TARS OPEN SEASON WITH GATORS AT GAINESVILLE; TARS HARD AT WORK; ROLLINS HAS MANY VETERANS BACK

The Tars open their schedule with the Gators at Gainesville on October 4. The Tars started working out last Monday and Coach Duyck is working hard to mold a team into shape for the opener, not two weeks away. Of course it is too early yet to try to predict anything about the team, but from the looks of the squad the Gators will have no easy time putting away the Tars.

Stetson originally had the date but owing to a misunderstanding which led to the canceling of the game by the University, Rollins was placed on the Gator schedule. The Gators have been at it every day for the past three weeks. Two weeks were spent at St. Augustine where they were put thru the intensive preliminary training. The reports from the Gator camp show that they are in splendid condition.

Thirty-five men reported to Coach Duyck last Monday. All the men are in first class condition. Most of them have been working at manual labor all summer in mills, mines and factories. Several of last year's letter men are back with the addition of some fine new material, the chances for a successful season are very bright.

Bob Wilson, last year's center, is back on the job and will more than likely hold down the same position this year. Bob had four years high school football before coming to Rollins last year and he proved himself more than able to take care of any of his opponents. Bob is also a wonder at backing up the line.

ALUMNI MAKES PLANS FOR COMING SEMESTER

The Alumni Council of Rollins composed of eleven business and professional men and women graduates while in conference with President Weir recently assured him of their hearty support in his new plans for the College, and in addition to its regular program of work the Council will enter into every activity in which Dr. Weir wishes it to participate.

The Council during the summer has played a large part in securing new students for the present year and this work will go forward. The Council will work toward the five hundred mark and with the present selective program Rollins is sure to have always a student body of the highest type and a group that will come to work and produce real results.

The Alumni Record, edited by A. J. Hanna, is an attractive publication going out monthly to graduates, former students and friends of the College and every student ought to secure the Record, read it and mail it to the home folks. This will connect

ROLLINS CANCELS GAME WITH STETSON; REFUSAL OF STETSON TO SIGN RULES OF ELIGIBILITY GIVEN AS REASON

FRESHMAN RULES

- I As soon as Green Caps arrive at Leedy's, all Freshmen will procure one and wear it on all occasions.
- II You must tip your cap upon meeting an upper-classman and step off the walk.
- III Freshmen will open all doors for upper-classmen.
- IV Freshmen girls will see that the walks around Cloverleaf are swept clean at all times.
- V Rooms belonging to freshmen girls must be ready for inspection before the breakfast bugle.
- VI Freshmen girls must be present at breakfast every morning. No excuses allowed.
- VII Positively no freshmen allowed to use alarm clocks. There is a dire penalty for disobeying this rule.
- VIII All College songs must be memorized by October 2.
- IX Freshmen must compose a song to be sung on the beanery steps before lunch every day after October 1.
- X These rules must be memorized and be repeated immediately when called upon to do so.
- XI At all times freshmen must conduct themselves in a manner befitting their measly station.

Rollins has cancelled the football game which was to be played with Stetson University on October 11. Graduate manager Sloan and manager Draa sent contracts to Stetson for the game last Friday. The date specified by Rollins was not satisfactory to Stetson and was changed. During the conference over the change of date, McQuillan, Stetson coach, stated that he had several migratory men who had come to Stetson unsolicited and who were going to play football this year. Manager Sloan at once told him that such a thing was in violation of the Florida College Association rules. McQuillan stated that he could not help it, that he got his orders from higher up and that he was not responsible. Mr. Sloan and Manager Draa at once conferred with President Weir and the members of the Athletic board. Dr. Weir at once said that there would be no game unless Stetson agreed to abide by the agreement which she signed with Rollins and Southern at Lakeland last year.

