BOARD OF TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

NUMBER OF PROMINENT TRUSTEES PRESENT—SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Rollins College was held in the President's Office, Carnegie Hall, Wednesday morning at ten o'clock with a good attendance.

Dr. George Morgan Ward, President of the Board, came over from Palm Beach for the day and a number of others came from a distance.

President French gave his first report to the Board, and made a number of recommendations which were accepted. Judge John M. Cheney of Orlando, Rev. C. S. Child, D. D. of Fairfield, Conn., Rev. H. L. Hanscom, D. D. of Worcester, Mass., Mr. W. R. O'Neal of Orlando, and Mr. Edward H. Brewer, whose terms expired at this time, were reelected for a term of three years. Mr. Edward Salmon, a prominent philanthropist of Wisconsin and a trustee of Beloit College, was elected to the Board, as were the Rev. James E. Clarke, D. D., LL. D. of Nashville, Tenn., and Supt. Thomas W. Lawton, of Sanford. Mr. Lawton was nominated by the alumni association of the College during the past summer and was elected by the Board of Trustees as an Alumni Trustee.

Another interesting addition to the Board of Trustees is that in the per-

SENIORS CELEBRATE VALENTINE'S DAY

The Class of '18, following a tradition established in its Freshman year, celebrated St. Valentine's Day at a prettily appointed dinner table in the College Dining Hall.

Valentines were used as favors and a few extra delicacies were served, making the affair one which was most "heartily" enjoyed.

As an appropriate climax to the pleasant evening, and as an event entirely in keeping with the Valentine season, the engagement of Miss Katharine Waldron to Mr. John L. Boynton of Ft. Lauderdale was announced.

Miss Waldron is the daughter of Rev. Geo. B. Waldron of Tampa, a member of the Board of Trustees, and is a popular member of the Class of '18.

The wedding will take place some time in June.

ROLLINS MEN COMMAND SUBMARINE CHASER

D. D. WETHERILL GIVEN COMMAND WITH D. HENRY FORDHAM AS EXECUTIVE OFFICER—STATIONED AT CHARLESTON.

Word has just been received that Ensign D. D. Wetherill (Commissioned Feb. 5th) has been given command of a submarine chaser, with Ensign D. Henry Fordham as executive officer. They are stationed at Charleston, South Carolina.

This announcement will be greeted with great pleasure by a host of friends, as "Heinie" and "D. D." were among the most popular students at Rollins in their time. Both were Phi Alpha's, members of the Glee Club, Football, Basketball, and Baseball "R" men, and held high places in their classes and in the esteem of their fellows.

Mr. Wetherill was Editor-in-chief of the Sandspur in 1912, when it was published as a monthly magazine. He graduated from the College in 1913 with the degree of A. B. and was for a number of years affiliated with the National Carbon Company, of Cleveland, Ohio. At the time of his enlistment, in September 1917, he was representing the Wilson-Toomer Fertilizer Company, of Jacksonville, at Miami. Mr. Wetherill's executive ability and scholarship won for him the Ensignship in a short time after enlistment.

Mr. Fordham left Rollins in 1915, going to Miami, where in partnership with his father, he engaged in the wholesale manufacture of paint. At the first call for volunteers he enlisted with the Naval Militia of Miami, and soon was second in command of the company. During the summer of 1917 Mr. Fordham was given a Commission as Ensign and took up his duties immediately at Charleston, where he has been stationed since.

In October 1917, Ensign Fordham and Miss Gayle Davis, a former Rollins student, were quietly married at the bride's home in Orlando. This was a happy union of classmates, and Rollins friends join in a wish for the continued happiness and success of the popular pair.

That two Rollins Men—Fraternity brothers—should be together in the command of one of Uncle Sam's boats to chase the Hun is a pleasant situation, and without doubt, will prove an efficient combination. This signal responsibility placed on Rollins men brings gladness to those who toil the classroom today as well as to those who have gone out to toil in the larger field of life. Fordham and Wetherill do honor to Alma Mater.

