The Tar football warriors, accompanied by the basket ball squad and Captain Thompson, tennis star who will play the University of Havana's champion net artist, left Winter Park early Thursday morning at 3 o'clock for Tampa where they set sail for Cuba at 3.15 P. M. Given a noisy send-off on the preceding evening, the Tars started on their Christmas journey to the Island Republic with the best wishes of the entire college. Blue and Gold went with the football. Dozens of student followers of the team. The steamship "Cuba" with its Rollins cargo is scheduled to arrive in Havana harbor Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Wight's gridders will stay in Cuba 12 days, according to present plans. Three football games have been arranged by the football manager instead of only one with the University of Havana. On the twenty-third the Tars will grapple with the Cuban National Police football team. On Christmas day the big game with the University of Havana will take place before what is expected to be a record breaking crowd for the City of Palms. This is the biggest and most important game for the Tars. On the thirtieth the Rollins team will meet the Cuban athletic club for a grid struggle.

The football men making the Havana trip are: Emery, Lenny, Sutliff, Donaldson, La Froos, Seeds, Wilson, Quinn, Thomas, Parker, Shoemith, G. Colado, R. Colado, Warner, Vickers and Manager Lloyd. Coach McQuillan of Lakeland, will go along as an official.

RADIO BROADCASTING STATION FOR ROLLINS WILL SOON BE READY

If everything goes as scheduled, the Rollins radio broadcasting station will send out its initial program on January third when the first of the lectures by Dr. Richard Burton, America's leading literary professor and critic, will be broadcasted to the world through the ether.

Students and members of the faculty are donating to the radio fund, and the broadcasting equipment will be purchased with the money raised. A dollar from every student with additions from the faculty and several other interested parties will cover the cost, in the opinion of Professor Weinberg, who is in charge of the movement.

"There is no reason why thousands of people all over the United States should not hear the lectures, music and other things of interest which Rollins enjoys," said Professor Weinberg in chapel while asking for student and college support in his venture. "The University of Florida is broadcasting all the time—why not Rollins?" The Burton lectures to—

BASKETBALLERS GO WITH GRIDDERS ON CUBAN TRIP

Not satisfied with meeting just the football team, the University of Havana cabled the Rollins basketball manager this week asking for a game in Havana with the crack Tar quintet following the football game on Christmas day. No definite date has been set for the basketball game, but it is certain that the Tar tossers will not take on the Havana basketeers until at least the twenty-seventh of December. After this first game with the university, the Tar quintet will probably play two or three other Cuban basketball teams.

Interest in basketball practice took a sudden jump at the gym when it was learned that Havana wanted to see the Rollins basket squad turn out on the Havana floor. New men turned up in large numbers. The squad making the trip will be made up of football men with the exception of Walter Johnson and Ted Carroll. These two players had no equal among the football men and were picked for the Havana journey as a result.

After coming back from Cuba the local basketballers will have a heavy schedule waiting. Twenty-three tentative games are on the schedule of Manager Johnston. The trip down the east coast is practically certain and every day a letter reaches his office asking for a game with the Tars on their barnstorming trip. Negotiations with the University of Florida are still being carried on at the present time.

