STAFF CELEBRATED SANDSPUR'S BIRTHDAY LAST MONDAY

Twenty-two Candles Appeared On the Cake.

Last Monday evening the members of The Sandspur staff celebrated the twenty-second anniversary of the appearance of The Sandspur, with a birthday dinner. Two of the faculty advisers, Dean Enyart and Professor Lenhart, were present at the auspicious occasion.

President Ward was unable to attend because of his absence in the north.

The tables, arranged in the shape of a U, stood in the center of the dining hall, and trimmed with vases of roses. The artistic place cards were the work of the exchange editor, Harriet Mansfield. Appropriate favors of sprigs of sandspurs were found at each cover. The appearance of the cake with its twenty-two lighted candles arranged in the form of the letter S was greeted with hearty applause, which ceased as Elizabeth Russell, the editor-in-chief, extinguished all but the central candle and proceeded to cut the cake.

During its twenty-two years of existence The Sandspur has passed through many vicissitudes. At various times it has appeared as a quarterly, and sometimes as an annual, but always true to its original motto, "Stick To It," and with the loyal support of the editorial staff and student body. At one time the Demosthenic Literary Society, in conjunction with The Friends In Council, of which organization Miss Gladwin was then a member, edited The Sandspur, while at another time the Delphic Debating Society determined to once more bring it to light. However, it was left to the student body, on November 20, 1916, to present it in a new form, as a weekly publication. It is not necessary to remind its loyal supporters of the success it achieved in its twenty-first year, while the sentiment prevalent at its twenty-second celebration gives promise of many more successful milestones in its career as an expression of the spirit of loyalty ever present at dear old Rollins.

Gladys Tilden of Winter Garden spent a most delightful week-end with Mary Conaway in Orlando. Saturday evening they both attended the Senior reception.

Mr. Berdials of Habana, Cuba, arrived Sunday afternoon. He will enroll in the Spanish course.

BLUE AND GOLD GOES DOWN BEFORE THE GREEN AND WHITE IN THE SECOND GAME OF GRIDIRON SERIES

Well Contested Game Ends In Score 43-0.

Stetson University defeated Rollins in a hard-played football game on the home field, Saturday, November 18, by the score of 43 to 0. The game was a well-played contest, and not lacking in interest from the start, although Rollins was outweighed by a good many pounds to the man.

Captain Musselwhite played his usual good game, gaining for Rollins. The work of Harper and West on the defense is to be highly commended. Gee, Gross and Bailey starred for Stetson, the three playing wonderful games both on the offense and on the defense.

This was Rollins' last College game of the season, and a good crowd turned out to root for the Blue and Gold.

THE GAME:

First Quarter: Rollins kicked to Stetson. By a trick forward pass to a hidden end, Stetson scored on the first play in one minute after the whistle blew, and Bailey kicked goal. Stetson kicked off, over the Rollins goal, and the ball was put in play on the Rollins 20-yard line. The line plays of the Blue and Gold were unsuccessful, and Froemke was forced to kick. The ball was fumbled by Stetson and recovered by Rollins; on the next play Rollins fumbled and Stetson recovered, but was penalized. Rollins penalized 15 yards on the next play; then Gross made a fine gain through the line. Hutchinson knocked down an attempted forward pass, and the ball went over. Froemke immediately kicked, the ball bouncing outside. Stetson tried the line three times without success, and then Gross took the ball through for 15 yards. Bailey skirted the end for 20 more. Stetson fumbled and Rollins recovered the ball, but repeated the offense. On the next play Harper broke through and dumped the man for a loss. Stetson scored on the next play. The attempt at goal failed. Stetson kicked to Rollins, and Fletcher recovered, taking the ball back 20 yards. First quarter ends. Ball in Stetson's hands on Rollins' 25-yard line. Stetson 13, Rollins 0.

Second Quarter: Stetson made two first downs on line plays and skirted left end ten yards for the third touch-down. They punted out, but Musselwhite intercepted the attempt at goal. Stetson kicked to Rollins and the ball

THE PHI ALPHAS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS.

Give Tea In Honor of Payton Musselwhite.

