THE ANNUAL ELECTION OF JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Followed by Senior-Junior Social Affair.

Last Saturday evening at 7:30 the Junior Class gathered in the Phi Alpha fraternity rooms at the invitation of their retiring president to hold their annual election.

The event this year was marked by the farewell speech of Mr. Alfred Hanna, the loyal president of the class for the last two years, who has this year enrolled in the Senior Class. At the close of the president's address the following officers were elected for the coming year: James I. Noxon, president; Sara E. Muriel, vice president; Annie C. Stone, secretary-treasurer. Elizabeth Russell and Katherine Waldron were appointed members of the executive committee.

Following the election the Seniors appeared. The remainder of the evening was spent in a most enjoyable social time, which testified eloquently to the spirit of good-will which pervades good old Rollins.

Dainty refreshments of punch and cakes were served. Miss Enyart presided at the punch bowl.

Below are extracts from Mr. Hanna's speech:

"To simply enumerate the events in which the class of eighteen has been interested during these past two years would be meaningless, as they are as well known to the campus as to yourselves. * * * * *

"Possibly our best founded claim to posterity and the one which will be the most widely remembered will be the part we have played in introducing to the campus of Rollins College the beautiful idea of laying class stones. * * * * * This historic stone of ours has served as a symbol of the high honor of our class, and has punished in a most humiliating manner all those whose effrontery to our dignity has been pronounced in such a way as to require their kissing our stone, and shall remain in the future as a fitting reminder to transgressors of convention." * * * * *

"To recount such a great number of achievements of yours, which it has been my good fortune to do, is an unusually felicitous occasion. I can close this brief resume with no greater hope, nor one as confident, that the remaining two years of the class of eighteen will be as fruitful of worthy results as well-robbed in dignity, and as particularly distinctive for its joy in endeavor as has been the full measure of undivided admiration which it has met with in the past."

PROFESSOR J. A. OSTEEN.

Senior Class of Winter Park High Attending Rollins.

The Winter Park public school has opened the fall term with a goodly number of High School students enrolled, under the new principal, Prof. J. A. Osteen.

The Junior Class of last year, owing to the fact that the new school building is not complete, and on account of insufficient facilities to carry on the laboratory work, which High School Seniors require, has enrolled in the Senior Class of the Rollins Academy. The union of the two classes makes a large Academy graduating class this year.

Professor Osteen, who last year met with marked success in teaching the schools at Winter Garden and Oakland, is to have complete charge of the public school at Winter Park. Professor Osteen is living at Chase Hall.

In connection with his residing at Chase is the following incident: Professor Osteen made himself at home among the fellows the first days of his residence there in the endeavor to become acquainted. Being a young man, he was mistaken for a "Rat," and accordingly was requested to indulge in the rather menial labors allotted to one in that station of life.

Professor Osteen good naturedly complied, until rescued by one of the older men who had been introduced to him the day before. The fellows apologized, of course, and nearly made matters worse; but ended the amusing incident by offering Mr. Osteen the "fat of the land."

In return he asked only that he be considered in all things in which he could take part, and expressed a desire to help out in athletics, being somewhat of an athlete himself.

The men in Chase Hall, and, in fact, all of the Campus, are glad of the opportunity to be of service to Professor Osteen and the Winter Park school. The men on the campus welcome him as one of them and hope that he can enter into the "Old Rollins Spirit" and carry it to the High School that it, too, may feel that spirit which is to help the town and College into a closer relationship.

Slowly, one by one, in the infinite books of the teachers, blossom the neat little zeros—the forget-me-nots of the students.—Ex.

STUDENTS INVITED TO BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Meeting to Bring College and Town In Closer Contact.

Invitations have been received by a representative number of the student body to attend a meeting of the Winter Park Board of Trade to be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the town hall.

The Board of Trade is making every effort to get the students and townspeople in closer touch with one another. Mr. Ira Rigdon, the secretary, says: "The business men on 'the street' are well aware that Rollins College, including its faculty and student organizations, is as much a part of the business of the community as is the man who is in business."

It is with this fact in view that the Board of Trade is making this attempt to get the student organizations and townspeople into a closer relationship.

