ROLLINS TARS CRASH UNEXPECTEDLY TO DEFEAT BEFORE TERRIFIC DRIVE OF CENTENARY COLLEGE GENTLEMEN

Game Little Florida Team Far from Home Loses Hard Struggle

After holding the strong militarists of Citadel to a 27-0 score, and upsetting all "dope" in Macon by playing the Mercer Bears to a 14-0 game, in which no score was registered until the last eight minutes of play, Rollins cashed unexpectedly to defeat before the terrific onslaught of the Centenary Gentlemen in Shreveport last Saturday, and came out of the struggle on the short end of an 83-0 score. If for no other reason than its absolute decisiveness, the Centenary game will make a dark spot in Rollins' hall of achievements.

Rollins entered the game with four of her seventeen on the crippled list; Couch with a broken arm from the Mercer game, Seeds with a badly injured leg, Boardman with an infected leg, and Colado ready to repair to the sick list. Cripples galore graced the Rollins line and backfield; and, coupled with lack of condition due to the long ten day trip, the Tars might have had a very strong alibi for the result of the game. Unfortunately, however, alibies seldom effect a football score after the game has been played. Rollins lost the worst game of her history.

Boardman being out of the game, Coach Tallman drafted Abbott, a linesman, but not a center, to fill the whole. Never having played center before, Abbott performed remarkably well considering the circumstances. He was unable to pass a spiral, but claimed he could get the ball to the backfield. He did—end over end. If it had rained October the seventeenth, Abbott would have made the perfect center.

Centenary weighed fifteen pounds to the man more than our men on the line, while the two backfields seemed to be very evenly matched. So "Bo" MacMillan's "leftovers" encountered very little stiff opposition from a line

SOUTHERN SYNCOPATERS BROADCAST FEVER JAZZ

The time for patent leather dancing slippers and syncopating toes is here! Monday evening, October 19, the Ten Southern Syncopaters of Mayfield, Kentucky, broadcasted upon the bracing atmosphere of our fair Florida climate some musical notes that literally made the atmospheric waves steam. Hot? Ask the several couples who were lucky enough to be at station WDBO and dance while the orchestra played the season's latest.

Monday night the broadcasting program by the Ten Southern Syncopaters was given under the auspices of the McCauley Realty Company, who has the Venetian Gardens on Lake Conway. Selections were played by request from Orlando, Winter Park, Kissimmee, and neighboring towns, and there were plenty of requests. Cloverleaf insisted that requests be made via the Cloverleaf telephone, and women usually have their way.

It is generally observed that so far, there has prevailed a marked lack of dances upon the campus this year—

ALUMNI RECORD GOES TO FORMER STUDENTS

Former students of Rollins College are receiving copies of the October number of the "Alumni Record," edited by A. J. Hanna, which has just been published from the Alumni office in Winter Park. The most important announcement contained relates to the "welcome dinner" to be given in honor of President and Mrs. Hamilton Holt, at the Angebilt hotel, this evening at 7 o'clock. Speakers representing the alumni of each of Florida's colleges will be present and the occasion will be especially important because President Holt will outline the policies of his administration for the first time.

Dr. T. R. Baker, contributing editor of the Record, has written for this number "Brief Remembrances of Rollins College Presidents—of their Personality and Work." The undergraduate section, under the heading "On the Shores of Lake Virginia," telling of the opening of the 41st year, and the beginning of the various student activities.

"TAR BABIES" OVERPOWER CADETS OF FLORIDA MILITARY ACADEMY IN JACKSONVILLE BY 7 TO 0 COUNT

Recovered Fumble and Toe of Captain White Provide Margin of Victory

Striving to show, in a measure that they had imbibed some of the "Rollins Spirit," during their brief period of matriculation, so early in the season, the rat team sneaked a victory over the Florida Military Academy by a score of 7 to 0.

Although the "Tar Babies" did not show their usual snappy form due to several mixups in the line-up and an injury to their only seasoned center, Draa, they managed to keep the ball in their opponents' section of the field most of the time, and made numerous first downs.

Zoller, star halfback, was forced to substitute for Draa and distinguished himself by playing three different positions during the game, center on offense, guard on defense, and tackle on the kickoff. Wright, plucky quarterback, was mainly responsible for the touchdown made by Kirshbaum, Rat fullback, in the third quarter, through which Wright made a gain of thirty-five yards. On the next play the touchdown was made through the recovering of a fumble by Kirshbaum.

Herb White, captain of the Rats, booted the pigskin over the bar for the total of seven points for the Rats. This combination, along with Williams, who made substantial gains around the ends and Arroyo who was nearly incapacitated by a fractured rib were the mainstays of the team, while Hookman, Turner and Earle featured for the Cadets.

