

In a recent examination the grades were given on the basis of "A" for scores between 90 and 100, "B" for 80 to 89, etc. What is so sacred about the number 100 that it must always be an "A"? It sets up a rigid standard which is unrealistic and does not take into account the individual abilities of the students in the class. Why not let the highest grades obtained and the lowest make up the range of letter grades? Why must students come up to an arbitrary standard set by the teacher in an unrealistic way? This assumes that the examinations are so good that the best obtain between 90 and 100 and the poorest somewhere below 60. This is not a good presumption!

If Rollins is to survive the criticisms of the students the professors should come down to earth and appreciate what is in the real world of students in college and not in the world they left behind in high school.

To Lower court members—A Year's subscription to True Confessions.

To all students—Vacation, snow, no grapevine, relaxation, no A.B.C., late sleeping, and a cold beer.

ONE LAST THOUGHT—Christmas and drinking do not go together — which is sort of a shame in that it is going to be rather unpleasant doing without Christmas!

Year Book Staff Reveals Miss Tomokan Selection

Miss Barbara Wharthan has been selected as this year's Miss Tomokan by the yearbook.

The Tomokan staff has decided to announce their choice for Miss Tomokan now instead of at the end of the year in order to give her the recognition due to the representative of the entire yearbook.

In selecting a candidate for this honor, the staff referred to the qualities stated in last year's Tomokan for a definition of the type of girl to be chosen. "We searched for a 'person who, through resolution, perseverance, and initiative, has gained much from the past and looks boldly toward an uncertain future.' We required a girl, who, further, possessed physical attractiveness worthy of the designation 'Beauty.'" Miss Barbara Wharthan has been chosen as the person who best fulfills this ideal and this reality of the many-faceted young woman.

Barbara, a Pi Beta Phi from Dallas, Texas has served the college and her sorority in many ways since her freshman year. She has been a familiar face around the Student Center for quite a while, where she began as chairman of the Films Committee and worked her way up to President of the Board of Directors. This is the first time that a girl has ever held this office. She was also Secretary of the Board of Directors prior to that and a member of the Program Administrative Council.

Barbara was a member of the Lower Court investigating committee for one year and is now on Lower Court. Other committees on which she has served are the Orientation Committee and the Reorganization Committee of Student Council. She has also belonged to French Club, the Human Relations Club, and the Psychology Club, as well as S.F.E.A.

In addition to all this, Barbara has been very active in Pi Phi. For one year she was activities chairman, after which she was elected assistant treasurer and then treasurer, a position of considerable responsibility. She has been a House Council member and was President of the House Council for two years. Also, she has been a member of Executive Council for three years.

Barbara, in spite of her many extracurricular activities, has always managed to maintain a high scholastic average, even while carrying a double major in English and psychology.

In view of her outstanding achievement at Rollins, the Tomokan staff feels that Barbara merits commendation, and that is why she has been chosen Miss Tomokan for 1966-67.

Gustafson Discusses Issues

Next Monday, December 12, the Faculty Evaluation forms will be distributed to the students. This evaluation will be more than just an evaluation of our faculty. It will be a pull of student strength and interest. Many members of our faculty are not in complete agreement that such a program should be instituted here at Rollins. I feel, however, that such a program is needed and can prove beneficial to all those involved. If we are to convince the faculty that we are capable of good, efficient self-government, then we must get behind this project and push it towards a successful completion. The only way this can be made possible is if each and every student takes the time and interest in doing his or her part.

The members of the Faculty Evaluation Committee, which now number 30 under the co-chairmanship of Debbie Wood and Carole Conklin, have put forth much time and effort in developing a successful plan. They have taken the necessary steps which will be needed for the computation of this data when it is finally compiled. The data will be computed through an IBM system which will aid in validating such a program. I might further add that this proposal was presented to the student legislature for approval and was accepted unanimously.

Now, let us do our part and reveal that we are interested and capable students who are concerned with the academic program of our college. I hope that each student will take this as a personal challenge and in so doing will make this Faculty Evaluation one which will prove the maturity of the Rollins student.

Sincerely,
Bob Gustafson

Rally Committee Forms "Uncle Vanya" Production Plans For Team Support

Opens Fred Stone Season

In big universities the spirit has been attained not by drinking alone. Rollins has used this as an excuse far too long. Notre Dame, Georgia, and Alabama, along with the Ivy League schools and even Florida Southern have found a system even more effective. An elite group of students use drums, trumpets, and trombones to set the pace and fervor of the game.

