BASKETBALL SCHEDULE SCRAPPED BY FACULTY

BASEBALL NOT MENTIONED

"No More Games," Council Decides; Aquatics Substituted

Because of probable interference with the academic work of the players, lack of finances and owing to the fact that only a few men were playing, basketball was dropped from the list of college sports late last week and the schedule of the basketball manager was cancelled by the Faculty committee.

No more games will be played this year. It was thought that inter-class games would be arranged, but no interest was shown and the plan was abandoned. Faculty members suggested the substitution of aquatic sports in place of basketball, and a committee of students and members of the faculty is drawing up plans (Continued on page 3)

HAMILTON HOLT WILL SPEAK SUNDAY NIGHT

Was Editor, Now Consulting Editor, The Independent

Hamilton Holt, fourth celebrity to speak under the auspices of the Chapel association, will lecture at the Methodist church next Sunday evening, January 27. The subject of Mr. Holt's address has not been announced.

For eight years Mr. Holt held the position of editor and owner of The Independent. In 1921 he gave up his position of editor and became consulting editor on the staff of the magazine. He has lectured considerably throughout the country for many years. He is nationally known as a speaker and lecturer on journalism.

Mr. Holt is a friend of Irving Bacheller, noted novelist, who has his winter home in Winter Park. He will be a guest of Mr. Bacheller during his stay in Florida, it is reported.

It was decided to hold the next Chapel association services at the Methodist church instead of at the college auditorium because of the co-operation Dr. Ingham has given the association this year.

Captain Ayres Gives Radio Another Boost

Captain Preston Ayres, of the Ayres Electric Company, Orlando, gave the Rollins broadcasting station 600 feet of Number 8 copper wire this week to be used for the counterpoise of the station. Captain Ayres is much interested in radio work and is helping in the installation of the local broadcasting set.

The first code class met Monday and again yesterday. This class will meet twice a week on these days at 7.30 P. M., and at 8.30 the receiving set will be put into operation to hear KDKA, East Pittsburgh; WEA, New York City; WJA, Newark; WOR, Newark; WGY, Schenectady, and others regularly heard at the local station.

ROLLINS HEADS MOVE FOR ATHLETIC RULES

Conference Slated for February 23 to Reach Decision

Florida colleges and universities will meet for the second time on February 24 at Gainesville to draw up a set of eligibility rules and regulations to govern future inter-collegiate sports in the Peninsular state, according to Six Sutliff, Rollins representative who introduced the rules favored by Rollins at the first meeting last week in the University city.

The rules drafted by the Rollins Faculty council and read at the Gainesville session were favored by representatives from all Florida colleges, but a few changes were suggested. These few differences of opinion cannot be made public at this time.

The rules introduced by Sutliff as spokesman for Rollins are as follows:

1. No person who has participated in any inter-collegiate contest in any branch of sport as a member of any other college team shall be permitted to participate in any inter-collegiate contest until after the expiration of twelve months from the date of his matriculation.
2. No person shall be allowed to participate in any inter-collegiate contest who has not presented standard college entrance credits.
3. No person shall be allowed to participate in any inter-collegiate contest who is not satisfactorily passing in the equivalent of twelve semester hours counting toward a recognized degree, at the time of the inter-collegiate contest in which he wishes to participate.
4. No person shall be allowed to participate in any inter-collegiate contest who has not been regularly enrolled within ten days after the opening of the semester in which the contest is played.

DELPHIC CUP GOES TO SENIOR ORATORS

Freshmen and Juniors Refuse to Debate; Prize is Forfeited

Because the junior and freshman debating teams failed to prepare for their scheduled inter-class debate last week, their chances of winning the Delphic cup were forfeited. The winners of the frosh-junior fray were to meet the seniors before Founder's week to decide the class debating championship at Rollins.

A debate, teams to be composed of members of all classes, will take place next Wednesday night at Delphic meeting. College debaters will be selected at this and other coming debates.