Tired and sore the Tar Babies were delayed three hours in the Jacksonville station enroute to Winter Park, and so did not get back until the wee small hours of Saturday morning.

Line-up as follows:

| RATS | CADETS |
|-----------------|---------|
| Williams | Langdon |
| Left end | |
| Michael | Neil |
| Left Tackle | |
| Hood | Jones |
| Left Guard | |
| Zoller | Tatum |

| Warner | Beard |
| Right Guard | |
| White (c) | Larson |
| Right End | |
| Wright | Turner |
| Quarter Back | |
| Luther | Hockman |
| Left Half Back | |
| Arroyo | Riddle |
| Right Half Back | |
| Kirshbaum | Earle |

Jinny Davis, one of last year's seniors, was welcomed back to Rollins and Cloverleaf by a spread last Thursday evening in the McKay-Thompson rooms. Jinny has a position teaching English in the New Smyrna high school. Her Rollins friends will be glad to know that she expects to spend her week-ends on the Rollins campus.

Established in 1894 with the following editorial:

"Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

FIGHT!

Fight is that quality which enabled the strong man to "lick his weight in wildcats!"

Fight is what the spider instilled into the heart of Druce of Scotland.

Fight is what the ant did when he hauled an insect five times his size one mile to the colony larder.

Fight is what the "fighting Tars" of Rollins did when they played Mercer and lost a heartbreaking game by a 14-0 score.

And few teams ever fought harder or more bitterly!

If you students of Rollins could have seen the way your team representing hardly two hundred and fifty young men and women 'way down in Florida trimmed the claws of Mercer's Bears for more than three-quarters of the game, you would have awakened to the fact that the Rollins Tars can fight like veterans to the last ditch, and even in the face of defeat.

It isn't the victory that counts half so much as the way the game is lost.

Imagine Mercer with four downs to carry the ball one foot to a touch-down. Imagine the Tars lined up opposite, dirty, sweaty, determined. Imagine a bare fist attempting to punch a hole through a stone wall. If you can picture these things, then you know how desperately and determinedly your warriors fought for your glory.

One man fought grimly for ten minutes with a broken arm—and then almost cried because he had to be taken out. Nor, even then, was he useless. He would have stayed on and defended the name of that wonderful old alma mater in which you pride yourself, regardless of physical tortures.

Students of Rollins, are you deserving of such valor? Are you going to stand complacently by, watch your team fight for your glory and honor, and in the end take upon your shoulders the credit for the victories—undeserved credit taken upon unworthy shoulders?

Or, are you, deep down in that place in your hearts which only yourselves may know, going to pray and root simultaneously for your team? That's what is needed! Forget these superficial yells and outward smiles. They are not sincere.

Cheer from your heart, and smile from your heart.

There are two hundred and fifty students attending Rollins. At the first homecoming game let there be two hundred and fifty Rollins students upon the sidelines. Let there be two hundred and fifty souls urging our team on to victory. Let there be two hundred and fifty persons, each of whom will root, not because his or her neighbor is making a big noise, but because that person believes in the spirit and football ability of the "Fighting Tars."

The team is yours. Support it.

CHOICE CHIPS FROM CHASE

"Yankee Red" wants to know why the street car conductors don't make colored "ladies" enter from the rear.

We understand that, when the variety left for Macon, Herb White experienced somewhat the same feeling as the famous only pebble on the beach. Cloverleaf unearthed a new sheik.

Colored Waiter: What'll you have suh?

Seeds: What have you got that's free?

Before the Mercer Game

Shoot a dime! Who fades me?

Gotcha. Let 'em roll.

Roll a natural. Come on, babies, talk to your papa.

It's nine. Let 'em roll.

String a rabbit's leg! Lookin' for a little Joe. Um-m.

Fever in the mountains. Oh! lady, Eighter from Decatur.

Lookin' for a four an' you gotta seven! Seventy days on the county road. Watch these stripes! Seven it is, and you lose the bones. Observe a natural.

After:

Gimme the liniment, Squirt. How about a rub. Ouch! what the—!

Go easy on that leg. O-h-h, my knee. Whaddya think this is, a pump handle. I said I wanted a rubdown, not an amputation.

Coach: "It's a rough game, boys!"

Couch: (nursing his broken arm) And I don't mean maybe.

A delightful tea was enjoyed on Wednesday afternoon by members of Phi Omega Sorority. All present made the afternoon an enjoyable one. After the social hour refreshments were served. Those invited were: Mrs. Tommy Quinn, Misses Charlotte Wettstein, Virginia Richardson, Lucille Pipkorn, Florence McKay, Lucille Waters, Edith Draa, Freda Kuebler and Bertina Congdon.