Last week-end Florida Southern was losing by over 25 points yet the interest and tension of the game was held and intensified by the Mocks' fantastic band. As their team fought for the lead, the students, carried away by the drumbeats, screamed for victory. Though small, their coordination with the cheerleaders could only have resulted in success, which was proved by the students' refusal to accept defeat.

We see that Rollins has the teams with the potential and ability, yet the third factor is missing. The team's must be aware of the student confidence achieved only by clamoring verbal support.

Many students, because they care, complain that nothing is done to remedy this situation. Something can be done, but only with student support. We can achieve this same success by using this very same method.

The organization of this band is underway. Any student wishing to participate in this innovation should meet in the Student Council room in the Union basement on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock.

For the first time since the fall of 1964, the Fred Stone Theatre was reconverted from a proscenium theatre to a theatre-in-the-round. This transformation was necessary in order to supply the necessary intimacy required by Chekhov's classic comedy, UNCLE VANYA.

The prime reason for the intimacy is the realistic nature of the play itself. Chekhov attempted to put life on the stage; to re-create an atmosphere present in Russia at the end of the nineteenth century. UNCLE VANYA is presented for the most part in a conversational tone, thereby enhancing the realism of the play. Chekhov puts some ordinary and extraordinary people on the stage in ordinary situations and lets them react.

If there must be a star to this production, credit must go to Patrick Molloy, playing the title role of the emotional, hysterical, foul-tempered, and very frustrated Uncle Vanya. He is believable in all his many moods — variations on upset, angry, or homicidal — and shows throughout the native sensitivity of Vanya.

Ray Edwards as Dr. Astrov, sustains the very difficult part, once played by Stanislavsky himself, well. Astrov is a subtle character, full of nuances and sustained passion.

Yelena Andreyevna, played by Penny Odell, is very typical of the Russian landed gentlewoman.

She is almost able to resist the temptation of falling in love with Dr. Astrov even though she is married to a retired professor, Serebryakov. When she leaves Vanya's estate, however, we know she is in love with Astrov.

Two other outstanding performances must be noted here. One is Sonya, daughter to Serebryakov, played with touching beauty by Vida Hull. The other is Marina, an old nurse, beautifully sympathetic and the only one who is content to let life go on just as it is.

The settings in the round are most effective as is the lighting.

Director Robert Juergens should be congratulated for bringing a play of such significance to life on the Rollins Campus.

In and Around Rollins; Events at the Union

Hedda Hopwood

Just a few more days left to live it up and raise a little here at Rollins . . . where the action is! Tonight at 7:30 in Bingham Hall, the foreign film is "The Buddenbrooks." This movie is highly recommended by the German department and is 50c for students. Get your student directories, helpful for such things as Christmas cards, love letters, hate letters and so on. They will be sold in the beanery, Book Store and the houses, for 25 cents.

The "used book" store will be set up Wednesday through the following Monday on the stage of the Student Center. This is a very profitable way of buying books.

The highlight of the week will be a "folk sing in the round . . ." Sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee, good entertainment will be found in the Fred Stone Theater on Sunday night, the 11th, in the Fred Stone Theater. Folk music, bluegrass, city and country blues, etc. will be provided by ten of the best folk singers invited by the committee. As well as students, there will be people from outside the college contributing, so please join in and sing along with Peter Miguel, free for all. Beware the monkey-demon. Those of you who can't find any courses to take winter term, may join the science requirement mourners in another party. Bring along the number of credits you don't have and we'll all compare. And to all good night. — Hedda.

The Rollins Players production of "Uncle Vanya" opened Monday in the Fred Stone Theater.

Student Council Reports

By JACK MYERS

Carole Conklin, Bob Gustafson, Bill Blackburn, and Debbie Wood comprise the Student Association Executive Board.

The December 5, 1966 Student Council meeting was called to order by President Bob Gustafson at 8:30. The minutes were read by Secretary Carole Conklin and approved as distributed.

Nancy Hopwood, chairman of Woman's Rules Committee, proposed two amendments to the existing women's rules. The first is that senior women with key privileges are not allowed to leave their houses after closing hours. Senior women must also comply with the rules concerning signing out on weekends, as do all underclass women.