The town has always supported the College in past years, attending the athletic contests, the plays, the entertainments, the musicals and the regular College exercises. They have given freely to the support of our Christian Associations, and have been faithful advertisers in the Sandspur.

The town is now asking the college to unite with them, so that together they may work out their mutual betterment.

It is up to the student body as a whole to give their hearty support to any suggestions which the Board of Trade may offer. It is, above all, important that the members of the various college organizations who have been invited to attend this meeting be there and be there with some object in view, rather than the refreshments which are to be served in the course of the evening.

Florence Sherman, a member of last year's Freshman class, is taking a Normal course in Household Arts at Rochester, N. Y. She writes that her work is very interesting, but she would like to be back at Rollins. Florence was a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and is greatly missed by everyone.

Paul Harrison, who is a graduate of the Winter Park High School, will enter the senior class of the Academy next week. Last year he took and successfully passed the West Point examination; but being an alternate, whose principal passed, he could not enter.

Have you noticed the spirit and enthusiasm that the athletic department of The Sandspur is showing? Such work as is being done there is just the thing that makes a paper a live wire in school affairs. Since the athletic editor shows no signs of slowing down, it might be well for others to "speed up" so he won't entirely outstrip them.

The exchange department is also coming into prominence under the capable management of our new exchange editor. Do you know of any paper that would be a valuable addition to our exchange list? If so, please let the exchange editor know about it.

If you have any complaint to make concerning the way your Sandspur does or does not reach you, please make it to the Circulation Manager in person, instead of mentioning it to someone else, and expecting it to be attended to.

All mistakes will be gladly corrected if reported to the Circulation Manager.

A PLEA TO COLLEGE MEN FOR SERIOUS CONSIDERATION OF THE NEGRO PROBLEM.

In its first open letter to college men of the South, issued at the beginning of the present year, the University Commission urged them to unite their efforts with those of the press, the pulpit, the bar, the officers of the law, and all other agencies laboring for the elimination of the monster evil of mob violence. These agencies have labored diligently and with substantial results as is indicated by the decrease of the average annual number of lynchings from 171 for the decade 1886-1895 to 70 for the decade 1906-1915. Nevertheless, the Commission wishes to reiterate its appeal with renewed emphasis, knowing that the eradication of so virulent a social disease as the lynching mania can be affected only by the prolonged and vigorous efforts of sane and patriotic citizens.

In this letter the Commission wishes to direct the attention of the college men to the educational aspect of the race question, inasmuch as the solution of all human problems ultimately rests upon rightly directed education. In its last analysis, education simply means bringing forth all the native capacities of the individual for the benefit both of himself and of society. It is axiomatic that a developed plant, animal or man is far more valuable to society than the undeveloped. It is likewise obvious that ignorance is the most fruitful source of human ills. Furthermore, it is as true in a social as in a physical sense that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link. The good results thus far obtained, as shown by the negro's progress within recent years, prompt the Commission to urge the extension of his educational opportunities.

The inadequate provision for the education of the negro is more than an injustice to him; it is an injury to the white man. The South cannot realize its destiny if one-third of its population is undeveloped and inefficient. For our common welfare we must strive to cure disease wherever we find it, strengthen whatever is weak and develop all that is undeveloped. The initial steps for increasing the efficiency and usefulness of the negro race must necessarily be taken in the school room. There can be no denying that more and better schools with better trained and better paid teachers, more adequate supervision and longer terms are needed for the blacks as well as the whites. The negro schools are, of course, parts of the school systems of their respective states, and as such share in the progress and prosperity of their state systems. Our appeal is for a larger share for the negro, on the ground of the common welfare and common justice. He is the weakest link in our civilization and our welfare is indissolubly bound up with his.

Many means are open to the college men of the South for arousing greater public interest in this matter and for promoting a more vigorous public effort to this end. A right attitude in this as in all other important public questions is a condition precedent to success. For this reason the Commission addresses to Southern college men this special appeal.

ALUMNI

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association last commencement took the form of a buffet picnic at Sparrell Cottage. It had been planned to hold the picnic out of doors, but the threatening weather caused a change of plan. The alumni present were the president and secretary of the association, Mr. Berkeley Blackman, '07, and Miss Anne Bellows, '15, and Miss Susan T. Gladwin, '99; Mary Branham and Mabelle O'Neal, '11, and Kathleen L. Hill, '14.

