Latin American Scholarship Endowment Achieves Goal

Winter Park resident Frederick A. Hauck's $2,150 donation today made it possible for Rollins College to reach its $100,000 Latin American Scholarship Endowment goal.

Hauck was presented with the College's George Morgan Ward Medal for "distinguished service to Inter-American understanding and support of Rollins College" during the annual Pan American Day Luncheon attended by 350 guests at the Country Club of Orlando.

Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, Professor of International Development at New York University and an author and expert on Latin American Affairs, spoke on "Obstacles to Change in Latin America."

The Endowment Fund, whose proceeds bring worthy Latin American students to Rollins for study, was $3,400 short of its goal before the luncheon. Proceeds from the luncheon, underwritten by the First National Bank at Winter Park and The Commercial Bank at Winter Park, added $1,250 and Hauck's contribution made up the difference.

Dr. William G. Fletcher, Director of Latin American Activities at Rollins, presented Hauck for the medal, calling him "a man interested in the welfare of human beings."

Hauck built a distinguished business career in the surgical supply field and retired at an early age to devote his interests to mining rare minerals.

He has worked closely with the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission in evaluation of these minerals. His research into the atomic energy aspect of the minerals and its peaceful uses and possible application in curing disease has brought him into contact with the late Dr. Albert Einstein and U.S. Admiral Hyman Rickover.

Dr. Donald W. Hill, Dean of the College, presented the medal to Hauck. It is named for a man who served for 12 years as President of Rollins College before his death in 1930.

Speaker for the luncheon, Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, professor of international development at New York University and an author and expert on Latin American affairs, questioned the wisdom of a "common market for the western hemisphere" which the United States is broach-

The Academy of American Poets was organized in 1934 to promote and support native talent. To further its goal the Academy sets up poetry readings and provides fellowships and awards for first publications. One of its activities is relevant to Rollins College students: the establishment of thirty-seven annual $100 poetry prizes at forty colleges and universities. Rollins is one of the participating colleges.

According to the terms set up by the Academy, the English department will determine the best poem or group of poems submitted by a Rollins student. The winner will receive $100 from the Academy of American Poets.

All manuscripts should be submitted to Orlando Hall room 108 by Friday, May 12th.

ing at the Punta del Este conference in Uruguay this week.

"The greatest market for Latin American countries is probably the United States," Dr. Dean declared. "They are not interested in trading with each other but with us."

She said the United States in both its dealings with Latin America and other developing nations is going to have to "face up to the crucial question" of cutting down some of our own production, particularly in the textile field, in order to help these countries by admitting their products.

Dr. Dean was also critical of U.S. tendency to lean on "the Trujillos, Somozas and Duvaliers" in the belief they would maintain stability, a policy which helps create the conditions that lead to Castroism.

She indicated the rising urban middle class leaders in Latin American countries must be given more attention by the United States rather than the "agrarian aristocracy" which has had a stranglehold on these countries.

The luncheon brought to a close the Associated Mid-Florida College Institute on Latin America, being held this week on the campuses of Rollins, Florida Southern, Bethune-Cookman and Florida Presbyterian. The Institute was sponsored by the Sperry and Hutchinson Foundation of New York.

In addition to Dr. Dean, other speakers this week included Dr. David Burks, Director of Non-Western Studies at the University of Indiana and Ugo Sacchetti, Senior Economic Advisor of the World Bank in Washington.

Hollon Chosen To Lead Government

On Wednesday night with the announcement of the Council of the Student Association a year of hard work in Reorganising Student government came to an end. The Rollins students made the Union look like Time Square on New Years eve with all their enthusiasm after the announcement of the new members.

Al Hollon who beat Bill Blackburn by 262 votes is President of the New Council. Al, who feels the President should act as a catalyst, wants to institute many new ideas for Rollins next year. He feels a symposium of great speakers would be very educational. Harvard has such event where they invite people like Richard Nixon. This spring he group's representative in the House. Bill also feels since the students are the major shareholders of Rollins they should have the right to vote on tenure of faculty members.

Josie Bidgood, who ran on a platform that promoting a pass-fail system, a revaluation of the winter courses, and setting of student association salaries in the by-laws, polled the third largest number of votes.

Polling the fourth largest number of votes was Sarah Perrott. She said that this year it is the "New Rollins and next year the improved Rollins", Sarah hopes that the Council can make the paper plan that hasn't yet met the test of reality work.

Dan Pincetich won a position on the Council with 2620 votes. He hopes that Student Government next year can extend library hours and he also wants election procedures changed so the negative block voting will be ended in the future.

Carole Conklin hopes that she can make 1967 the year of a successful Reorganization through the work of the Council.

Jack Meyers, another member of next year's council, hopes to promote better communication, participation and internal financial control.

Bill Bieberbach and Connie Griffin rounded out the council by filling the last two positions.

The voting for the council went as follows: (1) Hollon 4060, (2) Blackburn 3798, (3) Bidgood 3066, (4) Perrott 2682, (5) Pincetich 2620, (6) Conklin 2587, (7) Griffin 2124, (10) Redding 1973, (11) Kirouac 1966, (12) Keyes 1821, (13) Shippin 1769, (14) Myers, B. 1665, (15) Wolf 1655, (16) McFadden 1637, (17) Doudna 1554, (18) Crosby 1358, (19) Seal 1323.

The Council will not be able to operate until May 1, 1967 when the faculty members will be appointed to the Faculty-Administration Council.

With a strong turnout by the Greeks to vote for their candidates 668 people cast ballots with only five of them being nullified.

Al Hollon

hopes, with the cooperation of the school lawyer, to begin a series of clinics for members of Lower Court and the Investigation Committee.

Hollon, upon finding out that he is next year's President made the following statement "I wish to extend my sincere gratitude to all those who supported me, and I hope that I can fulfill the job expected of me."

