Roger Casey Becomes Provost

Roger Casey, the former dean of the faculty and an English professor, has been promoted. He is now the college provost and vice president for academic affairs at Rollins College.

After being at the college for only a little over 5 years he has helped to make it a better place. The launch of the academic programs in biochemistry, film, Asian studies, Latin American studies, sustainable development, community engagement, internationalization and the arts have all been headed by Mr. Casey himself.

President Lewis Duncan believes that "Roger's innovative thinking and knowledge of the College will contribute significantly to out efforts to further enhance the Rollins experience."

Dean Casey has a lot on his resume that will help Rollins become an even better College than it already is. He received both his master's and doctorate's degrees in English from Florida State University. His bachelor of arts degree was received from Furman University located in his native state of South Carolina.

His education has definitely paid off, he has been both interviewed and quoted in The New York Times, Forbes, The Chronicle of Philanthropy, USA Today, CNN, CBS and more.

Before he became a member of the Rollins community he served as an associate dean and professor at Birmingham-Southern College in Alabama. But now his main concerns lie within Rollins.

While at Rollins he has seen a record growth and quality in the enrollment of students, but has still been able to keep the student/faculty ratio to 11:1. Rollins is known for its smaller class sizes so keeping the ratio of students to faculty low is important.

Avian Flu Emergency Plan

News reports say that bird infected with the avian flu could reach the United States by the end of this year, so what is Rollins doing to keep students safe?

No one really knows what is going to happen with the bird flu but it is important to take all precautions necessary just in case something does end up happening. Rollins, like many other schools around the United States, has prepared an Emergency Preparedness

Plan which will provide instruction on handling any potential emergency.

Rollins Emergency Operations Team is now looking into how an outbreak could possibly affect students both short-term and long-term. Rollins is working with local and statewide organizations on keeping a close eye on the avian flu.

The flu has not yet hit the United States so there is no reason to panic at this point but there is a possibility that anything could happen and it is better to be ready than not prepared.

The CDC, Center for Disease Control, recommends that people wash their hands often in order to prevent the risk of catching any kind of disease. More information is available about the avian flu at www.pandemicflu.gov or www.cdc.gov/flu/avian.

New Writing Center Coordinator

Over the summer some changes were also made to The Writing Center. There is a new coordinator to The Writing Center, Peter Ives. He is looking forward to the new year and is looking forward to getting to know as many students as he can. Make an appointment for the Writing Center and stop by his office and give him your feedback on what you think is working or not working at the Writing Center, he would be happy to hear from you.

Stolen Items Recovered

If you remember back in January it was reported that several items had been stolen out of campus housing. Campus security recently reported that 89% of those items have been recovered. More on this in the upcoming Sandspur issue.

Changes in Color

Many changes occurred throughout the campus to enhance the beauty and vision of the Rollins community. Both Chase Hall and Orlando Hall have received a brand new paint job. Renovations have also occurred in Holt Hall and Rollins Hall.

Winter Park Police Receive Prestigious Award

Rochelle Siegel
the sandspur

The 2005 nationally recognized Crown Community and City Spirit Award were awarded to the Winter Park Police Department. Not only has the Winter Park Police Department won these two 2005 awards but they were also awarded the 2005 International Association of Chiefs of Police Law Enforcement challenge's Technology Special Award for the second year in a row.

The Winter Park Police Department should be very proud of their winning. The International Association of Chiefs of Police Award is the only one of its kind in the United States. This award was founded in 1893 in Chicago as the National Chiefs of Police Union.

The goals of the International Association of Chiefs of Police include advancing the science and art of the police industry. These advances will promote enhanced practices throughout the law enforcement community.

Every year the Winter Park Police Department takes part in the Law Enforcement challenge to show-off to the rest of the nation all of their traffic-safety measures they use each day.

The Winter Park Police Department enforces top quality safety measures when monitoring traffic in the area, thus the reason why they were the winner of the special Law Enforcement Award. They have top-quality equipment to keep citizens safe. Take notice to the confirmation lights attached to the top of traffic lights which allow police officers to identify traffic offenders and with this new technology the amount of time spent at a traffic stop can be reduced.

