MRS. COLE'S PIANO RECITAL

A good sized audience greeted Mrs. Elizabeth Perrine Cole on Tuesday afternoon February 8th, at Knowles Hall, and gave every evidence of keen appreciation of the fine program presented. Mrs. Cole artistry was shown in all her numbers, the Bach being played with clarity and authority, while the Grieg Sonata was temperamental to a degree and full of color. Saint Saens "Mandolinata" was delightfully played, being essentially French in style and

STORY OF WHAT ROLLINS PEOPLE HAVE WRITTEN

Of especial interest to Winter Park residents and to Rollins students are the following extracts from an address of Mr. Frank E. Channon. They are taken from the "Evening Reporter Star" of March 4, 1915. "At Gotha lives Henry Nehrling. When over at Winter Park the other day I saw in the library at Rollins

Dr. Baker, for in a short time it was brought out that in his position as Professor of Natural Science he had been brought in contact with quite a number of Florida authors, including perhaps the most famous of all Florida authors, Rex Beach. You may be quite sure I pricked up my ears when I heard that he had tutored the author of "The interpretation and the closing number, the Breuecke Ballade always a delight, was admirably done. Mrs. Cole has a big tone and ample technique and her work reflects great credit on herself and her instructor, Mrs. Helen O'Neal Palmer.

The entire program was as follows:

Bach...Prelude and Fague in D Major
Grieg.....Sonata in E Minor
Allegro Andante Mennetto
Balakirew.....L'Alouette
Saine Saens ..Romance sans proles

SON BORN TO FORMER STUDENTS

Announcement cards are being received from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glancy O. Wallace, of Pittsburgh, telling of the arrival there of an eight pound son, Alden, on February 4. Mrs. Wallace is the daughter of Ex-President and Mrs. W. F. Blackman; both she and her husband were students in Rollins College and have many friends who are interested to hear of their new happiness.

College two magnificent specimens of the book-binders' art. Of course, I had not the time to read them, but I hastily turned over the leaves to the fly leaf of Vol. I. I discovered the following inscription: "To Rollins College, the great Florida institution of learning, this work is respectfully presented by the author, Henry Nehrling March 7, 1910." The title of the work was "Our Native Birds of Song and Beauty." Each volume contained approximately some 400 pages, and each was beautifully illustrated by several score of colored plates. Mr. Nehrling is claimed, of course, as a Florida author. He lives at Gotha. I wish I might have had time to examine more carefully those beautiful volumes, they looked very promising, and I would recommend that anyone interested in birds and bird life take an afternoon off and examine them. They did not look as if they would disappoint one.

At Rollins College I was fortunate to fall into the hands of Dr. Thomas Rakestraw Baker, who gave up his whole afternoon and assisted me in obtaining material. I was doubly and thrice fortunate in falling in with Spoilers," "The Barrier" and a long list of stories so full of action. Here was "color" indeed, and I feel that I cannot do better than to quote Dr. Baker's own words:

I have had a fairly good opportunity of observing the proctoring work here and know that the varied and somewhat variegated experiences of a Rollins College proctor, even if he has been in charge only a year or so, are often interesting, sometimes amusing, and occasionally trying. But when he has a houseful of young men in his keeping for several years he might easily write a readable volume of his experiences. Some of our boys were interesting characters as room occupants. Rex Beach, the now somewhat famous novel writer, was notably of this class. He occupied the front one of the two rooms over the reception room at Lakeside Cottage for a long time. Rex was had to be disciplined by faculty a boy that needed considerable looking after. He would break rules, as some boys do, now and again and went out especially towards cake, his tion. "GYM" EXHIBITION MONDAY

The Annual Gymnasium Exhibit of the college will be held Monday, February 14, at 8 p. m. in Lyman Gymnasium.

The "Gym" has been the busy place on the campus of late in preparing for the "Ex" and it is hoped that the event will be a great success. Fancy dances, illuminated club swinging and drills will be the feature of the evening.