Among friends of Phi Omega who were present were: Miss Lela Niles, new faculty advisor, Mrs. Ruby Newby, Miss Emilie B. Cass, and Miss Schenk, new associate members, and Mrs. R. E. Callahan, new honorary member.

Miss Susan Peschmann, well known resident of Winter Park, has returned from the Santa Cruz Inn at Haines Falls, N. Y., where she spent the summer and has become the social hostess for the Phi Alpha fraternity.

The Phi Alphas have placed at her disposal the private suite for the hostess on the first floor of their handsome new chapter house, and are quite delighted with their new "mother."

The members of the Weekly Dozen Club met Wednesday at 6 o'clock A. D. They paddled across Lake Virginia in motor boats and landed under the Family Tree. A Chinese luncheon was spread immediately, and eaten, before Billy Freeman could open her pop. Wonder how much trouble it took Anne Hathaway and Edith Draa to devour those green bananas? Somebody knows. Elizabeth and Freda furnished the music and Florence and Gladys Miller the giggling, while Miss Wilkinson danced upon the Hawaiian sands. The solemn dignity of the gang was upheld by Frances V. and June Mosher. Martha and Evelyn Green were on bad terms with peanut butter and accordingly raised the washwoman's wages this week.

After the whichness of the what they came back as they got.

K. E. rush week has started with a bang! Waffles, cinnamon toast and pop plus a bevy of pajama-garbed girls constituted a spread given in the McKay-Thompson establishment on last Monday evening at 9:45. Music for the affair was furnished by the "All Southern" orchestra. The girls voted it a dandy spread, even though Ada did put salt instead of sugar on some of the cinnamon toast and Martha spilled a bottle of pop on Miss Gartland's foot. The crisp waffles, under the supervision of Eva, who acted as cook, were served piping hot with butter and maple syrup. The final course of the spread was a "K. E. Special" box of caramels. Dancing in the lower hall of Cloverleaf followed the spread and continued until Miss Gartland sent everyone to bed.

Those who partook of the waffles were Lois Briggs, Edna Wells, Lela Hale, Barbara Floyd, Louise Mathis, Mary Lou Palmer, Evelyn Green, Ann Hathaway, Sarah Kroh, Mary Hall, Virginia Mitchel, Mary Sheppard, Mildred Edwards, Gladys Miller, Francis Vallette and Billie Freeman.

Kindergarten has started again! Jean Wagner, an old Rollins student, has returned to Winter Park to take up her kindergarten work for the coming winter. Any Rollins students desiring to make up back work may attend free of charge.

See Sap for details about the race between Evans and Larkins. Evans won by one lap.

Blinker has to be very quiet these days. We all sympathize with his sore foot.

We have heard various reports on the Jacksonville trip. Shooting seemed to be the favorite occupation.

Everyone will miss the teeth Zehler lost in the game. They were necessary to complete his sunny smile.

Some of the Cloverleaf girls have developed colds. There seems to be a draft somewhere.

Ginny Davis left for the schoolroom after a happy week-end in the dorm.

Carl Warner spent the week-end in Crescent City.

The rain caused several bright raincoats to bloom forth on the campus.

The two Gainesville boys down this week-end made quite an impression on the Rollins girls.

The freshies look quite different without the little caps. One can actually tell what they look like now.

Quite a bit of excitement happened in Cloverleaf Sunday night. See Ham, the information bureau.

Louise Mathis reports a hot time in Crescent City this week-end. Some place, that town.

Lillian Baldwin and Dizzy Duffield upheld the Rollins spirit on the sidelines at Jacksonville.

We hear Army has blossomed forth as a tenor bass baritone.

Blinker seemed quite worried about something yesterday. He is afraid to leave Cloverleaf alone for a whole week-end.

Doc Kruel has developed into a champion fudge maker.

Martha's secret passion is for cretonne vests.

Leila had a bombardment of green oranges. Somebody's orange grove's gone wrong.

Test week passed slowly, with everyone wearing a studious expression.

Have you heard the Evans-Draa Fable?

For first class wrestling matches attend the Spanish classes.

Ham reports a letter from dear Alvin Kroehle—how we miss him!

The ukelele epidemic has struck Chase Hall.

Painted floors seem to be the fad in Cloverleaf.

The campus missed the team and are glad to have them back. They did their best against heavy odds.

Gene Wagner has come back—everyone is very glad, including her kindergarteners.

Lealle and Army made a formal call at Cloverleaf Sunday afternoon in a swell car.

Notice: The usual bathing beauty class will be held at 3:39 today.

We are glad to have a new girl on the campus. Sarah Crowe arrived last week.

K. E. fraternity had its hair cut at Yowell-Drews last week. After entertaining, the barber informed them that no wholesale rates were allowed.