Another helpful technological advancement the Winter Park Police are now using are Variable Message Boards which warn drivers of upcoming construction on the road ahead. These message boards will also let drivers know of special events that may be occurring and thus the reason for heavy or unusual traffic flow. Emergency evacuation

President Duncan Welcomes New Students

Dr. Lewis Duncan
Rollins College President

It is a privilege to welcome the Class of 2010, our other new students, and additions to our talented faculty and staff, as well as to greet returning members of the Rollins community.

The 2006-07 school year promises to be packed with opportunities for learning-in the classroom, in the community, and in the world.

This year marks a milestone in Rollins' history as we introduce the Honor Code in both the Arts & Sciences and the Hamilton Holt School.

A product of three years of dedicated effort, the Honor Code is a key instrument in building a campus committed to integrity, trust, and shared responsibility. Just as faculty and students worked together to develop the code, they will continue to work together to facilitate its implementation and educate our community about the code and its importance.

This is a significant step for the College: one that will bring Rollins further recognition as a premier liberal arts college and a standard in which we can all take pride. It is now our responsibility, individually and collectively, to ensure the Honor Code's success.

As I walk around campus, it is rewarding to see so many signs of pride in the College-Rollins shirts, Rollins license plates, and R-Fridays when the College community is encouraged to wear Rollins colors and visit the Cornell Campus Center between 7:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. for refreshments and informal conversation.

Our first R-Friday of the term will be August 25. I look forward to seeing you then and at College events throughout the year, as we share the benefits of the Rollins experience.

President Duncan's "open hour" with students, faculty, and staff will resume on Wednesday, August 23, at 12:30 p.m. in the Darden Lounge (Cornell Campus Center). Watch The Sandspur for dates of future afternoon and evening "open hours."

Dr. Lewis Duncan enters his third year as President of Rollins. He announces the use of the new Rollins Academic Honor Code and that he will be continuing open hours during common hour.

A Welcome from the Mayor of Winter Park

Winter Park Mayor David C. Strong takes some time to extend a true Winter Park Welcome to the new student residents.

Dear Students,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to one of the finest and most desirable cities in the United States in which to pursue a college degree. I hope your summer months were filled with restful activities that have left you energized and eager to begin or continue your college career. We are proud of our long-standing relationship with Rollins College, one of America's finest schools, and look forward to forming new friendships with all of you.

With Rollins College only a few blocks away, we hope you take advantage of the fine restaurants and unique shopping Winter Park offers. The City of Winter Park, with its rich heritage, abundant arts and cultural venues, vast parks system, and beautiful chain of lakes, provides a very high quality of life to its residents and visitors alike. Please visit our official Web site at www.cityofwinterpark.org for complete details on all that Winter Park has to offer.

Once again, welcome to the beautiful City of Winter Park, the City of Culture and Heritage, and best wishes to you as you embark on new endeavors and strive towards new goals.

Warmest Regards,

David C. Strong
Mayor
City of Winter Park

Get to Know the Olin Library

It has often been said that the library is the intellectual center of a college campus. The Olin Library provides access to over 300,000 books, thousands of online resources, and great study spaces. Beyond serving as your source for research, the library is the place to visit when you wish to check out a video, need a quiet study space, want to surf the web, or even satisfy a late-night craving for a cup of coffee. Perhaps most importantly, it is always a great place to turn when you need academic help. Librarians are happy to help students navigate through your most challenging assignments.

Here are a few things you should know about the Olin Library:

- Your R-card is your library card
- Laptop computers may be checked out for use inside the building.
- Private study rooms are available for group study sessions
- A multimedia area is equipped with the latest technology, including scanners, color printers, DVD burners, and video-editing programs
- Librarians are available to guide students who are unfamiliar with the research process or need help tackling an assignment
- The library is open Sunday through Thursday until midnight and until 6:00 pm on Friday and Saturday. A late night study area is available for computing and studying.
- The Bookmark Café offers gourmet coffee from 3:00-10:00 pm, Monday through Thursday

A Welcome from Rollins Explorations

Greetings Class of 2010:

Welcome to Rollins College!

