COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES MARK CLOSING OF SENIOR WEEK

STUDENT ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

During the past few weeks the elections for student offices of major importance have been terminated along with the ratification of a new constitution, under which the student body will be governed next year.

The following offices have been filled: President of Student Association, Homer Parker; Vice-President, Dickie Dickson; Secretary, Margery Ufford; Treasurer Rollins College, W. R. O'Neal; President of Delphic, Stanley Warner; Vice-President, Eva Thompson; Secretary, John Scott; Treasurer, Gladys Wilkinson; President of Y. W. C. A., Gertrude Ward; Vice-President, Gladys Wilkinson.

Editor of Sandspur, Paul Hilliard.
Captain of Football Team, William Lofroos.

Captain of Swimming Team, Dudley Calhoun.

There are a few offices which at present are unfilled, but elections will be held to decide these vacancies at the beginning of the college term next Fall.

Many New Traditions Instituted This Year

Several innovations, customs, and new traditions have been instituted upon the Rollins campus during the past year. These new things are in harmony with the growth of the College, passing, as it now is, from a small college into a realm of greater things. Perhaps the first and most important of these new customs is the creation of the office of College Marshal.

This great honor will be conferred annually hereafter upon the male student who has the highest scholastic record. He must be a Junior and must have had the highest standard of scholastic marks for a period of three and one-half years' work. This year the honor went to John D. Scott, and the symbol of his authority has been a gold headed cane which he will be expected to carry with him at all times until the official termination of the year. The duties of College Marshal have been described as follows:

"To uphold the honor and dignity of the College at all times, to have full power to represent the executive head of the institution in all such matters, and to act as general marshal of the campus until the close of the present year."

Another new custom is Recognition Day for the Seniors. This comes on Monday, June 1, the day following Baccalaureate. Upon Recognition Day there will be delivered to each Senior having earned honors a recognition of those honors from the public.

"PERPETUAL MOTION" MAKES BIG SUCCESS

The Senior Class play, staged last Wednesday night at the Woman's Club, proved to be one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the year. "Perpetual Motion" was written by Paul Richmond, a member of the Senior Class, and deals with Rollins history, the first scene representing the campus in the year 1885. The theme of the play was derived from an interesting experience which the class had with perpetual motion. This theme is woven throughout the play, dealing with characters who have been connected with the college in previous years.

The second scene represented the campus in 1925. Al, the peppy Rollins student, was played by Cecil Draa; Bill, the lazy student, by Max McRoberts; May, a Rollins girl, by Ginny Davis; and Jerry, the inventor of perpetual motion, by Horace Draa. The action centered about these principal characters with the other members of the class coming in with different interpretations, representative of the student body and faculty.

Other scenes represented different phases of college life—a girl's room in Cloverleaf, a boy's room in Chase, one of Dean Sprague's classes on an expedition, and a general campus scene with the Senior chorus.

The play was written in such a way that no one character was over-

To Establish Naval Radio Station Here

Through the efforts of Lieutenant W. J. Lee, of the United States Naval Reserve Force, it is probable that a Naval radio training station will be established on the Rollins campus before the commencement of school next fall. The purpose of this station will be for training of the Naval Reserve Unit which has its headquarters at Winter Park. At present there are fifteen members of Rollins college in the communication unit. Mr. Lee is working in conjunction with the officials at Key West, and it is hoped that the station will be installed some time during the summer. This station will give Rollins great prominence throughout the country as it will be officially designated as a Naval Training station, and, incidentally, the only college in the country having a station.

Rollins now has two radio stations—the Naval Radio Station, and Station WDBO. Both of these stations have been acquired largely through the efforts of Maxwell Green, a student of Rollins. Mr. Green established station WDBO, and has done much to advertise the college throughout the country by the splendid programs which he has been able to broadcast.

DELPHIC DEBATING CUP WON BY JUNIOR CLASS

In the final inter-class debate of the year last Thursday evening at Knowles Hall, the Junior debating team defeated the Freshman debaters on the question: Resolved, that the election of Von Hindenburg to the presidency of Germany endangers world peace. The Junior team was composed of Margery Ufford and Harold K. Daniels, while the freshmen debaters were Gladys Wilkinson and Eugene Buzzell.

