TARS WALLOP PIEDMONT 32-0 ON SANFORD GRID

Field Is a Sea of Sand, Which Kept Tars from Piling Up Larger Score

The Rollins grid machine tore through the Piedmont College defense last Saturday with little or no effort to a 32-0 win. The Georgia boys came to Rollins slightly handicapped having played a game against the stiff Southern College outfit scarcely three days before. They had several men on the injured and sick list, men who were vitally important in their lineup. The Tars went into the game with the same snap and fight they showed against the famous Florida Gator outfit. The field was a handicap to both teams, practically every inch was loose sand three to four inches deep. Nothing but straight football was even dreamed of. End runs were stopped before they were even under way on account of the sand.

In the first quarter the Rollins Tars came down upon the Piedmont crowd with such force that they were absolutely helpless. The Tar scoring machine was an irresistible force to them. With a few short line bucks and snappy end runs on the hard end of the field the Tars had the ball within twenty yards of the opponents' line. Class, on a driving end run, tore thru the defense and played the ball over the line for the Tars. Instead of this taking the pep out of Piedmont as is usually the case the visitors came back stronger than ever. They carried the ball for several short gains and fumbled, Rollins recovering. This time it was up to the flashy half from Ohio, Toad Norman, to carry the ball over the chalk line for the Blue and Gold. For the Piedmont team to catch him was as nearly impossible as anything ever was on a gridiron. He went thru them and around them like a blue streak.

The second quarter started out with a great deal more snap and fight on the part of the visitors than did the first. They seemed to have come out of a trance and were fighting for every inch of ground they could gain. With all their fight they could not stop the tearing driving backs in the blue jerseys. They were driven back on each play without mercy. The Tars were not able to score another marker during this quarter on account of the tight playing the visitors showed.

The last half was rather loosely played by both teams. They were slowed up by the shifty field, and were tired out from the hard fast game of the first quarter. Coach Wight sent in a great many substitutions in the last half to relieve his men. Class and Seeds were relieved by Quinn and Norman. The locals showed the same driving power they had in the earlier stages of the game after the new men had been run in. They tore thru the defense of the Georgia team as though it had been so much paper. Quinn was as hard

GYMNASIUM WORK UNDER DIRECTION OF PHYSICAL DIRECTOR PROGRESSING

BASKET BALL SOON

Women's Athletics This Year
Include Many Other
Sports

In talking of the gymnasium work for the year for the women of Rollins college, Mrs. Hart, physical director, states that excellent results are being accomplished while much is expected when the basketball season arrives. War canoes will soon be out regularly on Lake Virginia getting in trim for races later in the year. Since the arrival of cooler weather the more strenuous sports are coming to the front. Swimming for beginners and more advanced students is now under way having been started at the opening of college. Interpretive dancing is, as usual, one of the most important activities under the direction of Mrs. Hart.

Swimming, war canoe practice and interpretive dancing will be carried on all year. While not compulsory, a large percentage of Rollins women will be found engaging in at least one of the activities.

Besides basketball, volley ball, baseball and track, will be featured by the physical director and her students this winter. Track will include the standing broad jump, the running broad jump, the 100 yard dash, hurdle races, if suitable hurdles can be procured, discus and javelin contests and possibly several other similar sports. Owing to the fact that Rollins is the only Florida college having

WORK ON TOMOKAN STARTED EARLY BY STAFF THIS YEAR

Plan to Have Annual in Hands of Students When College
Closes.

CO-OPERATION ASKED

Lower Class Representatives
Chosen by Editor
Thomas.

Having decided that the Tomokan can best be made a success this year by starting early, Cotton Thomas has organized his staff and is asking for co-operation on the part of the student body. The staff is anxious to complete a good deal of the preliminary work immediately and is trying to avoid the unnecessary delay which has seriously interfered with the Rollins year book in years past. The outlook for an excellent Tomokan is very good at this time, according to Editor Thomas.