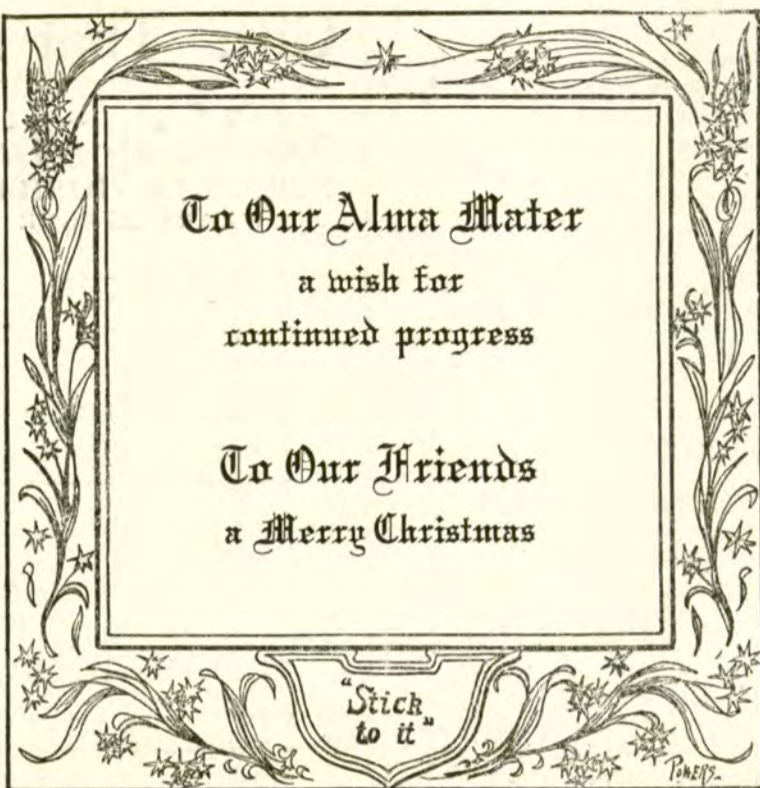

Though the Tars expect to win the football games in Cuba without much trouble, the basketball outlook is not quite so bright. The locals are more or less handicapped by lack of practice, and the Cubans have always been known for turning out fast cagers.

FROSH TROUNCE SOPH TALKERS IN DEBATE ON GERMAN WAR DEBT

Upholding the negative side of the question, Resolved: that France is justified in forcing Germany to pay reparations, the freshman debating team defeated the sophomores at the meeting of Delphic Literary society Wednesday night.

Germany is unable to pay the full amount of reparations at the present time and in her present condition, but would be able to fulfill all obligations if France would take her iron heel from off the neck of Germany, according to the freshman winners. They held that France's invasion of the Ruhr is endangering the peace of the world and will prevent the carrying out of the Versailles treaty. Germany's course in France after the Franco-Prussian war was far from being as cruel and unprovoked as are the present French tactics in Germany, said one of the frosh orators.

Holding that Germany is both legally and morally bound to make reparations to the French, the sophomore team justified the use of force

STUDENT SERIOUSLY HURT IN CAR SMASH

While returning from Orlando last Saturday evening in the rain with Lionel Starbird, of Apopka, Dorothy Grey, Rollins student, was seriously injured and Starbird somewhat cut by broken glass when the car, a Cadillac, turned completely over after skidding on the wet pavement.

After rounding the last curve before reaching Winter Park Starbird turned too sharply after passing a car ahead, and when the rear wheels skidded, lost control of his car, which completely reversed its direction, left the road, and striking the sand, turned over, according to those who saw the accident.

Both occupants were pinned beneath the car, but Starbird managed

TOMOKAN WILL START BIG BEAUTY CONTEST

After Christmas vacation the Tomokan staff will start a beauty contest on the local campus to determine the most beautiful girl at Rollins. Whether the contest will be decided by a regular vote of the student body, each student having one vote, or by selling an unlimited number of votes at five cents each, proceeds to go to the Tomokan fund, is yet to be determined. From the seven leading candidates, three or four girls will be picked by the Tomokan staff, sitting as judges, as sponsors to the different athletic activities.

The staff is starting the contest to arouse interest on the part of the students in the Tomokan and also to

LEHMANN TALKS TO LOCAL JOURNALISTS

"Getting the Facts," was the subject of the address by Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Orange county chamber of commerce and editor of Orange Echoes, at the meeting of the classes in journalism last Thursday, while L. L. Bonner, city editor of the Orlando Morning Sentinel, talked on his experiences in the newspaper field.

"A newspaper man should be well thought of in his community, due to the fact that his work is of such vital and far-reaching importance and influence," said Mr. Lehmann by way of introduction. His discussion of the various types of journalism followed. Good publicity work must always emphasize the good things about the subject in question, said the speaker.

ORCHESTRA FAVORED 6 TO 1 IN ELECTION

The question of whether or not the college orchestra should continue to play at chapel was voted upon by the student body Monday morning, the results showing an overwhelming majority in favor of keeping the orchestra. Six votes in favor of the orchestra to 1 favoring the organ was the final average for the total number of ballots cast. Only twelve students expressed a lack of interest in the matter, these few voting in favor of any kind of music wanted by the chapel committee.

As a result of the election the Dean announced that the college will keep the orchestra for chapel music. An agreement between the faculty and

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Beginning tomorrow Rollins will start to enjoy eleven days of Christmas vacation. A good many students have already sailed for Cuba with the football and basketball teams, others have left for their homes in Florida or in northern states, some remain on the campus. To all The Sandspur extends Christmas greetings.