Bill Blackburn polled 3,789 votes to win Vice President of the Council. Bill hopes to promote better communications between the Council and the Students by means of the Sandspur, a newsletter and each social

THE SPUR SPEAKS

The ratification of the reorganization of the student council by the faculty of April 10 means a step forward for student government at Rollins. The reorganized student association has resulted in new efficiency and organization in the conduct of student affairs at Rollins. In this mass organization efficiency there is, however, one glaring pocket of poverty - the Rollins Student Center.

The center, as a student organization is charged with the responsibility of unifying student life and sponsoring a broad extracurricular program of education and entertainment. Yet the problem is that, as it is now organized, the center is incapable of meeting this responsibility. Even a cursory look at its program of offerings this year would show that this is true.

The problem with the center is inherent in its organizational structure. First, the members of the Board of Directors, the Program Administrative Council, and the various committees, which are given the responsibility for planning the center's programs, are all appointed by last year's Board of Directors. Thus, the students are not given a voice in choosing the leaders and deciding policies. Secondly, the social group representatives to the Program Administrative Council are not given the right to vote. This means, in practice, that the students have no control over either center activities or policies. This is grossly unfair to the students. After all, the only reason for the existence of the union is to serve as a center of student life. If the center is to do this, naturally students must be given a voice that counts in planning the programs.

Last year the center was allocated $22,170.74 to finance its programs by the Student Association. This amount, nearly one half of the entire student association budget, came from the activity fee assessed each student as part of his tuition charge. Doesn't it seem unjust that the majority of students are given no voice in deciding who is going to spend this money and how it will be spent?

Talk to any of the so-called student center leaders and one topic inevitably comes up: the apathy of the Rollins student body. "Student here just don't become involved in union activities" they say. And yet, isn't the reason for this attitude apparent? How can students be anything but apathetic toward an organization over which they have no control and in which they have no vote? The solution here is obvious: involvement by participation.

As a first step the social group representatives should be given a vote on the Program Administration Council. Secondly, the Student Center Board of Directors should be elected by the House of the Student Association on recommendations.

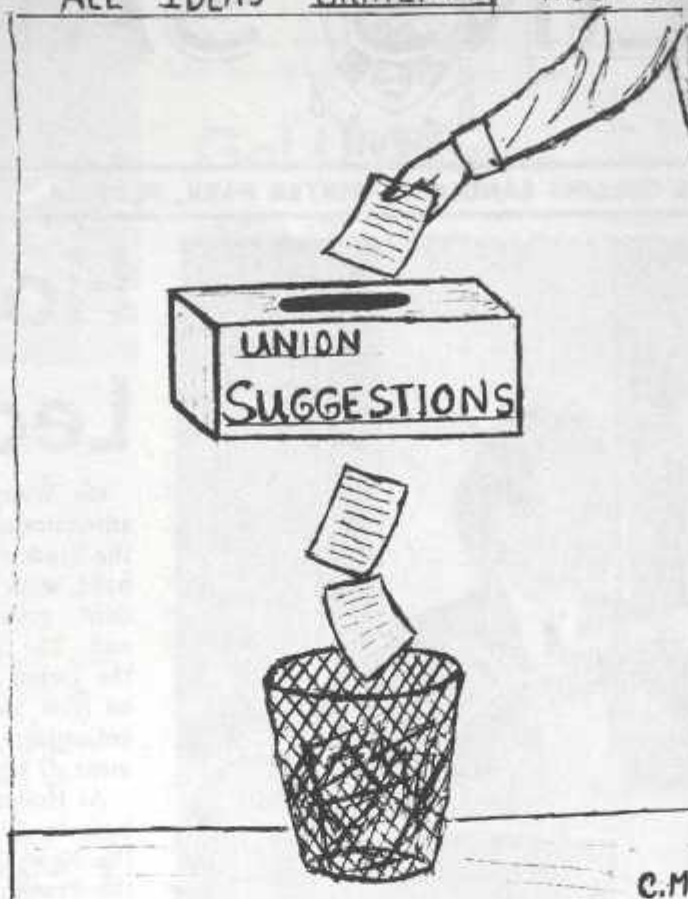

The advantage of such a proposal is obvious: the students will be given the responsibility and the right to decide for themselves the nature and extent for which they pay.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

As you may know, during the week of April 3, the Alumni office succeeded in assembling and mailing nearly 8,000 fund appeal brochures on the new Enyart Alumni Fieldhouse to all Alumni throughout the country.

The task of sending out the above-mentioned brochures was not an easy one, and would have been impossible (or quite costly) without the tremendous assistance of many student volunteers. The Alumni office is most grateful to all who helped with this mailing, and particularly thank the following groups, who turned out in force:

Alpha Phi
 Gamma Phi Beta
 Independent Women
 Kappa Kappa Gamma Pi Beta Phi
 Sigma Nu
 Tau Kappa Epsilon

You may be interested to know that our first "returns" have been received, with most encouraging results. Bids will soon be let and construction will be underway in a short time.

Many thanks again!

Sincerely,
 Walter M. Hundley
 Director of Alumni Affairs

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the faculty, friends, Student Center Staff, and students for the flowers and sympathy notes on the death of my mother. Upon consideration of all such benevolent offerings and sympathies, I find it extremely difficult to express my most sincere appreciation.

Thank you,
 Tongee Williams

Dear Editor:

I feel that a great deal of unrest has arisen among the women students. Assuming that a portion of the responsibility of the Dean of Women is to care about and guide the women students on this campus, I find it most disturbing to recall her attitude that seems to state "I don't think I could imagine myself in the place of today's student."

