BIG DOINGS IN 1921 GIRLS ATHLETICS

SUCCESSFUL YEAR ASSURED IN GIRLS

AND ENTHUSIASTIC GIRLS

BASKETBALL, TENNIS AND WATER
SPORTS TO BE FEATURED. BASE BALL AND FIELD BALL NEW THIS YEAR

Boy, howdy! and girls, too! Yeah ho! We're all back to put Rollins on the map, especially in athletics, so here goes for the biggest year yet. We've got the coaches and now it's up to the girls to come out and work.

This is only a general outline of some of the things the girls are going to do this year: First and foremost, of course, we're going to take advantage of this little finger-bowl of the Gods, called Lake Virginia, and do some real swimming. Canoe paddling and sailing will come in for their share—and sh—later on, there may be a chance to aquaplane.

Miss Cooper, Bertha Phiel, and Bess Erwin are coaching the swimming and paddling, and Captain Paul Potter of the Tortoise is skipper of the sailing class.

Then we are going to have field-ball and baseball for the girls, too. The baseball will be played, using the indoor rules, outdoors, yeah!

And last but not least, don't forget the tennis! All the courts are full these days and someone is always playing; in fact, it seems to be one

Masque-e-e-rade !!

Save your thunder for the eve of October 29th! Also men, save one-fifty! A Hallowe'en Masquerade dance, the first of a series of frat dances, will be given by the Phi Alphas on the above date. The dances given by the different fraternities last year were a source of innumerable pleasure and there is no doubt but what they will be more enjoyable than ever with such a spirited student body of which Rollins now boasts.

Yea, bo! This is to be an extremely informal affair, so bring your own or someone else's wife. Do not forget EVERYBODY, male or female, be on deck at eight bells.

"PREXY'S" COMING HOME

By the time this issue of the Sandspur comes from the press "Prexy" and Mrs. George Morgan Ward will in all probability have returned home to the campus and received the usual royal welcome. There is always one great privilege Rollins students make of Dr. Ward and that is to welcome him to Winter Park in a way by which they can show the great affection they have for him and the large place he occupies in their hearts.

Dr. Ward left New York a few days ago, where, through his labors in behalf of Dr. Hoyt, the Carnegie Board granted a retiring pension for this worthy Rollins professor. It is understood that he is now in Washington, where, with Mrs. Ward, he is the guest of Mrs. A. W. Rollins, wife of the late founder of the college. The housekeeper and chauffeur arrived in town Wednesday afternoon to have the "College Bungalow" in readiness for them.

Rollins would not be Rollins without Dr. Ward. He first became president of the institution in 1895 and taught the parents of a number of the students of the "Second Generation" who are now enrolled. It is safe to say that there is no man in the state who holds a larger place in the state's educational life and development

In keeping with the general policy of "progressiveness," Rollins College has reorganized its Department of Business Administration and a basic of endeavor prepared which shall rapidly place this department on a parity with those standards now in existence at such representative institutions as the Tuck School of Dartmouth; Wharton School of Pennsylvania; University of Wisconsin and the College of the City of New York.

Too many people have the erroneous conception as to the merits of collegiate training for the field of commerce as it exists today. The broad perspective and relative values of co-ordinated courses of study on the varied branches of business endeavors is too often lost sight of.

Competition was never of a more keen nature than as it exists at present. There is ample proof, both from the newspapers and current periodicals, to the effect that every sort of than does the president of Rollins. Winter Park and Rollins are very proud to have him as their first citizen. He is the friend of everybody and loved by all, and he is going to receive the warmest welcome possible when he puts foot on the old campus for which he has worked so long and so generously.

