EDITORIAL

Before us lies a copy of the first Sandspur published at Rollins College. It appeared eighteen years ago, with the following editorial staff, which contains a number of names now known far beyond the boundaries of the campus where they then worked.

Henry Buckingham Mowbray, Editor-in-Chief.

Frances Habbitt Crooks and Ruth Curlet Ford, Associate Editors.

Robert Pollard Oldham, Financial Manager.

Katharine Hart Lyman, Assistant Financial Manager.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS.

Paul Dean Fairchild, Collegiate.

Eugene Fairchild, Athletic.

Lena Mabel Tenny and Fred Patterson Ensinger, Social Happenings.

Rex Ellingwood Beach, Locals.

Here is the latest number of "The Rollins Sandspur", which marks at once a continuation of, and an advance over, former numbers. For eighteen years the Sandspur has fought its way through difficulties, sometimes as a quarterly, sometimes as an annual, once or twice with no issues at all. With the growth in size and scope of the college, the time seems ripe for a monthly magazine, and for the future The Sandspur will appear monthly through the college year. In future the purpose of the magazine will be more especially to publish news of the college happenings and items of interest to former students and friends of the institution. To all such, then, we submit this present number, trusting earnestly that it will fill a very real want, and that its failings may be corrected in future issues.

Our name is to us an endless source of self-congratulation. We quote from the first number eighteen years ago in explanation of the choice:—"Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, just as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive, and extensive in circulation, all these will be found, upon investigation, to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur." We think that among college papers our name stands out as peculiarly choice, and it shall be our endeavor to make the paper itself measure up to the same standard.

In looking back over the year, we cannot but feel that it has been very happy and successful from every point of view. The faculty has been unusually popular and able, and the student body has shown an increase in size and has been as quiet and studious as can be expected of any student body. The completion of Knowles Hall has afforded splendid facilities for the work of the various departments. The growth of the School of Music, among others, has been remarkable; the registration for the year has already practically doubled over that for the whole of last year. The course of artists' recitals given by them has been of peculiar interest and value. The Glee Club has made an enviable reputation for itself throughout the State, and it is probable that before they finish their season, Rollins will be better known throughout the state than ever before.

Let the good work go on. For beauty of location, standards of study, efficiency of instruction, character of environment, and general physical, mental and moral tone, we naturally feel that Rollins has a shade the best of any institution in—dare we say it—the whole world. Let her sons and daughters, past and present, resolve that her growth shall continue, and to that end direct their energies. It is this attitude on the part of students that makes the strength of any institution, and surely Rollins is deserving of the best we can give.

In the news notes there is an account of the formation of a Rollins Circle in Jacksonville, following along the general lines of the circle established in Tampa some years ago. We believe this a move of interest and importance to former students of the college. Memories of college life are among the sweetest of all life, and anything that helps to keep them alive and fresh must be both pleasant and profitable to the individual. From the college standpoint they are, of course, eminently desirable; a group of enthusiastic supporters cooperating in active work for the college is its most valuable asset. We would like to see such circles formed wherever there are a number of Rollins people.

In closing, we would call attention to our friends who have supported us with their advertising. This paper is made largely possible by their aid, and we hope that the students and friends of the college will show due appreciation of this fact.

COLLEGE NEWS

The twenty-sixth year of our work opened on October 4 under very auspicious circumstances. The former members of the faculty who returned were Miss Eva Wilkins, Miss Reed, Miss Wilde, Miss Brebner, Miss Meriwether, Dr. Hyde, Prof. Berkeley Blackman, Prof. Pope and Prof. Lenhart. The familiar face of our beloved Dr. Baker was missing; Miss Donnan's place was taken by Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Clayton was succeeded in the Department of Mathematics by Miss Ida Barney, Prof. Hiram Powers took the Chair of Modern Languages, and the English Department was in charge of Prof. S. H. Hodgkin, who has also taken Prof. Clayton's place as Dean. Miss Kelley's work was in charge of Miss Florence M. Smith, and Miss Allen took Miss Dyer's place as Instructor in Violin.

