DR. BAKER READS PAPER AT FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

"THE NILE RIVER" AS HIS SUBJECT WAS MOST INTERESTING — PAPER WAS SUPPORTED BY PHOTOGRAPH ILLUSTRATIONS

Mrs. Ben Freer was hostess to the Fortnightly Club last Monday evening at the Hooker Memorial building.

The meeting was called to order by the president at about 8 o'clock. Following the reading of the minutes a letter, addressed to the club by Dr. T. R. Baker in acknowledgement of his election as an honorary member, was heard with great interest. Hearty tribute was paid to the club for the noteworthy intellectual, cultural and social influence which the club has continued to exert upon the Winter Park community for a period of many years. The secretary read a letter, addressed to the club, by Miss Grace Edwards, chairman of the Community Christmas Tree Committee, soliciting the co-operation of the club in the annual community function to be celebrated on December 24th.

Dr. Baker gave a very interesting and exhaustive paper upon the subject of "The Nile River." This entertaining topic was made the more educative by being supplemented by a number of photographs illustrating the points of the paper.

Appropriate refreshments were served by Mrs. Freer, and other ladies who graciously assisted. During the social hour which followed the formal program. Much credit is due Mr. Percay Dale for the artistic decoration of the rooms with ferns and roses.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM MISS ENYART.

Miss E. Ethel Enyart, who will be most lovingly remembered by many Rollins and Winter Park people, has asked The Sandspur to convey to "all my boys and girls," her best wishes for the holidays.

With one accord the campus will give to her in return, the very best Christmas wishes.

Miss Enyart's address is 838 Franklin Square House, 11 E. Newton, Boston, Mass.

By the way, have you contributed to the fund which is being raised for the starving children of Europe? It isn't too late. Do it now.

"Why is Eleanor cold?"
"Because she's Coffin."

WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONSTITUTION NOW IN EFFECT

MISS ELIZABETH RUSSELL ELECTED HOUSE PRESIDENT AT MEETING HELD MONDAY—GIRLS ARE FULLY DETERMINED TO MAKE IT A SUCCESS.

The constitution of the Women's Self Government Association went into effect Monday night after the final meeting for the election of officers. With Miss Short and Miss Wilkins acting as tellers the following executive committee was selected:

House president, Elizabeth Russell. Secretary, Katherine Waldron.

Freshman representative, Norma McFadden.

Special's representative, Lillian Sawyer.

Academy representative, Helen Waterhouse.

The proctors as chosen to serve for the first six weeks were: Katherine Gates, Helen Shelton and Florence Smythe.

The girls considered carefully before undertaking self-government, and now having assumed it, they are fully determined to make it a success. This they certainly will do if they co-operate and give the loyal support which such an enterprise demands.

ENJOYED PICNIC.

Monday morning a crowd of boys left for a picnic up Snake River. Although the weather was possibly not the best for picnicking, however, it was decided that dinner should be eaten on the shores of Lake Howell. The run was found to be in bad condition. Dinner was eaten and the return trip made. The boys advise that any picnic party going further than the dam should think twice before going on.

Those in the party were Karl Tompkins, Bradley Scofield, Ralph French, Donald Vincent, "Pat" Sullivan, Charley and Carroll Ward.

PAUL HARRISON AT WEST POINT

Paul Harrison has been honored at West Point by obtaining 29th place in Mathematics out of a class of over three hundred and sixty.

A STATEMENT

In an article appearing under the head of "Athletic Notes" in the Sandspur of December 15th describing a basket ball game played on December 10th between the Rollins College team and the Winter Park team, the editor in chief, who wrote the article, stated that the first half of the game was characterized by "unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of both teams." In using the term "unsportsmanlike," she states that she did not mean to convey the idea that there was any breaking of rules or any unfair playing by either team or by any individual. She meant to say that, in her opinion, the generous rivalry which should characterize such a game was obscured by the determination to win, and that the result was that the game during the first half was "rough." She believes and gladly admits that, so far as she is aware, the rules of the game were obeyed by both teams and that no unfair playing was indulged in.

A RED CROSS MESSAGE TO THE COLLEGES OF AMERICA

(By Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the War Council of the American Red Cross.)

