DR. GEORGE E. CARROTHERS WILL SUCCEED DR. SPRAGUE TO DIRECT FACULTY IN THE OFFICE OF DEAN

Dr. George E. Carrothers Is First of New
"Golden Personality" Professors to Come to Rollins—Is Indiana Graduate

Faculty Head Boasts of Experience in Many Schools

Dr. George E. Carrothers, Professor of Education at Ohio University, has been selected as the new dean of Rollins College, according to an announcement made by President Hamilton Holt. Dr. Carrothers has been elected to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Dr. R. J. Sprague, who has acted as dean for the past five years. The new dean will assume his duties with the opening of the forty-second academic year next September.

Dr. Carrothers is one of several young, progressive educators recommended to Dr. Holt by the American Council on Education. Largely instrumental in the securing of Dr. Carrothers was the recommendation of Edward E. Slossons, a close friend of Dr. Holt, and head of Science Service at Washington. After extended conference with all of these men Dr. Holt selected Dr. Carrothers as the man best suited to fit in with his plans for the development of the new Rollins.

In addition to his work as dean. Dr. Carrothers, who is a graduate of Indiana University and took his degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Columbia University, will head the Department of Education at Rollins and conduct courses in the principals of Teaching and in the History of Education.

Sprague Will Remain

ROLLINS SCHOLARSHIPS GO TO STATE STUDENTS

Hamilton Holt Makes Announcement
About Sharing of Scholarships Next Year

That Florida high school seniors will have an opportunity to share in a limited number of honor scholarships at Rollins College and also in the Gary Loan Fund, was made known by President Hamilton Holt, through a general announcement to the high school principals of Florida.

The announcement reads:

"In order to show her interest in the work of the Florida high schools and to encourage graduates of these schools to pursue a college course, and to do this within this state under broad Christian influences, Rollins College places at the disposal of the standard preparatory or high schools in Florida the honor scholarships.

"These scholarships will be awarded to honor students in the graduating classes. The granting of the awards will be based upon these points:

"(1) Recommendation of the high school faculty; (2) moral character; (3) scholarship; and (4) leadership in student activities.

"Believing that the future of America depends largely upon the moral development of its leaders, Rollins College makes this heavy financial sacrifice to raise the quality and character of its students and thus do

Holt Announces New Increase In Tuition

Increase Will Place College on a Better
Financial Basis

In order to place Rollins College on a better financial basis, in accordance with the policy of other colleges of the country, President Hamilton Holt, of Rollins College made public today a statement regarding an increase in the tuition for the year 1926-27, as follows: Board, $280; room rent, $100; tuition, $200; registration, $20; total $600.

In commenting on the increased cost of a college education, President Holt referred to an announcement made recently by Columbia University which reads as follows: "Fees and tuitions have been gradually rising in the United States, but not in proportion to the rise in other costs. The consequence is that the student has been paying a decreasing proportion

UNITARIAN MINISTER ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Says Religion and Science are Interlocked
in This day of Modern Invention

Last Friday morning in chapel Dr. Badger of the Unitarian Church of Orlando spoke to the students on "Science and Religion." Dr. Badger is a noted lecturer, and has talked to audiences and preached to congregations throughout this state.

"In all the history of mankind," said the speaker, "there was never a time in which it was so enormously interesting to be alive as it is now. Chiefly interesting now because we are living in a time when so much more is going to happen. There is such a vast area of the unknown to look toward and await the discovery of."

Dr. Badger enlarged on the progress of transportation. One hundred years ago, people traveled on foot, or by stage coach, or mule, horse, or donkey. There was no other way to travel. Two hundred years ago people traveled in the same way. Three hundred years ago, no difference in mode of travel was discernible. And so on back as far as history goes. Except, of course, that the stage coach probably did not date back to pre-Columbus days.

Suddenly, a burst of progress began to change the ways of the world. Invention produced the steam locomotive, the automobile, aeroplanes. People began to travel ninety miles an hour where before they had traveled

Mt. Dora Man Presents Library With Splendid Collection of Old Books

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanborn of Mount Dora, the Library of Rollins College has recently received a collection of about sixty-five books.

