EDWIN MARKHAM LEAVES FOR NEW YORK; STOPS FEW DAYS AT ROLLINS

BIDS FRIENDS GOODBY

"Hope to Return to Rollins Again Next Winter," Says Poet at Station

Edwin Markham, the distinguished poet who for the past several weeks has been a guest of Rollins college, left for the north last Sunday night. Mr. Markham spent two weeks in Miami, returning here for a five day visit with the host of friends that he made during his previous stay here.

During his last visit he was kept busy. He twice addressed the St. Johns River conference of Methodists which was held in Winter Park last week, autographed books and photographs and attended several teas given in his honor.

Mr. Markham expressed his intention of returning to Rollins next winter for another of "the most enjoyable winters I have ever spent," while talking to the Sandspur reporter.

Just before leaving, Mr. Markham

TWO PRIZES FOR ESSAYS OFFERED STUDENTS

Two prizes for essays written by Rollins students, first prize $10, second prize $5, are being offered by Miss Grace Edwards thru the Alumni association. Awards will be made soon after the contest closes on May 25. All essays must be typewritten and double spaced, are not to exceed 1000 words and on the subject, "Why Go to Rollins College?"

Contestants are asked to write their essays as soon as possible and not wait until the last minute. At least one is desired by the Essay committee before next Sunday. The committee which will make the awards is composed of Robert Donaldson, Warren Ingram, R. Greene, H. Mosher and Thomas Quinn.

Miss Edwards has started the essay contest in order to stimulate interest in writing for The Sandspur and at the same time to present to Rollins students the peculiar advantages of their college.

FLORIDA HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS GET SANDSPUR EVERY WEEK, NEW PLAN

Seniors of all Florida high schools will receive The Rollins Sandspur every week hereafter, it was decided by the college last week. The papers will be mailed to the president of the senior class at each high school and will be distributed by that officer.

This step was taken in order to keep high school students all over the state in touch with the high school athletic events which are annually held at Rollins. The Interscholastic Aquatic meet will be held here next week and the Florida High School Baseball championship will be decided at Rollins at the games which will be played on May 15, 16 and 17.

Senior class presidents who do not receive Sandspurs after this week should write the college.

Stage Big Debate At Delphic Meeting

John Bostwick and Chick Lawrence upheld the affirmative while Raymon Colado and Hardin Branch debated the negative of the question, "Resolved, that it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all," at the last Delphic meeting. The house was called upon for a standing vote and the negative was awarded the decision.

Lawrence and Bostwick held that very valuable experience results from falling in love. Whether the victims lose or not does not really matter as this experience is gained anyway and "There are plenty of others to fall in love with," said Lawrence.

The negative claimed that lost love has wrecked empires and generally upset the world in the past and that "It is better never to have loved at all than to have loved and lost."

All four speakers were responsible for much laughter on the part of the audience. Because three of the debaters had to appear with the glee club at the Methodist church at 8:15, the rebuttal speeches were called off by the president of Delphic.

There will be another debate at Delphic next Wednesday night on the citrus fruit marketing question.

OLD RIVALS TO BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY AT NEXT WEEK'S SWIMMING RACES

RECORD NUMBER OF TEAMS

St. Petersburg and Tampa Will Fight to the Last; St.
Pete Confident

Keener competition than in any of the meets held during the past four years is promised for the big state aquatic event which is to be held at Rollins College, Saturday, April 26. More schools, more teams and more contestants than ever have entered the 1924 contest and all over the state swimmers are now putting in strenuous training getting ready for the state championships.

St. Petersburg high school girls have won four successive meets and this year these lassies are coming back strong. They are strong contenders for state honors.

Tampa Expects Victory

Hillsborough high school girls came within six points of tying St. Petersburg last year. Another first and second would have given Hillsborough the meet. Hillsborough won the relay last year and this year their team has been strengthened by the addition of Gretchen Allan.

Gretchen Allan holds state records for the 25-yard dash, 220-yard free style and diving and is one of the best girl swimmers Florida has ever produced.

Kent, Sarah and Ernestine McCord, together with Gretchen Allan and other strong mermaids, look forward to the twenty-sixth with real interest. Kent McCord holds the state record for the 100-yard free style and Sarah McCord holds the state record for the 50-yard back stroke.

Miami reports a strong girls' team as do Cedar Key, Orlando, Ft. Myers and Winter Haven.

As for the boys, it is difficult to say which team is liable to carry away high honors.