Members of the Phi Alpha Fraternity were hosts Wednesday afternoon to about fifty of their friends from on and off the campus at a very enjoyable tea given in honor of Mr. A. Payton Musselwhite, a recent initiate of the Fraternity. The rooms of the Greeks, which are finished in white and gold, presented a very attractive scene. Roses were used as decorations.

The guests were received at the entrance by Mr. Paul Thoren, Mr. A. Payton Musselwhite, Mr. James I. Noxon and Mr. J. Harold Hill. Miss Kathleen Hill, sister of Mr. J. Harold Hill, poured, and the guests were served by the fraternity "butlers," in the person of Mr. Grafton O. Charles, '19, and Mr. Howard A. Weaver, '20, both recent pledges. Their conventional attire and stately and solemn mein afforded considerable amusement during the afternoon.

Mr. Noxon delighted those present with two solos, his accompanist being Miss Kataherine Gates. Victrola music was also enjoyed during the afternoon.

The guests to partake of the splendid hospitality of the Fraternity men were the College faculty, students in the college department and a number of friends from Winter Park and surrounding places.

went over on downs. Stetson punted and Fletcher received the ball only to fumble, and allowed Stetson to recover the ball just under Rollins' goal. Harper threw two line plays for losses, and Froemke broke up a forward pass. The ball went over on downs to Rollins on the 20-yard line. Rollins fumbled on one of the pass plays and the Green and White scored on a brilliant running scoup by one of the second team men. Stetson kicked goal. Rollins kicked off to Stetson and the ball went over on downs. Rollins again failed to make the ten yards, and the ball went to Stetson. Harper's tackling was a feature in Rollins holding Stetson for downs, and they were forced to kick. Musselwhite failed in two attempts to gain around the end, and Rollins kicked. The kick, however, was interfered with and scarcely went over (Continued on Page Four)

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING VESPERS, DR. WARD TO BE IN CHARGE

Churches of the Town to Send Their Congregations.

President Ward has completed arrangements to hold a special Vesper service tomorrow evening in Knowles Hall at 7:30, to which all Winter Park people as well as those from surrounding towns are cordially invited. Last Sunday morning the different pastors of the Winter Park churches announced that no services would be held this coming Sunday evening in their churches, but that instead the congregations would join with the College and co-operate with Dr. Ward in making the proposed Thanksgiving Vespers a well-attended and inspiring service. The announcement that Dr. Ward is to preach the sermon has created unusual interest and it is safe to say that Knowles Hall will be well filled with students and town friends tomorrow evening.

In addition to Dr. Ward's address, Miss Susan H. Dyer, Director of the Conservatory, has prepared a special program of music to consist of solos and several chorus numbers.

It is thought that this special Thanksgiving service to be held tomorrow, which is the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving Day, will stimulate the always prevalent interest in this season of the year at Rollins and awaken the people of the community to the great advantages which Rollins has been made the possessor of during the past year.

THE SANDSPUR RALLY WAS A GRAND SUCCESS.

The second Rally Day in the history of The Sandspur was observed Friday, November 17th. After the usual chapel exercises, a mass meeting of the students was held. Dean Enyart asked for the loyal support of the student body, as did also the editor-in-chief. The students were requested to meet at The Sandspur office promptly at 3 o'clock, when six different squads, with Elizabeth Russell, Sara Muriel, Hope Townsley, James Noxon, Maurice Wheldon and Richard Darrow, as leaders set forth to canvass the town. After chapel all those who were subscribers to The Sandspur were conspicuously tagged with bright yellow oblong tags, bearing the words, "I am, Are you?" and beneath this the motto "Stick To It." Three o'clock found a large gathering of enthusiastic students in front of Knowles Hall, who set forth with high ambitions, which were not doomed to disappointment, for, as usual, the townspeople showed their loyalty to a good Rollins cause.

The Sandspur staff wishes to thank all those who contributed in any way to the success of The Sandspur Rally Day. We appreciate the interest and enthusiasm shown and the subscriptions obtained will aid us in a financial way, even though the number was not as great as we had wished for.

That the students were really interested in the Rally was evidenced by the number of tags worn, and by the earnestness with which they set out in the afternoon to seek subscriptions downtown. One girl even complained that her territory was too limited, and so sought wider fields outside of the town limits. That is real pep. It is such spirit as that that makes the undertakings here at school a success and it's just such spirit that makes the campus a lively, interesting place in which to live.