ADDRESS BY BUSINESS MAN

At the regular meeting of the College Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday evening a very interesting and instructive talk was given by Mr. Yowell, of the Yowell-Duckworth Company, of Orlando. He spoke as a man who had made good and gave many helpful hints that ought to help those who were present. There was a larger attendance than at the preceding meeting, but still more should come to the meetings. Anything that is worth doing at all is worth doing well.

TEA AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

The second of a series of the dansants at the Country Club was given Saturday afternoon. The occasion was enjoyed by an unusually large number of tourists and town people. Among those who were invited from the college were Rose Powers, Margaret Rogers, Sadie Pellerin, Dana Ballard and Fred Hanna.

D. Henry Fordham who was a member of last year's Freshman Class here at Rollins paid the school a visit last Saturday. He was forced to leave Cornell several weeks ago because of illness and stopped for a few days in Orlando while on his way to visit his parents in Miami.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1916.

Unfortunately the last number of The Sandspur was not headed "Sophomore Number" and some of our readers failed to get the idea of a special edition. Nearly all the material was prepared by members of the Class of '18, and very creditably, we are told. The next special number is to be published by the Freshman Class, and is due Saturday, February 19th.

The Sandspur we have been informed from many sources, is one of the best college weeklies in the country. Our opinion concurs with this statement, but we are not satisfied with being one of the best,—we want to reach the highest point, which is entirely possible. Haven't you sometimes thought how it might be improved in some way? Then let us have your suggestions, and more than that, your cooperation and assistance. A few students on the editorial staff cannot do it all. We need the help of every student in school, to make our paper thoroughly representative, to print the best material obtainable, and if we succeed in this we shall have a model weekly in the school of college journalism. Bear this in mind and do your part.

We have often wondered how often the beautiful American flag which waves its threads of freedom above our incomparable campus is ever noticed, not to say, admired by our students, as they pass from day to day. This flag should mean something to us all. Not a school day passes but that this blessed emblem of our independence flutters its stars and stripes through the soft Southern breezes. It has been a faithful flag; it has fluttered its stars and stripes long and untiringly; it has served its purpose well, and continues to wave its threads to awaken our patriotism. What more fitting symbol of true patriotism, that new preparedness patriotism, could be manifested by the students of Rollins College than to replace this historic flag with a new one? It would not be inappropriate for some organization to take this matter up as their hobby, and thus prove to the campus that that often prevalent element, somnolent passivity, is foreign to its activity. Some of the organizations are showing the greatest loyalty to college affairs and their energetic activities are worthy of the emulation of those other organizations whose past activity has been confined to their own immediate circle.

FIRST CONCERT A BIG SUCCESS

"The Girls' Glee Club of Rollins College"—we quote this as the official title!—made its debut in Apopka last Thursday night and quite covered itself with glory.

The concert was held in the new town hall, a thorough modern and very attractive little auditorium and was crowded to its capacity with an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. The program was happily chosen, being neither too classical nor yet composed entirely of college songs. Miss Allen's violin solos and Miss Enlow's recitations were charming and much appreciated as were also the songs by Miss Siewert and Miss Waide.

The program is as follows:

One of the most pleasing of all the numbers was the last,—our "Alma Mater." We wish everyone in Rollins would memorize that song whether he or she can sing or not. Prof. Pope and Mrs. Powers should be complimented very highly upon the results of their labor, tho it is perhaps late to award praise, as the song was composed several years ago,—but it has never had the honor which is its due. The Girls' Glee Club is responsible for bringing it once more to the fore and we thank them.

The next concert is to be at the New Oklawaha Hotel, Eustis, on Wednesday, February 16th. The following Saturday, the 19th, the Club goes to Altamonte; Friday, the 25th, they will sing for the members and friends of the Country Club, Winter Park; and on Wednesday, March 1st, the girls will leave for a two days trip to Winter Haven and Florence ViMa, giving a concert in each town. The date for the home concert is undecided but will be announced later. It is going to be quite different from the rest and will be given in the Gym.