The consequences of such an attitude are not only wrong and disturbing in this instance, but unfortunately appear to be the fault of many students, and the faculty, and administration alike. The consequential result is the lack of understanding which probably contributes to the antagonistic confusion between many of the students, administration and faculty. The ignoring and oppression rather than solution of this problem may result in apathy.

I believe communication would begin to take place on campus more successfully if all concerned would begin to imagine themselves in the place of others.

Narrow-minded attitudes need to grow and restore hope for honest communication.

V. H.

GRAPEVINE

Is Rick Mello really engaged?

As a duty to further righteousness among fellow men, the Grapevine would like Joan Farwell to tell Chuck the whole truth!

Barb Baccus was recently discovered living under an assumed name at Harper's.

WILL MIKE STONE TRY TO GET AN ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIP FROM THE KAPPAS?

Well, those of you who admire perseverance in a person, can get up at 6:00 some morning and watch the dynamic "Arm" run several miles and do exercises. Mike is practicing cross country running and has cut down on smoking considerably. Although he claims this rigorous endeavor is a move to whip himself into shape to meet the rigid requirements as a draftee in the Army, experts believe that possibly he is training to set a new world's record — like running all the way to Harper's for a beer.

LOST AND NOT FOUND: One 42D Bra and a nightgown. Lost somewhere in Cocktail Acres. Could last be seen on Pam Booth and David Burke respectively.

Marion Brewer—Rollins answer to a Marine drill instructor.

Talk about bad luck, Gus bought three baseball bats and broke them all in one day!

K.P.—Color Tom blue during your hell week.
 Enjoy your visit to Duke, Jan.

Hello madam, I'm Boyd Coffie, your friendly Amway salesman.

Fred Gittes keeps playing switchys—He was been with Dutchy again. Aw c'mon Fred.

Wallen Shook recently auditioned for a part in the "Fugitive." Did Richard Kimble ever blow lunch in a police car?

The traffic committee has announced that a special parking space directly in front of the Sigma Nu house is now officially reserved for Zippy.—No more worries.

The word is that spoolies are out and straight haid is in. For proof, see George Lamb.

The truth is out—Mark Billson can not hold his liquor in his hand any way. He dropped his glass on the dance floor at the Harper's party Tuesday night!

BYLINE HARPER'S: The Jamaican party was a tremendous success. But it is obvious by now that everyone who attended Tuesday night will attest to the fact that a Planter can pack Punch!

George "Fred Astaire" Draper showed magnificent style and grace in the "Dirty dance" contest at Harper's. His partner was none other than . . . Carole Conklin!

Last week Elizabeth Hall looked like an "exhibition" hall. Some guy was running around inside one night. He was easy to recognize—he wore his pants too low!

Wednesday a fire started at Harper Shepherd field. Maybe Joe was trying to light it under his team. 400 or Bust! (or is it Burn?)

There is a new game catching on with the Rollins Faculty. It is called watch him leave. To play, use a good teacher, let him prove himself a good instructor, pay him a terrible salary, and then watch him leave!

Rumor has it that there are many teachers leaving. It's getting to be like a dollar a car load at the drive-in theater.

Mrs. A. J. Hanna

Mrs. Hanna Noted Fla. Historian, Dies

Funeral services for Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna, noted Florida historian, educator and author who died Sunday at her Winter Park home, were Tuesday at All Saints Episcopal Church in Winter Park.

Mrs. Hanna was the wife of Dr. A. J. Hanna, first vice president at Rollins College.

An outstanding educator, Mrs. Hanna spent one third of her notable 45-year career at Florida State College for Women, now Florida State University. As Head of the Department of History, Geography, and Political Science, she helped develop the curriculum at the College and was instrumental in securing for the Tallahassee institution the first chapter in Florida of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity.

As a noted historian, she was decorated by the French government, received an honorary degree from Rollins, and was cited by the University of Florida for her "unique and invaluable contributions to the cultural and political progress of this state and this nation."

In 1941 she moved to Central Florida and for a quarter of a century led many movements to improve education and advance good government on local, state and national levels. She worked with the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs as lecturer, as well as making interstate tours for the League of Women Voters. Her lecture tours also took her to Mexico, Colombia and Cuba, and at Rollins alone she appeared on more than 45 programs in surveying the Latin American theme.

She was appointed by several governors to posts on official commissions. She served eight years on the State Library Board, six years as chairman; 10 years on the Florida Board of Parks and Historical Memorials. Former Gov. LeRoy Collins named her to the Florida Constitutional Advisory Commission in 1955, making her the only woman to serve on the board. Her last such appointment was to the Quadricentennial Commission. She was also secretary of the Florida Citizens Committee on Education.

As an author, Dr. Hanna was commissioned by the University of North Carolina Press to write a history of the state, "Florida, Land of Change." She and her husband collaborated on three books of national renown: the "Lake Okeechobee" volume in the American Lakes Series (1948), "Florida's Golden Sands," an historical study of the Florida East Coast (1950) and "Confederate Exiles in Venezuela" (1960) in the Confederate Centennial series.

In preparing for her outstanding career as educator and scholar, Mrs. Hanna earned three degrees from Northwestern University. Research work took her to Harvard and Yale and on to the archives of England, France, Mexico.

Gustafson Discusses Issues

Last Monday, April the tenth, there was exhibited a new height in faculty-student communication. This was marked by the passing of the reorganization proposal as presented by the Student Association to the faculty. This reorganization is something long sought by myself as well as every other student on the campus. This passage of the new constitution will stand as a landmark to us the students as an indication of the confidence that the faculty has shown in us. Let us now prove to them that we are completely capable of accepting this responsibility.

As I have stated before, this plan will only be as effective as are those people chosen to run it. If the leaders selected on April 19th are not capable, then this reorganization proposal will be ineffective. If, however, good, capable leaders are elected, we will then be able to experience a form of student government which, I feel, will be unequalled for many years to come. It is up to us to help and guide a new form of government by giving it our own active support. Without our help and support it can do nothing.

