MAY DAY CELEBRATION BRILLIANT AFFAIR

GERALDINE CLARK CROWN- ED QUEEN OF THE MAY

The annual May festival celebrated on the campus Monday, May 8, was the most attractive out-of-doors pageant presented by the students this season, and was witnessed by the largest number of town and out-of-town visitors of the year. The beautiful stretch of campus lying between Cloverleaf Cottage and Carnegie Hall which is studded with towering pines and encircled with spreading oaks was a most appropriate setting for the gay festivities. The whole scene presented a spectacle very much akin to fairyland.

May Day is one of the banner days of the college year, and the program this year was a great credit to the Christian Associations, which had charge of the affair.

A very unique and unexpected part of the program was the appearance of Lakeside's "Mascot," a huge elephant and his keeper, Roland Lutz, attired in East Indian costume. The elephant which is the work of Prof. Lenhart, is the pride of the Lakeside boys.

An orchestra provided music for the grand march, which was the first number on the program. The columns formed at Knowles Hall by the young women with garlands draped over their shoulders, and by the young men at Carnegie Hall met directly in front of Cloverleaf Cottage, where the May pole and the throne had been placed. After a graceful series of evolutions, the marchers formed a semi-circle on each side of the throne. In the coronation procession immediately preceding the queen were Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, Dean of Women, the crown-bearer, four dainty flower girls, who scattered rose petals before the May Queen, Miss Geraldine Clark, and her little train bearer, Master Smith, her maid of honor and attendant, Vanetta Hall, Elizabeth Russell and Sara Muriel. Having reached the throne the May Queen knelt, while Mrs. Ferguson with impressive words crowned her Queen of the May and presented to her the scepter, typifying the sway which the charming queen holds over the hearts of her fellow students. Geraldine made a beautiful and regal queen seated amid myriads of flowers and garlands which bedecked her throne.

Following the coronation ceremonies, a May Pole dance was presented by twelve of the young ladies of Cloverleaf, and an Old English country dance by eight members of the Sophomore class.

The annual Freshman-Senior Academy affair was next in order. This proved to be a very entertaining Shakespearean farce, presented by a cast composed of several members of each class, who represented a number of Shakespeare's most noted characters who had met in a solemn council to determine the reason for an apparent lack of interest in the Shakespearean dramas on the part of present day theatre-goers. Winifred Hanchett as Cleopatra and Ray Martin as Skylock displayed considerable historic art in the reading of their lines. The other members of the cast especially worthy of mention were Gertrude B. Hall, as Juliet, Georgia Frost, as Lady Macbeth, Jennie Williams, as Desdemona, Trillis Wesseler as first witch from Macbeth, Maurice Wheldon, as Macbeth, J. Harold Hill, as Romeo, and DeWitt Taylor, as Hamlet.

During the afternoon refreshments of punch, cakes and cream were sold for the benefit of the Christian Associations.

CANOE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At the special meeting of the I-Hoo-Es-Chay Canoe Club which met in Knowles Hall Thursday afternoon, the nominating committee made its report of nominations of officers for the ensuing year.

Reports of all officers and of the various standing committees were received and approved after which the election took place.

The following officers were elected: Benjamin C. Shaw, President. Geraldine Barbour, Vice-President. Roland, Lutz, Sec'y and Treasurer. Leonard Fletcher, Commodore. Prof. E. S. Palmer, Vice-Commodore.

Arrangements were also made for the care and maintenance of that part of the boathouse which has recently been remodelled for the housing of the canoes.

RECEPTION TO SENIOR CLASS

One of the delightful commencement affairs scheduled for today will be the reception for the senior class which will be held at 4:30 this afternoon. College students, and their families, are invited to attend.

Miss Bellows (as Genevieve comes in late and attention of class is distracted)—"I wish that the class would not notice every little thing."

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS WON BY ROLLINS

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS WON BY ROLLINS

The tennis matches between Rollins and the University of Florida were played Monday. The court was in surprisingly good condition after the hard rain. The players undaunted by the wet court and occasional showers, played with skill and good will. They were cheered by an enthusiastic crowd of students and faculty. The first match was hard fought, Tilden and Prof. Palmer against Orr and Smith of the University, the latter winning. The scores were:

1st set—6-1, Florida.

