"THE REAL FRANCE"

Prof. Reinhard Addresses the Christian Associations

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. met together last Tuesday night in Knowles Hall to hear Professor Reinhard on "The Real France."

A subject so far-reaching is not easily handled, but Professor Reinhard showed rare skill in telling in twenty-five minutes time the salient facts about France of the Middle Ages, and France of Louis XIV, and France, the Republic.

He spoke convincingly and with authority born of personal experience, and the people pointed out how it had come about that the people of America had heretofore looked upon France as a nation of frivolity and of morals none too good.

"No nation, founded on a tottering and rotten foundation could have done the things France has done in the war," said Professor Reinhard.

He closed his address with a beautiful tribute to the women of France, who have shown themselves so marvellously capable in the present emergency.

The meeting was led by Margaret Smith, vice-president of the Y. W. C.

THE JUNIORS ENTERTAIN

On Saturday evening, November the 10th, the Junior Class entertained the other college classes at Sparrell Cottage. The nature of the evening as announced by the catchy invitations was "A Musical Stunt Night," and reflected great credit on the promoters of the function. This was the second occasion that Rollins students have had of enjoying the hospitality of the President's Home in a party function. The guests were received by Mrs. Finch, Miss Florence M. Stone, President, and other members representing the class of '19. With courtly mien, Miss Finch directed the affairs of entertainment. Perhaps the most enjoyed feature was the riddle guessing contest.

Articles symbolizing different ideal terms and phrases were scattered about the reception halls and were given a certain period of time to guess the meaning. Prizes were awarded for this feat. Charades were given by four divisions of the guests much extempore talent was brought to bear in the various stunts. Toward the end of the evening light refreshments were served and concert singing of college and folk songs ended a spirited college social function.

PRESIDENT FRENCH LECTURES ON "TEACHER TRAINING" IN GAINESVILLE

President Calvin H. French returned to the campus Friday afternoon after having spent two days attending the Florida Synod of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., which convened in Gainesville. Dr. French lectured before the assembly on the evening of November 15 on "Teacher Training."

Dr. French was well received at the synod which was one of the most successful of the kind held in the state. The subject of Sunday School work was taken as the main theme in all discussions and addresses.

Melvin ("Babe") Wagner, of last year's senior academy class, is now connected with the Mahl Printing Co., 321 West Boulevard, Kenmore, Ohio.

DR. EDWARD S. MEYER, NEW MEMBER OF ROLLINS FACULTY ARRIVES IN WINTER PARK

Dr. Edward S. Meyer, professor of German Language and Literature of Rollins College, accompanied by Mrs. Meyer arrived in Winter Park Saturday afternoon from Gordon Bay, Canada, where they had been pleasantly spending the summer months. Their tardy arrival has been due to the fact that few calls for the German language have been made.

Prof. Meyer is an alumnus and former professor of Western Reserve University and holds a Ph. D. from Heidelberg. Dr. and Mrs. Meyer will occupy their beautiful new home near the hotel.

Mrs. William Roxby of Daytona spent last week-end on the campus with her daughter, Evelyn Haynes.

THE PROBLEM OF COLLEGE STUDENTS

By Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary War

(From the Patriotic News Service, of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies, Washington, D. C.)

When the call to national service arose, spirited young men everywhere of course wanted to be employed in a patriotic way, and I suppose there is scarcely a young man in any college in the country who has not very anxiously addressed to himself the question: "What can I do?"

I think that there is no general answer to this question. Even in those cases where it would be obviously better for a young man to stay at college and prepare himself for later and fuller usefulness, yet if the young man in so doing acquires a low view of his own courage, and feels that he was electing the less worthy course, the effect on the young man of that state of mind toward his own actions probably would be so prejudicial that it ought not to be encouraged.

To the extent that the men in college are physically disqualified, or to the extent that they are too young to meet the requirements of the department, it seems quite clear that in the present state of the emergency their major usefulness lies in remaining in the college, going forward with their academic work. The knowledge that the students will acquire at college will equip them for subsequent usefulness if the emergency lasts until their call comes.