This break in the regular routine of college life is a good thing for all concerned—faculty as well as students. Studies should be forgotten during the vacation period while the attention is turned to other things. The old plan of attempting to catch up with some course over the holidays is a bad one to adopt. Let the books rest for a while—you will be able to study all the harder after a complete rest. But don't prolong the vacation into the new year. Remember that the time for resting ends on January second when college reopens.

Meanwhile, take the old-fashioned Christmas spirit with you where ever you go. Spread cheer and good will. Once again we wish you a MERRY CHRISTMAS—and a HAPPY NEW YEAR!

FLORIDA'S COLLEGE

PRESS ASSOCIATION

With only five college papers in Florida, the Florida Collegiate Press Association should have a one hundred per cent active membership. As far as we know all five papers, The Southern, Florida Alligator, Stetson Collegiate Weekly, Florida Flambeau and The Rollins Sandspur, are members of the association, but not one is really an active member. The Sandspur is in the same position as the rest in this respect.

At the meeting of the association last year, it was decided that the next convention would be held in Lakeland in 1924. Unfortunately, Stetson and the University of Florida did not send representatives, but this was due partly to the fact that the meet was called in a hurry. All five will be represented this year, are we right, Florida and Stetson?

The editor of The Sandspur was elected secretary of the association for this year at the meeting last spring. Suggestions as to when the big 1924 CONVENTION should be held will be welcome. Remember, the meeting should be held as soon after Christmas vacation as possible. Nothing will be accomplished if it is postponed until the end of the college year.

How about it, fellow editors?

BURTON LECTURES

Students are urged by the Dean and faculty to attend as many of the Burton lectures, which begin January third, as possible. Dr. Burton is the leading literary professor and critic in America. Aside from the fact that a one-semester credit will be given for turning in notes on the lectures, students will profit immeasurably just by hearing Dr. Burton talk. Let's have a large percentage of the students there on the third and at the lectures thereafter.

WATER SPORTS

Southern college is becoming more and more interested in water sports, especially in canoes and a canoe club is being organized among the students, according to the last issue of The Southern. Recently at a "canoe tag day" the people of Lakeland gave $250 to help the organizers of the canoe movement. Incidentally, they gave more than money; they proved that they are interested in aquatic activities and want their college to excel in these lines. "One of the best canoe clubs in the South," is what our neighbors are after, and no doubt they will be successful. Good luck, Southern.

All of which makes us wonder why Rollins doesn't follow Southern's example to some extent. It must be admitted that interest in water sports on the local campus is far from what it should be. Students are indifferent, to say the least, and though the boat-house is well provided with canoes, they are seldom used except on Sunday afternoons. Even then they are not used enough. Such a thing as a canoe club is practically unthought of. Why! We often wonder. Rollins is known everywhere for her water sports sports. It seems that we might at least try to live up to our reputation. A real interest in aquatics here would provide a great deal of healthful outdoor recreation and bring direct benefits to all the participants in the sports, not to mention the favorable advertising which the college would receive.

TOMORROW SEES OPENING

OF CHRISTMAS VACATION

Christmas vacation begins tomorrow, December 22, and continues until January 2 when college reopens. Most of the students are leaving for the holidays and few will be found on the campus. The Commons will close during vacation. Those remaining will have to patronize local restaurants until the dining room once more opens its doors on the first or second of January.

MISS KNOWLTON RE-TURNS FROM CUBA

Miss Jean Knowlton, soprano, who has sung her way from Florida to Oregon, and Mrs. Christine Hayward, head of the Rollins Conservatory, have returned from Havana where they were enthusiastically received by the Cuban music world. Besides a professional success, they were delightfully entertained in Cuban society and return with an enthusiastic account of their reception there.

Miss Knowlton and Mrs. Hayward arranged the concert dates for early in December in order to be in Cuba when the Rollins football team met the University of Havana, but the game was postponed after Miss Knowlton's concert dates had been arranged which made it impossible to change.

"We were charmed by Havana itself as well as by the group of people who did much for our entertainment," said Miss Knowlton in talking of her Havana trip. Miss Knowlton is especially interested in everything Spanish and found the Spanish atmosphere of Havana very fascinating. Miss Knowlton and Mrs. Hayward were entertained by people who have resided for a long time in Havana and who gave them as much as possible of Cuban life, visiting out of the way shops, narrow streets, and introducing them to Cuban and American society. They were especially delighted with the very beautiful country club where they were entertained by their Havana friends.