2nd set—7-5, Rollins.

3rd set—6-4, Florida.

The first match of singles was played by "Manny" Wheldon and Walker of Florida. "Manny" played his usual good game, not in least abashed by Walker's slammed returns. Walker lost by a score of:

1st set—6-3, Wheldon.

2nd set—7-5, Walker.

3rd set—6-love, Wheldon.

Harold Tilden won the second match of singles from Smith. "Little Tilly" skillfully placed his balls, keeping his opponent constantly on the run. Smith's serve was low and swift, his returns were often cuts or slams. The score were:

1st set—6-3, H. Tilden.

2nd set—6-4, Smith.

3rd set—6-1, Tilden.

The latest match was called on account of rain. Sherman and Wheldon play against Orr and Walker of the University. The team work of the players showed that they realized that tennis requires brains. Not once did one get in the way of the other. The playing was lively, keeping the spectators excitedly interested. We are confident that our team would have won despite the splendid work done by the opposing team had not the rain interfered. The scores were:

1st set—10-8, Rollins.

2nd set—5-4, Rollins.

It was regretted that one of the University's best players, Hamilton, was obliged to leave for Palatka Sunday and unable to return for the games on Monday.

The entire student body and faculty are proud of their players and congratulate them on their success. It is hoped that match games may be played between these two colleges each year. A tennis season could rival the football season in interest.

SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1916

With this issue of the Sandspur we lay aside our work until next fall when we hope to take it up again with renewed earnestness and vigor.

When the Sandspur was first published last November as a weekly paper, there were many people who frowned upon it, saying that the school could not support a weekly paper, that the staff would too soon tire of its duties and that it were folly to attempt such a task. How well the school supported the paper, how zealously the staff worked, and how far from folly the undertaking has been, those who have read the Sandspur may judge. True it has not been perfect, but both present students and alumni have felt justly proud of the paper which only the persistency and hard work of the staff which served until May 1st, made possible.

The present staff has no easy task before it—that of keeping the paper up to the standard which was maintained throughout the school year, but, profiting by the experience of the first champions of the Sandspur as a weekly, we hope to work always toward a higher and higher standard of excellence. To do this, to make our paper more worth while than ever before, to keep it a wide-awake factor in the life of Rollins, we must have the loyal support of every person who is interested in Rollins, and especially must we have the co-operation of the entire student body.

Would it be too high a standard if we should take as our slogan for next year, "Five Hundred Subscriptions before November First?" Would this be unattainable? No! Not if faculty, alumni, students and staff work faithfully and zealously for the Sandspur and if we all "Stick to it."

The faculty and students are glad that Professor Lenhart has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to resume his work in the business school.

ALUMNI NEWS

Mrs. Emily Pelton Shutts, who as Miss Emily Pelton, was a Rollins teacher from 1897 to 1899, writes as follows: "My new address is Krontona, Hollywood, Los Angeles, California. We have moved here and built a home, 'Casa Rayda,' and our expectation is to be here the rest of our days. This is a school for adults, and we occupy ourselves in studying comparative religious philosophy, and science, and their working to help humanity to a clearer vision of life as is embraced in God's plan for man. The campus is an estate of 14 acres, and has buildings and cottage-homes scattered over it."

Rollins College has no better friend and none who more earnestly wishes for its continued success, than Mrs. Shutts. She continues, "I have always felt that the college was very near and dear to me."

An accompanying check for $10.00 from Mrs. Shutts, as a donation to our museum, is a much appreciated gift.

The editors of the Sandspur have received during the year many gratifying letters from Rollins alumni encouraging the work, some, too, offering helpful suggestions. Former students have also written to Dr. Baker thanking him for his interest in getting out the list of names and addresses which went out as supplements to the Alumni number of the Sandspur. From Cuba to California, from Boston to Seattle come appreciations which are indeed stimulating.

Mr. Alden of California congratulates the editors upon "the good appearance and readable character" of our college paper while he says that "the list of names and addresses of former Rollins students was particularly acceptable."

Many of the letters have told of omitted names or incorrect ones which were gladly received here. Julio Soto Navarro of Havana sends in two omissions; but says that he found the paper very interesting and was especially glad to know where all his former classmates were located. He thinks of visiting Rollins in the fall.