Any appeal to the men of our colleges and universities to throw their energies into the winning of this war—which we are pledged to wage till "justice and mercy" prevail among the nations of the earth—would savor of the gratuitous. From our colleges and universities have gone forth thousands—thousands of our best physically and mentally. Our student ranks throughout the country are riddled.

But many—no less eager to go over there than those who have been accepted—have been compelled to stay home. To these I offer this suggestion: There are forms of service other than that on the battlefield, on the sea or under it or in the air. At this time the most important form of auxiliary service I believe to be cooperation with the American Red Cross. Such cooperation can be effected best through membership; and all those why by reason of sex, age or physical disability are prevented from going to the front are being urged to join during the Christmas membership campaign.

Y. W. C. A. MET WITH MISS CATHERINE WALDRON

WAR TIME TEA PARTY WILL BE GIVEN JANUARY FOURTEENTH AS A MEANS OF RAISING ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION

The Y. W. C. A. met Tuesday evening with Catharine Waldron as leader. Miss Waldron spoke on the Tampa Mission. How it was founded by Mr. and Mrs. Ensminger former students of Rollins College, and the progress of the work since that time.

A long and interesting letter sent to Ruth Greene, our Y. W. president, by Margaret Rogers a former Rollins girl—was read to the students.

This letter stated the greatest needs of the Mission. And Miss Rogers, known and loved by all the Rollins folk, is especially anxious that these children be taught domestic science.

The Y. W. is planning to give a War time Tea, January Fourteenth as a means of raising a part of the hundred and twenty dollars they give each year to this mission.

campaign starting December 16 and ending Christmas Eve. In that week the Red Cross hopes—and confidently expect—to get ten million new members—at least.

Here is service that some of those who have been compelled to stay behind may have looked upon as of only incidental importance or as solely woman's work. It is neither. The Red Cross is the "army behind the army and the navy behind the navy." It watches over and ministers to our fighting men at all times and in all places. At every point it is the necessary supplement of our government in the care of our men in active service. Not only this, but it performs a service unattempted by government—the relief of the suffering of the civilian population.

Vital as these functions are, however, the Christmas membership is being conducted for the purpose of showing the man who is fighting that the men, women and children he is fighting for are solidly, aggressively back of him; that the morale of the folks at home is as high as the morale of the fighter in the field; and that their purpose is as patriotic and their determination as deep as his. Ten million new members added to the five million present members of the American Red Cross will not leave a doubting United States fighting man—nor a doubting enemy.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1917.

"Merry Christmas!" Again we hear the joyous greeting as it passes from one to another, happy in the anticipation of holiday festivities and of meeting family and friends during the holiday season.

But the Christmas of 1917 can not be the same sort of Christmas that we have heretofore enjoyed. It is easy to wish a friend "Merry Christmas." We know that he or she will have it. But the real Christmas wish is the one that extends beyond our own little circle of friends and reaches out to the whole world—a wish so deep, sincere and whole-hearted that we are willing to sacrifice some of our own pleasures and comforts that others might find Christmas cheer in our giving.

Christmas is not alone for those who have the material means of making merry—when the angels sang "Peace on earth, good will toward men," Kings grew uneasy and sought to cling more closely to their temporal power, but the humble shepherds looked up in amazement and rejoiced that a new happiness, and a new vision of life had been given to them.

Christmas is not ours alone—it belongs to all the earth, and we shall fall miserably in the task that is set before us, do we not make the Christmas of 1917 conspicuous because of the great desire of this nation to make the Christmas message real to all the world.

The American Red Cross is urging every man, woman and child in the country to become members of that organization before Christmas. The task of securing persons as members would be very simple did each one feel it his duty to go to headquarters, pay his fee and become enrolled as a member. But this is not the case. Many will wait until they are personally asked for their fee before they will pay it. Others will not pay until they have been asked several times, and still others will join only after requests have been oft repeated.

The work of arousing interest in the Red Cross so that people will help it willingly and gladly is a task of no mean proportions. It requires perseverance, tact, unflinching energy and enthusiasm.

The Red Cross workers are looking to the college men and women who go home for vacation, for every material aid along these lines.

How would it be; how many more members would the Red Cross have if every student gave a share of his or her energy to helping in this membership campaign instead of putting all of it into dancing, parties and picnics.

