NEWBERRY COLLEGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY; TARS ALL SET FOR THE GAME; VARSITY IN SHAPE

The strong Newberry College team of South Carolina comes here next Thursday to do battle with the Tars. This will be the first game ever played in Florida under S. I. A. A. rules with the exception of the University of Florida's game.

Newberry's team will present some of the stiffest opposition that the Tars have met this year. Their exact strength is unknown but their team will be somewhat heavier than the Tars. The game will be played at the new field on the Orlando-Winter Park highway. This field is in good shape and it is being worked on now to get it in readiness for the game next week.

Hutchins, of Purdue, will referee the game. Hutchins is known as one of the best officials in the south. He umpired the Georgia Tech-Alabama game last week and has handled all of the University of Florida's games.

The Tars are in good shape after a hard week's work and will put in a couple of days of hard work before the game Thursday. Practically all the men who were on the injured list are in action again, and with the exception of Parker, whose knee has not fully recovered yet, the regular lineup will start against the Carolinians. The probable lineup will be: Shoemsmith and Potter, ends; Warner and Lafroos, tackles; Couch and Armstrong, guards; Boardman, center; (Continued on page 4)

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR SIGMA PHI PRIZE AWARD

A meeting was held Wednesday morning in Carnegie Hall by the committee on the Robert J. Sprague Public Speaking Contest established by Sigma Phi Sorority. This committee meeting was called in order to work out the details which will culminate in the first and second prizes to be given for the best oration, the first prize for the cleverest one act play and a prize for the most successful one act play produced. The specific details will be announced later, the general plan at present being to announce that the contest is open to all students on the campus. Try-outs will take place on or before the Christmas holidays and students who place at this time will compete for the prize sometime during Founder's Week.

The prizes offered are: Oration, first prize $25.00, second prize $15.00; One act play written $10.00; one act play produced $15.00.

The Robert J. Sprague Speaking Contest was established last year by the Sigma Phi sorority and the means for this contest was procured by two one act plays given by the sorority which proved successful. Every year Sigma Phi intends to give some affair or play which will enable them to make this contest an annual event.

Mr. and Mrs. Blank Arrive; Find Weather Not as Advertised

"Mr. and Mrs. 'Blank' arrived yesterday to spend the summer in Florida this winter," says the Winter Park Herald, while the college students say, "We arrived here last month to drown or to freeze. We have survived the flood but are succumbing gradually to the cold weather."

The parcel post has complained about the numerous heavy packages which continue to come to the college, but they withdrew all protests when, upon investigation, they found out that the boxes contained extra blankets, coats, sweaters, and even rugs, which the Kampus Kids had wired home for. One girl has sent for her ice skates in case Lake Virginia freezes over.

The only advantage of this cold weather lies in the opportunity to hold classes out on the side steps of Knowles Hall, like the Spanish class did Tuesday. Even this is bad for the students because some of the dear little girls who have been studying with Mrs. Grey for months learning how to sit gracefully were shockingly slouched over the stone steps while the boys were even more hopelessly draped thereon.

During the cold weather the swimming classes will have canoe practices. No doubt the men will welcome this news for then the girls can help them paddle the canoes when they go out on the lake.

The college lacks the one thing with which to combat this cold weather and that is an adequate heating system. If any one has any other suggestions to offer towards getting the students warmed up "all donations will be kindly received."

HILLIARD AND BUZZELL CHOSEN FROSH DEBATERS

Freshmen debaters, chosen Wednesday evening, October 22, are: Gene Buzzell and Paul Hilliard, with Gladys Wilkinson as alternate. The debate was the feature of the first regular meeting of the Delphic Society.

Two debates were held at Delphic's meeting. The question discussed in each was: Resolved, that there should be Federal censorship of the stage.

The teams in the order that they debated are: Affirmative, Asher Bard and Willard Hossack; negative, Paul Hillard and Vaudine Logan; affirmative, Maria La Flure and William Evans; negative, Gene Buzzell and Gladys Wilkinson.