Business Department Celebrates

WITH AN ENROLLMENT PASSING THE HUNDRED MARK SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ENJOYS DANCE

Last Saturday, February 16th, the School of Business showed the outside world how proud it is at running into the second hundred of enrolled students. The gymnasium was tastefully decorated, the orchestra that played for the dances could not be surpassed, and most effective of all was the array of young ladies in bright and dazzling ball gowns. A more stylish looking crowd has never come together on the Lyman floor, nor one entering more enthusiastically into the spirit of merriment and frolic that soon prevailed everywhere.

Between dances, vocal and piano selections were given by Misses Jeanne Richir, Winifred Hanchett, Mary Noe, Florence Smythe, Lena Nutt and Miss Munson. Strong applause showed how greatly the offerings were appreciated. It is to be regretted, however, that the distinguished singer, Mr. B. C. Cleave, whose appearance was eagerly awaited by all those present, could not perform, owing, it was stated, to a violent attack of stage fright.

Sandwiches, cake, olives, pickles and ice-cream, furnished the material comfort of the evening and these dainties would also have been applauded if such were the custom.

Towards the close Miss Lelia Russell, with a few well-chosen words handed Professor Harrington, in behalf of all his students, a fine gold watch chain with engraved knife attached. In thanking for the gift, Professor Harrington emphasized that the zeal and enthusiasm for which his pupils praised him, would have availed him and them nothing but for the unceasing, loyal support which Dr. French had given him and the department from the very first day of the term. He expressed the hope that not only the Business Department but all of the other Departments would prosper so as to realize Dr. French's hope of a truly great Rollins.

At a quarter past ten, dancing came to an end, and with that a red-letter day in the history of Rollins.

"COOP" GIVES $100 TO ROLLINS PRESS

FROM PROFITS OF FIRST SEMESTER SALES THE ROLLINS CO-OPERATIVE STORE GIVES HUNDRED DOLLARS TO PRESS FUND—BUSINESS SCHOOL MAKES ANOTHER SPLENDID COUP

Trustees Authorize Dr. French to Put Press In Working Order

At the suggestion of Professor Harrington, Director of the School of Business, and with the consent of Dr. French, President of the College, the management of the "Coop" has given the sum of $100, out of the profits made during the first semester, to the Rollins Press.

The "Coop" is a store run by the students of the Business School, with the double purpose of giving practical experience in business and supplying the students with a convenient place to buy the sundry articles that College students always need. The store is situated in the first room to the right as one enters Knowles Hall. All the bookkeeping, ordering, and general management is done by pupils of the School of Business, each student being required to keep a "Coop Set" in addition to his regular work in bookkeeping. In this way each student of the School may know the exact standing of the accounts of the store.

CLASS IN HISTORY ENJOYS LECTURE

MISS ANNA METCALF TALKS ON THE RELATION OF THE SMALL COUNTRIES OF EUROPE TO THE WAR

Monday, February 18th, at the regular class hour the class studying the History of Western Europe had the pleasure of listening to a most interesting and instructive exposition of the relation of the small countries of Europe to the present war. The speaker was Miss Anna Metcalf of Winter Park, who has given much time and study to this subject. Miss Metcalf had her subject well in hand and deserves the highest praise for giving to the class definite information, clearly organized.

The class wish to thank Miss Metcalf for her expert assistance on this somewhat difficult topic, and hope that it may be their good fortune to benefit at some future time from her extensive reading and study.

THE "COOP."

Do Rollins students co-operate? It would seem that they did—and in large figures, too. The "Coop" has just given to the Rollins Press $100 of its profits for the first semester, thereby proving the sound basis for its name. "Coop" is the final form of the shortened term "co-op," from co-operative, the ideal upon which the campus store was founded by the Business Students this year.

More laudable disposition of the profits could hardly have been made. The students of Rollins have done a great part of their shopping at the "Coop." They are working for the Rollins Press. It will be a thing of pride to Rollins some day. It is splendid spirit, an excellent economic situation, that the students can spend their money and get value received, and then have it come back to the Campus and to Rollins in such form that all can enjoy it and profit by it.

