Pledging Procedures

Here's the rundown for all you rushees interested in pledging a sorority or fraternity:

Friday night, October 29, is the first evening of Formal Rush. Rushees will attend the sorority parties that they accepted invitations to on Wednesday night. The parties are one hour each in length with a fifteen minute break in between. The time is from 6:00 P.M. til 9:00 P.M. and the dress is casual.

Sidewalk Replaces Pathway

"Blessed is Rollins, for it has inherited the earth"—or at least a portion of it. This portion has been piled up on the west side of the Beanery for almost two weeks now and has generated some curiosity as to its purpose.

The soil originated at the intersection of Aloma and Highway 436 where Hubbard Construction is presently widening the turn lanes. They donated the excess dirt to the college according to Tom Wells, Director of Maintenance at Rollins, and dirt can sell for about $15.00 per cubic yard. It is going to be used to level off the hill between Horseshoe Drive and the Post Office and the Campus Bookstore. The path that students have previously trodden, will be no more; but instead will be a new sidewalk, making access to this frequented area more convenient.

The exact date of completion has not yet been determined. "We'll get to it as soon as possible," promises Mr. Wells.

BBT Soon Scheduled

The Student Center for social concerns will hold its second Benefit Backgammon Tournament on Tuesday evening, Nov. 2, in Pinehurst. Play will commence at 7:00 o'clock and T.V.'s will be out for the early election returns. Donations of $.50 per entrant will be used to sponsor a Christmas party for a group of retarded children. Sign up at Beans to compete for your share of the many exciting prizes!

Saturday, October 30, there will be a meeting in the lobby of McKean at 9:00 A.M. for the rushees to pick up their invitations to the afternoon sorority parties. These parties start at 12:00 P.M. and end at 4:00 P.M. The attire for these parties is dressy afternoon wear. At 4:15 each girl will return to the lobby of McKean to sign a preferential card, which should be kept secret until Sunday.

Saturday night, at 9:00 P.M., each fraternity will have an open house with a live band, which everyone is invited to.

Sunday, October 31, male rushees will go to Carnegie Hall to receive their bids. They may have up to six bids from different fraternities, but must choose only one. The fraternities will be lined up on Holt Avenue and the rushees must walk to the flag of the fraternity they chose to pledge. When everyone has made their choice, all the guys will go to their fraternity houses to wait for the line-up on Holt Avenue when the girls come running through. In the meantime, at 11:00 A.M., each girl who has signed a preferential card is asked to wait in her room for her bid to be slipped under the door. Day students will wait in the Lakeside Room of NWD for their bids. After a girl receives her bid she can go through the line of guys on Holt Avenue to the sorority of her choice. Then, all fraternities and sororities will go to lunch in the Beanery at the same time. After that, "It's great to be a Greek!"

Magic Highlights Friday

REMEMBER, The Amazing Kreskin will be appearing in the Bush Auditorium from 7-9 p.m. tonight, Friday, October 29. Come by and be amazed and astounded for a few hours before the parties get started! Tomorrow night, the Student Center will present the film, Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore at 8:00 p.m. in the Bush Auditorium. Another film, Witness for the Prosecution, will be shown on Tuesday evening, Nov. 2, at 8:00 p.m.

Next Friday, Nov. 5, there will be a dance in the Union from 9 - 1 featuring CLOCKWORK. And then on Saturday, Nov. 6, the film, In the Heat of the Night will be shown at 8 in Bush Aud.

Other films coming up are Big Deal on Madonna Street on Tuesday, Nov. 9, and Deliverance on Friday, Nov. 12 and Saturday, Nov. 13. Both will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Bush Auditorium.

If you would like to be involved in programming, publicity, or any aspect of the Student Center, why not stop by one of our meetings? They are held every Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 in the Student Center office. We always like to see new faces and hear new ideas!

Tears conclude 4 weeks of rush: happiness, sorrow.

Confusion Ends in Partys

Pledge Sunday is both the climax and the end of formal sorority and fraternity rush here at Rollins. Pledge Sunday has been preceded by the beginning teas, many and varied parties and dances, and Dead Week, which is followed by Greek weekend. Pledge Sunday this year is on Halloween, October 31.

On Pledge Sunday, those who have gone through rush and wish to go Greek will receive an invitation to join a sorority or fraternity in the morning. After the invitations have been given out, the new members will join their sorority or fraternity as pledges. This marks the end of four weeks of parties, confusion, and decisions.

On Pledge Sunday, sororities and fraternities often have parties together, and this year is no exception. The Kappa's will be with the Lambda's, the Chi O's with the Phi Delt's, the Theat's with the K.A.'s and NCM with the X club. The Sig Ep's, TKE's, Phi Mu's and Alpha Phi's have chosen to party alone on Pledge Sunday, believing that they can accomplish more by themselves.