PLANS FOR IRVING BACHELLER PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST ANNOUNCED FOR THIS YEAR; DATE SET FOR FEBRUARY 19th

Business Men's Club to Furnish Transportation to Bartow for Students

The Business Men's Club is giving Rollins a big boost for the Armistice Day game with Southern College at Bartow. A committee under the direction of Doctor Gary has arranged for cars to transport all Rollins students to Bartow to see the game on the eleventh. The team needs the support of all the students and the business men are making it a point to see that every student is on the sidelines when the whistle blows to help the Tars defeat the Methodists.

Doctor Gary stated that he has over thirty cars lined up and can get more if they are needed. He stated that the town will be practically deserted on Armistice Day, as everyone who has a car will be heading for Bartow.

Not much is known as yet concerning the strength of the Southern team with the exception that they held the powerful team of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina to a scoreless draw. Fort Benning swamped Southern 42-7, but the fact that they were able to score at all against such a strong team is proof that they have a good offense. The Tars should defeat them, but the game will be close and interesting as the Rollins-Southern games always are. Last year Rollins beat the Methodists 7-0.

Mrs. Edward Reece, formerly Peggy Race, an old student of Rollins, is rejoicing over the birth of a baby girl, Peggy Lee Ann. She is now living in Winter Haven.

Paul Potter, Buster Holly and Ted Potter motored down from Florida University to attend the K. E. house party at Bumby's Camp.

RESULTS OF FRATERNITY PLEDGE DAY ANNOUNCED

Thursday, October 23, was the annual pledge day for both the Phi Alpha and the Theta Kappa Nu Fraternities.

Bids were received immediately after breakfast and the men were given until 5 p. m. to make a choice. In the cases where two bids were received, the rivalry of the opposing factions was rather keen. This tends to indicate the popularity of both the fraternities with the student body.

Rollins, this year, has both a national and a local fraternity on its campus, thus demonstrating that the college is growing faster than ever.

The fraternities this year will be larger, owing to the greater enrollment of the student body. This ought to liven the social life of Rollins and provide a good time for everyone. (Continued on Page 6)

Irving Bacheller, the distinguished author, who is a winter resident of Winter Park, has established what is known as the Irving Bacheller Prize Contest. He offers as prizes, each year, two gold medals, one for boys and one for girls. The purpose of the contest is to stimulate interest among the students of the high schools of Florida in good English and in the history of Florida.

The contest is subject to the following conditions:

1. It is open only to students of the eleventh and twelfth grades in the Florida high schools.

2. The essay of each contestant must be upon one of the following subjects, typewritten, and containing not more than 1500 words:

1. Florida, as seen by the first Spaniards.

2. The Old Spanish Trail, 1620-1783.

3. Florida under English Rule, 1763-1783.

4. Florida in the '50's.

3. Each school may be represented by one girl or by one boy. In schools where several essays are submitted, the principal of the school shall decide which one shall represent the school. One essay for the boys and one for the girls shall be forwarded to the Contest Committee.

4. The essay must be signed with a fictitious name, and a sealed envelope containing a card bearing this (Continued on Page 6)

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ALUMNI COUNCIL TONITE

The Alumni Council of the Alumni Association of Rollins College meets tonight for their annual election of officers of the executive committee. The Alumni Council is composed of several graduates who are living in Winter Park and Orlando and some of whom are connected with the college.

Tonight the question of finances for the different projects which the Alumni is backing will be taken up. Athletics will hold the most prominent place in the discussion. The football situation will be discussed as well as the basketball and baseball.

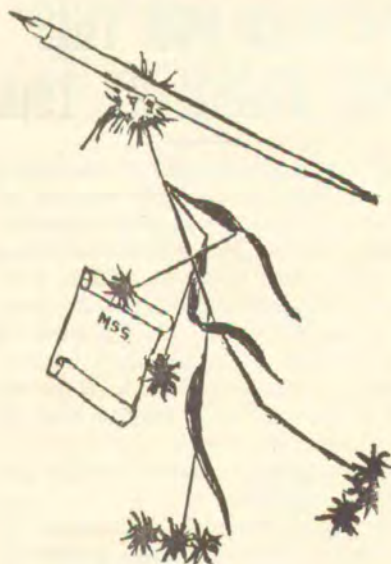

The council will also take up the matter of awards for the different branches of athletics. A cup for the winner of the men's singles in tennis has been offered by Mr. Nickerson, who graduated in '17 and who was a member of the Rollins tennis team for several years. It is the aim of the committee to procure another cup for the women's singles. The plan of awarding the cups will be taken up tonight. It is thought that the plan will be that a man must win the championship three years, not necessarily in succession, to gain the permanent ownership of the cup. A similar plan will be worked out for the girls.