For various reasons it was decided to give up the football team for the year, at least. Harry E. Harman, Jr., the former Rollins and University of Georgia star, had been engaged to coach the team, but at the last minute business engagements prevented his coming, when it was too late to arrange for another coach. In addition to this, it is a matter of some doubt in the minds of members of the faculty whether football, under the climatic conditions which prevail here, is a beneficial game for young men. So that the college has been without representation this year on the gridiron.

As usual, one of the most entertaining events of the early year was the annual initiation of the new girls in Cloverleaf, which took the form of a little play. The scheme was carried through with much success, to the amusement of a large gathering of the college students.

The Hallowe'en party, held in the Gymnasium on the last Saturday evening in October, was the most brilliant masquerade held at Rollins in the memory of the oldest teacher or student. The costumes were unusually numerous and beautiful, the grand march line, led by Mr. Berkeley Blackman and Miss Florence M. Smith, was almost too long to handle well, the refreshments were delicious, and the whole evening a pronounced success.

Work was early begun by a cast of the college students on Shakespeare's play, Henry VIII. The work progressed very well until the end of November, when Miss Reed was called home, and returned too late for the further work on the play. It was too bad that this play had to be given up, as the plays given in past years have been of the highest order, and the preliminary work of the students was very promising.

Another organization which got to work early was the Glee Club. A number of men were tried out to fill the vacancies, and the line up for the year was finally chosen as follows:—First tenors, Mr. Pope, Boyer, Williams; second tenors, Wetherill, Landstreet, Harris; baritones, Inman, Willson, McCaddell, and Nehrling; basses, Berkeley Blackman, Pratt, Price. Later in the year Harris was obliged to drop out, and Luis Estefani was drafted into the tenor section. The work of the club has been of a high order, Mr. W. Clay Inman, the baritone soloist, having won especial laurels for his work. Mention should also be made of the excellent work of Mr. A. F. Landstreet as manager, a great part of the success of the club having been due to his untiring work.

One of the interesting features of the year's work has been the series of lectures on the life of the ancient Greeks and Romans, delivered by Dr. E. M. Hyde. These lectures were illustrated with beautiful series of slides, and proved instructive as well as enjoyable.

In December, President Blackman attended the meeting of the State Convention of Charities and Correction in Jacksonville, and while there met with some of the large number of former Rollins students in the city, and formed a Rollins Circle, of which Mr. Gerard Franz was elected President; Mrs. F. E. Rogers, Secretary; Mr. J. W. Gibbs, Jr., Treasurer; and Mr. P. Marks and Mr. Louis A. Lyman, members of the Executive Committee.

Among the best events of the year have been the Artist Course Recitals, given under the auspices of the School of Music. The first recital was given by Miss Permelia Allen, our own violinist; the second by Miss Vivian Beers, pianist; the third by Miss Clarine McCarty, pianist; and the fourth by Henry B. Vincent, organist. Each of these performers is an artist of high rank, and the recitals were of great interest to all, as well as of value to the pupils of the School of Music.

On January 28th, the music lovers of the college and town were treated to a vesper service by Walter Drennen, his sister, Mrs. Aldridge, and Homer Norris, the renowned organist of New York City. Mr. Norris is one of the greatest masters of the organ in America, and his handling of the splendid Farrand & Votey organ in the auditorium made the concert satisfactory and memorable in a high degree.

Early in December the basketball players organized, and a first team consisting of the following players was selected: forwards, Pratt and Willson; center, Blackman; guards, Pike and Luis Estefani. A number of exhibition games were played, but only three outside games. The first was won in Orlando by a score of 7 to 5. The second game against Orlando at home was marred by dirty playing, and was won by Orlando, 11 to 7. So dirty was the playing of the Orlando team that the remaining games of the series were cancelled, and it is very doubtful whether the athletic authorities of the college will ever permit further games between these two teams. The third game against the Winter Park team was won by Rollins, 16 to 8.

