ROLLINS STUDENTS BRING BACK MANY TROPHIES FROM MT. DORA WATER REGATTA HELD LAST WEEK

The Mt. Dora Regatta, the biggest water event of the year in this part of the country, was a complete success, and more so, as far as the Rollins students are concerned. The Rollins canoers brought back a number of beautiful trophies and individual prizes.

There were forty-four students participating in the different events. The first event was the women's war canoe race. This race was won by Dickie Dickson's crew, closely defeating the crew coxswained by Ellen Lersch. The trophy for this race was a large silver canoe mounted on a hardwood plaque. This trophy, of course, will go to the trophy case. Each girl in the winning canoe received a handsome paddle, with the insignia of the club on it. The men's war canoe race received similar prizes. This race was won by the crew coxswained by Guy Colado, and nosed out Scott's crew by about three feet, being the closest race of the day.

Mixed doubles came next with Billie Mulligan and Jimmie Shoemith winning out in a close finish over Eva Thompson and Johnny Scott. The trophy for this race was a beautiful silver cup. Next came the men's doubles which was won by Shoemith and Colado. This race was one of the closest of the day, but a few feet separating the first two finishers.

Last but not least came the canoe tilting. This event is always the most interesting and thrilling of anything on the canoe program. Ed. Behling and Garfield Sheppard won the title of champion tilters of Rollins by defeating Shoemith and Colado. Shoemith was the former champion in this sport. The winners received a large loving cup.

STATION WDBO HEARD BY CANADIAN FANS

Station WDBO, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, has been on the air for several weeks, broadcasting music and talks. Mr. Maxwell Green, Jr., who is in charge of the station, states that there will soon be a regular program of broadcasting made up. The School of Music and Fine Arts will broadcast a program soon, consisting of music and readings.

Cards and letters were received last week from Canada and the northern United States, stating that the test programs had been received clearly and distinctly. This shows an actual range of over a thousand miles. Within a short time the radio fans of the country will be able to tune in on WDBO for regular programs almost every night.

Mr. Green, who edits the radio column of The Florida Sun, is working on the station, with the assistance of Mr. A. F. Shreve. Further announcements as to the plans of the

KATHERINE TIFT-JONES IN DELIGHTFUL RECITAL

Mrs. Katherine Tift-Jones gave a very delightful program at Knowles Hall Tuesday, March 3. The program was divided into two parts; the first part was a discussion of the modern poets and much of the modern poetry was very delightfully read by Mrs. Jones. The second part was given in costume, being that of the pre-Civil War days, and consisted of negro impersonations. Mrs. Jones was especially able in that line of work, being a Georgia woman and having had negroes in her household from babyhood. One thing that made her impersonations so enjoyable was the fact that they were absolutely true, stories and tales she has heard from her old colored mammy. All who have ever heard a negro revival or prayer meeting know how real were the ones given by Mrs. Jones.

But she not only gave readings from the lives of the uneducated negro. She read a very remarkable poem,

Splendid Lecture on "Common Sense in Music" Given by Dr. Spaeth Last Tuesday Evening

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, of New York, noted authority on music and author of several books, notably "Common Sense in Music", gave an extremely interesting talk on the latter at Rollins College March 1. Dr. Spaeth is being given a very enthusiastic reception during his stay in Florida.

In the first part of the lecture Dr. Spaeth discussed the similarity of the melodies that recur throughout music. "There are," he said, "only a certain number of combinations that can be used." These the composer uses in many different combinations in order to produce the melody. It is by

DONATES $5000 FOR NEW ROLLINS SCIENCE HALL

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 5.—A gift of $5,000 toward the erection of a hall of science on the Rollins College campus in Winter Park was announced here today by A. J. Hanna, editor of the Rollins Alumni Record. The donor is Miss Lucy A. Cross, of this city, who forty-one years ago inaugurated the movement which resulted one year later in the establishment of Rollins as Florida's first accredited college.