This is real co-operation.

The "Coop" should have an even greater patronage, if that is possible, and Rollins students should keep ever before them in their activities that great ideal of progress—CO-OPERATION.

We feel penitent.

We obviously didn't do our duty.

The Freshmen insist on a correction.

Last week a whole "line 'o' type" was left out of their picnic menu, and unhappily this particular line contained both the steak and the rolls!

Many thanks are due to Mr. Harold Tilden and to Mr. Karl Tompkins for their part in the Press Tea and Tournament. They played excellent tennis and provided the "central attraction."

Dr. William Elliott Griffiths, who has delighted so many audiences, both of students and townspeople, in Winter Park of late, is staying in town for the winter and is becoming more and more sought after as his ability as a lecturer is known.

Dr. Griffiths is a graduate of Rutgers College, which in 1899 made him L. H. D. and a professor in Union College, which in 1883 awarded him the degree of D. D. Dr. Griffiths has also been lecturer or preacher at Harvard, Yale, Chicago, Cornell, Rutgers, Dartmouth, Oberlin, Pennsylvania (University and State College) and Union Seminary, and Chairman of the Congress of Religions at St. Louis. His introductions to the Arabian Nights, Dr. Nitobe's Bushido, Motley's Works, and his contributions to the Encyclopedia, the Nation, Outlook, Independent, Harper's, Scribner's and Century, etc., are well known.

He writes the following letter to the Sandspur:

Winter Park, Fla.,
February 12th, 1918.

Editor of The Sandspur:

It may interest your Editorial Board and the students to know that the hymn which is a praise for the men at the front and pasted in the hymn books used in Knowles Hall, was written by my friend, Mr. John Oxenham, famous as a story-writer. Since the war broke out, however, he has turned his pen to poetry and the composition of hymns, which are as trumpet calls to service, to sacrifice, and to duty.

This hymn was sung with much spirit and certainly with deep feeling, in the chapel on last Sunday evening, for few are the mothers and fathers who have not a son, and there are not many among us who have not a friend in camp, on the ocean, or in the trenches in Europe.

In correspondence with my friend who has been in America and loves our people, I have taken the liberty of telling him about the Rollins College service and the spirited singing of his hymn.

To compose a Christian lyric that shall hold its own and be sung for a generation at least by the devout, has been the consecrated ambition of many. I have heard one person of great wealth declare she would give her all could she feel that she had this power, this honor. Surely John Oxenham has won from American as well as from British hearts and voices this plaudit and enduring fame.

May Rollins College prosper, live up to the spirit of his hymns and endure as long as devout praises ascend to the Father above. Truly yours, (Signed) WM. ELLIOTT GRIFFIS.

Conservatory Overtones

The music at the Vesper Services last Sunday evening, the 17th, was furnished by Dr. Allen and Miss Rous, each giving solo numbers to the pleasure of those present.

Owing to the indisposition of Director Dyer, Dr. Allen substituted for her in the Bach Concerto for two violins, at the Glee Club Concert.

It is to be hoped that Rollins will be well represented at the Orlando Music Festival. Mr. Drennen has secured very fine soloists, and it is indeed a rare opportunity. Elman and Mme. Rappold are great interpretive artists.

THE GLEE CLUB GIVES FINE CONCERT

To a large and appreciative audience the Girls' Glee Club gave its annual concert on the evening of the fourteenth. The program as usual was exceptionally varied and interesting. The sympathetic and pleasing interpretation of the cantata "The Lady of Shalott" arranged by Wilfred Bendall from Tennyson's dramatic poem was especially worthy of commendations. The singing of Miss Frieda Siewert in the solo parts and the obligato was exceedingly artistic showing a remarkable range and sweetness. The receipt of Gertrude Hall's solo by those present was enthusiastic as usual, an encore being demanded by the audience.

The violin duet by Dr. Allen and Miss Warner was all that was anticipated. These finished artists never fail to please expectant audiences.

The piano duet by Misses Lois Pedrick and Celia Salmon of Orlando held the attention and gained the approbation of all.

