THE ROLLINS SANDSPUR

EDITORIAL

The Sandspur starts its second year as a monthly magazine with high hope. The student body is larger than in some years, the former students have shown interest in the work, and it is the hope and belief of the editors that this year will be even more successful than last, both for the college, and with it for the paper. We ask all Rollins people, present and former, teachers and students, to renew and increase their efforts for the forwarding of the work of the college.

Of last year's staff of teachers the following returned this year: Mrs. Esther B. Ferguson, Miss Wilkins, Miss Wilde, Miss Meriwether, Dr. Hyde, Prof. Pope, Prof. Blackman, Prof. Powers and Mr. Lenhart. Miss Florence Smith returned as Mrs. Berkeley Blackman to continue her work in the piano department.

Of all the teachers who left, Miss Julia B. Reed will undoubtedly be the most missed by those who knew her. She left after ten years of service, during which time she made a host of friends by her beautiful nature and kindly sympathy, as well as by the efficiency of her work. Her place has been filled by Miss Mary Deadrick.

The new Dean is Prof. A. D. Enyart, who also succeeds Dean Hodgkin in the Chair of English. A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, where he was successful as a football player and fraternity man, and a minister in the Methodist Church, he has already become very popular with the young men, and proved himself capable of performing in high class fashion the duties devolving upon him.

Prof. Erik S. Palmer comes back to the Chair of Mathematics, which he filled four years ago. He has taken the cottage occupied by Prof. Pope last year, and he and Mrs. Palmer and the two children will be at home there. Prof. Palmer is a graduate of Yale, and has taught for some years in Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J. His preparation is thus excellent, and has manifested itself in a marked increase in the standards of work required in his department.

Miss Allen's place as instructor in the violin has been filled by Miss Dorothy Daniel, of Traer, Iowa. Miss Daniel secured her musical training at Cornell, and besides being a violin performer and teacher of great ability, is also possessed of one of the best soprano voices Rollins has had since the days of Miss Marsh. With Mr. Pope and Mr. Inman, Rollins now has a corps of soloists hard to beat anywhere.

Miss Annie C. Bellows came as assistant to Miss Wilkins, and took over a large part of her work when she was called North. Formerly a student, with long and varied experience in teaching throughout the country, she has already a warm place in the hearts of the college people.

In addition to the prosperous condition of the school, it is worthy of mention that the town is growing rapidly. The big hotel of one hundred and forty rooms, which is rapidly nearing completion on the point in Lake Osceola opposite the Brewer Hammock, will attract a larger number of tourists to the town and react on the school. A new railway station is to be built, and the new brick store built by F. W. Shepherd on the site of the old one is a big improvement. A number of cottages have also been built.

Reading Room in Carnegie Library.

COLLEGE NEWS

October 2. Registration was begun at eight o'clock, and continued until ten, at which time the formal opening exercises took place in the auditorium. On the rostrum were President Blackman, Dean Enyart, Treasurer W. R. O'Neal, Rev. J. W. Stagg, Rev. Robert Jones, Rev. George B. Waldron, Rev. W. L. Barze, Rev. J. F. McKinnon and the Hon. Phillip Dale. All these gentlemen made speeches appropriate to the occasion, and the program was further made interesting by the organ playing of Miss Berta Branch, the violin solo of Miss Dorothy Daniel, who also sang beautifully for the closing number, and the recitation of Miss Deaderick. The exercises took up nearly two hours, and barring the length, were more than usually inspiring. After dinner the work of registering was again begun and occupied the rest of the afternoon.

After supper a meeting of the young men was held in Chase Hall, to talk over the chances of putting out a football team again. After speeches by Prof. Palmer, Prof. Pope, Dean Enyart, Prof. Blackman and others, it was decided to undertake the work again. Prof. Palmer was selected as head coach.

October 5. The annual acquaintance reception was held in the Cloverleaf parlors, under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. The usual varieties of progressive hot air were indulged in, and the students seemed to enjoy as much as usual meeting one another so informally. Miss Deaderick, Mr. Landstreet and Miss Mabel Daniels helped to entertain the crowd with readings or piano selections, and a tasty ice-cream and cakes were served to the guests. The affair was successful from every point of view, as it always has been.