Let us have more of it.

We heard it remarked the other day that the chairmen of various committees and the leaders of student organizations were often greatly handicapped in their work because of the irresponsibility of those working under them. The chairmen, it seems, cannot assign a task to a committee and feel sure that the work will be done at the proper time, a fact which too often adds the actual performance of the task to the already heavy duties of the chairman.

The college and the world need responsible men and women upon whom to place the burden of administering their affairs. Are you taking your share of the work of the college? Are you truly responsible for the work you are called upon to do? Are you true and loyal to your superiors?

Consider these things and then ask yourself this question, and act in the light of the answer you can give to it honestly:

"What kind of college would this college be, If all its members were just like me?"

The following is clipped from the paper published by the Insurance Department of the Knights of Pythias. It is the opening paragraph of an essay on "Friendship":

This is a friendly old world to those who show themselves friendly, but it is a very bitter one to those who only hate. To the glad heart nature is full of budding flowers and laughing brooks and singing birds; but for those who want them there are thistles and briars and destroying torrents and just plain old blizzards. Take your choice.

If a man shows himself friendly to the world, the world will treat him kindly. Let him despise the world and the world will crush him. It's the story of the echo and the boy repeated again. When he said, "I hate you," the echo responded "I hate you," but when he cried, "I love you," all the world said, "I love you." Render service out of a loving heart to your fellow-men, and they will build your monument; try to mulct the world, and it will make your name a hissing and a byword.

In the November issue of The Association Monthly, a magazine published in the interest of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States, we find an article on "Thinking," by Miss Oolooah Burner. It is well worth the time required to read it, and it sets forth questions about which all students as well as others may profitably think.

One paragraph in particular strikes home. A college professor is talking to a group of unthinking, irresponsible girls, of the type all too common in our colleges; but girls of this type are not the only ones who should mark well the professor's words:

"You don't think straight. You call college rules nuisances, good only to be broken, because you have never sat down once and searched past the surface of them into WHY they should be at all. You hoot at the dean of women because she insists upon certain conventionalities, when you have never put one good hour of hard thinking into why those same conventionalities should ever have evolved to protect the civilization in which you live so safely. You take cliques and rushing for granted; you laugh at 'clever bluffing' and 'evasions' and 'narrow escapes' because you have never thought enough to call them by their right names. I wonder if you would laugh if you once saw them stripped of their college vocabulary glamor. Narrow-mindedness, snobishness, stealing, lying, crookedness, cowardice—they are not nice words, are they?"

Are we covering such ugliness as this by "college vocabulary glamor?"

We are very glad to welcome Dr. and Mrs. Ward upon their return from New York. A small crowd of students met them at the station but rain kept most of the Cloverleafites at home.

SENIOR LOVEFEAST WAS GREATLY ENJOYED.

Much Interest Shown In Class Songs Rendered.

The College Seniors entertained the seniors of the other departments of the College most pleasantly in the Phi Alpha rooms last Saturday night.

A short talk was made by Alfred Hanna, the senior class president, after which the class songs were sung. Much enthusiasm was shown in the singing, although it was the first rendition of the songs. No doubt they will be heard often on the campus from now on. The senior college class song was written by Professor Palmer and the music composed by Mrs. Palmer; the Senior Academy song by Rose Powers.

Part of the entertainment provided for the pleasure of the guests was two very clever songs, which were sung by Dean Enyart and Professor Palmer. Delicious refreshments were served by the senior girls, after which the guests took leave, having spent a very enjoyable evening. Those present besides the members of the various senior classes were: Miss Enyart, Miss Gonzales, Miss Gladys Tilden of Winter Garden, Miss Wilson of Sanford, Dean Enyart and Professor Palmer, the Senior Class faculty adviser.

THE FRESHMEN ENTERTAIN THE JUNIORS.

What proved to be one of the most delightful social events of the season so far took place Saturday evening, when the Class of '20 entertained the Class of '18 in the study hall of Carnegie Hall. Dick Darrow, president of the Freshman class, welcomed the Juniors with a few appropriate words and then introduced the subject of Student Government, asking for a frank expression of the opinion of those present upon the question, "Should Student Government Be Introduced at Rollins?" A lively and entertaining discussion ensued, in which many took part.