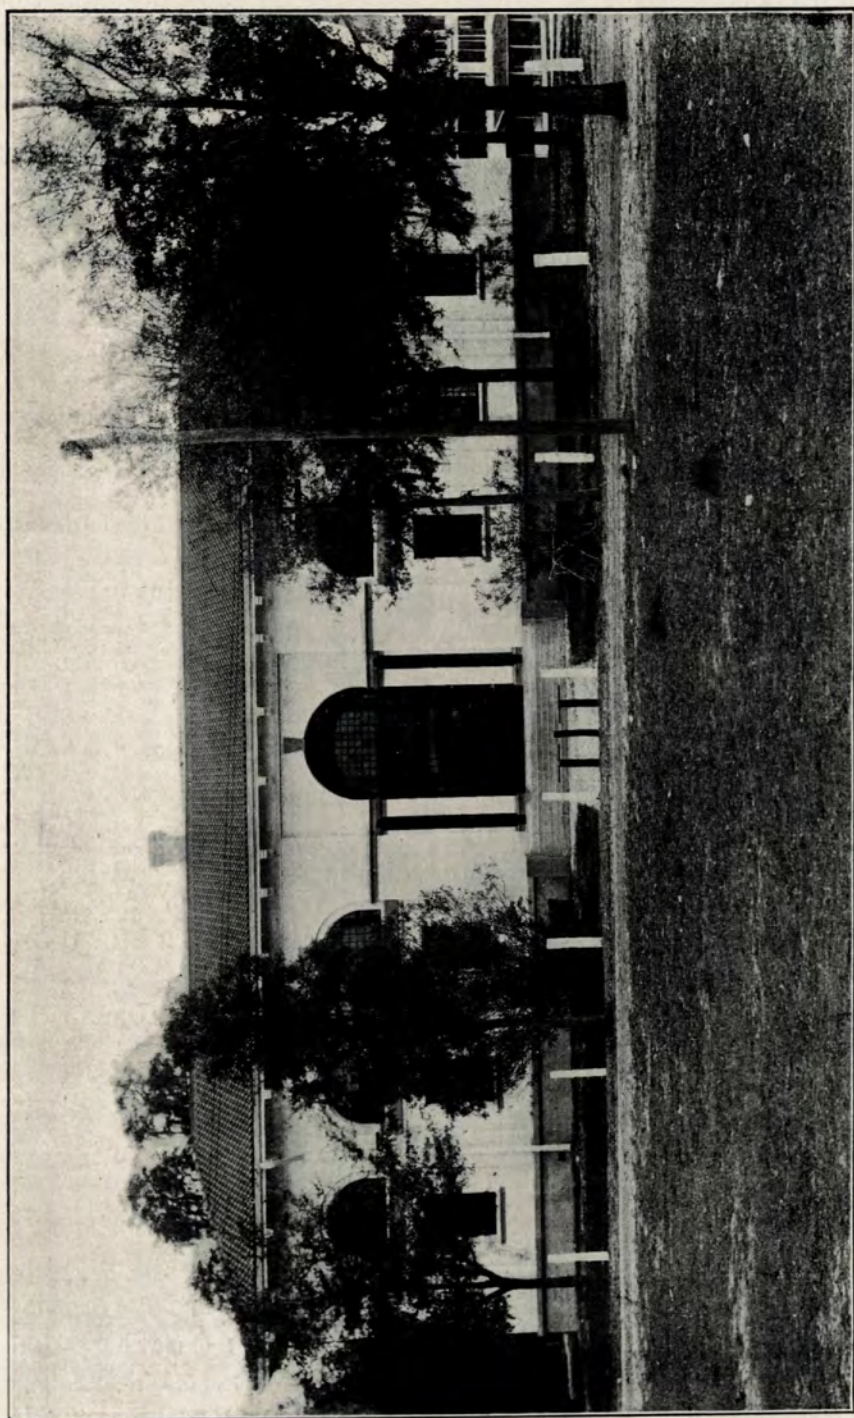

The girls, basketball team did not really get under way until late in January. The players selected for Varsity positions were Miss Mabel Daniels and Miss Mary Corre, forwards; Miss Ines Guiteras, center; and Miss Iola Wilson and Miss Lois Gowdy, guards. The first game was played against our old rivals, Stetson, and resulted in a loss for us by a score of 13 to 8. The Cathedral School girls played in the Gymnasium here, and managed to nose out an exciting victory after extra playing by a score of 15 to 13. The girls have improved, and it is expected that they will turn the tables on both these teams ere the season is over.