Though the Tomokan has been difficult to finance in past years, it is expected that the staff will be able to make a paying proposition out of the annual this year. By a paying proposition the annual staff members mean that the book will pay for itself, without donations from private pockets. No profit is expected or desired. All that is wanted is a Tomokan, second to none, and apparently this will be produced by next spring.

Besides the junior class, the class having complete charge of the Tomokan, there have been appointed Tomokan representatives from the sophomore and freshman classes. The editor seeks to have the entire student body well represented and has taken this course to further his ends. Hardin Branch is now the chief freshman representative on the staff while Merle Weaver holds down the same position for the sophmores.

Any student having articles of any kind suitable for the Tomokan is requested to hand them to the editor or his assistants as every article of this nature will be welcomed. If not suitable for publication the staff will work it over. With co-operation along this line as well as in other ways the staff plans to turn out a Tomokan before the closing of college next June. It will be remembered that usually the Tomokan has come off the press late in July. It is the aim of the editor to have the year book in the hands of every student when he boards the train for home next June after commencement exercises. However, this will be absolutely impossible unless the entire student body gets behind the staff and pushes.

Last year's Tomokan was the result of much hard work by a very few students toward the close of the year. Those who made the annual possible deserve much credit, but it is hoped that this year the book will

BANQUET FOR VISITORS FROM GEORGIA HELD IN COMMONS SAT. EVENING

PIEDMONT ALL THERE

Coaches and Captains Talk; May Have Return Game
1924

Following the Tar victory over Piedmont in Sanford the entire college and the 20 Piedmont players and coach gathered at the Commons for a banquet. An excellent dinner preceded speeches from Rollins and Piedmont speakers. Dean Sprague acted as toastmaster.

Coach Forrester, of Piedmont congratulated the college on the good sportsmanship which was displayed to the visitors. The coach hopes to see his warriors meet the Tars again next fall at Piedmont, where the score would, according to him, be reversed. The coach said that he had never visited a college where such good treatment was given a visiting team as was given his crew at Rollins.

The Piedmont captain admitted that his team was simply outclassed when the Tar eleven appeared on the horizon. Though his team fought as hard as possible, the best team won, he said. The captain also expressed a hope that he might see Rollins on the Piedmont gridiron next year.

Sutliff, Rollins captain, praised the visitors for the hard clean game which they put up on the sea of sand at Sanford. Such games are the kind preferred by the Rollins tackle, according to his statement.

Coach Wight, also gave a talk which was well received by his audience. The coach expressed his regrets about the only incident which marred the game Saturday.

OF ROLLINS COLLEGE

All Former Students Will Be Taken Into Organization.

The officers of the local Rollins Club met last week to take up the matter of a membership campaign for the Alumni Association, which has just made provision to take in any former student of the college or academy. The association is building up the former students of the college into an organization that will be a powerful asset to their Alma Mater and the movement of the Winter Park alumni is the first step to be taken.

First copies of the new alumni publication, the Record, were distributed at the meeting, and deep appreciation was voiced by those present for the efforts of the officers of the association in providing some means of regularly keeping in touch

BEAUTIFUL SIGN

Something must be done with the "Rollins College—coeducational" sign at the corner of Park and Henkel avenues. In its present condition it is a disgrace to the college and a blot on the landscape.

What kind of an impression must such a dilapidated advertisement of Rollins make on the hundreds of tourists who pass by every day in the week? And what do the students and citizens of this city think of such a work of art? It goes without saying.

Make use of a little paint. "Save the surface and you save all," says a paint manufacturer. In this case more than a mere sign will be saved.

The circulation manager informs us that The Sandspur now goes to a large percentage of the citizens of Winter Park, and to many residents of Orlando. These people are showing an interest in Rollins when they subscribe to the college paper in this way. In return the staff will always consider these outside readers when making up The Sandspur this year. Let's have still more subscriptions.

THE TOMOKAN

To put out a Tomokan equal to any yet produced is the ambition of this year's Tomokan staff. The editor has asked for the co-operation of the student body which is certainly a very reasonable request.

With the co-operation the plans of the editor will materialize. Without it, it will be extremely difficult, if not impossible to put out any kind of an annual this year. Prepare now to stand back of the 1924 Tomokan.