The general business of such a meeting was transacted, officers re-elected to succeed themselves, and general plans for next year discussed. A very pleasant feature was the reading of a number of letters from alumni who were unable to be present.

The buffet picnic was an exceedingly enjoyable affair. Besides the alumni there were present as guests: Mrs. W. F. Blackman, Dr. T. R. Baker, Dean Enyart, Dean Ferguson, C. A. Boyer. Each one secured a tray, equipment, and lunch for himself, and the picnic was eaten informally and pleasantly on the Sparrell porch. It is hoped that something of the sort may be repeated this year.

Miss Alma Minor was married during the latter part of the summer to Mr. Henry Funk of Pinecastle.

The wedding on August 10th, in Chicago, of Miss Irene Thoren and Clarence G. Tilden properly consummates another Rollins romance, and was hailed with delight by the many college friends of the two. The wedding was solemnized on the twenty-ninth anniversary of that of the bride's parents. Fortunately, the happy couple have made their home near Rollins, and will, we hope, be seen very often on the campus.

A. Devol Gates is now an employee of the H. J. Heinz Co., of '57 Varsity" fame. His work is in New Jersey.

Another Rollins wedding was that of Roland Barze and Miss Maud Enlow. Both were well known and very popular students, and have a host of friends who wish them success and happiness.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Ella Todd Richie, who attended Rollins in 1891-2. She speaks in glowing terms of her memories of those days, and encloses subscription to The Sandspur. She has two children, a boy of eleven and a girl of four, and her home is 2629 W. Thirty-fifth avenue, Denver, Col.

Worthington Blackman, '10, has been in camp at Black Point with the state militia most of the summer, and is now at Laredo, Tex., with his regiment.

Chester F. McCardell, '13, and Miss Adrienne Dorothy Wallace, formerly instructor in violin, were married at "The Little Church Around the Corner" on June 28, and sailed on July 14th for Cuba, where Mr. McCardell is in the employ of the United Fruit Company at Banos. Mrs. McCardell writes that they have a nice house and a Jamaican servant who had never seen a dust pan and was about to use it to cook on. The many friends Mr. and Mrs. McCardell made during their Rollins years will be happy to learn of this culmination of their Rollins acquaintance, and wish them all joy.

T. W. Lawton, '03, of Oviedo, was nominated for superintendent of public instruction for Seminole county at the democratic primary last June. He is well fitted by training and temperament for the office, and should make a success of his venture.

Wm. Ronald, '06, of Daytona, suffered a severe accident just at the close of school last commencement. A tree which he was felling dropped across him, and he sustained serious injuries to shoulders and arms, which kept him in bed for several weeks. When last heard from he was convalescing, but it will probably be a long time before he is completely recovered.

Dean S. Pike, '13, was elected president of the New York Rollins Alumni Association at a meeting of former Rollins students held in New York at the Imperial hotel, on July 13th. Besides Mr. Pike there were present P. P. Edwards, Luis G. Estefani, W. Clay Inman, John M. LaMontagne, W. A. H. Loveland, Herbert A. Martin, E. H. Pearson, and Ralph S. Twitchell. Miss Cornelia Shaw was elected vice president and E. H. Pearson, secretary and treasurer. Needless to say, many enjoyable memories of Rollins days hovered about the table, and the spirit of get-together was strong. May the New York Rollins Alumni Association wax strong and remain active and prove a source of pleasure and profit to its organizers and members, and a spring of strength to the institution.

Berkeley Blackman, '07, spent the summer in Florida, on the Wekiva ranch, near Sanford. The latter part of August he visited the National Farm Tractor Demonstration at Indianapolis, passed a couple of days in Chicago, where he had a pleasant visit with Paul Thoren, and spent two days with Mrs. Blackman in Sleepy Eye, Minn., where she has spent most of the summer.

Miss Grace Boone has recently become a member of the faculty in a young ladies' seminary in Nova Scotia. She will have entire charge of the department of Physical Culture and will assist in the Expression work.