Pledge Sunday will not only be the end of rush, but the beginning of many new experiences for those who have chosen to go Greek.

Rollins Survives 91 Yrs

Shawne K. Wickham

Ever since its opening in 1885, when Rollins College was both a college and an academy, it has been recognized as a progressive institution in areas of academic, athletic, leadership and financial strength. Rollins was named after Mr. Alonzo Rollins of Winter Park, in gratitude for his large monetary contributions which, in addition to gifts from other wealthy citizens and visitors, helped to found the college.

Throughout its existence, Rollins has had to deal with seemingly overpowering obstacles, including two "great freezes," an enormous fire which destroyed two of the eight buildings, two great depressions, and two world wars, all of which drastically reduced enrollment, and threatened to close down the institution. Fortunately, since its beginning, Rollins has maintained a high quality of leadership, in the persons of such educational leaders as Dr. Edward Hooker, Dr. Hamilton Holt, and Dr. Hugh McKean. With this leadership, as well as with a faculty which has also been of a consistently high quality, Rollins has continuously striven to uphold its founding ideals of "a small liberal arts college, coeducational, non-denominational, independent, comparable in its standards to older colleges in other sections of the country."

This year, Rollins will be commemorating its ninety-first year of existence by an all-college birthday celebration to be held on Thursday, November 4th. In a recent conversation with this reporter, LaRue Boyd, director of Public Relations at Rollins, stated that although this year's event will be slightly "low-key" in comparison to last year's ninety-year celebration, he expects it nevertheless to be a "delightful afternoon for all." There will be a picnic luncheon held on the lakefront behind McKean Hall, beginning at 11:30 a.m. The usual picnic-type food, including hot dogs and hamburgers, etc., will be provided by the Rollins food service—as well as enough birthday cake for all!

At this time, two additional activities which would coincide with the picnic luncheon are being investigated. The first activity involves an exhibition by the excellent Rollins waterski team. However, on account of the current rehabilitation of the damaged ski jump, it is uncertain as to whether repairs will be completed in time. The second activity under consideration is the possibility of a tolling of the chapel bells ninety-one times at noon on Thursday. Mr. Boyd is checking into several factors such as operations would involve, and so at this time, that activity is also indefinite.

Regardless of what additional activities will be scheduled, it can be certain that the birthday luncheon by itself will be greatly enjoyable. Everyone is encouraged to come and wish Rollins a "happy birthday"—and many happy returns!

Students Concern

October 25, 1976

Dear Editor,

Regarding last week's Sandspur article about Independents and freshmen, we have one major objection which we feel is completely justified concerning the headline on the story.

As freshmen, we feel that in no way have we been "rushed" by the Independents. The purpose of the Independent Forum was merely to inform students of an alternate way of living.

Both Independents and the author of the article were attempting to stress the fact that students are NOT rushed into becoming an independent, rather, they must decide for themselves on a personal basis. By headlining the story "Indies" Rush Freshmen' it totally changed the emphasis and perverted the purpose of the article.

Kim Scharff, Linda Maughan, Robin Hardy, Michele McPhillips, Shannon Doler

Dear Fellow Students,

I am sure you are all aware of the smoke sensors in your rooms. However, you may not realize how sensitive they are. Cooking and excessive smoking will set them off - I know from experience! So be cautious and follow fire regulations in order to avoid false fire alarms.

Holt House Social Plan

The Holt House Program which is a creative independent study program, will be hosting a social for all students. The social will be held Nov. 4 at 8:00 p.m. in the College Arms building, located on Holt Ave. and New York Ave.

The students who are presently involved in the program, will be providing a keg of beer and information on the various aspects of the program.

The Holt House Program allows the students to personally tailor and pursue their academic objectives. Thus, providing the student with a more individualized education. Those participating in the program represent students with a wide variety of academic goals and interests.

The Holt House Program invites all students, in all majors to come on out and join us for a different type of evening.

Thoughts on Play

Before a recent performance of "Candide" a number of cast and crew were polled on their reaction to AUDITIONS in general:

Sandy Hardy - it is an entire learning experience in itself, it makes me nervous.

John Hanlon - I don't think about them, I just go up and wing it.

Polly Miller - fun, it's a great opportunity for self-confidence.

Tom Joyner - slightly nerve-wracking but nothing to worry about if you're prepared

Wendy Caprioli - Nerves, worse than a performance

Melaney Holder - Competition.

Chip Johnson - I'm scared because anything can happen - you're unprepared.

Valerie John - I hate them because you're standing up there not knowing what the director wants and you're trying to please him and do well and your legs are shaking -- most supreme form of torture.

Lawry Robinson - I'm scared to death of them, that's why I don't do them anymore and became a technician.