October 7. After supper the elimination try-outs of the Glee Club were held in Sparrell, and the candidates had the trying experience of being put through their paces before the Club. As a result of their showings, the following were voted in to fill the vacancies of the Club: First tenor, E. K. Harris; second tenors, D. Henry Fordham, A. H. Nickerson; baritone, Roland Barze; basses, F. L. Froemke. The first practice was held after the trials, and the men showed that they were going to get into good shape early enough to make the Christmas trip down the East Coast a possibility.

October 11th. The meeting of the Lyceum was held in the Auditorium. The following program was rendered:

Piano Solo,	Miss Mabel Daniels
Essay: Herbert Spencer's Principles of Sociology	Miss Emma Little
Extemporaneous Speech: The Value of School Spirit in Athletics,	Prof. Blackman
The Green Sandspur,	Miss Edna Galloway

October 12. The annual reception to the teachers and students by the men of Chase Hall took place at 7:30 p.m. The parlors were decorated in the customary manner with moss and red lights, and the terrace was lighted with Japanese lanterns. The entertainment was a reading by Mr. Landstreet, who gave Thomas Nelson Page's well-known Southern story, "Marse Chan." The fruit punch, ice-cream and cakes were heartily and thoroughly investigated and enjoyed by the guests, and a very pleasant evening passed.

October 15. Football having been given up, baseball interest came to the surface, and manifested itself in the formation of two teams, the Red Peppers and Ginger Snaps; their first game was played at 3:30 o'clock. It soon became apparent that the choosing of the sides had resulted in putting most of the players on the side of the Ginger Snaps and the game resulted in a slow seven-inning walkover for them by a score of 9 to 2. Rose and Melvin faced each other and both did fairly well, considering that all players were more or less out of shape, and that the Ginger Snaps were manifestly superior. The game showed that the material for a team next spring is unusually strong. McClin-tock looks strong at first and with the stick, and of the other new men, Kates, Melvin and G. Froemke look promising.

October 16. The examinations for the Rhodes Scholarship at Oxford for the coming three years were held under the supervision of Dr. E. M. Hyde in the class room he uses in Knowles Hall. There were two candidates, both members of the Senior Class of the University of Florida, Lincoln Sydnor Lafitte and Rhodas Clyde Douglas. The holding of the examinations here leads to the hope that Rollins may soon again be represented in this contest.

October 17. The second game of the series was played and resulted again in a walk-over for the Ginger Snaps, 13 to 4. As no change had been made in the line-up, this was expected. No features of the game were worthy of special mention except the fact that Luis Estefani was hit on the head by a hard pitched ball and laid out, but not seriously hurt.

October 18th. The meeting of the Lyceum was held in the Auditorium. The following program was rendered:

Original Story: The Goddess of the Sea,
Mrs. Powers
Read by Miss Deaderick

Debate: Resolved that Board of Arbitration with Compulsory Powers Should Be Established to Settle Disputes Between Employers and Wage-earners,

Aff. Mr. William Stone

Neg. Miss Mabel Daniels

The Green Sandspur, Miss Ruth Hollinger

October 19. The social hour at Clover-leaf was enlivened by the annual initiation stunts of the new girls, which are looked forward to with such anticipation each year. The little play this year took the form of applications for a position to a theatrical manager. A good deal of fun was poked at various members of the college family, and as always all enjoyed it except perhaps some of the young ladies who furnished the entertainment.

October 22. Classes were dismissed during the afternoon, so that students who so desired might attend the performance of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show in Orlando. A number of the students went down, many of the boys walking and all seemed to have had a good time.

October 25th. The meeting of the Lyceum was held in the Auditorium. The following program was rendered:

Violin Solo, Miss Agnes Hill
Essay: Men Show Their Characters by the Things they Laugh at, Miss Mabel Daniels
The Green Sandspur, Miss Emma Little Extemporaneous Speech: The Value of a Debating Club, Mr. Donald Marvin

October 29. At 4:30 the Phi Alpha Fraternity received the teachers and students of the college proper in their room over the Gymnasium. The room has been improved since the last year, and new furniture added which makes it very attractive and comfortable. The guests were received by President and Mrs. Blackman, Prof. and Mrs. Hiram Powers, Prof. Berkeley Blackman and Dean S. Pike. An enjoyable feature of the occasion was the presence of W. D. Rogers, Leon B. Fort and Merle McElroy, of Orlando, who are old students and alumni of Phi Alpha. Refreshments were served by the members of the Fraternity and the Glee Club quartet, who are all members of the fraternity, sang Peter Piper and some other favorite numbers.