SPIRIT

Piedmont put up a real fight Saturday in the game with the Tars. Of course, they were hopelessly outclassed, but they made the best of the situation. This was an exhibition of school spirit, which might be taken to heart by MANY Rollins students.

Tar and Feathers

At last some one has responded to our appeal for Sandspur copy. The following motto for the Rollins journal was found in the box in the hall—unsigned.

It can't be that Webster Haines tried to work off a grudge against the Sigma Phi girls by writing the above, because, even though he has a black eye, he got it by running against the radiator of his Buick.

Anyway this bit of verse is a masterpiece.—More wanted.

Sanford's sandy gridiron comes in for a word of praise. Previous to the Rollins-Piedmont game no citizen of the Celery City dared to venture out on this bit of land alone.

They were all afraid of getting stuck in the sand.

Without a doubt it is the worst field south of the Great Lakes.

We have nothing against Sanford, but the crowd of football fans from that city could be put in our left eye without inconvenience.

It must be said that the K. E. house party was a great success.

Plenty of eats and more going on.

Everybody got home safe—Ray!
Now is the time to buy flowers for Southern's football funeral.

CLIPPED COMMENT

How Not to Smoke

In a recent magazine article, a writer outlined what he considered the most feasible way to break the habit of smoking. His suggestion is unique, and sounds a little more plausible than the much-abused inspirational resolution, made in the heat of the moment, in which one rather dramatically promises oneself never to touch tobacco again, and of the brain in preference to that of the will. He describes the achievement of breaking the habit as one requiring serious thought even more than will power. He believes that temptation may be beaten more easily by outwitting it than by blindly struggling with it.

He claims that a large majority of men who smoke sincerely believe they can stop, and can't, but more because they don't know how than because they lack the will. Their failure, he claims, is due to the fact that, while they think they want to quit, down deep they desire nothing of the kind, or at least fail to convince themselves that they do.

He therefore suggests that one analyze oneself inwardly, and deliberately weigh and reflect. If, after a scientific search of his condition, one still finds that he wants to stop, he should then proceed slowly and carefully carries on the good work for about two days.

This writer advocates the exercise fully,—not all in one grand jump—and quit by degrees.

He offers some helpful suggestions also, concerning the means of getting one's mind off the thoughts of tobacco, but his main point is that tobacco should be dealt with by strategy rather than by blind force, for, he says this blind force almost invariably finds itself whipped.—Columbia Missourian.

K. E. HOUSE PARTY

"All's well that ends well," and that can be said with truth about the K. E. house party at Bumby's Camp, which began Friday, Oct. 26th, and ended—well, when did it end for each one individually? Who is going to say?

The main ideas seemed to be to eat, drink, and be merry, and everyone did his best to live up to these requirements.

When the boys came out Saturday night, they were most enthusiastically initiated into the fraternity Tau Tau Tau, also into the shoes and boots club. It is hoped that they appreciated the honors thus bestowed upon them.

Special instructions were given in mah ping and many of the fair damsels took their morning exercise in the cold depths of Lake Butler.

Sunday night the boys came out again and ate supper by the waning camp fire—after that—well—the moon rose over the lake, row boats were afloat (empty of course), many swinging down the lane and what not. Anyhow the crowd managed to collect in time to reluctantly journey home-ward. Them moon—those food—and that people! !

DANCE

Eta Beta Pi fraternity announces an informal invitation dance to be held in the dining hall on November 12. Particulars will appear in the next issue of The Sandspur.

College Comment

It has been rumored that a "feed" reigned supreme in the Sigma Phi Department Monday night.

Initiation is now in order for the Tau Tau Tau Fraternity. Don't rush! One at a time please! For full particulars see Margaret McKay.

Marcia Converse spent the week-end in Frostproof.

Who said the Rollins Tars crowd is the only football team in seven counties? The Tarettes played a game in Cloverleaf Monday night, which was by all means a most spectacular game. Just ask Fannie and Dickie who made the first touchdown.

