ROLLINS ART DEPARTMENT TAKES MANY PRIZES

After having given a charming reception at the College Studio Miss Brebner and Miss Meriwether arranged at the Five-County Orlando Fair a representative exhibit of the work of their department. Half the side of one wall was hung with clever and interesting studies in portraiture sketches from nature, designs, pen and ink drawings, etc., while on a table below were shown brass and copper work and jewelry.

About thirty premiums were gained. Among the prize winners were Miss Brebner, Miss Meriwether, Miss Catherine Crawford Smith, Miss Harriet Dyer, Lady Sara Hendry and Mr. Will Hunter.

REGARDING EXCHANGES

A number of exchanges have arrived in the past few weeks; but not as many as we would like. It seems that our student body represents enough states to give us a good exchange list. Your help on this matter would be greatly appreciated.

We have exchanges from the following states: Iowa, New Hampshire, Indiana, Ohio.

The exchanges from our own state are: Palmetto and Pine, Florida Alligator, Stetson Weekly Collegiate, The Gopher, O. H. S. Echo.

MR. FROST SPEAKS TO SOCIOLOGY CLASS

Dean Ferguson's class in sociology enjoyed a talk on various lines of social work last week when Mr. Frost of Milwaukee spoke to them of the work done in that city during his many years of residence there. He touched very interestingly upon its many phases, the educational, the legal, the religious sides, showing what it has been possible to accomplish and giving valuable insight into the manner in which this successful work was carried on.

Dr. Weatherford, "Father of Blue Ridge Conference" Will Visit Rollins

It is with a great deal of interest in the Christian Association of our college and our college life in general that one of the busiest altruistic workers of the South will visit us within a few days. Few people realize the field and work of this one man and every man in school should show his appreciation of this visit with a warm welcome by word of mouth as well as by their presence at his meetings.

He is the man who is leading the students of the South in a study and investigation of the Negro Problem. He is the Father of Blue Ridge Summer School. He has refused to accept positions in other fields of service because he believed he could best serve us. In other words he is one of us, working with us in the Southland, helping us to work out our problems and doing his best to bring the standard of college life of the South up to and above that of any other section of the world.

Dr. Weatherford was glad to welcome five of our men at Blue Ridge as delegates last June. He was well satisfied with the student conference held here last June. He was delighted to know of our large delegation at the Gainesville conference this year and he has heard other things about us. He believes we are a live association.

Dr. Weatherford has been invited to come down and look us over several times. We believe we deserved a visit from him, but he could not come, as other fields were so pressing. Last year he was busily engaged among the colleges of the southwest and this year he has more than he can attend to, but considers this an important field and has consented to spend five days in the state. Three of these days he will spend at the university of Florida and the remaining two with us.

Personally, some of us feel highly honored in having him visit us and the association as an organization should have this same feeling. Dr. Weatherford is giving his attention and service to the associations that are doing things.

Association! Attention! Here Is a Piece of Work to Be Done, March!

Y. W. C. A. Workers Needed

The fourth Jubilee meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening in Cloverleaf. Elizabeth Russell, the president, introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Agnes Davidson, Chairman of the Extension Committee, of the Jacksonville City Association.

Miss Davidson extended the greeting of the Jacksonville Y. W. C. A. to the local association. She said that there is really more of a bond between city and student associations than is commonly supposed. The training which one gets in college is invaluable for work which may be taken up after graduation either as a "woman of leisure" or as a business woman. The Y. W. C. A. Board in most cities is composed of about thirty women. These women are serious Christian workers who have the necessary time and energy to devote to such positions.

Each of these women has charge of a division of the work, and under her are different committees and their chairman.

Miss Davidson gave a very interesting sketch of some of the work accomplished by the extension department of which she has charge. The city association tries to reach the girls of the suburbs and especially those girls and woman who work in factories and stores, by showing them that the Y. W. C. A. wants to be the friend of each and every one of them. Volunteer workers can accomplish this much more easily than employed workers and it is in this field that the college women may find the greatest opportunities for service.

At the "neighborhood center" which the extension committee supports in one of the suburbs of Jacksonville any girl over eight years of age may spend one afternoon each week playing games, singing, reading, learning folk-dances or taking part in the gymnasium classes.