Organization Planned

Walter B. Johnston and Paul Potter were appointed Monday to organize debating on the campus and to report on ways and means to get a champion debating team for 1924. These two men will find out how many are willing to work and will then turn them over to the forensic instructor for coaching.

Rollins received a telegram from Baptist university, in Oklahoma, last week, challenging the college to debate the League of Nations question during the latter part of March when their orators tour Florida. The Baptists offered to argue either side of the question. It is thought that the Oklahoma university will send a strong team on the southern journey, probably young ministerial students.

Those making the Rollins debating squad will receive one or more credits for their work, according to the present plans of the faculty. The forensic work will probably not be under the auspices of Delphic Literary society. Florida colleges will be met in the spring, after the debate with the Baptists.

BISHOP RICHARDSON SPEAKS ON SERVICE

PRESENT—PAST COMPARED

Year's Largest Chapel Association Audience Hears Lecture

"To serve the present age" was the subject Bishop Ernest Richardson of Atlanta discussed at Knowles Hall Sunday night.

"In the 'good old days' when one was asked what a man's chief duty was the reply was given—to save his soul. But we, of the present age, know that if one thinks primarily of saving his own soul, he is selfish and lacks a Christian outlook on life. There are still those people who long for the 'good old days,' those 'wonderful days that used to be' yet if they lived a hundred years from today they would probably long for these 'present age' days. The church is just as good today as it was yesterday, but there are always those who say it is not. Compare this to what Mark Twain says: 'Everybody talks about the weather but no one does anything about it.' said Bishop Richardson.

"Just as troublesome as these 'back lookers' are those who see everything in terms of a hundred years from the present time. But, do not forget that one cannot prepare too much in these days for the coming years," he continued.

"This is a glorious age in which we live," said Bishop Richardson, "this day of the wireless, and we'll have to run and run to keep up with it or else it will leave us behind. So serve the age with every ounce of your strength. The churches have a large obligation to the nation and the community in serving the present age. America as the foremost nation of the world has the largest part to play and the heaviest debt to humanity. A nation should serve as much as an individual and must suffer if he does.

"Service was one of Christ's teachings, and most Christian folk are happiest when serving a good cause or some fellow man," stated the Bishop. Bishop Richardson quoted in closing.

"To serve the present age
My calling to fulfill;
Oh, may all my powers be engaged
To serve my Master's will,"

TARS LOSE FAST RETURN GAME WITH METHODISTS

Thursday night last week at the Lyman Gym the Tars lost a heart-breaker to the Southern College five. The game was close from start to finish. No sooner would the Tars work the ball down the floor for a goal than the Southerners would drop in a long one. The game started off with some good passing by both teams, Southern scoring the first goal and Cotton tying the score with a short one from under the basket. The Tars continued their good passing while Southern, unable to break thru the Tars five man defense, was forced to use long shots. It seemed to be Gillispie's lucky night for his mid-floor shooting had the Tars tagging at the end of the first half.

The last half was even more hotly contested than the first. But one substitution was made, Parker for Emery. On the first play Parker dropped in a long one and Cotton followed with another. Ray added another one from the side line. Then

Gillispie dropped one from the center. The Methodists tried stalling but the Tars rushed them and forced the play. Vic and Guy played good basketball and kept the ball away from the basket, while Cotton, Ray and Homer did their best to pile up the score. Cotton dribbled in and shot making the goal but the referee said he had blown his whistle before the ball left Cotton's hands. About ten seconds later the whistle blew ending the game with the score 31-29 for Southern. It was easy to see that the Tars outpassed the Methodists and with a little more time would have scored again. The game was one of the fastest ever played on the local floor.

Tar backers will be sorry to hear that the Southern game was the last of the season, all others being cancelled because of the faculty's decision.