RICHARD SIMON, PUBLISHER OF MANY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE BOOKS, IS IN ORLANDO ON WELL EARNED VACATION

"We hope to do the same for music that we have done to increase the vocabulary of the general public through the cross-word puzzle," declared Richard Simon here in discussing his plans for the publication of a new book recently taken over by his firm.

Simon is a member of the firm of Simon & Schuster, Inc., envied today by the world following their mammoth success in publishing America's first cross-word puzzle book.

He is in Orlando for a well-earned vacation in company with Sigmund Spaeth, former New York music critic.

Spaeth is combining business with pleasure. Besides enjoying the unnumbered pleasures of Florida he is engaged in writing a book which he hopes will increase the general interest and enjoyment of music.

The name of the book was not disclosed, but arrangements have been made for its publication by the Simon & Schuster firm.

Spaeth & Simon are very close friends, of the Jonathan and David variety. While a member of the staff of Boni and Liveright, Simon was chiefly responsible for the publication by that firm of "Common Sense in Music", an earlier work by Spaeth.

This book now is in its fourth edition, with no sign of a decrease in sales. This is considered a remarkable record for a work of this kind.

A story in itself is the association between Simon & Schuster, Inc., and

"Anglo-American Friendship" is Subject for Prize Essay Con- test for Commencement Week

A prize contest has been announced by the Anglo-American Society of America. A prize of $20 has been offered for the best essay on the subject, "Anglo-American Friendship". This contest will be one of the features of commencement week, the essays probably being read and judged on Commencement Day. This contest is somewhat similar to the Bachelor prize contest, with the exception that it is for college students only, while the Bachelor Contest is for high school students.

The order of the Anglo-American Society was founded in 1918 by Mrs. Ulysses Grant McQueen. It has its national offices at Norwalk, Connecticut, and the great object of the organization is to further closer friendship between Europe, especially England, and America. A similar organization was founded about the same time in England by Lord Allenby, who was in command of the allied forces in the Holy Land.

The details of the contest are to be worked out by the Department of English. Those who wish to enter should at once signify their intentions of so doing and start on their essays. The complete plans and details of the contest will be published in an early edition of the Sandspur.

CLASS ATMOSPHERE

Unquestionably one of the next signal steps in education will be the introduction of preliminary training in high school to prepare students for college life, but until that advance has been made, those who are not thus aided must learn in the very midst of them the differences in that life. On every hand one can see the effect of the sudden impact incurred in the change from the one type of institution to the other. The blend of the student with his new environment is sometimes admirable; far more often his contact is inharmonious and at some points actually disgusting.

In the latter aspect nothing is more prominent than the ingrained habit claiming their desire, by the upheld hand, the snapping fingers, or noisy possessed by so many of loudly whispering, when the instructor prepares to call on someone after proposing a question or when one called on is hesitant in replying or answering correctly. The eagerness to answer when one knows and the manifestation of the desire by raising the hand are, of course, practices engendered in the student, from earliest schooling are not sufficiently abated even during his last days of high school.

The efficiency of the usage there it is not proposed to contest, nor is there objection to quietly raising the hand even in colleges when the instructor signifies a desire for it or when there is unusual hesitancy in replying and one wishes to be given the opportunity of giving the correct answer. But there is no justification for the noisy expression of this wish at any and all times when there is by no means a pressing need to find one who can give the desired information. Often enough the entire class with the exception of the one called on and perhaps a few others, know the answer; yet, instead of giving the instructor a moment of time, a spontaneous din arises over the entire class and presents a sorry spectacle.

This needless practice wastes much more time than is realized, and frequently exasperates the instructor without his being aware of the cause. It is an evil of the branch of discipline seldom thought of. When college students take it upon themselves to extirpate the fault, there will come an improvement as unforeseen as is now the cause which prevents it.