Mr. Sloan at once got in touch with McQuillan and told him that Rollins was cancelling the game and would cease athletic relations with Stetson until such a time as Stetson saw fit to abide by the rules of the Association. Mr. McQuillan stated that he was sorry, but that he was under orders and could do nothing. McQuillan also stated that he had heard rumors that Rollins had several "ringers." Mr. Sloan at once told him that our eligibility list was open for inspection and that he would

SANDSPUR VACANCIES WILL BE FILLED SOON

Owing to the inability of some of the students, who were on the staff at the close of last year, to return this fall, several vacancies were left among the department editors. These vacancies will be filled sometime next week. These editors are usually picked from the Journalism Department, since the work in that department fits in with the Sandspur work and because the students who are taking the Journalism course are better fitted for the work. Students who show ability as news writers and who show originality in their work are usually chosen. The Sandspur work will prove invaluable to those who intend to follow journalism as a vocation and is useful to a student whether he takes up that line of work or not.

Professor Hill, of the Journalism Department, and the editor will choose the ones best fitted for the work sometime during the first part of the week in order that they may be in readiness for the next issue. The ad-

Interest and Enthusiasm Mark First Chapel Meeting; Dr. Weir Talks to Freshmen

Interest and enthusiasm marked the opening of the chapel exercises last Wednesday morning. Dr. Weir in his address gave the keynote of the plans for this year. He set forth the things which he is interested in doing and seeing done at Rollins. He addressed himself especially to the Freshmen. He said that on entering college the new man makes choices which govern and change his whole life. He stressed the point that success lies in being ready for your opportunities. "It is a privilege to go to college and to graduate from one, since less than 1% of the population of the United States are college graduates."

Sophomores Soon to Put Clamps on Frosh; New Rules Formulated

The iron hand of the Sophomores will soon clamp down on the lowly Frosh. Just a few more days liberty for the greeners and then comes the grind. Hat tipping, side stepping and the numerous other activities usually assigned to the freshies will be in vogue. Mr. Leedy's supply of green caps will soon be in and then the work will start in earnest. Committees for taking charge of the rats have been appointed and are hard at work on the plans for the campaign. The time honored customs will be followed out with, of course, several modern ideas added. The rats this year are very green, greener than usual, if that is possible, and several of them

Community Reception Set for Saturday, 27

On Saturday, September 27, at the Woman's Club will be held the annual reception of the town of Winter Park to the Faculty, and students of Rollins and the teachers of the public school. This event is always looked forward to by the students. It is their first real chance to get acquainted with everybody. The event is being sponsored by the Woman's Club, the Business Men's Club, the Methodist church, the Congregational church, the Episcopal church, the Baptist church and all other organizations in town.

The Woman's Club building, on Interlachen avenue, is one of the town's most beautiful buildings. It is here that all social events at which everybody gets together are held. Thruout the year dances and parties are held quite often. The reception room is large and is beautifully arranged.

Recruits Are Needed for Chapel Orchestra

Recruits are needed for the chapel orchestra. The orchestra is making a splendid showing and is one of the main attractions that chapel holds. But according to Ray More, who has charge of the personnel of the orchestra, more material is needed. He states that a greater variety of instruments is wanted and wishes anyone who plays any kind of musical instrument from a jews-harp to a bass horn to report to him. He says that since you have to go to chapel anyhow you might as well make a little money out of it and at the same time add to the enjoyment of the exercises.

The orchestra from last year is almost intact and with several new additions will soon be rivaling the best orchestras in the country. The pay is one dollar an hour, and includes a reserved seat on the platform.

LET'S GO TO GAINESVILLE

Well, now that the long pain of registration is over and work has begun in earnest, we can heave a sigh of relief. The old saying is that the first seven years are the hardest and it applies very well to the school year—the first seven days are the hardest. After a while tho we get our work on a more systematic basis, football season starts and we get a taste of the old Rollins spirit. The Gator game on October 4, is going to take all we've got to win. Let's work up a little of that old Rollins spirit right now. The boys will do the fighting but we've got to help 'em out. Let's get up to Gainesville somehow next Saturday and help Rollins win.