HALLOWE'EN

Midnight! the hour of whispering things that are not. A lost wind whirling thru the black oaks. Slim, white figures clad in wisps of fairy goods creep stealthily up the steps of the old, old building. They gather about the door seeking admittance. One softly lays her hand on the knob. Slowly she turns it. The door does not move. The others shiver and moan. The matron had locked the door!

No, friend reader, this is not the opening to the "Among those departed" list from Cloverleaf. It's merely a mental picture of what may occur on the night of the 31st. It having long been a custom of the inmates of simple, childish faith to carry off from the beanery the peelings from their apple sauce and bring them at midnight to the back steps of Cloverleaf whither they must walk backwards to fling them over their left shoulder and cry out the initials of some lucky (?) member of the opposite sex.

This year Miss Treat is co-operating with Mrs. Stelle in the conservation of food resources and will see that all doors of Cloverleaf are locked at 9:15. Thus rendering it impossible for any girl to leave or enter the building after this hour.

So beware, ye blossoms among the Clover. Trust to fate to choose the He. Don't indulge in orgies with the valuable relics of the school.

EDITORIALIZING

The fact that he is no longer in a high school is the hardest lesson a man has to learn in his first year of collegiate work. Many of the students and not all of them are newcomers are signing their death penalty in regard to academic work. Instead of getting into their work at first, they are forgetting that the longer they wait, the harder it gets. They may be waiting for the third month to catch up, perhaps they are ignorant or have forgotten the penalty for this.

A freshman takes one of four paths when he enters the college and it is rarely that having started on one he will cross to another. He will either see in college nothing but grind; he may see nothing but athletics or it may be the school paper or the debating team; but lessons hang on to him where they can grab a hold in passing. One type is the sidelight of the former. He is at all football workouts and goes on all trips. He never goes out for sports himself. He is generally under size and is on probation half the time. No pep meeting is complete without him.

Another type is the combination of the first and second. He has usually got a mind and intends to use it. He is at college to develop and manipulate it. He is the type that usually succeeds.

SIGMA PHI RUSH WEEK

Sigma Phi Sorority rush week officially started Monday morning. The rushees were allowed a day of rest in which to catch up with their work so that Tuesday they would be ready for the busy whirl of entertainments that Sigma Phi had planned for them.

Invitations were issued for a theatre party at the Beacham Tuesday night to see the "Fast Set". This was thoroughly enjoyed by all, for various and sundry reasons. After the show Mrs. Stagg entertained at her home on Livingston Avenue and everyone was given a chance to tell what they had learned from the picture. Oh yes, don't forget the refreshments!

After a joint meeting of Y. W. and Y. M. Wednesday night, Mrs. Grey and Miss Niles, honorary members of Sigma Phi, were at home in their studios in Pinehurst to the Sorority and the rushees.

The honorary members of Sigma Phi were the hostesses at a formal dance at the Woman's Club Thursday night. The Club was attractively decorated in Hallowe'en colors and the Sorority colors, green and white, made their appearance when the time arrived for "eats". The Fort Pitt Orchestra furnished the music—need more be said?

Now last but by no means least in the program of the week comes the house party in Daytona Beach. Plans have been made for the chartering of a hotel for the week-end and everybody is on tiptoes for the time to go. More of the house party will be given next week.

K. E. HOUSE PARTY

The K. E. girls gave their annual house party last week-end out at Bumby's camp near Windermere. The girls left Saturday afternoon and in spite of the rain and mud they all arrived safely. They brought swimming suits and went swimming in the late afternoon until supper was announced. After supper the boys arrived and dancing took place. About 11 o'clock hot dog sandwiches and coffee were served, and soon after this the boys departed. Thus ended the first day, except for various giggles and whispers that were noticeable until the wee small hours.