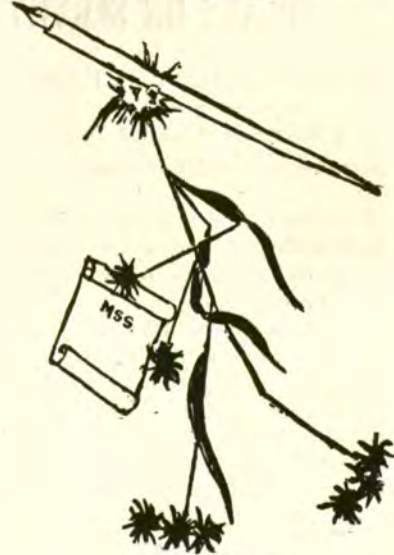

The Tars lineup was as follows: R. Colado, f; G. Emery, f; H. Thomas, c; G. Colado, g; G. Vickers, g. Substitutions—Parker for Emery.

TENNIS

Now that basketball is off the program for the year, interest in tennis should become more general. Some sort of athletic activities are absolutely necessary, and we believe tennis will help to fill the vacancy left by the departure of basketball.

However, it will be necessary to add at least one more tennis court before many students can play. The court in front of the Conservatory, as we have said before, is the logical one to repair. There is no time like the present to begin. Once more we suggest that something be done to promote interest in tennis and to put this court in condition.

PASSING THE BUCK

The basketball schedule is a thing of the past. Probably there were good reasons for cancelling the remaining games; there were also reasons why at least a few more games should have been played. But we have little to say about this.

The columns of The Sandspur are always open to the opinions of the student body on any questions concerning student life. We have tried time and time again to arouse a passing interest on the part of a few in the "What Do You Think?" column without results. This basketball situation must have affected somebody on the campus. It seems that some one should have opinions either pro or con on the question.

We spent several hours this week trying to find out how basketball men and basketball fans feel about the cancelling of the schedule. Very few had any opinions. None would think of saying anything through the medium of The Sandspur. The old story of passing the buck.

When nobody shows the slightest interest in this basketball ruling, why should the editor concern himself with it? Why should The Sandspur make an issue of something the students are not concerned with? For these reasons we are not giving our opinions. But it does seem that something is wrong when such an important decision as this has such a feeble reaction. The Sandspur would like to see a little team work, co-operation, spirit, student interest, or whatever is necessary, just for once. We are willing to forget about basketball.

PRESS MEET DATE

Due to an error the date for the convention of high school editors was announced as February twenty-fourth instead of February twenty-third which is correct. The twenty-fourth is Sunday, and the meeting comes on Saturday. The invitations mailed by the college gave the date correctly, but The Sandspur made this mistake. We hope that all prospective visitors to Rollins will note the correct date and arrive in time.

DEBATING

Why not have a Rollins debating team capable of debating other colleges? is a question students have asked all year as well as in years past. Now it seems their ambition is about to be realized. Potter and Johnston have started out to organize the debating material in order to develop a team to debate Baptist university, whose team recently challenged Rollins to debate the League of Nations question. After this debate there is no reason why the Tar orators should not meet Florida college teams as well as the one from Oklahoma.

Rollins can make a name for herself by sending a winning debating combination over the state. We have every chance of turning out a strong team this year. Give all possible assistance to the men who are organizing debating on the campus. Try to put your college on the map in this new field.

TOMOKAN PICTURES ARE BEING DELAYED

Students are not having their pictures taken for the Tomokan as they should in order to get the benefit of a discount on photo-engravings, according to the art editor on the Tomokan staff. If photographs are in the hands of the printers by February 1, a saving of $150 will be made. Other colleges have most of their material completed and have taken advantage of another discount which the Tomokan staff has already lost, members of the staff say.

Debate boosters believe there should be many short debates immediately following the opening of the second semester in February in order to prepare a team capable of coping with strong opposition. They favor accepting the challenge of Baptist university without delay.

COLLEGE TIDBITS

"The sweetest chorus girl" in the University of Michigan's production of "Cotton Stockings" is MISTER Lionel Ames, female impersonator par excellence. He has the most comely legs and arms imaginable, and has insured them for $25,000.