We are very excited that you have decided to join our Rollins College Community. During your time at Rollins you will be exposed to an exciting and challenging academic curriculum, you will be introduced to amazing faculty and staff, and you will get the chance to start life long friendships. College is an exciting journey and the Office of Rollins Explorations is excited to be going on that journey with each of you. Explorations is the name we give to first year programs here at Rollins because it reflects the nature of what all first year students do when they get here—explore all that our vibrant campus community has to offer. Howard Thurman once said, "Do not ask yourself what the world needs. Ask yourself what makes you come alive, and then go do that. Because what the world needs is people who have come alive." As you begin your Rollins Exploration, we hope that you will discover what you are passionate about—what makes you come alive.

During my first year of college at the University of Missouri, the president of our Student Government Association came into my Introduction to Leadership class to introduce himself and talk about how to get involved on campus. He asked us how many of us read the Maneater. There were 35 puzzled faces staring back at him, none of which had any idea what the Maneater was. He went on to explain it was our campus newspaper and told us we should all read it in order to be better informed about our campus community and the issues that were going on inside of it. It was at that moment that I realized that the University of Missouri was not there for me to take educations and experiences away from, but rather I was at the University in order to give to it my talents, passions, and knowledge in order to benefit the institution, my fellow classmates, and future generations of Mizzou students.

Rollins is the same as the University of Missouri. It's not here for your benefit, you are here because you have been chosen to be a member of our community. What skills, talents, passions, and abilities are you going to bring into our community? What are you passionate about? What makes you come alive? What difference are you going to make on Rollins, your fellow classmates, and others that fill the seats of our institution after you are gone? The process of answering these questions is a sometimes scary, yet often times exciting one. The Office of Rollins Explorations, your RCC Faculty members, and your Peer Mentors are here to help you as you do your exploring and are privileged to get to travel on this journey with you.

Once again, congratulations on selecting the best Liberal Arts College in the South, and welcome to the Rollins Family!

Sincerely,

Doug Little

Director, Rollins Explorations

From the Desk of Interim Dean of the Faculty, Hoyt Edge: The New Rollins Academic Honor Code

The Philosophy of the Academic Honor Code

Integrity and honor are central to the Rollins College mission to educate its students for responsible citizenship and ethical leadership. Rollins College requires adherence to a code of behavior that is essential for building an academic community committed to excellence and scholarship with integrity and honor. Students, faculty, staff, and administration share the responsibility for building and sustaining this community.

Each student matriculating into Rollins College must become familiar with the Academic Honor System. The College requires that students be able and willing to accept the rights and responsibilities of honorable conduct, both as a matter of personal integrity and as a commitment to the values to which the College community commits itself. It is the responsibility of instructors to set clear guidelines for authorized and unauthorized aid in their courses. It is the responsibility of students to honor those guidelines and to obtain additional clarification if and when questions arise about possible violations of the Honor Code.

Interim Dean of Faculty, Hoyt Edge, serves as an advisor for the Rollins Honor Code.

"On my honor, I have not given, nor received, nor witnessed any unauthorized assistance on this work."

- The abbreviated Honor Code to accompany all work submitted for academic credit

The Honor Pledge and Reaffirmation

Membership in the student body of Rollins College carries with it an obligation, and requires a commitment, to act with honor in all things. The student commitment to uphold the values of honor - honesty, trust, respect, fairness, and responsibility - particularly manifests itself in two public aspects of student life.

First, as part of the admission process to the College, students agree to commit themselves to the Honor Code.

Then, as part of the matriculation process during Orientation, students sign a more detailed pledge to uphold the Honor Code and to conduct themselves honorably in all their activities, both academic and social, as a Rollins student. A student signature on the following pledge is a binding commitment by the student that lasts for his or her entire tenure at Rollins College:

The development of the virtues of Honor and Integrity are integral to a Rollins College education and to membership in the Rollins College community. Therefore, I, a student of Rollins College, pledge to show my commitment to these virtues by abstaining from any lying, cheating, or plagiarism in my academic endeavors and by behaving responsibly, respectfully and honorably in my social life and in my relationships with others.

This pledge is reinforced every time a student submits work for academic credit as his/her own. Students shall add to the paper, quiz, test, lab report, etc., the handwritten signed statement

"On my honor, I have not given, nor received, nor witnessed any unauthorized assistance on this work."

Material submitted electronically should contain the pledge; submission implies signing the pledge.