But we do not want to chill enthusiasm. We want to preserve enthusiasm and cultivate it and use it; but we do want to be discriminating in our enthusiasm, and prevent people getting the notion that they are not helping the country unless they do something different, which very often is not the case at all. The largest usefulness may come from doing the same thing. Now, it is not unnatural that there should be these ebullitions of feeling, this desire to change occupation as a badge of changed service and devotion to ideals. Our colleges can exercise a steadying influence in this regard.

We are going to have losses on the sea; we are going to have losses in battle; our communities are going to be subjected to the rigid discipline of multiplied personal griefs scattered all through the community, and we are going to search the cause of those back to their foundation, and our feelings are going to be torn and our nerves made raw. There is a place for physicians of public opinion to exercise a curative impulse. The young men who are in our colleges, who go to their homes from our colleges and make up a very large part of the direction of public opinion, can exercise a curative influence by preaching the doctrine of tolerance, by exemplifying the fact that it is not necessary for a nation like the United States, which is fighting for the vindication of a great ideal, to discolor its purpose by hatreds or by the entertainment of any unworthy emotion.

DELPHIC MEETING

Mrs. Harris Gives Readings Before the Society

Last Monday evening an unusually large number of members was present at the Delphic Meeting. The program proved most entertaining and instructive. The first number, as solo, "Little Grey Home in the West" was well rendered by Jean Richler. During the remainder of the evening, Mrs. May Pashley Harris favored the society with a short discussion of the Pre-Raphaelite Poet, Oscar Wilde and the reading of his poem "The Rose and the Nightingale," and an extract from his powerful "Ballad of Reading Goal." These selections proved Mrs. Harris' deep literary appreciation and remarkable interpretative ability.

Following the evening's program Prof. Harris, the critic, announced a challenge for debate from The Stetson Literary Society. The members present expressed themselves as willing to concert all efforts toward success, provided the challenge was accepted. A committee composed of Ben Shaw, Lelia Russell, Lillian Sawyer and Winfred Hanchett was appointed to discuss the matter and report at the next meeting of the Society.

"DICK" DARROW WRITES FROM UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

The following interesting account of the way in which Chicago is doing her bit was received recently from "Dick" Darrow who is a Freshman there.

In giving existing conditions at the University of Chicago a fair survey it will be found that the external appearances caused by the present war are much the same as can be expected from any large gathering containing a mixture of the nationalities of the world. Much of the true Americanism is not expressed out of courtesy to the foreign element, but not more so than in the city of Chicago itself, where questions pertaining to the war must be discussed behind closed doors and with a certain knowledge of whom, and to whom one speaks.

The thing which much interest the student in the southern college is, the answer to the question, What are they doing? and what is the "bit" that they are casting upon the great stream of aid to Uncle Sam?

The first may be answered in one word—Service, the men giving their lives, first for France, and now offering

Red Cross announces the receipt of the following telegram according to "The Official Bulletin:""There arrived last week at the town where the repatries from France and Belgium are received back into France a train loaded with Belgium children. There were 680 of them, thin, sickly, alone, all between theages of 4 and 12, children of men who refused to work for the Germans and of mothers who let their children go rather than let them starve."They poured off the train, little ones clinging to older ones, girls all crying, boys trying to cheer. They had come all the way alone. On the platform were the Red Cross workers to meet them—doctors and nurses with ambulances for the sick little ones waiting outside the station. The children poured out of the station, marched along the street shouting,
meat, meat, we are going to have meat; to the casino where they were given a square meal, the first in many months. Again and again, while they ate, they broke out spontaneously into songs in French against the German songs, which they had evidently learned in secret. The Red Cross doctor examined them. Their little claw like hands were significant of their undemonished bodies, but the doctor said, "We have them in time. A few weeks of proper feeding and they will pull up.""Every day 1,000 homeless people arrive, of which 60 per cent are children. Thirty per cent of the older people die the first month from exhaustion. The children can and must be saved."WHERE THE MONEY GOESAfter several weeks of preliminary work the leaders in the movement to raise $35,000,000 for the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. find that several people still want to know what the money is to be used for and how it is to be spent. This has been explained many times, but as it is of vital importance these explanations are being repeated as often as necessary.The money is to be spent for the entertainment of the United States soldiers both in this country and in Europe. Smaller sums are to be used among the soldiers of France, Italy and Russia. Large buildings are to be built in all training camps and cantonments. There will be one building for each 5,000 or 6,000 men. These structures will be fitted up with stoves libraries containing books and newspapers and magazines, musical instruments, pool tables, class rooms, etc.Here the soldier will always find writing materials and a big sign,
"Write home today." Nearly all of the letters which have been received from the men now in the army have been written on Y. M. C. A. stationery. This shows that the men appreciate the work being done by the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A.The money will be spent by this council for the things above mentioned. None of it will go for salaries, commissions, or other side expenses.
The men who are conducting the big campaign to raise this fund are donating their time. Most of them are paying their own expenses. The soldiers will receive the benefit of every dollar contributed to the big fund.THE DE LUXE BUS LINE