The last five presidents of the United States have been college fraternity men. Grace Anna Goodhue Coolidge is the first mistress of the White House who was a sorority woman in college. She was a Pi Beta Pi at the University of Vermont.

With the approval of President Coolidge and Secretary of War Weeks, New York University has installed the first course in aeronautical engineering and aviation to find place in the curriculum of an American college.

"The flower girl" freshman was a source of comment in a California school recently. She planted, cultivated and sold flowers to pay her college expenses. Her biggest "clean ups" were made on the occasion of college dances when she supplied special corsages in college colors.

Three thousand University of Wisconsin students recently voted unanimously to aid Madison authorities in stamping out drinking of alcoholic liquors, and condemned drinking among both males and females.

The site of Robert College on the heights of the Bosphorus is said to be the most beautiful of any college in the world. This, the most famous American educational institution in the Near East, overlooks the walls and towers of the fortification built by Mohammad II in 1452, the year before he took Constantinople.

CAMPUS ATHLETICS

FOR ALL MEN

The wonderful opportunities afforded here at Rollins, with the ideal climate which calls for outdoor attractions, should make the campus during the late afternoon hours a sort of rendezvous for a variety of contests in which all men can compete for the real fun and exercise to be had.

Outside of a few individuals, the varsity men, how many of the Rollins men compete in or enjoy athletic games? From observation it would seem that very few did. Why not develop a situation where each and every man would find some game in which he is interested and for which a group schedule was provided for right here on the campus?

Instead of developing to a high point of efficiency a few men who are to represent the college in a major sport, why should not a medium be provided and even required that each and every man should participate in an inter-class or an inter-fraternity baseball contest, track event, swimming contest and the like?

It would seem plausible for the Student Association to set about in fostering a series of events at stated intervals whereby at least three distinct teams could be developed and for which every man could have a trial for a position and an assurance of participating in schedules.

How exciting it is to see a so-called "back-alley" game of baseball where every chap in the neighborhood is playing and the science of the game is left out because of the great fun and enjoyment which is had by a "hit-and-run" game.

By setting a stated time at which the contests are to be called, say at five o'clock in the evening, it would without doubt create a bit of interesting outdoor fun and beneficial exercise by having several ball games or track events at which most everyone could find a chance for displaying his prowess and affording the others with some good laughs. Why not try it?

The series of artists concerts have been so successful that it has been made possible to engage Marion Rous, pianist, for an additional concert which will take place on Feb. 12. Miss Rous has just made a very successful Aeolian Hall appearance in New York.

One of the first outside engagements which the Girls' Glee Club will fill will be at Sebring, where the Club will appear under the auspices of the Sebring Chamber of Commerce.

The Sunday evening musicals at the Seminole Hotel provided by the Rollins College Conservatory last season, were so successful that the management has requested a continuance of them again this season. Edna Wallace, flutist, and Virginia Richardson, pianist, appeared there last Sunday evening.

for aquatic activities next month and during the spring.

The fact that only a few basketball players were coming out regularly with the result that all the work fell on these few, influenced the faculty committee in making its decision. It was decided that the men should not be called on to make such a heavy sacrifice for the college, committee-members stated after the meeting. The committee also thought it inadvisable to continue with the heavy schedule without a regular coach. Finances also came in for discussion. Basketball has never paid in the past and expenses this year could have been met only with difficulty, it was decided.

"In order to develop the best kind of a team we need all the student body out playing basketball under good coaching. Fifty men working at basketball under such conditions would mean a good team. The future must see this," said a faculty member speaking for the committee this week. More college aquatics should be carried here and Rollins ought to be ready to fill in the program at the Inter-scholastic Aquatic meet next April, it was also stated. Pop Donaldson is working on a plan whereby the Y. M. C. A. will co-operate in arousing interest in water sports. Suggestions will be welcomed by Donaldson.

Tomokan pictures must be in the hands of the printer by February first. See the photographer at once. TOMOKAN STAFF.