Her second proposal concerns late hours. Freshman women will be allowed three late hours each term, Sunday through Thursday nights, while sophomore women will have four. Both junior and senior women will be permitted five late hours.

Craig Wandke began his Beanery report with an apology for the use of paper plates the past week. The washing machines have been repaired so the students can once again enjoy immaculately clean plates. Christmas dinner will be on December 19. Wandke announced that the steak dinner will be considerably better than the Thanksgiving one. Dave Nix asked that the table clothes be cleaned more often, while Phin Fogg expressed grave concern over the bent forks. Wandke said that he would immediately alleviate the problem.

The Union is trying to create better coordination with the social groups. To help freshman see more basketball games, buses will be operated from Rollins to Orlando Junior College.

Bob Gustafson then announced the results of the Faculty Committee Meeting. Closing hours for upperclasswomen on Friday night will be 1:00 and this will go into effect immediately. Reapportionment has also been approved by the faculty. This plan will go into effect Winter term. The faculty also said that they would be glad to help Lower Court whenever they are needed.

The Faculty Evaluation Committee had a luncheon with the faculty to discuss the Evaluation system. Debbie Wood, co-chairman, reported that the faculty was very helpful. She also reported that the system will be put into operation at the end of this term. The evaluation sheets will be distributed by counselors, resident advisors and women resident heads. Bob Gustafson, speaking for the committee, asked that the legislature enthusiastically endorse this new system, since it will be a great attribute to the college.

Dave Lord announced for Bill Renforth, Fiesta Chairman, that a questionnaire concerning Fiesta is being sent to each student. Students should fill out these forms carefully since their answers will help to determine the type of Fiesta Rollins will have. President McKean has appointed a faculty committee to concern itself with the formulation of this year's Fiesta.

The chairman of Panhellenic and I.F.C. then presented their rush schedules to the legislature for approval. Leslie White announced that women's rush will consist of two more all sorority open houses on December 11 and January 12 through 15, pledge Sunday. There will be silence during formal rush except when there are the formal rush parties.

Chas. Schoene proposed that fraternity rush begin with two nights of open houses, January 10th and 11th. On January 13th and 14th there will be invitational rush parties, a half hour of silence, and then off campus rush from 10:00 until 1:00 a.m. On Friday, January 20, fraternities will have campus invitational parties. Saturday, there will be silence and Sunday will be pledge Sunday.

Both proposed rush rules were accepted by the legislature as submitted.

Bob Gustafson announced that the varsity basketball team will play Florida Presbyterian this weekend after the Freshmen meet Orlando Junior College in a double header that begins at 8:00 p.m. Buses will leave the Union at 7:45 for O.J.C. and return after the game.

The student address books will be distributed soon for Christmas Card mailings.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

About ten days ago a fashionable young mother came in the Center Street Gallery followed by a gaggle of the cutest little girls we have ever seen.

We immediately deployed, but those adorable children were quicker at deploying than we were. One was fascinated with that little thermometer with a blue bird in a glass dome on top. We explained that the little bird turns pink when the weather is about to change. (The price is $4.75, but she did not ask). Another made a dash for one of those Christmas Lalique plates, designed by Marie-Claude Lalique ($25), and another dashed for the Christmas Room and danced with joy when she saw those sparkling little Christmas trees (60c). The handsome young mother looked at a St. Christopher medallion which attaches magnetically to a dashboard Dunhill ($3.50).

Then she asked to see that stunning milk quartz owl ($925) which she admired greatly. She bought a pair of those cuff links designed by Christian Dior ($25), and asked that they be gift wrapped and mailed. She said she would give us the address after she had had lunch. We were so pleased with them that we did not count the children when she left. Later we found one of those adorable little girls under the marble table playing with a dainty Koestel angel made in Western Germany ($3.25). Another turned up in the painting gallery admiring a brightly colored 19th century print ($18). We know how busy people are these days, and we are not surprised that that lovely mother has not come back to tell us where she wants those cuff links (by Christian Dior $25) sent. When she does come, we know these lovely little girls will be glad to see her—and so will we.

Grid All-Stars Battle Stetson on Saturday

A 20-man flag football all-star team travels to DeLand Saturday afternoon for a game with Stetson University's all-star football squad.

Selected by a committee of intramural representatives the all-star squad includes six Sigma Nu's, six Lambda Chi's, four Tekes and two players each from the X Club and Delta Chi.