There has been a widespread misunderstanding upon the campus during the past week concerning the management of the Sandspur. Some have thought that the editors of the various departments are directly responsible for the articles which appear in their departments.

This is not so. The editor-in-chief alone is responsible for the articles which appear in The Sandspur, no matter in what department they may happen to be.

If you have adverse criticism to offer or complaint to make, please see the editor-in-chief.

That the birth of Jesus Christ, the deliver of the human race, and the mysterious link connecting the transcendent and incomprehensible attributes of Deity with human sympathies and affections, should be considered as the most glorious event that ever happened, and the most worthy of being reverently and joyously commemorated, is a proposition which must commend itself to the heart and reason of every one of His followers—The Book of Days.

The Rollins Alumni Association sympathizes with one of its members, Miss Grace Boone, '07, in the great loss of her father, Mr. C. A. Boone who passed away last week. Miss Boone, who was formerly Secretary-Treasurer of the Association has been teaching for the past two or three years in Acadia Seminary, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, Canada.

CHRISTMAS

By George Wither

(Written in the 17th Century)

"So now is come our joyfult feast;
 Let every man be jolly;
 Each room with ivy leaves is drest,
 And every post with holly.
 Though some churls at our mirth repine,
 Round your foreheads garlands twine;
 Drown sorrow in a cup of wine,
 And let us all be merry.

Now all our neighbor's chimneys
 smoke,
 And Christmas blocks are burning
 Their ovens they with baked meat choke,
 And all their spits are turning.
 Without the door let sorrow lye;
 And if for cold it hap to die,
 We'll bury't in a Christmas-pie,
 And evermore be merry.

Now every lad is wond'rous trim,
 And no man minds his labour;
 Our lasses have provided them
 A bagpipe and a tabor;
 Young men and maids, and girls and boys,
 Give life to one another's joys;
 And you anon shall by their noise
 Perceive that they are merry.

The client now his suit forbears,
 The prisoner's heart is eased;
 The debtor drinks away his cares,
 And for the time is pleased.
 Though others' purses be more fat,
 Why should we pine or grieve at that?
 Hang sorrow! care will kill a cat,
 And therefore let's be merry.

Then, wherefore in these merry daies,
 Should we, I pray, be duller?

No, let us sing some roundelays,
 To make our mirth the fuller.
 And, while thus inspired we sing,
 Let all the street with echoes ring;
 Woods and hills and everything,
 Bear witness we are merry."

THE COLLEGE CHAPEL SERVICE

An article appearing in the December North American Student under the above heading, written by Mina Kerr, of Milwaukee-Downer College, is worthy of our attention. Some of the leading thoughts of the article are given below. Can not the application be made to our own Chapel Services,

"There is great variety in the chapel services in different institutions. The character of the building and room that is used makes some difference in the response gained. . . . However, we would certainly all agree that the kind of building does not necessarily determine the kind of service. In some very beautiful places students look and act during the daily chapel service as if they were in prison; they shuffle, read letters, talk, study, and show in every way they are there by outer compulsion. In other very plain surroundings there is reverence, understanding of the meaning and purpose of the service, and an entire willingness to be there.

"— Chapel atmosphere, like character, is 'caught; not taught.'

".... I believe that the chapel hour at the beginning of the day, quieting the minds of the students deepening their good impulses, and spiritualizing the intellectual life of the institution, one of the precious inheritances of the college. Changed in form to meet the changing days, long may it abide.

OUR UNPARALLELED PROBLEMS.

America's entry into the European war brought the country face to face with unparalleled and unusual financial problems, both in their variety and magnitude. To these were added the inevitable accompaniment of many other problems arising out of essential economic readjustments necessitated by the war and the transformation of an unarmed and peaceful nation into a formidable armed combatant.

"Business as usual" can not, of course, be adopted as the guiding principle in time of war. Business must be readjusted to the war-making function of the Nation.

THE COURSE OF A DOLLAR

It is easy to visualize the course of a dollar saved from waste and invested in Government bonds: First, it goes to the Government as a loan for the war; second, it is expended by the Government for food, clothing, and ammunition which go directly to a gallant soldier or sailor, whose fighting strength is kept up by the food, whose body is kept warm by the clothing, and whose enemy is hit by the ammunition. It has not been expended in the purchase of needless food and clothing for the man at home, and is therefore released for the use of the soldier; it is saved wealth to the man at home and can be loaned to his Government at interest, with resulting benefit to himself and to his Government.