FRESHMEN SHOWING SPIRIT

Last week a member of the staff walked across the football field and what did he see but a whole gang of Freshies, supervised by several Sophomores, industriously (more or less) picking sandspurs. That's the right spirit. If you can't play football you can help the boys out by eliminating a few millions of the sandspurs which are covering the field and which are making life miserable for the Tars. It's a painful sensation, to say the least, to take a spill and get up covered with sandspurs. Besides being painful they cause infection and might be the cause of the loss of some of our men, and we can't afford that. So keep up the good work, rats. It won't take over a week or two to get them all.

Tomorrow witnesses the first football scrimmage of this season, the Varsity vs. the "Tar Babies!" While the teams were out biting the dust in practice games, we were all standing around, bubbling over with enthusiasm and not thinking of a single yell to encourage our classmates with. That is bad, but we'll be able to survive a yell-less game this time, since they are both Rollins teams. In the next game, however, both teams will not be from Rollins. That's the game with Gainesville and it's less than two weeks off. And it does make a great deal of difference which team wins. If our boys win, we want to be able to give an appropriate demonstration of our thanks; if they lose, let us be able to drown the disappointment in good rousing cheers that show we appreciate our team at any time.

There are a great many new students at Rollins this year—most of them fresh from high school—and most of them with a good stock of throat splitting football encouragers. If any of you know any cheers that are in the least bit new, or even any old ones that haven't become too yell seasoned the Sandspur staff will be mighty glad to get hold of them to print in the issue. Old Rollins yells will appear in this same issue and—let's have yell practice.

V. L.

THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

As I stood on the field yesterday afternoon and witnessed the first gathering of the Rollins Tars me thought that no finer body of young American manhood ever answered their institution's call to colors.

I was pleased and gratified also with the utterances of Coach Duyck in his preliminary instructions to the "line."

Therefore in this initial contribution to the Sandspur, I desire to briefly continue my reflections awakened there.

Regardless of the fact that here and there unworthy college executives and faculties have lowered scholarship standards in the interest of the athlete, and oftentimes granted unnecessary concessions to certain brilliant players; no thinking person can deny that physical sports have an important place in a modern college. The play impulse is natural to grown up life as well as to the child life.

The question naturally arises—what are the chief values and benefits of college athletics? They are legion—The keen delight that any healthy young man ought to feel in competitive sports that try his skill and courage; the joy of comradeship in struggle and achievement; the high and worthy sense of losing one's self in the spirit of the whole body; the pride and satisfaction that comes from any fair-earned victory. I am sure that all this comes from the realization that one has striven not so much for one's own glory as for the glory of the college. As Coach Duyck stated yesterday: "I do not want any man to go strutting around, saying, I play on the team; learn to say 'we' play on the team, for you are doing no more than the weak thin chested student who is tearing his lungs out on the sidelines." GREAT! That is the spirit that begets the soul of the college.

All honor to the Princeton man, when his leg was broken on the football field, rejoiced that it was not one of the first team that was hurt. It is the essence of education to be able to work with others to a common end. The real college athlete dispises a "knocker," the "mucker." He is a good loser as well as a good winner. He may play the fiercest game ever seen on the gridiron, and yet keep the speech and manners of a gentleman. That is the kind of an athlete that Rollins is standing for this year. The qualities that the Coach is expecting to develop this season are—alertness, self-restraint, resolution, judgment, unselfishness, self-control under any and all circumstances as well as prompt decision in sudden emergency.

Here we have the physical, mental and moral attributes that will make of every individual who dons the Rollins uniform a MAN.

dition of these new members to the staff will improve the paper and should soon bring it up to standard.

Miss Vaudine Logan, a graduate of Hillsboro High School, Tampa, has been appointed associate editor. Miss Logan edited the Red and Black, the Hillsboro Hi paper, last year. She has had quite a lot of newspaper experience and is now handling the publicity at the college.

Miss Treat: Wouldn't you like to have Dickie's and Billie's old room in Cloverleaf, Mrs. Cass?

Mrs. Cass: I would, Miss Treat, but it is so noisy down there and I like to be quiet.

Miss Treat: Oh, well, you know Dickie and Billie won't be there.

PHI ALPHA HOUSE PARTY

The Phi Alphas entertained with a two day house party at Daytona Beach last Saturday and Sunday. The meeting place was DeLand and the boys and girls from the North met the boys and girls from the South at 1:40 Saturday.