As to the work of the chorus, no words but of praise, were to be heard from the large and music-sophisticated audience. The thing that most impressed and in a way surprised all listeners was the smoothness, the perfect rhythm of the whole volume of sound, so capably swayed by the director's baton. The entire program bore tribute to the many hours of diligent and faithful training given to the club by Miss Waterman, who has greatly endeared herself not only to the girls, but also the music lovers of Winter Park. The painstaking and enthusiastic response to her efforts throughout the repeated rehearsals was entirely evident, for here as always faithful work met its reward; the product crowned the effort.

The girls who compose the Glee Club are Frieda Siewert, Gertrude Hall, Martha Chess, Winifred Hanchett, Florence Stone, Emily Schweigel, first sopranos, Florence Keezel, Bessie Brown, Lelia Russell, Evelyn Haynes, second sopranos; Christine Harcourt, Geraldine Barbour, Katherine Gates, Eleanor Backus and Elsa Siewert altos.

The program was as follows:

PEP SHOWN AT PRESS TEA AND TOURNAMENT

LANDSTREET AND NEWELL FOR ORLANDO AND TILDEN AND TOMPKINS FOR ROLLINS PUT UP MASTER BRAND OF TENNIS — ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE ENJOYS TEA AND SANDWICHES — PROCEEDS FOR THE ROLLINS PRESS

Monday afternoon, February 18th, the clay court at Pinehurst was the scene of a gay lawn fete. A fair sized crowd of College people and visitors gathered to witness a tennis match for the best three out of five between a fast Orlando team and the supporters of the Blue and Gold. A detailed account of the game will be found in the athletic department.

Starting at about 3:45 the tournament held the spectators thrilled until five sets had been played off and the bugle for dinner was about to sound. During the match "Cheesy" the sandwich man called his wares in clever phrases and sold off, in less than hour, all the sandwiches and called for more. They finally brought him what remained of the cake—that went too, at scandalous prices. Most delicious tea and cake were served to the assembled tennis enthusiasts after they had applauded sufficiently to whet their appetites to a keen edge. That there was nothing left over from the culinary department speaks well for the quality of the refreshments served. Had there been more people, more supplies would have been necessary.

Landstreet and Newell are both former Rollins men and both were tennis stars while here. The campus as a whole feels itself indebted to their fine spirit of loyalty and sportsmanship, as well as their splendid athletic ability, in affording a snappy tourney and a great aid to the Rollins Press. "Tommy" and "Tilly" also come in for congratulations and thanks.

A little over thirty dollars was cleared from the admission charges and the sale of refreshments. This amount has been turned over to the Rollins Press fund, and is considered a remarkably good showing for the size of the crowd.

BLUE AND GOLD LOSES TO TEAM OF FORMER ROLLINS STARS IN PRESS TOURNAMENT

The Rollins Tennis Team was defeated Monday afternoon, February 18th, by a team from Orlando with a score of 1-6, 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, making a total in games of 23-19. Rollins was ably represented by Harold Tilden and Karl Tompkins. "Tony" Landstreet and Lee Newell, both former Rollins men, played for Orlando.

The game was fast and hard fought throughout. "Tommy" and "Tilly" had sure, swift serves, and toward the end of the first set it looked as though the match would be easily won for Rollins. However, the Orlando team improved as the match progressed. The net work of Newell and the work of Landstreet on the back tape was too much for the College boys. During the game many spectacular plays were made among which were some seemingly impossible returns by "Tilly" and "Tommy."

The students showed their appreciation of the splendid playing on both sides by their constant applauding and during the last set formed a cheering section and made the Camp us reverberate with yells and cheers.

FRESH WATER AND LAUGHTER ARE TWO REQUISITES FOR GOOD HEALTH

Two sailors go a bathing:
They had not meant to—No.
But a sudden gale
Gives rise to a tale,
Which ends in an overthrow.

