BABY TARS DOWN ALUMNI 6-0 IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

DR. CHARLES F. THWING SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Noted Educator Explains College-Ship Tour of the World

Believing the two-hour class system one of the chief solutions to the problems of modern education, Dr. Thwing, president emeritus of Western Reserve and president of Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity, spoke briefly on the life of President Eliot, of Harvard University, last Wednesday. On Friday he told of the new and famous College Cruise, and its close relation in actual working to Hamilton Holt's plan for the ideal Rollins. Perhaps, the chief point of similarity between the two institutions was that of group instruction.

In his introduction to Dr. Thwing, President Holt told how his first long editorial had been on the subject of Football, and how when he had finished with it he sent it to Dr. Thwing to get his opinion on it. Dr. Thwing wrote back, "That's good. I couldn't have done better myself."

In his address on Dr. Eliot, Dr. Thwing said that in his opinion the former president of Harvard had been one of the broadest-minded, clear-sighted, and patient men that he had ever known. Holding always before him his motto of "Veritas" and in his patience bearing with his colleagues almost beyond reason at times, but always coming out bluntly with what he believed to be the truth before the session ended. So highly was his judgment respected by men of learning that on one occasion when a very famous educator was being voted on for a position of high honor he was defeated by Dr. Eliot's opinion that the man was not fit to teach young men. When the famous educator heard this he said: "Did Dr. Eliot say that? If Dr. Eliot said that I am not fit to teach young men, then I am not fit to teach young men."

On Friday Dr. Thwing told of the

SOPH. CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

New Comer to Head Rat-rompers

In the second regular meeting of the Sophomore class, the Class of '29, which met in Knowles Hall Monday afternoon, October 4, at 3:45, with Buddy Goodell presiding, the following officers were elected for the year 1926-27: Robert Burhans, president; Peg White, vice-president; Rodman Lehmann, secretary; and Mary Lou Palmer, treasurer.

The topic of further organization was discussed and it was decided that the class have a social committee, and Leila Hale was elected chairman. She appointed as other members of the committee: Hazel Darlington and Charles Luther. It is hoped that a number of social events will take place during the year which will tend to hold the class together in a real class spirit.

PLANS FOR BIG TENNIS YEAR BEING ARRANGED

"Red" Winderweede in Charge of Court Activities

Plans for an active and interesting year of tennis are beginning to take shape under the efficient hands of Elbert ("Red") Winderweede, winner of the Nickerson Trophy Cup last year, and captain and manager of Rollins' efforts on the courts, for the coming year. According to announcements, to date, two intercollegiate matches will probably materialize before Christmas. One will be with Stetson (DeLand); the other with Southern (Lakeland), for years two of Rollins' keenest athletic rivals in all branches of the field. Rollins should snap into it and whip them as thoroughly in tennis as we hope to in other things.

Under the ruling of the S. I. A. A. no first-year men are eligible to play on any varsity team. There is a good bit of efficient material in the last year men who have returned, from whom a more than creditable showing is expected.

A not-so-bad Rat team is a definite possibility. There will probably have to be an eliminative tournament due to the number of expert players among first-year men. A first and second team will be an innovation on the campus not undesirable.

President Holt evinces an active interest in the tennis program and plans are being laid for at least three new courts.

HONOR SYSTEM REVIVES UNDER DOCTOR BAILEY

Subject of Last Year's Battles Again Put Into Practice

On Thursday morning of last week the students in Ethics and History of Philosophy, taught by Dr. Bailey, voted unanimously to install the honor system in those classes and to live up to it in every sense of the word, promising not only to refrain from cheating during examinations and tests, but also not to take undue advantage of the periods of leisure given between hours in the class. While the honor system was installed by the students last year, it has never been put into operation and it is thought that other classes will follow the precedent set by those two.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING HELD

A meeting of the men interested in Y. M. C. A. work at Rollins was held Wednesday afternoon. Rodman Lehman was elected temporary chairman and he appointed the following committee to draw up plans for organization: Howard Delamater, Robert Burhans, Mancel Lawrence.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, October 14, in Lyman hall, and it is hoped that most of the Rollins men will be present.

CARRUTHERS PLANS STUDENTS' PROGRAM

Free Evenings to Be Used

Taking as his subject, "Peace Through Justice," President Hamilton Holt last Tuesday evening delivered the first of a series of five lectures to be given each Tuesday evening in the Congregational church on the subject of International Peace. These addresses mark the opening of the new Rollins' plan of evening entertainment for the students. Each Tuesday evening throughout the year some person of recognized authority in his line will speak on subjects of nation-wide interest. While the students are expected to attend these lectures anyone interested is cordially invited to come and hear them.

These talks will be of a much wider nature than it would be possible to give in class rooms since it would be impossible to get any of these people to go into the class room and teach such subjects.