Named to the squad are quarterback Gordy Lynch and Bill Jackson, blocking backs Gene Shippen, Joe Bohannon and Bill McMunn, receivers Cliff Montgomery, Chuck Thomas, Gale Coleman and Bob Gustafson, centers Ed McNair and Terry Law, rushers Sandy Sulzycki, Dan Pincetich and Rick Maltby, linebackers George Draper and Sandy Duncan, and defensive backs Bill Blackburn, Bob Lewis, Scotty Green and Jack Zimmerman.

Teke Dan Pincetich gathers in a Dave Bussler aerial enroute to a 39-18 win over X Club.

McNair Grabs Share of Lead

Teke center Ed McNair tallied a pair of touchdowns and an extra point in TKE's 38-19 victory over the X Club Nov. 30 to pull into a tie with defending champion Chuck Thomas of Delta Chi and Gary Dering of KA for first place in the football scoring derby with 56 points.

Since both Dering's and Thomas' teams were eliminated from playoff action last week, McNair must ward off challenges from Sigma Nu end Cliff Montgomery (53 points) and Chuck Olsen of the Faculty-Grads (51) to gain the title. TKE quarterback Dave Bussler also has 51 points, but is sidelined by a leg injury.

TKE Tops Lambda 19-14 in Playoff

Gale Coleman's disputed touchdown pass to Dave Bussler in the fourth quarter gave TKE a 19-14 victory over Lambda Chi Wednesday and the right to meet the loser of Thursday's Delta Chi-Faculty-Grads game Tuesday in the semifinals of the flag football playoff.

Lambda Chi must take on Thursday's winner Monday with the victor facing the winner of the Teke game Dec. 16 for the flag football championship.

Lambda Chi took a 6-0 advantage in the second quarter on a 62-yard pass from Gordy Lynch to center Terry Law, but TKE came back to lead 12-6 at halftime on TD passes from Coleman to Ed McNair and Gene Shippen.

A safety and a Lynch to Bob Gustafson aerial pushed Lambda Chi in front 14-12 in the third period to set the stage for the winning score.

The stage was set for Thursday's A League showdown when the Faculty-Grads dumped defending playoff champ Delta Chi 26-13 last Thursday and unbeaten Sigma Nu blasted KA 32-7 Friday afternoon.

Following a scoreless first period the Faculty-Grads shot ahead of the Delts 6-0 on Boyd Coffie's two-yard toss to Chuck Olsen and were never headed. A pass to Mario Mazzone put the ball within range.

Moments later Olsen widened the gap by galloping 20 yards to paydirt with an intercepted pass, marking the third time he has scored on a steal this season.

Before the half ended Delta Chi cut the margin to 13-7 on a 20-yard TD pass from Chuck Thomas to George Lamb. Early in the third period the Delts tied the score at 13-all as Rick Maltby tallied on a two-yard Thomas aerial.

The Faculty-Grads came right back to take a 19-13 lead as Delt graduate Pete Cowin scored from 10-yards out on a pass from Coffie, then Olsen halted Delta Chi's

Rounding out the top ten scorers are newcomers Bob Gustafson of Lambda Chi, 42 points, and Chris Leedy of the Freshmen, 41, with Frosh Don Leporini at 38 points. Five players are tied for the tenth spot with 37 markers.

Bussler continues to hold the passing lead with 160 points on 24 TD's and 16 PAT's but Gordy Lynch of Lambda Chi has closed to within 20 points of the defending champ with 141 markers. Bill Jackson of Sigma Nu is another 20 points back at 121 points accounted for.

With a pair of interceptions against Delta Chi last Thursday, Olsen moved into the league interception lead with seven steals. Montgomery, Bob Lewis of Sigma Nu and Charles Schoene of the X Club boast four grabs apiece.

Lambda Chi's 48-point explosion versus the Freshmen last week, pushed them ahead in team offense with 37.5 points per game. Sigma Nu, top defensive club in the league with a 43-point opponents' average, leads in average margin of victory with a 28.2-point gap.

Sigma Nu Ices Ping Pong Title

Defending champion TKE defeated Lambda Chi 2-1 in ping pong Nov. 30 to close the season in a tie with the Indies for second place at a 16-8 record.

Sigma Nu, which clinched the title a week before, swept the X Club 3-0 to finish the campaign with a 21-3 mark. Lambda Chi took fourth at 13-11.