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE HONORS DR. C. K. HOYT

FOR FOURTH TIME A ROLLINS PROF-ESSOR HAS BEEN GRANTED A RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE

ONLY COLLEGE IN STATE TO RE-CEIVE SUCH SIGNAL RECOGNITION

An announcement of much interest in Southern educational circles is that which comes from New York that the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Learning, on the recommendation of President George Morgan Ward of Rollins College, has granted a retiring allowance to Dr. Charles Kimball Hoyt, for many years Professor Emeritus. Rollins is the only college in Florida and one of a limited number in the entire South to receive such a signal honor at the hands of the country's great accrediting institution, and is the happy result of Dr. Ward's earnest and persistent efforts for the past six months to secure for this worthy and talented man, who has spent so many of his years in the teaching profession, the recognition to which his work justly entitled him.

Dr. Hoyt is the fourth Rollins professor to receive such a pension, the others being Dr. Thomas R. Baker, Professor Emeritus of Natural

DUTIES OF THE HONOR COMMITTEE DETAILED

As the proposed adoption of the Honor System at Rollins is receiving considerable attention from the student body at present, an extract regarding some of the duties of the proposed Honor Committee, as taken from the Constitution of the Student Association, is given below, for the information of all interested:

"The Student Council shall select a sub-committee of seven of its own number, to be known as the Honor Committee. When any member of this committee is personally interested in a case within the committee's jurisdiction, he or she shall not serve in that particular case, and his or her place shall be filled at the discretion of the Council.

GET STARTED RIGHT

The four years of college life are among the most important of the three-score ten, and the first of the four years is of greater importance than the other three. On the surface, college life appears with all the gaiety of exuberant youth, but underneath is being moulded the future character of the man. Thus, the standard set by the older men cannot be too high, for the making of a man is a serious undertaking, its seriousness often underestimated.

Freshmen are prone to choose some upper classman as their idol. Idols, in the eyes of their followers, can do no wrong. New men find themselves in a strange environment, and in their attempt to fit themselves to the new atmosphere often make some sad mistakes. The college world is peculiar to itself. Its standards differ somewhat from those of the world outside; it is provincial to a certain extent in its ideas, manners and habits. Whether the standard is high or low depends on the men who comprise the student body. Each entering class affects it to some degree, it is either raised to a higher level or lowered to an inferior plane.

Chaplain Carruthers of Lafayette College gave the freshmen of Lafayette some sound advice, which is suitable for freshmen everywhere. His advice included the following suggestions:

"You will be judged for four years by your first four weeks. You will be a fool if you try to be a 'hard guy.' You will make an ass of yourself if you drink to be popular while you are being looked over. That doesn't get you much, even with drinkers. Colleges are changing a bit in viewpoint. This is not dear old Siwash—remember that!

"You can't bluff four years—indeed, not even for four weeks. You can talk about a 'car,' a 'summer home' and a 'family tree' and that won't get you a thing.

"You can't change your spots nor your family. Don't cover up your family. Honor it! Ashamed of your family is not 'the thing' in this democratic college.

"Don't boast about your athletics and the number of girls you call on. Avoid flashing 'Rah Rah' stuff in loud-toned clothes or sporty get-up. Don't brag or show off. Keep low. Time will tell.

"Don't start as a prig. Don't be a 'holier-than-thou' person. Rather be a 'thus-far-and-no-further' man. Don't tell people how good you are. Keep that dark."—Tufts Weekly.

CHASE HALL TWADDLE

First of all, let's give three cheers for Tommy, the boy who got up the first Saturday Night Dance. Hip! Hip!

About four o'clock every morning there is an unmerciful disturbance in the south end of Chase Hall. Guess what it is, why its "Soupy" spanking his coons.

Bro. Styvenger reported a grand and glorious trip to Daytona last Sunday. Coach Schlichter, Prof. Campbell and Prof. Anderson accompanied him. All seem no worse for the experience though they burnt out a bearing while there and had to come home via taxi.

Some people are under the impression that The Chase Hall Student Council is asleep but it's not. It's just as much awake as anything on the campus. The regular weekly meetings are filled with much hot argument and debate.

Paul is in an awful hurry to get his canoe painted. He seems to enjoy teaching certain people how to sail it. Don't we wish we all had canoes with sails though!