Much credit is due Prof. Pope for his perseverance and determination which has produced a Glee Club such as we have this year. The girls too have worked earnestly, attending rehearsals with regularity and enthusiasm, while Miss Deneison, who lent her able assistance as accompanist, was indispensable. The date for the concerts and all arrangements for transportation, etc. were in the hands of the secretary and manager, Miss Waide, who was obliged to cancel several of the engagements as they interfered with the college work.

Next week we shall hear what the Glee Club did at Eustis.

Miss Gayle Davis, of Orlando, formerly a Rollins student, left Saturday for Indianapolis where she will enrolle in the University of Indiana.

LAKESIDE CLUB ENJOYS OUT-
ING

Last Saturday evening the Lakeside boys hiked out to Lake Osceola and enjoyed a chicken pileau. Sports of different kinds were enjoyed, until the preparation for the camp supper were complete. After supper the crowd gathered around the camp fire and cracked jokes, and told stories until time to take to the canoes. Professor and Mrs. Palmer accompanied the club.

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

Tuesday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. gave a reception in honor of Miss Thomas and Miss Stone. A large number of guests were present including both townspeople and winter visitors.

The parlors of Cloverleaf were beautifully decorated with cypress, smilax and flame vine.

During the afternoon Miss Thomas spoke to the guests concerning the work of the Y. W. C. A., especially in its city organizations.

Light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

If God made man, and man made money, who in the world—? Answer—The Sophomores.

For the complete story read the Freshman Version, next week.

"The Freshman and Sophs agree on one point," as ——— remarks in the course of a learned discourse in next week's issue. If you want to know Who said it and what was said, be sure sure and read the Freshman issue.

THE SOPHOMORES' FLAME VINE

Last Monday evening as the sun was sinking below the horizon, the members of the class of '18 gathered around their stately class tree to join in the planting of a flame vine at its base. Following the example of the president of the class, the respective members deposited a handful of soil upon the roots. When the planting had been accomplished to the satisfaction of all, and the ground had been thoroughly dampened with water, the members of the class seated themselves in a circle around the tree, and listened to a short speech by the Vice-President, Annie Stone. She emphasized the opportunities and advantages which are the heritage of each individual of the Sophomore Class and closed with the following words: "Fellow classmates, the Flame Vine, which we have planted is symbolic of the past, the present and the future of our class. For the past, it is typical of what has gone before. A seed was dropped into the earth from which it has grown. This typifies the seeds of knowledge that have been planted in our brains, and are now beginning to take root. For the present, it humbly looks up to this noble pine and aspires to great things, as we do. Its future, like ours is uncertain but nevertheless, hopeful. Grounded in this hallowed soil nourished and encouraged by the memories and the achievements of the past, may this flame vine be a symbol of development for us, the Sophomore Class and for you, Old Rollins; may its growth be deeper, broader, higher, and may its associations become closer and stronger."

The ceremony from the moment the root touched the loamy soil, until the last echoes of the class yell died away, was very impressive, and will not soon be forgotten by the members of the class of '18.

NATIONAL SECRETARIES VISIT ROLLINS

Miss Mabel E. Stone, Travelling Student Secretary of the South Atlantic Field and Miss Helen L. Thomas, Educational Secretary of the National Board of Young Women's Christian Associations arrived at Rollins Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning respectively to visit the Rollins Y. W. C. A.

This is Miss Stone's third visit to Rollins and she was warmly welcomed by the faculty and the students.

Although Miss Thomas' first visit to Rollins, she has made many friends who will be glad to welcome her again.

On Tuesday afternoon the students of Rollins discovered that Miss Stone was not only an excellent secretary, but a lover of sport and an expert canoeist as well. Miss Thomas and Miss Stone spent the "sunset hours" canoeing on our beautiful lakes, with the latter in command of their craft. In commenting upon the beauty of the lakes, Miss Thomas declared that she felt that she had been suddenly transported to Japan or to some such picturesque foreign land. She is also enthusiastic in her praise of the campus which she says is one of the most beautiful she has ever seen.