After the excitement of the meeting subsided somewhat the girls, Phi Alphas, pledges and friends of Phi Alpha loaded into cars and soon were in the surf at Daytona.

About 20 couples made up the party and after a swim and picnic supper on the beach the Clarendon ball room furnished a back ground for the evening's entertainment.

The energetic ones indulged in a swim at daybreak Sunday and one by one all turned out in time for a dinner at The Breakers.

About five o'clock the cars were all loaded and headed for Winter Park and before eight all were once more on the old Rollins campus, with one more enjoyable event to remember.

SIGMA PHI HONORS MRS. WEIR

On Wednesday, September 24, Sigma Phi Sorority entertained in honor of Mrs. Weir at the Woman's Club. During the afternoon a musical program was given by members of the Sorority assisted by Virginia Richardson. At the conclusion of the program dainty refreshments appropriately carrying out the colors of the Sorority were served by members. The afternoon gave an opportunity for the townspeople and students to become acquainted.

The program:

Piano Solo—Miss Grace Jaquith
Reading—Miss Marion Mulligan
Vocal Solo—Edwina Parkinson.
Flute Solo—Edna Wallace.

Miss Treat is depending so on her old girls, to set an example you know for the new ones.

These northern Sheiks certainly are salt water sharks. You should have seen them at Daytona battling with the wild waves.

The hardest thing about registration this year seems to be getting by the entrance committee. You wouldn't believe Walter could be so hard boiled, would you.

Everybody is developing a craze for giving teas, and they're all in honor of President Weir and his wife. They're a lot of fun anyway and everyone seems glad to go to one.

Mrs. J. K. List and the Kappa Epsilon Fraternity entertained the student body of Rollins College at a Garden party yesterday at Mrs. List's home on New England avenue, to meet Mrs. William C. Weir.

Who says Rollins isn't going to have a college orchestra this year. Chase Hall claims two saxaphones, one mandolin, a couple of violins, and just loads of combs. And by the sounds that have been coming from the fraternity houses, they must both have a brass band apiece.

Somebody claims that a bureau was thrown down the stairs in Cloverleaf last night. Nothing serious Eddie was just having a nightmare.

Scotty is trying so hard to be a woman hater, but alas! With all these school teachers and co-eds around, it's getting to look pretty hopeless.

There has been some wonderful resolutions passed this year, especially among the girls. Two of them have sworn off men and intend to spend their time in solitude studying Greek and all that deep stuff.

Cloverleaf is real excited about all these new boys. Well, you'll have to admit, they do look like Valentinos.

Coach Duyck may be small but he sure does know how to make people work. And you know somebody said he wasn't going to let the football boys go with girls. The girls are all singing that song, "What'll I Do."

INTEREST AND ENTHUSIASM MARK FIRST CHAPEL MEETING

"The road that you are entering will not be an easy one. Some of you may be sent home for failing to live up to the requirements, others because of your own self-developed code, are out of place in college. College is not the place of magic which you have been dreaming, it is a place where you will have hard knocks as well as some good times. Success in college depends on work, common sense, decency and earnestness. The old idea that college is a place to have a good time and loaf away four years is gone. The student who thinks that way is doomed to failure."

"I have in mind a saying of one of the old philosophers, it is this, 'I think, therefore I am'. Real existence is in thought so this might be added to that, 'I can, therefore I will'.

"I am happy to inform you that scholarship and moral training are not the only ideas of college. There is indeed much more. The college world lies in a purple haze of sentiment, romance and the formation of lifelong friendships. Here at Rollins let us have this overflow of sentiment inspired to comradeship. Over and above the regular courses of study, such influences are of greatest importance and will have much to do with the shaping of character."

Following his address Dr. Weir called on Dean Sprague, the four ministers, the Mayor of Winter Park and several other citizens, for greetings. After that he introduced each member of the faculty and each of them gave a little talk, welcoming the students and explaining their work.

A student brought his mother to the university and was showing her about. The dear old lad was anxious to make her bo think that she understood everything.