Mr. Sanborn, on his own initiative, called on the Librarian and offered to give a number of books from their home library "if they were wanted." They were, he said, "of no special value except for their age." The offer was promptly accepted.

"Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

PUBLIC OPINION

Next to conscience, the most vital factor in influencing one to conduct oneself with propriety is public opinion. Sometimes fear of public disfavor overrides even conscience. So we may safely say that public opinion is at least a vital factor in the shaping of public life.

Public opinion brands one in college as indelibly as it marks the man of the world. Our college is a miniature world in itself during four years of our life. Consequently it remains to us to cultivate public favor. Not, however, at the cost of self respect. By leadership and honest conviction a man may gain the respect of his colleagues and never lose one iota of his self respect. If anything, he may add to that which he already has.

The Sandspur has attempted to begin a custom here at Rollins of an annual public opinion contest. Recognition of merit will sometimes produce greater results than preaching or moralizing on the part of instructors and speakers. We believe that if a man is the most popular man in college, he wants it to be known. Furthermore, if he wants to be popular solely for the purpose of glory, he need not entertain hopes, for popularity is not based on conceit. If a girl is musical to the ninth degree, it is a pleasant feeling to know that other people recognize the fact. Praise of public opinion has sent more than one thrilling glow coursing through the veins of young men and women.

The Sandspur believes that a public opinion contest should become an annual event. Let's make it one.

"Education will save the nation!"

Whoever made that statement sounded the keynote to Florida's situation, also.

There are those who say Florida will not last; Florida has spent itself in its own enthusiasm; "the craze" in Florida real estate will end with a sickening thud to leave Florida stranded on the isle of bankruptcy; Florida will go "back to the sticks." But those people know not whereof they speak, for they have failed to reckon with the lasting influence of education.

As long as people live they will support education. No instance of which we know stands out where the people of a community, or a state, have allowed a college to go to the wall because of insufficient finances. A community will rally at the last moment to the cause of education no matter how hard may be conditions.

And where there is education there is lasting civic life and community pride.

Florida is perpetuating herself in her educational institutions. Orange county has granted to Rollins $380,000, or $60,000 a year for five years, to take care of current expenses while Hamilton Holt is in the great financial centers of the country raising an additional $5,000,000. Tampa, Lakeland, and the district thereabout is rallying to a drive by Southern College to build up that institution. Gainesville and the country around is giving thousands of dollars to the University of Florida in its campaign. Down in Miami, efforts are being made to build a $15,000,000 University of Miami. In fact, all over the state, there is taking place what we might call an educational renaissance. Florida is coming to the rescue of her educational system with dollars and cents. When, of their own free will, people give their money to back their state, that state can not fail.

Floridians believe in Florida. When a group of people who comprise a community, or thousands of people who own a state, say their state can not go backward, it simply can not go backward. As long as there are people there will be achievement. As long as there are people in Florida, there will be progress in Florida.

Since 1921 American capital has gone abroad $4,305,000,000 worth. Foreign governments took $156,200,000 of this amount, and statistics show that England did not fail to "get her hand in the pudding." Canada, also, took $30,800,000 of the sum.

Recently, England has grown more persistent in her demands that the Confederate States pay a certain debt they are said to have contracted somewhere back in the dawn of history. And we, as honest future citizens of our country, would like to remind England that it is not the American way to dodge payment of debt. If the United States owes England, England will get what she should get. The only thought that troubles us, however, is whether or not we owe England money. Britain's uneasiness that she may not be granted her claims furnishes room for conjecture as to whether Britain's claims are just.

Down in Italy there rules a man whose influence and actions have startled Europe. Mussolini, with astounding success, has kept more than one European government in suspense as to his next move.

Now, there arrives another dictator into the light of European diplomacy, this time in the person of Marshal Pilsudski, of Poland, who has forced the President of the Republic and his cabinet to yield to his coup d'etat and hand him their resignations. Pilsudski, who once was chief executive of Poland, is represented by some as a sincere democrat who wishes only for the good of his country, and by others as an adventurous character whose violent intervention at this time is not only calculated to spoil Poland's chances to secure the place she wants on the council of the League of Nations, but compromises Polish connections in other ways. Pilsudski has ended immediate danger of civil war, but he has placed Polish representatives at the League of Nations assembly in a rather embarrassing position.