Miss Hills, chaperon of the occasion, was called upon, and responded with a most interesting account of the Student Government System as conducted at Simmons, of which institution Miss Hills is a graduate.

Following this informal discussion delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cakes were served by the young ladies of the Freshmen class.

SNAKE RUN PARTY.

A picnic party left the boathouse last Monday morning for a day in Snake Run. The three canoes contained, besides much camp outfit, the following campus folk: Miss Gonzalez, Peg Hall, Harriet Mansfield, Professor Palmer, Coach Royal and Stanley Mansfield. After a true picnic lunch the afternoon passed quickly, and an early supper was served by the light of the camp fire, during which "near harmony" and impromptu war dances furnished amusement. The return through Snake Run by star—and incidentally by electric flash-light, was by no means the least interesting part of the trip.

MR. HOWARD WEAVER HOST TO ROLLINS BOYS.

Mr. Howard A. Weaver, '20, entertained a number of his college friends Friday evening at a theater party at the Lucerne to see the "Snowball" show. A large block of seats was reserved in the parquet for the party, who motored in from Rollins a few minutes before the curtain rose. After the show Mr. Weaver took his friends to the Colonial Inn for an after-theater supper, where the number was augmented by Dean Enyart. A delicious course supper was served, which added greatly to the pleasure and congeniality of the evening.

Those to partake of Mr. Weaver's hospitality were: Messrs. E. Greene, Royal, Hanna, Noxon, Hill, Darrow, Musselwhite, Thoren, Froemke, Hilyard, Stevenson, Cleave, Lewis, Thompson, Charles and Mansfield.—Orlando Sentinel.

Work on the new court is progressing rapidly. No doubt many a hotly contested match will be played here, and this may become the scene of intercollegiate as well as local tournaments.

The Alpha Alpha Fraternity announces as its pledges Aaron A. Taylor of Oak Hill; Forrest B. Stone of Maitland; Melvin R. Wagner of Akron, O.; Raymond C. Philips of Sanford, and Warren M. Ingram of Winter Park.

FOOTBALL NOTES OF THE WEEK

The Stetson contest ends the College football season. We are now getting ready for the Academy games. The Rollins Academy team should be able to "clean up" any High School in the state, and we believe that they are going to do it. At any rate, the Academy fellows started practice with that idea in mind on Tuesday afternoon.

Lewis is back out in the field again. We don't know where Lewis intends to play, but we know he is going to make up for lost time wherever he goes—that is certain.

Froemke is going to show these High Schools how real punting looks, but he will have to improve some from the condition that he was in on last Saturday.

Thompson was dropkicking in practice the other afternoon as far as most of the fellows were punting. It is too bad Sam can't get some of that stuff away from him in the games.

Dud Wilson's hopes are revived—he thinks that there may be some chance of getting into one of the Academy games, and we hope he does. Dud deserves a chance, for the hard work that he has put in this year.

The College men are all reporting to the Coach for practice to help the Academy team along. Believe us, the College men better show the Academy boys some good practice, after the splendid manner in which they have responded to the efforts of the College to put out a winning team.

SNAP AND PEP.

Well, so much of the football season gone. Five games, and only six points for the year. Isn't that some record? Yes! But a pretty good one, too. We did not play a single team with whom we were evenly matched. Yet they all knew that they had played football when we finished with them.

Froemke punts anywhere from fifty-five yards to about six or seven. That is some range, but we would like to see more of the former.

Arrants tried hard to "get him" a Stetson man, but the Coach must have taken him out before a Stetson man got him. How was it, Cheesy?

If Clark would forget that he is an accomplished ballet dancer, the other team could kickoff more successfully. What's the idea—so scared you can't stand still?

The tennis men of previous years have elected "Manny" Wheldon their captain for this year. Wheldon was singles champion of the school last year, and looks good for the same thing again this season. He has earned his position at any rate.

the line of scrimmage. This ended the quarter, on Rollins' 15-yard line. Stetson 26, Rollins 0.