Once each month both young women and young men are entertained by the committee at the Neighborhood House. And so, by giving these people wholesome entertainment as well as other things the Y. W. C. A. is working out its great purpose of giving girls a chance to live the life abundant.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB GIVES BENEFIT CONCERT

The Girls' Glee Club gave a performance at the Country Club last night for a worthy cause. The lady is known to many of the townspeople who have responded liberally to assist her now that she is ill and with out funds. Thru the efforts of Mrs. Morse, the concert was a financial as well as a social success.

Plans for the home concert have been changed. The performance will be held as always, in Knowles Hall, with the usual charge of fifty cents admission, twenty five to students. The date will be announced later as the calendar for the second week in March is not yet made up. The proceeds will go to the Y. W. C. A. and it is to be hoped that all students will endeavor to sell as many tickets as possible for the good of the cause.

The Club's next concert will be at Winter Haven on March 1st.

DR. SNELL, MISSIONARY VISITS ORLANDO

Dr. J. A. Snell, former practising physician in China, and now traveling representative of the Student Volunteer movement, paid the campus a visit during the past week, coming here under the auspices of the Association. While here he addressed the 2:15 assembly Saturday afternoon.

Before leaving for Stetson University Sunday evening Dr. Snell spoke at the vesper service held in Knowles Hall in the afternoon at 4.30, his subject being "Union with God."

"COME ON IN THE WATER'S FINE"

The most recent movement on foot at Rollins now is "Back to the 'Ol' Swimmin' Hol." The recent prevailing warm weather is gradually making a rise in temperature of the water of Lake Virginia and giving courage to the more enthusiastic of the swimmers. One by one they are slipping down to the dock and lounging in, in answer to the gurgle of the wavelets as they stick under the pier and say "jump in, betcha dasn't, 'taint cold." But soon the boys will be crowding on the dock jostling and splashing one another in friendly jest. It is the weather man that whispers the call "Back to the 'Ol' Swimmin' Hole."

At the weekly cabinet meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held last Wednesday, February twenty third, a nominating committee was chosen for selecting candidates for the Y. M. C. A. offices for the ensuing year, consisting of Warren Ingram, Ray Martin and "Chico" Heydrich. The yearly election is to take place Wednesday, March the first.

Why is the Canoe Club?

Three more school months!

Baseball—shall we say more?

How do you like the way the Sandspur is, "Sticking."

Wonder how many college editors will attend the Florida Press Association meeting at Kissimmee in April.

The freshman were quite evidently elated over the success of their edition of the Sandspur—and why shouldn't they be? The Sophs set the example.

Why do we like Rollins best? Because Rollins IS best. If you don't believe this stay at your own school, we don't need knockers here.

'STICK TO IT'

In work, as in play proficiency comes with practice. The engineer must go through a long and rigorous training period, just as must the prize fighter, or for that matter the bridge whist expert. We get results by tackling a thing, whether work or play and, "sticking."

It is with considerable concern that we have noted an apparent falling off of interest in Y. M. C. A. work of late: meetings are not as well attended as formerly, and worse still we seem to have lost, to a certain extent that, "Pep" and vim which made the organization, "Go" during the first of the year. Certainly there are many diverting factors, in the college life which can account for this apparent dying down of interest, but these factors should not be allowed to divert, interest in Y. M. C. A. work. Interest should increase rather than diminish and the organization should be stronger by far at the end of the year than at the beginning. Come out fellows! Wake up! forget the side issues for a time and let's all get together and have the most enthusiastic meeting of the year next Tuesday! Stick to the Y. M. C. A..

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS

We must not let the spring pass without a stirring series of tennis tournaments! Never within the history of Rollins has tennis been as popular with the entire student body as at present. Over seventy per cent of the students play tennis to a greater or less extent. All know and love the game. Tennis is by far the most popular amusement on the campus.

We should have three big tournaments, the usual one for boys, another for the girls, and finally a mixed one. Already rumors of tournaments are afloat, but rumor is never as interesting as reality. The students want the tournaments, but nobody starts the movement. Let someone, who understands the work of successfully promoting such affairs get busy and work out a plan of action which will assure a splendid series of tournaments for the spring months. Just start such a movement, and see what will happen!

"ONE STUDENT PER STUDENT" would be a good slogan for next vacation time. If every STUDENT would guarantee to bring back another new STUDENT in the fall it would be one of the greatest STUDENT Volunteer movements imaginable.

The cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. acting as nominating committee met last Monday to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

The nominations were as follows:

President—Sara Muriel, Katherine Gates.

Vice-President—Florence Sherman, Georgia Frost.

Secretary—Winifred Hanchett, Idabel Edwards.

Treasurer—Virga West, Sadie Pellerin.

The election will be held Tuesday, February twenty ninth from three to five p. m.

STORY OF WHAT ROLLINS PEOPLE HAVE WRITTEN

Continued From Our Last Regular Issue of February 12

In the preceding chapters special mention was made of several Rollins writers including, Rex Beach, Claude Washburn and Miss Eva Wilkins. The interesting chronicle continues as follows:

Rollins College, in fact, produced several women of note in literary lines. Women, however, have always been strong in literary work, as we well know.

There was at Rollins also, Mrs. Rose Mills Powers, wife of Prof Hiram Powers. I do not think she ever published a volume, but her verses appeared frequently in the Youth's Companion and other magazines and newspapers. She wrote, you will all perhaps recall, mostly child verses—appealing lines of considerable merit.

Miss Susan Dyer is teacher of orchestra music at Rollins. She is the daughter of the late Commodore Dyer, U. S. N., and contributed verses to many magazines.

At Winter Park lived Miss Holbrook, now deceased. She wrote Vol. I of the "McIntyres" and was besides a magazine contributor of some note. There is a book in preparation now, and I believe I am not disclosing a secret when I state its title: "Southern Wild Flowers." It is being written by another woman, Miss Mary E. Francis, who spent considerable time in the last two years in Florida containing data for this volume, and some part of that time was spent at Rollins, writing. The botany will be illustrated from photographs Miss Francis has taken developed and printed herself. A gentleman who has had the privilege of inspecting these photographs told me "They are the finest flower photos that I have ever seen." Miss Francis is at present at West Palm Beach, but she will be in Winter Park again in a few weeks.

Other writers connected with either Winter Park or Rollins are: Dr. Edmund H. Hyde, professor of Latin, author of biographies, classical and Oriental articles for encyclopedias, etc. Then Wm. Freemont Blackman, whose "The Making of Hawaii, a Study of Social Evolution" published in 1899, has become a standard. Dr. Blackman's career is fully noted in "Who's Who in America."

Then there is that fine specimen of the old school gentleman, Dr. Thomas Rakestraw Baker, a member of the Society of Friends to whose kindness I am so much indebted for material of this paper. Dr. Baker's name appears in the National authority "Who's Who" and if you are curious enough you may find out how young he is, for I can assure you he is a very young old man. He is retired now from active work in connection with Rollins, but is engaged in valuable research work. He is the author of "Elements of Physics," "A Short Course in Chemistry" and "Questions in Physics and Chemistry."

I have been unable to find out very much concerning Mr. Paber formerly of Jacksonville, and who for many years was the Poet Laureate of the Florida Press Association. I was informed that my friend Mr. Gore could give me some information regarding this Laureate, and if Mr. Gore is here it is possible that he may be able to enlighten us a little later.

At Winter Park lives Col. Hugh T. Reed, who wrote that stirring story: "Cadet Life at West Point." A trustee of the college at Winter Park is Mr. Edward P. Branch, who wrote that strong story of the western reserve, "Plain People."

Of course it would never do to leave Winter Park without noting the residence there of that talented woman, Mrs. Alden, who wrote the famous "Pansy Books." We all know them; they are as celebrated as the "Elsie Books" and Mrs. Alden's name will go down in history linked with the names of Louisa Alcott and the author of the "Elsie Books." Her son Raymond Alden, was a student at Rollins. He is, I believe, now a professor in Leland Stanford University. His tutor at Rollins, in speaking of Raymond says: "He was a writer from boyhood, as however he was expected to be. As a student here he showed marked ability as an essayist and short story writer in his class room work." Raymond is the famous son of a famous mother. The Aldens were a talented family. Grace Livingston Hill was a novice of the author of the "Pansy Books" and is a writer of considerable note; she was an early teacher of gymnastics at Rollins. Her works are somewhat of the nature of those of her aunt, Mrs. Alden. The author of the "Pansy Books" has, I believe, sold her fine residence at Winter Park, and now lives in California.