Says the Havana Post: "Miss Jean Knowlton, who appeared in costume song recital at the Conservatory yesterday afternoon, won the admiration of her audience. From the moment she stepped on the stage in her quaint mid-Victorian costume, to the final number, in which she appeared as a charming senorita, glowing tributes were paid her for the excellent rendition of her varied program.

"In response to enthusiastic applause following a group of Spanish songs, Miss Knowlton sang "La Partida," with expression that indicated exceptional versatility. She is gifted not only with a beautiful voice that has been well trained, but also dramatic instinct and a charming personality.

"The excellent piano accompaniment of Mrs. Christine Hayward was a very enjoyable feature of the program. It is seldom that a more perfect accompaniment is heard."

PHI ALPHA PICNIC

Well loaded with Phi Alphas and guests, the "Kangaroo," largest of the college whale boats, departed over the waves Friday afternoon bound for Shaffer's landing on the northeast shore of Lake Maitland, but owing to various difficulties encountered on the way, the party did not actually arrive at its destination until an hour after dark. A small motor boat had the whaler in tow. Steak was broiling soon after the belated sailors stepped ashore, and with the addition of quantities of other "eats," the picnic really began.

A victrola added to the gaiety of the party all during the evening. Mistletoe appeared after several of the brethren had scoured the surrounding woods.

Guests of Phi Alpha were: Anne Hall, Ada McKay, Emily Lippincott, Frances Montgomery, Margaret McKay, Eva Missildine, Emily Petticord, Annabeth Wilson, Virginia Davis, Edna Wallace, Helen Dickenson and Mr. and Mrs. Blackman.

CHRISTMAS VESPERS
TAKE PLACE SUNDAY

The Christmas Vesper services were held Sunday afternoon as planned, though, as the time was changed from five o'clock to four o'clock without a general notice, dozens of people arrived after everything was over. Dean Sprague discussed the conditions existing in the world before the coming of Christ. A spiritual people and a language capable of expressing great religious truths were essential before the Christian religion could be revealed to the world, he said. The Hebrews developed into such a people owing to the natural conditions surrounding them, while the Greeks furnished the Greek language which bears the vehicle for spreading Christianity over Europe. The glee clubs and faculty string quartette gave several musical numbers.

create a little excitement on the campus, according to the announcement of Editor Thomas. Pictures of the winners will of course be found in the Tomokan. Whether or not the results of the voting will be made public before the arrival of the 1924 Tomokan is not yet known. The selections of the judges will be published in The Sandspur, if the Tomokan staff permits.

Plans for a popularity contest in connection with the beauty contest are being considered by the editor and his staff at the present time. The most popular, wittiest, best all around man or woman, etc., will be selected by a vote of the student body, he says. Details will be announced early in January, according to Thomas.

the student musicians is being made which will keep them satisfied with their daily job. "The entire student body is behind them and I believe the musicians will continue to play in chapel," was the statement of a faculty member after the election. An occasional variation in chapel music is planned when Mrs. Hayward will play the organ, but on at least four days a week the orchestra will hold forth.

TRAIN LEAVES TRACK
NEAR COLLEGE; TARS
GIVE VALUABLE AID

The south-bound Tampa special left the track near Altamonte Springs late Monday afternoon due to defective rails, and many Rollins students quickly hurried to the scene of the disaster. The engine, baggage car and three day coaches turned over on their side, but the five steel Pullman cars remained on the track. Only two passengers were injured and neither seriously. A sand bank saved the train from being completely wrecked.

Ray Greene assisted in removing the passengers from the coaches. The Tar football squad arrived on the scene soon after the wreck and gave valuable assistance. Winter Park doctors were called upon to assist, but it was quickly discovered that there were only two injuries.

to crawl forth. Assistance from the car following came immediately, passers-by were called into service, the car lifted and Miss Grey taken from the wreck unconscious. She was taken to the Florida sanitarium where it was at first thought she suffered from concussion of the brain. It was later discovered that her injuries were limited to very severe bruises. Starbird lost much blood from a severed artery in his wrist, but otherwise was not much hurt.

"Dot," as she is universally known on the campus, is at present out of danger and on the road to recovery. According to Wednesday's report she will be out of the hospital in a very few days. Starbird is fully recovered, according to all available information.

Shortly after the wreck one of the rescuers had a severe attack of heart trouble due to over-exertion.

ROLLINS TENNIS TEAM SWAMPS ORLANDO CREW

Mebane is Only Orlando Man to Win Match in Net Contest.

