Union Concert Set For Library Lawn

The Union Social Entertainment Committee will present one of the brightest names in popular music, The We Five. Thursday, April 13 at 8:00 p.m. on the library lawn or the Annie Russell Theatre in case of rain.

"I Woke Up This Morning, You Were On My Mind," is now a household word throughout the nation! The first We Five A&M single is now past one million in sales, and the album is well on the way to the top. But We Five just didn't "wake up this morning" and find themselves an overnight smash. Their spectacular entry into the music world is the culmination of several years of dedicated hard work by everyone involved.

It started approximately three years ago when Mike Stewart, whose brother John is one-third of the famed Kingston Trio, formed "The Ridge Runners," a largely folk-oriented group. Their first effort in a folk saturated field fell on deaf ears. John, who had great faith in his brother's ability, repeatedly brought his brother's group to the attention of Frank Werber, manager of the Kingston Trio. Feeling that the group's work was good, but not outstanding, both John and Frank urged the group to abandon the folk idiom and search out their own unique sound — to discover something different and new. They did just that! Months of hard work, endless hours of rehearsal, and countless revisions and refinements, resulted finally in the nucleus of an excitingly individual music concept.

Now began eight months of rehearsals, polishing tunes, developing concepts and many recording sessions. Several times they thought they had the "hit" but in the search for perfection, each selection was passed over. Then one day Mike announced, "I think we found the song. The whole group loves it, I've got a great arrangement for it, and we really feel this one is it!"

The finished product speaks for itself. Not only does each selection represent the group's maximum effort, talent and complete involvement, but each new song unfolds a totally different dimension.

Numerous factors have influenced the success of We Five. It is important to note the unusual arranging genius of Mike Stewart. Mike has an uncanny ability to transmit his musical ideas into reality. His abilities are an inspiration to the whole group. Probably the strongest vocal vehicle is Beverly Bivens. Her admirable range and quality create an instant feeling of warm soulfulness. Bev is capable of complete concentration, and is entirely involved in her singing. Bob Jones is a strong contender for jazz-lover-of-the-year. All his waking hours are spent in rehearsing with the group or listening to jazz albums. A great deal of the "You Were On My Mind" instrumental sound come from Bob's jazz oriented guitar. Immediately to Bob's left on stage is bassist Pete Fullerton. Pete is an exceptionally fine musician and possesses an enviable choir boy vocal range. First time We Five listeners are often surprised to learn that so many of the delicately clear high vocal sounds come from Pete. An early high school acquaintance of Mike Stewart is Jerry Burgan. These two have been singing together for over five years. He is often referred to as "the handsome one." Jerry's guitar and vocal work round out the group's Thought and Soul sound.

It is becoming more apparent that today's young people show an ever increasing awareness of their position of responsibility in the social structure of today's world. In keeping with this, they now not only seek but demand a more refined and inspired musical sound, a sound that transcends beyond a mere commercial best, a sound that is evolved from reality and honest feeling. When WE FIVE sing, they put their collective minds and feelings into their musical efforts and therefore, former musical categories can no longer properly describe their efforts. Rhythm and Blues, Rock and Roll, Folk and Roll cannot be applied here.

We Five will be presented in a concert in the Library Lawn on Thursday, April 14 at 8:00 p.m.

Student Election Procedure Altered By Reorganization

The Reorganization of the Student Association has resulted in major changes in the procedures for the elections of Student Government officers. It is, therefore felt that a clarification and explanation of these election processes would be useful to the Rollins students. Although this reorganization program has not received final approval from the Faculty, we are optimistically awaiting its ratification on April 10, 1967.

To be eligible for a position on the Council of the Student Association a student must have an accumulative grade point average of at least 7.0 and not be on academic or social probation, or warning. Also, all candidates for the Council must have attended two meetings of the Legislature. These candidates shall make known their intention to run for office by submitting petitions with 75 student signatures (which can be reoccurring) to the Chairman of the Standards Committee by April 10, 1967.

The election will be conducted by a modification of the Hare System in the Rollins Student Center on April 19, 1967. The balloting will be processed by a computer program if the proper equipment can be obtained. The ballot shall have a list of candidates in alphabetical order and each student voting will then rank the candidates numerically in order of preference. Theoretically, in concordance with the Hare system the voter's first and second choices should be their selection of President and Vice-President. A ballot will be considered void unless each candidate receives a numerical rank. The ballots will then be tabulated with 10 points awarded to each first place vote, 9 to each second place vote and 8 to each third place vote, etc. . . . and one to each 10th place vote. The President of the Council and the Student Association shall be the student receiving the greater number of points. The Vice-President shall be the person receiving the second greatest number of points.

It is the hope of the Standard Committee that all students will whole heartedly support the candidate of their choice and vote on Wednesday, April 19, 1967.

Latin American Scholarship Fund To Achieve Endowment Goal This Month

Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, professor of International Development at New York University, will speak at Rollins College annual Pan American Day Luncheon April 13 at the Country Club of Orlando.

Total proceeds from the luncheon, underwritten by the First National Bank at Winter Park and The Commercial Bank at Winter Park, will be added to the Rollins College Latin American Scholarship Endowment Fund, which is being compiled to finance the education of a student from Latin America at Rollins.

Dr. William G. Fletcher, Director of Latin American Activities at Rollins, and chairman of the Latin American Scholarship Committee said only $3,400 is needed to reach the $100,000 endowment goal, and that he is "quite confident that this goal will be achieved this month." Working with Dr. Fletcher on the scholarship committee are: Dr. A. J. Hanna, vice president at Rollins, Professor Angela Campbell, retired Spanish teacher, Dean Donald Hill, Fred Hicks, Dean of Men, Mr. Curm Bretnall, cashier, Dr. Irving Leonard, and Mr. Sessle Gray.

Doctor Dean will speak on "Obstacles to Change in Latin America." She is the author of many important books in the field of international relations, including "The UN Today," "The United States and the New Nations," "West and Non-West: New Perspectives" and "Builders of Emerging Nations."

A graduate of Radcliffe College with a Ph.D. from Yale, she was Research Director and Editor of the Foreign Policy Association for many years and served as Director of Non-Western Studies at the University of Rochester. She is the recipient of the Jane Addams Medal and the French Legion of Honor.