Mary Branham is enjoying an extended motor trip in the north.

ATHLETICS

RICHARD G. DARROW.

FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE GAME THURSDAY, OCT. 19TH, COLUMBIA AT ROLLINS.

Bad Weather Interfered With Practice

It has rained systematically every afternoon the latter part of last week. Everyone knows that a heavy field is not exactly the proper place for executing fast work, but even then it could be worse. The fellows are getting in shape by carrying a load of mud around with them in less time than they would under ordinary field conditions.

The weather has not been bad enough to cause the coach to take the fellows to the Gym, but if it stays this way for some time there is no telling but what we may organize a "Water Football Team" and play Lake Virginia.

ATHLETIC ABILITY OF A "RAT."

Interesting Interview With Keeper.

One night not so long ago the "Rats," for some unknown reason, simply ran wild; although they did not become uncontrollable, they certainly made an impressive sight. The reporter for The Sandspur, in interviewing one of the "Rat" keepers, obtained the following statement, treating with the strange behavior of his charges:

"Rats" have a peculiar ability to run; this might easily give one the false idea that they would make splendid candidates for the College Track Team. If this were true, I am afraid that the track would be so full of these troublesome rodents that there would be scarcely room for one decent man on the course. I have noticed, too, during my employment here that this species of rat is unusually efficient in a new branch of athletics, termed, it seems, the Rat Roller Race. For myself, I am unable to throw any light on this subject, but would suggest that you interview Chief Rat Fletcher."

The keeper said some time later, when the staff reporter could get his attention and when part of his evening's work was completed: "Marching is one exercise that is very beneficial to 'Rats' who are in training for football."

We will leave this last to the discretion of Coach Royal. He saw them on the field the day after.

SNAP AND PEP.

Smith Fletcher seems to have the right idea when it comes to punts. If he can get them off in the games as well as he does in practice, we have no cause to worry about the kicking.

Dudley thinks a foot ball is only an enlarged base ball. If for any reason you doubt this statement, watch him pass a few.

The tennis men are getting into shape fast. They desire, if possible, to accompany the football team to the "away from home" games and play tennis in the morning, before the football games, completing their outside schedule before the end of the "big" athletic season.

Coach Royal is conducting swimming classes on the Girls' Tennis Court. "Hang your clothes upon a limb, but don't go near the water."

The football men are working on some new plays. You do not realize what bone heads "our heroes" are until after watching this new signal practice.

Thompson, a member of the Freshman class, was a varsity halfback at Kiskee, last year. We want him to get busy and get out. What's the idea? If you need pep, go to the Coach first!!

Dean Enyart tried to show the squad how to drop-kick last Wednesday evening. Did any of the football men see him do it? No! Well, he did! But he waited until after you had gone.

We are figuring on putting some real shoes on Clark. The way he lands on that ball with those sneaks, says that with shoes he is good for over forty yards any time.

A goodly bunch of fellows are working on the boys' swimming dock. They think that this warm weather is going to last all winter, so are taking their own good time in getting the diving stand up.

The men had their first swimming lesson under the direction of Coach Royal Monday morning. We will have some real fish in this college if they keep it up. Fellows—try not to run in competition to "Bill" Hoffman; he sure has the high sign on fish.

The "big" football games are beginning to create some interest on the campus. Ask Maynard to tell you about, "Oh, I knew him at—." "Say, know this guy. Well he played—when I saw him." It is a good thing there is someone here beside the coach who ever saw a large game, for we fellows from "way down here" don't want to be too green when we, if we ever do, go as far north as Jacksonville. Maynard can't help it, though; it comes natural.

Dud is taking "before breakfast" runs. He is trying to help Mr. Stone roll those new walks, judging by the way he slams his pedal extremities down.

IMPRESSIVE ASSEMBLY IN CARNEGIE HALL.

Last Saturday evening, in Carnegie Hall, the annual Sophomore-Freshman reception was held. It was really a very solemn occasion, at which the Sophomores endeavored to impress their guests with the sovereignty of the upper class; yet, at the same time, pleasure mingled with the solemnity.