In the evening the first practice of the Choral Class was held in Knowles Hall and the prospects for the year were seen to be very good, more so than for some years past. Prof. Pope expects to attempt some stiff work with the Chorus and he generally gets away with what he attempts.

October 31. The members of the Kappa Epsilon Sorority entertained the ladies of the faculty and the members and pledges of the Delta Phi Beta Sorority at the President's House, by courtesy of Mrs. Blackman, who is an honorary Kappa Epsilon. The guests played cards, some five hundred and some hearts, for both of which attractive prizes were offered. Mrs. Patterson won the first prize for the five hundred, while the hearts prize went to Miss Johnnie Smith. The guests were served with delicious ice-cream and cakes, and all voted the event one of the most pleasant of the year so far.

COLLEGE LOCALS

The Glee Club will be stronger than ever this year. Of last year's great club, Pope, Estefani, Wetherill, Landstreet, Inman, McCardell, and Blackman, are back, while H. A. Martin and C. E. Twitchell, of the Club of two years ago are also in the line up. This gives an unprecedented number of experienced men to start the year with, which will result in better work. The new men, Harris, Fordham, Barze and F. L. Froemke, are up to the average for the club, and are working in well. At present the bass section seems the weakest, but this will doubtless be remedied. Manager Landstreet has secured a large number of dates, and the Club will doubtless score as great a success as last year, if not more.

Under Miss Deaderick, the dramatic work, which has not been strong since the giving of Miss Wilkins' play, has taken a revival. The first play given will be a farce by W. S. Gilbert, one of the authors of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, entitled "Engaged." The following cast has been made up, and is putting in hard and promising work:

Cheviot Hill, (a young man of property)

A. F. Landstreet

Belvawney, (his friend) Berkeley Blackman

Mr. Symperson W. M. Lenhart

Angus Macalister, (a Lowland peasant lad)

W. Clay Inman

Major McGillicuddy Gerald Froemke

Belinda Treherne Miss Celia J. Baldwin

Minnie, (Symperson's daughter)

Miss Adelaide Voorhees

Mrs. McFarland, (a Lowland Widow)

Miss Mabel E. Daniels

Maggie, (her daughter, a Lowland lassie)

Miss Dorothy Buxton

Parker, (Minnie's maid) Miss Lucy Lee Clark

At the beginning of the year those interested in football tried once more to stir up sufficient interest among the young men to make it worth while to put out a team, and a number of scrimmages were held. The presence of five former football players among the faculty would have insured an abundance of good coaching and the material in sight seemed fair, but gradually the interest and support of the students died down, until it was deemed best to desist from practice. This may mark the end of football as a sport at Rollins, but those who have thought the matter out, feel that under present athletic conditions in the state, this course is best.

The basketball team has started practise, and is beginning to shape up into its final form. At present the regular lineup seems to be H. A. Martin and Porter, forwards; McClintock, center; and Pike and Estefani, guards. The team is not so good as might be, and the second team makes stiff going for the Varsity in every practise, but with time the work may improve. The most promising player on the floor is McClintock, who is speedy, tall, a good basket thrower, and uses his head. He will make the best center Rollins has had in some years. The most promising players among the second team men are Gerald Froemke and Wallace at forwards, Bryant at center, and Fordham and Harris, guards.

At the time of issue, the tennis tournament has just begun, under the direction of A. H. Nickerson. The first three matches resulted as follows:—

Porter beat Bolton Mallory 6-4, 7-5.

Dunson beat Lainhart 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

Barze beat Giddings, 6-3, 6-2.

It is planned to have a tournament also in doubles, and to select a team for intercollegiate contests later in the year. The court in front of Pinehurst has been relayed and rerolled this summer, but it is still soft on the surface. It is being worked over constantly, and will settle down to good condition ere long.