Sunday dawned bright and clear and the girls were awakened by musical notes of Maurine's and Ginnie's harmonicas. Everybody stayed in swimming all morning and worked up a large appetite. After dinner Mr. Pounds of Winter Garden brought over his aquaplane and some of the girls tried a hand at it. Later in the afternoon the boys arrived and Mr. Bumby took a load around the lake in his motorboat. About 5 o'clock supper was served outside in picnic style. Several of the members of the faculty came out for supper. Dr. and Mrs. Weir, Dr. and Mrs. Harris, Prof. and Mrs. Shiver and Mrs. Stelle. About 9 o'clock camp broke up and all started on a reluctant trip home to Cloverleaf.

The rushees included Maurine Lilly, Ruth Richey, Eloise Arms, Winifred Carswell, Elizabeth Atkinson, Vaudine Logan, Beatrice Larsen, Martha Mathis, Maria La Fleur, Laura Randall and Barbara Sheffield. Mrs. D. K. Dickinson and Mrs. H. E. Newall chaperoned.

Grace Jaquith made her weekly visit to Windermere last week end. There are a lot of people that wish Grace didn't have to make these weekly visits. Somebody said Zehler is always singing "Lonesome for You," when Friday comes.

Eleanor Branning spent last week end at her home in Lake Wales. She returned with her car which she expects to keep at school for a week.

Margaret McKay, Becky Caldwell, and Flo Bumby all attended the K. E. houseparty.

The question which is still puzzling the male student body is what the K. E.'s meant by "bring your P. J.'s."

Althea had a spread in her room Monday evening. Many of her intimate friends in the dormitory enjoyed the feed and it sure tasted good.

Wonder what "Maiden Prayer" Jack Joyner was answering in class Thursday.

Phi Omega wishes to announce Miss Emmy Schenck as faculty adviser and Miss Virginia Richardson as honorary member.

Miss Madeline Leinard, a last year's student and member of Phi Omega and Phi Beta sorority was married Wednesday, October 22, at her home in Paulding, Ohio. The bridegroom is Mr. Earl Robinson.

Much excitement occurred in Cloverleaf Sunday night when Miss Treat failed to find one of her flock.

Bert Pheil may motor up from St. Petersburg for Sigma Phi house party.

Somebody said pledge day was a strenuous one for the boys. Well, all's well that ends well and it would not be any fun if there wasn't some excitement.

Y. M. AND Y. W.

Much enthusiasm marked the success of the joint meeting of the Y.W. C.A. and Y.M.C.A. members in Knowles Hall Wednesday, October 29. A splendid program had been arranged by the music committees of the two organizations, the members of which are Miss Eloise Arms, Chairman; Miss Eleanor Pressey, Miss Ruth Richey and Mr. Cecil Draa. Several numbers by the mixed quartette, including the Misses Parkinson, Richey, Amy and Branning and the Messrs. Parker, Reece, Warner and Hillard, were greatly appreciated. The selections by the college orchestra were, as usual, an enjoyable feature of the program. The clever readings by Miss Billie Mulligan added greatly to the success of the evening. Miss Eleanor Branning favored the audience with several piona numbers, and these too were very much enjoyed. Two of the famous Chase Hall musicians, Pinkie Blevins and Freddie Hughes, entertained with peppy songs, a storm of applause given to them, attesting to their popularity.

Carrying out the idea of a program entirely of music made a most attractive meeting and one which all the members enjoyed so well that the presidents of the organizations have expressed the opinion that there would be some more such entertainments.

According to tradition all college students are divided into four classes. For the benefit of the "frosh" we will print them:

Freshmen—grassy.
Sophomore—sassy.
Junior—brassy.
Senior—classy.

Trix: "Why didn't you kick a field goal?"

Bozo: "I promised not to touch another drop, dear."

THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

CHAPEL TALKS BY

PRESIDENT WEIR

On Tuesday morning, October 28, Dr. Weir, Rollins' President, gave the third and last in a series of three Chapel talks on the "Attributes of a Leader."