J. Harold Hill, president of the class of 1919; Virga West, vice president; Winifred Hanchett, secretary and treasurer, and Robert Stone, a new member from Oberlin, received.

Guests of honor of the evening were: Dr. and Mrs. George M. Ward, Mrs. Esther B. Ferguson, dean of women; and Dean A. D. Enyart.

On their arrival each Freshman was presented with a black crepe mourning band, which he wore throughout the evening. Having become Freshmen, they now mourn their lost liberties! Then, in accordance with true friendliness, the Sophomores offered a word of warning—related the fatal experiences of one previous Freshman, who had failed to observe the superiority of his next-upper classmen and who had offended the vengeful class spirit. Convincing proofs accompanied the account.

"Brush," a light game, followed, and also a clever "cracker-eating contest."

Ice cream, fancy crackers and delicious fruit punch were served by way of cooling refreshments.

And then, when everyone had been sufficiently "cooled," Harold Hill rendered a brief talk, in which he offered a bit of wise advice and made the Freshmen acquainted with what was expected of them this year by their upper-classmen. A single lantern light added to the impressiveness of it all. A list of the requirements, as read that evening, concerning their personal conduct from now until Freshman Day—the first Thursday after Christmas vacation—has since been publicly posted, namely:

"(1.) Wear the caps prescribed by the Sophomore class.

"(2.) Clear the sidewalk when meeting a Sophomore.

"(3.) Enter doors after Sophomores.

"(4.) Observe Freshman Day every Thursday, by singing their class song, immediately after chapel, or by performing some special stunt as prescribed by the Sophomore Class.

"(5.) The utmost respect is to be shown to their upper-classmen at all times, and the foregoing rules are to be observed with willingness and celerity.

(Signed)

"THE CLASS OF 1919."

The entire campus shall aid in the enforcement of these rules.

Immediately after this, the guests of the evening, accompanied by the members of the Sophomore class, who carried lights to mark the way, were led on a very solemn and impressive journey. Absolute quiet was main-

CHASE HALL TO GIVE SIXTH ANNUAL RECEPTION.

Splendid Entertainment Is Now In Preparation.

The third Saturday evening of the college year brings to the campus the annual reception given by the young men living in Chase Hall, their sixth affair of this kind.

The problem of entertaining the entire student body is not an easy matter; but it is said that the Chase men are as resourceful as any, and everybody is looking forward with great pleasure to this event. Rumor has whispered a great deal concerning the program, but nothing definite is known. It is said, however, that the Presidential Party will appear (perhaps in the person of the President of the Freshman Class, who knows); also that Mr. Froemke will appear with a bevy of damsels arrayed in the latest style to interpret the Terpsichorean art. It is also noted that the famous musician, Mr. Thoren, will have a number during the evening, and that a striking duet and original composition is scheduled for Chase Hall's noted baritones, Messrs. Lake and Lewis. It goes without saying that the "idol of Cloverleaf" is slated for a solo (girls, guess who?) Rollins, it is said, will be introduced to a new version of the "Florida Blues," locally adapted, and sung in Freddie Hanna's inimitable style. That shade of the great and departed musician, Hans Wagner, is to lead (by request) a chosen chorus noted for its unusual beauty and magnificently trained voices. It is expected that this will be the star feature of the program.

Knowing the epicurean taste of a number of the Chase men, the refreshments are to be considered the essential feature of the evening.

Freshman Year—"A Comedy of Errors."

Junior Year—"As You like It."

Senior Year—"All's Well That Ends Well."

tained throughout, except when passing the fraternity house, when all halted to recognize other class festivities of the evening by a "locomotive yell" to the Seniors. The final halting place was under a majestic southern pine, where rests the Sophomores' Class stone. Here, in the moonlight, each and every Freshman was compelled to repeat individually, and in all seriousness, a given oath of allegiance and respect, and to kneel and kiss the treasured stone.

This done, they returned en masse to Carnegie Hall, from whence they had started, and there dispersed. It has been since said that all enjoyed a pleasant evening. At least, such was the sincere intent of the Sophomore Class.

Smith: "Why?"

Jones: "Because he is dead."—"The O-High," Oberlin, O.

Miss Meriwether: "I wonder why the mail hasn't come?"