From all reports the golf enrollment has been very small this week. If the price for the lessons is too high try the correspondence course, sez Dutch Class.

Everybody feels so sorry for the dear little Freshmen—they didn't get to have their picnic after all. Cheerio! The year is yet young.

It has been noticed that Coach Wight has recently become a very efficient canoeist and many wonder who his fair instructor is.

Cloverleaf wonders who the young swain in Chase Hall is that answers to the name of "Tony," the Dago.

Dickie and Billie have sworn off betting along any line whatsoever and forever more.

Billie and Dickie attended the Florida-Wake Forest game at Tampa last Saturday and spent the week-end at Billie's home in St. Petersburg.

Ask a certain girl in Cloverleaf if "preoccupied" is a disease or just a sensation. If she doesn't know ask Phil Reece.

Experience is the best teacher. Someone around here has discovered that one handed driving isn't so easy after all.

Born in Lennep, Prussia. Educated at Zurich. Awarded the Rumford Medal of the Royal Society in 1896 jointly with Philip Lenard for discovery of X-rays. Won the Nobel Prize in physics in 1901.

"I did not think—I investigated"

One day in 1895, Roentgen noticed that a cardboard coated with fluorescent material glowed while a nearby Pluecker tube was in action. "What did you think?" an English scientist asked him. "I did not think; I investigated," was the reply.

Roentgen covered the tube with black paper. Still the cardboard glowed. He took photographs through a pine door and discovered on them a white band corresponding to the lead beading on the door. His investigation led to the discovery of X-rays.

Roentgen's rays have proved an inestimable boon to humanity. In the hands of doctor and surgeon they are saving life and reducing suffering. In the hands of the scientist they are yielding new knowledge—even of the arrangement and structure of atoms. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have contributed greatly to these ends by developing more powerful and efficacious X-ray tubes.

The General Electric Company manufactures everything electric—from fans to powerful locomotives, from tiny lamps to mighty power plants. Its products are used around the world.

COLLEGE COMMENT

Herb Thayer enjoyed his ride back from the K. E. house-party. Herb always did prefer the back seat.

A big truck brought back some of the wayward Rollinites, Sunday night from Lake Butler. Weaver and McCown were very much present.

Blinker Draa is said to have had a date all of his own, Sunday night. No particulars are known, yet.

Ray Greene spent the first part of the week in Jacksonville.

At the Tau Tau Tau iniation, Paul Potter was asked whom he loved most "It is very obvious," replied Paul and the judges agreed with him.

Thomas Quinn is not selling reservations for the special Rollins sight seeing trip on the Dinkey, according to his statement. The excursion has been postponed another week and Haggerty is the man to see for tickets.

Two fires in the city within ten minutes caused an adjournment of the philosophy class this week. Both were extinguished before the intellectuals arrived.

Chas. Spross has invented a private lunch kit which fits the pocket but which still contains a complete meal ready for eating at all times.

Such scandal as came out in Tau Tau Tau iniation has never been equaled in Rollins history. Ask Ray Colado, Bob Wilson or Hardin Branch.

Eva Missildine was chief hash slinger and kitchen police. So far all attending the house-party are in good health.

Anne Hall fished all day and finally caught six baby minnows, but the "poor little things" were so homesick for their mama that Ann's better nature got the better of her and she threw 'em back.

Little Dolly Darrow and Helen McKay ditched off Saturday night to see the big elephants and bears, n'everything at the circus.

Jimmie and Margaret are planning to go out for track this year. They have their track suits and everything. All they need is an automobile in back of them for inspiration.

Ginny and Maggie became so backwoodish at the camp that they were frightened at the sight of an automobile.

Fay (after eating a meal of Eva's cooking)—"If I die, Chiquita, bury me in 'Potter's' field."

Speaking of alarm clocks—Dolly can give full information as to how they sound at 5 a. m., but she can't tell anything about who set them.

Weber Haines has a fatal attraction for candy shops. Again and again he is drawn to them, but never in them.

Ask Dickey whose picture was on top of the wedding cake she slept on that night. The rats ate the cake but found the picture indigestible.