Tuesday afternoon two daring, would-be sailors, "Hutch" and Philip Salmon, rig up their canoe and start for a sail. There is a fine breeze blowing, and the picturesque craft bobs along merrily for a time until two Seniors appear on the shore.
Skipper Salmon arises to the occasion and salutes said Seniors. But alas, the act discombobulated the equilibrium of both skipper and craft, resulting in the prompt abandon of the canoe.

Now there was only one place for them to go on such short notice, so why ask if they got wet?

There next appears on the scene three Freshies. "To the rescue!"
they cry. (The Seniors, heartless creatures, laugh as they watch the poor wretches struggling in the waves). Two of the sympathetic Freshies, The Misses Backus and Haynes, arrive first on the scene of disaster in a canoe. They proceed to pick up miscellaneous articles of clothing which have been shed, and help right the canoe, while "Hutch" struggles with the sail ropes. In the meantime "Tanlac" rows up furiously and tries to ride up over the submerged canoe. Why? Ask him. (Never try the rescue work from the windward side of the wreck, Tanlac.)—
They finally disentangle the ropes and climbing into "Tanlac's" boat,

The two small trees that have been covered with blossoms for nearly two weeks, and seen on the way to the dining-hall—one to the left of the walk (on the way to the hall), and the other to the right of the walk and shading part of the play stage, are Cherry Laurels, Prunus Carolin-iana, of the Rose Family. The tree is not related to the olive, as some suppose from the fact that its fruit somewhat resembles that of the olive.

The little tree that is full of buds, and will soon be in full bloom close to the north side of the walk, and opposite Chase Hall, is the American Olive, Fraxinus Americana, belonging to the olive family.

SWIMMING AT SIX A. M.

For some time past, Mary Conaway and Margaret Coulter have tiptoed every morning at six o'clock out of Cleverleaf and gingerly picked their way through the sandspurs and sweet potato patch down to the girls' swimming dock. Arrived, they remove the sandspurs and dive into the fresh, cool water.

For twenty minutes they swim, dive, and float, even as mermaids (merry maids) are said to do.

It is needless to say that they never return too late to get to breakfast.

however, sufficient. To quote our in-

DR. GEORGE R. PARKIN DISTINGUISHED GUEST OF ROLLINS COLLEGE

DELIVERED PRINCIPAL ADDRESS OF FOUNDER'S WEEK YESTER-DAY AFTERNOON, ON "ANGLO-SAXON DEMOCRACY AND THE WORLD WAR."

It may be of more than passing interest to the many interested people who were fortunate yesterday afternoon to hear Dr. George R. Parkin, Director of the Rhodes Scholarship Foundation, speak on "Anglo-Saxon Democracy and the World War" to know something of the splendid work in which he is engaged at the present time. Since 1902, Dr. Parkin has been the Director of the Rhodes Scholarship Foundation. As such, he has been in close touch with the educational institutions of all the British colonies as well as those of Europe and America. He is a native of New Brunswick, and prior to his appointment on the Rhodes Foundation, was the Principal of Upper Canada College at Toronto.

Dr. Parkin's relation to the Rhodes Scholarships has made him known throughout the western world. Recently, however, he has acquired a claim even greater than this to Anglo-Saxon interest and respect. At the beginning of the world war, there were many in England who doubted the value to the mother country of the existing relation with the colonies. Such doubters believed that the burden involved in sustaining close relations with the colonies was greater than the benefits resulting from such relations. Far-seeing British statesmen, however, were convinced that the colonies and the mother country should, if possible, be bound together even more closely.

Accordingly, Dr. Parkin, with a few others, was sent to every British colony in order to learn its conditions, the attitude of its people and its national possibilities. Upon his return to England, he with others was sent to speak in every important village and city in the United Kingdom. The result of this campaign was an entire change in English sentiment with regard to the colonies. Their vital and necessary relation to the mother country was recognized, and the British world today is a closely knit empire, due very largely to the work of Dr. Parkin and his fellow workers.

No man in the English speaking world is better able today to interpret Anglo-Saxon Democracy than is Dr. Parkin.