Third Quarter: Stetson kicked to Rollins. Musselwhite ran back the kick 15 yards. Two attempts at the line failed and Froemke kicked. Stetson made 30 yards on the next four downs, and then Rollins held. A forward pass failed and Rollins took the ball. Froemke immediately kicked, and Harper broke up the next two plays, Rollins holding for downs. "Joe" failed to gain around the end, and Rollins was forced to kick. West's tackling featured the next two plays. Stetson was penalized 15 yards, and then tried a dropkick. This failed, and the ball was put in play in Rollins' hands on the 20-yard line. Rollins kicked, but Stetson ran the ball back nearly to the line of scrimmage. Gross bucked the line for the fourth touchdown and kicked goal. The quarter ended on Rollins' 46-yard line. Stetson 33, Rollins 0.

Fourth Quarter: Stetson scored on the first play, Gee running 46 yards for a touchdown, and then kicked goal. Rollins kicked and held Stetson for downs. Froemke punted. Stetson was still gaining on the line plays. Gross was thrown for a loss and lost ground on an attempt to skirt left end. Rollins' ball on downs. Musselwhite was thrown for his first large loss of the season, 17 yards. Froemke punted. Stetson attempted to pass, but failed. Gross made seven yards through the line. Stetson penalized five yards and the ball went over. Stetson received the ball on a punt and fumbled, Rollins recovering, but losing the ball on the next play on a fumble behind the line. Stetson penalized five yards and held for downs. They held Rollins for the same and an attempted pass was interfered with and Rollins penalized 15 yards. Gee made a good gain through the line. Stetson gained its distance on line plays and then place-kicked goal. Rollins kicked and Stetson returned the ball 30 yards. The Green and White was still using their weight in running line plays when the whistle ended the game, with the ball in the center of the field. Stetson 43, Rollins 0.

Auburn and Georgia Tech met at Columbus, Ga., for the annual football game, at which Auburn came off victorious with the close score of 3 to 0. The idea of meeting on a "neutral ground" is a new one, but met with approval among the students, and it is hoped will be continued in the future.—Orange and Blue.

The November O-High is here, better than ever, if possible. Don't skip the editorials, they are worth reading, and thinking over. Look on the Alumni page for the names of some Rollins favorites.

The Arcadian, from the DeSoto County High School, is our new exchange this week. This is a very excellent little paper, both in material and arrangement. The reports from the special departments are interesting and original. Our suggestion to the Arcadian would be the use of cuts, the absence of which is noticeable.

There is hard feeling at Stetson against Florida University on account of an editorial of a patronizing tone which was published in a recent issue of the Florida Alligator. This stated that, "If Stetson played football on the square, it might make a fair showing against the prep schools and other colleges of the state." As Stetson is playing celan football this year and has a team to be proud of, this editorial has been strongly criticised. Both editorial and criticism are to be found in the editorial column of the latest Stetson Weekly Collegiate.

Today a student newspaper is almost necessary to the life of a wide-awake student body, and the importance of such a paper is realized. Much of what students read in their college paper is not news to them, but they think more of what is going on if they see it in print. The college newspaper is an institution of its own. It is necessary to the lives of both knockers and boosters, for it pleases those who condemn it fully as much as those who praise it. A college newspaper is sauce to the goose and to the gander, and its position in student life is firmly fixed.—Exchange.

NOTED CONGREGATIONAL DIVINE TO VISIT WINTER PARK.

Rev. W. H. Hopkins, editor of The Congregational News, which is published in Atlanta and has a wide circulation throughout the South, is expected to be a visitor on the Campus tomorrow. Dr. Hopkins is also superintendent for the Southeast for the Home Missionary Board of the Congregational Church and is spending the week in Florida on official business. He is a personal friend of Dr. Ward's, and has a great interest in the College and its future.

The Students' Opinion

School spirit is a splendid thing to have, and we should all work for it; and I think that Rollins has been especially blest this year in a great show of pep and enthusiasm. But it is hard sometimes to keep up one's enthusiasm and to remain loyal to school and to campus organizations when the members composing these organizations can scarcely be said to have been given a square deal.

I have heard a number of adverse comments from the students about the meeting held in the gym last Tuesday, when the officers of the proposed athletic association were elected in a manner which certainly smacked of a frame-up.