Definitions of Academic Honor Code Violations

Students are expected to conduct themselves with complete honesty in all academic work and campus activities. Violations of the Academic Honor Code include, but are not limited to the following:

Definitions:

1. PLAGIARISM.

Offering the words, facts, or ideas of another person as your own in any academic exercise.

2. CHEATING.

Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in an academic exercise. This includes sharing knowledge of previously administered or current tests. The keeping of tests, papers, and other assignments belonging to former students is prohibited. Use of external assistance (e.g., books, notes, calculators, conversations with others) in completing an "in class" or "take home" examination, unless specifically authorized by the instructor, is prohibited.

3. UNAUTHORIZED COLLABORATION.

Collaboration, without specific authorization by the instructor, on homework assignments, lab reports, exam preparations, research projects, take home exams, essays, or other work for which you will receive academic credit.

4. SUBMISSION OF WORK PREPARED FOR ANOTHER COURSE.

Turning in the same work, in whole or in part, to two or more instructors, without the consent of the instructors in both courses.

5. FABRICATION.

Misrepresenting, mishandling, or falsifying information in an academic exercise. For example, creating false information for a bibliography, inventing data for a laboratory assignment, or representing a quotation from a secondary source (such as a book review or a textbook) as if it were a primary source.

6. FACILITATING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY.

Helping another student commit an act of academic dishonesty.

7. VIOLATION OF TESTING CONDITIONS.

Looking at other students' answers, allowing other students to look at your test, and working past allotted time are just a few examples where test conditions may be considered to be violated.

8. LYING.

Lying is the making of a statement that one knows to be false with the intent to deceive. It includes actions such as (a) lying to faculty, administrators, or staff (b) falsifying any college document or record by mutilation, addition, deletion or forgery (c) lying to a member of the Honor Council or judicial affairs officer.

9. FAILURE TO REPORT AN HONOR CODE VIOLATION.

Failure to report occurs when a student has knowledge of or is witness to an act in violation of the Academic Honor Code and does not report it within five class days.

Qualities of a Rollins Student

Dr. Alan Nordstrom
Rollins College Professor

A Rollins arts and sciences education is designed to be a formative education (both reformatory and transformative) in that by the time you graduate, certain qualities of mind, heart, and habit will have been instilled in you and reinforced by practice. Not all graduates will share these virtues to the same degree or express them in the same ways, but Rollins aims to impress on each of you a distinctive set of traits by the time you graduate that will distinguish you thereafter as one of ours.

What are these virtuous characteristics that signify the impression made by a Rollins education?

Qualities of Mind

Rollins graduates...

...are curious and eager learners, disposed to investigate and discover knowledge about many subjects and to make connections among different subjects

...are resourceful learners who have "learned how to learn": how to find out what they need and want to know by tapping many sources

...are able to formulate and express their knowledge well in writing and speech, and to communicate it effectively to others

...are able to think analytically and critically so as to identify the various aspects of issues and evaluate carefully the relevant topics and factors involved

...are able to think synthetically and creatively so as to produce new knowledge, conceptions, and solutions.

Qualities of Heart

Rollins graduates...

...are disposed to benefit many others by what they contribute to the world through their work and presence

...have internalized an ethic of civility and responsibility

...believe that their education is meant to enrich their own minds and hearts so they may enrich the lives of others in the worthiest ways.

Qualities of Habit

Rollins graduates...

...have learned and practiced skills of self-management and self-discipline with respect to carrying out assignments from both others and themselves

...have reinforced the virtues of persistence, adaptivity, courage, initiative, and leadership

...have, by subscribing to the Rollins Honor Code, practiced habits of honesty, integrity, and responsibility to the community.

Though you may believe that when you graduate from Rollins your GPA will be your ticket to recognition and remuneration, you are mistaken. Rather, it is the recommendation letters from faculty and others that will help you most in bolstering your diploma and boosting you into your future.

It is true that your grades will be a factor in how your recommenders assess and regard you, but even more important are the virtues of your character they can commend, only some of which directly relate to academic performance: industriousness, responsibility, cooperativeness; but also integrity, concern for and service to others, initiative, creativity, and maturity.