"Over there, mother," said the son, "are our wonderful polo fields."

"Ah," sighed the old lady, "what is there that is nicer than fields of waving polo."

Ray Colado actually spent $1.50 on his best girl down town the other night. He would have spent more, but she didn't have any more money with her.

Nat—"Where did you go?"
Nut—"Out to the graveyard."
Nat—"Anybody dead?"
Nut—"Yes," (gloomily), "All of them."

up the student activities with alumni activities and make for a better year.

A. Max Sloan, Graduate Manager of Athletics, and "Six" Sutliff, Chairman of the Alumni Committee on Athletics will continue to assist in any way to make athletics at Rollins a great activity. If you know of up and coming athletes at home that will do Rollins honor, get in touch with these athletic officials that they may in turn get in touch with them for another year.

Dr. Weir and the real friends of Rollins are looking forward and working on toward that place when Rollins will have increased endowment, new buildings and a selected enrollment of five hundred students. These are not far distant. In fact students and friends will soon wonder how rapidly plans have developed.

In these new plans for Old Rollins every student will have an opportunity to play his part. The greater result in the individual student and the student body as a unit, will mean the more rapid development of new plans for the institution every graduate and former student has come to love.

The Alumni Council as well as all alumni stand ready to assist every student in every possible way. The Council simply needs but to find out your needs and students will find alumni ever ready to make this year the greatest year in the life of every student present.

Sexton Johnson, President of the Alumni Association, Warren Ingram, Chairman of the Alumni Council, Ray Greene, Secretary of both bodies, A. J. Hanna, Editor of the Record and other alumni wish to become acquainted with each student, know better how best the alumni can serve you, thereby connecting up that large body of young people that will ever be loyal to dear Old Rollins.

are showing signs of needing toning down.

A list of the Freshman rules is given elsewhere on this page and the advice of the Sophomores to the rats is that they memorize them as soon as possible and be governed by them. Warning has been given the rats of the consequences of breaking any of these rules.

At the Sophomores last meeting committees were appointed to keep the rats under watchful eyes. So the frosh will have to be careful how they step in the near future.

Owing to the size of the Freshman class this year the Sophs will probably have to elicit some help from the two upper classes, who will no doubt be glad to render aid to so noble an enterprise. The Juniors, who usually are onlookers at the ceremonies, will be called into action when the time comes. Announcements of further action of the Sophomores will be made in the Sandspur from time to time.

TARS OPEN SEASON WITH GATORS AT GAINESVILLE

Bill Lafroos, who played guard last year is back after three month's hard work during the summer. Bill tips the bar at about 190 and is invaluable on the line being a strong man on both offense and defense. Bill also had four years high school experience.

Guy Colado, tackle and one of Rollins shining stars last year will be out this year. Guy is a hard hitter and is strong on the defense.

These men will form the nucleus about which Coach Duyck will build his team. The new material coming in from high schools is all experienced and Coach has uncovered some real football players. Due to the short time before the game Coach is working the boys doubly hard in order to shape them into condition. The line will be heavy and some hefty back-field material is out, tho of course no lineup has been announced. The first few days of practice consisted of falling on the ball, running and so forth. Some light scrimmage will be done next week.

Students who wish to accompany the team to Gainesville are advised to make their arrangements as soon as possible. It is hoped that a large delegation of students will turn out at Fleming field to help Rollins tar and feather the Gators. A large number of townspeople and students have already signified their intentions of going. There has been no announcement of a special train as yet and because of the short time remaining until the game it will probably be impossible to arrange for one. But even at that, the fare to Gainesville is small compared to the enjoyment the Rollins rooters will get watching the Tars whip the Gators. Let's go!

ROLLINS CANCELS GAME WITH STETSON

appreciate any help he could get in finding any ineligible men, and that Rollins intended at all times to live up to her agreements.

Mr. Sloan expressed the attitude of the students and the townspeople when he said that since Rollins had been a party to the signing of the rules of the Florida State College Athletic Association, she would be as guilty as Stetson, should she play Stetson under the existing conditions.