Did you hear the Serenade the other night? Griffith staged the big event.

Here is a little ditti, composed by Caldwell.

"These college days are good all right. But oh! Lake Virginia on a moonlight night."

Yessum, we thank you.

Ramon Colado—Tampa, Fla.

Samuel B. Smith—Chattanooga, Tenn.

Football

Pledge Guy Colado received a more or less serious injury to his ankle in the practice game last week between the Blue and Gold. Guy will probably be out of the game several weeks.

Visit

Pledge Sam Smith, Jr., had a visit from his father last week. While here, Mr. Smith was entertained in the house.

New

Richard C. Podmore, Jr., will soon be wearing a maroon and black pledge pin. Prof. sez that he is going to run some poor soul a race for a place on the football team, too! Better watch him, fellows.

Bro. Warner is looking for the bird who says he can't see where the head is to a head-waiter.

Look out—Smitty!

Yes, Ladies, Mister Hanna, is still around and doing well. But these cold days don't agree with him so well. You know it is hard for an old man to have to get up and make a fire in the morning!

ALPHA ALPHA SCANDAL

Neophyte John L. Rowe arrived last Sunday via Sanford.

"Cloverleaf" Collins is a lucky bird.

He is the Alpha Alpha ladies man. Gets in on more dinner parties than the rest of the house combined.

With the arrival of cool weather our husky brother Henderson is back on his job keeping the fellows awake nights. Guess how? We refuse to blab on him, but a couple of buzz saws would sound calm beside him.

Brother Arrants captured the honors when he landed a 12-pound bass the other day. Ask the Dean how it tasted.

Neophyte "Dyke" Dyson is a popular fellow. The women come up from Orlando to take him riding. Watch this column for particulars.

All girls in Cloverleaf are eligible to donate victrola records for the house. For every five records Alphalfa will throw a brawl at the house. Hand them to "Runt" Munhall.

"Dyke" is a wonderful canoe paddler. He believes in good sportsmanship, for he tried to paddle half the lake in his canoe the other night. Not content with this he fell overboard. We'll vouch that "Dyke" is sane, though. Maybe he was trying to get away from his girl. Who was she "Dyke?"

Fred Darch is now staying at the house with the gang. Poor Fred!

Another dance at the house soon. The Dean has granted weekly dances in the gym, but in order to change the scenery once in a while and incidentally to try out the new records that will (?) be donated we will mop up the front room and shake a foot.

All the sailors and athletes from Warren, O., are on the job. "Art" is recovering from the Florida dance and Bender, Wulf and Thomas are ready to take on all comers at their own game. Alpha Alpha sure has a dandy wrecking crew with these berries.

ORLANDO COUNTRY CLUB SIGMA PHI ENTERTAINS AT THE ANCHORAGE

The Alumni of Florida University gave one of the best dances of the season at the Orlando Country Club on Saturday evening after the Florida—Rollins' football game. The boys from both teams were there and no one would have guessed that they had fought a desperate battle that very afternoon.

The Country Club was prettily arranged for the affair and the music, furnished by the Indiana Five, was acclaimed as the "best ever" by many of the dancers. Everything was soon in full swing and, as the Gainesville boys are rivaled only by the Orlando and Rollins' strutters in interpreting the new steps, a merry scene was soon presented.

We do not believe in being pessimistic here at Rollins. It was hard to lose a well-fought battle, but the hatchet was buried at once and friend and foe had a good time.

RECEPTION AT THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

A number of students and other members and friends of the Episcopal Church enjoyed a most delightful "get acquainted" reception at the Rectory, Tuesday evening.

Dean Pardee and the ladies of the church had a cordial welcome for everyone. The Dean, as usual, joined heartily in the merry-making and made much sport over the pea green caps of the Freshies.

Punch and delicious cakes were served, to the joy of the students, and it added to their pleasure that no one counted the numbers consumed. Everyone had a good time.