But nobody had thought to do it

By bringing electricity down from the clouds over a kite string, it was a simple thing to prove that lightning was nothing more than a tremendous electrical flash.

For centuries before Franklin flew his kite in 1751 philosophers had been speculating about the nature of lightning. With electrified globes and charged bottles, others had evolved the theory that the puny sparks of the laboratory and the stupendous phenomenon of the heavens were related; but Franklin substituted fact for theory — by scientific experiment.

Roaring electrical discharges, man-made lightning as deadly as that from the clouds, are now produced by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are part of experiments which are making it possible to use the power of mountain torrents farther and farther from the great industrial centers.

Electrical machines bearing the mark of the General Electric Company, in use throughout the world, are raising standards of living by doing the work of millions of men.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GIRLS' BASKETBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Rollins will have two girls' basketball teams this year. The senior-sophomore team will play against the junior-freshman squad, the date of the game to be set by the Woman's Athletic council.

There will only be one game played between these two teams to decide the championship, and this game will be forfeited if either squad fails to appear at the correct time. No game will be scheduled without regular practice. The junior-freshman team practices Monday, Friday and Saturday, and the senior-sophomore outfit plays every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Both teams are doing their best and working to win.

Eva Missildine is captain of the senior-soph crowd. The girls going out for the team are: T. P. Paige, Charlott Miller, Fay Hall, Ruth Amy, Virginia Richardson, Dolly Darrow, Helen McKay, Anabeth Wilson, May Blair, Eva Thompson and Frances Montgomery. Eddie Parkinson was elected captain of the junior-freshman team. Those trying out for this team are: Fannie Barnes, Dickie Dickson, Phoebe McDowell, Jerry Sledge, Ann Hall, Hillegrade Robinson, Madeline Leonard, Ethel Evans, Pearl Pierce, Kay Beall and Mildred Stagg.

ATHLETIC SCHEDULE FOR GIRLS ANNOUNCED BELOW

At the meeting of the Girls' Athletic council the following schedule was decided upon and no changes will be made unless the war-canoe crews do not go to Mount Dora:

Basketball, Tuesday, Feb. 4; War-canoe, Friday, Feb. 15.

Tennis—First matches must be played by Feb. 20. Second matches by Feb. 27. Semi-finals, March 4, finals, March 14.

Volley Ball—Thursday, March 6.

It was also decided that a student must be registered in college and passing in at least nine hours' work, leading towards a degree before she is eligible to any team.

The question as to whether dancing should give points towards a letter was left to the student body and will be voted upon today. The point system as it stood last year is as follows:

100 points for making first team in any sport: Basketball, Volley ball, etc.
100 points for proficiency in dancing in pageant.
50 points for the winning team in each sport.
50 points for making second team in any sport.
150 points for tennis champion.
100 points for runner up.
75 points for semi-finals.
50 points for winning two matches.
25 points for winning one match.
350 points entitles one to a numeral and 500 are required before one can obtain an R.

The question is: Shall this system stand as it is or shall it be changed?

Every girl express your opinion and vote today.

5. No person shall be permitted to participate in any inter-collegiate contest who receives any gift, remuneration or pay for his services on a college team.

6. No contests shall be played during the regular season for each major sport with institutions which do not agree to enact and enforce these measures and carry them out in letter and in spirit.

The new rules are not yet in definite form, but are very similar to the original ones introduced by Rollins. They will not be completed until the next meeting on the twenty-third of next month. The college faculty expects to consider the changes next week at a special meeting.

It is probable that Rollins will join the new association even if the final regulations do not conform with local opinions in every respect. "Systems of regulation are not born full grown. We have to get them up at the beginning as best we can and develop them as we go along," said Dean Sprague, who favors a compromise if necessary with improvements later on. A majority of council members agree with the Dean's statement. The regulations which are to be drafted at the coming session at Gainesville will be passed on by the Faculty council soon after Rollins' representative returns.