The first concert of the Glee Club was given in Longwood on January 15, and the next evening the home concert was given. The Club showed itself very strong, fully as much so as the fine Club of last year. On January 22 the Club sang in Oakland, and on the 26th they left for the East Coast, where they sang eleven concerts, including Titusville, Cocoa, Melbourne, Fort Pierce, West Palm Beach, Delray, Fort Lauderdale, Miami, and Coconut Grove. Fort Pierce was a disappointment, and rain marred the complete success of the concert at West Palm Beach, but at all the towns along the trip the Club was royally entertained, and sang mostly to packed houses. The general note of the audiences seemed to be surprise at the unusual quality of the work done, and full houses are assured everywhere for next year. On February 21 the Club sang at the Chautauqua at Lakeland, and on the 27th they gave a second home concert by request, at which practically all the numbers were new. The Club has been eminently successful this year, and is one of the most popular of the college activities.

On February 10 Mrs. T. Nelson Blake of Boston sang several numbers at the vesper service. Mrs. Blake has a superb contralto voice, and her singing was a revelation and delight to her hearers.

The Leap Year party, given in the Gymnasium on February 12 to the young men by the young ladies, was one of the most enjoyable social events of the year. The Gvm was beautifully decorated, and the topsy-turvy parts played by the young people made the evening very amusing.

On February 11, fire was discovered at the close of the church service in Pinehurst Cottage, having started from the foolish dumping of hot ashes into a wooden trash barrel. The flames had eaten their way through the outside wall, and were burning fiercely inside the walls and under the floor of the second story. The students promptly ran out the hose in the building, chopped holes in the walls, and flooded the burning part with water, extinguishing the fire with relatively little damage. Once again has the desirability of the fire-protection system, installed through the generosity of Mr. Comstock, been demonstrated.

The Art Department scored a distinct triumph at the Orange County Fair this year by carrying off twenty-six first prizes, or nearly half the total number, together with several seconds and honorable mentions. This branch of the work has always been popular with the students, and the quality of the work done this year has been very high.

The baseball season has just gotten under way, and the team bids fair to make it interesting as usual for the other college teams of the State. Four games have been played with Ormond, the trip there being as ever one of the events looked forward to by the players; the first was won at Orlando by Rollins, 6 to 5; the second by Ormond, 5 to 2; the third by Rollins, 2 to 0; and the fourth by Ormond, 15 to 0. When it is considered that the Ormond team counted such players as Archer, Ritchie and Sheckard of the Chicago Cubs, Murray of Buffalo, and Hinchman of Toledo, this even break is very satisfactory to the college boys. The game in Daytona was played against the same big leaguers, and also against the pitching of Benny Foltz, who returned Rollins victor over every college team in Florida two years ago. Benny had not lost his skill, and won the game, 6 to 2.

On February 26th in Orlando, and 27th here, the baseball team played their first two intercollegiate games with Columbia College, winning both by scores of 4 to 2 and 8 to 2 respectively. Pratt pitched the first game in Orlando, and after the first inning held the Columbia boys entirely at his mercy. Vaiden worked the second game, and Columbia was outclassed from the first. Vaiden struck out nine of the first twelve men who faced him, while the home boys touched up the Columbia pitcher for thirteen hits, including three baggers by Pike and Vaiden. In both games the home team showed up strong, and Rollins will once more be running strong for the State Championship, which they have held now for three consecutive years.