CLOVERLEAF NEWS

Saturday evening, October 15, was a night of unusual excitement for Cloverleaf. The first event of the evening was the Saturday Night Hop, followed by a watermelon cutting given by Miss Barrett on the Cloverleaf doorsteps. Of course, there is no need to say that everyone had a "grand and glorious" time.

After all the hilarity had subsided and lights had flashed for the last time, the climax of the evening came, in the form of Cloverleaf's weekly visitor. Paudemonium reigned until a posse of "Hawkshaws" from Chase Hall arrived and assured the girls that their fright was caused only by imagination.

Cloverleafs' infirmity list has been rather extensive for the last few days.

Proverb

Just because a man sends a girl flowers is no sign that she is a dead one.

The Sigma Phi sorority gave a very enjoyable picnic on the evening of Friday the seventh. The hungry bunch of girls, who paddled two war canoes to the Anchorage on Lake Maitland, found that the ones who had traveled by land had a cheerful fire blazing near the shore, and that Max was installed as chief cook.

While the coffee boiled some of the crowd sang the latest song hits, accompanied by Gertrude with her faithful uke. Others, less musically inclined, amused themselves by playing on the grassy lawn and rolling down hill.

When dinner was announced, a general rush was made on the weiners, coffee, rolls and bananas. The second course consisted of two beautiful cakes donated by Miss Dyer.

The party broke up with a heartfelt cheer for Sigma Phi given by the guests. The teachers who attended were Miss Dyer, Miss Blake and Miss Johnson. Another notable guest was Smut Fletcher, Jr.

Many Girls Try For Glee Club

More interest is being shown this year in the Girl's Glee Club than ever before. So many girls have come to try out that Mrs. Hayward is still hard at work. Work will be begun in another week toward shaping up the program and concert tour. The girls are hoping and planning an East and West Coast tour.

of the great subjects of conversation around here—reason for the sudden tennis craze—sh! It's compulsory! Looks good for the tournaments though!

Yeah! Gym work this year is compulsory! A'hem, Miss Cooper says every girl must put in thirty minutes on athletics for at least five days out of the week. Yea, verily, ye may weep, for the Dean has O. K'd it. It seems pretty hard, especially for the Frat house girls—'cause it surely does break up your afternoons, but after all, girls, don't you think it's worth it? Not only is your health benefited but when you make the team and win your R you will forget all those weary hours of practice, and remember, girls, it's the hardest and steadiest workers who make the teams. So come on out and help us make this Rollins' biggest and best year of athletics.

DUTIES OF HONOR COMMITTEE DETAILED

gate such breaches of honor among the students as cheating in examinations at least five members of the committee vote such action; and provided further than any student has a direct appeal from the decision of the honor committee to the Executive Committee and finally to the student body."

Among the most prized assets of Rollins are her traditions, and the most valuable of these traditions is the fundamental principle of the Honor System. We do not think it necessary to explain what this means; suffice it to say that the Honor System is the BASIS OF ANY COLLEGE ORGANIZATION and it presumes every student to be a gentleman or lady and to conduct himself or herself in an honorable and upright manner in every phase of student life. Not only tions, breaking training, college rules and regulations, etc., and to deal with them in accordance with established traditions and usages of the college. (b) To perform such other work as may be delegated to it by the Council.

Sec. 3. The Honor Committee shall have power to suspend any student guilty of a breach of honor; provided, does this apply to examinations and class work, but IN EVERY BRANCH OF COLLEGE LIFE. We are supposed to exhibit that spirit of truth and honor which characterizes the true gentleman.

The Honor System should be supported and enforced by the students themselves, and any infraction reported to the Honor Committee, which will be composed of representatives from the various classes. The accused party is always given a fair and impartial trial. If he is found guilty, he is dismissed from the college by the students. The Honor System should be the pride of Rollins, for we think that on such principles as it stands for rests the nobility of a man's character and the usefulness of his career in later life. This proposition is too large to step blindly into, and it will be far better to have wholesome argument and discussion now and a smoothly running organization after the question has been thoroughly threshed out, than to take this important step without mature consideration, and later on experience dissension and discord while endeavoring to put the plan in practice. We should all think this matter carefully over, learn how this system has worked and has been handled in other institutions, and endeavor to formulate the most practical working plan for Rollins.