THE COLLEGIATE

PRESS' CONTEST

Yesterday the editor received a letter from the Collegiate Press Association, which held their annual meeting in Tallahassee, and which the editor was, unfortunately, unable to attend (not because he didn't want to though). This annual meeting of the editors of the college papers of Florida decided on a contest for the best college paper in Florida. The winning college is to be awarded a loving cup. The contest will be decided on make-up, material and general newness of the paper. It will be a feather in the cap of the college winning the contest. Why shouldn't Rollins win it? With the co-operation of the student body, there is no reason in the world that we can't. Do you want your paper to be the best in the state? If you do, do your part. Let's win that loving cup.

SWIMMING

Swimming, long recognized as a fine and healthful form of exercise, is now advocated by physicians as a positive curative aid in treating persons crippled by infantile paralysis and for persons a little below par or suffering from nervous disorders

One physician, writing on this subject, declares:

"Swimming is valuable in developing the nerve control of the muscles, co-ordination of different groups of muscles, self-control, presence of mind and self-confidence. It develops the heart without overtaxing it. It is safe from the danger of overexertion. The body being supported by the water, the patient is relieved of the fear of falling, his comfort is increased, and he is able to exercise his muscles with a freedom not possible on land."

All of which, in addition to the pleasure and satisfaction of swimming merely for the fun of it, helps to emphasize the fact that every child should be taught to swim and given opportunities to swim. Even grown-ups who have been so unfortunate as to reach maturity without swimming should watch for and seize the first chance they have to learn this joyous and healthful art.

Hard to Get in Yale

Only 31 per cent of the applicants gained admission to the class of 1928 at Yale.

According to the Dean of Boston University, a college student is worth $72,000 when he has acquired the requisite amount of knowledge for graduation.

The cross-word puzzle wave has swept across faculty and students at Princeton, according to press accounts. Professor Warner Fite has offered a prize to the student who can devise a puzzle capable of two separate solutions. Such a problem, he says, would possess great psychological value.

Professor Robert K. Root, of the English Department, has announced his willingness to adopt the puzzles as part of the term work in some of his courses, provided someone can be found to construct puzzles sufficiently difficult for the test at the end of the term.

PHI ALPHA INITIATES

Phi Alpha Fraternity, oldest men's local Greek letter organization on the Rollins campus, has eight new members. These new additions to the fraternity roll have been wearing the badge of Phi Alpha for nearly two weeks.

An unusual feature connected with the initiation of these new members is found in the fact that included in the number are Robert Tilden, of Winter Garden, the third Tilden brother to be taken into the fraternity, and Carl Warner, of Crescent City, the third Warner brother to be taken in.

Six states are represented among the new members. The new wearers of the Phi Alpha pin are: Lloyd Armstrong, New London, Conn.; Philip Boardman, Davenport, Iowa; Eugene Buzzell, Revere Beach, Mass.; Sidney Carlson, Hartford, Conn.; L. J. Joyner, San Antonio, Texas; Robert Tilden, Winter Garden, Fla.; Foster Walker, Akron, Ohio; and Carl Warner, Crescent City, Fla.

Phi Alpha has also announced a new pledge, Dudley Calhoun.

Construction on the new Phi Alpha home on Lake Virginia, which has been slowed up for the past few days due to the failure of brick to arrive, began again in full blast early this week with the arrival of a carload.

Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi and Phi Omega Pledges Give Picnic for Old Members

The pledges of Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi and Phi Omega Sororities entertained the older members with a picnic Tuesday afternoon. They were conveyed in cars to Pleasure Beach, where swimming and other diversions were enjoyed. A picnic lunch was served and weinies and marshmallows roasted. Those who enjoyed the affair were the members and pledges of each sorority, Miss Niles, Miss Schank, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Shiver, Mrs. Podmore and Vivian Weir.

PERSONALS

Both Glee Clubs journeyed to Daytona Monday and although the audience was not great in quantity, it made up in quality.

We have learned that dancing is a grand cure for sore heels. Ask Dickie.