Continuing in this same plan Friday evenings will be given over to various productions of the students

Cheering Is Organized In Pepless Meetings

Knowles Scene of Preparation of "Stands" For Coming Season

The cheer leaders are having a hard time in Rollins, because, organize as they will, they seem to be unable to get results from the students themselves. It seems a shame that when a pep meeting is called that only half of the students turn out and only half of them do any yelling. It is extremely hard to send a team out on the field with the best of spirits when the only ones who seem to be yelling for them are the cheer leaders.

In the first pep meeting of the year the showing was poor, the spirit that was manifested by those present was half-hearted, and the cheer leaders were discouraged and disgusted. What's the matter with the Rollins spirit? What are you saving it for? Do you think it will do the team any good couped up in you. The team needs it much more than you do anyway.

The second meeting was worse than the first. Not more than twenty per cent of the student body was present. Not that many yelled. There are only about fifty fellows out for the team. What are the rest of you doing? Where and how are you helping your school to win glory through its athletic victories? You say that one more or less will make no difference in the volume of sound. Perhaps one more or less will not, but when almost everyone on the campus is saying that, it puts quite a dent in the cheering ranks.

Unless you want to be a slacker, show up at the next pep meeting and YELL.

THE CHEER LEADERS.

GAME SHOWS PROMISING GRID MATERIAL AMONG FRESHMEN

Rollins Freshmen substituting for the crippled Rollins Varsity team romped on the highly touted eleven of the college Alumni winning 6 to 0 in the season's opening grid contest, staged on the Winter Park Athletic field yesterday afternoon before a large, wildly excited crowd of cheering fans.

Parsons, playing left back for the Freshies, scored the lone winning touchdown in the third quarter, after making a beautiful 30 yard forward pass to Mosely putting the ball on the one foot line. Parsons took the ball on the next play and went across the line.

The game was featured by the lack of injuries to players on both teams and the remarkable offensive and defensive play of the Freshmen, both in the line and the backfield. Parsons and Fisher, who subbed for McDowell at right back, played brilliant offensive games, while Waugh starred on the defensive.

Donaldson and Connor starred for the Alumni, while Fink made several beautiful runs around end for good gains and Quinn penetrated the line almost at will.

The Freshmen were considerably excited in the first quarter and the Alumni kept the ball in their territory most of the period, but were unable to penetrate far enough for a marker. The Freshie line held good during the fierce play on their ground, however.

In the second quarter, the Freshmen tightened up and the ball was kept in the territory of both teams, going back and forth continuously but for no particular gain.

The third quarter was the best of the game. Both elevens played great offensively and the Alumni threatened seriously to overcome the single touch-

GEO. A. & M. COLLEGE FIRST TESTER OF TARS

Varsity Season Opens with Many Stars of Second Year Team Disabled

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Rollins Tars will open their 1926 schedule against the strong Georgia A. & M. aggregation in Winter Park. Although the Rollins varsity will enter the game in a somewhat crippled condition due to injuries sustained by several of the men during scrimmage, and though not much is known of the strength of the Georgian invaders, the Tars are confident they will win the game. They do not, however, predict or expect any easy victory.

It is thought that Claude Couch will be back in the lineup playing with the aid of a brace for his left arm. Couch was one of the mainstays of the team last year and his return to the line will add materially to the strength of the Tars. Among others of last year's varsity who will be back in the game are Daniels, Win-

"Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

The Sandspur regrets to announce the loss of its erstwhile Humorous Editor, Munroe (Spic) Arroyo. Spic started out strong this year, introducing the Rats with a solicitous sympathy, to their Alma Mater, and was recently elected cheer leader, but matters have called him to another part of the country. In him we lose a "live" member of the student body. A type not easily to be replaced. We wish him luck.

TENNIS

Tennis has always been one of the most patronized sports at Rollins, but of late, one of the least favored. We mean in the matter of courts, there is always an ardent crew of supporters.

At present there are two courts on the campus, one of them utterly unusable, the other the next thing to it. However good team we may put forward, with no place to work out, it can hardly be expected to shape into much.

The court in front of the Conservatory has not been used for a set in over two years. Not only is it useless, but it is the worst eyesore on the campus. It breaks in upon the Horse-Shoe and is thoroughly disreputable in appearance. It would be cheaper to remove it altogether than to build anew. There is plenty of room to the east of the cement court for as many courts as Rollins is apt to build in the near future. This saves encroaching on the Horse-Shoe.

Anent the cement court: the best a player can do on that uneven surface is a realistic imitation of Eliza making a dash with the dogs, across the Delaware—or wherever it was!

We would like to see some real courts on the campus and certainly something will have to be done about them before Rollins can be expected to do anything in the tennis world.