Alumni Notes

Mr. Gerald Froemke, who was a student in Rollins Academy for several years, has been attending St. Thomas' Military Academy, Minneapolis, during the past year. He has made the first teams of both football and basketball squads and has a good chance of making a letter in baseball and track also. Gerald was very popular while in Rollins and made a splendid athletic record.

President Berkeley Blackman, of the Alumni Association, visited the campus last week preparatory to getting out the Alumni Number of The Sandspur which is to be published soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrick, of Miami, motored up to visit the campus during the past week. Mr. Merrick was a student in Rollins some years ago.

ROLLINS CHRONICLES

During the past year, Dr. T. R. Baker, Professor Emeritus of Natural Science of Rollins College, has been collecting material, i. e., addresses and occupations, of alumni and former students to be published shortly in the Alumni Bulletin. These records are not yet complete and all those formerly connected with the institution are urged to send to Dr. Baker any information which they may have concerning this matter.

Many former students have written very interesting letters to Dr. Baker, giving him the desired information, and The Sandspur publishes below a number of excerpts which it is believed will add a very absorbing chapter to the history of Rollins College.

ROTTERS? YES SLIGHTLY!

An amusing feature of the Winter Park-Ocoee ball game Thursday afternoon was the presence of at least two bona-fide, died-in-the-wool sure enough, "Rooters." Some of the fellows evidently mistrusted their own qualifications, and as safeguards brought two infantile grunTERS along to assist in the rooting. From a fun-making standpoint the youngsters were highly successful.

THE LADY AND THE RAT

Cloverleaf at 2 a. m. Scene, a certain bed room on the ? floor. Curtain rises, disclosing darkness. A slight noise is heard, followed by a sudden falling of crockery in the direction of the washstand.

A figure-in-White bobs up from the bed. Silence. A match is struck. It is held aloft, then goes out. Mutters from the Figure-in-White. Second match struck, a candle lighted. Figure-in-White steps gingerly from the warmth of her downy couch holding candle aloft.

Noise of falling books and more scrambling this time by Figure-in-White. Squeals. Sound of bed springs as F-W takes refuge in its depths once more. Silence. Slight noise by the door, resembling gnawing. Sound increases. F-W's head emerges from bed clothes. Candle still burns by bed side. Slowly F-W reaches for slippers on floor and hurls it at the shape dimly seen by the door; scrambling furious, more squeals. F-W again steps from bed. Holding candle aloft, she glides across room. Two large eyes gleam in the uncertain light. A shadowy shape is outlined against the dark background. Two huge ears rise from either side of gleaming eyes. The creature sits motionless upon the dressing table!

With a moment of remarkable agility and dexterity, the Figure-in-White envelops the apparition in a bath robe and hurls it thru the window, being careful to retain one end of the robe, that it may not land in the flower beds below. A gasp of relief, a hasty investigation of bookcase, wash stand and dresser, groans of dismay at the dire destruction wrought,—Figure-in-White climbs slowly back into bed, sets lighted candle on chair beside bed, looks fearfully about and disappears under bed clothes.

Increase of foot lights, eliminating blues; day appears. Candle burns on. Sun enters window. Falls upon door sill. Carpenters shavings strew the floor! Broken china lies beneath the wash stand, books have fallen to the floor, and every drawer of the dresser is pulled open! The RAT has flown!!!

M. W.

Margaret Rogers spent a pleasant week-end at Orange City.

Mr. D. W. Tallman of Buffalo, N. Y. is spending several weeks in Winter Park visiting his daughter, Marjorie, a member of the Freshman class.

Miss Agnes Davidson, of Jacksonville spent several days at the college as a guest of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Bernice S. Potter, Coconut Grove, Fla., who attended Rollins in '95-'96: "I suppose I shall be called a fruit grower or farmer as I have been manager for the Florida Citrus Exchange house here for the past six years. I would like to know where the rest of the students are who were there in the same class with me, as I only know where a few of them are."

NOTES

Maurice Wheldon, a popular member of the graduating class of the Academy, was called home a few days ago on account of the death of his brother William, who was drowned on the East Coast. The deepest sympathy of all students is keenly felt for their classmate in his hour of bereavement.

Carl Rodenbaugh, who has been absent for a week on account of pressing business affairs, will return to school Tuesday.