From a law office in Seattle came a letter from R. P. Oldham suggesting more names for the supplement. Floyd Luter of Cayo Costa, Florida, sent in some corrections.

Mrs. F. C. Hamilton writes that she hears "almost no Rollins news" and is glad to have any means of learning how things are going on there.

Among the number of unusually interesting letters of reminiscences was one from Walter B. Mahony to the Rollins Sandspur. Mr. Mahony writes from New York and says that on opening the Alumni number of the Sandspur he "felt like his own grandfather." Indeed, times or rather "things" have changed and we realize it when we place together pictures of the old buildings and of the new; but we might with slight change—perhaps the substitution of a name here and there—take these reminiscences of a student of many years ago as incidents of the last week or yesterday.

CONTRIBUTIONS OF MRS. HARLEY B. GIBBS TO INTERESTING MUSEUM AT ROLLINS COLLEGE

This contribution is a valuable and interesting collection of specimens, among which are a glass fish-net bouy 5.8 inches in diameter, a form of bouy used off Gloucester, Mass. in 1887; an ostrich egg from China; a number of pieces of solidified wood, including a section of a limb of a tree, from Rock Butte, Colorado; shells from Bermuda, Nassau and Gerrish Island, Maine; Sea Beans, odd forms of fungi; a sea urchin and a sear-fish; a beautiful specimen of dendrite; an Indian gouge and arrow head, plowed up at Milan Ohio; sheets of raised letters for the use of blind readers; a very small Bible history, 1.9x1.5x.9 inches, and nearly 100 years old; and, for the drapery display, a doll and a baby's dress more than 100 years old.

The Bouy is obviously defective, and doubtless at the place where the projection for fastening it to the net was broken off, and, although there is no crack, or "needle hole" visible here, even through a microscope, at the great depth to which it was sunk in the ocean, the pressure was so great that about two-thirds of the volume of the globe, originally "empty," were filled with water. The surface of this globe contains 380.16 square inches, and the entire pressure upon this surface at the depth of 1000 feet would be more than 165,000 lbs. and at the depth of a mile, about 871,200 lbs., or nearly 436 tons.

The ostrich egg is equivalent in volume to nearly 20 hens' eggs.—Reporter-Star.

THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES

We are in receipt of the following: Dear Sir:—

Enclosed herewith a copy of a bill, brought before the last session of congress by Senator James, which will explain itself.

Kindly assist us as far as possible in establishing the proper phraseology to be applied to the war of '61 and '65 by using the term "War between the States" whenever you have occasion to allude to that epoch instead of calling it "Civil War," or any of the other equally erroneous appellations.

Respectfully,

Mrs. A. Mc. D. WILSON,
Chairman for Georgia

The bill in part follows:—

"Civil War" is defined by the best authorities as "a war between the citizens of a common country," "citizens of the same nation," etc. Now, for four years we maintained an entirely separate government from that of the United States, being an entity known the world over as the Confederate States.

We weren't fighting for possession of the government at Washington, nor would we have fought at all if let alone. So, as we were not citizens of a "common country" during a period of four years, it could not be called a "civil war."

Hon. Charles Francis Adams, of Massachusetts, says in a recent letter that "the term civil war signifies nothing."

There have been innumerable civil wars, and as a matter of general history it is manifestly absurd for us to appropriate the term to a single civil war of our own."

Mr. Bryce, in his American Commonwealth, speaks of the United States as "A union of Commonwealth; * * * they have over their citizens an authority which is their own and not delegated by the Central Government. They—that is, the older ones among them—existed before it. They could exist without it."

Nor were we in any sense rebels. Unlike George Washington and the colonists, we were subjects of no power, and hence could not rebel.

Our inherent doctrine of State sovereignty was our justification for resisting Federal aggression, and it is only in the interest of correct history that we are making this move.

The "War between the States" does not imply that it was a war between individual States. The noun "States" is used in its collective sense. And the official titles of the contending parties were the "United States" and the "Confederate States," hence our contention that the proper appellation for that great conflict is "The War Between the States."