Dr. Weir divides the elements of leadership into three distinct classes,—Soul attributes, Mental attributes, and Physical attributes. He says that leadership requires certain characteristics, which he classifies under these three heads.

The soul attributes of a leader, Dr. Weir tells us, are Sympathy, Sincerity, Enthusiasm, and Tact. A leader must have sympathy with the ideas of others; sympathy with the things they are doing.

Sincerity! Genuineness! Behind every face there is a story. The striking individual has a story worth knowing. In every youthful face there is a promise of performance. "There is in most of your faces just a promise of performance. Your faces, as yet, are the faces your God gave you, but the face you have twenty years from now will be the face you make for yourself. Your story will be written in your face."

The young French patriot, La Fayette, said of the face of Washington—"Of all the wonderful things that I witnessed and was a part of that terrible day, the most wonderful was that awful face of my Commander." He went on to describe the face of Washington during the day referred to, the day of the Battle of Monmouth Court House, saying there was something about it that compelled the man who got a glimpse of it, to face the firing. Sincerity and purpose, high and noble!

Sincerity must be backed up by enthusiasm. We must somehow have the artist's attitude toward what we are doing. When a sculptor looks upon a huge granite boulder, he does not see the rock alone, but the finished product in all its beauty and grandeur. Enthusiasm for our work enables us to do it well and permanently.

Sympathy plus sincerity plus enthusiasm equals likability.

The Mental attributes of the leader as given by Dr. Weir are Fairness, Reliability, Scholarship.

An old top Sergeant's opinion of General Pershing was given to illustrate fairness. This Sergeant, who was with Pershing on the punitive expedition into Mexico, said, when asked for an opinion of him, "If you have a bouquet coming from Jack Pershing, you will get it; and you will get it just the same, if you have a brick-bat coming."

The words of La Fayette, when asked by Washington if he could hold a certain position, were given as an illustration of reliability. "I'll hold it, Sire, as long as God lets me live."

The leader must have scholarship—a knowledge of the proper things to do and a capacity to do them. Scholarship positively enriches one's existence and endows us with qualities which time can not weaken nor destroy.

The most important of the mental attributes is Tact—that indescribable something which never permits a cog to slip. He who reigns within himself and rules passions, desires and fears is more than a king.

These mental attributes will serve to establish the proper relation between the leader and the led.

The third of the elements of leadership, Physical attributes, were given as Personal Appearance, Vitality, Poise. No one, at any time, on any occasion, has a right to garb himself so that he will be conspicuously distinctive. Appropriate apparel, correctly worn on a stressful, forceful body, is one of the physical qualifications of a leader.

Vitality the leader must have. This does not mean that you must have a huge hulk of a body, but that you must be a human dynamo, radiating driving force. The familiar story of Theodore Roosevelt's overcoming physical handicaps illustrates that vitality can be self-made. The leader must have vitality that does not bruise and maim those with whom it comes in contact.

Poise, perfect command of mind and body, at all times, in all places, can be cultivated, and will smooth the rough places for a leader of men.

Personal appearance, plus vitality, plus poise, equals that rather strange word, which you may not find in the dictionary,—PUSHABILITY.

NEWBERRY COLLEGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY; TARS ALL SET FOR THE GAME; VARSITY IN SHAPE

Wilson, quarter; Colado and Zehler, halves; Evans, fullback.

After the disappointment last Wednesday, a capacity crowd is expected to watch the Tars do their stuff against the team from Carolina. There is ample parking space for several hundred cars within the field and preparations are being made to take care of everyone. This game will be the last appearance of the Tars at home for several weeks and everybody is urged to attend.

The next game on the schedule is with Southern College at Bartow, on Armistice Day. This game is always one of the most interesting of the season, because of the rivalry between the two schools. Rollins has emerged victorious from the games with Southern for the past two years and a close and interesting game is sure for this year.

Piedmont College, who was to have played here last week, for some unknown reason cancelled the game after their defeat at the hands of the Stetson crowd. This left the Tars without a game last week with the exception of several scrimmages. Coach Duyck was counting on a good workout against Piedmont.