Let us look for a moment at the things accomplished thus far by the new reorganization proposal. The first accomplishment is the abolishment of the Social Review Committee which took such a great toll on our student body this past summer. Second, we will no longer see the long delays caused by the legislative referrals of bills and amendments to the Faculty-Administration Committee and the Faculty Commission. Third, we will have a better means of communication with the faculty and Administration through our new fifteen man Student Government Council. Fourth, we will have more positions available in student government so that more students will be able to become involved in student and college affairs.

In closing I strongly urge each and every student who made this new form of government possible to now get behind it and give it his full support in the up and coming year.

Remember, the success or failure of this new system will depend on us the students and those leaders who command the important positions which this new form of government has now established.

Sincerely,
Robert Gustafson
President, Student Assn.

Walt Waidley Marks Tenth Year As Campus Patrolman

Walter Waidley, campus cop extraordinaire, is currently celebrating his tenth anniversary as the watchful overseer of Rollins parking places. When not making his numerous rounds, Walt may be found sitting peacefully in the living room of the X-Club, enjoying his favorite past-time, watching the Jeopardy T.V. show. Walt is an honorary member of the X-Club Fraternity, in fact, he is so honorable that his advice is frequently sought regarding answers to Jeopardy. He is now in the process of training a protégé for his position when he retires, a four-month-old mongrel who follows him faithfully and is progressing well.

This month marks the sesquicentennial of our nation's entry into the First World War. The A.E.F. proved to be a costly campaign particularly for an Illinois widow, Mrs. Lena Waidley. President Wilson declared her "All-American Gold Star Mother," having lost four sons resulting from the conflict. Her surviving son, Walter, was both wounded and gassed in overseas action. He served in the Army for nine years, a period during which he delighted his boxing audiences as an aspiring welterweight.

Walter Waidley maintained an active membership in the V.F.W. after his military retirement. Recipient of the Purple Heart for his injuries incurred in battle, he later became Commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. Walt's biography is further enhanced with his election to Commander of the V.F.W. post named for his family. He then enlisted in the Aurora, Illinois, Police Department. During his twenty years of service, he achieved an outstanding record enforcing law which precipitated the conferral of his title Honorary Police Chief. Walt embarked in a new enterprise upon leaving the Police Department. "Walt's Snack Shop" was the site of teenage congregation in the 50's.

Walt arrived at Rollins bearing an impressive record. Recognition of his family's military sacrifice was bestowed upon him by Illinois Governor Kerner in the form of a statue of Abraham Lincoln. For his own outstanding service and patriotism, he was awarded by both Congressmen Guernsey and Herlong flags flown over the Capitol. Walt recently has been distinguished by his commission as Colonel of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Throughout his career at Rollins, Walt Waidley has demonstrated temperance and understanding toward the students, and over a ten-year period, he has found it necessary to report only three students for misbehavior.

Speakers Bureau Attend Foreign Policy Seminar

A Rollins Speakers Bureau delegation of five students attended a seminar on the U.S.S.R. the weekend of April 8th and 9th at the University of Pennsylvania.

The highlight of the conference was an opening address by Dr. Hans Morganthau of the University of Chicago. Dr. Morganthau, famous for his "pasturization" policy toward post-war Germany appraised realistically the history of Soviet-American relations as a series of misunderstandings between the two super powers. These misunderstandings originated from the inability of each nation to take into consideration the fact that the national interests of both powers rather than ideological differences have always been the main determinant of both foreign policies.

The remainder of the seminar consisted lectures analyzing every aspect of the Soviet Union's foreign policy around the world. Periods of students discussion followed each lecture.

The Bureau delegation played an active part in making the whole conference a success. Attending delegates were Mark Billson, Bob Hochschild, Nona Gandleman, James Leahy, and Fred Gittes.

As a natural consequence of the Bureau's attending this event of topical importance, the Bureau intends to hold a panel discussion. This discussion will endeavor to convey to the students each delegate's impressions and new insights into the Soviet Union's foreign policy.

Student Council Reports

By JACK MYERS

The following report combines both the April 10 and April 18 meetings of Student Council.

In the past two meetings, most of the committee chairman have submitted their annual report to the legislature. Besides these committee reports, there have been suggestions given to the chairmen.

One of the legislators suggested to Greg Wandke that he have a surprise check in the Beanery one night to make sure that students were dressing properly. Debbie Wood suggested that they keep the coffee percolators full since they seem to be empty by 6:00 p.m. A final suggestion was made by Bob Gustafson, who suggested to Greg that both food lines should remain open until at least 6:30 because many of the athletic teams arrive late.

Debbie Wood announced that applications for comptroller should be in to her by this coming Sunday. Students who are interested should make sure they fulfill all qualifications.

At the April 10 meeting, Bill Blackburn made a long-awaited-for announcement, "both the Reorganization plan and the Court Revision were passed today by the Faculty." Dean Hicks then presented several new changes in the Faculty By-Laws which support Reorganization. He also thanked individually the key people responsible for making the plan a reality.

In the April 10 meeting, two stipulations concerning eligibility of nominees for council were asked to be waived by the legislature. Linda Seele and Gene Shippen asked that the two meeting requirement be extended until the April 17 meeting. Jean Norris requested the 7.0 grade requirement be waived in order for her to run for council with a 6.98 average. Both requests failed. But in the April meeting, Bill Blackburn announced that Linda Seele and Gene Shippen will be on the ballot due to Upper Courts approval of an appeal.

The new voting members of the legislature are Miss Lasiter for independent women, Cy Grandy for Kappa Alpha, and Julie Wolf for Kappa Kappa Gamma. Bill Blackburn also announced that there must be more applicants for women's day student representative before the day student election can take place.