Dr. Parkin will spend some time at Winter Park and it may be possible to arrange with him for addresses at other places. Should such addresses be desired information may be obtained with regard to Dr. Parkin's engagements by correspondence with President Calvin H. French of Rollins College, Winter Park.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE STARS

Increase Your Knowledge

There is so much of interest associated with Canopus that it is well worth while for us, whether astronomers or not, to be able to locate this famous star.

It is in Ship Argo, and the brightest star in the constellation, and the second in this respect in the sky, Arcturus, its neighbor, being the brightest. Its parallax is less than .01 seconds, and its estimated brightness more than 22,000 times greater than that of our sun. At least 300 years are required for its light to reach the earth. The velocity of light is 186,500 miles a second.

Canopus may be easily found. Just after supper, if the sky be clear, it may be seen a few degrees east of south, about five degrees above the horizon. At the same time Sirius (the Great Dog) is a little farther to the east, and about midway between the horizon and zenith; while the great planet, Jupiter, is in the zenith. Two and a half hours later, on account of the difference in the velocities of their apparent motions, both Canopus and Sirius are directly south, both being in the plane of the meridian.

Canopus, which is only 37 1/2 degrees from the south pole, begins its little apparent arc on the edge of the horizon shortly before dark, reaching its greatest altitude—between seven and eight degrees—about midnight, and sets in the early morning. So because our latitude is 28 degrees 35 seconds, the star runs only a short course in our Winter Park sky. In New York, it cannot be seen at all, and does not come above the horizon of any places north of Richmond, Virginia.

APPRECIATION

Prof. Harrington gave a short talk in the Business room the other day in which he pictured some of the horrors of the present war, showing that this generation has a big, life sized job cut out for it in the future, and that we must be prepared for it.

Professor says that old men cannot run a race with young men; that men like him are useless and that their day is over. Will men like Prof. Harrington ever be useless? NO, certainly not.

Oh yes, the young people are doing things now, but who puts them up to it? Who tells them what to do? Who makes them see the necessity for preparedness? Who gives them the courage and the pep to push things through? Men like Professor Harrington.

Who thought of presenting the big service flag to Rollins? Prof. Harrington. Who made the Business School? Ditto. Who gave us the best time we have had this season, the other night? Ditto. Who makes you want to work and win? Ditto. Yes, and who works harder than all of us put together for Rollins? Professor Harrington.

Once upon a time long ago (date very uncertain, but ancient) there was a beautiful instrument brought upon the campus. This instrument, shining in all its newness, and no doubt, bursting with importance, was installed for the purpose of reminding the students, faculty and "others" of their duties, and SOME pleasures. Ah, how its silvery tones, and yet more silvery echoes rang out in (what seemed) the still small hours of the morning. (Why or why, must we turn out so awful early!)

Alas, fain would we arise two minutes earlier to hear its golden notes again. Ah! Blessed memories.

Hear! What is that shrill piercing sound? It is the ghost of a golden memory. It is the echo that has traveled round and round the campus so many times and oft that becoming weary, it would try to tell of it. And what is behind all this? (Besides Freddie Ward).

Ah! and here comes the saddest part of my tale. What was once a thing of beauty has now become an aged and decrepit object. It has lost the entire top of its head. It has lost all its brightness, and its glory is a thing of yore. It has been shot at, banged around the dormitory, used as a football, and as a baseball bat besides being blown nearly to pieces. And is there not something else it has lost? Ah yes,—its voice! That sweet compelling voice that drew us to the Beanery, (and does yet, for that matter).

What say ye who have known the glory of our faithful Bugle? Shall we not pass the hat, that oft passed hat, and collect the where-with-all to present ourselves with a-what d'ye Call it? Oh,—lets wait until the Business Dept. presents us with one.

M. E. B. '21.

OUR WAR AIMS

"What we demand in this war, is nothing peculiar to ourselves. It is that the world be made fit and safe to live in; and particularly that it be made safe for every peace-loving nation which, like our own, wishes to live its own life, determine its own institutions, be assured of justice and fair dealing by the other peoples of the world as against force and selfish aggression. All the peoples of the world are in effect partners in this interest, and for our own part we see very clearly that unless justice be done to others it will not be done to us. The program of the world's peace, therefore, is our program."—President Wilson's Message of January 8.