Have you ever thought what your vacation should mean to you? Have you ever thought that it might be happier if, instead of seeking only selfish pleasure you tried to help someone else to have a little more of the joy of living which vacation should bring to all of us? A kind word, a slight courtesy, or a pleasant smile may do much to bring a little thrill of happiness to some life with which you are associated. Try being a little more thoughtful for others and see if vacation will not be happier and more satisfactory than ever before, and remember this when things go wrong, "When you're blue, and heart sick, and all out of sorts, do something for somebody QUICK."

SOCIAL EVENTS

FRESHMAN CLASS PICNIC

At two-thirty Tuesday afternoon, the Freshman class departed in three autos for Wekiwa Springs, where they had a most enjoyable time. Despite the fact that one of the cars had a blow out the whole party had ample time to enjoy a swim in the sulphur springs and to take a trip two miles down the lovely Wekiwa River to Shell Mound, where the party disembarked, built a camp fire, and enjoyed their picnic lunch. The chaperons for the occasion were Professor and Mrs. Pope and Miss Denison.

CHICKEN CLUB PURLEU

The Canoe Club and a number of guests discovered last Saturday evening that the Boat House makes a most ideal camping place in rainy weather. Plenty of Indian blankets, rugs and cushions made things cheery and camp like. The guests amused themselves with card playing and music until the unusually good chicken purleu (due to Commodore Fletcher's culinary skill) was served not once but twice before the ravenous appetites were satisfied. In spite of the threatening weather the party spent the latter part of the evening canoeing and although they were caught in a downpour and returned looking wet and bedraggled each one pronounced it to be a very successful event.

DRS. SWEETS AND MAUZE WELL KNOWN THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

A great deal of interest is always centered in the speakers who address the students during Commencement Week, and this year is no exception to that worthy custom. Reverend Henry H. Sweets, D. D., one of the really great men in the Presbyterian Church has been procured for the Baccalaureate Sermon. Dr. Sweets is a native of Kentucky, has been a minister in the Presbyterian Church all his life, and has held numerous important offices on the national governing board, among them being trustee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States. He is well known as a forceful speaker.

Rev. J. Layton Mauze, D. D., the noted pastor of St. Louis, who is at present attending the 56th General Presbyterian Assembly in Orlando, will deliver the Commencement address Thursday, May 25, at ten o'clock in Knowles Hall. Those who have heard Dr. Mauze speak of him in the highest terms of praise, and the college is very fortunate in securing such a gifted man.

Tiny—"Don't step on my white shoes, I have just finished blacking them."

INTERESTING SPEECH BY FORMER PRESIDENT

Dr. William F. Blackman was one of the principle speakers at the annual meeting of the South Florida Chamber of Commerce at Lakeland the first of the week. Dr. Blackman is president of the Florida Livestock Association, and as such is vitally interested in the cattle industry in Florida. During the course of his interesting address Dr. Blackman said, "The cattle industry of Florida stands today at the parting of the ways.

Along the backward path are the open and free range, tough wire grass, piney woods cattle, indiscriminate breeding, countless greedy and disease-bearing ticks, the annual round-up for the branding of calves, and the marketing of the scrawny products in Cuba or for feeding purposes in the west.

Looking into the future, what we see are enclosed farms and ranches, improved breeds, pastures and ranges of richer and more luxuriant grasses, the cultivation of forage, the silo, the dipping vat, the constant and individual care of the herds, and the marketing of the product at the slaughter houses and packing plants erected in our own borders."

Once upon a time there was a college girl, who didn't go home during vacation and assume direction of the entire family.—Ex.

DEAN ARTHUR DELANO ENYART, A. M., S. T. B.

Dean of Rollins College

Between the resignation of President Blackman last September, and the election of President Ward in April, the arduous task of steering the Rollins craft fell into the hands of a faithful, energetic, efficient and optimistic helmsman, the beloved Dean Enyart. During the past four years, the time that Professor Enyart has filled the dean's chair, Rollins College has been known to have a scholarly and successful administrator of its affairs, widely liked and admired. As dean of the Faculty he has commanded the cordial support of the teaching force and the respect and affection of the student body in an unusual and constantly increasing degree. He has exerted a most pronounced influence on the student body, stimulating them to greater efforts by his sympathetic, tactful, and firm methods.