Previous to their defeat by the Junior team, the Freshmen had won two debates, one among themselves, and another when they defeated the Sophomore team on the question: Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished. The Junior team defeated the Seniors some time ago. The clash between the Freshmen and Juniors proved to be a heated one, and ended in a decisive victory for the upper classmen.

The inter-class battle for possession of the Delphic cup is an annual affair.

Professor Feuerstein On The New Discovery

What was the most important discovery of Columbus before he landed on the shores of the new continent? It is a question that will baffle the minds of young people and it will take a few minutes of discussion before one elicits the answer: He discovered himself—his calling, his vocation.

The Anglo-Saxon word "calling" and the Latin word "vocation" are synonymous. Vocare in Latin means to call. So our language has preserved in its denotation the spiritual origin for that most important of decisions which every young man and woman has to make. In an ideal sense one chooses his or her calling or vocation according to the inner call or voice which one hears.

These days we hear much of "Vocational education" and "Vocational guidance"—scientific methods for estimating aptitudes and capacities of young people, and guiding them accordingly.

The colleges have lagged behind in taking up vocational guidance. There has been a tendency on their part to let the student find himself by himself.

However, the courses which are offered in colleges and the activities which are carried on give the student an opportunity to find out what he is fitted for in life.

You want to become an engineer? If the study of physics and mathematics brings you near 100% there is hope you will succeed. Young man,

The Annual Commencement Day exercises will take place Friday, June 5, at 10:00 A. M., at the Congregational church. Dr. Robert S. Holmes, pastor of the Daytona Congregational Church, will deliver the commencement address. Dr. Holmes is known throughout the country as a speaker and lecturer.

The seniors will form a procession at Carnegie Hall, and, led by the college Marshal, will proceed to the church. After the services the Annual Alumni and Trustees' Reception and Luncheon will be held in the college commons.

This year's Senior Class consists of sixteen members. Of these, eleven will receive the Bachelor of Arts Degree, two the Bachelor of Science degree, two the Bachelor of Music degree, and one the Master of Arts degree. The graduates are:

Bachelor of Arts: Catherine Beall, Robert B. Chandler, Virginia Davis, Helen E. Dickinson, Horace V. Draa, Dorothy Grey, M. W. McRoberts, Douglas W. Potter, Dorothy Pratt, Paul Richman, Lambert Steinhaus.

Bachelor of Science: Meredith Davis, Cecil C. Draa.

Bachelor of Music: Ada Ruth Amy, Edna Wallace.

Master of Arts, F. Margaret Baldwin Stoner.

Commencement Day exercises will mark the closing of Senior Week. The College year ends officially at noon Saturday, June 6. The great oaks will once more have a brief respite from the rustle and bustle of College life.

Dean Of Women Makes Plans For Next Year

In an interview late Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Hart, Dean of Women, outlined the important steps which would be taken next year to better conditions in Cloverleaf.

"The first and most important duty of a Dean of Women," said Mrs. Hart, "is to establish a personal relationship with all the girls on the campus, both those in the dormitory and those who are not making their home in Cloverleaf. We want the girls to think of this as their home and to make it their home for the time they must be here. It is only by having the friendship of every girl upon the campus that this may be accomplished, and one of my greatest desires is to build character."

"Next year the Dean of Women will have regular office hours in which the girls may consult her upon their various problems."

"But won't that make affairs too businesslike for a real homelike atmosphere?" asked the reporter.

"No," explained Mrs. Hart. "There must be some system. Most of our most successful homes are conducted in a very systematic order. A rule book will be published and

"STICK TO IT"

Established in 1894 with the following editorial:
 "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

TO BE CONTINUED

College life is a series of changes. As each year passes into history, new officers are elected to fill the places of those who have gone before. This year has been no exception to the rule, and a new Editor has been chosen to replace the old Editor of the "Sandspur."

This year's policy of the "Sandspur" has been one of progress. The paper has taken a stand back of all worth while reforms beneficial to the college. It has fearlessly supported these reforms in a way which has brought credit both to the college and to the man who so ably directed the policies of its publication.. Mr. Editor, I wish to congratulate you!

The new Editor will attempt to continue a constructive policy. Rollins is now at a critical stage of her development, and she can only become a big college and a successful college through strong boosting on the part of those who must back her. These latter constitute the student body. The old Editor began what it is the privilege of the new Editor to continue—a drive for a bigger and better Rollins. His work shall not be in vain.