This year for the first time the luncheon is being held during the week of the Associated Mid-Florida Colleges Institute on Latin American. The purpose of the Institute is to spread knowledge and create a deeper understanding concerning the problems of the developing Latin American nations and the United States' relations to these countries.

Three noted authorities in their fields, including Professor Dean, will speak during the week of April 10 on the campuses of Rollins, Florida Southern in Lakeland, Bethune-Cookman in Daytona Beach, Stetson in DeLand and Florida Presbyterian in St. Petersburg.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR NOTE: Due to the heavy volume of mail received as a result of the controversy engendered by the appearance of the Rollins advertisement in TIME Magazine, our editorial columns this week will be devoted to discussion of this issue by our readers.

Dear Editor:

A reply may already have been made to Barbara Bodman's letter of March 17, but I still feel the matter worthy of a few more thoughts.

I could not find the TIME "advertisement", but also realize regional ads are taken and assume this to have been one of that kind. If her statements are accurate, most alumni would probably sympathize with her, as should the undergraduates.

One who has completed four years at Rollins and graduated could go on for hours listing the pros and cons of no finals, no comprehensive, only 15 in a class, and conducive study environment, but what Miss Bodman wants — as do we all — is better public relations. That is, what do the parents of the undergrads think when their friends question them about the "advertisement."

The current April issue of Changing Times (pp. 27-28) gives a capsule version of the new curriculum. There is no mention of "summer all winter long" thank heavens. The only unfortunate things about this favorable publicity are 1. Application deadline is two weeks away and 2. One cannot purchase Changing Times on the newstand.

About a month or so ago Newsweek had a feature on the colleges with new direction which included New College, Sarasota; Florida Atlantic, Boca Raton; and Florida Presbyterian, St. Petersburg . . . but no Rollins. True, there was a full page spread in the Sunday New York Times in mid-February, but it was 95% Tiffany glass and 5% studies. I am in favor of publicizing our cultural aspects, but the new curriculum is more important to both students and alumni.

I also hope letters like Barbara's will spur reaction.

Sincerely,
Rick Strauss '66

Dear Sir:

Concerning Mr. Wren's attempt to justify the Rollins advertisement, I would like to call attention to the last paragraph of his explanation:

"I am personally pleased that a magazine of Time's caliber . . ."

What is the caliber of Time, anyway? It appears to me that if no one believes the news stories in the magazine, how is one expected to react to its advertisements?

Dear Editor:

During a recent visit to the Rollins campus, I had the opportunity to read a letter from Miss Barbara Bodman which appeared in the Sandspur concerning a full-page advertisement which ran in certain issues of Time. I also attended a Wednesday "B" period coffee in the Alumni House at which time advertisement was discussed. Although negative thinking is always the easier "out" and usually makes the most noise, I would like to present a point of view different from that of Miss Bodman and the pseudointellectuals whose negative cries, admittedly, may be more emotionally appealing.

I would like to register approval of the idea of advertising the college. I would also like to register approval of the particular advertisement which appeared in Time. These statements involve different concepts, so I will attempt to treat each separately and briefly.

One of the arguments I heard against the advertisement was "Good colleges and universities do not advertise in national magazines." This is a difficult argument to attack for it demonstrates that the speaker lacks logical thought processes. The statement in quotation marks is not a reason for not advertising, though it was offered as such. Not only is the statement illogical, it is false. One can pick up nationally distributed magazines and see advertisements from such highly regarded educational institutions as Columbia, Duke, Vanderbilt, and numerous college preparatory schools. Newspapers carry even larger and more numerous advertisements for educational institutions. It is true that most of these advertisements are not full-page, but the reason for this is financial. Full page ads are expensive. I might add at this point that the Time advertisement cost Rollins nothing except the man-hours required to put the page together. I hope that I have made it clear that those who argue that "good colleges and universities just don't advertise" have a very shaky argument. "Just because" as a reason seldom satisfies even the smallest child. Progress is a series of events that have "never been done before."

A college must weigh goals, means to achieve goals, and possible side effects in order to achieve the best balance. The goal of Rollins, I hope, is to use every means possible to place the name of the school before the public and thereby increase applications thus increasing the pool from which future students may be selected. We at Rollins have a product to sell. Advertising is one of the most effective means of achieving sale of our product. This is not to say that "anything goes." I would have been horrified to see an advertisement for Rollins in True Confessions, but the integrity of our officials precludes that possibility. Advertising in good taste, advertising that attracts the eye of the reader — and holds it, can put over our message. The advertisement which appeared in Time did just that.

The bold print and the 1880's girl attracts one's attention. (Very appropriate choice as a matter of fact — Rollins was founded in 1885.) The copy which follows rounds out the image. It describes as well as short copy can the totality of life and education at Rollins. One of the arguments I heard against the copy was that it mentioned the beautiful warm climate, varsity athletics, and social life. These persons argue that a college is for studying only, for classroom learning. This is carrying idealism and "data worship" a bit too far. Let's face facts. Education involves all of these things — studying from books, interaction with other people, athletics, social experiences, and so on ad infinitum. To restrict one's experiences in college is to lose a very valuable part of one's ability to adapt to situations outside the protected college environment. Normal people just don't sit around all day intellectualizing. Rollins provides an atmosphere in which a person can develop his abilities and become a useful member of (not an outcast from) society. The advertisement conveys this impression quite well.

In summary I commend the administration for taking skillful advantage of this opportunity offered by Time to spread word about Rollins College. The final evaluation will be in more pragmatic terms as fewer or greater numbers of applications and inquiries come to the admissions office. I ask the persons who do not approve of the advertisement to carefully consider all aspects of the question and point me in waiting to see whether more applications and inquiries do, indeed, come to the college. I do not pretend to understand all the subtleties involved in protecting and propagating the image of a college. It is very easy for us to be armchair philosophers. It is more difficult to carry the idealism into life where the idealistic rules we have so carefully set up are not followed. I, for one at least, am pleased to see Rollins taking steps to insure its future in an increasingly competitive segment of our culture.

Sincerely yours,
James S. Bomhard

GRAPEVINE

After auditioning last Saturday night, it is rumored that Nippy Acker will get a job with the James Brown show as a dancer?

Speaking of those dancers, the same group that performed Saturday will appear again this Sunday morning in the Union for the celebration of the annual house-mother's tea.

No Dana, Bishop's not married!