"The sacrifices we are exacting of the noble American boys who are going to the bloody fields of France for the lives and liberty of us who stay at home call to us with an irresistible appeal to support them with our most earnest efforts in the work we must do at home."—Secretary McAdoo.

THE COLORED AMERICAN CITIZENS

Americans of every section, of every class, and of every race have answered the call of their country.

"Twelve million colored people have rallied to the defense of their country in this crisis, and will do their full share in helping to win this world war for democracy," Dr. Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, successor to Booker T. Washington in that office, said recently in an address at the Twenty-seventh Tuskegee Conference.

The colored American citizens will do their part in producing foodstuff on the farm, in conserving food in the home, and in fighting in the trenches, in Europe, said Dr. Moton, and in addition the colored ministry and the colored teachers will preach and teach thrift among their race.

It has been impossible to obtain figures on the amount of Liberty Loan bonds purchased by colored Americans in the first and second loans, but it is known that according to their means and ability the colored race were very loyal and active and most liberal subscribers to the loans.

the country can afford to spend a dollar for wasteful luxuries. Such an expenditure resolves itself into a disloyal act."—Cardinal Gibbons.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

The machinery by which the purchase of a Thrift Stamp or a War Savings Stamp is to be made as easy and convenient as the purchase of a spool of thread or a pound of nails, in every community in the United States, is rapidly being established. Already 185,000 War Savings Stamp Agencies have been established and by the close of January this number will have been increased by 350,000.

In addition to these agencies there will be 1,000,000 "sales stations," which do not receive direct authorization to make the sales from the Secretary of the Treasury, but obtain their stamps from authorized agents and sell them over their counters at their cashiers' windows, and other places.

Fifty thousand post offices now have War Savings Stamps on sale and 29,000 banks and 8,000 individual firms and corporations have been appointed agents. Nine thousand interstate corporations having places of business in several states will constitute 115,000 additional agencies.

An intensive campaign is now on for the establishing of War Savings societies which can be organized by 10 or more persons in any community, school, club, church, factory, or office and can be affiliated with the National War Savings Committee at Washington upon application.

URGES SOUTH TO PRODUCE MORE FOOD

Secretary McAdoo, as Director General of the Railroads, has issued a statement declaring that the production by each section of the United States of its own food and feed stuff would be much more economical and would effect a great relief in the transportation problem.

He urges upon the people of the South, especially the farmers, to relieve the strain on the railroads, as much as possible during the coming year by producing their own food and feed crops thus rendering unnecessary the transportation of such materials from other parts of the country to them.

The Secretary emphasizes the fact that he does not suggest that the growing of cotton should be discouraged, but that the South, in addition, to raising all the cotton that it can well cultivate, should grow hay and corn for its stock and produce as much food as possible for its own people.

He says, "If the South can feed itself, the effect will be to release from unnecessary service in the South a vast number of freight cars and engines and greatly help to win the war."

THRIFT IS REQUISITE TO PATRIOTISM

PEOPLE TO BE PERSUADED TO SAVE.

War Savings Societies are to be organized in every town, village and hamlet in the State of Florida during the month of February in accordance with extensive plans mapped out by the State Director of War Savings J. F. C. Griggs.

It is the purpose of the Government to have as many societies formed in the United States as is possible, at least one society for every fifty inhabitants of the United States. This will mean that there will be War Savings Societies in the churches, in the schools, in the workshops, in the farming communities, and everywhere that as many as ten or fifteen people can be gathered together to become interested in the art of thrift and saving.

The government's idea for the formation of thrift and saving societies is not primarily for the purpose of raising money. As Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip expressed it, the Government has unlimited credit, and it can secure money as fast as it needs it, but the Government does need service, shop room and material, and it does need citizens who are thrifty and saving, for they are the Government, and the more thrift and savings is exercised, the stronger financially is the government.