Orlando has a first rate team. Harry Buell and a strong aggregation will be down from St. Augustine. St. Petersburg with Billy Buhner and his strong team mates will put up the

PATHE NEWS GETS EXCLUSIVE MOVIE RIGHTS FOR COMING SWIMMING MEET

Pathe News will cover the Interscholastic Aquatic meet again this year, according to E. Cohen, editor of Pathe News, New York City. Pathe News has been given exclusive rights on pictures of the meet by the Aquatic committee.

James B. Buchanan, camera man, has just informed Ray Greene, director of the meet, that he will bring both regular and slow motion cameras to photograph the swimming races next week. Mr. Buchanan was here last spring and photographed the 1923 Aquatic meet for Pathe News.

In his letter to Director Greene, Mr. Cohen expresses the appreciation of Pathe News for the exclusive movie rights on the meet which were granted by the Aquatic board.

$800 Scholarships Offered By Rollins

Rollins college has announced the establishment of ten honor scholarships to be awarded to honor students in the graduating classes of Florida high schools and preparatory schools, beginning next year. The total amount of each scholarship is $800, payable over a period of four years in installments of $200 annually.

The granting of these scholarships will be based on these points: (1) recommendation of the high school faculty, (2) moral character, (3) scholastic accomplishments, (4) leadership in student activities, (5) physical superiority. Payment will be made subject to the maintenance of a high standing in college.

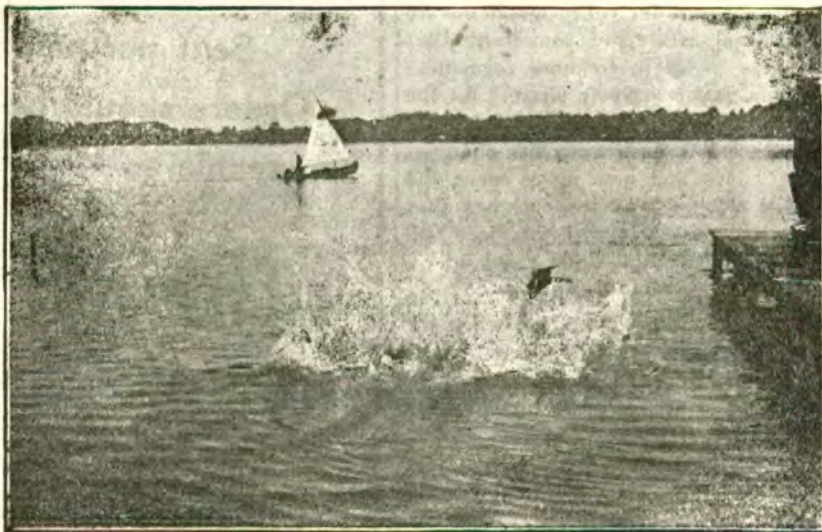

Announcement of the establishment of the ten Rollins scholarships was made last week. Particulars are being mailed to all high schools in the state. Rollins expects to raise the quality and character of its student body by granting scholarships to this class of students and thus help in building up civic and moral standards of the country, said the Scholarship board in announcing the awards. Information and application blanks for those wishing to apply for scholarships may be secured from the Dean of Rollins college, Winter Park, Florida.

PRESIDENT OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TELLS OF 1924 ALUMNI PROGRAM

Sexton Johnston, president of the Alumni association, spoke in chapel last Friday on the aims of the Alumni association in regard to Rollins and Rollins athletics for next year. He stated that his association is solidly behind the college and will do everything possible to assist. The recent action taken by the Alumni association, which was explained by Mr. Johnston Friday, was announced in the last issue of The Sandspur.

Ike: "Swim out here, vadder, I'm sinking."

Abe: "I can't swim. Throw papa your watch and I'll pray for you."

ESSAY AND SONG CONTESTS

Elsewhere in The Sandspur appear notices of two contests, an essay contest and a college song contest. Miss Grace Edwards has generously offered prizes for the two best essays on "Why go to Rollins College," and Mrs. W. D. Freeman will award two prizes to the classes which learn all the college songs and how to sing them with the most pep and college spirit before the closing of the contest. Both Miss Edwards and Mrs. Freeman are loyal Rollins boosters and have the sincere thanks of the college. Both contests are well worth while and it behooves every student who possibly can to take part in one or the other.