On the evening of February 27, the Glee Club gave their second home concert, consisting almost entirely of new numbers. The concert was well attended, and the audience was delighted with the work of the boys. Inman, especially, was in great voice, and received a double encore, something which only Miss Allen has been able to achieve heretofore. The violin playing of little eight-year-old Miss Herring, one of Miss Allen's pupils, took the audience by storm; and the quartet and club numbers were much enjoyed. The members of the Columbia baseball team were given complimentary tickets, and attended in a body; a special verse of one of the songs was sung by Berkeley Blackman, aimed particularly at them, which the audience and the baseball boys all seemed to enjoy especially.

COLLEGE LOCALS

The Literary Society has been active this year, and has held some very good and interesting meetings. We are glad to see this, and hope that the Society will continue to grow, inasmuch as it is one of the most important organizations in the college.

The Kappa Epsilon Sorority is in a flourishing condition this year, and has pledged the following young ladies: Misses Julia Girardeau, Clella Avery, Kathryn Bonnell, Mary Corre, Lucy Clark, Berta Smith and Iola Wilson. The members of last year's chapter who have returned are: Misses Lesley Donaldson, Mary Simrall, Freda Reed and Mabel Allen. This is the tenth year of the Sorority's life, and it has become one of the established and important social organizations of the school.

The Phi Alpha Fraternity has also strengthened its position in the school. Four of last year's chapter returned, and Boyer, of the chapter of two years ago, returned to fellowship. The old members were: Pike, Blackman, Wetherill and Adams. The following members have been initiated into the fraternity: Prof. Powers, Bucher, Staggs and McCordell. Lee, of last year's chapter, returned after Christmas, and Adams and Staggs were called away at that time. A number of delightful entertainments have been held, and the members have been prominent in every line of college activity.

Henry Porter has been called away from school for a short time to fill the place on Walter Drennen's grove made vacant by the unfortunate drowning of young Draper, who was to have come to Rollins within a few days.

Jack Willson was taken ill on the Glee Club trip down the East Coast, and taken to the hospital at Orlando, where he soon recovered sufficiently to go to his home in West Palm Beach.

The planting of the ivy on Arbor Day around Carnegie and Knowles Halls was watched by a large number of friends of the school. It will add greatly to the handsome appearance of these buildings when they are covered with the green. It is of interest to know that the ivy planted around the chemistry laboratory end of Knowles Hall was brought from Queen's College, Oxford, England, where our Professor of Chemistry spent his two years as Rhodes Scholar from this state.

The cement walks laid last summer are a great improvement and convenience on the campus. May the day soon come when all the walks will be similar.

President Blackman had another Presidency added to his long list when he was elected President of the State Conference of Charities and Correction at their annual meeting in Jacksonville.

Prof. Hiram Powers is planning to spend the summer in Europe in charge of a party of tourists, who will visit Italy, Switzerland, France, England and other points of interest. Prof. Powers was born in Florence, Italy, and is looking forward with much pleasure to his visit to his former home.

The extension courses in Orlando of the School of Music have proven a decided success, Prof. Pope and Miss Allen spending two days each week in the studio on Pine St. The number of pupils has been satisfactory, and it seems as if this work must become more and more successful as time goes on.

The new white brick garage built by Del Mason, the successful coach of the baseball team, is a great addition to the main street of the town.

FORMER STUDENTS

Leon B. Fort, '08, and W. D. Rogers, have been spending the winter in Orlando, where they have been successfully handling the Hudson cars.

Guy E. Wilson has been in Winter Park at the Seminole Inn for the winter.

T. J. Evans, Jr., of Urichsville, Ohio, brought his bride to Orlando and Winter Park on their return from an extended trip through Cuba and South America. Mr. Evans is one of the firmest friends of Rollins, and testifies his interest each year by some acceptable present to the school.

Dr. T. R. Baker retired from active participation in the college life last spring on the Carnegie Foundation grant, and has been spending his winter in Egypt, whence he writes very interesting letters to friends here. The many who have known and loved him here will be glad to hear that he is enjoying so much the rest well earned by his long and efficient service to the college.

Walter H. Schultz of Winter Park was married on February 6 to Miss Louise Bradshaw.