Rudolph Valentino and Ramon Navarro have nothing on Jimmy and Allen Bartlett. For more dope refer to "Las Senoritas" Hilda and Silvia.

'S strange where the key to the boathouse went last Saturday night.

Jim and Al were in Tampa Saturday on business and attended the football game there.

Prof. Mabry doesn't want it made public but he intends to sing, "The Bullfrog on the Bank," at the next banquet.

"I don't mind shining shoes much but I sure do hate to paint those canoes of Parkers," sez Red Williams.

Information is wanted as to whereabouts of Coach Wight on his recent trips to Sanford in golf regalia.

Ample reward—Phoebe.

Coach and Guy have not been fishing lately. Bathing suits must be scarce.

Mr. Chandler, the unfortunate room-mate of Ray Moore, spent a pleasant week end in Jacksonville and had a little dip in the surf at Daytona on his way back.

University of Florida debaters are preparing for a big season. Debates with Tennessee, South Carolina and Louisiana State University may be followed by a debate with Vanderbilt, Texas or Northwestern.

Southern is feeling elated over football prospects, having defeated Stetson 14 to 13 and Piedmont 33 to 0. Rollins beat the same Piedmont eleven 32 to 0.

Stetson's newspaper, the Collegiate Weekly, is putting on a drive for subscriptions.

Fraternities and sororities at Stetson university have finished the rushing season there.

A ferocious battle will take place on November 3 in DeLand when Southern plays a return game with the Hatters. Stetson is out for revenge.

NEW FRATERNITY FOR ROLLINS ORGANIZED

The Eta Beta Pi, Professional Fraternity, has recently been founded at Rollins College. The charter members are Curt Atkisson, Walter Johnston, Herb Thayer, Aaron Shreve, John Scott, Hardin Branch, and Ted Carroll. Great Things are to be expected of this new frat. It will undoubtedly make famous a place on the campus hitherto unpraised.

HATTER GRID MEN WILL MEET 'GATORS TOMORROW

According to several state papers Florida will play Stetson in DeLand tomorrow afternoon. The game is expected to draw quite a crowd from Rollins as many local fans wonder just how bad the 'Gators will hand it to the Hatters. If Florida sends the same men that defeated Rollins against the DeLand gridders, an overwhelming victory is bound to result unless Stetson has improved remarkably in the last two weeks. No one at Stetson has any idea of holding the 'Gator outfit to a very low score, but tomorrow will tell the tale.

Rollins is wishing Stetson the best of luck. Go to it Hatters!

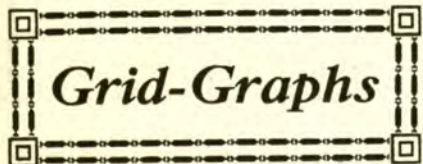

BASKET BALL SEASON WILL SOON BE HERE

The basket ball season is fast approaching at this time which has been responsible for a great showing of interest on the part of several old players here. With Rollins having prospects for a basket ball team fully the equal of the football eleven which is at present in the limelight, it is time for some action to be taken about basket ball.

Funds for starting the basket ball season will have to be raised by the students this year beyond a doubt. Not much is needed, but the funds available for basket ball are not sufficient to start the season.

A manager for the basket ball team must be elected soon. Basket men want a manager who will be able to handle his men at all times.

The backing of the college is sought by the players who want to keep Rollins before the state all winter by means of a champion basket ball combination.

The Tars rather blackened the Orange of Piedmont last Saturday.

The Georgians will not soon forget the way the Blue tore thru their line and around their ends.

Piedmont put up a fighting game, but they simply couldn't stop Dutch or Ray. Seeds, Thomas, Quinn and Norman were almost sure ground gainers too.

Our line showed the effects of last week's workouts in the way they outcharged the Orange. They showed a big improvement over the Gator game.

Coach seems to have made a wise move in shifting Warner to guard on the offense and moving Colado out to tackle.

Em was in the game at tackle but he was handicapped by being sick. He showed his usual hard fighting spirit and should be in good condition for the Southern game.