Tom Sacha, Chairman of Lower Court, announced that application are now being accepted for the positions of Lower Court Chairman and members, and the members of the Investigating Committee.

Also application for positions of editor of the Tomokan, Sandspur and Flaming are now being received at Box 729. Applications must be submitted by April 30, 1967.

These past two weeks many proposals have been passed by the legislature. The motion concerning the Grant-in Aid fund was untabled. The motion was passed which states that the fines levied in the Lower and Faculty Courts will be allocated to the Grand-in Aid Fund. This fund, which is managed by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Woman, is designed to help students who cannot afford all the necessary expenses of school.

Salary requests for the Executive Board were untabled. They were 250 dollars for the comptroller, secretary and vice president and 400 dollars for the president. The legislature passed this request unanimously.

Bill Blackburn proposed that the delegation of the S.U.S.G.A. Convention be composed of the new president and vice-president of the council, the new Speaker and Secretary of the House and a member of Lower Court. This proposal was also passed.

The floor was open for nominations for Speaker of the House. Fred Gittes and Dave Lord were nominated. Bill Blackburn reminded the legislature that nominations can still be made next week.

Bob Gustafson announced that the installation of the new council will be next week. He urged all students to attend since it will be the first action of our new government.

This is the extent of the business in the last two Student Council Meetings.

McKean Plans Art Speech

Rollins College President Hugh McKean is to deliver the third in his series of talks on art Sunday at 4 p.m. in Crummer Hall on the college campus.

The talk will be entitled "Glass, the Fragile Liquid."

Following the talk the Winter Park Villager is to be on hand to assist in transporting those attending to the Morse Gallery of Art for a special tour of the Tiffany collection.

McKean began the series two weeks ago last Sunday with a talk entitled "Art Nouveau, the Mystery School." The topic last week was "Louis Tiffany, the Elegant Rebel."

Barbara Moersch, winner of the Miss Harper's Contest

Alpha Phi Winner In Beauty Contest

Barbara Moersch was named Miss Harper's in the Fred Stone Theatre on April 13. The contest was sponsored by Dick Barnett, owner of Harper's Tavern. Each fraternity entered one girl in the contest. There were five semi-finalists. They were: Miss Hannah Hempstead, a Pi Beta Phi, sponsored by the X Club; Marcy Edwards, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, sponsored by Sigma Nu; Molly Heiner, a Kappa Kappa Gamma, sponsored by Kappa Alpha; Julie Nicony, a Kappa Alpha Theta, sponsored by Delta Chi; and the winner, Barbara Moersch, an Alpha Phi, sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

There was a preliminary meeting the Tuesday preceding the contest. The contestants were asked their hobbies, courses at Rollins, and their talents. Barbara, a sophomore, is a pre-med student here at Rollins. She would like to attend graduate school at the University of Pennsylvania. Her hobbies are horseback riding and water skiing.

During the actual contest on the 13th, each contestant was required to model both a bathing suit and a formal. Each girl was required to answer one humorous question. Barbara was asked how she would get a boy to notice her at a party. Barbara received a one hundred dollar scholarship for winning. Later that evening she and her date were given a free dinner at the Shez Aline.

Being Miss Harper's entitles Barbara to enter the Miss Winter Park Contest. This Contest will be held at 8:00 p.m. on May 6 in the Winter Park High School Auditorium. The contest will be sponsored by the Winter Park Jaycee's. Good luck, Barb!

Rollins Players Prepare Last Production Of Year

Monday, May 1, marks student night for the final production in the Annie Russell Theatre, THE WALTZ OF THE TOREADORS.

Produced by the Rollins Players, and directed by Charles Nisbet, this comedy by Jean Anouilh, considered by many to be the greatest of European playwrights, is high comedy, exciting, funny, ironic, and cruel.

It concerns General St. Pe, quitte, a soldier and lover in his day; his wife, who spends all her time in bed abusing him roundly; two very plain daughters who bore him to tears; his secretary, a priggish young man who wakes up to the pleasures of love; Mlle. de St-Euverte, who has guarded her virtue for years following a waltz with the General and who returns to claim him; Dr. Bonfant, the General's great friend and enemy; a flirtatious dressmaker; a drunken priest; and others. The General, who can bring himself to do all things except injure his wife, evades the issue of Mlle. de St-Euverte, who in despair turns to the young secretary. The long consultations between Dr. Bonfant and the General's wife prove to be not entirely medical in scope — and so it goes.

If you haven't seen a production here at Rollins yet this year, now is your chance to do so. It's a good play, a good cast, and a good Monday evening. (It at least makes Monday a little more tasteful). Tickets will be distributed in the Beanery beginning Monday, April 24th.

For Miss Hoskins is 'thinking out loud' for a purpose that quickly becomes clear — to encourage all who read her into an attitude of receptiveness to the chief sources of our spirit's strength and refreshment — the presence of God, and the patience of Nature."

"With her, we are relaxed, we placidly enjoy ourselves, until 'One would scarcely dream./ In a setting so serene and still./ That somewhere war's black song is sung . . ."

Rollins Nine Journeys To Stetson Saturday

Rollins puts its Florida Intercollegiate Conference lead on the line Saturday, traveling to DeLand for a twinbill.

The Tars return to action at Harper-Shepherd Field Monday, hosting the University of South Florida at 3:30 p.m. USF has won 11 straight since falling 8-6 to the Tars in Rollins' opening game Mar. 3.

Next Wednesday coach Joe Justice's nine journeys to the University of Tampa for a single game, then wraps up its F.I.C. title defense Apr. 29 in a home doubleheader with the Spartans.