Sig Ep's 2-1 victory over Delta Chi coupled with X Club's 3-0 defeat boosted Sig Ep (11-13) into fifth, a game ahead of the Club (10-14). KA and Delta Chi tied for seventh with 9-15 slates, while Phi Delt was last at 3-18.

Tar cagers drive by Roanoke player as Rollins dropped a 67-65 squeaker to the Maroons in the Citrus Tournament finale Saturday.

Tar Cagers Serve Notice To Foes Despite 1-2 Start

Rollins basketball team got off to one of its best starts ever last week, trouncing Union (Tenn.) University 93-82 Friday in the Citrus Tournament opener in Lakeland then dropping a pair of heart-breakers 67-65 to Roanoke in the Citrus finale Saturday and 83-78 to Tampa in Tampa Wednesday.

Kicking off the Florida Inter-collegiate Conference season, the Tar cagers fell to an improve University of Tampa five as their last minute rally fell short.

The Tar cagers took a 4-2 lead on Rick Loghry's jumper with 17:58 left in the first half and built a 17-8 lead before Tampa roared back to tie the score at 17-17. The Spartans took a 41-35 advantage at halftime.

After intermission Tampa took right up where it left off, building a 13-point margin before the Tars rallied to slice the deficit to 66-65 on Sterling Case's drive with 4:37 remaining.

Tampa then chalked up 10 straight points, eight by Fran Pinchot, to put the game away. Pinchot led all scorers with 27 points, while Case paced Rollins with 19 markers. Tampa out-rebounded the Tars 47-27.

In the Citrus Tourney wrapup Saturday last minute lapses again cost the Tars. Leading 62-57 with eight minutes left, Rollins failed to score for six minutes as Roanoke rebounded for a 66-62 lead with less than two minutes remaining.

Rollins' "new look" cagers kick off a three-game homestand at 9 p.m. Saturday, hosting Florida Presbyterian College in Orlando Junior College gym.

The Tars return to action at O.J.C. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 p.m. to face Georgia State and the University of the South before closing their eight-game pre-Christmas schedule Dec. 16-17 at Augusta (Ga.) College's Holiday Tournament.

6-3 jumping jack Harry Singletary, who set a school record of 31 rebounds at O.J.C. last year, leads Florida Presbyterian into Saturday's game. Presbyterian battled back to cut the gap to two points, 75-73, with 3:54 remaining, but Rollins tallied nine straight to put the game on ice.

Taking a 4-2 advantage at the 18:12 mark of the first half, the Tars held the lead until Union pulled even, 36-36, with 3:59 left, then surged to a 47-44 halftime lead.

All five Tar starters checked in with double figures as Loghry led the pack with 24 markers. Case registered 20, while Smith, Siemer and Stewart logged 18, 16 and 12 apiece. Union's Dan Rudesill led all scorers with 32 points.

Loghry averaged 20 points per game during the tourney to earn a spot on the all-tournament team.

X Clubbers Near IM Tennis Title

Sporting a 29-1 record, X Club moved a step closer to the intramural tennis crown last week as the league season nears its end. The Clubbers must win just 13 of their 20 remaining individual matches to clinch the title.

With X Club so far in front the fiercest battle seems to be shaping up for the second spot, where KA(41-9), Lambda Chi (28-9) and the Indies(21-8) are tightly bunched.

KA met Lambda Chi Thursday in a crucial match, while the Indies faced seventh place Sigma Nu(24-16) Wednesday. The key match next week pits KA against the Indies next Wednesday.

Lambda Chi wraps up its season Thursday against Sigma Nu, while the Indies have next Friday's encounter with the Club, plus a make up match with Delta Chi, remaining.

Another dog-fight appears likely further down the line as the Faculty, defending champ, Delta Chi and Sigma Nu vie for fifth. TKE(16-29) and the Freshmen (9-25) meet Tuesday.

Kappas Down Theta 17-13 For Fifth Straight Crown

With league scoring leader Jane Blalock out of action with an ankle injury, Kappa Kappa Gamma barely edged third place Kappa Alpha Theta 17-13 Tuesday to capture its fifth straight girls' basketball crown with a perfect 8-0 mark.

Kappa opened a 10-5 lead at halftime, then strengthened the margin to a 17-9 bulge after the third quarter before a fired up Theta squad surged back to cut the lead in half in the final period.