Pete Lenney at end, receives the laurel wreath for his magnificent work in completing the one successful pass of the game. Nineteen for Mr. Lenney!

Zip Hagerty, the Maryland whirlwind, as usual captured the majority of the tackles, throwing the Piedmont backfield for repeated losses.

The whole team was handicapped by the knee deep sand and it is hoped that the field will be in better condition if another game is every played in Sanford.

The coming two weeks will be spent in priming the Tars for the Southern game.

Coach expects a hard game and is not going to lose any time. Hard work will be in order for the boys for the next few days.

The new field will be in shape for the twelfth and the Rollins students will get their first chance for some real organized rooting.

ROLLINS ALUMNI PLAN EXCURSION TO HAVANA

The following associated press dispatch in regard to a trip to Havana for the Rollins-Havana football game throws some light on the much talked of excursion:

WINTER PARK—The alumni association of Rollins College through its headquarters here announced a tentative arrangement for the first part of December to witness the annual game between the University of Havana, and the local football team of Rollins College. Details of the plan, the officers stated will be given out later. The Tars played the Cubans in Miami last year, and ran up a score of 80 to 0.

EXCHANGES ARRIVE FROM ALL OVER U. S.

Sandspur Receives Many College Publications and State Papers.

Over 80 exchanges are received every week by the Sandspur now. Every week college and high school papers from Washington to Maine and back again to Arizona are received at the Sandspur office. The only college daily received is the Daily Cardinal from the University of Wisconsin. The Blue and Gold of Marist College of Atlanta, is the only monthly with the exception of several state high school papers. The remainder are weekly papers, with a number of semi-weekly ones included. The pepiest noticed lately comes from way out west—the Sagebrush, of the University of Nevada.

The staff plans to leave a supply of the exchanges in the library every week for the benefit of students interested in other colleges. An exchange column as an adjunct to The Sandspur will be carried for those too lazy to read the papers in the library.

The exchange list will be published in a later issue of The Sandspur, being incomplete as yet.

The machine was developed by students at the University of Chicago.

The Mercer University Cluster has elected George Sparks, Jr., as its mascot. George is one month old and in an interview said that he intends to wear a Mercer Frosh cap in 1940. He accepted his new duties gracefully, and will do all that he can to help the college along.

John Hopkins has enlarged its new Gilman Hall parking space for automobiles. The new space will be 200 feet long by 20 feet wide, paved with cinders. The increasing number of automobiles at the university has caused the enlargement.

Dr. Whitman, of the University of Colorado, was interviewed recently by a co-ed reporter of the Silver and Gold. Although the reporter was nervous, since this was her first assignment, she managed to blurt out, "Doctor, what is your opinion of kissing?"

The doctor was stunned, but quickly rallied, and answered, "From the viewpoint of one of the medical profession, I cannot answer your question. But if you want the honest opinion of a human being and not a medical dissertation on the subject, I am heartily in favor of it."

The sudden entrance of Mrs. Whitman abruptly terminated the interview.

Instead of costing points to cut classes at the Woman's College of Alabama it cost the cold cash. The following faculty rules were published in a recent copy of the Wo-Co-Ala News:

1. Absence from a test, due to any cause will necessitate the payment of one dollar.
2. Absence from examinations, two dollars.
3. Two dollars per day will be charged for each day the student leaves before the appointed day for the holidays to begin and for each day after the termination of the holiday period.

Keeping permanent records of Mercer's various college songs, by having them recorded phonographically, is being tried there, according to The Emory Wheel.

Twenty-five different athletic sports are in vogue at the University of Wisconsin and 4,200 men took part in them last year.

The University of Michigan boasts of two blind men on its faculty.

to stop as a race horse. He hit the line with such power the Piedmont line seemed to melt and make way for him. Quinn and Colado were both responsible for another marker during the course of the game. This ran the total to five with two points after touchdown made, counting thirty-two in all. The last half was a dragged-out affair at best. Both teams were worn down from the hard running in soft sand.

experiences of a football player calling on an inhabitant of Cloverleaf, was given by Miss Crabb, of Orlando.