Several other propositions as to eligibility rules were offered by Southern, Stetson and Florida, it is reported. Unless these rules are adopted this year football will have to be given up in Florida, faculty members believe. In order to play with Florida colleges a standardized code of regulations is absolutely necessary, they point out. Other colleges also feel that the time for improvement has arrived.

Sutliff will probably represent Rollins again at the next meeting.

visited during the next two weeks to encourage high school papers to send representatives to the meet.

Strickland Gillilan, well known journalist, has been secured to act as toastmaster at the press banquet Saturday evening. Besides being a journalist of note, Mr. Gillilan is the writer of humorous stories and verse. He is deeply interested in the work of high school journalists and has consented to act as toastmaster for this reason.

High schools which do not publish a paper at the present time, but which have plans for starting a school publication during the next year are also invited to send representatives to the Rollins convention.

A dozen letters in regard to the meet were received by A. J. Hanna during the first part of the week. The correct date for the press meet is February 23 and not February 24 as was erroneously stated in the last issue of The Sandspur.

DANCE

One of the loveliest social events of the year was the dance given for Phi Alpha fraternity by Winter Park young ladies last Saturday night at the Woman's club. The rooms were decorated with flame vine and the lamps shaded to a soft glow with colored paper, all of which produced a pleasing effect.

The four-course cabaret-dinner was a great success. Even more enthusiastically received was the dancing of the chorus girls.

At nine thirty the tables were taken away and dancing started. The music seemed better than usual, or the dinner had inspired everyone, for the dance was voted one of the best ever given at Rollins.

KNOWLTON RECITAL COMING NEXT WEEK

Jean Knowlton, soprano, head of the vocal department of Rollins College Conservatory will appear in recital in Knowles Hall, Rollins College, on Wednesday evening, January 30th, at 8:30. This will be an event which has been eagerly anticipated by people of Orlando and Winter Park, who have heard Miss Knowlton's previous interesting programs.

The program which Miss Knowlton will present on next Wednesday evening, will be under the title of "Songs of Three Countries," opening with a very unusual group of modern French songs, followed by a group of characteristic American compositions.

The last part of the program will be devoted to Spanish music. Miss Knowlton has made a reputation on the concert stage for her presentation of Spanish songs, rarely used by other concert artists.

The reception which her singing received in Havana is proof of her realistic interpretation of Spanish music. Following is an excerpt from the Havana Morning Post, concerning Miss Knowlton's recital:

"From the moment she stepped on the stage in her quaint Mid-Victorian costume to the final number, in which she appeared as a charming senorita, glowing tributes were paid her for the excellent rendition of her varied program."

The assisting artist at this recital will be Elizabeth Krauss, violinist, head of the violin department of the Conservatory. One of Mrs. Krauss' numbers will be from a Violin Suite by Susan Dyer, which has just been published by J. Fischer, New York.

Christine Hayward, director, will accompany both soloists. The public is cordially invited to this concert.

PHI OMEGA'S NIGHT

On Wednesday night Mrs. A. B. Beall was the guest of honor at a spread in the Phi Omega room, 69 Cloverleaf. All members of Phi Omega and all the pledges were there with a hungry look in their eyes. "Hail, hail, the gang's all here" was musically (?) rendered by the pledges, after which refreshments were served in courses.

By the time the messenger boys were passed the party had reached a stage of hilarity which can only be brought on by strawberry ice-cream and marshmallow; in other words, they were all sticky. While all this was going on Hildy and Rose were busy eating the rest of the marshmallows, and by the time they were discovered they were just about to eat the card-board. Needless to say, they were stopped in time to prevent such a calamity.

Lights flashed right in the middle of the fun, so a little speed was forthcoming, and the last of the candy and cookies disappeared in short order. But even then adjournment was not in order. The different members lined up and held a marksmanship contest to see how many gum papers they could get thru the transom. Eva Jones was presented with a stick of candy that was found on the person of Ruth Amy. Remembering what time it was all made a general disappearance toward the second floor.