The second meeting of the Jubilee was held in Cloverleaf Tuesday evening. The meeting was presided over by Elizabeth Russell, president of the Y. W. C. A. and devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Stone. After several solos sung by Gertrude Hall, Miss Thomas delivered a very inspiring and helpful address.

She spoke of the wonderful opportunities for service which are being presented to the women and girls of today, and of the responsibility which is being placed upon them, especially upon the women of America.

"This time, in spite of all its horror and anguish is nevertheless the greatest dawn the world has ever known."

Miss Thomas also said that it is the Christian people who are binding the world together, joining even the countries of Europe which are engaged in war.

The address closed with a plea for investment of personality and the surrender of talents and lives to the service of the King.

mestic life were his appetite, his excessive use of rocking chairs, which he kept continually going, night and day—thinking as he rocked, and rocking as he thought, and his fondness for talking about adventures and planning trips for himself to be taken after he had left school. One of these was a trip to Honduras in search of gold and adventure. He was an amateur athlete, physically well formed and proportioned, and as our gymnastic instructor for several years, gave entire satisfaction. He was not a brilliant student and in his college work there was no promise of the story writer into which he has grown."

This was Dr. Baker's recollection of Rex Beach, who will, if he lives, be 38 years of age next September. We all of us know his splendid work, and it will be impossible for me to take up any of his novels in the short time at my disposal tonight. I would like, however, to state that I consider, and I believe that my opinion is concurred in by many people that Beach's description of the work being done at Panama, as set down in his "Ne'er Do Well" is a masterpiece. Probably many of you recall that description. It puts one right on the spot. One saw the tremendous machinery; you could hear the whistles of the steam engines, the deafening roar of the blasting operations, and over it all, one felt the master directing mind that governed it all. Many of Mr. Beach's stories have been dramatized, and his admirers have had the privilege of seeing exemplified the character he draws with such vivid clearness. The novelist was at Rollins College from 1891 to 1896, and of course may properly be claimed as a Florida author. I think most of those here will agree with me that Rex Beach is the most famous of Florida's living authors. He is still quite a young man; what the future may hold in store for him we do not know, but his prospects are most brilliant. It was rumored some time ago that he was losing his sight. I have, however, found nothing to confirm this. It is probably a false rumor. Besides Rex Beach, I have to submit the following list of Rollins College students who have written: Claude Washburn, the date of whose residence at Rollins I have been unable to establish. He wrote one novel, I understand, but it was conceived after his departure from Rollins. I am not even able to tell you the title of this book, but it was written, and written by a Rollins student.

Then there was Miss Eva Wilkins, teacher and author of that pretty little story "The Weaver's Children." She was as well a playwright, having produced the drama, "The Brogues of Kilvain Glen" and one or two other plays.

FORMER EDITOR OF SANDSPUR
PRAISES SOPHOMORE NUMBER

The following letter of commendation has been received from Mr. T. W. Lawton, Rollins '03, of Oviedo, concerning recent edition of the Sandspur which was published by the Sophomore Class:

"Editors, Rollins Sandspur:

Having been editor of the Sandspur in 1902-03 I take the liberty of offering the following criticism on your latest issue: I consider it, without exception, the best college publication I have ever had the pleasure of perusing, especially the articles of the Sophomore contributors, who display most remarkable ability, not to say, genius.

Thanking you for the interest you show in Rollins alumni, and wishing you continued success, both in your college work and in your editorial efforts, I am sincerely,

Your friend,
T. W. LAWTON, '03."

ART TEACHERS AND STUDENTS
GIVE RECEPTION

Friday afternoon an art exhibit and reception in the studio was given by Miss Catherine Brebner and Miss Elizabeth Meriwether. A large and fashionable crowd was present and they seemed greatly interested in the exhibits of work done by students and teachers.

Among the most interesting exhibits were the water colors of buildings and various scenes at the Panama expositions and other interesting places in the west. These are the work of Miss Brebner.

There were also many beautiful pieces of jewelry and metal work which were done by Miss Meriwether and her students.

Another most interesting feature of the afternoon was several violin selections by Dr. Allen, which delighted all who were present.

Refreshments of cake and punch was served by the art students.