The "Sandspur" is not a paper to exploit the achievements of any one organization upon the campus. It is the official mouthpiece of Rollins College, and must and will follow a strict policy of nonpartisanship. The new Editor believes the first purpose of a newspaper is to authentically print news regardless of the source of that news.

This has been the policy of the "Sandspur" the past year; this policy will be continued next year.

A VOTE OF THANKS

It is a known fact that no undertaking can succeed without its backers. No cause can succeed without its supporters, nor can any business succeed without its stockholders. The "Sandspur" realizes that it must rely upon its advertisers for support, and wishes to extend a vote of thanks to those advertisers who have stood behind the College publication.

By your support you have evidenced your willingness and your desire to benefit your community. You have risen above those petty differences which seem to be prejudicing many citizens of Orlando and Winter Park against their greatest and most promising advertisement — Rollins College. You have stood behind Rollins during a crisis in her history, and witnessed the dawn of a new era in her existence. Mr. Advertiser, the "Sandspur" appreciates your support.

GO GET 'EM

In a few more days, Rollins will once more close her doors for the summer vacation. Students will board the trains and boats and other vehicles of transportation and travel to all parts of the country. Some will go north into the wilds of New York, some will head into the distant west, some will move southward, and others eastward. With you will go tales of Rollins. People will hear of the old alma mater through you and what you say. Your school will be judged by your words and your actions.

So, when new students come to Rollins next year for the first time, let them have heard only words of praise and commendation. When you arrive home and see or hear of a good prospective student for Rollins, don't be content with merely talking to him of Rollins—go get him! If he's a boy friend, convince him of the folly of going elsewhere. If she's a girl friend, do likewise. The main point is to bring them back with you! Don't hesitate to enlarge upon the beauty of our lakes, the luring coolness of our swimming course, the romantic possibilities of moonlight, a canoe, and music upon beautiful Lake Virginia. It is impossible to exaggerate. Suit your arguments to your prospect; but, if they are the kind of men and women that Rollins needs, don't fail to bring them back next year.

Steinmetz

The spirit of Dr. Steinmetz kept his frail body alive. It clothed him with surpassing power; he tamed the lightning and discharged the first artificial thunderbolt.

Great honors came to him, yet he will be remembered not for what he received, but for what he gave. Humanity will share forever in the profit of his research. This is the reward of the scientist, this is enduring glory.

Emerson tells how the mass of men worry themselves into nameless graves, while now and then a great, unselfish soul forgets himself into immortality. One of the most inspiring influences in the life of a modern corporation is the selfless work of the scientists in the laboratories which it provides for their research.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK

The last three plays of the Sigma Phi One-Act Play Contest were given Friday night at the Woman's Club. Marion Mulligan and Eleanor Pressey had the leading parts in "Lima Beans" and "For Distinguished Service." Violet Sutherland was ably supported by Katherine Humphries and Mable Boone.

The first prize was awarded to "Lima Beans," and the second divided between "For Distinguished Service" and "Six Who Pass while the Lentils Boil." The judges were Mrs. Harris, Dr. Thomas, and Mr. Harvey Warren. These three plays and the two junior recitals were the final program of the year for the Expression Department, which has developed greatly this season as these plays testify. Next year the students will be offered even more in this work for Mrs. Grey will have an assistant in Miss Thomas.

Sigma Phi Sorority honored its graduating members with a lovely supper served in the beautiful garden of the Staggs' home in Orlando.

The tables were lighted with the soft glow of candles and after supper was served, some of the girls brought out packages for Mrs. Podmore, Edna, Dot, Billie and Eleanor. They contained lovely remembrances from the sorority, and after these were opened and admired every girl who had become engaged this year was made to run around the table. Dot and Edna were the only ones who would respond but several others were suspected of "holding out."

Besides the members of Sigma Phi, the party was enjoyed by Mrs. Wainwright, Mrs. Pressey and Miss Irene Rex.

FAIRY HAS A BIRTHDAY

Fay had a birthday Wednesday—the last one as "Miss," so Dickie and Annabeth helped her celebrate with an "after-light-flash" affair. Most of the "old" girls in Cloverleaf were present. The lights were nil and the lighted birthday cake was brought in with pretty effect. Billie insisted on blowing the candles out! Suspicious!! And she succeeded admirably in spite of the fact that she was forced to retreat to a suitable distance. Every candle went out. (When will the event be, Billie?)