If all goes according to our design, you will have experienced at Rollins the beginning of your life-long liberal education and taken many strides along your journey toward wisdom. Here in a paragraph is how I would define the liberal education you are now undertaking:

A liberal education is an education for the whole human being.

SHARING WISDOM: Dr. Nordstrom discussed his view of a Rollins student and one to look up to.

A human being cannot grow to wholeness or full self-realization without cultivating and integrating the many aspects of human nature: physical, psychological, social, cultural, moral, aesthetic, intellectual, and spiritual. A collegiate liberal education, typically occurring in the final years of adolescence, is designed to send into adulthood men and women who have begun a life-long intentional journey toward wholeness, knowing well the areas in which they must continue to develop, equipped with the means for further growth, and possessing a clear sense of the importance of maturing into a wisdom that yields value to the world and thus meaning to their lives.

Gaylord Palms Brings a Winter Wonderland

Rochelle Siegel
the sandspur

Looking for a place to spend the holiday season well then Orlando is it. Gaylord Palms Resort will be hosting a must-see Christmas event this season which will be hard to forget.

Beginning on November 18th the fun will begin with live entertainment, a large range of attractions and of course several activities honoring the Christmas season.

The Christmas season will be bigger than ever this year in Orlando, Florida. Gaylord Palms will be giving Florida the coolest winter in history. Gaylord Palms Resort will feature 46 days of festivities and each day will include new and revised events for people to enjoy.

Ever wonder how much fun ICE might be? Well this ICE event will feature frozen creations, ice slides, high-tech lighting and special effects.

The ice sculptures, made out of 5,000 blocks of ice, are carved by the hand of 40 artists from Harbin, China. These artists spend an entire month in Kissimmee working on creating the sculptures for the attraction.

Families can spend time in a frozen wonderland made out of two million pounds of ice. This attraction is believed to be a first of its kind in North America, definitely worth visiting.

The ice can also offer families a chance to experience something average Floridian families do not often get a chance to experience, ice skating that is.

And with all of this ice around the temperature will be lowered to about 9 degrees, unusual for a Florida winter. The large three-dimensional winter wonderland scenes and sculptures will give people the feeling that they are up north. And considering the chilly temperatures that come with the winter atmosphere, guests will be given winter coats to wear to keep them warm.

If the thought of skating on ice get you a little worried there is still plenty to do. Christmas would not be the same without the Christmas carols, which people can enjoy hearing in a special "Holiday Wishes" Christmas show.

Florida's diverse collection of holiday wreaths will be on display for everyone to see. Each wreath will come from a different destination in Florida, from coast to coast.

Besides this decorative tradition there will also be a massive amount of light displays, all synchronized to the holiday music everyone loves.

It would not be Christmas without an appearance from Santa Clause. The children will be able to share all of their wishes with the Father of Christmas in person or even through email.

Many of the activities taking place this holiday season will be opened to both day guests and hotel guests of the Gaylord Palms, however there will be a few events that will be open to just those guests who purchase the Best of Florida Christmas overnight package.

The package price starts at $249 per night, based on a two-night stay. Packages will include a room with a view of Florida, 2 tickets to ICE!, a souvenir photo, parking, and resort benefits. Packages will be available for families of all sizes.

The package will include entry to the ICE attraction and the skating rink. As well, the package will offer guests the chance to visit these two attractions more than just once during their stay.

The children will get some special treats included in the holiday package also, including holiday bedtime stories which will be broadcast every night on a special in-room channel and also for an additional fee children can be tucked in by Santa's little helpers themselves.

Tickets for the event will go on sale in September, ranging from $9.99 to $24.99. The price of the ticket will depend on the type of ticket and the day of the week. Tickets which are purchased online at www.gaylordpalms.com/ice will include a discount.

Welcome new and returning students! The Information Technology department is here to make sure that you have access to the computer technology you need during your time at Rollins College. The I.T. Department has made a commitment to providing its community with fast, reliable, and convenient network access. All new and returning students who are bringing computers from home should look for the Resnet Link on the Rollins homepage for information on how to set up your computer to connect to the Rollins network. Network authentication is required when students return to campus in the fall, in order to obtain fast internet access and use of the wireless network.