In the absence of a president this year Dean Enyart has displayed unusual executive ability in maintaining the highest academic dignity and increasing the influence of Rollins College. He has planned an extensive advertising campaign for the college during the summer months, and it is safe to say that the result of his activity in this line will be equal to his many other successes.

MISS WILDE'S WORK HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED

Miss Harris, who is at the head of the Home Demonstration work of the State of Florida, has very highly complimented Miss Wilde's program for the study of Home Economics and Household Management as outlined in the year book of the Woman's Club of Winter Park, saying that it is the best which she has ever seen.

That Miss Wilde's work was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the club members was shown by the fact that her class was one of the most popular of those conducted by the Woman's Club in its various lines of study.

MRS. ESTHER BUCKINGHAM PATTERSON FERGUSON, B. L.
DEAN OF WOMEN

During the entire arduous school year which is just drawing to a close, Mrs. Ferguson has worked tirelessly, faithfully, but quietly and unobtrusively by the side of Dean Enyart. Because Rollins has been without a president this year, added responsibility has been thrust upon the faculty and no small share of the extra burden has fallen upon Mrs. Ferguson. But, in her usual efficient and capable manner she has borne this burden willingly and gladly and not even to her most intimate associates has she complained of too many cares.

Mrs. Ferguson is a friend and companion to all the girls of Rollins and is always sympathetic when trouble threatens or when playtime comes.

Her ease and grace of manner, her interest in the great questions of the day, and her brilliant conversational powers have won many friends for Rollins among the wealthy tourists who visit Winter Park.

As chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association, she has assisted greatly in the work of the Association and through her influence has enlisted the interest of wealthy and prominent people in the splendid altruistic work which the Association is doing.

It is sufficient to say that Mrs. Ferguson will be Dean of Women next year for by that it is known that that office will be upheld in the same gracious, efficient and dignified manner that has characterized Mrs. Ferguson's work during her five years of service for Rollins College.

Mrs. Ferguson (looking for her mother, Mrs. Patterson)—"I have looked for my parent and she is not.

Miss Russell—"She is not apparent.

Mr. Hanna—"What does orthography mean, Miss Backus?"

Miss Backus—"Why—er—that pertains to orthodox, doesn't it?"

ADVERTISING PLANS OUT-LINED BY DEAN ENYART

DEAN ENYART AND MR. GREENE
TO MAKE SUMMER CAM-PAIGN FOR STUDENTS

Thorough Canvass of the State to Be Made

In strict accord with all the new life that has been injected into the administration of Rollins College during the present year, definite arrangements are now being consummated for a thorough and complete publicity campaign lasting during the months of June, July, August and September in an effort to enlarge the student body to considerable proportions for the coming year.

Dean A. D. Enyart, professor of English and Philosophy and Mr. R. W. Greene, Physical Director, will be in charge of this work. They have worked out a systematic schedule to visit all the important communities of Florida, renewing old acquaintances of the college and making new friends for the institution. Preliminary plans are now being completed; a corrected mailing list of all the students who have ever attended Rollins College has been made out, and letters asking for the loyal support of these people will precede visits from the college representatives. Letters to the high school principals and county superintendents of the state, requesting their cooperation in this campaign have already been mailed. Dean Enyart will undertake to write personal letters to both old and new students. All available college candidates will be visited and told of the advantages which Rollins College as a distinctively Christian institution, offers to the youth of Florida,—an education of the highest grade at less than cost. It is hoped that all former students and alumni will respond to this summons and assist the college in widening its scope.

To supplement the new catalogue which comes off the press shortly, Dean Enyart is preparing a prospectus of college scenes, depicting life at Rollins in all its different phases, and will contain photographs of college buildings, campus scenes, and This booklet will be very attractive student activities. From time to time during the summer months Rollins College Bulletins telling of the progress of thousands of dollars worth of improvements to be made on the campus, and explaining the new courses in agricultural chemistry, music, and commerce, will be published and sent out.

Altogether the summer will probably be the busiest one in the history of the college, and if present indications are at all portentous, the approaching year will be one of the most successful, in the number of students, and the grade and variety of work accomplished, that Florida's oldest institution of higher learning has witnessed.