We want recommendations and guidance in our elections from those older and more experienced than ourselves; but if we are to have an election, let us have one as fair and square and as legal as any state or federal election in which many of us will soon be taking part. Then dissatisfaction among the students will not be caused by the very thing which is being organized for the purpose of gaining the united support and co-operation of the students.

We must take the "hard and clean" spirit into our athletic meetings as well as into our athletic contests, for if it is not in the former it is useless in the latter.

DR. GEORGE M. WARD RECIPIENT OF NOTED SCIENTIST'S CANE.

Dr. Ward, who recently at Aurora, N. Y., conducted the burial services of Dr. Albert Leffingwell, has received a golden-headed cane, sent by the family of the noted scientist and author as a token of the high esteem in which he held Dr. Ward. Dr. Leffingwell was for years president of The American Humane Society, and was widely known as the exponent of anti-vivisection from the scientific side.

Harold Hill, Dick Darrow, Dudley Wilson and Foust Stone enjoyed a hunt in the vicinity of Ocoee during the last week-end. These followers of mighty Nimrod report excellent luck.

Last Saturday evening Vanetta and Gertrude Hall, Payton Musselwhite and Coach Royal enjoyed an automobile ride to Kissimmee. Miss Brebner acted as chaperon.

A letter from Charles V. Swain, familiarly known as "Charley" here in 1894-5, informs us that he is engaged in farming at Anthony, Fla., and that his wife, himself and a bouncing boy of three make a happy family. His brother Fred, formerly of Tampa, is now engaged in business in New York city; and his sisters, Adelia W. Smith and Eugenia E. Young, at Rollins in 1890-1, are living in Sarasota.

Bow! Wow! Wow! Where's the cheer leader?

Anna Funk, Hope Townsley, Sadie Pellerin and Rose Powers spent Monday in Orlando on a shopping tour.

Geraldine, Vivian and Antoinette Barbour were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gibbs at dinner Sunday.

Ruth Dockerty spent the week-end with Hester Bedinger at her home in Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Tilden were on the campus Monday evening greeting their many friends.

The hunting season opened Monday. Among those who "went out" from Rollins were Tilly and Frederick Ward, who netted ten and fourteen birds, respectively. Big Tilly, who accompanied his brother, Little Tilly, bagged twenty. We saw a demonstration of Little Tilly's marksmanship at the Chase Hall reception, so we feel confident that if ten more birds had come his way they would have bidden the world goodbye.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Tilden motored over from Winter Garden Monday afternoon and spent a short while on the campus.

Fernando Requelme visited Orlando Saturday evening.

Mrs. E. F. Lockwood arrived in Winter Park last Monday evening to visit her son, Lyman Meade. While in Winter Park Mrs. Lockwood stayed at the Peschmann House.

Antonio Juneo, Ernesto Bermudes and Edwardo Sanches were visitors to Orlando, Monday.

Amy Harrington, who visited on the campus last year, came up from Stetson last Saturday with the Green and White rooters.

EVERY "RAT" HAS HIS DAY.

The coming of Thanksgiving week should bring out a hearty exclamation of thanks from every new boy, for after that time they may safely regard the dignified Seniors without cold chills, started by the mention of the name, "Rat Committee," creeping up their backs. In other words, the newness has worn off and they are to be classed as human beings.

However, like all freedom, there is a price attached to this liberty, namely, a "chicken poileau," given by the newcomers in honor of the venerable male inhabitants of Rollins College. The youthful hosts have entered into the plan with a will equal to creating a feast for the gods. The committee has invited their guests to dine beside the shores of Lake Virginia on the night of Wednesday, November 29, at the "Point." If the evening promises to be frosty, a large bonfire will offer a cheerful heating plant to the diners.

An attractive menu has been devised by the skillful caterer, Mrs. Cornish, of the Colonial Inn, in Orlando. However, the main idea is to preserve the old custom of a "chicken poileau," although it cannot be cooked on tripods, as was the fashion of our grandmothers. One of the new boys has promised to lend his phonograph in order that a selection of popular music may entertain the guests.

It is hoped that after music and feasting, the men, who have been supped, will graciously bestow freedom on the "Rats."