Some comment on the unusual color of the Piedmont football outfits worn on the field was made by the Dean, during the evening. They were exactly the color of Georgia clay.

After the banquet the Piedmont men started on a boat ride on the lakes, but the lack of oars for the whale boats forced them to abandon their plans. The canoes were locked up and the key to the boathouse door could not be found. The grid-ders retired to Cloverleaf, for the evening, when the boat ride was abandoned. Music and dancing finished the evening.

with the college, and their fellows in class. The dues of the association have been raised from $1 to $2 in order to provide for a subscription to the Record.

Copy for the November Record is now in the hands of the printer, and the magazine will probably be off the press about the end of this week. Fifteen hundred copies are being sent out to the former students so that they may see what the Record looks like. It is believed that the memberships will be rolling in quite fast during the next month, and if the response is what is anticipated the alumni will have no trouble in keeping the Record going. It cannot be run on charity, and therefore must have a large number of subscribers in order to attract paying advertising.

Send in $2 to F. H. Ward, Winter Park, Florida.

ALUMNI RECORD NOW IN HANDS OF ALUMNI

The first issue of the Rollins Alumni Record is off the press and hundreds have been sent to subscribers among the alumni of the college. Quite a force of workers has been kept busy mailing the magazine. The Rollins Press, publishers of The Sandspur and the Journal of the Florida Education Association, also publish the Alumni Record. The circulation of the new magazine is increasing steadily, though no drive for subscriptions has yet been instituted.

DRAMA PLAYERS OF KISSIMMEE COMING AGAIN
In a New Play

The Drama Players, Kissimmee's clever dramatic organization, which was so enthusiastically received at the high school auditorium when they presented "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" a few weeks ago, will play a return engagement Friday night of next week, November 9th, sponsored by the American Legion, with an entire change of program, the vehicle this time being a much heavier production, entitled "The Port of Missing Men," in four acts, with several capable members in the cast who did not appear in the earlier play. This play is entirely out of the ordinary and has very seldom been attempted in home dramatic circles; the original production was given in New York where it scored one of the most pronounced hits of recent years, with a hundred performances on Broadway to its credit; it is delightfully pure and wholesome, with every element of the modern success—a fascinating plot, a dainty little love story and an irresistible vein of laughing material.

The Drama Players not only render a highly artistic portrayal of the play but have mounted it with a wealth of beautiful special scenery. "Flotsam," the leading feminine role, a study in light and shade, willful and spiteful though noble and brave with a dash of quaint humor is assayed by Miss Dot Makinson, with Mrs. H. Nelson Makinson as "Mrs. Elmer," a social leader who sacrifices ambition to the happiness of others. Mr. Allison T. French, who will be remembered as "Uncle George" in the "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" production, will appear in a difficult dual role depicting the true type of an American gentleman, "Edward Elmer," and "Ben Cook," an old sea dog who proposes to "Cousin Simonson" thirty-four times and then stops short just before the thirty-fifth. "Joey Clark," a young fisherman is entrusted to the capable hands of Mr. S. M. Richard, while Messrs. Thos. A. Cason and Hunter Dillard appear in minor though important roles. Mr. Triplett, who directs the Drama Players, is afforded great opportunity as Captain Amos Barton as is Mrs. Triplett in the role "Cousin Simonson."

A superb concert orchestra under direction of Mrs. George Gardner, will accompany the production. The players are again brought to Winter Park as a "benefit" for the High School library fund. An advertisement elsewhere in this issue supplies further details.

After the performance of "The Port of Missing Men," by the Kissimmee Drama Players, Friday night of next week, Mr. and Mrs. Triplett will be "loaned" to the Parent-Teachers Association of Winter Park for a brief period and under its auspices will stage one program with Winter Park talent. Young ladies and young gentlemen between the ages of sixteen and thirty who may desire to receive a two weeks course of intense training in dramatic art, at a cost of only work and sincere application during the period are invited to communicate immediately with Prof. S. W. Cason, principal of the public schools.