The greatest event since Pabst went back to $1.09 at Harper's is the big run on bananas at the Fairway market.

Klu Klux Klanners arise, Old South Weekend has returned!

It's a good thing Jim H. is resourceful enough to combat Notre Dame — he managed to get a date with a local truck driver.

The Bone, trying to get a direct flight to Washington, D. C., unfortunately had a layover in Atlanta.

Congrats to Dave and Ann for getting pinned — Palm Beach will just have to remain Palm Beach.

DON'T FORGET THE HARPER'S JAMAICAN PARTY ON APRIL 18th.

Jean Colvin and Kathy Ten Eyck were heard saying recently, "It's always nice to be pinned to a Sigma Nu first!"

It is understood that Doug Price auditioned for a job with the Winter Park Land (moving?) Company the other night.

She burned a hole in the what?

Money? Who needs it? Just pay us in bananas!

Everyone be nice to Sparks while he is in town.

Two more swimmers in the "fish" pond — Bozo and Dean Hicks. Anyone for a dinner party or a student riot?

Dear Grapevine,
The girl that I have a crush on makes me carry matches around with me all the time for her to light her cigarettes with. I don't smoke and don't like being taken advantage of. Do you think she is being fair to me? What should I do.

Signed,
P-P-Perplexed

Dear P-P-Perplexed,

We suggest making your girl carry something you need (such as Roloids). In this way you will equalize the situation. If she refuses, we suggest you tell her that Nash is still waiting.

Signed,
Grapevine

It is always refreshing to watch a smooth and debonaire playboy in action. Last weekend, Greg "Robert Mitchum" Albertson, boy dog trainer had a girl travel almost 300 miles to visit him. However, as it turned out he never even bothered to take her out. Officially!

The rumor is that the K.A.'s will attempt to open a new tourist attraction. For just 25 cents you are guaranteed to see at least 90 different types of flora and fauna in their fish pond.

Palm Beach is a nice place to visit — Rob got to drive his new car and Niente casually bought $2 million worth of clothes.

Annual Sigma Nu Relays Hailed As Success

On Sunday, April 2, the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority beat the defending champion Pi Phi Sorority in the second annual Sigma Nu Relays. Chairman Jack Zimmerman found that the Sandspur Bowl had dried out from last year's flood. The Relays got going around 2:00 p.m. under sunny warm skies before a large crowd.

In the first event the girls proved that they still knew how to move along well on stilts. The Theta team of Connie Griffin, Joan Wright, Gail McCormick, and Jeanne Maurey nipped the Alpha Phi's. If you think this is easy to do, most of the boys could go about half a lap before falling flat on their faces.

The next event was a new edition to this year's Relays. Two girls had to carry a balloon of water down the field without dropping and breaking it. They could not use their hands except to place the balloon before the race. The Theta's continued to forge ahead with the team of Floecher, Redding, Tunicliff and Makemson beat the Gamma Phi team in a thrilling finish. The girls showed a great deal of ingenuity in winning this event.

In the Egg Yagg the girls got a chance to try out their throwing arms. The eggs wouldn't break for anything in this event. They would be thrown and bounce on the ground several times without breaking. The Kappa team of Robbie Loehr and Janie Blalock held off the Theta's, Pi Phi's, Gamma Phi's and Phi Mu's who tied for second place. The two winners were separated by more than twenty-five yards, but they still managed to keep from breaking their egg.

In the next event the Pi Phi's proved they had the biggest mouths among the females at Rollins by winning the Whip Dip Relay. The team of Rawls, Wheeler, Grisham, and Mullican devoured two pie dishes of whip cream to beat the Alpha Phi's.

In the Burlap Bounce the Theta team of Scudder, Hagen, McClean, and Hartman stumbled over the finish line to beat the Kappa's. After this event the girls were given a chance to see if they can ever get dressed quickly. The Change of Paste was a relay in which a girl would dress in man's pants and man's shirt and then run to her partner, who would do the same thing. The Chi O team of White, Butler, Grantham, and Spoor proved to be the best in this event by defeating the team of Pi Phi's.

The Mud Jump didn't prove to be as dangerous as last year's event where it was miraculous someone didn't get killed instead of diving into the mud like last year, it was run like a broad jump without a sand pit. This event is very important in the relay because of its many points to the winners. Jane Carrison, Pi Phi, managed to jump almost completely across the pit with Marlyn Mueller, Chi O, closely behind her and with Penny O'dell of Phi Mu taking a third place finish.

Next came a very spirited event, the tug o war, with the winner having to pull the looser across the mud pit, the champion Theta's held the Kappa's and Pi Phi's off in a very close and hotly disputed battle of female strength.

The final surprise event was a real surprise for the girls. They had to take a dead fish and break a rotten egg hanging in a sock from the girls waist. This event looked like a lady's wrestling match before it was finished. Sylvan Kuta of Alpha Pi battled her opponent to become the winner of this smelly event.

The final standing in total points was Theta 80½, Pi Phi 67½, Chi O 35, Kappa 35, Alpha Phi 21, Phi Mu 12½, and Gamma Phi 10.

The Sigma Nu fraternity hopes this event will become a strong tradition of Rollins College. Next year the Relays will again be bigger and better than this year with many more new surprises.

The Fast Paced Surprise event was won by Sylvia Kuta of Alpha Phi. The event proves that sometimes the coeds can be "Fished in" too.

One of the most exciting events of the Second Annual Sigma Nu Relays was the tug-of-war.

The First Associated Mid-Florida Colleges' Student Art Exhibition will be held April 9th through 30th at Sampson Art Gallery, Stetson University in DeLand, Florida. Professor Stuart Purser, noted painter from the University of Florida, will have the sole responsibility of selecting the show and making the award selection from the numerous entries of students from the mid-Florida colleges. The awards include a $75 Best in Show, three $50 Equal awards and Honorable Mentions as the juror deems appropriate.

Numerous art students from Rollins have entered the exhibition, sending works in the fields of painting, graphics, and sculpture. Among them the Nick Stano, Randi Ackerman, Mike Thiedman, Susan Black, Pam Miller, Ginny Moore, Pam Dixon, Ann Wooten, Mia Hanson, Mark Parkinson, George Lamb, Karen Whitley, Vida Hull, Heidi Nivling, Gala Fitzwater, and Tim Goss.