Then raging appetites were appeased by ice cream and angel food cake. That drowsy, satisfied feeling produced many old love songs with ukelele accompaniment by Billie. When the lateness of the hour called for retirement, the party broke up with cries of: "Many happy returns of the day, Fay."

"I thought you said last night that Jean's complexion was ruined."

"So I did."

"But there she is, looking as beautiful as ever."

"I referred to her last night's complexion."—Everybody's.

A MODERN LIBRARY

Students at Hunter College, New York, believe that a thorough knowledge of the literature of the present is just as important as a familiarity with the classics. The Student Self Government Association has established a modern circulating library, where books can be secured at very low rates. The deposit of fifty cents and the rate of ten cents a week per book enables the association to keep the library up to date. Among the books available are Conrad's "Youth," "A Lost Lady," "Messer Marko Polo," "A Passage to India"; Mencken, Nathan Shaw, Bercovici, Galsworthy, Wasserman and Van Vechten are among the authors whose words appear.

Three Seniors supervise the library. They spend a great deal of time in selecting the books. It is believed that this is the only library of its kind in any college.

NASHVILLE TO HAVE LITTLE THEATER

Ambitious students of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, are planning a Little Theater for the university and the city. The plan is fathered by the Calumet Club, a Junior-Senior Literary Club, which also sponsors the Masquerader, a comic. The first plays are three one-act plays to be produced in May.

Believing that Nashville is large enough to support a Little Theater venture, the Calumet Club is taking the burden of starting the venture on its own shoulders. They are gambling on the interest and support of civic and dramatic organizations of the city after the venture has been started.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF PHI BETA SCHOLARSHIP

June 1, 1925.

On Recognition Day at Rollins College, Theta Chapter of Phi Beta announced that a scholarship will be offered in the Department of Expression for the year 1925-26.

Phi Beta is a National Musical and Dramatic Art Fraternity. Theta feels that in offering this scholarship the fundamental principles of Phi Beta are being carried out in a concrete form, which are fostering the development of beauty in art and in life.

This scholarship is valued at sixty dollars. Those interested will consult Mrs. Grey, Head of the department next year, and arrange for a tryout during Registration week.

"That's the guy I'm laying for," said the hen as the farmer crossed the road.

FRENCH STUDENTS STRIKE

A student walk out is the latest development in the controversy between the conservative students and the faculty of the University of Paris Law School and the radical Herriot ministry. Ninety per cent of the students of the law school have gone on a strike, along with them all the faculties and students of auxiliary colleges of the university. This was done as a protest against the closing of the law school and suspension of Dr. Louis Barthelemy, its dean, because he refused to allow the Paris police to enter the university building to quell a riot.

The rioting and the disorder which finally led up to a strike were caused by the appointment of George Scelle, chief private secretary to the minister of labor, as professor of international law. Students declare that this was a political appointment.

From Paris the strike movement has radiated through the provinces. The student bodies of nineteen provincial universities have joined in a sympathy strike.

The walls of Paris are plastered with proclamations by the student associations, encouraging resistance to what is described as the government's efforts to bring politics into the university. It is announced that 5,000 students in pairs are staying away from their classes.

WESTERN RESERVE PARODY

The Western Reserve Weekly, Cleveland, Ohio, recently successfully carried through a parody on the Cleveland Press, a local afternoon paper of the extremely sensational variety. It was called The Mess and it contained everything, from the flaming headlines "Mutilated Bodies Found concealed by Mess Reporter," "Shoot Three In Duel at Fraternity Affair" to the back page of comics. The parody was gotten up with the advice and assistance of editors of the Cleveland Press.

EXCHANGE OF FOOTBALL COACHES

An exchange of coaches for spring training has been effected between Princeton and the University of Michigan. Fielding Yost, the Michigan coach, is now in Princeton instructing the men in Michigan tactics. After Yost's visit is over with, Coach Roper of Princeton will go to Ann Arbor and give the Michigan men a taste of Eastern coaching. The exchange has been made to introduce new ideas into the work of both teams.

There is no great difference between football training in the East and West, according to Yost.

HARVARD LAMPOON SUPPRESSED

The Harvard Lampoon is the second college comic to be suppressed in Boston during the last month.