WORLD FELLOWSHIP WEEK

The girls of Cloverleaf observed World Fellowship Week by meeting in Cloverleaf each evening this week for a few minutes' earnest prayer for students of all nations.

The meetings have been instructive and helpful and the attendance has been good.

CLOVERLEAF TEA

Dean Short entertained informally at tea in Cloverleaf last Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Caroline F. Abbott who was a guest of Miss Hills and Evelyn Haynes.

Mrs. Abbott is always a welcome visitor, having been a member of the Rollins faculty for a number of years.

METEORS COME INTO OUR SKY

Two brilliant meteors appeared in the Winter Park sky last week, and were reported by students who were fortunate enough to see them.

The first appeared on Tuesday evening at 5:45 in the east, about 60 degrees above the horizon, and was seen by Wyman Stubbs and others. It was much brighter than our most powerful electric lights, and in its fiery flight it divided, presenting a forked appearance. The trail that it left was very conspicuous, and lasted for more than a minute.

The second appeared on Thursday night shortly after ten o'clock, in the south-west about 30 degrees above the horizon, and came under the observation of Sadie Pellerin and others. Its light was of a slightly reddish color, and its dazzling brightness reminded Miss Pellerin and her friends of a brilliant sky-rocket. Its trail was very broad and accompanied by a shower of sparks.

Meteors and "shooting stars" are of similar composition, containing many elements familiar to us as occurring in the earth. A shooting star contains only a few grains of matter, while the weight of a meteor may be pounds or even tons. Beyond the sphere of the earth's attraction these are dark bodies moving rapidly through space. They become luminous by friction against our atmosphere into which they are drawn by the earth's attraction.

In Bib Lit—"The Egyptians are son worshipers.

Miss G—"Now don't you see? The 'h' sounds like the English 'j' in ham."

CONSERVATORY NOTES

This proved a stirring patriotic program. Various musical organizations and soloists from the college contributed to the success of the evening.

Dr. Allen and Miss Rouse will play Miss Dyer's "Sonata in C Minor" at the Florida Federation of Woman's Club Convention in Tampa, on the evening of November 22.

Who would ever have thought there were so many kinds of red hair?

ing them to Uncle Sam. The U. of C: Hospital units are mentioned in the nation wide press so there is no need to dwell on that. Those men who have not already seen service and have returned home, are working in the R. O. T. C., one of the largest units of which the University boasts of supporting.

The work in the R. O. T. C. consists of infantry drill, class work, ordnance drill, instruction in small arms firing, and in the summer a few selects are sent to a concentration camp to apply the knowledge gained at the university in practical life. This work is in charge of the government, and is thoroughly and highly instructive, credit being given in all years of the work by the university.

At the end of four years in this branch of the service upon application to the president and upon satisfactory reference the applicant may receive a commission in the U. S. R.

In connection with this, such men as are now commissioned officers by the University faculty, are with the aid of a reserve captain drilling a large number of drafted men who expect to be called soon, each day upon Stagg Field. This has been the custom ever since the draft men were first called, and it is commendable to our officers that so far a great majority of men drilled under them are now "noncoms" in the great national army camp at Rockford, Ill.