Adraine Rosenthal - terror

Bev Johnson - If I'm prepared, they are okay but often with schoolwork and Annie Russell productions being on such a hectic level, I often don't have the chance to be prepared. Actually, it terrifies me.

Grover Gardner - I'm a good reader. I don't mind them in particular.

Cathy Casselberry - The ultimate masochism.

David Bass - It means having to prepare myself more extensively because an audition is actually more demanding than rehearsals themselves.

Richard Anderson - Terrorizing, anxiety-raising.

Jim McCall - They're not so hard if you know what you're doing, but then again, nobody ever accused me of knowing what I'm doing.

Dr. Juergens - I hate them.

The resulting cast list of October 25, 26 Auditions for "Saturday, Sunday, Monday" will be in next week's Sandspur Good luck!

Giuseppe's Restaurant Review

Dianne Tiddy and Sally Ward

When you're craving a home-cooked Italian meal, we suggest Giuseppe's Italian Restaurant.

The home-style recipes are tradition in the Giuseppe family. The Mr. and Mrs. and their son are chefs who use no substitutes for the special cheeses and ingredients needed to prepare their high-quality standard of delicious meals.

Lunch and dinner are served every day and a "special of the day" is featured at lunch. The menu includes a variety of appetizers (even stuffed artichokes), entrees, pastas, hero subs, pizzas, desserts, beverages.

Our dinner was luscious! Cotolette di Vitellino Parmigiano (veal cutlet parmesan) is breaded and sauced, enhanced by the flavor of the melted cheese. Pollo Alla Cacciatora is a blend of chicken seasoned with carrot and green pepper. This recipe of "chicken hunter style" is not the usual tomato cacciatore. Its spicy blend is a treat. Mr. Giuseppe prepares the most tender, moist piece of broiled meat imaginable...much better than many of the fine restaurants.

Sig Ep Halloween - A Trick or a Treat?

Friday night, October 22, the Holiday Inn on Orange Blossom Trail was host to a menagerie of costumed comers. Everyone came to the Sig Ep/Theta costume party in hopes of capturing a prize for their efforts or seizing a Seven and Seven!

There was definitely a sense of gaiety as Peter Pan flew around looking for Tinkerbell, a squirrel stored a nut, Snoopy kept trying to get Woodstock to crawl on his stomach, the Cowardly Lion tried to get enough courage to win the Tin Man's heart, and a Blockhead got Lucy pregnant.

The main event of the evening was the announcement of the outstanding masqueraders. The Best Costume went to Iris Wittbold and Mike Godfrey for their impersonation of a Christmas tree. They had everything from candy canes to blinking lights and their prize of a case of Budweiser beer will certainly keep them lit. The Worst Costume went to Dede David and Bill Rodriguez for their resemblance to Sonny and Cher. The happy couple received a six pack of ABC beer (apropos for the worst). The Most Original Costume was awarded to Lulu Goldsborough and Joe Pilley for their "personification" of a martini and an olive, for which they were justly awarded a $5.00 gift certificate at Harper's. Last, but certainly not least, was The Funniest Costume which went to Mary Hover and Pat Lamb who were reduced to "bumping" midgets. The tiny couple were bestowed with a "large" $5.00 gift certificate at Brandywines. But, the social chairmans should receive an award for giving the Best Party!

Theta/Sig Ep Halloween Party introduces new personalities, behind masks and drinks.

Mortician Ball no Dreary Event

Take a few dead flowers, add some assorted tombstones and mix well in a coffin. Sound morbid? Well, it didn't to the 300 spirited people who attended the annual Phi-Mu - Phi Delta Theta Morticians Ball on Saturday, October 23.

Shrouded in mystery, the Morticians Ball has been a Phi Mu tradition for many years. Originally, the Ball gave the Phi Mus and their escorts an opportunity to relax prior to Greek Weekend. However, mounting interest and intrigue persuaded the Phi Mus to extend an invitation to other members of the college community to attend one of the most talked about events of the year.

Black attire did everything but create a morbid mood. One Phi Delt rushee, Tony Lembeck, even went so far as to dye his hair black. Alice and David refused to miss the exciting evening, and to compensate for their tardiness, sauntered into the dance in their black, 19th Century Victorian costumes.

People were "dying" to get on the dance floor to rock to the tunes of the "Silver Moon." The open bar created the true spirit of the dance, making Morticians 1976 an evening to be long remembered.

Womens Volleyball Tourney Success

The Rollins Womens Volleyball team hosted a tournament here Monday night, and came away with three victories and one loss. The other competing teams were from Valencia Community College and from Lake City.

Rollins trounced Valencia, but had a tough match against Lake City. Sally Royston led Rollins on defense, and did a great job setting the ball to the front line.