A FRESHMAN WRITES TO THE HOMEFOLKS

Dere Folks:

College is the most exciting place I've been in since I left home. But, say, Mom, are you too busy to send me some cake, etc. They has been a lot of get acquainted parties for the Freshies but my roommate is the only student I know well enough to call by his first name.

They's a lot of funny terms the upper-classmen use around here. A "line" isn't something you hang clothes on or what you write home every week to your folks, but it's something a fellow tells a girl in a funny way. Every evening after supper all the girls come out in front of the buildings and listen to the boys pitch their lines on the campus. Then I hear some of the guys talk about "catting." I don't know exactly what that does mean but it isn't catching cats for the biology laboratories or it isn't singing. It seems to be a habit of walking around every Wed. and Sat. nite with a girl. Another funny word is "handshaking." That means treating a professor nice when you ain't in class. It's supposed to be done when you need a good grade and ain't smart enough to get it otherwise.

College sure is different from the high school. The teachers don't call you by your first name but Mr. and Miss. Some of the kids don't have any classes hardly. No one seems to study very much except at nite at the library where boys and girls have to sit at tables together. Some of them study each other though.

It sure is queer in the dining room too. Someone sits at one end of the table and puts the stuff on plates and passes it around then you have to wait til everyone has a plate before you can eat. They had some funny things with seeds in them for supper last nite. You had to fight so hard to get a bite that it sure tasted good when you got it.

My roommate and me get along all right. His clothes fit me just fine but mine are too small for him. He's pretty good to clean up the room every week only he sweeps the dirt under the bed and every time it gets windy it all blows out again.

Sometimes they have a meeting here in the Men's Dormitory that they call a Kangaroo Court or a Knights of Columbus or something. I only know just what it is yet cause I haven't been took in but I'll tell you all about it when I do find out. All I know its terrible to get took up before the kangaroo cause one Freshman was and it hit him an awful kick.

Well, I can't think of anything else to tell you so I'll quit. Don't forget about the cake and things, Mom and tell pop for me that these books we have to buy cost an awful lot of money. Maybe if he sells old Boss he'll send me some, huh?

Well, so long,

Your loving son,

Angel Michaelo.

A FORUM

The Sandspur is the official voice of the student body. In editing it we try to keep it as much of a representative tone as we are able. It is our sincere wish to maintain an open and unbiased expression of student opinion and for that reason we are inaugurating an open forum in our columns into which we will welcome any thoughts of those for or by whom the college is run. There is no limit set upon the scope of topics—campus, national, religious (we would like to have a frank discussion from members of the student body as to the meaning of that word to various individuals, probably because we know so little about the subject) or one of the most interesting actions ever taken in a scholastic organization (and probably the most discussed topic at present, here and elsewhere). If it proves a success it will be through the co-operation of students.

We would like to have the opportunity of recording the student reaction to the system. All manuscripts staying within the bounds of common decency will be considered in order by—THE EDITOR.

K. E. COMMENTS

Billie is a master hand at making sandwiches.

Ada McKay drove up from Tampa for our "open house."

Elizabeth Atkisson blew in Friday night. We are glad that the storm didn't treat her any rougher.

Anne and Evelyn, the twins, inhaled plenty of groceries at the Phi Beta house party. Don't embarrass them by asking how much chicken they surrounded!

Trix spent Saturday at Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosher were K.E. visitors over the week-end.

Dicky, the K.E. parrot, gave exhibition Charleston and opera singing at the tea and open house.

We find our private beach most convenient for swimming, canoeing, and other water sports.

Mathis and Abbott called on the K.E.'s Friday night.

PHI OMEGA PHACTS

Phi Omega wishes to announce as new members; Dot Cosby of Hewlett, Long Island, and Mary Hansen, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Florence and Estelle entertained Anne and Evelyn at the Phi Omega house at dinner Sunday. A tempting salad course was followed by fried chicken, pickles an' everything one could wish.

Gretchen and Ginny often drop in at the house and enjoy a game of bridge. Glad to have 'em? Well I should say!

Phi Omega's miss their two pledges, especially when there is work to be done.

Freda and Lucille are pretty good housekeepers. Let's see what Estelle and Dot will do this week.

Glad that Stella Weston is able to be in classes again.

All the girls were glad to welcome Frances. We are sure to have good music now.

Freda's and Florence's folks were visitors at the Phi Omega house on Sunday.

Mrs. Hoggardy is a mighty good house mother for she just knows what we like. That apple pie!

SIGMA PHINES

Speaking of fines, have you received your bill from Sigma Phi for keeping a member out after ten? Sally says be patriotic—stay out if you can afford the quarter.

We wish to correct a slight error in the orthography of our mascot's appellation—it's not Fido, but Phidough.

Bud Walker made his weekly donation to the nourishment of the Starving Sisters again Friday night. Chocolate ice cream was had by all.

Sunday morning Sunday School services were held on Sigma Phi porch, Louise and Gladys preaching and Sidney Carlson attending. He was waiting for Martha, so they got in some good work. The text was Proverbs 1: 14. Look it up!