College Comment

All Hail. Phil Trowbridge is back on the campus for a few days only. Phil says that he is living down in Coral Gables now and intends to mop up with the tennis aspirants among the Gables, like he once did at Rollins.

Jimmie Shoesmith and Gomer Emery left early Tuesday morning for New Smyrna.

Homer Parker says, "It's an ill wind that blows no good," and he just simply can't paddle a canoe when the wind is blowing. That's all right, Homer, one sure can study when marooned.

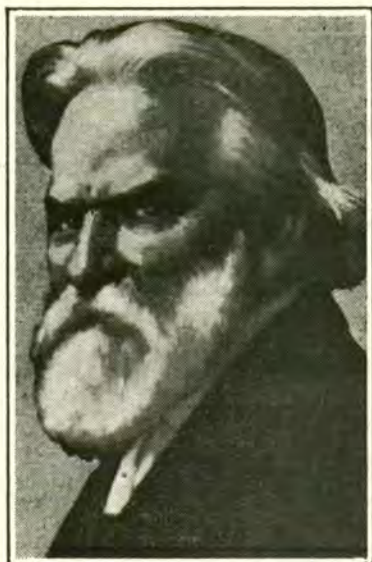

Fred Brackenseik has just cornered the cotton market, bought a brand new golf rig, and says that he made the first hole in 36 the other day. He's gonna do better next time.

Wonder if Gomer Emery thinks he is really as important as he looks when he speeds down Interlachen avenue in a Ford sedan.

You've gotta hand it to Herb Thayer for speed. He is the first one on the campus to receive a letter of proposal from some silent admirer. By the way the letter came from Tallahassee State Normal College.

Let's give fifteen big ones for the choir, the orchestra, and the Dean, cause if it wasn't for them there wouldn't be any chapel.

Mess—"Say, Hook, don't you always pity a girl who is frightened in the dark?"

Heek—"Yes, I can't help feeling for her."

"May I come nearer to you?"
"No, I'm afraid if you do you'll—"
"No, honestly I won't."
"What's the use then."

Philosopher—"The dog fills an empty place in man's life."
Sophist—"You refer to the hot dog?"

Prima Facie Evidence

I once knew a wonderful maiden,
And she had a friend—a man,
And during the summer season
They gathered a coat of tan.
Which fact created much scandal;
In truth, no little disgrace,
For each of the two was sunburned
On the opposite side of the face.
—Flambeau.

Harry pointed to a preacher and asked his mother: "Mamma, who is that man?"

"Hush, darling, that's the gentleman that married me."

Harry perplexed—"Then what's pa doing hanging around our house all the time?"—Ex.

Yes?

Robber—"Gimme your money or your life."

Absent Minded Professor—"Kind sir, take my life, I need the money to live on."

Kut Klass Klan

"Why are you mailing all of those empty envelopes?"

"I'm cutting classes in a correspondence school."—Green and Gold.

Coming exams all remind us,
As the pages o'er are turned,
That we all have left behind us
Lessons that we should have learned.
—Old Gold and Black.

Branch—"You're not so lazy, after all. Here you are getting up at four o'clock in the morning."

Fred Hanna—"Yeah, but this is the gettin' up I should 'a' done yesterday."

He—"Know any good jokes?"
Him—"Blonde or brunette?"—Sun Dial.

Conductor of Sightseeing Bus—"This, friends, is the Charles River, whose gloriously shimmering—"

Skeptical Old Lady—"And do you expect us to swallow that?"—Voo Doo.

"Does my face need powder?"
"No, dynamite."—Punch Bowl.

First Burglar—"What did yer get in that room?"

Second Burglar—"Nothing—a college student lives there."

F. B.—"Gee—did yer lose anything?"—Flamingo.

Permit me to ask—
Whom did Capt. Kidd?
What made Oscar Wilde?
What does Harold Bill Wright?
How much are William's Wordsworth?

At the Beanery

Student—"Waiter, I'm quite sure that I ordered veal, but you have brought me beef instead."