The fundamental principle of saving has never been established in the United States. This country saves less per capita than any country on the face of the earth. Germany, the country with which we are at war, leads all nations in savings accounts, the average savings per capita being $83.08. The next country in point of saving is Germany's principal ally—Austria, where the saving per capita is $46.29. Belgium, now subjugated to German rule, is third, with a saving per capita of $28.50, and next in order come France, $27.56; United Kingdom, $25.14; Italy, $24.58; Hungary, $22.47; Russia, $10.90; United States, $9.22.

These countries which are leading the United States in thrift have demonstrated that this habit and practice of their people stands any nation in good stead in troublesome times such as now pervade the entire eastern continent. The plan for the organization of War Savings Societies has been mapped out by experts in Washington using the best methods employed in all of the European countries; special manuals have been prepared for the formation of societies generally, and one especially intended for use in the schools, as it is proposed to make savings and thrift a regular feature of the curriculum in all schools.

It is especially important that this phase of school work be taken up in the South, for of all these groups of States the Southern States are next to last in the point of savings—the New England States, of course, leading with a per capita saving of $242.80.

During the month of January the activities of the War Savings Committees in the various counties of the State and of the nation have been engaged in the establishment of sales agencies where stamps can be secured. There are not as many agencies in this county as the government desires, for it is anxious to have thrift stamps at every place where sale and exchange is engaged in, and every business concern or individual is especially invoked to get a small supply of stamps, so that those who desire to purchase them will suffer no inconvenience in making such purchase.

It is not proposed to discontinue efforts to establish agencies, but the committee having charge of the work in this county is anxious to receive applications at any time, so as to encourage the establishment of sales stations, which can sell stamps just as they would sell postage stamps.

It is proposed to organize in this county a War Savings Society for every fifty inhabitants, and the members of this county committee will not rest until they have established this number of societies.

INNOCENCE

Shaw came up to 50 per cent of the men in the Senior Class one Sunday morning not long ago, and, with a worried look on his face, asked: "Do telephones run every day in the week?"

G. M.: "Why the glasses, Tommy?" Tommy: "Oh, just to improve my looks."

Chaffee: "Yes, they help some; they hide most of your face."

Stone to Tommy: "Thanks for your tennis racket. It did me good service."

Who's fleas were white as snow.

Tommy: "She was my aunt."

And no doubt you find the hood

And perhaps she's leakin' oil,

Then oftentimes the horn declines to toot.

But when the night is black,
And there's 'blesses' to take back,

And they hardly give you time to take a smoke,

It's mighty good to feel,
When you're sitting at the wheel,

She'll be running when the bigger cars are broke.

And we're taken home at last,

And I'll cast a few loads down with

But by Henry Ford, who made you,

A NATIONAL DUTY

The Treasury of the United States has a great deal of money to raise and it can not be raised by bankers alone, says Secretary McAdoo. The banks of this country can not alone sustain America's needs in this war and extend to our allies the essential aid which they must have to continue the war.

The rich of this country cannot do it alone; the men of this country can not do it alone; the women of this country can not do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partisanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determined to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do.

"Coop" has been quite successful this year, owing to efficient management. That the proceeds of the students' buying should be turned into so worthy a channel as the Rollins Press, shows a fine spirit of co-operation, and should stimulate the support of the "Coop."

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College Wednesday February 20th, Dr. French was authorized to proceed with what funds were available and to put the presses into working condition.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

son of Mr. Harry S. Rollins of Des Moines, Ia., who is a nephew of the founder of the College.

Professor Edmund Morris Hyde, Ph D., L.H.D., for a number of years instructor in Latin, was elected Professor Emeritus of Latin. Dr. Hyde is well and favorably known by all Rollins people, and this honor is a fitting climax to his many years of service.

Board of Trustees Approve Press

It will be of much interest to the alumni and others who have been working for the Rollins Press to know that Dr. French's recommendation that a sufficient fund for the complete equipment of the Press be taken from the college moneys was approved by the Board. Arrangements for this purpose which have been begun will soon be completed and the Press will probably be turning out work before the beginning of the new college year next September.