It appears that Poland really desires to get into the League. Rather foolish, to our American way of thinking. So Poland need not look to the United States for aid or even sympathy, because the United States and Uruguay agree that they absolutely "can't see" the League of Nations.

THINGS THAT MAKE FLORIDA ARE ETERNAL

The things that make Florida are eternal—the sea, the sky, the sun, the gulf stream, the fruits and flowers, the fertility of the soil. Profiting by the example of southern California, Florida is turning to industry.

There is no longer talk of cutting the back country up into building lots. Instead, great dairy interests are coming in there. Last winter some of Florida's milk came from as far away as Wisconsin.

Florida soon will be producing everything that can be produced in the state. Once you have got a population, you also have human necessity, and human necessity is the father of industry.

No, there is nothing the matter with Florida.—James M. Cox, in Dayton (Ohio) News.

Hand-painted knees are the latest on Fifth Avenue. You wouldn't know the old joints now.—New York American.

MUSEUM RECEIVES GIFT OF LIGUUS FASCISTUS

D. Henry Fordham, alumnus of Rollins college in Miami, has made a notable contribution, shells of three snails to the museum of the college, according to an announcement made here by Dr. Thomas R. Baker.

In explaining this addition, Dr. Baker said:

"The contribution of Mr. Fordham is very interesting and valuable. It is a large collection of shells of three snails or Liguus Fascistus. These snails, beautiful in form and color, spend their lives on trunks of trees feeding upon microscopic cryptogamous plants.

"They are air breathing mollusks, having their eyes on the ends of long tentacles, which they can fold in like the tip of a glove finger.

"The animal is rare in Florida, being found only in the extreme southern part of the state and chiefly on certain of the keys. There are only several such collections in the entire country."

FREEMAN-GREENE ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Coming as a complete surprise to their many friends, announcement of the engagement of Miss Wilhelmina Freeman and Mr. Raymond W. Greene, both prominent young people of Winter Park, was made last evening by Mrs. W. D. Freeman, mother of the bride-to-be, at a dinner and dance, attended by a large number of members of the Kappa Epsilon Sorority, Phi Alpha Fraternity and other friends.

Preceding the dance, the secret was revealed at the dinner when each guest found a red rose bearing an envelope with the names of the "Billie" and "Ray." The table decorations of red and white were carried out by an abundance of roses.

Colored lights placed throughout the grounds of the Freeman estate which slopes beautifully toward Lake Osceola, presented an ideal back-bleachers" Orchestra furnished the music ground for the evening. The "Ramblers" orchestra furnished the music and dancing was enjoyed on the lawn as well as in the house.

Miss Freeman is one of Winter Park's most popular young girls, and is especially interested in Rollins activities. She has taken a leading part in dramatics and finds time to do many good things for the community's welfare. She is a blonde possessing a personality of rare charm.

Mr. Green has been closely identified with many leading movements for Rollins and Winter Park. His chief achievement has been in the field of amateur sports which he has promoted to a large extent throughout the state as commissioner of the A. A. U. Several years ago he organized the Florida Association of that international organization and was made commissioner for this state.

As head of the alumni body of Rollins College, Mr. Green has organized the former students of the college into a strong supporting unit of President Holt's administration, and has been responsible, as president of the Phi Alpha Alumni, for erecting a handsome fraternity house for the college.

At three o'clock Monday afternoon at the Phi Alpha house, Mrs. Hamilton Holt, Mrs. W. W. Yothers, Mrs. D. A. Cheney, Mrs. A. E. Dick, Mrs. J. B. Thomas, Mrs. E. B. Mendsen, Mrs. F. E. Sherman, Mrs. C. Maxwell Green, Mrs. R. B. Barbour, Miss Helen Way, Miss Mary Branham, and Miss Leila Holt acted as hostesses at a benefit bridge party for the Phi Alpha fraternity to help raise funds for the chapter house.

Girls of the Sigma Phi sorority of Rollins assisted the boys by serving refreshments and by looking after the pleasure of the guests. Music was rendered by the Phi Alpha orchestra during the refreshment hour.