CARNEGIE HONORS DR. HOYT

Science, Dr. Susan Longwell, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, and the late Dr. Ellen Lord, Professor Emeritus of Latin.

Dr. Hoyt is a graduate of Hamilton College (receiving both A. B. and A. M. degrees from that institution) and of the Auburn Theological Seminary. He began his educational career as Superintendent of the Public Schools of Waterloo, N. Y., and served as Professor of English at Wells College, Bellevue College, Huron College, and Maryville College before assuming his duties at Rollins. It was while Dr. Ward was President of Wells that Dr. Hoyt acted as head of the English Department there. Aside from his work in the teaching field Dr. Hoyt has devoted much of his time to other lines of literary work and has made contributions from time to time to the magazines. For some time he has been a regular contributor to Johnson Encyclopaedia. Dr. Hoyt is also well-known for his ability as a public speaker and has for many years preached in Presbyterian pulpits throughout the country. For a time he acted as an advisor for the Presbyterian College Board in accrediting the work of Presbyterian colleges. He holds the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Omaha.

Dr. Hoyt's influence as a member of the Rollins faculty has been a factor in the maintenance of high standards in the institution. His work in the class room and his personal example as a Christian gentleman has been a great inspiration to all those who have had an opportunity to know him. He has done much to carry out the policy of the Rollins administration in emphasizing the value of the small, Christian College, where the student has the advantage of coming in close contact with men and women of Dr. Hoyt's caliber.

BLUE DEFEATS GOLD IN HARDFOUGHT GAME

STUDENT RIVALRY TURNS SCRIMMAGE BETWEEN FIRST AND SECOND TEAMS INTO REAL BATTLE

Friday afternoon the first team took on the second team in a football game with the former being called the Blue and the latter the Gold. There was a big rivalry displayed on the part of the students as they had been divided up into two rooting sections. The cheer leader for the Blues was Tommy Caldwell and for the Gold Jack Stephens.

The game itself showed what a lot of good material there is to be shoved in, in case of a first team man being knocked for a loop. The second team showed the fighting spirit against odds that brought to mind the Florida game of the week before. For the first three-quarters there was no scoring, but in the last quarter by a series of runs by Thomas the ball was slipped across the Gold's line. The first team also made lots more first downs than the second, but they were always held at the critical moment and by resorting to kicking the ball was kept in the middle of the field.

One of the features of the game was the hard tackling of Teare for the first team. In fact it seemed that too much energy was burned up in an unimportant game, for it knocked out one of the main subs. However, it showed that the whole team plays the game for all it is worth. Cotton Thomas displayed ability in sticking with his interference on end runs and on almost every attempt he made several yards gain. He also was good at hitting the line.

The faculty was on hand as all the officials represented the profs. Miss Cooper was the only lady official and she slung a wicked stick as a lineswoman. This coming Saturday the whole school MUST travel up to Stetson and see a real foot ball game with the odds in favor of our side. Let's show that we have as much and more spirit than last year and show the Stetson rooters what a bunch of rooters they are.

DEBATE ENDS IN SWIM ACROSS LAKE

Keneth Southerland and Warner had a nice swim across the lake to settle the argument as to whether it was a mile or a mile and a half across the big drink.

Warner did not know who he was tackling when he took to the water with "Suds." Rollins expects great things of this youngster at the S. A. A. U. to be held at Rollins next year. This exciting affair was judged by

FIRST OF THE SATURDAY DANCES ENJOYED

The first dance held in the gym this year was given last Saturday night by the students and was strictly a campus affair.