Eleanor, Violet, Fran and Annabeth have taken to sleeping on the roof. No, they haven't t. b., just as a cure for spring fever.

It's terrible the way all these girls are getting campused and socialized. We just don't understand it at all. Please enlighten us.

Mrs. Katherine Tift-Jones proved to be a grand chaperone on the trip to Daytona. After chaperoning all day she decided to sleep coming home.

Eloise and Jenny decided they hadn't had enough of the flu, so they invited it to visit them again.

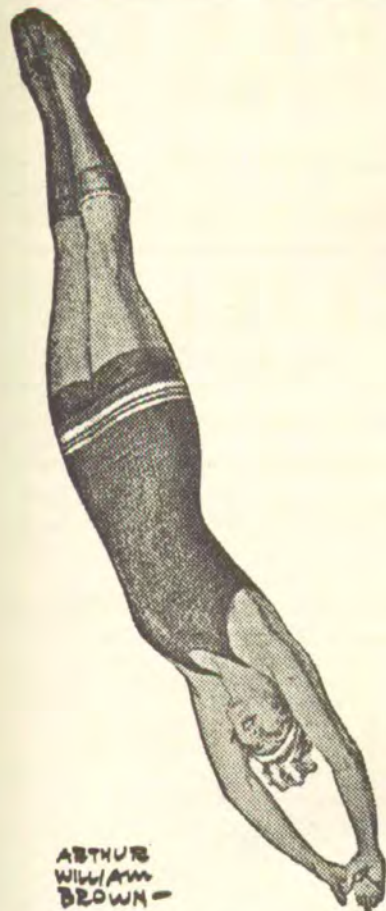

Red Palmer has not lost his ability in tilting. We sure would have liked to have seen him when he was in practice.

Ad Behling has suddenly dashed into stardom. Wonder where he learned to balance so well? Wonder how "Shep got his ability as a paddler—we've never seen him practice in the daytime???

Father—Young man, I understand you have made advances to my daughter.

Young Man—Yes, sir, I wasn't going to say anything about it, but now since you mentioned it, I wish you would get her to pay me back.

Frosh I: "Have you credit in gym?"
Frosh II: "No, but I have an account at Brooks'."—Banter.

SPLENDID LECTURE ON "COMMON SENSE OF MUSIC" GIVEN BY DR. SIGMUND SPAETH ON LAST TUESDAY NIGHT

this melody that we remember a piece of music. It is in popular music that we especially note this. "It is not very difficult for a person to remember a popular song," said Dr. Spaeth. "Why? Because of the familiarity of the melody. It would be a mere platitude to say that all popular music is taken, often note for note, from the great classics. For instance, one of the songs in the opera "Irene" is taken, note for note, from a part of one of Chopin's valse.

"In music there are certain patterns which, if listened for, make music very interesting. There is the two-tone pattern or the song of the cuckoo, on which many pieces are based. Then there is the three-tone pattern, which is probably the most important—the three notes of the bugle. 'Alexander's Rag Time Band' and 'Over There' are based on these three notes."

Dr. Spaeth illustrated these patterns on the piano, showing how they work out in both popular and "permanent" music, as he calls the classic.

"It is popular appreciation of the classic that we are trying to bring about today, and this can only be brought about by starting at the bottom and making music register as it would on a savage and finally rising to the intellectual understanding of it. If we begin by trying to make persons understand the intellectual side of music they will be overwhelmed. That is why the classics are not popular." Dr. Spaeth gave a splendid definition of music. "Music," he said, "is the organization of sound toward beauty."