A reception will be held on April 9 for all persons entering.

The Barristers, a counseling group of pre-legal students, will join with the Orlando Bar to provide court practice and experience. Alan Jenkins, Chancellor of the Barristers, has announced.

As a result of a conference with Jules Cohen, representative of the Orlando Bar, arrangements have been made by which key cases to come before the courts in Central Florida will be presented by representative attorneys for the Barristers.

Students interested in this program should give their names to Box 87, Center for Practical Politics Rollins College.

'Oh What A Lovely War' To Be Next ART Production

All this week The Rollins Players are presenting in the Fred Stone Theatre, OH WHAT A LOVELY WAR! This musical entertainment opened September 30, 1964, and ran for a limited engagement. There is no plot, but the action revolves around World War I, and it is a satire on many of the elements of that war.

Integrated into the action on the stage is a screen which carries projections of actual WW I battle scenes and posters. There is also a newspanel which gives accurate reporting of the statistics of the war, while below, the actors are singing parodies of songs and dancing to the tunes of wartime. So the theme contains much of the horror of war, and it is just as pertinent today in Viet Nam as it was then in Germany.

OH WHAT A LOVELY WAR! was chosen by the Yale Festival of Undergraduate Drama as the Rollins entry in the festival. Rollins went to Yale last week for a record-breaking fifth time. OH, DAD, POOR, DAD, . . . etc., was the last show presented there. There are no awards given at the festival, but each group is criticized by a professional drama critic. The critic for the Rollins' bill of plays was Michael Smith, drama critic for the "Village Voice." He said of Rollins, "This is good entertainment . . . unpretensions and relaxed . . . good fun!"

Annual Jamaican Party Set For Harper's Tavern

By Gary Dering

Once again, Harper's Tavern is set for the annual Jamaican Festival. A committee of Rollins students, headed by John Hughes, has been meeting for the past two weeks, making plans and getting the party organized. Tuesday, April 18 has been set for the date this year, with the party running from 7:00 P.M. until midnight.

The party, which has always come in the spring term, is designed to ease the heavy workload and academic pressure that spring term always brings along with it.

As usual, the famous limbo contest will be run, along with the other usual contests, and hopefully, a few new contests. Prizes come in the form of free beer, donated by Harper's, with the grand prize being a fifth of champagne for the winner of the limbo contest.

The Barnett family, proprietors

Composing the cast and crew for the Yale Trip were, Carol DuBois, Nancy Butler, Nancy Wayman, Sandra Foster, Terri Rhodes, Chris Forrest, Bill Millard, Bill McNulty, Ray Edwards, Roger Miller, Rick Camp, Patrick Molloy, Frank Boehnlein, Ted Flagg, and Linda Mostr.

of Harper's, will be serving up the potent potables, aptly named "Jamaican Farwell."

So if you are over 21, love the limbo and the island atmosphere, the Jamaican Festival will enjoyably to your spring term's social life.

Latin American Program Set For Next Week

Non-Western Studies at the University of Indiana, will speak on "Political Obstacles to Change in Latin America" Monday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Annie Russell Theatre on the Rollins campus.

Ugo Sacchetti, Senior Economic Advisor of the World Bank in Washington, D. C. will speak on "Economic Obstacles to Change in Latin America" Wednesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Theatre. Both lectures will be open to the public, while also furnishing the freshman class with expect commentary on the Latin American situation in conjunction with the Social Science Foundation Course of the new curriculum.

In addition to the three main speakers, each college will also have an expert in residence during the week. Dr. Richard Morse, Director of the Center for Latin American Studies at Yale University, will be at Rollins College. He will speak at the Casa Iberia on Tuesday, April 11 at 8:00 p.m. on the graduate studies open in this field and the ensuing career opportunities for interested students.

Rollins Professor Lionel M. Summers is Chairman of the Area Studies Committee of the Association and Dr. Fletcher is coordinator of arrangements.

William F. Murfui, state Republican Chairman, has led his party's resurgence in Florida.

Republicans Gain Status In Florida

This year the Republican Party has experienced an unprecedented level of prosperity. Last November, the overwhelming success of the national Republican Party in the Senate and House elections is well known. Last week on the state level, in a special legislative elective brought about by redistricting, Republican Governor Kirk led his party to a position of power unmatched anywhere in the South of today. Although the Democrats maintained control of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, they relinquished the two-thirds majority veto power they have had. Prior to the March elections, the Democrats were favored by the lineup of 37-11 in the Senate. The new ratio will be 28-20. In the House, the new balance will be 80-39 as opposed to 91-26. Although Kirk has only been in office six months, it is evident that he has built a solid public record.

Commenting on the recent G.O.P. gains, Orange County Democratic Chairman William Turnbull had this to say: "Kirk captured the imagination of the people. He lives a little. He is attractive. It's a whole new way of operating."

On the local scene, the success of the Rollins Young Republicans has initiated a drive that has resulted in the formation of three new Young Republican Parties in the Central Florida area. The young Republicans at nearby Seminole Junior College have formed, and are operating with an optimistic outlook for the future. In addition, Orlando Junior College and Daytona Beach Junior College are in the process of establishing their respective Republican Parties.

The foresight of the National Republican Party has resulted in a drive to prepare the high school youth in the complexities of state and national government. This organization is known as the Teenage Republican Federation. This was brought about by the realization that by 1970, fifty percent of America's population will be under 27 years of age. Thirty of the fifty per-cent will be of voting age.

The Rollins Young Republicans have certainly been active in state interests. Rollins has participated in the two state Republican conventions. One in Tallahassee where Governor Kirk was master of ceremonies, and another in Sarasota where William Murphy, a prominent Republican, was guest speaker.

At 7:30 on April 12, the Young Republicans cordially invite all interested students to attend a meeting where Mr. J. Winch will lecture on recent student unrest throughout the nation. It is important for all to realize the controversy which exists in colleges between students and administration.

Furthermore, on May 20, six delegates will be sent to Jacksonville for the meeting where the state-wide elections for Young College Republicans will be chose.

Regardless of what you might read to the contrary, IT'S A REPUBLICAN YEAR!