Wendy Overton tossed in eight markers to lead Kappa, while teammates Leslie White and Tinkie Caler contributed five and four apiece. Alice Clement and Claudia Waller comprised most of the Theta attack with six and four points each.

Last Thursday Kappa clinched at least a tie with runnerup Chi O (7-1) by whipping surging Phi Mu 47-14 to halt Phi Mu's winning streak at three games.

Behind Miss Blalock's 30 points Kappa jumped to a 14-1 first period advantage, then lengthened the gap the rest of the way. Miss Overton registered 10 points for the winners, while Lynn Darnall tossed in 13 for Phi Mu.

In the second game of Tuesday's doubleheader Gamma Phi broke a 16-16 halftime tie to post a 27-22 victory over the Beanies. Gamma Phi and the Beanies tied for seventh in the league standings with 2-6 marks.

Margie Fifer and Cheryl Jones both hit in double figures for Gamma Phi, tallying 14 and 10 points respectively. Lynn Cooper and Debbie Austin chalked up eight and six each for the Beanies.

Theta's loss to Kappa dropped them into a third place tie with the Indies at 5-3. Following this pair are Alpha Phi (4-4) and Phi Mu (3-5), then Gamma Phi and the Beanies (2-6 each) with winless Pi Phi (0-8) in the cellar.

Booters Tie Miami In Soccer Finale

Senior Ricky Mello and sophomore Willie Flohr combined forces for three first quarter goals Saturday, but Rollins could not hold the lead as the University of Miami rallied to escape with a 3-3 tie.

The Tar booters, champions of the Florida Intercollegiate Conference with a perfect 4-0 mark, finished the season with a 5-2-1 log overall, their first winning record since 1962. Miami, boasting just a win and tie versus Rollins besides a tie with Florida Southern, woundup at 1-5-2.

Playing spectacularly in his final intercollegiate game, Mello ignited the first period surge with 11:57 left in the quarter as he drilled his own rebounding shot by Miami goalie William Olmedillo.

Less than two minutes later, the little Tar forward lofted a 30-yard boot over Olmedillo's head from his left wing slot to register his fifth goal of the season.

Flohr, who set up Mello's first score with a pass in front of the goal, sent the Tars ahead 3-0 with 2:37 remaining when he slammed home his 11th goal of the season from 10-yards out.

Outshooting the Tars 36-24, the Hurricanes rallied to cut the margin to 3-1 at halftime on wing Roberto Colombari's short boot with 2:04 left in the first half.

Center forward Arturo Montelagre cut the deficit to one goal on a pass from inside Herbert Meerman midway through the third frame. Meerman threw the match into a 3-3 deadlock with 1:09 remaining in the third quarter.

Tar goalie Dick Myers again anchored the Rollins defense with 23 saves, 14 of them in the fourth period and two five-minute overtime frames.

Blalock Captures Title With 27-Point Mark

Despite sitting out the final game of the season with an ankle injury, Kappa's Jana Blalock coasted to an easy victory in the girls' basketball scoring race with a phenomenal 27.1-point average.

Teammate Wendy Overton finished a distant second with an 11.4 per game mark, just edging Theta's injured top scorer Patty Marshall (11.0). Chi O's Sue White (10.6) and Indie Nona Gandelman (9.7) round out the top five.

return march by stealing the pigskin from Thomas at the F-G 15.

Sigma Nu picked off four of quarterback John Bottomley's passes Friday to post the easy win over KA. Bill Jackson put the Snakes in front 7-0 early in the first frame on a 15-yard TD toss to Jack Zimmerman, after Zimmerman's interception gave Sigma Nu the ball.

Interception returns of 50 and 15 yards by Bob Lewis and Zimmerman built the Sigma Nu margin to 20-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The remainder of the top ten stays unchanged except in the tenth spot, where Chi O Lynn Bruch (6.6) eased past Kappa's Tinkie Caler (6.5) by a single point. Mary Grantham (9.6) of Chi O, Margie Fifer (9.0) of Gamma Phi and Alpha Phi's Donna Brodie (8.4) and Shelly Crosby (7.9) complete the elite group.

Last season Miss Blalock finished second in league scoring statistics trailing teammate Gretchen Vosters (16.3) with a 13.0-point average.

Miss Grantham (4th, 9.2), Miss White (5th, 8.7), Miss Marshall (6th, 8.0), Miss Fifer (8th, 6.7) and Miss Gandelman (10th, 4.9) were also among the top scorers a year ago.