The Kappa Epsilon Sorority is strongly represented this year, and has started out with the idea of the most successful year in its history. Of last year's chapter there returned Miss Lesley B. Donaldson, Miss Clella Avery, Miss Mary Corre, Miss Lucy Lee Clark, Miss Berta Smith, and Miss Kathryn Bonnell. Mrs. Hiram Powers, Mrs. John List, and Miss Grace H. Hatheway have become honorary members, and among the young ladies the following have been given the pledge pin of the sorority:—Miss Louise Smith, Miss Louise Bucher, and Miss Adelaide Voorhees. This gives the sorority a strong chapter for the coming year.

The Delta Phi Beta Sorority has once more taken its place among the organizations of the school. Last year, owing to the fact that it limits its membership strictly to college girls, and that there were not enough of such to make a chapter, it hibernated. This year a large influx of young ladies in the college department was taken advantage of by Miss Kathleen Hill, the only member in residence, and by Mrs. E. S. Palmer and Miss Mabelle O'Neal, alumnae members, to reorganize a strong chapter of the sorority. Those who have been pledged are Mrs. Berkeley Blackman, Miss Dorothy Daniel, Miss Dorothy Buxton, Miss Barbara Weston, Miss Letha Palmer, Miss Robina Clark, Miss Agnes Hill, Miss Johnnie Smith, Miss Florence Betts, and Miss Geraldine Clark. The chapter thus embraces a number of the leading young ladies of the school, and a happy and prosperous year is anticipated.

Phi Alpha Fraternity starts the year with the strongest chapter in recent years. Of last year's chapter there returned D. S. Pike, D. D. Wetherill, C. A. Boyer, G. C. Bucher, C. F. McCardell, W. Clay Inman, and Profs. Powers and Blackman. Of former chapters two members reaffiliated, H. A. Martin and C. E. Twitchell. The only pledge so far has been Prof. H. S. Pope, who has earned this recognition by his great success with the Glee Clubs and other musical organizations, as well as by his personality and the esteem in which he is held by the young men. The fraternity room has been extensively improved and refurnished since last year, and a scheme of furnishing for the future drawn up which will in course of time give the chapter a very comfortable and luxurious home.

A valuable addition to the museum collection of the college will be received this winter. Dr. Thomas R. Baker, who retired from the service of the college a year ago on a Carnegie grant, after twenty years of efficient and constant labor, spent the winter in Egypt, and secured from the Geological Museum in Cairo a small but interesting and valuable collection of duplicates, which he is bringing down with him this winter to install in the college museum. The college and its pupils who have known Dr. Baker can never requite adequately the services received from him during his stay here, and this work can add but little to the reverence in which he is held.

The officers of the Francis Clayton Lyceum for this semester are as follows:

Chester F. McCardell, President.

Emma Little, Vice-president.