Gustafson Discusses Issues

Monday, April the 10th, will be a very important date for the future of student government. On this day the faculty will decide whether or not the reorganization proposal will go into effect. This decision is of extreme importance to the students as well as the faculty. If the faculty is in favor of the Reorganization Committee's proposal it will put an end to the various committees, or at least their discussion of student proposals. No longer will we have the long delay which has been characteristic of the past student governments. Previous delay was due to the many faculty committees and subcommittees which had to consider proposals.

At the present the Reorganization Committee's proposal is waiting for faculty consideration, after being reviewed and accepted by the Student Faculty Relationship Committee and most recently the Faculty Administration Committee. The original proposal has survived both of these committees and has even been improved upon.

The Social Code and the Judicial Section of the constitution have also been approved. This will put an end to the Social Review Committee which took such a great toll on our student body this past summer. In other words a student will be dismissed for social reasons only during the academic year and not during the summer by a committee without student representation. This, I feel, is a major breakthrough for all students.

Another important factor which will benefit and improve student government at Rollins is the new nine man Council. This Council will give nine students the opportunity to participate in student affairs and in the administration of their college. Also there will be a Speaker of the House with a secretary and Comptroller. This will make a total of twelve Student government positions. The elections have been set for April 19, 1967, and we are planning for the candidates to give speeches in the Crummer Auditorium the week before the elections. This, I feel, will be the best campaigning ever on the Rollins campus. It is important that these positions which I have just mentioned, are filled by good, qualified leaders. If you are interested in applying for the Council please follow the regulations set up by the election committee, or contact Bill Blackburn or me for further information. The requirements are: a 7.0 cumulative grade point average, attendance at two meetings of the legislature during this present administration, and a nomination paper consisting of 75 student signatures. These nomination papers must be submitted to Bill Blackburn, Chairman of the Standard Committee, not later than the regular meeting of the Student Association held prior to the announced election week.

These steps are very important and every student should take special interest in the up and coming elections. Let us not forget that Monday, April 10, 1967 will be the most important day in student government history. I sincerely hope that the faculty will realize the time, effort, and importance of this proposal and will unanimously vote it in on Monday, April 10, 1967 for the welfare of the entire college.

Sincerely,
Robert Gustafson
President, Student Assn.

Elected Officers Have New Duties

On April 19 the elections will be held to select the nine students who will sit on the Student-Faculty-Administration Council. This council is to be the "senate" of the total student government. The duties undertaken by the nine students, four faculty members, and two appointed administration members are the following.

1. To act upon all legislation passed the House.
2. To return to the House for approval any amendments to legislation.
3. To give to the House the objections of the Council, to any legislation passed by the House which is rejected by the Council.
4. To adopt into college law any rule, regulation, amendment, or other legislation passed by both the House and the Council.
5. To make all appointments, with the approval of the House, not specifically granted to the House or otherwise provide for.
6. To concene itself upon petition of three Council members.
7. To meet at least twice a month.

The student who gains the most votes in the election shall be the President of the council. President of this Council shall preside over all meetings of the Student-Faculty-Administration Council; shall be the President of the Student Association and as such represent and speak for the student body when the necessity arises; shall preside over all Student Association meetings shall vote only in the case of a tie; shall draw up a list of nominees to fill council appointments; serve as a member of the Student-Faculty-Trustee Committee.

The student getting the second largest number of votes will be elected Vice President of the Council, his duties are to substitute for the President.

The Secretary of the Council shall be elected by and from the members of the Council during the first meeting after the election of the student members of the Council. The Secretary shall keep and publish the minutes of all Council meetings, serve as corresponding secretary for this Council, and serve as a member of the Standards Committee.

As is obvious from the responsibilities stated above, this body is very important. The Council will have the closest connections with the faculty and administration and will be responsible for keeping the communications among these three groups accurate and up-to-date. Therefore, the people elected to these positions should be among the most diligent, and cooperative students on the Rollins College Campus.

Rollins Debaters Conquer Harvard

Rollins defeated Harvard by a score of 2-1 in a debate held in the Annie Russell Theatre on April 2, at 8:00 p.m. The resolution involved was, Resolved: The United States was the principle cause of the Cold War.

Evelyn Cook and Norman Friedland of the Rollins Speakers Bureau met with Larry Siever and Fran Prichett of the Harvard Debate Council.

The annual Debate, established in 1964, showed Rollins with 2 wins and 1 loss until this match, which gave Rollins its third victory of the series and its second consecutive win.

Rollins took the affirmative position, Harvard the negative. While the debate was well presented and closely contested by both sides, Rollins showed clear superiority in preparation and presentation.

Rollins also had the benefit of a veteran Harvard competitor, Norman Friedland, the second affirmative speaker, who was on last years victorious team. Evelyn Cook, the recipient of the 1966 Rollins Intramural Debate Trophy, provided equally powerful support as the first affirmative speaker.

The moderator was Dr. Paul Douglass of the Center for Practical Politics.

The object of the Rollins affirmative team was to prove that the United States was the principle cause of the Cold War. They attempted to do this in 5 sections.

1) During the post-war period, Russia was not intent on any form of aggression, but was bent on a policy of recovery, restraint, rehabilitation and reconstruction.

2) The United States leaders for numerous reasons, unprovoked by the U.S.S.R., undertook an unfriendly attitude toward the U.S.S.R. within 11 days after Roosevelt's death.

3) The United States refused to negotiate disarmament even while in a superior military situation and at the same time sole owner of the atomic bomb.

4) United States repudiation of the U.S.S.R.'s attempts to consolidate its gains in Eastern Europe. (considered the Soviet Union's sphere of influence), was not in accordance with U.S. policy in consolidating its control of Western Europe.

5) Finally the United States' determination to rebuild Germany, Russia's most hated enemy, did little to promote trust on the part of the Russians.

Essentially, the negative team opposed the conclusions of the affirmative on the basis of "ideological polarization."

KA's Hold Old South Weekend

The tradition of the Kappa Alpha Order's Old South weekend will again become a reality at Rollins this year. As the Alpha Psi chapter of the Kappa Alpha

The South will Rise Again today as supporters of General Lee begin Old South Weekend.

Order will celebrate its famous Old South Weekend for the second year in a row. The traditional and fun filled weekend will commence today at 3:30 with Lee's bearded supporters parading down Park Avenue on horseback. The parade will end by delivering invitations to the girls, followed by a beard contest on the steps of Elizabeth Hall, judged by Mrs. Nina Dean of the English department. Friday at the beanery, the K.A.'s will officially secede from the Union. This will be followed by the "Sharecropper's Ball", authentic in every respect except for a rock 'n' roll band, the Rocking Roadrunners.