FIELD DAY

Tho at press time no one has definitely informed us of the date for the much discussed Rollins Field day, it is probable that it will be held on Tuesday or Thursday next week. Beyond a doubt this Field day is worth while and deserves the hearty support and cooperation of the student body. We believe everyone is willing to help make the day a success from every standpoint.

However, many object to Tuesday or Thursday because they have few or no classes on either of these days. Probably the majority of students would be thus affected. They point out that to declare such a day a holiday would be a joke as far as they are concerned, especially when the day would be devoted to hard work. Others accuse these objectors of lack of college spirit, etc.

There is much truth in the claims of those who do not want Field day on Tuesday or Thursday. For one thing, after a day of hard work and a picnic or dance following, little studying could be accomplished by the average student. If this is true, Wednesday's classes would not be very productive of results and might better be dispensed with altogether. Better a day of useful work on the campus than a day devoted to sleeping in classes. This would not hold true on Tuesday or Thursday because there are so few classes on these days.

We will be satisfied no matter what day is chosen, but we want to point out a few of the facts in the controversy.

There is also the question of whether a dance or picnic should close Field day. Last week the Enquiring Reporter on the Sandspur staff asked many students which they preferred and all interviewed favored a dance.

If a dance is held, good music must be furnished. Every one is agreed on this point. It has been suggested that every student pay something for an orchestra for the evening of Field day.

It is time for a definite decision on the part of those in charge of the proposed campus Field day activities. It seems that the foregoing facts should be considered by those in authority.

THE PURPOSE OF AN EDUCATION

The freshman writes in his theme that his purpose in coming to college is to increase his earning capacity. His professor quickly corrects this error and informs him that he comes to "acquire a finer appreciation of the values of life." The athletic coach declares that "life is an individual problem" and that the purpose of an education is to "develop the competitive powers of the individual so that he may acquire those things which he feels necessary to complete his life." An editorial writer declares that "the purpose of an education is to develop character and to turn out men accomplished in the art of living." Long years ago, Socrates said in substance that the purpose of an education was to "know thyself."

None of these are wrong, but neither are any of them right. The purpose of an education is too abstract to be expressed in a few words or even many. It takes the whole life of the individual to express just individual purposes and the life of the whole race to express the common benefits and purposes, for education is not an individual affair but something that belongs to all in common regardless of how many actively share. As the individual passes from freshman to senior, the outlook upon life changes, new hopes and new ideas come, old ideals change, and those things that seemed so essential yesterday are forgotten tomorrow.—Daily Cardinal.

An editor was dying, but when the doctor bent forward, he placed his ear on the breast and said, "Poor man! Circulation almost gone."

"You're a liar! We have the largest circulation in the country."—The Centric.

Cloverleaf Dance

The dance Saturday night in Cloverleaf was one of the very best given this year, said those who were in attendance. Every one came and every one had a good time. But, then, that was assured with the Ft. Pitt orchestra there!

Miss Treat planned the whole evening, and the girls worked Saturday to carry out her plans. The result was a huge success. The whole front of the dormitory was open and cleared for dancing, with greens and flowers filling in all the corners. The porch was lighted with lanterns and the chairs filled with pillows. Perhaps the most popular feature of the evening was the eats. They were said to be the best in the history of the college by the oldest inhabitant present.

Mrs. Sprague, Miss Treat and Mrs. Cass chaperoned.

Midnight came entirely too soon, and every one left with the same question—"Why not have a dance here in Cloverleaf every two weeks, at least?" The girls said it wasn't much work; they are willing—does anyone object?

Verdelle Crabbe Recital

Verdelle Crabbe, a pupil of Mrs. Orpha Grey of the Rollins school of expression, gave a very interesting recital Monday night at the Winter Park Women's club. Miss Crabbe wore an attractive gown of white crepe de chene embroidered in black silk. She showed excellent training in her perfect poise and ease of delivery. By means of her well modulated voice, she gave unusual expression to her various readings.

After the first three groups of readings, Miss Crabbe was assisted by four well known Rollins vocal artists, Alvin Kroehle, Herb Thayer, Tommy Quinn and Phil Reese, who sang in harmony "That Old Gang of Mine."

The last number on the program was a modern one-act play, "Overtones," by Alice Gerstenberg. It was a very typical satire on society shams. Two society women, Harriet and Margaret played by Miss Crabbe and Madeline Leinard, were shown along with their respective inner selves or true selves, Hetty and Maggie played by Kathleen Sherman and Hildegard Robinson. Each polished, polite remark that Margaret would make to Harriet would be supplemented by some bitter but truthful remark of Maggie to Hetty.