The orchestra was composed of "Red Burns," our Saxophone artist; Charlotte Swain, the worry tickler, and "Art Griffiths with his wicked Banjo. They put out some classy music which was highly appreciated by the students.

The hours were from 8 until 10:15, which is entirely long enough when it is made a weekly affair, which we all hope it will be.

It was a very democratic affair. Dates were not necessary. The function of it was for every student to enjoy himself or herself to the fullest extent.

A small fee of 10c was charged to all and about 125 people were present.

NOTES ON ASSEMBLY HOUR.

On Thursday, October 13, the second Assembly Hour was held in Chapel to consider the proposed constitution for the Students' Association and the honor system, held over from last Assembly. The meeting was opened with two Rollins songs, "Osceola" and "Rollins Goes Rolling Along." Ray Greene presided.

Dean Sprague had two important matters to which he called attention. He explained them as follows: The first was the question of having a regular Saturday night dance, perhaps every two weeks. It would be a strictly campus affair; figuratively, a family affair. The problem it hopes to solve is to prevent groups forming into little cliques. A limitation should be placed upon the number of dances with the same partner. The man from the American College is identified by his manner of entertaining a crowd, by his good fellowship. This is distinctively American. When one fraternity man meets another, he cares more for the fact that his friend is a fraternity man than he cares whether or not he belongs to the same organization. They have both learned good fellowship. The fraternity should teach men to make deep friendships, and to extend that feeling to their fellows. It should broaden family feeling, not turn its interests inward, and become a clique. God Almighty taught us to live in families, so that we may spread the spirit in the world.

The second problem the Dean discussed was that of canoing on the lake in the afternoon. So far, chaperones have been necessary. He suggested that this restriction might not be necessary, if our ideal of democratic self control and freedom was realized.

Following the Dean, Mr. Greene read the new Constitution for the Student Association, which was proposed for adoption. The Student Association is an organization composed of students paying the regular Association fee, and is to control all student activities, including student government. Duplication of effort has been obviated as far as possible, by providing for only a few offices. After Mr. Greene had finished reading and explaining the Constitution, a few changes of wording were made, and it was unanimously adopted.

Since the hour was late, no definite action was taken regarding the adoption of an honor system, except the appointment of a committee to investigate and discuss the situation. The committee consists of Bertha Pheil, Ruth Waldron, Francis James, S. B. Smith, Rex Holliday, Theodore Thompson.

The meeting adjourned and another assembly will be held next week.

NEW PROGRAM FOR BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT

business is seeking "trained" men and women. The questions which confront the student in selecting a course of commercial study during his collegiate life, are but two: (a) In what particular commercial activity is his interest the keenest? (b) Where can the proper and adequate training be secured?

Considerable discussion might be developed in determining the most suitable reply to these queries, but it is very obvious that only by securing a well rounded course of academic training can the future leaders of commercial activities become most successful.

The close relationship between individuals, communities, states and nations, as existed today, calls for more and greater study on such subjects as Sociology, Economics, History, etc. There should be no attempts made to take "short cuts" in preparing for the commercial world any more than one would so do for the practice of medicine, law or engineering. Too often such attempts are made by students and the general result is but that of "misfits" or "mechanical automatons."

For this reason, if for no other, are colleges today making every effort to provide its students with a larger and broader concept of business relationships and to stimulate such ability as will make leaders.

Briefly stated, Rollins College has now set a foundation for the Department of Business Administration whereby complete four-year courses can be selected by those students desiring to secure a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce.

The selective groups of studies are so developed as will not only provide of sufficient selection on the part of the student, but will also serve as a guide in the development of faculty efficiency and laboratory equipment. These selective group studies are classified under the following main headings:

Accounting, Insurance, Banking, Advertising and Salesmanship, Foreign Trade, Transportation, General Business.

It is not to be pre-supposed that these selective courses, as outlined below, will do more than to lay a general foundation in that particular field of business activity in which a student is vitally interested. As a general rule a large percentage of men entering college do so without having definitely in mind the exact field of business which they expect to enter. For this reason the courses offered in the freshman year are the same for all groups. The students are expected to select at the beginning of the second year the specific group course in which he desires to concentrate.