In showing where many of the popular pieces come from, Dr. Spaeth dissected "Yes We Have No Bananas" to the great amusement of the audience. The first part comes from the "Messiah", the second is the last part of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean", the third is taken from the "Bohemian Girl", the fourth from "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" and an "Old Fashion Garden", and then it goes back to the "Messiah" chorus and "My Bonnie

GLEE CLUBS

The next appearance of the glee clubs will be in the Congregational Church of Winter Park on the 13th of March. On the 17th of March an engagement has been scheduled for Mount Dora. On March 25 the glee clubs will sing in the Orlando Memorial High School for the tourists of Orlando; this date has been arranged with the Orlando Chamber of Commerce. On the 10th of April they will appear in the Auditorium at Lakeland and on the 11th will broadcast from Tampa, WDAE.

Stetson wants to exchange a glee club program with Rollins and this will, in all probability, be done in the near future.

RECITAL IN SANFORD

Miss Schenk, vocal instructor, and Miss Niles, teacher of piano, went to Sanford last Monday evening and gave a delightful program. This recital was given under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Sanford, and a very enthusiastic audience was in attendance. The appreciation of the people was most marked by the wish of a return engagement soon, which will most probably be granted.

Lies Over the Ocean". "The only new work in the song," said Dr. Spaeth humorously, "is bananas", which I admit is a very great contribution. If sung in original words it would sound like this:

Hallelujah, bananas,
O bring back my bonnie to me,
I dreamt that I dwelt in marble halls,
The kind that you seldom see,
I was seeing Nellie home,
In an old fashion garden,
But hallelujah, bananas,
Oh bring back my bonnie to me.

As an illustration of what could be done with a popular song by some of the great composers Dr. Spaeth played "Yankee Doodle" as a chorale, as might be interpreted by Beethoven, Chopin, MacDowell and Debussy.

Dr. Spaeth ended by singing and playing "Jack and Jill" in "oratorio", as Franz Schubert would have interpreted it, in Italian opera, and last as one of our Jazz kings would play it—calling it, perhaps, the "Falling Jack and Jill Blues".

This is the second of the series of concerts that is being brought here by the Chapel Association.

An experiment was recently tried out at Yale University with regard to improving the efficiency of the soccer team by feeding the men sugar. Although the Eli team failed to defeat Pennsylvania, who won five goals to nothing, the experiments were declared not to have been wholly without success. The tests were carried out under the supervision of Prof. Henderson of the Department of Applied Physiology and the Department of Health. Between periods of the contest the men were fed peppermint creams and warm sweetened tea to increase their energy.

Girls, generally speaking, may be divided into two classes—those who roll the eye and those who eye the roll.

ROLLINS STUDENTS BRING BACK MANY TROPHIES FROM MOUNT DORA WATER REGATTA HELD LAST WEEK

Following the events, the students were served with a delightful dinner, and after that the orchestra arrived and dancing was in order until a late hour. At about 11:30 p. m. the students boarded the two big busses which were furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and started for home, tired but happy.

The presentation of the trophies took place Monday morning in chapel. All the trophies won by individuals were presented and those won by groups were relegated to the trophy case.

Simon & Schuster, while in the organization of the Plaza Music Company, started a business for themselves under the name of the Plaza Publishing Company.

With the success of the cross-word puzzle book, it was found that the mail of the two concerns was being confused by the post office.

This led to an agreement for the marketing of the book by the Plaza Music Company, as well as other output of the publishing house. They will market the book being written by Spaeth.

Spaeth spoke at Knowles Hall, Rollins College, Winter Park. His subject was "Appreciation of Music."

He has attracted nation-wide attention through his music lectures from radio broadcasting station WOR, one of the largest of the big eastern outfit.

Mrs. Jones has been splendidly received in Winter Park and Orlando. Everyone has opened their doors and hearts to her and she has been a truly toasted "Lioness".

She is leaving for Miami soon to give several programs there, then she is coming back here for a return engagement. She will probably give several recitals in Orlando and in Winter Park.

There has never been so great an artist here who has been so generous with her time and talent as has Mrs.

Jones. She has spoken in Chapel and to a group of students and townspeople beside her regular engagement. To say she has been fully appreciated would not be stating the facts strongly enough.