A collection of paintings of Mrs. R. D. Macdonald was exhibited during the afternoon.

FROM THE BLESSED DAMOZEL

By Rossetti

I have been here before,
But when or how I cannot tell:
I know the grass beyond the door,
The sweet keen smell,
The sighing sound, the lights around
The shore.

You have been mine before,—
How long ago I may not know:
But just when at the swallow's soar
Your neck turned so,
Some veil did fall,—I knew it all of yore.

Has this been thus before?
And shall not thus time's eddying flight
Still with our lives our loves restore
In death's despite,
And day and night yield one delight
once more?

THE GRAPEFRUITS SQUIRT

Elimination of the squirt from grapefruit is to be listed high among gains in disarmament. The scientific philanthropist to be credited with this achievement has accomplished much in the way of establishing the peace of mind of breakfasters on a permanent basis.

For years the militant grapefruit, armed with its squirt, put up a game fight against its assailants. Unerring aim in spotting collar or tie or vest, the suddenness with which it could shoot its liquid fire to the center of the eye, the unexpectedness of its assault, combined to make a foe man worthy of a hero's spoon. But since it has been pacified by taking away its squirt, it is now to be catalogued as a nonbelligerent.—Tampa Tribune.

MUSICIANS MUST PRACTICE YOUNG

A musician cannot be made after the age of fourteen is the declaration of Dr. John E. Borland, for seventeen years the directing master of a music class of half a million children in the London elementary schools, who has retired.

Dr. Borland said the English really are a musical nation, but children who are naturally musical have so little chance to acquire a real love of music that it is not strange the English do not excel along musical lines.

The first of the semester recitals by students of the conservatory of music will be given Thursday evening, May 27th. The second recital will occur Monday evening June the first.

PHI OMEGA NEWS

Mrs. P. A. Vans Agnew turned over her grounds to the Phi Omegas on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Vans Agnew, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas, Peggy Gaskell, Mary Hansen, Dorothy Cosby and the Phi Omegas.

LITERATURE COLUMN

ONE DAY I WROTE HER NAME By EDMUND SPENCER

One day I wrote her name upon the strand;
But came the waves and washed it away;
Again I wrote it with a second hand,
But came the tide and made my pains his prey.
Vain man! said she, that dost in vain assay
A mortal thing to immortalize;
For I myself shall like to this decay,
And eke my name be wiped out likewise.
Not so, quoth I; let base things devise
To die in dust, but you shall live by fame:
My verse your virtues rare shall eternize,
And in the heavens write your glorious name,—
Where, whereas death shall the world subdue,
Our love shall live, and later life renew.

We can't exactly call this little ditty literary, but it is significant of the rebirth of the spirit of the Charleston, which is finding renewed favor along Broadway.

I'll be with you when the odorouth narthithhuth
Thweetly tells that Thpring ith onth more with uth;
Then whithper "yeth" and with our blettheth kitheth,
O, promith me taat you will be my mithuth.

There are letters of action,
There are letters of tone;
But the best way to letter
Is to let 'er alone.
There are meters of actions,
There are meters of tone;
But the best way to meet 'er
Is to meet 'er alone.

JUST SMILE

When the world has turned against you
And things have all gone wrong
And your friends don't even offer you a smile.
When the birds have all stopped singing
And the flowers heads are bowed
And every step you take seems like a mile.
When the good ole' sun has faded
And all your skies are grey
And living, just no longer seems worth while.
You will find there's much less sadness
And a whole lot more o' gladness
If you'll stand right up and lift your head, and smile.

A. J. HANNA ANNOUNCES INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Funds of the Rollins College Alumni Association, held in trust, are being invested in the building and loan associations, according to an announcement by A. J. Hanna, secretary of the Alumni Association. These funds are invested until they total the goal set at which time they will be devoted to the work of the institution.

One, the Thomas R. Baker fund, amounting to $500, has been held by the local building and loan association for some time and another fund, re-invested recently, it is announced. It is the athletic memorial amounting to $600, which was begun shortly after the World War to honor the Rollins men who lost their lives in the service.