Miss Brebner and Miss Meriwether are spending a week in Miami, where they are attending the Federation of Women's Clubs. They have taken with them an exhibition of the work of the Art Department.

A letter from Arthur L. Slater, '09, to Dr. Baker brings the information that he is teaching mathematics in the Principia School in St. Louis, where he has removed from Rochester, N. Y.

Acting President and Mrs. George M. Ward returned to the President's House on Thursday afternoon, after spending ten days in the North, where Dr. Ward officiated at the marriage of Mrs. Henry M. Flagler to Judge Robert W. Bingham. While away Dr. Ward had a number of conferences on official business, and spent a day visiting his sister, Miss Adelaide Ward, in Lowell.

Harold Hill, Dudley Wilson, Dick Darrow and Forrest Stone, followers of Mighty Nimrod, report excellent hunting in the vicinity of Ocoee, last Monday. While there they were the guests of Dudley Wilson's mother, Mrs. Gray.

Cleave to Dolly: "Can you do this?" (Wiggles his ears).

Dolly: "No. I'm not a mule!"

"Well, there is one thing to be proud of: We have no class prejudice in this country."

"H'm! I guess you were never around when three or four Sophomores got hold of a Freshman."

Orlando Water & Light Co.MR. YOWELL OF ORLANDO
ADDRESSES THE Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. was addressed this week by Mr. N. P. Yowell of Orlando.

He gave a brief but interesting talk in which he brought out the the value of good character and good conduct to man in his work. In order that a young man may get the most out of life and have a successful career he should determine upon some good purpose to work for. In this work the young man should always hold up Jesus Christ as his example. Friendship with Christ is the great asset in gaining success. His final word of advice is: "When you shape your life, shape it for a large line."

A DAY'S OUTING AT ROLLINS.

When you have a holiday, get a small crowd together and go for a canoe trip on the lakes. Nothing can give you more enjoyment. To be sure, there are many pests, but you must learn to take these good-naturedly.

Your day's pleasure depends a great deal on your preparation. You must have plenty of food. Steak, with rolls, is most appetizing when cooked over a camp fire.

One of the best trips from school is through Snake Run. Leave the boathouse about 4 o'clock in the morning in order to see the most wonderful part of the day, the sunrise. You will reach Lake Maitland just about the time "Old Sol" shows himself. It is well worth the effort of early rising to see the sun rise over one of Florida's lakes. From Maitland you can enter Snake Run. You must be a skilled paddler to guide a canoe through this treacherous canal. Stop at the Dam for breakfast. It is a lovely place to eat an early morning meal. After breakfast continue your journey through Snake Run. Soon you will come into a small body of water, Lake Waumpee. You can no more delightful place to "set up camp" than just beyond the mouth of the next run. Draw up your canoe and unload. Now take a hike over to Lake Howell. When you return to camp you will be ready for something to eat. How good the dinner out of doors will taste!

After dinner make yourself comfortable in some obscure corner for a rest. Later you will wish to take a short tramp or canoe ride.

About 4 o'clock it will be wise to start your return trip. Perhaps you will wish to stop at the Dam for supper, or you may wish to end up the day's pleasure with supper at the College Commons.—Katharine Gates.

A certain professor called up in class a notoriously unprepared student, with the question: "Mr. —, what is the cause of the Aurora Borealis?"

The student scratched his head:

"Why, Professor, I know that, but I've forgotten."

The professor raised both hands in despair. "Good heavens! What a pity! The only man in the world that ever knew the cause of the Aurora Borealis, and he has forgotten!"

Spurs

Hutch (looking at the steam gauge in Cloverleaf): "That's gone just as far as it can go—all the way around and three-fourths of the way again."

Virga: "Yes, but it will go down in the summer, won't it?"

Mr. Cook (to Stilwell): "Never let either the Dean or me catch you smoking again."

Stiwell: "I won't (not if I can help it.)"

Farmer: "Just think! This telegram came over a thousand miles in such a short time!"

Wife: "Land sakes, and the mulch isn't dry yet!"

Sally: "He carried my picture over his heart and it stopped a bullet."

Molly: "That is nothing. It would stop a clock."

Cheesey: "Why is Hutch's moustache like a basketball team?"

Noxon: "I don't know. Why?"

Cheesey: "Because there are five on each side."