Mrs. Esther M. Page, proprietress of the Hotel Page of Bangor, Maine, visited the campus and town Tuesday as the guest of Miss E. Ethel Enyart. Mrs. Page has been in Florida during the past two months and is delighted with the incomparable climate. She is especially pleased with Winter Park.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lake, of Minneapolis, arrived in Winter Park, Friday to visit their son Randolph, for a few days. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Eng-quist, also of Minneapolis, and the party will make their headquarters here during their sojourn in Florida.

Monday the party, with the addition of Leon D. Lewis, motored over to St. Augustine taking in the sights.

Prof. William H. Branham, formerly professor of Modern Languages in Rollins College, is spending a few weeks at the home of Prof. and Mrs.
E. S. Palmer at their home on Virginia Drive. Prof Branham received his education in the University of Oxford, England, where he was a Rhoades scholar, and later took a degree in the University of Madrid.

Those attending the tea Saturday afternoon at the Country Club were Misses Powers, Russell, Clark and Messrs. Hanna, Noxen, Ballard and Shaw. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Hiram Powers and Misses Leach and Chess, of Pittsburg.

Miss Margaret Rogers returned to the campus Tuesday afternoon after a pleasant week-end with cousins in Orange City.

planning to make this a number full of interesting news of the association, and it promises to be one of the best special numbers of the year.

"SOPHOMORE ROAST"

To the Sophomore class, I give my time,
Wasting my moments in idle rhyme.

To Freddie's dignity it falls
To quell the lively Sophies squalls.

And next in line comes Annie
Who revels in nothing to do.

And looking still farther methodical
Sara
Takes the pennies, and scribbles a line or two.

Here comes Gym Greene, who's simply a terror
When you're a few seconds late to gym by error.

And then there's Phil, our basketball star, Oh, I say, listen how she makes the gym floor jar.

Who would say Hutchy is slow
For one whose jaws just go and go?

A few lines from Huntsman I must take,
For the fish have his picture all over the lake.

Next comes Sadie our ten o'clock scholar
Of being early she has a decided horror.

And looking yet farther, I deem it my duty,
To mention Mary, our blushing beauty.

Along comes Ben, who dreams of the day,
When—"That is mine," to poetry in print, he can say.

There's Sunny and Tilly, our auburn-haired pair
Have the fire hose handy when they come near.

And I musn't forget Jimmy our mocking bird Whose flute like notes charm all things weird.

Last there's Lillian and Kitty, those silly little lambs,
Who for so long have strayed from
the fold,
But we're so glad to see them back
We do not even scold.

—A. C. STONE '18.

1st Freshman (reading an Arctic explorer's account of his travels)—"Eskimos seemed to have a peculiar relish for our candles."

2d Freshman (in whose mind there still lingers the memory of a faintly sweet and indigestible stick of paraffine)—"Gee, show that to the Sophs. They think they put one over on the whole human race."

Hang all this fuss and flurry anyway! What's the matter with Rollins? She's all right!

In days of old,
When knights were bold,
And ladies fair and true,
What'ud you 'a done,
If some sonvagon
Haduh chunked his spear at Y-O-U?

A dillar, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar;
What makes you come to school?
To see the Sophomores walk sedate,
While Freshmen cut the fool!

The organ mourns in tones distrest,
Our class in science seems deprest;
Then, "in conclusion" from the desk,
And Palmer wakes with, "Who's up next?" —J. H. H.—'19.

Anyone desiring further information about the above is referred to Prof. Palmer or to any member of his class in Biology.

A minute wasted is a minute lost,
Take a day off and figure the cost.

Yours not to question why;
Yours but to do or die.

The hardest thing a Freshie has to do is to keep from being mistaken for a Senior—so be sure to wear your Caps.

Miss Gladwin to Sunny—"What is the difference between a colored child and a white one?"

Sunny—"I don't know, what is the difference?"

Sara—"One is crocheted "crow shade and the other is knit."

Hill—"Here's an article in which scientists say that bugs have emotion. He claims he has seen mosquitoes weep."

K. G.—"Well, I've seen a moth ball.

A Musical At Rollins as reported.

Two young ladies, one on the piano, the other on the violin rendered several artistic selections from the old masters.

"Suppose there were only three women in the world; what would they talk about?"

"Two of them would get together and talk about the other."—Ex.