Dr. A. A. Kent, secretary-treasurer of the loan association, in commending Rollins alumni on this action, said, "I regard the Rollins College Alumni Association as one of the most potent organizations for usefulness in our community. I need not speak of its power and influence educationally, socially and morally."

ROLLINS RECEIVES NEW GIFT FROM W. J. SANBORN

A few days later Professor Harris and the librarian visited Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn, expecting to return in the early afternoon with the books. They found the house so delightfully different from other houses, so full of antiques of various sorts, containing so many heirlooms of furniture, pictures, swords, guns, together with so remarkable a collection of old pewter pieces, that they almost forgot they were there for books.

However, late in the afternoon they turned their attention again to the purpose of their call. The collection brought back does not contain any modern books. They are just such books as any College Library would be glad to have upon its shelves as an illustration of what kind of books were read from fifty to one hundred fifty years ago. There were other books in the library, still older and of unusual value. The librarian suggested that he would take those too if the owner didn't mind. Mr. Sanborn replied that there were several other people who would like to do the same thing.

The Library of Rollins College is glad to express through the Sandspur its appreciation of the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn. The books will be placed together on the shelves as the "Sanborn Collection."

of his education. This has caused some institutions to face serious and increasing financial difficulties.

"Real estate, building materials, labor, etc., have risen much faster than the charges that have been made to students. This is an unwise financial policy because the average student's source of individual income has risen in proportion to costs.

"The cost of clothing and amusements has also advanced and, generally speaking, the student's standard of living has raised in this respect. This change, however, has not induced him to underestimate the importance of cultivating his leisure time, or tended to make his neglect his personal appearance. In a day when the value of a college course is becoming increasingly important from the economic standpoint, a higher price for intellectual training should not make a student appreciate it any the less."

President Holt further pointed out that the people of Orange county and alumni of Rollins had recently contributed a fund of $380,000 as an underwriting fund toward current expenses of the next five years.

The League of Nations might change its tactics and transform its invitation to Uncle Sam to come in, into a bar against his admission, and see if the old boy would not be stimulated into fighting his way in.—Columbus Dispatch.

Mrs. Jones—"Tommy, have you seen Willie Jones?"

Tommy—"Yes ma'am, and the steam roller man is raising Cain."

Mrs. Jones—"And why is he raising Cain?"

Tommy—"The steam roller just ran over Willie and some marbles he had in his pocket dented the new street."—Athenaeum.

tom in all of the better institutions of the country where such time is needed by the professors for additional research or change from the ordinary routine.

Dr. William H. Dresch, since 1918 head of the department of Philosophy and Bible, is the first Rollins professor to enjoy this distinction. He will begin his sabbatical year at the close of the present academic term. He plans a six months tour of Europe with Mrs. Dresch.

Mr. Holt explained that the custom of the sabbatical years goes back to the law of Moses that provided that there should be a year of rest for the land every seventh year.

ROLLINS SCHOLARSHIPS GO TO STATE STUDENTS

her part in building up civic and moral standards of the country.

"Judge Elbert H. Gary, the great financier, in order to assist Rollins College in this effort, has recently established a loan fund of $25,000 the income from which will be lent to worthy young men who wish to enter Rollins College, but who are financially unable to do so.

"Our ultimate enrollment estimated for the ideal small college has been placed at 700 students, of which 400 will be boys and 300 girls.

"For 1926-27 we shall probably not be able to accommodate more than 250 students, many of whom come from states other than Florida. It is therefore necessary that prospective freshmen from Florida high schools give immediate notice of their intention of attending this institution."

PAUL HILLIARD ELECTED NEW STUDENT PRESIDENT

proved himself to be one of Rollins most valuable men. Before being elected to the head of the student body, Mr. Parker was editor-in-chief of the Rollins Sandspur, and it seems to be a peculiar incident that for the past two years the editor-in-chief of the college publication has been in line for graduation to the office of student president.

The new officers will have the privilege of working literally under Hamilton Holt at a time when Rollins is entering into the dawn of its history.

eled only nine miles an hour. All this happened within a century and a half.

The world discovered science, and the dawn of a new era enlightened knowledge.