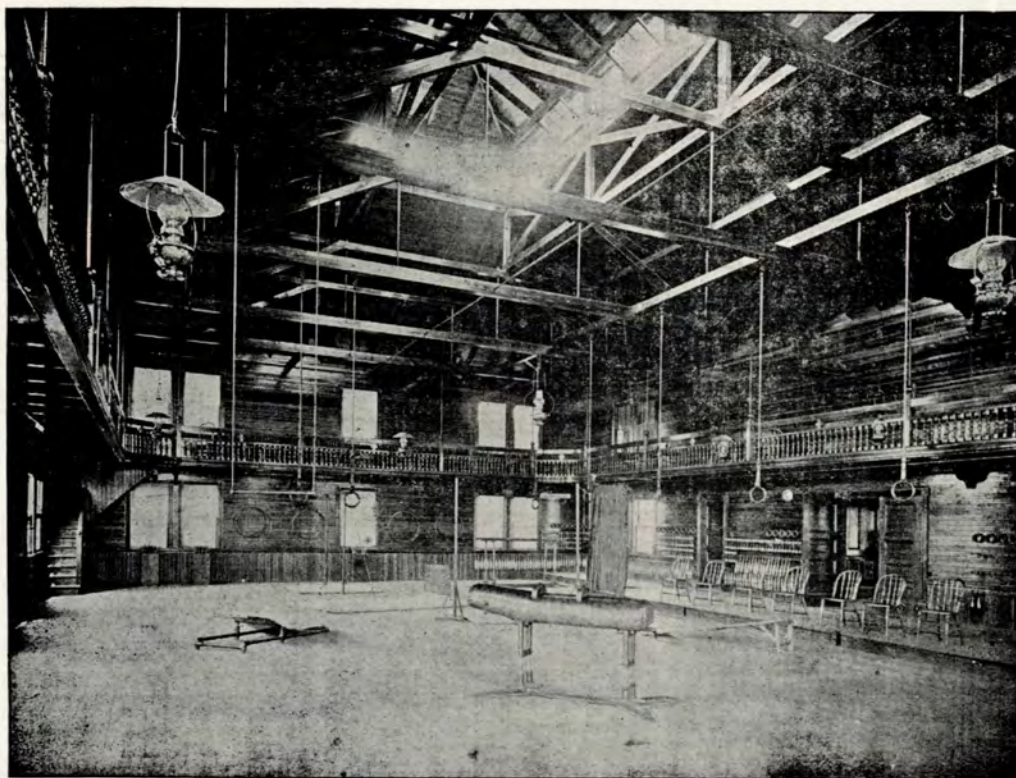

Ruth Hollinger, Secretary.

William Stone, Treasurer.

The members of the program committee are:

Emma Little, Grace Hatheway and Donald Marvin.

The programs have shown a decided increase in interest and a more than usually successful year is anticipated.

FORMER STUDENTS

Miss Agnes Clark, is teaching this winter in Christmas, Florida.

John Duncan is employed in a saw mill at Mount Dora, Fla.

Worthington Blackman, '10, is studying law at the University of Florida.

Preston P. Pratt is employed by the Oakland Motor Company in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Permelia Allen, last year's violin teacher, is now at Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Prof. F. T. Clayton, Dean of Rollins from 1909 to 1911, is now at the head of Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H.

Word has been received that Rev. J. Harold Dale and his wife have been made happy by the arrival of a baby.

F. V. Mayfield is now the proprietor of the Eureka Hotel, one of the leading hostleries of Bonifay, Fla.

Mrs. Fannie Henkel Smith still makes her home in Demorest, Ga., where her husband is Dean of Piedmont College.

A. F. Sloatermen has left West Tampa and is now located in Ashville, N. C. His address is 146 Ashland avenue.

Geo. H. Carter, Jr., is still at Hastings, where he is doing electrical wiring for the lighting plant. He writes that his crop of potatoes was more or less of a failure.

J. B. Luckie, former football star and bass soloist at Rollins, was married in Birmingham, Ala., to Miss Grace Berry. They will make their home in Denver, Colorado.

Ralph S. Twitchell is now in New York City, where he is pursuing very successfully his studies in Architecture at Columbia University. His address is the Phi Delta Theta House, 565 W. 113th street.

Mrs. Marjorie Blackman Wallace gave birth to a baby boy in Pittsburgh during the past summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wallace expect to spend the winter months in Winter Park.

Philip P. Edwards, member of football and basketball teams two years ago, is Director of Athletics at Columbia College, Lake City, Fla. A long jump from Idaho. His friends here hope that he will pay them a visit some day.

Norman L. Baker is still in Chicago, in the employment of the Western Electric Company. His address has been changed to 324 N. 53rd Street. His father, Dr. Baker, for twenty years one of the best loved men of the faculty, visited him during the past month.

Shortly before the opening of school, word was received of the marriage of Miss Gertrude Leeper to Mr. Leavitt, the divorced husband of Ruth Bryan. Miss Leeper was for three years instructor in piano in the college, and is remembered well by her many friends of that time.

Dean Samuel H. Hodgins, of last year, is now President Hodgins, having accepted the call to the presidency of Wilmington College, a Quaker institution in Wilmington, Ohio. We feel sure that President Hodgins will adequately uphold the dignity of office.

During the past summer on College Day in the Ocean Grove Assembly, Rollins was represented, and flatteringly spoken of, by Dr. O. G. J. Schadt, formerly Professor of Modern Languages. Dr. Schadt has made a success of his scheme for attracting and transporting tourists and home-seekers to Florida, and in his work he is benefitting the state, and the college, to which he has sent several young people.

George L. Washington is studying at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn, Ala.

It is with the deepest regret that we chronicle the death during the past month of Louis Powers, nephew of Miss Eva Wilkins, and a student at Rollins some six or seven years ago. All who knew him then will remember him as a young man of highest character, excellent ability, and persistence of purpose, with an unusually attractive personality. Miss Wilkins left for the North immediately on learning the news, and may not return this year.