Leading the F.I.C. with a 3-1 record so far, the Tars have won seven of their last eight starts for a 14-11 overall mark. Stetson is 2-2 in the conference and 8-9 overall.

Key to Rollins' success in the past three weeks has been the pitching staff. Tar hurlers have yielded just four earned runs in the past 65 innings for a phenomenal 0.55 team ERA, while fanning 57 opposing batters.

Sophomore aces Gale Coleman (6-2, 1.63), who defeated Florida Southern twice last week, and Joe Lasorsa (1-1, 0.36), second in the nation in strikeouts and working on a string of 24 innings without an earned run, are slated to pitch Saturday's twinbill with Ken Hill (2-0, 2.30) or Rick Loghry (1-1, 3.95) on the hill Monday.

Reliever Donnie Smith (2-1, 2.79) and freshman Eric Schwobel (0-1, 5.83) round out Justice's taut mound corps.

Tar right-fielder Bob Schabes slides by Florida Southern catcher Bobby D'Angio with winning run Saturday as Tars edged Southern 2-1 in nine innings.

Coleman Hurls Tars Past Southern For F.I.C. Lead

Jeff Burns' two-out single to right scored Bob Schabes, who had doubled, with the tie-breaking run in the ninth inning Saturday to give Rollins a 2-1 victory and a doubleheader split with Florida Southern in Lakeland.

Saturday's win, coupled with a 4-1 decision over the Moccasins at home Apr. 10, left the defending FIC champion Tars with a share of the first week conference lead. Southern won the twinbill opener 5-1.

Coach Joe Justice's ace southpaw Gale Coleman was working on a two-hit shutout until singles by Don Sabatini and Bobby D'Angio, sandwiched around an infield out, tied the score in the bottom of the seventh and final frame, setting the stage for Burns' ninth inning heroics.

Coleman, who posted his sixth win in eight decisions while lowering his ERA to 1.63, singled home Don Phillips in the fifth with Rollins' other marker.

In the opener Southern scored five unearned runs in the fifth to spoil a scoreless duel between Rollins' Joe Lasorsa and Southern's Jeff Pryor. Burns dropped a throw at the plate with the bases loaded to open the gates for the Mocs.

Pryor blanked the Tars on three hits until the ninth, when singles by Bob Gustafson and Schabes, around a walk to Phillips, wiped out the shutout. Pryor fanned nine in seven innings, while Lasorsa, who extended his string of innings without an earned run to 24, struck out six in five frames.

Scattering nine hits and stranding 12 Southern runners, Coleman hurled Rollins to a 4-1 decision in the series opener.

The Tars staked Coleman to a 4-0 lead by scoring duces in the first and third frames.

Bob Chandler drove in two with a sacrifice fly and a single, while Gustafson and Phillips chased home one each with a ground out and a single respectively. Phillips collected two other hits.

Coleman pitched out of bases-loaded jams in the third and fourth innings and left two aboard in the sixth and ninth. Pryor fanned 13 batters in six innings of relief.

Grand slam homeruns by Bob Chandler and Danny Rosen highlighted a 14-hit attack as the Tars routed Oglethorpe College of Atlanta 15-1 Apr. 13.

Rollins pulled away fast, scoring four runs in the first and five in the second. Chandler's 420-foot blast to left center capped the second inning uprising, while Rosen's 350-foot left field smash concluded the Tar scoring in the eighth.

Gordy Lynch drove in three runs with a double and two singles, while Chandler, Schabes, Burns and winning pitcher Donnie Smith collected two hits apiece.

Rollins started its five-game winning streak two weeks ago as Coleman and Lasorsa hurled the Tars to a 3-2, 3-0 doubleheader victory over Harvard.

Yielding just a pair of tainted markers, Coleman chalked up his fourth win on a four-hitter. He fanned eight. Lasorsa blanked the Crimson on three hits in the nightcap, fanning 12 in seven innings.

Singles by Burns and Pedro Font, plus two Harvard errors, gave Rollins two runs in the third inning of opener. The Tars added the eventual winning tally in the fifth on an error, a walk and Gustafson's RBI single.

Gustafson threw the tying run out at the plate in the sixth after back-to-back doubles and a single put Harvard within range. Lasorsa got all the support he needed in the second game when Phillips singled in the second and raced home on a pair of Harvard errors.

He survived a leadoff triple in the third and pitched masterfully until he and Burns singled home two markers for breathing room in the sixth.

Erupting for 12 runs on 13 hits, the Tars crushed Harvard 12-1 Apr. 7 in the series finale. Ken Hill picked up his second victory in as many starts for Rollins.

Gustafson chased home three runners with a two-run single in the first and a triple in the second, while Burns' banged out three safeties, including two three baggers.

Tom Flagg and Chandler also slammed two hits, while Font hit his first homerun of the season with a man aboard in the third.

Case Fires 3-Hit Shutout At Hats

Junior right-hander Sterling Case blanked Stetson University 4-0 on three hits Wednesday to give Rollins undisputed possession of the Florida Intercollegiate Conference lead going into Saturday's doubleheader at Stetson.

The win was Case's second of the season against no losses and boosted his string of scoreless innings to 19 since he broke into major college baseball with Rollins this spring.

Rollins now stands 3-1 in F.I.C. play, while Stetson, which took two of three from Tampa last week, shares second place with Florida Southern at 2-2.

Case, who didn't walk a man in nine innings and fanned four, permitted just one Stetson runner past second base.

That was in the first inning when consecutive singles by Rick Webb and Jim Thomas put runners on first and third with one out. Case retired the next two batters on pop-ups to end the threat.

After yielding a one-out single to shortstop David Reid in the third, the little righty set down 17 Hatters in a row until Gordy Lynch booted Reid's grounder leading off the ninth.