GRID-GRAPH FOR GATORS
Will be Ready for Fla.-Army Game

What is a Grid-Graph? A machine that has swayed crowds that number into thousands, a machine that has enabled many unfortunate business men and poor students to witness their home team smashing its way to victory without having to journey to the place where the game is being played.

In other words it is a machine that depicts the entire game as it is being enacted on the gridiron hundreds of miles away. Such a machine has been ordered for the University and will be installed in the gymnasium in time for the Fla.-Army game if possible.—Florida Alligator.

SWAMP ANGEL WILL APPEAR SOON

Gainesville, Florida.—The first issue of the Swamp Angel, humorous publication of the University of Florida, will be ready for distribution sometime during the month. This magazine was started year before last and has proved a decided success from the very beginning. According to F. H. Langworthy, the editor-in-chief of the publication, the Swamp Angel should be better this year than ever before as several new ideas are being added.

RESULTS OF ELECTION

Rollins is showing an interest in politics. The second political meeting was held Thursday, Oct. 23, at the assembly hour. Speakers from each party enlightened the students upon the accomplishment and future activities of their parties in addition to the faults of their opponents. Several of the school budding orators contributed to the interest of the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to determine the standing of the school upon political issues by means of a straw vote. Similar meetings are being conducted in about 700 colleges throughout this country.

Mr. King was the first speaker, giving the Democratic side of the coming election. Mr. Lawson advocated Calvin Coolidge for the next president. Mr. Johnson then told the students to vote for LaFollette. The last speaker, Mr. Bowers took a non-partisan view, advising the students to vote for the best man. The trend of his speech indicated, however, that he favored Coolidge.

Dr. Taintor was the first speaker from the audience. Being from Wisconsin he had definite convictions about the Progressive Party's leader. He said that if we elect Bob LaFollette the country will be burdened by taxes just as Wisconsin is.

Miss Beil read an excerpt from the Republican party's statement of their accomplishments. At this Mrs. Faust took issue. "That might be what they have done," she said, "but they haven't said anything about what they are going to do."

Bill Evans, Foster Walker, and Red Fraelich also spoke.

A straw vote was then taken, the classes being distinguished by the color of the slips. The vote was sent to the New Student magazine which is conducting the contest. The entire results of all the colleges will be announced later. The results of the vote taken Thursday is as follows: Coolidge—59, Davis—49, LaFollette—6.

PHYSICS CLASS VISITS

DR. MYERS

Professor Weinburg, head of the Physics Department, has made arrangements with Dr. H. E. Myers, of Winter Park, for a series of lectures and demonstrations of the use of the X-ray.

Dr. Myers has one of the most up to date X-ray laboratories in the United States and has also completed courses in the use of the X-ray with the latest methods. He will demonstrate the use of the machine in the taking of pictures, the curative use of the X-ray and the method of using the ray so that a picture is not necessary.

This added feature will be a big benefit to the Physics Department and to the College as well. The Physics laboratory at the college does not as yet possess an X-ray machine and these demonstrations by Dr. Myers will enable the students to get the idea of the use of the electrical current in making photographic impressions through solid material.

ROLLINS COLLEGE SORORITIES

Rollins has two honorary fraternities and three sororities, Phi Beta, Kappa Epsilon, Phi Omega, Sigma Phi, and Alpha Phi Epsilon.

The Alpha Phi Epsilon honorary fraternity was founded in Atlanta, Ga., in 1918. The Tau Chapter was installed in Rollins in 1921. At present there are thirteen active members. It is an oratorical and debating society and a member has to have been in five debates, given one ten minute speech, and one extemporaneous speech.

Phi Beta is an honorary musical and dramatic fraternity, founded at Northwestern University in 1911, the Theta Chapter being established here in 1923 and having at present 35 active members.

The sororities are all local and social. To be eligible a person, however, must obtain a grade of 80 and carry 16 hours work. Kappa Epsilon was founded in 1902, Sigma Phi in 1920 and Phi Omega in 1922. The Sigma Phi's have given a reception and the Kappa Epsilon girls a garden party in honor of Mrs. Weir.