All four girls are to be congratulated upon their almost professional stage-poise. Miss Sherman and Miss Robinson were very clever as the two sarcastic inner selves, while Miss Crabbe and Miss Leinard were perfect as two polished society ladies.

In all, Miss Crabbe is to be congratulated on her very interesting and entertaining program.

SCHEDULED CLOVERLEAF PICNIC IS POSTPONED

Cloverleaf's picnic for the entire college, which was to have been held tomorrow evening, was postponed because of the Alumni and Field day picnics which were both scheduled for next week. However, since the time of the postponement of the Cloverleaf picnic, the date for the Alumni picnic has also been set ahead. It is thought that the Cloverleaf affair will take place the second week in May. No date for the Alumni picnic has been set at the time of going to press.

Just what will follow the Field Day activities next week has not been definitely announced.

Wettstein Recital

Charlotte Wettstein of the Rollins school of expression will give a recital tonight, April 18, at Knowles hall. Miss Wettstein will entertain with several readings after which she will be assisted by five other students in a play entitled "His Japanese Wife." Her leading man will be George Bishop, who is very experienced in dramatics, having played in the Michigan Men's Musical show last year. Other members of the cast are: Virginia Nagel, Billie Mulligan, Robert Chandler and Ted McCowan.

Sigma Phi

Sigma Phi sorority wishes to announce as pledges: Miss Dora Gaston of Oxford, New York, and Miss Cathleen Sherman of Bar Harbor, Maine.

Alumni Notes

COMSTOCK BOOKLET

Students and the alumni of the college received last week a copy of "Selfhood is Responsibility," a booklet written by William C. Comstock, Rollins trustee. Harry A. Nickerson, Rollins alumnus, now counselor at law at 201 Devonshire street, Boston, Massachusetts, writes as follows in regard to this booklet:

April 11, 1924.

Rollins College

Attention of Mr. William C. Comstock
Winter Park, Florida

Today I received a copy of "Selfhood is Responsibility," written by Mr. Comstock. I read it with interest and approval. It seemed to me the work of both a great and a good man, who practices what he preaches.

I have a deep and abiding love for Rollins College. I have not one unpleasant thought connected with my stay there. The college is in truth my Alma Mater.

Those who attend college and pay their tuition fees little realize at the time that it is to the generosity and energy of such men as Mr. Comstock that they at small expense enjoy the education which will some day be looked upon as a jewel of great price.

May he remain the devoted friend of the college he has been in the past and live to enjoy the appreciation of the present undergraduates, when they come to realize how much the college has meant and done for them.

Yours truly,

Harry A. Nickerson.

ORLANDO AD CLUB

Those of the business administration school will be interested to know that the Orlando Ad club offers a unique opportunity to hear some famous men in the advertising field of our country, and especially the South, and to enter into round-table discussions with these men after their speeches.

Walter Seeley of New York, the new editor of Success Magazine, will address the club at the Grand Theatre, Monday, April 28, at 6 o'clock. Here is a fine opportunity to hear a big man. Also Frank Kay Anderson, head of the advertising department of the Florida department of the American Fruit Growers and representative of the Carr Advertising company, will give the second of a series of symposiums on advertising.

Winter Park is getting a little recognition in the club. Recently Mr. Anderson, who has his home here was made president of the organization, succeeding Mr. Karl Lehmann. Also at the last meeting of the club Messrs. A. J. Hanna and Warren M. Ingram were voted into membership.

ON WHAT DAY DO YOU WANT FIELD DAY NEXT WEEK? was the question asked at random by a Sandspur reporter for this week's Enquiring Reporter column. The answers of the first ten students interviewed follow:

Annabeth Wilson—Wednesday.
Eva Thompson—Wednesday.
Max Henderson—Wednesday.
Robert Colville—Wednesday.
Bill La Froos—Wednesday.
Anne Hall—Wednesday.
Dolly Darrow—Wednesday.
Chick Lawrence—Wednesday.
John Bostwick—Wednesday.
Bill Hickey—Wednesday.

Scotty: "What are you going to be when you get out of college?"
Blinker—"A very old man."

A. MAXWELL SLOAN APPOINTED GRADUATE MANAGER ATHLETICS

An action taken by the Alumni council at the April meeting which is destined to be an important factor in the development of the college and do much to consolidate alumni support of the undergraduates activities, was the creation of the office of graduate manager of athletics, and the appointment of A. Maxwell Sloan, ex-'23, to that position. Mr. Sloan has accepted and has already begun work on the intercollegiate program for 1924-25.