Catcher Jeff Burns singled home Bob Gustafson, who had singled and stolen second base, with the first Rollins marker in the second.

The Tars did not score again until Case and shortstop Pedro Font singled in a pair of runs in the seventh, chasing loser Craig Gruber.

Consecutive singles by Gustafson, Don Phillips and Bob Schabes produced the final Tar tally in the eighth. Gustafson and Schabes paced a nine-hit attack with two safeties each.

Linksters Win F.I.C. Tourney

LAKELAND — Rollins' golf team edged runnerup Stetson eight strokes here Monday to win the Florida Intercollegiate Conference tournament for the third straight year.

Seniors Joe Browning and Bob Lewis shared the individual lead for the 36-hole meet with Stetson's Wayne Brasie at 148.

Browning fired a 79-69-148, while Lewis checked in with 74-74-148.

Three other Tar regulars finished in the top ten, Russ Taylor (75-77-152), Terry Law (76-78-154) and Ronnie Lehr (75-80-155).

Leading by six strokes after the first 18 holes, Rollins boosted their margin by two in the afternoon to down Stetson. Florida Southern and Tampa took third and fourth.

Rollins has won the F.I.C. crown seven times in eight tries since its inception in 1960.

Tar Oarsmen Bid For Eight Straight Vs. Tampa Sat.

Shooting for its eighth straight dual race victory of the season, Rollins' varsity crew takes on the University of Tampa at 11 a.m. Saturday on Lake Maitland.

Coach Jim Lyden's Tars, who defeated Tampa by a boat length on the Hillsborough River Apr. 1, are facing their final test before attempting to regain the state title at the State Regatta in Tampa Apr. 29.

Rollins' oarsmen enter the race with a 7-1 record, having beaten Marist, East Carolina, Amherst, Iona, Tampa, Jacksonville and Florida Southern since dropping their opener to national college champion Marietta Mar. 21.

Hoping to recover the state championship after losing to Florida Southern by less than a length last year, the Tars have beaten all three rivals for the crown in dual races this month.

Under Dr. U. T. Bradley, now assisting coach Lyden as Faculty Director of Rowing, Rollins won 10 of 15 state titles, including six straight crowns from 1960-1965.

Coming from behind over the last half of the course, the Tar varsity edged Florida Southern by three seats in Lakeland Saturday to post its seventh consecutive win. Southern handed Rollins' junior varsity its third loss in eight starts by about the same margin.

Southern's eight opened a two-seat lead in the first ten strokes and pulled four places in front at the halfway mark.

However, the Moccasins, who rowed at a 40-stroke per minute clip the entire race, tired about two-thirds of the way through as Rollins pulled ahead by about four seats.

Starting at 44 strokes per minute, the Tars cut back to 39, then settled to 36 in outlasting Southern and crossing the course in 4:00.6. Rollins' JV trailed all the way as FSC hung on to edge the Baby Tars by a fraction of a second.

Varsity boating shows George Kuta, bow; Craig Lilja, 2; Bill Blackburn, 3; Dave Nix, 4; John Tremaine, 5; Tony Tremaine, 6; John Jenks, 7; Jay Gustafson, stroke; and Chris Wilder, coxswain.

Robin Roberts, Jim Murphey, Bill McMunn, Ned Grandin, Don Leporini, Tom Cutler, Chris Yard, Sandy Duncan and coxswain Don Robins man the JV boat.

Clanton's HR Powers Lambda Chi By Sig Ep

First baseman Chris Clanton's grand slam homerun capped a five-run uprising in the top of the eighth inning Monday to give Lambda Chi a 17-14 softball upset over Sig Ep.

The loss left second place Sig Ep with a 4-2 record, while Lambda Chi climbed into a three-way tie with TKE and the X Club for fifth place at 3-3.

Unbeaten in six starts, defending champion Sigma Nu has a firm hold on the top spot. Sig Ep is second, followed by the Faculty-Grads (3-2) and the Phi Delt (3-2).

Lambda Chi led 10-3 going into the fifth, but Sig Ep erupted for nine markers to take a 12-10 advantage. In the seventh Lambda Chi rallied to tie on Joe Bohannon's two-run double following singles by Tris Colket and Clanton.

Steve Westgate opened the eighth by reaching first on third baseman Pete Taylor's error, then moved to third on a single by Bill Osburn where he scored the tie-breaking run when Lane Vosbury booted Colket's fly.

A walk and an out later Clanton delivered the clinching blast. John Newbold's two-run four-bagger accounted for a pair of Sig Ep tallies in the eighth.

Sigma Nu remained unbeaten the past two weeks by swamping the Phi Delt 24-5 Apr. 7 and Delta Chi 10-2 Apr. 11.

An eight-run first inning and nine-run second powered the Snakes by the Phi Delt. Bill Hartog homered for the winners, while John Snider smashed a four-bagger for the Phi Delt.

Leading 5-1 after five innings, Sigma Nu exploded for five runs in six hits in the sixth to put the Delt game out of reach. Bill

Jackson spun a three-hitter for the Snakes and hit a homerun to help his cause. Hartog also homered for Sigma Nu.

X Club snapped a three-game losing streak by downing KA 15-8 Apr. 5, Lambda Chi 17-7 Apr. 10 and the Indies 22-8 Apr. 13 behind the pitching of Jack Myers.

A nine-run second inninig, capped by George Draper's homer, highlighted the win over KA. Scotty Green also homered for the winners, as did KA's Bill Caler and Mike Corbett.

Exploding for 12 markers in the opening frame, X Club built a 14-0 lead before Lambda Chi rallied for seven runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Green and Corky Higgins paced the Club attack with three hits each, while Bohannon homered for the losers.

Against the Indies the Clubbers again posted a big first inning, tagging indie hurler Scott Clay for eight runs. X Club had a 22-1 bulge when the Indies scored seven times in the seventh.