On December 8 Miss Marguerite Morse, daughter of former Vice-President O.C. Morse, was married in their Long Island home to Dr. William Hunt Wallace.

A. Devol Gates of Winter Haven, and his bride, paid the college a short visit at Thanksgiving time.

Harry E. Harman, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., came back with his bride to see once more the scenes of his former football battles.

The college people learned with sincere regret of the death last fall of Mrs. G. F. Oliphant, who, with her husband, Dean Oliphant, possessed a warm spot in the hearts of all who knew them in 1905-06. Dean Oliphant is now the Superintendent of the State School for the Blind at Macon, Ga.

The sudden death of Hallam M. Donaldson last summer came as a shock to his many friends who had looked forward to meeting him again this year. Mr. Donaldson was a leader in the various activities of the college, and his presence is sadly missed.

The former students who took part in the movement for the formation of the Rollins Circle in Jacksonville were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Franz, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Grey, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dupree, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noble, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Arnold, Miss Leila Lewis, Miss Esther Gerish, Miss Gertrude Gregory, Miss Ruth Rich, Miss Isabel Odiorne, Poyntz Parramore, J. Fred Turner, Carl Noble, James M. Longmire, Fred F. Doyle and Ernest Ricker. A goodly number of Rollins people, and one which should have a powerful influence for the success of the college if they so desire.

Miss Susan T. Gladwin entertained some of the Glee Club during their recent stay in Titusville, and much of the success of the concert there was due to her untiring efforts.

Miss Eda Brewer graduated from Smith last spring, and is now in Winter Park with her parents on their beautiful place, The Palms.

Frederick W. Vanderpool, of Maitland, visited the campus recently on the occasion of the Leap Year party.

Samuel J. Stiggins stopped in Winter Park on his recent visit to his home in Tampa. Mr. Stiggins graduated from the college in 1906, and is now doing a promising law business in Birmingham, Ala.

Miss Jeanette Schadt spent a few days recently with her friends of the K. E. on the campus.

W. A. H. Loveland, former Varsity football player, stopped over for some days to visit his fiancée, Miss Mary Simrall.

John J. Windham, well known to Rollins baseball fans during the last few years, was seen by the members of the Glee Club at Fort Lauderdale, where he is raising vegetables.

Miss Jessie A. Conklin and Miss Fleming are teaching in the High School at West Palm Beach, and helped make the stay of the Glee Club there pleasant.

Eugene F. Bellows has returned after his wanderings, and settled down with his mother in Orlando, teaching the school at Conway.

Miss Jennie L. Bellows is teaching in Porto Rico.

Dwight J. Bradley, of Cleveland, is studying theology at the Oberlin Seminary; before going to Oberlin he attended Western Reserve University, and made the Glee Club there.

Robert G. Bradley attended Case School in Cleveland after leaving Rollins, and made their Glee Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Glancy O. Wallace are living in Pittsburgh. Mr. Wallace has been superintending construction work for his father all winter, and will soon take charge of the sales department of a company which is to manufacture an improved roller bearing.

Worthington Blackman, '10, is engaged in the hardware business in East Hampton, Long Island, the home of his wife, who was known to Rollins people as Miss Amy Jones.

William Henry Jackson, who played football and baseball at Rollins in 1905-06, has built up an excellent law practice in Tampa, and is making a strong run for County Solicitor in the coming election there. His opponent is the brother of Edwin R. Dickenson, who was formerly head of the Rollins Business School.