Saturday afternoon is the Planter's Punch Party, followed by the weekend's highlight, the Old South Ball at which the Kappa Alpha Rose will be crowned. The Ball will be attended by all members, KA's on the faculty, and friends of the fraternity.

Tars Close Harvard Series Today; Open F.I.C. Monday

Rollins' baseball team wraps up a three-game series with Harvard University at 3:30 p.m. today at Harper-Shepherd Field, then kicks off its Florida Intercollegiate Conference title defense Monday, hosting Florida Southern.

Coach Joe Justice's Tars met Harvard in a twinbill yesterday. Oglethorpe invades Harper-Shepherd Thursday for a one-game stand, while the Tars journey to Lakeland for a doubleheader with Southern next Saturday.

Although nearly every starter returns from a squad that posted a 23-9 record and ranked 14th in the country with a .297 batting average last year, the Tar nine stood 7-10 with a .212 swat mark going into Thursday's doubleheader.

Just two Tar starters, left fielder Bob Gustafson (.275) and third baseman Gordy Lynch (.258) are over .250. Lynch has been Rollins' only clutch hitter, driving home 18 runs in 17 games.

Tekes, X Club Tangle Today In Volleyball

League leading TKE meets second place X Club at 4 p.m. Friday with the intramural volleyball title at stake.

Led by ex-basketballer Dave Bussler, the Tekes swept to seven straight wins going into Thursday's match with Sig Ep and had not even lost a single game in the best two of three matches.

X Club has logged seven wins in eight starts, losing only to Sigma Nu 2-0 Mar. 23. Defending champion Sigma Nu also has just on defeat, a 2-0 set back at the hands of TKE, pending the outcome of a match Thursday with KA and one Monday with the Delts.

In the past two weeks TKE has beaten KA 15-1, 15-11, the Phi Delts 15-11, 15-5, and both the for mound duty yesterday, today's starting assignment will probably go to junior righthander Ken Hill (1-0, 2.53). Basketballers Sterling Case (1-0, 0.00), Donnie Smith (1-1, 3.27) and Rick Loghry (1-1, 4.63) man the bull pen.

Harvard, which split with the Tars 2-6, 8-5, enroute to a 15-9 campaign last year is rebuilding this season since coach Norman Shepard has only two 1966 regulars back and ready for action.

Veterans returning are center fielder Dan Hootstein (.304 in 1966) and first baseman Joe O'Donnell (.194), plus pitchers Jim McCandlish (4-3, 2.20) and Bob Lincoln (3-4, 4.27).

The Crimson played Stetson and Florida Southern earlier this week.

Trying to repeat last season's 8-1 F.I.C. record, the Tars may be facing their toughest challenger in Florida Southern.

Rollins' baseball coach and athletic director Joe Justice presents Baseball Week trophy to Notre Dame coach Jake Kline.

Notre Dame Wins Baseball Crown

Notre Dame tagged starter Rick Loghry for six runs on four hits in the second inning, then hung on to unseat the defending champion Tars 6-4 last Saturday to take the championship of Rollins' 19th annual Baseball Week Tournament.

Coach Jake Kline's Fighting Irish finished the six-day, four-team tourney with a 4-1-1 record, losing only to Colgate 13-3 and tying Lafayette 1-1. Rollins and Colgate shared the runnerup spot with 3-3 slates, while Lafayette posted a 1-4-1 log.

Coach Joe Justice's Tars lost a chance for an unprecedented second straight tourney crown by falling to Colgate 5-4 and Notre Dame on the final day.

With one out in the second Loghry hit center fielder Bob Koemalsky and shortstop John Rogers. An infield single by winning pitcher Dave Celmer gave Notre Dame a 1-0 lead with two out.

Sophomore southpaw Gala Coleman relieved Loghry after a walk to third baseman Pat Topolski loaded the bases and was greeted with a two-run double by left fielder Kevin Hardy. Coleman wild pitched home Topolski with the final tally.

Coleman was brilliant the rest of the way, fanning 11 and permitting just one more hit, but the Tars could not salvage the victory.

Singles by Bob Schabes and Don Phillips and Bob Chandler's two-run triple cut the Notre Dame lead to 6-2 in the fourth and in the sixth the Tars sliced the margin to two runs.

Gordy Lynch led off the inning with a walk and reached second as Rogers bobbled Chandler's ground ball. Jeff Burns singled home Lynch and consecutive walks to Coleman and Tom Flagg forced home Chandler with another tally.

However, Bob Gustafson grounded out to end the threat.

Colgate spotted Rollins three first inning markers as Lynch cleared the bases with a double after Colgate starter John Gee walked the first three batters he faced Colgate then rallied for a 5-4 win in the make-up of a postponed game Saturday morning.

A pair of unearned runs in the first two frames cut the Tar lead to 3-2, but Flagg scored Lynch with a sacrifice fly in the third to give the Tars a 4-2 advantage.

In the fourth Ted Beekman, Colgate's second baseman, tied the score with a long four-bagger to left after Charley Cipolla had walked. Colgate's eventual winning run came on singles by winning pitcher Bud Foster and shortstop Paul Bradley, a wild pitch and Ron Burton's fielder's choice.

In the first meeting between Rollins and Notre Dame, Koemalski slammed into Burns at the plate, jarring loose the ball and scoring the winning run in a 4-3 decision.

Dick Licini's single, a wild pitch and Koemalski's two-bagger erased a 3-2 deficit in the ninth, then a pair of intentional walks and a grounder to second baseman Chandler set the stage for the winning play.

Tar Netters Win Six; Fall Again To F.S.U.

Rollins' tennis team swept to six straight victories last week to claim its own Tennis Week title and boost its record to 14-1 before dropping a 5-4 heart-breaker to Florida State Monday.

Coach Norm Copeland's defending national collegiate champs took on powerful University of Florida in Gainesville Wednesday and host the Gators at 1 p.m. Saturday on campus. Monday and Tuesday the Tar netters face F.I.C. rival Stetson and Eastern Kentucky in home matches.

Bob McCannon and Chick Hawley downed Sonny Smithyman and David Wilkins 6-3, 6-2, in the number two doubles spot Mar 27 to edge Clemson 5-4 in the Tennis Week opener.