KEEP YOUR LIBERTY BOND

The man who subscribes for a Government bond, and is advertised as a patriot for doing so, is not a patriot if he immediately sells that bond on the market when he does not imperatively need the money. It is not mere subscription to a bond that helps the Government; it is by actually lending money to the Government and not by merely promising it and shifting the load to some one else that the citizen really helps in this great time.

* * * * *

There is no desire, however, on the part of the Government to prevent or to interfere with the freedom of legitimate trading in Government bonds—that is, trading in good faith.

OUR CREDIT AND OUR ARMY

We must realize that the Government's credit is vital to the success of the war; that it underlies every activity. It is a sacred duty of every citizen, and it should be regarded as a glorious privilege by every patriot to uphold the Government's credit with the same kind of self-sacrifice and nobility of soul that our gallant sons exhibit when they die for us on the battle fields of Europe. It is as imperative to sustain the Government's credit as it is to sustain our armies, because our armies can not be sustained unless the Government's credit is always above reproach.

OUR COURAGE AND RESOURCES

The courage and resources of the Nation are so abundant that America's success in the war is beyond question if they are properly organized and intelligently used. The economic and financial condition of the country was never so strong and America's spirit was never more aroused to the importance and necessity of going forward, resolutely and regardless of sacrifices, to the accomplishment of the great task to which God has called us.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF FLORIDA

(By Braxton Beacham, Federal Food Administrator, Florida.)

In the approaching observance of the Great Universal Festival of Christmas, the true spirit of which calls for the practice of self-denial, and the greater blessings of giving than of receiving, I call upon the people of Florida to respond more freely to the Christmas spirit, and while in an enjoyment of the joys and pleasures of the day, may they give due thought and strong effort to making the Christmas of 1917 more noted through their self-denial.

It is not necessary that we take from ourselves and our children the joys and smiles that are inherent rights, but we should make those joys and smiles embody a self-satisfaction that we have helped to make more secure the peace-at-home, and more certain the return of peace abroad.

I urge the people of Florida to bear in mind, and teach to their children, that every ounce of wheat, meat, and sugar saved from the Christmas feast, will be an ounce of strength for the armies of our own and allied nations who are striving to protect our own and our fellow countries from autocracy's domination.

So let us refrain from careless uses of those needful foods, and fully realize that all we save will be a greater support to our soldiers, and a greater defense against the dangers that confront them, and a sure and powerful factor for an earlier peace throughout the world.

Let us use wisely, give wisely, and ever remember that in observance of this Holy Christmas, we can, by a more thoughtful self-denial, win the respect of our friends, the gratitude of our country and allies, and the blessings of God.

IN AND OUT OF SOCIETY.

A city man recently visited a country cousin. The man from the city wishing to explain the joy of metropolitan life, said:

“We certainly have been having fun the last few days. Thursday we went to the Country Club and golfed until dark, then trolleyed back to town and danced until morning.”

The country cousin was not too stumped in the least, and began telling of some of the pleasures of the simple life.

“We have had pretty good time here, too. One day we buggied out to Uncle Ned's, and went out to the barn lot, where we baseballled all afternoon. In the evening we sneaked up into the attic and pokered until morning.”

A listening farmer, not to be outdone, said:

“I was having some fun about the time myself. I muled out to the corn field and geehawed until sundown. Then I suppered until dark and played until 9 o'clock, after which I breakfasted until it was time to go mulling again.”

“.... Let those of us who are students give our thought, our loyal operation, our reverent attitude, and our support in what we say about chapel to other students. We will, all, by the law of life, get according to what we give.”

CONSERVATORY NOTES

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Wasn't that an inspiring and uplifting burst of music at the Christmas Vespers? The choir surely did fine work in the carols and the eloquent address by President French had a magnificent ending in the three Messiah numbers. It was interesting to see the pleased and attentive look throughout the audience when Gertrude Hall's pure and resonant tones sang out in the recitative. Director Dyer and Miss Waterman deserve great credit for and elaborate program given entirely by students. Mrs. Harcourt again proved her artistic excellence in her support of the singers and her solos, were given with fine taste and musicianship—even on THAT organ.