Tuesday afternoon and evening on the courts at the Orlando country club, the crack Rollins college tennis team, composed of Captain Tommy Thompson, Bill Hickey, George Seeds and Cotton Thomas, ran away with their meet with the second team of the City Beautiful, winning four matches to one with one match unplayed. Representing Orlando were Jack Boucher, Frank Mebane, Duane Hadsell and Carl Crawford, and Frank Mebane was the only one to come through with a victory, although Hadsell, who was to have played Hickey, was expected to win. This match was called at a late hour.

All the matches were close and hard fought, but the Rollins netters just had a few surprises up their sleeves. Cotton Thomas was really the star of the meet. Orlando had counted on taking both his singles, and paired with Hickey, his doubles, but were surprised at the work of the Rollins lad. Thomas met Carl Crawford, the best of the new players in Orlando, and won after a hard fought three set match, the score being 6-3, 7-9, 6-4.

Captain Thompson had his hands full when he met Jack Boucher, for the Orlando man was on the jump at all times and forced Tommy to two seven-five sets before the match was over. Boucher has developed a mean backhand, and is steadily improving his game.

Mebane of Orlando won his match from George Seeds, but the fight put up by the Tar net man was a very worthy one. The match went three sets: 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

In the doubles, Thompson showed his ability as a general when he paired with Seeds and put Hickey with Thomas. The Orlando boys thought that Thompson and Hickey should have been the logical team, but the way it turned out showed that Rollins has two crack double teams instead of one. The first team, Thompson and Seeds, defeated Boucher and Mebane 6-1, 6-2, while the second team, Hickey and Thomas, won from the Orlando team of Hadsell and Crawford 8-6, 6-1. It was in the second set of this last match that the college fans got the surprise of their lives, and a pleasant one at that, when they discovered that Cotton Thomas is going to be a big help in the matches this year.

Cuba with three teams to face. The Police outfit alone will offer considerable opposition to Wight's men. In order to avoid injuries before the university game, the Tars will not use their best brand of football against the officers, but will simply take advantage of this game to get used to Cuban methods. The university crowd is going to put up one of the hardest scraps the Tars have seen this season. Havana is determined to win, and will fight to the last rather than be defeated before most of the city of Havana. Next comes the Cuban athletic club gridders. This is the second strongest team in Cuba and will give the locals a lively tussle.

Wight's men will probably open up the game with the university with an air attack. The Tars expect to sweep the heavy university machine off its feet by playing an open game.

AERIAL BROKEN—LITTLE DOING FOR RADIO FANS

There has been little radio news on the campus this week due to the fact that the aerial has been out of working order. Evans and Shreve worked all day Saturday trying to repair the broken wire, but little was accomplished on account of the rain. However, even with the aerial in its present condition Shreve was able to tune in with Cuba very easily.

COLUMBIA STUDENTS VOTE TO ABOLISH FINALS FOR THOSE HAVING GRADE OF B

Elimination of final examinations in certain courses, the exemption applying to students who have maintained a B average in a study, was approved by each class of Columbia College a few days ago. A member of Student Board addressed each group, outlining a broad program to increase undergraduate responsibility and detailing the exemption scheme, and then put the examination project to a vote which was unanimously favorable in all four classes, with the exception of three dissenting Freshman ballots.

University authorities have made it plain that the administration and Faculty of Columbia College is not in favor of any sweeping abandonment of final examination, confined to the students, is but one phase of a campaign to increase a deeper sense of liability to any scholastic, athletic, or non-athletic activity entered upon.

Mr. Weigall disbelieved the idea that the death of Lord Carnovan, discoverer of King Tut's tomb, was due to the three curses which were called down upon anyone who should despoil his tomb. Lord Carnovan had always been in poor health and "it was surprising that he lived as long as he did" according to the speaker.

A new national fraternity was born at the closing of the national interfraternity council last week, when representatives of eleven local college fraternal organizations announced the formation of the Phi Kappa Pi fraternity.

As an example, we never hear of the earthquakes or freezes in California; we hear only about the sunshine, good soil or, in short, all the good things about the state, said Mr. Lehmann.

At this point he turned to his subject, "Getting the Facts." "Without facts," said the speaker, "we have nothing. The three rules of journalism may be said to be accuracy, accuracy and accuracy." It is better to understate the facts than to overstate them, according to Mr. Lehmann. He advised his audience to avoid the words "about" and "over" in journalistic writing. "It is better to estimate the number of cars in a parade and state a specific number," he said, "than to say about or over a certain number." Names should always be spelled correctly. It is hard on a newspaper's pride to have to apologize for mis-stating facts, so why not get the facts in the first place? asked Mr. Lehmann.