In putting forward this movement, the Alumni council is planning to carry out the system of alumni support of the intercollegiate program which is in vogue in the oldest and best organized colleges. It is expected that the graduate manager will be the official representative of the alumni in all sports of the institution, securing for the undergraduate activities, through the alumni, the moral and financial backing to which the intercollegiate schedules are entitled; assist the Faculty committee and the Football and Aquatic board in financing schedules; popularize and enlarge interest in Rollins athletics; cooperate with the Faculty committee in supervising the work of the undergraduate managers; cooperate in the general publicity of the various schedules; and represent the alumni in the enforcement of eligibility regulations.

In the election of Mr. Sloan to this position, the Alumni council is very fortunate in carrying out its policy to assist the college in the work of the future. He is a two letter man, having been a member of the basketball team for two years, and captain one year. He was manager of the baseball team the last year that organization enjoyed championship honors and also played one year. He is a leader in college work and enthusiastic about the future prospects of Rollins as an athletic center.

Mr. Sloan is a progressive business man of Winter Park and will, without question, receive the interested support of the citizens of Winter Park in his efforts to finance the Rollins schedules.

I would I were a gondolier
Upon the Venetian Ocean
Where I could whisper words of love
And tell of my devotion.

I would I were a knight of old
And quartered in old France
Where I could whisper words of love
And compliment her dance.

I'm longing for a foreign land
(Although our girls are fine)
They always say to words of love,
"Where did you get that line?"

Emery: "I could dance to heaven with you."

Fair Damsel: "Can you reverse?"

Tar and Feathers

We found the following in one of last year's Sandspurs:

Oh saddest words

Once a chicken,
Now a hen.

Next week the librarian will write us an article on "The Library as a Social Center."

* * *

Ye writer has heard about the Rollins Field day for next week.

* * *

On Tuesday or Thursday students would commandeer shovels, axes and so forth and work all day on the campus.

* * *

A worthy cause.

It is understood that the day would be a holiday.

* * *

"A dance or college picnic would follow the Field day activities," says The Sandspur.

* * *

Some one with an eye for business suggested that this momentous day be closed by a condensed picnic. A concentrated affair.

Which would be more than welcome on Tuesday or Thursday when Rollins students are so overburdened with classes.

The coming Cloverleaf picnic, the much advertised Alumni picnic, the Field day picnic and the possible and much preferred Field day dance could all be combined in one,—Picnic.

Hurray!

Regular old-fashioned TNT. Ought to be a powerful affair!

Four in one.

Trouble is, it seems too much like celebrating Christmas, Thanksgiving and New Year's, with the Fourth of July thrown in, all on April Fool's day.

Still, it has its advantages.

greatest fight St. Pete has ever fought on the Rollins course. Duval, Miami, Daytona with Fred Earnhart, state record holder for the 100-yard breast stroke, and other strong teams may upset any dope that is now available.

Sport lovers may well forget all regular duties during the meet next week and plan to spend the day on the shores of Lake Virginia. St. Petersburg reports that a crowd of citizens 400 strong will journey to Winter Park for this fifth annual State Interscholastic meet. Tampa will send a large delegation. Miami, Daytona, Jacksonville, Tallahassee, Ft. Myers and many other distant cities will send representatives with their teams and all central Florida will be there. It is going to be a great day for Florida high school boys and girls.

FREEMAN SONG CONTEST WILL TAKE PLACE SOON

Mrs. W. D. Freeman offers two prizes to the two classes at Rollins which will learn the college songs the quickest and best before the latter part of May. Final date for the contest, contest rules and the amounts of the prizes will be available next week and will be announced then.

Several hundred copies of college songs will be distributed next Monday, and the Song Contest committee will announce the time for song practices at that time. The freshman class has decided to win one of the prizes in order to defray the cost of freshman representation in the Tomokan.

THE FIRST THING

J. F. Taintor

I believe in that which is fundamental. I say this without even a side glance at the modern discussion, which capitalizes the word and adds an 's'. I believe in that which is first.

I believe in other things: Repentance, Conversion, Faith, Hope, Love. These are all elements essential to the Christian life and to Christian living, but they are altogether, so to say, wrapped up in the germ to which I assign the first place.