The Conservatory will spend the holidays as follows: Director Dyer, at Winter Park over Christmas Day, as she is busy with the Community music, afterwards joining Dr. Allen and Miss Warner for a "little journey" to Daytona and St. Augustine, Miss Rous goes to Montgomery, Ala., where she will visit friends, Dr. Allen and Miss Warner will spend Christmas Day at Tampa, Miss Waterman will stay in Winter Park, Mrs. Harcourt goes to Georgiana, Fla., to be with relatives.

THE SONG OF THE SWEATER

The hours I spend in sweater art,
Are as a string of purls, I sigh
To count them o'er, each stitch apart
My rows awry, my rows awry.

Each hour I purl, each purl take care
To drop no stitch, lest I be stung.
I count them o'er, e'en to the bitter end

And there a sleeve is hung!

Oh memories that bless and burn
Of ravelling out at bitter loss!

I drop a purl, yet strive at last to learn

To knit across, sweet art, to knit across!—M.

DANCE AT "ALABAMA."

William Sherman entertained several of his friends and Miss Gonzalez as chaperone, Saturday evening with an informal dance.

The young folks went out to "Alabama" in cars, reaching there about 7:30. Everyone had a most enjoyable time.

Those composing the party were: Geraldine Muriel, Helen Hanna, Hildegard Slaughter, Lelia Russell, Alice and Helen Waterhouse, Ralph Cunningham, William Sherman, Harold Tilden, Alfred Hanna, Howell Sawyer, Bradley Scofield and "Bobby" Tucker.

Mrs. Krauss and Miss Siewert will be busy with local music, Frieda substituting for Miss Warner in the public school Christmas music.

A new Conservatory organization will probably be started after the holidays. Its a dead secret, but its going to be the nicest thing.

1917 ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

The annual report of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is unusual in form, matter, and size. Eighty pages constitute the report itself to which are added 270 pages of exhibits, tables and abstracts of reports of bureaus and divisions.

Some of the striking paragraphs of the report are as follows:

Word has just come to the effect from Berkeley Blackman saying he is now hard at work in the Aviation Camp near San Antonio, Tex. He writes that there are two thousand machines in the air daily. Mr. Blackman is trying for the position of Robert Lewter of Orlando, who is a student in Rollins Academy, several years ago, is now in business in Jacksonville.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE WHERE SOME OF THE ROLLINS FOLKS WILL SPEND XMAS

"Let there be no misunderstanding. Our present and immediate task is to win the war, and nothing shall turn us aside from it until it is accomplished. Every power and resources we possess, whether of men, of money, or of material, is being devoted and will continue to be devoted to that purpose until it is achieved. * * *

"We shall regard the war as won only when the German people say to us, through property accredited representatives, that they are ready to agree to a settlement based upon justice and the reparation of the wrongs their rulers have done. * * *

"When this intorable Thing, this German power, is, indeed, defeated and the time come that we can discuss peace—when the German people have spokesmen whose words we can believe and when those spokesmen are ready in the name of their people to accept the common judgement of the nations as to what shall henceforth be the bases of law and of covenant for the life of the world—we shall be willing and glad to pay the full price for peace and pay it ungrudgingly. We know what that price will be. It will be full, impartial justice—justice done at every point and to every nation that the final settlement must affect, our enemies as well as our friends."

During the past week copies of Volume X, Number 4 of the Rollins College Bulletin have been mailed from the registrar's office. As far as possible this sheet has been sent to all former students and friends of the college, to the educators and educational institutions throughout Florida.

This issue gives clearly the essential and significant developments since the opening of the term in September. Statistics of enrollment up to November 19th. show an enrollment in every way satisfactory and even unexpected. The number of students in all departments of the institution is now 205.

The Commercial Department is stated as showing unusual growth and as offering courses of exceptional interest and value. Full credit is given for this record to Professor Walter Harrington who has proven "himself a most excellent teacher and organizer."

The Conservatory of Music has received well earned space in the bulletin. It is evident that this department has experienced an enrollment far in excess of that of last year at this time. Excellent courses are presented in all departments under a "teaching force stronger than ever before." The programs given by faculty and students alike have received worthy comment.