Kent Walton, on the other hand, scored numerous points for Rollins with her strong overhand serve. It must be mentioned, however, that Monday night's victories were a total team effort and, according to Coach Jarnigan, their best performance yet.

Tars Defeat Eckerd 3-2; Ninth Consecutive Win

Despite the worst refereeing I have ever had the misfortune to see, and despite the condition of the field, which in part resembled the moon due to the amount of craters, and in part resembled a sand box, the Tars came back from Eckerd with a 3-2 overtime win against a team with little skill, with the exception of one player.

The game began with Eckerd quickly putting on the pressure, and scoring just three minutes into the game, the goal coming from a scramble around the goalmouth finally put in by Freda. Rollins, however, came back quickly, and soon settled down, and were finally put on the scoreboard by John Byrne who slid the ball in from a Billy McCalmont corner kick. The Tars continued their pressure to force Eckerd to give up a penalty, which Tommy Meyer scored on to give Rollins a 2-1 lead at the end of the first half.

The second half saw Eckerd gaining the upper hand in the contest, as Rollins became more unsettled and started to play their game. Eckerd scored again with an unassisted goal from Martin Bremer, who was causing all sorts of trouble from a Billy McCalmont corner kick. The Tars continued their the Tars came back and counter-attacked more effectively.

With the score at 2-2 at the end of regulation time, the Tars had to go into overtime to beat Eckerd, the winning goal coming from Marty Wiman assisted by Johnny Webbert, and that was how the match finished.

So at least Rollins came away with a victory, but anyone who saw the game can appreciate the frustration that was felt by both the players and the supporters.

The referees had so little idea of fairness that it was sad. Five yellow warning cards were given to Rollins, including one to Coach Howell, and one red card, shown to Billy McCalmont for no apparent reason. Eckerd had two yellow cards. Not only did we have to put up with appalling refereeing, but also with the insults from the Eckerd coach directly pointed at Coach Howell. All in all, Eckerd showed a lack of skill, but were very proficient at fouling, while Rollins showed they had style enough to beat the odds.

The Tars travel on Saturday to Florida International University in Miami where they hope to improve their 9-1 record; all support will be welcome.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lighthouse vs Faculty in Softball Suspense

Last Saturday, Oct. 23, Lighthouse challenged the Faculty to a softball game. It was the center of attention on the Rollins campus as students, who were just passing by, stayed to watch this historical event. Some of the Fine Arts women acted as cheerleaders for this great event. Those who participated in the game will long remember it as a day of fun filled action and enjoyment.

The Faculty's line-up was stacked full of talent. At first base was the, er, big and burly Doc Rodgers. Playing second was the speed demon himself, Gary Williams. Short stop was handily covered by Dr. Arthur Jones. Thomas Peterson tightly covered third base and pitching was the old "Bronze arm" himself, Dr. Ser. Now if you think that's a terrifying infield, just take a look at this outfield.

Thomas Lairson, Edward Cohen, and Robert Ridgeway were the "Tremendous Trio" of the outfield. All afternoon they held their ground firm, not letting a single ball get past their magnetic gloves.

Lighthouse, thinking they had an easy game, let the faculty bat first. It was three up and three down as Lighthouse took their turn at bat. With their bats smoking, they jumped to an early 3-0 lead.

In the next inning the faculty began to show their potential. Both Doc Rodgers and Thomas Lairson earned the respect of the Lighthouse outfield by belting a few past their outstretched gloves.

Whether it was due to the puzzling pitching of Dr. Ser or just some freak of nature, the Lighthouse bats went cold. For the rest of the afternoon they would be trailing as they helplessly watched the lead slip away from their grasping fingers.

With only one more time up at bat, Lighthouse was trailing 11-3. It seemed like it was all over, not even Sparky Anderson could get out of this one. Well, never underestimate the power of the Lighthouse lineup. All of a sudden, wood was meeting rawhide, runs were scoring, and Lighthouse hitting power had returned. The Faculty looked nervous as their lead was quickly reduced to only two runs. Incredible as it may seem folks, 2 key sluggers responsible for this comeback were Peter Kazan and George Khouri, who had never played softball before! So now there were two outs and the lone, last, Lighthouse slugger came to bat. There was tension in the air as the pitch was released and the bat was swung. SMACK!! The ball was up in the air heading for center field. Would Thomas Lairson catch it or would he drop it?...He caught it and the game was over, Faculty 11--Lighthouse 9.

After the game it was back to Rex Beach for a cookout and some relaxation. Charlie Maier entertained the faculty with his "atrocious" guitar playing and his "unique" voice while the food was being prepared. It was a relaxing atmosphere with everybody just being themselves and having a great time. All in all, it was a beautiful day for all who attended.