Ron Van Gelder, Hawley, Cliff Montgomery and Jim Griffith set the stage for the deciding doubles match with singles victories. Van

Crew Wins Five Straight

Rollins' varsity crew made it five straight wins last Saturday by edging the Univtrsrty of Tampa by about a boat length over the Hillsborough River course.

Despite 25 knot winds and rough water the Tar oarsmen got a lead at the start and led all the way in their first state victory. Tampa's crack junior varsity tight downed Rollins' JV by more than five lengths to leave the Tar JV with a 4-2 slate.

Both Tar crews continue prepping for the State Regatta Apr. 29 as they journey to Jacksonville Saturday to race Jacksonville University on the St. John's River. Rollins' varsity has already bettered the Dolphins in the Cypress Gardens Regatta Mar. 25.

On Lake Maitland last year the Tar varsity nipped Jacksonville by a tenth of a second while the JV lost by 2½ lengths.

Since dropping their opener to defending collegiate champion Marietta (Ohio) College Mar 21, coach Jim Lyden's oarsmen have rowed to impressive victories over Marist, East Carolina, Amherst, Iona and Tampa, besides finishing second to Marietta in the Cypress Gardens Regatta.

Marist College of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. was no match for the Tar crews Mar. 22, losing both races by about five boat lengths. Rollins' varsity was clocked in 6:02 to Marist's 6:24, while the Tar JV turned in a 6:20 performance compared with Marist's 6:40.

Rollins pulled over the 500 mark with a 3½-length victory against East Carolina College Mar. 24.

Bowling Tightens Intramural Race

Computation of bowling standings tightened up the intramural points race slightly as the top four challengers gained ground on league leaning Sigma Nu.

The Graduates won the bowling title, but the 100 points they earned with the crown were not enough to pull them out of the league cellar.

Sigma Nu posted just a 12-24 slate in the bowling league to add 24 points to its 1010 total. The Snakes now top the standings with 1034 points.

Runnerup Lambda Chi picked up 46 markers to pull within 163 points of the leaders, while third place TKE garnered 40 points for an 814½ total.

Delta Chi used its second place finish in bowling to pass X Club in the points race with a 379½ total. X Club has 733½ markers.

Marietta won the Cypress Gardens Regatta for the second straight year Mar. 25, withstanding charges by Rollins and Tampa at the finish.

Last year's Dad Vail Regatta champion in all three divisions, Marietta crossed the 1 5/16-mile Cypress Gardens course in 5:53.7 as Rollins and Tampa turned in 5:55.6 and 5:58.5 clockings respectively.

Despite rough water the Tars crushed Amherst Mar. 27 by about eight lengths. Rollins finished in 6:21 to Amherst's 6:54 varsity time, while the JV downed Amherst by four lengths, 6:41.5 to 6:56.

Chalking up their best time since the Marietta race, the Tar varsity left Iona six lengths behind with a 5:57 finish. Iona checked in at 6:24.5 on its second run after halting the first race with a broken seat.

Rollins' JV posted a two length decision, 6:16.5 to 6:23.5.

Girl Netters Capture Second State Tourney

GAINESVILLE—Logging their second major tournament crown of the stason, Rollins' girl netters edged the University of Florida eight points to six last weekend to win the Florida Intercollegiate Women's tennis tourney.

Sophomore Wendy Overton lost to Florida's Suzanne Venning 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the singles championship, then teamed with junior Guillana Peterson to take the doubles title in a 9-7, 6-0, match with South Florida's Tish and Gwenda Adams.

Miss Venning, who ranked behind Miss Overton in the pre-tourney ratings, also eliminated Miss Peterson, 3-6, 6-4, 6-0, in singles play.

Miss Overton and Miss Peterson defeated Miss Venning and Gaye Goodburn, 6-0, 6-1, earlier in the doubles eliminations.

A week earlier the entire Tar squad visited Gainesville and emerged with a 7-0 decision over Florida's women's team. Kathy Blake defeated Miss Venning in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Peterson, Jane Butts, Lucia Turnbull and Nona Gandman also posted singles victories as Miss Virginia Mack's netters

Sulzycki's Hit Propels Snakes By Sig Ep, 4-3

Catcher Sandy Sulzycki's two-run single in the fifth inning erased a 3-2 deficit and gave defending champion Sigma Nu a 4-3 softball victory over Sig Ep Tuesday.

Sigma Nu, which now leads the league with a perfect 4-0 record, scored first on a solo homerun by pitcher Bill Jackson in the second inning, but the Sig Eps tied the score in the third as shortstop Bob Taylor blasted a four-bagger to left.

Chuck Bauernschmidt singled home a run in the bottom of the fourth to give the Snakes a 2-1 advantage. However, Sig Ep took the lead in the fifth on a pair of walks, a wild pitcher, pitcher Bob Bisplinghoff's RBI single and a dropped fly ball.

Jackson permitted just five hits and fanned 10.

Consecutive homeruns by John Schollenberger, Sulzycki and Jackson wiped out a 3-2 X Club lead in the fifth frame Mar. 30 to propel Sigma Nu to a 9-5 decision over the Club.

Jackson struck out nine and slammed another homer in the sixth.

Sig Ep posted its third victory

Mar 29, turning a pair of six-run innings into a 15-5 win over the Deltas. Unleashing a 15-hit attack, Sig Ep exploded for six markers in the second and seventh frames to ice the game.

The Faculty-Grads also stayed in contention by beating Lambda Chi 10-4 Mar. 23 and routing the Indies 23-1 last Friday. Right fielder Ed Branch's three-run homerun in the fifth was the key blow in the Lambda Chi game, while Chuck Olsen slammed three four-baggers versus the Indies.

Lambda Chi, the Phi Deltas and Delta Chi also boast 2-1 records to share third place with the Faculty-Grads.

Lambda Chi edged the Indies 8-7 Mar 27 as Chris Clanton and Joe Bohannon slammed home-runs. Gary Justice rapped a circuit clout for the losers.

Bill Osburn fired a three-hitter and got support from homering Bruce Talgo and Chris Clanton as Lambda Chi trounced KA 31-3 Mar. 29.

Delta Chi knocked off X Club 14-3 behind a 12-hit attack and the five-hit pitching of Fred Tone Mar. 22.