Why did the world discover all these things in less than a century, whereas before they had lived in ignorance for almost five centuries? Because the world changed habit, and "began to learn what progress meant." Why did this progress begin only a century and a half ago? Because men changed their habit. "Before it was habitual to do things as their fathers did them, to think as their fathers did.

"Suddenly, men began to ask:

"Why did our fathers do these things like this?"

"They dared to question."

The birth of science caused a scientific method of thought. It put everything to test. Things must prove themselves before they were accepted.

Like science, religion must receive deep and significant attention—that which lies above the physical and material.

Progress in religion is looking through into the heart of things, not putting away the old for the new. And the cause of all this is science.

"All truth is one."

PUBLIC OPINIONS HONORS JOHN SCOTT AND EVA THOMPSON

There is nothing quite so interesting as a public opinion contest. Everyone hopes he or she will get first place, and everyone who does win the coveted honor is well satisfied, while the losers always turn out good sports. Public opinion stamps a student just as indelibly in college as it does out in the world.

The Sandspur hopes that this contest may be made an annual event. Students should voluntarily demand a consensus of public opinion each year if they see that no effort is being made by any one of the several organizations on the campus to promote one.

he has done much to strengthen its work. In addition to his duties as Professor of Sociology and Economics, he has conducted the dean's office and several times served as acting president in the intervals between presidencies. Since he is primarily interested in teaching and has long wished to give his whole time to his class work, President Holt has released him from the deanship. Dr. Sprague will continue to teach sociology and economics at Rollins.

Deanship Ranking Position

The deanship is the ranking position on the Rollins faculty, and of especial importance now that plans are being worked out for the ideal small college. In order to obtain the man best suited for this position, Hamilton Holt went in search of a man who had the "gift of teaching and the nobility of character to inspire youth." The record of Dean Carrothers and the many fine tributes paid him by his colleagues and his students mark him as possessing those qualifications to an eminent degree.

For several years, Prof. Carrothers was a member of the faculty in Miami University in Ohio. He served as Professor of Education and assistant dean of the Cleveland School of Education. Returning to public school work as Assistant Superintendent of Cleveland Schools, Prof. Carrothers received an unusual training in municipal educational administration. At the present time he is Professor of Education at Ohio University, and has taught in the summer schools of the University of Michigan and in Ohio State University.

In making the announcement of the election of Dean Carrothers, Hamilton Holt expressed satisfaction in having brought to the Rollins faculty a man and teacher of such unusual merit.

"Dean Carrothers," said President Holt, "is qualified to teach in any leading university of the country. His recommendations indicate that he is a professor who is capable of creating an interest about the most monotonous subject, that he is popular because of his pleasing personality, that he teaches from an abundance of information and experience, authoritative and up-to-date. He appears to possess that happy faculty of not only knowing how to work but how to play well, and has apparently succeeded by his frankness, his sincerity, his exactness, his strength of character and his enthusiasm for his work. The fact that he is more interested in administrative work than in any other phase of teaching persuades me to believe that Dr. Carrothers will merit everyone's confidence as Dean of Rollins College."

Dean Carrothers is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and has had considerable experience in Y. M. C. A., Sunday School and church work, having been closely associated with Bible classes for young men for a good many years. He is married, has one child, and is 47 years of age.

President Holt's ideal of a "golden personality professor" appears to have been closely approached in the selection of Dean Carrothers, according to the tribute of Olney S. Weaver, of the Germantown public schools of Ohio.

"First of all I want to say that Professor Carrothers is my ideal of what a man should be, both in character and in his ability to inspire others to live on the same high level as himself. No other teacher under whom I have taken college or university courses has exerted as much wholesome influence on my life as has Professor Carrothers. He possesses the common touch with students which enables him to understand their problems and difficulties, as well as a judgment and leadership which he utilizes for the betterment of his students.

"His work as a teacher is most thorough. He knows how to get his students to work willingly as well as diligently, and interests them in the thing he is teaching."

Professor Carrothers spent several days at Rollins the latter part of April conferring with President Holt about the Rollins deanship. Although a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, he recently declined the presidency of a Methodist college because of his desire to continue his life work as professor and dean. His decision to accept the invitation extended him from Rollins was based on his belief that under the leadership of Hamilton Holt, Rollins will soon become the best small college of liberal arts in America.