Eavesdropper: "What's all this talk about the fourth dimension?"

"Oh, that's a term they apply to journalism."—The Independent.

Forrest Stone (in geometry): "Angle 1 equals angle 2, because the base angles of an isosocles triangle are equal."

Miss Bellows: "That ought to get you somewhere."

Stone: "It will get me to my seat in a minute."

Elizabeth (as she burned her hand on a candle on The Sandspur birthday cake): "The next time I cut a cake with lighted candles on it I am going to take out a fire insurance policy."

Miss Bellows: "Mr. Tilden, is that you that keeps on talking in an undertone?"

Tilly: "No, that's a talking machine in my vest pocket."

Mrs. Ferguson: "When our ancestors were a wild and barbarous people, living on roots and herbs, China was a civilized nation."

Wagner: "Living on chop suey."

Hutch: "You are a monkey."

Arcay: "You are my father."

Maynard: "Did you come here through Dudley?"

Irene: "No. When I decidde to come here, he was going somewhere else or I wouldn't have come."

Shockley (in English): "I have heard it discussed in the papers."

Peg: "Is this the song that you wrote?"

Professor Palmer: "Yes."

Peg: "Sing it while we are resting."

Prof.: "You want to go to sleep, do you?"

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS ENJOY AD- DRESS BY MRS. GEORGE DYER.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Cloverleaf Tuesday evening. Mrs. George Dyer gave an interesting talk on the purpose of settlement work and particular descriptions of the Italian settlement work in New Haven, Conn., where she and her daughter, Miss Susan Dyer, lived last winter. The latter was at the head of a musical settlement, run under the same council as the non-sectarian Neighborhood House. Owing to the fact that the Roman Church is most influential among these people, no mention of religion can be made, because the children would be forbidden ever to return.

Between 600 and 700 children came through the house every month, finding there in bitter weather a warm place in which to play games, study in various manual training or English classes, or enjoying basketball or gymnasium under a trained coach.

The boys were handled in clubs of 10 to 20, as that was not only the most convenient but almost a necessary system due to the natural instinct of Italians to form themselves into cliques or gangs.

The work is organized by the head worker, assisted by her staff of paid helpers (only too few usually); also many young men and women from town or Yale University come down to lead volunteer classes.

Mrs. Dyer impressed all who heard her that this is one of the most splendid professions now open to women, where one may take a degree in some school of philanthropy or go directly into the work without technical training. However, one can find in life, wherever it leads, the element of social service, whether among wretchedly poor, unassimilated immigrants, or in our own family at home.

Her talk was very impressive from the fact that Mrs. Dyer spoke informally and sincerely from her generous and loving heart and gave to all the inspiration which can come only from a glimpse into the region of soul-beauty.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS.

Girls' basketball practice goes on "Stonely."

The girls come "Westward" and "Seiwart" (seaward). We have a "Hall" and some "Gates," two of which are "Barb(our)ed." Our teamwork is as if we were "Twins," and we are getting all things, even the "Tiny" ones, down "Pat."

Miss Kate Waldo Peck, instructor in instrumental and vocal music in Rollins College in 1889-90, and from 1892 to 1895, and for many years voice instructor in Oberlin College, has recently become voice instructor in Talladega College (colored) at Talladega, Ala. She and her sister, Mrs. Hattie A. Sawtelle, of Brooklyn, N. Y., instructor in Rollins from 1893 to 1897, in their able and vigorous work greatly increased the popularity of our musical department in bringing it up to the high standard of efficiency that it has so eminently maintained. And Miss Peck filled the Oberlin position with great satisfaction and appreciation on the part of the institution, which very reluctantly accepted her resignation. Her work there was very enjoyable, and her associations interesting and pleasant. But she felt that she had a call to the Alabama work because of the great need of services in the Talladega College that she could render, and, although making a great sacrifice on her own part, entered cheerfully this humbler field of labor for the sake of the good that her services might bring.

Miss Peck writes: "I am very much interested in my new work. There is a great deal of musical talent here, but the lack of thoroughness is very trying at times. I am just as enthusiastic over my work here as I was at Rollins. The race has certainly some very attractive qualities, and one has only pity for its shortcomings, while praying for patience to endure them."