The Phi Deltas won a pair of squeakers, edging X Club and the Indies by identical 9-8 scores. Against the Club, the Phi Deltas erupted for seven runs on three hits in the third, then withstood a Club rally in the seventh.

A four-run seventh pull the Indies to within one run last Monday.

TKE logged its first win of the season Mar. 24 as second sacker Bob Richardson belted a homer, triple and single to lead the Tekes by KA 25-15.

GAINESVILLE—Rollins' women's golf team won the Florida Intercollegiate Women's golf tournament by seven strokes here Friday and Saturday despite a one-two finish by the University of Miami's Cynthia Hill and Roberta Albers.

Miss Hill completed 36 holes with a 74-78—152 to take the individual crown, while Miss Albers finished 83-75—158.

However, Rollins' foursome turned in a 656 team score, seven strokes better than Miami's 663.

Senior Jane Blalock led the Tar delegation with a 161, followed by Debbie Austin (163), Mezie Pritchett (165) and Connie Hirschman (167).

Rollins' girl linksters also knocked off the Orlando Women's Golf Association at Rolling Hills Country Club Mar. 22, posting an 8-1 best-ball Nassau victory.

Miss Blalock and Meredith Ross defeated Heather Gregoire and Blanche Leach, Miss Hirschman and Miss Austin downed Betty Hoche and Peggy Brass, and Preston Alexius and Miss Pritchett split with Margaret Vargish and Virginia Stockman.

6-3, for Amherst's lone point. Griffith edged Alan Ho, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, in the only three set match.

Last Friday the Tars again swept six singles matches enroute to a 7-2 win over Hope. Starbuck and Kinne downed John Schadler and Jeff Green, 6-4, 8-6, to add the final point.

Van Gelder went three sets in knocking off Doug Barrow, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Van Gelder and Montgomery, Griffith and Kinne teamed for doubles victories Saturday, clinching a 6-3 victory over tough Notre Dame.

Van Gelder and Montgomery won their match by default, while Griffith and Kinne turned back Jim Barrett and Honerkamp, 6-1, 6-2. Van Gelder, Montgomery, Griffith and Kinne all won their singles matches, but only Griffith won in less than three sets.

Van Gelder edged Bill Brown, 12-10, 4-6, 6-4, Montgomery downed Rieser, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 and Kinne turned back Honerkamp, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3. Griffith defeated Barrett, 6-1, 6-2.

Florida State won four singles matches, then clinched a 5-4 victory as Paul DeZeuw and Dave Danielson defeated Van Gelder and Montgomery, 7-5, 8-6.

ball Week with a 4-7 record.

The Tars spotted Rider a 5-0 lead Mar. 24, then rallied to make the game close. Jeff Burns tripled home Pedro Fonts, who had walked, in the fifth, and scored himself on a wild pitch.

A walk and two errors gave the Tars another marker in the seventh, but Rollins could not solve Rider southpaw Larry Mischik, who permitted just two hits and fanned five.

Against Duke Mar. 25 the Tars erupted for two first inning runs on walks to Fonts and Tom Flagg, a single by Bob Gustafson and Cale Coleman's fielder's choice.

After spotting Duke an unearned tally in the second, Rollins added a single run in the second on a double by Gordy Lynch and consecutive singles by Don Phillips and Jeff Burns.

Three singles and an error gave the Tars two more markers in the fifth, offsetting a Duke run on three singles in the ninth. Gordy Lynch singled home the second run of the inning for his 11th RBI of the campaign.

Notre Dame Wins Title

Rollins took a 1-0 lead in the second on Lynch's solo homerun, but Notre Dame tied the score in their half of the inning one a triple by Kocmalski and catcher Joe Kernan, double.

Chris Leedy drove home the second Tar run in the sixth, while Phillips gave the Tars a 3-1 lead in the seventh as he scored on a delayed steal. Licini's double and a pair of fly balls cut the lead to one in the seventh.

Rollins unleashed a 10-hit attack in the tourney opener as Loughry blanked Lafayette 10-0. Chandler drove in three runs with a single and a double.

After falling to Notre Dame, the Tars pounced on Lafayette again, this time emerging with an 11-2 win on a 12-hit assault. Junior right hander Ken Hill made his collegiate mound debut, permitting just seven hits and fanning five, and banged out four hits in as many trips to pace the Tars.

Friday Rollins erased a 3-3 deadlock by exploding for seven runs in the seventh to whip Colgate 10-3. Gustafson and Phillips both drove in a pair of runs in the inning with a single and double respectively.

Rollins had spotted the Red Raiders single tallies in the first three innings, then scored three of its own on four singles in the third.

Bob Arnzen and George Restovich tossed a combined three-hitter in the tourney opener Mar. 27 as Notre Dame blanked Colgate 4-0. Kernan drove in a pair of runs with a single in the sixth and a ground out in the eighth.

Hardy's infield single in the fifth scored Tencza with the winning run in Notre Dame's 2-1 victory over Lafayette Tuesday. The hapless Leopards stranded 11 men on base.

Winning pitcher John McCombs broke a 2-2 tie and a four-run rally with a perfect squeeze bunt in the bottom of the eighth inning Wednesday to give Lafayette a 6-2 win over Colgate.

Colgate pounded out 13 hits, including homeruns by Burton and Beekman, Thursday to rout Notre Dame 13-3. A five-run fourth inning started Colgate on its way.

Lafayette and Notre Dame battled to a 1-1 nine inning tie Friday in a game halted by curfew. Center fielder Jim Burns scored on Topolski's error in the bottom of the eighth to erase a 1-0 Notre Dame lead.

Colgate continued its hot hitting Saturday with a 12-hit barrage enroute to a 14-4 win over Lafayette. Catcher Ray Ilg drove in five runs with a pair of doubles for the winners.

Despite its poor finish, Rollins paced the tourney in both hitting (.258) and pitching (.261).

Behind the near-flawless hurling of Arnzen (0.00 ERA and 14 strikeouts in 13 innings), Notre Dame posted the second best team ERA in the tourney. Juniors Dave Celmer and George Restovich won two games apiece for the Irish.

Lafayette first baseman Tony Savitsky turned in the best performance at the plate as he slammed 10 hits in 21 trips for a .476 mark. Colgate's Ilg was the tourney's number two hitter with a .389 average and drove in eight runs.