Rollins has a Pan-Hellenic Council and an Interfraternity Council, which makes the rules and regulations governing sororities and fraternities. The Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of two members of each sorority, and the interfraternity of two members of each fraternity. The following are rules governing both fraternities:

1. Only students who have presented fifteen standard units complying with the requirements for entrance to the freshman class shall be pledged to a fraternity or sorority.

2. No student is eligible to be pledged or to be initiated into any fraternity or sorority, who is not carrying in a satisfactory manner a minimum of twelve hours counting toward a bachelor's degree.

3. No pledge shall be initiated into any fraternity or sorority unless he has made an average of at least 80% for one semester.

4. No pledge shall be initiated until his prospective fraternity or sorority has filed with the secretary of the interfraternity organization a certified statement from the Registrar that said pledge has fully complied with all provisions of eligibility.

"I guess it's true that men are the architects of their own destiny—which accounts for so many strange upper stories."

He: "You a housewife! I'll bet you don't know what a needle is for."
She: "I do too. It's for a victrola."

A lot of people brag about coming from a good family, just as if they had something to do with it.

Volley ball has become almost a craze with the freshmen class led by Dorothea Forbes, whose mighty arm carries her team to victory nearly every time. The upper-classmen are expecting a stiff game soon and tho they have had little practice under Mrs. Hart last year, there were some strenuous fights.

Eva Thompson and Dickie Dickson, both upper-classmen, are in charge of their respective classes, so it is up to them to see that the teams are in form, (hard work with all this rushing).

Horses are still on the way so that only a few of the more enthusiastic have been able to indulge. Whenever the lot arrives any one signing with Miss Jones may have a Kentucky thoroughbred for one dollar an hour. From the reports of those who have been lucky enough to ride, the horses must be of the best. To see a college girl canter around the campus adds a great deal to the atmosphere of the place.

In spite of the change of weather it has been too cold for the swimming class to have their regular work so "Fleet" has spent the week in teaching freshmen to hold a paddle. To most of them the canoes are entirely new and some have faint hearts but all are eager to learn so that they may use the canoes for picnics and other outings. So far there have been no duckings, the girls are too careful for that! The water is too icy and home is a long way off.

ponents to present a magazine containing their arguments. When they failed to expose the basis of their remarks, Evans made one of his most powerful points of the evening.

The straightforward manner of presenting his arguments was an asset of Paul Hilliard.

Gene Buzzell's arguments, as well as his delivery, were good. Gladys Wilkinson, who was chosen as alternate, according to an authority had the "true debater's attitude."

The sympathy of the audience, evidently, was with the negative, many persons saying that censorship of the stage should not be attempted by the Federal government.

Charles Lawrence, president of Delphic Society, was chairman of the debate. Members of the faculty of Rollins chose the team which will represent the Freshmen class in its attempt to win the Delphic cup, which is given to the class, with the names of the winning debaters engraved that defeats representatives of the other Rollins classes.

The Freshmen team will debate the one representing the Sophomores. The date of the debate has not been named.

name, together with the name and address of the writer, must be enclosed with the essay.

5. The essay must be forwarded to the Bachelier Prize Contest Committee, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, in time to reach the committee by January 19, 1925.

6. At the same time, the contestants must present to the committee, from the principal of the high school, a certificate of good standing and character, and a statement that he or she has a passing grade in at least four subjects or units of the first term, to December 20th, of the school year, 1924-25.

7. The essays will be read by a competent committee, who will select the best three written by the boys and the best three written by the girls. The decision of the committee will be based on thought, originality and expression.

8. As soon as the six are chosen, the names of their authors will be announced.

9. The essays not included among the six will not be returned, unless stamps are sent with the essay for this purpose.

10. The successful competitors shall memorize their essays and deliver them from memory, without notes, at Rollins College on February 19, 1925.

11. The judges of the final contest will award the prizes according to thought, originality and expression, as passed upon by the reading committee, and according to effectiveness and delivery.

Students are urged to make themselves thoroughly familiar with the material before they begin to write, and to present it in as clear, correct, and convincing a form as possible. Those who are to take part in the final contest should aim to cultivate a natural and effective delivery.

Room and board will be provided free for the speakers while they are in Winter Park.