TKE also climbed in the standings, posting upset victories over Lambda Chi 13-10 Apr. 5 and Sig Ep 9-8 Friday sandwiched around a surprising 14-9 loss to the Indies.

The Tekes rallied for nine runs in the last three innings to edge Lambda Chi. Lambda Chi tagged winner Bill Howard for four runs in the fourth to take a 9-4 lead, but TKE came right back

Netters Win 16th; Face Miami April

Rollins' tennis team boosted its record to 16-4 with victories over Stetson and Eastern Kentucky Apr. 10 and 11.

Snapping a three-match losing streak, the Tar netters blanked Stetson 9-0 for the second time this year to virtually sew up the Florida Interscholastic Conference crown. The Tars have won four F.I.C. matches and have only a May 1 match with Tampa remaining in conference play.

After dropping a tough 5-4 decision to Florida State Apr. 3, coach Norm Copeland's Tars fell twice to mighty Florida, 7½-1½ and 8-1, Apr. 5 and 8.

Only sophomore Cliff Montgomery, beaten just twice in two collegiate seasons, escaped defeat against the Gators. Montgomery edged Steve Beeland 10-8, 12-10, in a thriller at Gainesville, then squeaked by the Gator sophomore 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, at home.

Ron Van Gelder, Bob McCannon, Chick Hawley, Jim Griffith and Bill Kinne all succumbed to Florida's sophomore wonders in two sets at home, while Hawley and Kinne took their opponents to three sets at Gainesville.

Florida coasted to a pair of two-set doubles wins in Gainesville as the other match was called a draw because of darkness.

Van Gelder and Kinne lost to Armi Neely and Beeland 7-5 in the third set the second time around, while Griffith and Montgomery fell to Ron Fick and Will Sherwood, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Against Stetson, McCannon, Hawley, Montgomery, Griffith, Buck Starbuck and Ira Gordon posted easy singles victories, then teamed to swamp the Hatters in three straight two-set doubles matches.

Van Gelder, McCannon, Hawley, Montgomery and Griffith won their singles matches in two sets Apr. 11 to sew up the win over Eastern Kentucky. Kinne was the only loser, 7-5, 6-1, to Steve Burley.

Hawley and Van Gelder chalked up the final point by dumping Sparky Snyder and Burley 6-3, 6-2, in doubles. Bernie Jarman and Starbuck, Gordon and Dennis Milner lost their matches in two sets.

The Tar netters return to action Apr. 29 as they travel to Coral Gables to meet nationally-ranked University of Miami.

Sigma Nu pitcher Bill Jackson slides into Sig Ep catcher John Newbold in a recent softball game. Jackson and the Snakes won 4-3.

Unbeaten Snakes Face Faculty-Grads Today

with four of its own in the fifth, then took an 11-9 lead with a three-run sixth.

After Bohannon cut the margin to a lone run with a homerun in the bottom of the sixth, TKE rallied for a pair of clinchers in the seventh on Mark Miller's four-bagger and two errors.

Leading all the way, the Tekes tagged Faculty-Grad ace Bill Bradley for 11-hits, scoring three runs in the fourth and four in the fifth to take a 9-3 lead.

Pitcher Bill Howard singled home the eventual winning run in the fifth, then survived four Faculty-Grad homeruns in the late innings to post his third win of the year.

Ed Branch drove in five runs for the losers on three four-baggers, including a two-run blast in the bottom of the seventh. Chuck Olsen also homered.

The Indies, losers of three close contests in their first five starts, erupted for nine runs in the fifth to erase an 8-3 deficit and down TKE 14-9 for their first win of the campaign.

Freshman John Leathers capped the rally with a three-run homer.

Sig Ep chalked up its fourth win Apr. 11, crushing KA 23-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Bisplinghoff. Pete Keyes homered for the winners, who scored 13 runs in the first two frames.

Scoring three unearned runs in the top of the seventh, the Faculty-Grads snapped a 3-3 tie Apr. 6 and defeated Delta Chi 6-3.

A pair of homeruns, a two-run smash by Jim Ackerman in the third and a solo shot by winner

Bill Bradley, gave the Faculty-Grads a 3-0 lead before Delta Chi tied the score in the bottom of the sixth on hits by Chuck Gordon and Waylan Shook, plus two errors.

USF Girls Snap Tar Net Streak

TAMPA — The University of South Florida upset the crippled Rollins women's tennis team 6-1 Apr. 8 to snap the Tars' 12-match winning streak that dated back to 1965.

With number three Mary Ann Foniri out of action and ace Kathy Blake and Wendy Overton ailing, Miss Virginia Mack's Tar girls could salvage only one doubles victory against a South Florida squad they had beaten 6-1 at home Feb. 4.

Miss Blake lasted just one set against Tish Adams before illness forced her to default and Guiliana Peterson, Jane Butts, Lucia Turnbull, and Rheua Stakey, all forced to move up in the lineup, were easy meat for the crack South Florida girls.

Unable to take her place in the singles lineup, Miss Overton teamed with Miss Peterson to down Tish Adams and Elesa Nelson 6-2, 6-2, for Rollins only point. Jacquie Adams and Debbie Garrison tripped Miss Butts and Miss Turnbull in the other doubles match.

Rollins had won six straight matches this season and 12 in a row since falling to the Winter Park Racquet Club late in 1965. The Tars had downed South Florida three times without a loss.

While the team suffered its first defeat this year, Miss Blake, Miss Peterson also suffered their first setbacks of the season. As doubles team Miss Butts and Miss Turnbull lost their first match of the year.

Pi Phi led as much as 14-8 in the deciding set and was within a point of victory on two occasions, before Kappa rallied for six quick points on Jane Blacklock's service.