We hear that Laura Randall is attending Miss Temple's School in New York this year.

"Are you married?"
"No, the stove exploded in my face."—The Chanticleer.

Prof.: Now, I want the students to be two seats apart during the examination and will John Dough please put his cuffs on my desk.—Wampus.

The Ten Southern Syncopaters will broadcast again Wednesday night at 8:30, and they have promised an even more splendid program than the last. Wednesday at 12:30, the Rollins Serenaders will cast their vocal interpretations upon the waves from station WDBO. The Rollins Serenaders are a mysterious group of agony instigators of whom little is known and much expected. Since their actions seem to have been clothed in mystery, so far, the psychology of it is that they must be good entertainers. Let us hope so. Mysterious noises have been heard upon the campus of late, but it is hoped they are connected in no way with our silent serenaders.

Between the Rollins Serenaders and the Ten Southern Syncopaters, students of Rollins should be able to hear some real syncopation if they wander anywhere near station WDBO, Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.

"Kharacters of the Kampus" is the title of an interesting column in the "Gold and Black" of Birmingham-Southern College of Alabama. 1. Don't try to act like upper classmen. You're too ludicrous for words. Besides, it's dangerous.

2. Don't overlook your servile station. You're still rats.

3. Don't allow yourself to develop intimate friendships with the young ladies in Cloverleaf.

4. Don't hesitate to use the canoes. You won't get wet, and they have got to be paid for.

5. Don't trod on the violets while crossing the campus. The walk was made to use.

6. Don't fail to inform a sophomore if you possess public speaking ability. You'll be given your opportunity to elucidate from the public platform.

7. Don't jostle an upper classman when entering the beanery. The proper amount of respect is only a display of tact.

8. Don't inquire of Coach Tallman what battle the unknown soldier fought in.

9. Don't forget to carry your Bible to Sunday School. The works of Shakespeare are not acceptable.

of the varsity and freshman football teams, and individual pictures of the prominent players.

The Alumni Record is the monthly meeting place of over 30,000 sons and daughters of Rollins. In a peculiar sense this vast audience of college men and women meet together in the pages of their official organ, and think and plan for Christian education. The Record attempts not only to interpret the mind and heart of the true Rollins man and woman but it seeks also to aid them in putting into practice their aims and energies along constructive lines of educational endeavor.

The Rollins Alumni Association is able to support such a creditable magazine because in conformity with the policies of the leading colleges of the country, former students, even though they haven't graduated, are admitted to membership. This includes all former students of the old Academy, the Conservatory and other departments, many of whom have attained greater success than the degree graduates themselves.

"Yes, but one wouldn't take it."

—Brown Jug.

When You Take the Children Along

"What was the name of the last station we stopped at, mother?"

"I don't know. Be quiet, I'm working out a cross-word puzzle."

"It's a pity you don't know the name, mother, because little Oscar got off the train there!"

He—I just went out to get a breath of air.

She—Yes, I can smell it.

—Penn State Froth.

"Waiter, this steak is terribly tough."

"Sir, we are not responsible for the morals of our food."

—Rutgers Chanticleer.

"That's a beautiful birdie, Mama."

"Yes, Foster, and it never cries."

"That's because nobody ever tries to wash its neck."

—Brown Jug.

"I must see the doctor myself today—I don't like the look of my wife."

"I'll come with you, old man. I can't bear the sight of mine either."

He: Do you know Poe's "Raven?"

Him: What's he mad about?

—Penn. Punch Bowl.

Night

"I suppose you have been through algebra."

"Yes, but I went through at night and I did not see the darned place."

—Tit Bits.

Judge (to prospective jurymen): So you've formed an opinion of the case?

P. J.: Yes, your honor, one look at that man convinced me he was guilty.

Judge: Heavens! Man, that's the Prosecuting Attorney!

—Wabash Caveman.

Little Brother: When did the custom of sitting up with the dead originate?

Big Sister: When Eve got stuck with the first dumb date.

—Colorado Dodo.

"Why does she wear arrows in her stockings?"

"To go with her bow-legs."

—The Technician.

She: Tell me you love me.

He: I love you.

She: Say it as though you meant it.

He: I love you.

She: Say it with feeling.

He: What the hell is this, a dramatic rehearsal?

—Cornell Widow.

"Why is a lady's veil like a mud puddle?"

"They're both in the road."

—Pitt Panther.

"Did you ever make a wrong diagnosis, doctor?"

"Only once. I diagnosed a simple indigestion and found out afterward that the patient was rich enough to have appendicitis."

Irate father: The infernal impudence! You want to marry my daughter? Do you think you could give her what she's been used to?

The chap: Er, er, yes, sir, I've a violent temper myself.