The institution of Student Government has been one of the noted developments of this quarter. The administration cites the "entire success" of the plan and states that it is by far the most satisfactory system of student control and discipline, being both agreeable and educative.

Amparo and Ralph Cunningham will spend the holidays with Hildegard Slaughter in Jacksonville.

Mary Conaway expects to spend the holidays at the home of her uncle in Oraindo.

Miss Ruth E. Hills is planning to spend a part of the time in St. Augustine.

Miss Jesse M. Short and Miss Catherine Brebner will be in Tampa.

Miss F. Gonzalez will enjoy the holidays in New Orleans.

Evelyn Haynes will entertain several friends with a house party at Daytona.

Prof. Reinhard will spend the holidays in Jacksonville.

Miss O'Neal will be in Orlando.

Helen and Alice Waterhouse will spend the holidays with their grandparents at Maitland.

Bert Cleave will be in St. Petersburg the guest of Leon Lewis.

Smith Fletcher, George Arrants and Leslie Hanawalt will remain on the campus and keep the home fires burning. They will be assisted by Katherine Bunce, Ruth Greene, Emilie Schweigle and Laura Guiteras.

Lilian and Howell Sawyer will go to their home in Savannah.

Louis Miskovsky and Carey Roberts will be in Jacksonville.

Norma McFadden will spend the holidays with Mrs. Payton Mussewhite.

Jean Richir will spend part of the time in Jacksonville.

Mabel Townsend will visit also in Jacksonville.

Prof. and Mrs. Herrick will remain on the campus. They expect their daughter from the north as their holiday guest.

Prof. Harrington will tour the state in the interests of Rollins.

Prof. Rencher plans to be in Tampa. Margaret, Gladys and Florence Smith will divide their time between Tampa, Sanford and Winter Park.

The "Co-op," the student store institution at the suggestion of Prof. Harrington, is commented upon as being an interesting and successful enterprise. It is practical in furnishing a convenient place for the purchasing of student supplies and pedagogical as it is conducted by Commercial School students who find in it an application of the principles of book-keeping and business methods.

Athletic Notes

ORLANDO BEATS WINTER PARK.

There was an exciting game between Winter Park and Orlando last Friday night in the gym. The game, while not witnessed by a large crowd, was fast and hard from start to finish. Winter Park took the lead soon after the game started and held the lead until the last quarter. Orlando came up with a rush. Her guarding was of the best, her team work remarkable. Winter Park, though halted for a minute, soon started in with renewed energy.

The score balanced for minutes. Tied at one time, Trovillion missed three foul goals in a row. In the last minute or so Orlando threw a foul, which closed the game with a score of 12 to 15.

The game was inclined to become rather rough at times and there were some sensational falls taken. Both teams fouled freely and at times it looked as though Queensbury rules would have to be adopted, but, however, Fletcher as referee preserved law and order, and the game was brought safely to a close.

The proceeds of the game went to the Y. W. C. A. war fund.

PRACTICE.

The nightly practice is rounding both the Varsity and second teams into good form. A warm-up of basket shooting is given, then passing and signal practice. This is followed by a hard twenty minute scrimmage.

Fletcher and Ward have their hands full, shooting with Tilden and McGaughy as guards. Cleave keeps Cheesy occupied at all times, while Rabbit and Tommy vainly endeavor to shoot with Hannawalt and Vincent on top of them. However, only one night has passed this year in which the second team has not made a single score.

GAME FRIDAY NIGHT.

There will be a fast game between Rollins and Eustis in the gym. Friday night. Although not on our schedule Eustis will prove, it is rumored, no easy bunch for the Varsity.

Everyone come out and watch the contest.

JUNIORS.

The Junior teams are practicing two nights a week. Now that most of the boys are in good shape, an all-Junior team will be selected, which will represent both teams.

A return game with Orlando will be played some time after the holidays.

Recently there was issued an attractive folder descriptive of the Business School to supplement the college catalogue. This folder states clearly the courses and privileges given and makes general statements of the cost and time required. As these leaflets are for judicious distribution, interested parties may secure them without difficulty at the office of the Registrar.