Manager Sloan stated that Southern would probably follow the action of the University of Florida and Rollins in cancelling on Stetson, since Southern was one of the signers of the Association rules, and like Rollins will be ready to stand by them.

It is difficult to understand why Stetson should take such a stand, after agreeing to live up to the Association rules. It is certain that neither Rollins nor the University of Florida will meet them athletically until they change their attitude.

The large stage affords ample room for programs and plays, of which there are usually quite a number.

It is hoped that all the students will attend this affair. Members of the Woman's Club, Men's Club and the different churches will form the receiving line to welcome the guests. A general good time is assured everybody. Don't forget, Saturday, September 27.

There was a young man named Goreham,
Bought him some trousers and wore 'em.

He stooped and laughed,
For he felt a slight draft,
And he knew darned well he had tore 'em.

I'll say this for the movies,
'Though I'm no movie fiend:
They're very free from coarse jokes
As all the jokes are screened.

First Actress: When I came out, the audience simply sat there open-mouthed.

Second Actress: Oh, nonsense! They never yawn all at once.

"What a rotten boulder you turned out to be," murmured the girl distastefully, looking for a more lively tennis ball.

"Pardon me, but do the Fisks live here?"

"Why, er ye-e-es, but they're retired."

Nip—I bet Roman prisoners were terrors in their college days.

Tuck—Don't say!

Nip—Yep, it says here they paddled the Roman galleys.

Prof: Why are you always late to class?

Stude: Because of a sign I have to pass on my way here.

Prof.: What has that to do with it?

Stude: Why it says, "School ahead:
Go Slow!"

Fresh—Who is the smallest man in history?

Soph—I give up.

Fresh—Why, the Roman soldier who slept on his watch.

Big dope plot frustrated! Cop arrests cold with a bottle of quinine.

The 300-pounder walked into the doctor's office.

"Doctor," she said, "what are the chances of my getting thin."

Answered the doctor, "Fat chance."

At the Dorm Dance—"Say, have you tried the new steps?"

"No, are they any softer than the fire escape?"

"I guess I'm going to be an undertaker after all," said the hobo, snatching a pair of B V D's from the line.

Piano Tuner (to little boy at door)
—Son, have you any musical instruments that need tuning?

Boy—Naw, but maybe my sister's beau will let you tune him. Ma sed he wasn't high toned 'nuff for us.

A man of considerable wt.
Once tried to hop on a frt.,
But he fell on his neck
And piled up a wreck—
A feat we should not imitt.

"To knock the queen is treason," said Sir Walter Raleigh, "but I just couldn't resist giving her that little wrap."

"You never can, Tell" whispered an onlooker as William got set to knock the apple off his son's head.

"I hear Reggie's new flame has about flickered out."

"Yes, but he still speaks of her in glowing terms."

She (parting)—Well, give me a ring some time.

He—Can't afford it. How'll a pin do?

Frosh: I hear they have some corking suits up at the tailors.

Ditto: Yes, Jim just bought one yesterday; he said he couldn't swim.

1: I just passed by the ex-Kaiser's home and heard him singing.

2: What was he singing?

1: Ain't gonna reign no mo'!

"She's some vamp."

"How come. Have you been out with her?"

"Nah, I saw her rollin' eyes in a needle factory."

Let's go to Wilming, Pa."

"Son, call daddy 'father'."

Irate Father—Why did you ever run away with that lawyer?

Daughter—Father, dear, didn't you tell me always to follow your counsel.

"If Education makes one refined," asks Black & Blue Jay. "Why is a college course?"

"I didn't know you were a local girl!"

"I'm not slow, if that's what you mean."

A cabinet maker is not always the village gossip but he certainly can keep his bedstead well posted.

The main difference between a girl chewing her gum and a cow chewing her cud, is that the cow generally looks thoughtful.

Peggy: Why do they call Sally
"Pretzels" and Harry "Beer?"

Reggie: They used to go together.

"Thish match won't light."

"Washa madda with it?"

"I dunno,—it lit all right a minute ago."

A horse can travel a mile without moving more than four feet. Funny, isn't it?