Waiter (very slow in giving service) —"I am quite certain that it was veal when I left the kitchen, sir."—Punch Bowl.

Hard—"The man in the moon must be a freshman."

Guy—"Because he borrowed his light?"

Hard—"No, because he usually shines at the wrong time."—Boll Weevil.

Home, James

Collegian—"Can you take me to a place where I can find some wild women?"

Chauffeur—"Sure, step right in and I'll take you to the insane asylum."—Voo Doo.

The Drake Delphic, published at Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, just introduced its "Enquiring Reporter" to the public. The first question asked Drake men was: "Which do you prefer, the bobbed-haired, galoshed, cosmetically aided college girl of today or the sweetly succumbed and swooning lady with training ruffles for whom men fought in the days of chivalry?" The majority chose the modern girl, but several thought it a matter of choosing between two evils. Drake women were asked: "Which do you prefer, the slick-haired, cake-eating college sheik of today or the knight of old who jousted in bloody battles to win his lady's favor?" The co-eds favored the old-time knight overwhelmingly. However, one damsel preferred the stacombed sheik of today.

Kansas City Junior college recently held a homecoming celebration. Five hundred were in attendance from far and near. The affair ended in a big dance, music being furnished by the college orchestra, the jazziest in Kansas City.

Iowa State college, at Ames, will start to produce movies in the spring, picturing the work of the departments of the college. Sets are to be taken from the classroom, laboratory and field work, and from the experiment station and farms.

The Sandspur is in receipt of a recent issue of the Topeka High School World from which it was learned that "Buried treasureRS are being sought by Miss Alma Calvert's geometry classes." No doubt these treasure hunters attempted to flee with class funds and were caught in some sort of a cave-in.

The staff of the "Squeal," indecent sheet published at the University of Utah, recently made a public apology for their latest issue to the "Administration, Faculty, and the Student Body." Apparently their apology was accepted.

The Branding Iron, student newspaper at the University of Wyoming, has been conducting a prize contest to get a heading for the front page of the paper. The results of the contest have not reached The Sandspur office.

Hark Ye, Girls from Rollins!

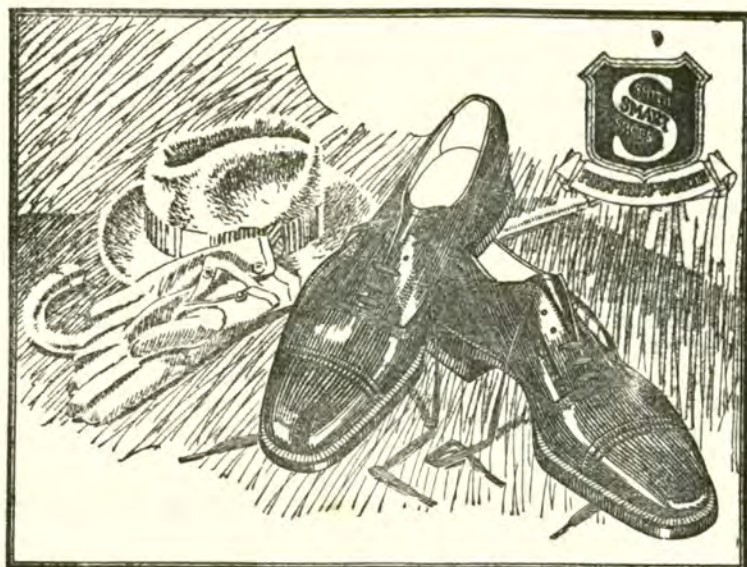

Have you had the new Shingle Bob?

—If you haven't, the chances are you will soon, for the smart young folks (and older ones, too, for that matter) are daily adopting this new style of hair cut.

—Don't hesitate to make the decision—it's a very chic fashion; and our Bobber Shop on Third Floor is prepared to care for you, and you may count on a very becoming Bob if you come to Barber "Jim." The price is but 35c.