What's This Mean?

"I want a good girl, and I want her bad."

Righto—

Most men think they are bright when they are only half lit.

Whozatt???

She—"Do you like tea?"
He—"Yes, but I like the next letter better."

Beanery Stuff

Warner—"Freshman, have you any board money?"
Tuller—"Naw, I got paper money."

No Rollins Dance

Senior—"Don't you want to meet some of these girls?"
Rat—"No, I've met one already."

Ratt—

Prof.—"—— and Jupiter has nine moons."
Dot—"What a wonderful place for canoeing!" Ex.

Good Job

Knowles—"Those two girls bet a kiss about something."
Ward—"What's it to you?"
Don—"I'm holding stakes." Mississippian.

Haig and Hug

If a body meet a toddy,
And a body's dry,
Should a toddy treat a body
Comin' thru the rye?
Hullabaloo.

Maybe So

Charlotte—"Oh, look at those dirty football players, how will they ever get clean?"
Fanny—"That's what the scrub team is for."

Oh, Me, Oh, My

Father (arriving unexpectedly at son's rooming house at school)—"Does Mr. Jinx live here?"
Landlady—"Yes—bring him in." Flambeau.

Oh, Sailor

Mother—"What was that gob up to?"
Daughter—"He was just explaining the difference between a sloop and a smack."
Mother—"Yes, I heard the smack." Ex.

Yes?

Prof.—"What is an epigram?"
Munhall—"A funny poem on a tombstone."

What Could It Be?

She—"What are you thinking of?"
He—"The same thing you are."
She—"If you do I'll scream." Ole Miss.

Oh! You!

Psych Prof.—"Clergymen and soldiers appeal most strongly to women."
Stude—"Oh, to be an army chaplain." Tar Baby.

In the Park

Cop—"Here! Here! You can't sleep there."
Tramp—"I guess not, wid you makin' all that noise."

Henderson Sez:

The only difference between a match and a girl is that when you blow one it goes out, while when the o'her goes out you generally have to blow.

The Female of the Species

He—"May I kiss you?"
She—"Isn't that just like a man, to try to put all the responsibility on me."

LOVE

The rim is darked with vapor; on the breast
Of the pale sky hang strands of pearly dew,
Frost-chilled to star-dust silence, like a dome
Of perfumed satin canopies the world.
On such a night, Leandor braved the stream
And sank, deep-smothered, in the waves of Love.
On such a night, the touch of Egypt's lips
Poisoned an empire. Such a spirit moves
On the hushed air, as when the gold-stringed lute
Thrilled down the grumbling corridors of Hell
And waked Eurydice to short-lived bliss.
Soft arms, strange silences, and swift embrace,
And from the vined seclusion of the porch
I hear the gentle voice of Claribel:
"Say, kiddo, cut it out! my hair's a wreck." —Ex.

Saylor

Griffith—"How does a sailor come home from a home-brew party?"
Wulf—"I dunno."
Grif—"Souse by yeast." Tar Baby.

Okeh

Prof.—"Give a famous saying that a well-known general said on his retreat from the battlefields."
Sofa Serpent—"You chase me now."

Why, Bobbie!

"And why cannot I kiss you?"
"Just because."
Little Bobbie—(under swing)—"Go ahead, mister, that's what she told the other fellow last night."

I'll Say They Do

When tomatoes are growing,
They have to be bugged:
When girls are growing
They have to be—oh, well, ain't that enough?

A New One

Prof.—"Dyson, how many sexes are there?"
Dyke—"Three, sir."
Prof.—"Name them."
Harry—"Male sex, female sex, and insects."

Domestic Science

Miss Blake—"You seem to know nothing about this; how would you dress a chicken?"
Pratt Foley—"With a fur collar in summer and pumps and silk stockings in winter."