Mrs. Patterson: "I think Bob Hutchinson is why."

Aaron: "Why do watermelons have water in them?"

Philips: "Don't know. Why?"

Aaron: "Because they are planted in the spring."

Greene: "Pleased to meet you. I am Greene."

Fromke: "You look it."

The following sentence greeted the Sandspur proof reader last week:

"The reception, which always occurs the first Saturday evening of the school year, is anticipated with delight by both the old and the new students, for the occasion serves as a student mixer, and it is at this time that the students form many acquaintances which ripen into friendships and bowls of roses."

Ruth Greene: "I was so anxious to come down here, but it is dreadful not to have the hills for inspiration."

Sara Muriel: "Yes, but we all have to live on the level."

2nd Cad. Studi: "Human Physiology?"

1st Cad Studi: "When was Physiology ever in-human, at Rollins?"

PERSONALS

Henry McNeal has returned and will take up his studies in the Academy. Mack will probably surprise some rookie by making him straighten up his room. We pity the rookie, because Mack is a good superintendent.

John Boone, another of the old men of the College, will be back in a few days. He will first take a car to Atlanta to be repaired, then come back by the way of Asheville in a new car.

Did you know the first paper of the College was called the Demonsthenic Demonstrator?

Roland Lutz is attending the St. Petersburg High School this year.

Mildred Pearce, whom many of the older Rollins students know, is teaching school in Palatka, Fla. We are hoping that we may have a visit from Mildred in the spring.

Elmer Harris, a former student of Rollins, has returned to Cleveland, O., where he will resume his studies in Case School of Applied Sciences. Elmer is fitting himself for an electrical engineer and will finish his course next year.

Georgia Frost, who was a Freshman last year and also a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, has taken up her work in the Normal School at Flagstaff, Ariz. She is enjoying the work, and is visiting many interesting and instructive scenes. Georgia was a popular member of the Girls Glee Club and all are sorry not to have her with them again.

"Now, Pat," said the magistrate to an old offender, "what brought you here?"

"Two policemen, sor," was the reply.

"Drunk, I suppose?"

"Yis sor, both ov thim."—Ex.

Orlando Water & Light Co.ASSOCIATION CABINET
FORMULATES POLICY.*Y. W. C. A. Officers Make Definite Statement of Aims for Year.*Hoped That Committee Policies May Follow.

Believing that "if you aim at nothing you will hit it," the Rollins Young Women's Christian Association cabinet has spent a number of its earliest meetings in planning very definitely what shall be its special lines of activity during the school year. A number of new plans have been made; but for the most part their year's policy is simply a concisely formulated statement of aims which have always belonged in a measure to the association. The written policy is to be a challenge to the cabinet to live up to their primary responsibility—just the influence of living and "being." It begins with a motto: "Let us overcome evil with good." The real policy, with its aims, follows, thus:

"Realizing that our position as leaders in this association brings to each of us added responsibility demanding earnestness and clearness of thought, we have desired to make some definite statement of our aims as a cabinet, and further remembering that we can lead no one farther than we ourselves go, we pledge ourselves as individuals and as a cabinet to the following aims:

1. We will observe chapel without studying or undue noise, nor will we cut chapel for study. Throughout the service we will strive to make real the spirit of worship.

2. We will strive to maintain by means of personal example and influence the most wholesome of social relationships between the young men and young women of this institution.

3. We shall endeavor to bring about a closer interest and working co-operation between the churches and our association. We propose to accomplish this through the friendly relation of leaders to those of the churches, through service rendered by students for and with the churches, and through the voluntary study classes.

4. We will also uphold these voluntary study classes for their own sakes and will use our personal influence for their growth and betterment.

5. We will strive for a firmer working basis for this association by gaining a more thorough knowledge of the Young Women's Christian Association as a national and international organization. To do this, we pledge ourselves to a study of the Association Handbook and to a more regular reading of the "Association Monthly" and "The Messenger."

6. Especially do we pledge ourselves in our personal conduct at all times to remember that many decisions, harmless in themselves, may at the same time reflect upon the character of our college to which we all owe our most loyal support.