All of the residence halls have wireless as well as wired network connections. Also the Cornell Social Sciences, the Olin Library, the Cornell Campus Center, CFAC, Orlando, and a large part of Bush Science Center has wireless access. By mid-Fall Hauck and French will be wireless as well.

Here @ I.T. we are pleased to continue our program that enables any student to purchase or rent a personal computer through the college. Even if you didn't purchase your computer at Rollins, we're an official Dell warranty maintenance site and can repair most Dell computers here as long as you can show they are still under warranty.

Please contact the Help Desk for more information.

In order to use the computer labs, you will need to use your Novell ID and pass-your account, view confidential files and/or use your printing budget!

The job of I.T. is to make life for the Rollins community more convenient in terms of technology and we are here to protect the community from the threat of computer viruses. The Cisco hardware will automatically block viruses from spreading on campus by shutting down infected machines. Make

Holocaust Art

the sandspur

Daisy Brand, a survivor of the holocaust will feature her art at the Holocaust exhibit which will open November 4th in Florida. The exhibition named Ceramic Images of a Frightening Past by Daisy Brand features art which will reveal the memories of this Holocaust survivor.

Daisy Brand has been trained as a ceramic artist and potter who uses her art to translate her memories into something others can view instead of something that just haunt her memories.

The material that Brand works with, a material similar to porcelain seems to undergo a dramatic change from soft, smooth material to hard and resilient material as stated by Brand herself.

In order for the porcelain material to go through the dramatic change that it goes through it has to go through intense heat, which creates an orange glow in the kiln, similar to the glow in the night sky of Auschwitz.

Daisy Brand's work contains images and symbols of the devastated Jewish life of her family and her people. Her work allows others to experience her own pain and her own healing. "Somehow the fascination for me is that fire in this case creates, rather than destroys, which I hope to apply to my life as well," says Brand.

Daisy Brand was born in 1929 in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia. It was in 1944 that she was taken to Auschwitz and then from there she was transported to Riga for slave labor. She was also sent to other camps until she finally became free and was able to immigrate to the United States of America in 1966. She was one of the lucky few whom escaped the awful devastation of the holocaust.

Brand now lives in Boston where she was educated at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and Boston University. Her ceramic works have been exhibited in many places all around the world including New England, Canada and Europe (France, Italy and England.)

Brand's Ceramic Images of a Frightened Past is arranged and circulated by the Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies at the College of Liberal Arts, University of Minnesota. The director of this Center, Dr. Stephen Feinstein, believes that "Brand's work provides is with some important confirmations."

In the directors' words he believes that "First, clay as a medium can be used to express pure aesthetic and can also be used in storytelling. Secondly, the storytelling, in Brand's case, in not linear narrative and one piece of ceramic sculpture does not depend on the one that preceded it or the one that follows. They are fragments of which has not been put back together in a way by the potter's hands."

The programs and events held by the Center are made possible through all of the generous grants and sponsorships by the Jewish Federation of Greater Orlando and Darden Restaurants Foundation.

Hours at the Center are Sunday 1pm to 4pm, Monday through Thursday 9am to 4pm and Friday 9am to 1pm. For any other information call 407-628-0555.

Dear Rollins Community,

The Department of Theatre & Dance announces the institution of the "Friends of the Annie Grant: Orlando International Fringe Theatre Festival." The grant, made possible by donations to the Friends of the Annie fund, will award a member of the Rollins community - student, alumni, staff, faculty or professor emeritus - funds to produce a play at the Orlando Fringe.

"The Orlando International Fringe Theatre Festival is thrilled to be partnering with Rollins College in their venture to provide this grant," says Beth Marshall, Producing Artistic Director of the Orlando Fringe. "I have no doubt this will be the first of many exciting ventures we partner with one another on. Rollins has been home to many of our community's finest artists. I can't wait to see what the grant recipient will produce at The Fringe."

Eligible persons wishing to apply for the grant, need only log onto the department's website at www.rollins.edu/theatre to download an information sheet and application. The completed application must be presented to the Department of Theatre & Dance by Monday, August 21, 2006 at 5pm to be considered for the 2007 grant. A committee formed of members of the Rollins community and the Central Florida arts community will review the submissions. The committee will determine one recipient for the $1000 award.