GLEE CLUB

The Rollins College Glee Club is one of the organizations of which the school has been justly proud for it has repeatedly won honor both at home and in other towns of the state. The entire season has been a great success and too much cannot be said in praise of the work of each member, and of the untiring and faithful work of Professor Pope and Miss Denison. The work of Dr. Julia Al-

The club will make its final appearance at the Commencement Vesper Service which will be held at the Congregational Church at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, May twenty-first.

A meeting of the sophomore class was called by the president, Alfred J. Hanna, Wednesday afternoon, at which time the class discussed plans for the Round Robin, which proved such a delight to all in the circle last summer. To the success of its Round Robin the class attributes much of the interest which its members have manifested in school affairs during the year. It was also decided that the annual breakfast should be an event of next Wednesday morning, when all loyal sophomores will meet at the boat house at 5 o'clock for a trip on the lake before the breakfast, which will be served at the college commons at 7 o'clock.

ALUMNI HONORED

Among the alumni of Rollins College who have recently been honored by other institutions are Miss Florence Merrill Betts, '14 and Donald Marvin, '15 who have received university scholarships from the University of Pennsylvania for next year. Miss Betts has brought credit to Rollins by the very excellent work that she has done the past year as a graduate student in Oberlin College. The fact that Mr. Marvin is to receive his Masters' degree at Pennsylvania this June, although he had spent only three years as an undergraduate, shows the high rank which Rollins takes among colleges.

CLOVERLEAF FLOWERS

The lawn surrounding Cloverleaf has been greatly beautified during the winter and spring by nasturtiums, minature sunflowers, phlox and colendula which have been carefully tended by Miss Wilde. That her efforts have been appreciated by faculty and students, especially the girls, is clearly shown by the many expressions of admiration and delight which are heard on every side.

Mrs. Patterson also has a small but pretty and interesting flower bed on the west side of Cloverleaf which is her special pride and joy.

Miss Russell to Fletcher in English Class—"What is a drama?"

Fletcher—"A drama is a play with love mixed up in it."

Margaret (to Lewis who is looking at her head)—"You needn't look so hard. There is nothing up there but hair."

Lewis—"I always thought so."

Spring Fever

I wish I were a little stone,
A-sittin' on a hill—
With nothin' in the world to do
But just sit still.

LAST MEETING OF Y. W. C. A. FOR YEAR

The last meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held Wednesday afternoon, May 18, on the lawn. The meeting was led by Sara Muriel, the speaker being Elizabeth Russell. Miss Russell used for her topic, "Being Friends With One's Family." She spoke to the girls in her usual charming manner, and all enjoyed and received some splendid suggestions from her talk. A few songs were sung and the meeting was closed by the motto. The girls left with a feeling of sadness at the thought of not meeting again until the next fall.

This has been a very successful year for the Y. W. C. A., but it is planned to improve and broaden the work of the organization next year.

Sara Muriel, the president, has been elected as a delegate to the Blue Ridge conference. There are two or three others who are hoping to be able to accompany her.

A number of girls have been attending the Eight Weeks club training classes which have been very successful under the skillful leadership of Miss Bellows, who has been a help and inspiration to the girls throughout the entire year.

R. W. GREENE RETURNS FROM Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

R. W. Greene, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Rollins, has returned from the North where he attended a conference of the state and Canadian national secretaries of the North American Young Men's Christian Associations at Oberlin, Ohio. He then went to Cleveland where he attended the International convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, between two and three thousand delegates attending. Among the convention speakers were Dr. John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, Bishop McDowell, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Franklin D. Roosevelt, Raymond Robbins, and Bishop McConnell.

Many important questions were discussed and decided upon. The brotherhood as a whole will work toward greater co-ordination and co-operation of the several departments and the church. The policy of the International committee for the next three years was unanimously adopted.

Several commissions reported and brought in much valuable information and material.

The convention was brought to a close with a sacred concert by the Russian Cathedral choir of New York and an address by Dr. John R. Mott, in which he showed the added responsibility of the North American Associations occasioned by the war. The Y. M. C. A. is now working among four million men in the prison camps of Europe.

While in Nashville Mr. Greene secured the services of Dr. O. E. Brown, of Vanderbilt University, for the will convene during the Christmas mid-winter religious assembly, which holidays. Dr. Brown is among the prominent men of the South and a member of the International committee of the Y. M. C. A.