7. Through our own lives we shall strive to make the life principles of Jesus Christ more real to the students

EXCHANGES.

So many exchanges have been coming in during the past week that the staff has decided to provide files in which the various exchanges will be arranged, so as to be available to any one who wishes to look them over. The files will be kept in the Sandspur office, and we feel sure that many will be interested in looking through them, for we have room in this column only for the briefest of reviews of interesting and valuable material.

We are glad to include in our exchanges of this week the Auburndale Advocate of Auburndale, Fla., and the Milton Gazette of Milton, Fla., both county papers, and interesting in that they contain much news of the state.

A new exchange this year is the Daily Cardinal from the University of Wisconsin. This paper should set a standard of enterprise for college papers, as it put out a twelve-page news sheet daily. There can be no doubt as to the experience and capability of the staff; the material is interesting and well arranged. The Daily Cardinal is very welcome, and we hope to see more of it.

The Florida Flambeau, put out by the students of the State College for Women at Tallahassee, is a very well edited little paper, containing many interesting items. We would recommend to the girls an article on the Blue Ridge Rally in the Flambeau of October 7.

We have received two copies of the Spokesman, a weekly put out by the students of the Plant City High School. For a High School paper it is certainly to be commended, and we wish it the best of success.

The Winter Park Post, one of our most popular exchanges, is upholding its excellent record. As always, its arrangement is excellent, a thing too often neglected.

We will be glad to hear of new magazines and papers to add to the present list. Only one new name has come in so far. The article in last week's Sandspur may have been misleading; we did not intend to limit our exchanges to Florida. Exchanges help to keep a paper alive; let us save our Sandspur as "live" as we can make it.

Besides the policy and motto, one of Robert Louis Stevenson's quotations has been adopted as a cabinet prayer—the one: "Give us to awaken with smiles, give us to labor smiling, and as the sun lightens the world, so may our loving-kindness brighten this house of our habitation."

It is hoped that the association committees may before many more weeks become strongly organized in a similar way.

DR. AND MRS. WARD WERE HONOREES AT RECEPTION.

Dr. and Mrs. George Morgan Ward were guests of honor at a delightful reception given at Hooker Memorial Hall, Thursday evening, the 5th, by the young men's Bible class of the Congregational church.

In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Ward and Messrs. W. Schultz, Ira Rigdon, C. H. Galloway, F. W. Shepherd and H. A. Ward, members of the class.

The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms, magnolia leaves, smilax and roses.

Besides many townspeople, almost the entire faculty and student body attended the function. A very delightful program was rendered throughout the evening, in which several persons from the campus took part. Miss Waterman, vocal instructor at Rollins, rendered several charming selections. Gertrude Hall also favored those present with a selection and an encore. Mrs. Roland Barze gave a very entertaining reading.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The annual reception given in honor of the faculty and students is always enjoyable, but this time especially so, as it took the form of a greeting to Dr. Ward upon his return to Rollins.

"Energy gone to waist."—Ex.

MISS HILLS ORGANIZES COOKING CLASS.

Much interest is being taken in the cooking class which has been formed this year under the supervision of Miss Ruth E. Hills, the domestic science instructor. Twelve enthusiastic girls are planning to know something of the art, cook good things to eat and learn how to serve them. The room in the basement of Knowles Hall is large, well lighted and has been splendidly equipped for that purpose. The class meets twice a week at 3 o'clock.

BAPTISTS GIVE RECEPTION IN HONOR OF DR. AND MRS. R. T. JONES.

A large number of the faculty, students and townspeople attended a delightful reception Tuesday evening, given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Jones by the members of the Baptist church. The church was beautifully decorated with roses, coral vine and aparagus fern.

Katherine Gates delighted the audience with her rendition of "Laddie," and as an encore "A Bowl of Roses." Robert Hutchinson sang delightfully "Absent," and as an encore, "Perfect Day," by Corrie Jacobs Bond. Miss Vanetta Hall accompanied Miss Gates and Mr. Hutchinson.

Dainty refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the young ladies of the church.

Freshie: "What is the best way to tell a bad egg?"

Junior: "I don't know, but I would suggest that if you have anything important to tell a bad egg, why—break it gently."