SYSTEM FOR CLASS
AND CHAPPEL ABSENCES IS ANNOUNCED

The plan for regulating absences from classes and chapel this year has been announced by the faculty board for the benefit of the students, although the regulations have been in effect since the opening of college in September. They are practically the same as last year. They follow:

Deductions From Grades For Class and Chapel Absences
Class Cuts

As many unexcused cuts are allowed in each course per semester as there are recitations per week in the course.

Scale of Deductions from the Semester Marks

- In a 5 hour course each over cut—2 off.
- In a 3 hour course each over cut—3 off.
- In a 2 hour course each over cut—5 off.
- In a 1 hour course each over cut—10 off.

Chapel Cuts

Five unexcused cuts are permitted each semester, but not more than two cuts in any one month. Each unexcused overcut of chapel will cause deduction of one point from semester grade in all courses.

SUITS

We handle a nice line of Fit-Form Clothing. Stylish Suits that can't be beat for looks, or wear, either.

Irate Citizen (from his bedroom window)—"Say, you down there, who are you talking to?"

Intoxicated Romeo—"Nobody 'n particular. I'm jesh broadcashtin'." —Awgwan.

Ig—Did you see where a fellow went 65 days without a bath?

Natz—No. I never read dirty jokes.—Leatherneck.

Father—I can't understand your objection to marrying Helen—she's got lots of good points.

Son—That's just it, she looks like a hat rack in a bathing suit.

Madam (to applicant for position): "I must have a man with a good character and he must be honest. Have you ever taken anything?"

Applicant: "No, madam, I worked in a bath-house for twelve years and never took a bath."

He (hopefully):—"Wouldn't you rather look at me than the stars?"

She—"Yes, if you were as far away as they are."

Leon—Mother, am I descended from a monkey?

Mother—Raymond, how many times must I tell you that I don't know your father's people.

Joke Editor, to assistant—Where are the jokes for this issue?

Assistant—I sent them to the dry cleaners.

Atkisson—There's a town in Massachusetts named after you.

Weber—Which one?

Atkisson—Marblehead.

women's athletics on a large scale the games and sports will necessarily be inter-class affairs.

Every woman student will be eligible for every team, according to the rulings. When a position on a team is secured a certain number of points will be awarded. A definite number of points, not yet determined, will mean a letter for the lucky athlete. However, in order to get a letter a girl will be required to make more than one team.

Women having postural defects are compelled to take corrective gymnastics this year.

"Hiawatha," will be presented this year again by the glee club and aesthetic dancing classes. This opera was well received by the public and college last year, and will be repeated for this reason. The aesthetic dancing classes will also present a program of dances typical of the nations.

A recent ruling that women must be able to swim 50 feet before the canoes will be available for their use, has stimulated considerable interest in the swimming classes.

ORLANDO SCOUTS MEET AS PLANNED LAST WEEK

When the Boy Scouts Court of Honor convened in the Court House in Orlando Friday evening, more than one hundred Scouts were on hand to take the tests required for advancement.

Judge Cheney with his usual dignity called the Court to order after the Scouts had pledged their allegiance to the flag.

The most impressive feature of the Court was the presentation of Eagle Badges to G. B. Knight and James B. Godfrey by Karl Lehmann, National Scout Commissioner.

PICNIC GROUNDS ON ISLAND IS NEEDED

It has been suggested that the city of Winter Park clear the small island in Lake Maitland at the earliest possible moment in order to provide a rather unusual spot for picnics. At the present time a landing on this island cannot be made because of the heavy growth of trees, shrubs and vines. Action on the part of the city authorities is awaited anxiously by Rollins students.

Picnic grounds are not as numerous in the vicinity of the Winter Park lakes as is commonly thought by the uninitiated. It is necessary to make frequent use of the axe and grubbing hoe in order to keep such grounds in shape in a climate where plants grow the year 'round. Those who suggest that the small island be used for this purpose have proved that it will make an ideal spot for picnics.

"Do it now and don't just talk about it for five years," is their motto.