The Literary Digest parody was swiftly pounced upon by the police department of Boston and Cambridge on the morning that it appeared, Friday, April 18, and all copies on newsstands confiscated. Two violations of the law were charged: First, the improper display of the American flag on the front cover; second, for the display of an obscene picture on the inside.

The Lampoon parody closely resembled the Literary Digest, so closely that the police in their raid took copies of the original Digest from a newsstand. The picture on the cover was a parody of Washington crossing the Delaware. One of the men in the boat is feeding sugar cakes to a polar bear; another is reading the Boston Transcript; while Washington stands in the center of the boat with his little hatchet in one hand. Floating on a cake of ice in the distance is a sign, "Welcome to Trenton, Board of Trade." The flag flying on the boat constitutes the alleged desecration. The title of the picture was, "Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat."

The "obscene" picture is a painting by Manet which hangs in the Luxembourg.

Lampoon officials were apprised of the suppression when two police captains entered the Lampoon building and forbade further sales and threatened confiscation of the issue. The members of the Lampoon board rushed out to the newsstands and gathered in as many copies as possible before the police could act. Most of the copies were saved.

The police conducted a thorough search for the paper. One of the newsstand proprietors declared that the agents raided his place with the thoroughness of prohibition agents.

The raid started at 10:30 Friday morning. By 11:30 the Lampoon sold for $1.00, an hour later, $2.50, and by the evening the price had gone up to $8.00.

Both faculty and students at Harvard are indignant over the action of the police. Floods of legal advice are pouring into the Lampoon office. There is a possibility of a lawsuit.

Professor Felix Frankfurter, Byrne professor of administrative law, advised as follows:

"It is the old story of police interference where the police have no right to interfere. Pretending to be patriotic and vigilant, the authorities merely have shown themselves to be ridiculous and meddlesome. The play of the human spirit and freedom of thought, even of foolish thought, cannot be left in the hands of those whose only business it is to protect life and property and maintain order. The human mind is not meant for the safekeeping of the police.

"I cannot believe that the Lampoon will not contest this action of the police authorities in the courts."

Professor Zechariah Chafee made the following statement, pointing out the futility of the police action.

"I think it is absurd to suppress caricatures of well known pictures.

"I do not see any reason for suppressing the magazine for the cover, if the flag appears in the original. The picture on the inside is no more indecent than the original painting, by Manet, which has doubtless been frequently reproduced without objection. It would be well worth while to get a counsel and fight the matter out." N. S. N. S.

STUDENTS EXPLORE COTTON MILLS

Last November five recent graduates from Eastern colleges and universities began work, under assumed names, in the cotton and woolen mills of Passaic, New Jersey. This purpose was to find out with actual, first-hand experience, the working conditions, the social surroundings of workers in what has been considered the black spot in American industry.

The students were: Justine W. Wise, daughter of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Columbia, '24; Miss Bertha Paret, daughter of Bishop William Paret of Maryland, Vassar, '24; Miss Elsa Allen, Brookwood Labor College, '23; Roland Gibson, Dartmouth, '24, and Martin Beardsley, Brookwood, '23.

They assert that there is a blacklist in force in the woolen mills of New Jersey mill town. Employees are under observation by company spies. Discharges are made without notice and work is intermittent and uncertain.

There is much waste, Miss Wise declared upon the return of the party, of human and economic energy. Employees must wait for hours for materials, they paying for the loss of time, since they are paid on a piece work basis. An army of unemployed drifts continually from mill to mill. There is no permanency, no continuity, consequently the morale of the workers is very low. No efforts are made towards Americanization; in fact, Miss Wise believes that any such effort would be futile with the existing espionage system.

"We wanted to know whether actual work in industry could not be used as a basis for later activities in promoting the ideals of industrial democracy. And we also wanted the benefit of community life as part of our research work. For that reason the five of us went together. Passaic was chosen because it afforded employment for both men and women and because it is a black spot in American industrial life."

"I would like to explain," Miss Paret said, "that we are not in 'social work.' Social work means going on the theory that what you are is better than what the other man is. That is not our idea at all. Our idea is that of education through the workers themselves."

FISH STORY

An Irishman saw a fish of unusual size on the wharf, and after gazing at it for a few minutes he remarked:

"The man that caught that fish was a liar."—Parakeet.