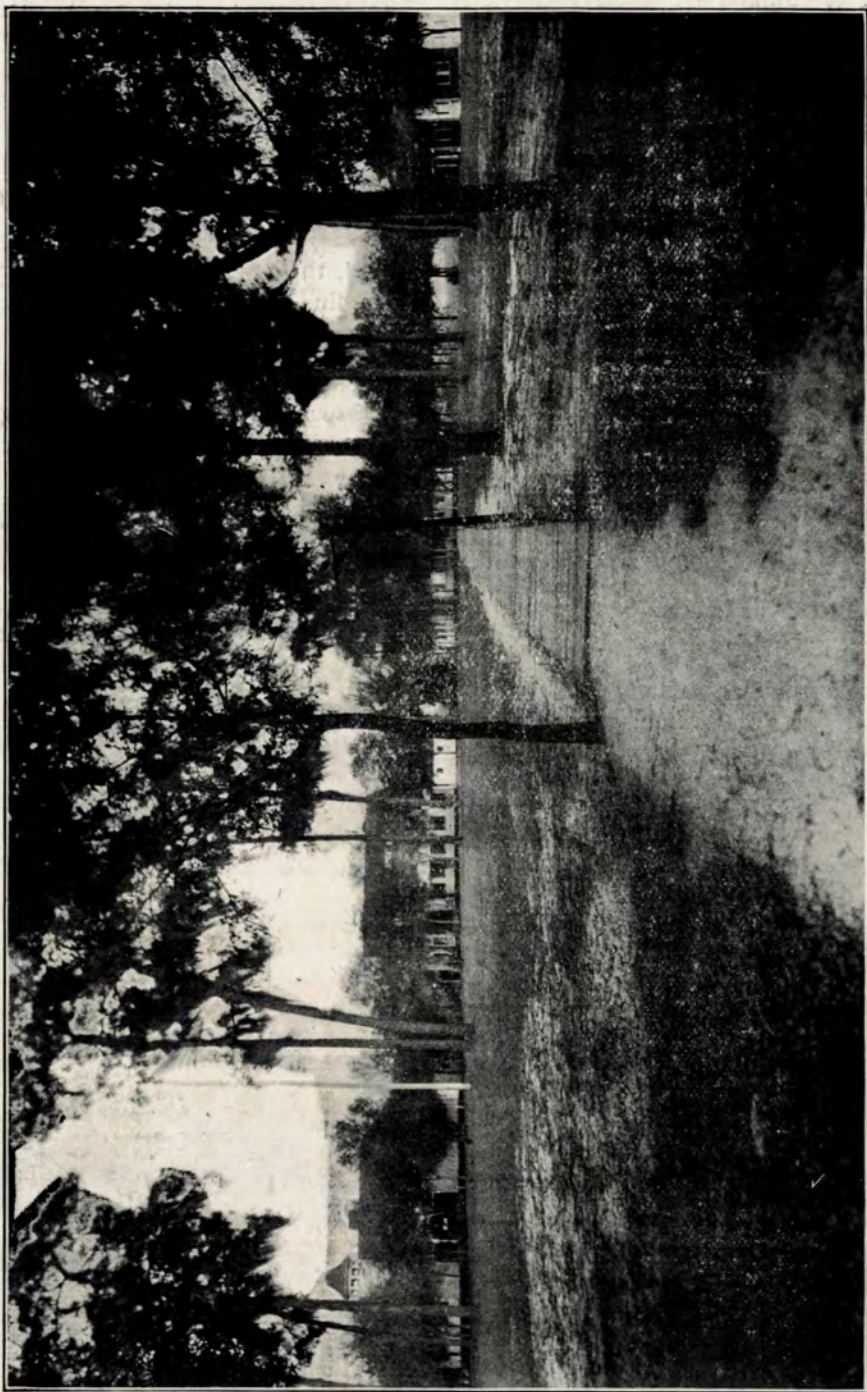

Guy Henry Frazer, '06, is engaged in missionary work in Cardenas, Cuba.

George and Oliver Phillips are associated with their father in Orlando in the Phillips Manufacturing Company, engaged in the production of wood-working machinery. Both have married and they are building up a thriving business.

Erik S. Palmer and his wife, formerly Miss Helen O'Neal, are located in New Brunswick, N. J., where Mr. Palmer is in the Department of Mathematics of Rutgers College.

William H. Branham is now an instructor in the St. Paul's School of Concord, N. H.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Ray Beyer, both former students of Rollins, are in Tampa, where Dr. Beyer has a very successful practice.