"A safe rule is not to take anybody's word for anything, but dig out the facts for yourself," he concluded.

Mr. Bonner also stressed the importance of accuracy and the value of specific statements in newspapers.

liking for newspaper work will never be satisfied in any other line no matter what the financial remuneration,"

Christmas Greetings

(Messages from Rollins people to Rollins people.)

Courtesy, Alumni Record

My love to all Rollins alumni and friends and that the Christmas season may bring them every blessing is my earnest prayer.

George M. Ward, Palm Beach, Fla.
(President Emeritus of Rollins College)

Christmas Greetings to all the Rollins "Family":

Our world is opening up for the development of Christian manhood. Self determination of the nations will lay the basis for the true expansion of Christianity and Christian institutions. Christian education must expand and meet the needs of the new age of freedom and democracy. At this Christmas time let us resolve that we will work in Christian unity and meet the demands of the great opportunity both at home and abroad. The new Rollins Union is a move in this direction and for it we ask your prayers and support.

Robert J. Sprague, Winter Park, Fla.
(President of Rollins College)

To the Rollins "Family":

Greetings from her oldest trustee who is proud of Rollins, proud of her faculty and her student body, proud of her honesty and progressive spirit, proud to be one of her "family."

Through Christmas time, and all the New Year may Rollins and her family be happy and prosperous.

William C. Comstock, Chicago, Ill.

To the Alumni and former students:

Only a little greeting

From me to you:

May you be well,

May you be happy,

May you be true

On Christmas Day and everyday

The New Year through.

—Clara Louise Guild, '90,

Winter Park, Fla.

(Founder of the Alumni Association and President 1898-1904).

The following greeting comes from Miss Lucy A. Cross, who is credited with having first conceived the idea of founding Rollins College:

Your Cross Mother sends to the Rollins Family greetings. The Alumni Record kindly conveys "Merry Christmas" to you. "Beautiful on the mountain are the feet of Him that bringeth good tidings." More beautiful to me are the swift steps that I imagine each one of you has taken to bestow Christmas joy on your loved ones.

"Now Christmas is come,
Let us beat up the drum,
And call our Family together,
And when they appear,
Let us make them such cheer,
As will keep out the wind and the weather."

Dec. 25, 1923. Daytona, Fla.

My dear Friends of the Alumni Association:

I am very glad that through this new organ of the Alumni Ass'n I may have the privilege of speaking to you, and of wishing you a very happy holiday season. "The Alumni Record" will undoubtedly prove to be a "tie that binds", serving to bring into a harmonious unit the sons and daughters of Rollins scattered throughout the state and elsewhere.

I feel that I know all the older members of the Association through twenty years of classroom experience in Rollins, and that I have a greeting acquaintance with those who have come into the organization at a later date.

Indeed, I feel that I know you all and I cherish a very kind remembrance of all—everyone of you.

And this is my greeting to you: in the quiet afternoon of a long and busy life, with my special activities centered in the College Museum, to which many of you have made appreciative contributions, and in a small chemical laboratory—well satisfied with my estate, comfortable and happy in my home life, I extend to you, my friends, my best wishes, with the hope that these words of greeting may find you well and happy, and successful in doing your share of the world's work.

The freshmen will next argue with the winners of the junior-senior debate which is coming soon after the beginning of the new year. The question for discussion at this time has not been decided upon, but it is certain that it will not be the same as that of the freshman-sophomore argument. Details as to the coming debates will be announced as soon as possible, according to the statement of the Delphic program committee.

gether with the musical entertainments planned for the same period will all be heard by radio fans throughout most of the United States if the work of installing the local station is not interrupted. Following this, Rollins will send out a program practically every evening for several months, as dozens of musical and other entertainments are on the schedule.

"If the Winter Park telephone company will install a direct line from the Woman's club to the college laboratories, I will see that the first Burton lecture is broadcasted," said Professor Weinberg while talking to a Sandspur representative. The local station will reach as far as western Nebraska, northern New York and Maine under ordinary conditions.

"We have a good receiving station here, but it is dead as far as advertising Rollins to the world is concerned," stated the professor during his chapel speech. "We must all co-operate in order to make this a success," he added.