Mrs. Smythe, on her first ocean voyage: "What's that down there?"

Captain: "That's the steerage, Madam!"

"Really!" she exclaimed in surprise, "And does it take all those people to make the boat go straight?"

Co-ed (angrily)—"I should think you would be ashamed to look me in the face or speak to me on the street."

He—"I am, but a gentleman is always courteous."—Purple Cow.

Verdelle Crab, former student of Rollins, is visiting her people in Orlando.

DELPHIC DEBATING CUP WON BY JUNIOR CLASS

fair. These debates are very instructive and are well worth attending. Besides their educational value, they offer excellent practice to those who are interested in public speaking and debating, as well as helping one to qualify for membership in many of the honorary fraternities. These debates are carried on under the direction of the Delphic Society, which offers the cup each year to the winning team.

"PERPETUAL MOTION" MAKES A BIG SUCCESS

loaded, the parts being evenly distributed among the leading men and women. It was cleverly written, cleverly acted, and the Senior class will be able to look back upon "Perpetual Motion" in later years with pride in their hearts and satisfaction in their minds.

you want to become a physician? What is your record in natural history and biology? If you fail there, then I pity the sick people whom you will be called upon to cure. By the way, if you fail in psychology you cannot even be a horse doctor.

You like philosophy and literature? Perhaps there is in you the makings of a good teacher or writer. Put yourself to the test, work hard and do not day dream.

Is it your ambition to be a politician or social organizer? What is your standing on the campus? Are you an orator? A leader? Have you personality? How do you succeed in sociology? In economics?

You have the talent for modern languages? You can go abroad as newspaper reporter, you may enter the diplomatic service, you can become a scholar of foreign literature and interpreter of the spirit of nations. Perhaps a historian.

Sometimes a young man or woman hears a call and believes it to be the call for a vocation, when it is only the call for an avocation. And there lies the danger of what we call the inner voice, which prompts one to choose a calling. The inner voice is not always true to its promise. The spirit awakens hope, but does the intellect by actual experience and judgment assure that these hopes can be fulfilled? The inner voice talks always in oracular whisperings. You cannot trust the voice until you try yourself out. And this is the high value of a college education: it provides for you the playground to try yourself out.

MANY NEW TRADITIONS INSTITUTED THIS YEAR

lic platform. In the words of Abraham Lincoln, "It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

The third, and perhaps most impressive, tradition to be inaugurated this year is the marching into chapel each Friday morning of the Senior class in their caps and gowns. In many colleges it is the custom for graduating students to wear their caps and gowns at all times several weeks previous to graduation. However, human actions must conform to the climate to which they are subjected. During the warm days of April, May and June it was found that caps and gowns would have been extremely uncomfortable. Consequently, this new ceremony takes place only once a week. However, its impressiveness is in no wise lessened by its brevity.

There is also a new tradition which has been adhered to by all male students of Rollins during the past year. This is a barring of smoking outside of quarters.

College life is mostly a series of traditions and customs. It is hoped that students of Rollins will realize the value of these sacred traditions and do their utmost at all times to preserve them.

given to each student as she registers. It will contain the rules governing Cloverleaf. Of course, it is not our aim to have the girls live a life here at college governed by a set of iron-clad rules.

"One rule will be that no off-the-campus callers will be allowed during class hours. There will be certain times for calling."

"What will be your stand regarding student government, Mrs. Hart?"

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with student government, and the Dean of Women's will be strictly a 'hands-off' policy."

"There is one other thing. I would like to encourage the men to use the parlors more. Many pleasant social affairs could take place here, if only the men could be induced to venture into the parlors more than they do. It is natural that Cloverleaf should be the social center of the campus, and I shall do all in my power to make it so."

This last statement should bring joy to the hearts of many. Heretofore, the men on the campus seem to have regarded Cloverleaf as a place to go, grab the right party, and get away from as soon as possible. It is this state of conditions which Mrs. Hart is attempting to do away with.

All together, now, three cheers for Mrs. Hart!

Judge: "Have you spent all your life in jail?"

C. C. Carter: "Not 'xactly yo' honor. I have had my little vacations to rest up in."

Monte Wolford: "I asked if I could see her home."

Chick: "What did she say?"

Monte: "She said she would send me a picture of it."