"Rollins has always been actively involved in the Orlando Fringe," says Thomas Ouellette, Chair of the Department of Theatre & Dance. "I hope this unique grant will encourage increased participation from students and recent graduates living in the Greater Orlando area. This is a win-win situation: it provides an opportunity for our students to contribute to the growing Orlando arts scene and for local arts to benefit from the contributions of our talented students and alumni."

The recipient of the Friends of the Annie Grant will be announced prior to September 1, 2006 when the Orlando Fringe will begin taking applications for the 2007 festival.

Those seeking further information should contact Scottie Campbell, Audience Services Coordinator, at x2253 or scampbell@rollins.edu.

Labor Day weekend the 21st Annual Cocoa Beach Surf Company National Kidney Foundation PRO-AM Surfing Festival will take place. Those who attend the festival will be able to enjoy musical entertainment, games, a bikini contest and much more which will include massages on the beach at the Cocoa Beach Wellness Center's "Beach Spa."

While those who attend the festival enjoy their time attending several different activities they will also be helping raise money to fight kidney disease. A $20 donation is suggested at the door for admission. All proceeds from the event will go to the National Kidney Foundation of Florida.

Saturday is the day when both professional and amateur surfers can hit the waves. A Men's Pro competition features a $5,000 prize whereas the Women's Pro competition features a $2,000 prize.

Surfing will continue all weekend long with finals taking place on Labor Day. Surfers will have the chance to have their boards waxed and those guest new to surfing can work on their skills with free surf lessons given by Surf Guys Surf School.

Each day at 1pm guests can attend the free poster signing or if they want to check out more on their favorite surf celebrities the place to be is the Surf Exhibition featuring members of the Surfing Hall of Fame East Coast Legends.

The surfing festival was an idea of two twin brothers and also professional surfers Richard and Phil Salick.

Richard became ill with kidney disease thus the idea to raise money for charity came about.

Richard was at the peak of his career when his kidneys failed and he was put on a kidney transplant list. Richard was surprising saved by his brother Phil, who was a perfect tissue match.

Richard went right back to surfing as soon as he recovered from his surgery. After his first transplant he did need to go through two more kidney transplants due to a recurrence of the disease.

The festival's purpose is to help others just as Richard's brother helped him. The festival is filled with a number of fun events people can take part in while they help raise money for kidney disease.

And the fun does not stop when the sun goes down. Get invited to the VIP Reception on Saturday night at the Cocoa Beach Hilton Oceanfront Hotel or attend a tropical party at Pineapple Point.

Sunday night will be Cocoa Beach's Party of the Year also known as the Taste of Brevard & Silent Auction at the Radisson Convention Center at the Port from 6:30pm to 11:00pm. The auction that will be taking place will include items such as Dan Mackin's artwork, fishing charters, surf memorabilia, surfboards, wetsuits, surf clothing and gift certificates.

The nightly parties and events will give guests a chance to taste some foods of Brevard's finest restaurants while they enjoy they music of Balsa Bill.

New Pre-Law Course Offered

Students who are considering attending law school in the future may elect the option to take a two credit, non graded course offered in the Fall term designed to help students maximize their performance and grade on the Law School Aptitude Test (LSAT).

All accredited law schools require that students take the examination, preferably at the end of the Junior year of undergraduate study.

The score and the grade point average are the two most important factors which determine whether a candidate will be admitted to a law school as well as the prestige of the law school. FRESHMEN SHOULD TAKE THE COURSE. Although course credit is offered only one time, a student may repeat the course at no additional tuition cost as often as they wish during their enrollment at Rollins.

The course meets every Wednesday for the first eight weeks of the Fall semester from 3:30 to 5:15 p.m. The remainder of the term allows students to have private tutoring by the professors who teach the course on any sections of the practice tests offered in the course. The course is taught by Rollins professors each of whom has expertise on the respective parts of the LSAT examination. Tuition, including books and practice test materials, is $450 and, for convenience, is added to college tuition billings.

Interested students in all classes are encouraged to register for the course immediately. Further information and formal prelaw advising may be obtained by contacting Dr. Marvin Newman, Professor of Legal Studies and Communication and Director of the Rollins College Center For Prewlaw Advising (mnewman@rollins.edu or at CSS 147) and from the official Rollins College Pre Law website.