When Jesus began His ministry, He found certain men who responded to His preaching, and who seemed to Him possessed of the character needed in His disciples. He went to them one by one, and He said to them, "Follow me." That was all. They followed Him and, in that act, they became His disciples long before other essential things were magnified as necessary to Christian living. "Follow me", that was the first command of Jesus to individual men, that was the first condition of discipleship, that was the sole condition.

I am not concerned to know whether, logically, psychologically, theologically, or chronologically, repentance and conversion and faith and other things must not come before one could or would follow. I leave all such distinctions to those who like to discuss them. Jesus did not make any such refined analysis. He said to James and John, to Andrew and Peter and to Matthew, "Follow me." They rose up and followed him, and in that act, however complicated its simplicity may be, they became Christians.

I think that is true today. To be a Christian means to follow Christ, to accept his leadership, to commit one's life to him for guidance. And I wish that all college students and all young people everywhere could somehow lay hold of that fact. That is the first thing, and there is no need for us to bewilder our minds with theological discussions or doctrinal disputes of any sort. So far as the essence of Christian living is concerned, so far as salvation is concerned, things that call for argument and debate are not worth debate and argument.

I do not make light of these other things; they are matters of profound significance, they mightily influence our thinking and our living; but they are second, or at least they are involved in that which is first.

I once read Dornier's "Person of Christ" and Julius Muller's "Doctrine of Sin"; and I studied Professor Park's theory of "Inspiration"; and his ponderous volume on "The Atonement", in epitomized form, has a place in my note books. These were all fine. They were, in earlier days, interesting; but there was in no one of them anything that could not easily be disputed, or anything, therefore, that is essential to becoming a Christian or to living a Christian life.

What do I think of these things—these ancient and modern questionings? What is that to thee? Jesus says: "Follow thou me."

She: Didn't you love last week-end?
He: No, I didn't have a date.

Superhuman Task Ahead

When a large publishing company recently announced the purchase of a manuscript entitled "What's wrong with the Women?" the typesetters immediately gave up their jobs.—Sun Dial.

presented an autographed book of his poems to each member of the Tau Lambda Delta fraternity. He was the guest of Tau Lambda Delta while in Winter Park.

The following letter from Mr. Markham was read Thursday at the Florida Press association's annual meeting at Cocoa. Mr. Markham was to address this meeting but was unable to do so:
 12 April, 1924.

Mr. Frank Kay Anderson

Winter Park, Florida.

My dear Mr. Anderson:

Your invitation to take part in the program of the annual meeting of the Florida Press Ass'n has reached me, and I thank you for proposing that I speak to so powerful a body of men and women. I am not able to accept this opportunity due to the fact that I am returning to New York tomorrow.

However, I wish to seize this occasion to say that this is my second visit to your great state, and I am hoping that I shall have many other visits ahead. I closed recently a month of talks on Poetry at Rollins College in the City of Winter Park which, I believe, is destined to become a Mecca a rallying place, for men and women of the pen—for intellectuals who will help greatly in spreading the fame of Florida over the nation. This beautiful state has so many achievements already and possesses so many undeveloped possibilities that she is unquestionably standing on the frontier of an ever-increasing prosperity and greatness.

I have observed many progressive features in the newspapers of Florida. A spirit of fair dealing and a high moral tone are conspicuous. I congratulate the editors of Florida on their opportunity to render a great service to a young, vigorous and growing people. Sincerely yours,

EDWIN MARKHAM.

Phi Alpha Anniversary

Phi Alpha celebrated its twentieth anniversary with an informal dance at the fraternity house. Guests of the fraternity were: Dicky Dixon, Fannie Mae Barnes, Anne Hall, Dorothy Grey, T. P. Paige, Eleanor Pressey, Margaret McKay, Edna Wallace, Betty Dickinson, Virginia Davis, Grace Jacquith, Billy Mulligan, Annabeth Wilson, Lucile Kingsley, Mrs. N. B. Newell, Mrs. Cass and William Newell.

ROLLINS' GIRLS, HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

Shoe "Exit" Table

THIS WAY OUT at $4.85

Watch for your size on this table, it may appear any day at any hour. No matter what the style, quality, or price, when a number is reduced to a certain few pairs, they are put on the "Exit" table, and out they go at $4.85.

High grade foot wear, new and style right, at a great saving in price. They will be as carefully fitted as when sold at their original prices.

This method has been adopted to keep our stock always in a clean up-to-the-minute correctness.