The University Y. M. C. A. is doing its bit in helping great work of the Association along, but particularly, for its own pet work, it has taken the task of attempting to supply the drafted men at the nearby concentration camps with rags. That seems an odd occupation, but just think about that rag question a while, and even attempt to buy waste, and then some idea of the importance thereof can be secured first hand.

Service also applies to the women, but just how much, other than the knitting bags which are getting to be a nightmare to every one, not being a woman I am unable to say. This much I know however, our co-eds are doing their share, but like female activity; it's being kept dark till such time as it may be exposed to the best advantage.

To my opinion the biggest "bit" other than the support rendered as I have mentioned above, is the creating of the fighting spirit in the minds of the students. It is an underlying thing, never out spoken, but so strong and intense is the determination that it can be felt in the atmosphere, and when this is accomplished, the other things follow as naturally as light follows the darkness. That is really the most remarkable achievement of all, in my opinion, when we have to deal with Pro-Germanism first hand.

A very noticeable falling off in the German classes has been reported, fifty per cent. being the actual figures, and correspondingly an increase in

"HUB CHAPTER" OF ROLLINS TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH ROLLINS MEN IN SERVICE

The "Hub Chapter" is doing its bit for Rollins men in the service by correspondence and the courtesy of their homes when these men are in the vicinity of Boston.

A letter recently received from Mr. F. A. Bartlett MacKeil, Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Association's Circle in Boston reads: "Kindly say that the Rollins Circle of Boston stands ready to communicate with any Rollins boys located in this part of the country who are serving their flag. I shall certainly appreciate receiving the names of such men."

Miss Margery Waide, Vice-president of the Circle recently gave an informal dinner in honor of a number of Rollins boys encamped at Ayer, Mass., just outside of Boston. Her home 23 Abbott Road, Wellesley Hills, was prettily decorated in the national and Rollins colors for the occasion.

French has necessitated the use of extra classes and more work for the instructors.

The Freshman enrollment has remained the same but the men of the upper classes are missing, either having been called or waiting the draft. Athletics have suffered from this greatly, but notwithstanding we are putting all our teams in the field, not so strong perhaps as in former years but never the less teams, which represent the spirit of the men, and the spirit of the institution to fight, whether for the Alma Mater or for the yet dearer reative, our Alma Mater's daddy, Uncle Sam.

(Signed)

R. G. Darrow.

Athletic Notes

On Wednesday, November 7th, there was a basketball game between the Junior teams, the Cubs and Phillies. The purpose was to determine which team should play the Winter Park Team which had issued a challenge.

The Phillies won by a score of 10-5.

Both teams played good basketball despite the slippery floor. There were several sensational falls, much to the amusement of the gallery.

On Thursday November 8th, the Phillies buried Winter Park Basketball Team by a score of 22 to 5. The bad floor bothered both teams but systematic practice showed itself in the Phillies teamwork.

The Phillies were not hard pushed for a minute and out-passed and out-shot their opponents at every turn.

The line-up was

A scrappy game of basketball was pulled off last Wednesday between the Cubs and the Phillies.

The game was a whirlwind from start to finish. The first half closed with a score of 6-4 in favor of the Cubs. They opened the second half with two more points, then the Phillies got down and played real basketball.

The game went at last to the Phillies at 14-8.

The Gallery was in an uproar from beginning to the end, all shots being cheered regardless of which team took the point.

Friends on the campus and in town will be interested to learn that Miss Grace Hathaway, who spent a winter in Winter Park several years ago, is now connected with the office of the Encyclopaedia Britannica Co., Ltd., 120 West 32d St., New York. While at Rollins, Miss Hathaway was the Secretary to the President during Dr. Blackman's administration.

The arrival of Dr. and Mrs. George Morgan Ward at Winter Park has been delayed several days. It was expected that Dr. Ward would take part in the Vesper Service on Sunday evening at the congregational church but the delayed arrival will make this impossible.

WINTER PARK BANK ENTERTAINS

The recently remodeled rooms of the Bank of Winter Park were thrown open to the public last Saturday from 6 to 8 p. m.

Roses in profusion were artistically arranged about the rooms, adding greatly to their attractiveness.

Complimentary tickets to the Baby Grand were given to all who attended the reception.