Our esteemed editor, McKay, paid a visit to the house accompanied by ice cream. He received a hearty welcome.

The doubledeckers have arrived—where are the volunteers to erect them?

Can you play "pick-up"? If not, drop around sometime. We have some expert players who are always glad to teach the game.

Dottie Wrates, our former member in school, is now Mrs. Edward Bishop.

Dot Gray Lawrence was down from Gainesville for the week-end to see us. Peg, Leila, and Mary Lou were house guests of Mrs. R. N. White of Mount Dora, for the week-end.

Chicken necks in the Sigma Phi ice-chest! Gladys slipped one of the seven Phi Beta chickens home to us Saturday night.

CHASTE HALL INNOCENTIA

Yes, if Bob Burhans had only held that canoe everything would have been alright! Ask Ed. if you don't believe it.

A special line of hot ties was commandeered by Chastites for the Rat party.

Rumors of a Bachelor's Club have been heard in Chase. This movement has been started as a precautionary matter.

"My idea of Hell is a row of bottles from which you can't pull the corks," was the opinion voiced by one of the members of the Theologians Club at one of their spontaneous meetings last Sunday afternoon. Many interesting suggestions were put forth concerning the aforesaid place and similar entertaining places and subjects.

Johnston says pajama parades are all right, but next to himself he likes a night shirt best.

There's mystery in the air. What happened to Pepper Saturday night? Also where is Pound on Saturday nights?

We prefer the Rollins brand. Orlando is too far!

We have to hand it to Ed. Schurmann and Robert Pepper. They certainly know how to throw a party. At nine o'clock on Monday evening all Chase Hall assembled in their room to find a cooler full of lemonade and a table full of goodies. Just as the inner needs of man were being satisfied, music appeared on the scene in the form of a darkey plus a guitar and a "kazoo." He immediately began to render a continuous program during which were featured dancing acts by Joe Browning Jones and F. E. Starnes. As a choice bit the gang rendered "Go Long Mule." The fifteen rags given for Ed Pep showed that the appreciation of the gang reached to the nth degree.

PROFESSIONAL SPORT

For a singer, an actor, or an orator, to receive a fortune as the reward of his genius in his chosen field is considered perfectly fitting and proper. For an athlete to do the same thing is condemned as the sign of a grasping and mercenary spirit. When an orator finishes college, his career is supposed to be only beginning; when a star half-back finishes, he is supposed to be done. As to whether the orator expends more time and energy in developing his talent than the football player is open to discussion. The question is, whether we can deny a man the right to profit from an exceptional ability merely because it happens to be physical rather than mental or lingual.

The charge that professionalism degrades the game is yet to be proved. The probability is that it really improves it by making it unprofitable for professionals to play on college teams, as the pros can pay higher salaries than college backers can afford.

The recent exhibitions of grief because of the professionalism of Red Grange, Mary K. Browne, and Gertrude Ederle, fail to have the ring of sincerity. To demand that these superlative performers retire merely because, unlike Harry Payne Whitney and Devereux Milburn, they have not the means to continue as amateurs is unfair both to them and the public. Genius is the property of the country in which it is found.

PHI ALPHA FOAM

After slumbering in the arms of Morpheus for the last few years Mr. Foam pulled a "Rip Van Winkle" and is awake again.

Warner, Potter, Ward and "Unk" Hanna had the house in good shape when we got back, even tho' "Pa" Greene was not here.

Upmeyer left the wilds of Maitland for a while this summer for New York. Says he shook hands with the Statue of Liberty and saw all the sights.

Sherbandy and partner, Mr. Banjo, are all rarin' to go again.

Stan Warner, popular piano tuner, is back from Europe and is spending the week-end at the old homestead.

Zoller and Goodell from "Out Where the West Begins," had to leave their "hoss" in Maryland. They continued the journey by riding with various and sundry friends.

We see "Cupid" Luther once in a while. He should stay at home awhile and get acquainted.

The Sigma Phi dog has a copper constitution. Ask Walker or Mills-paugh.

The graduate of an Auto School refers to it as his Alma Motor.

"MIDNIGHT SHOUT AND REVELRY TIPSY DANCE AND JOLLITY"

The first class party of the year was given by the Freshman Class in the Lyman Gym last Saturday. It was a fitting occasion to celebrate the football victory over the Rollins Alumni that afternoon. The party was given through the kindness of the Freshman Rules Committee.

The necessary ingredients for a successful event were present: drink, eats, music, and girls. The two connecting rooms were given over to dancing, while cards were played in an adjacent room. The social was given to get the Freshmen acquainted with each other and for this reason all formality was done away with. The party served its purpose and was on the whole a great success.

K. E. TEA

Wednesday, September 29, the Kappa Epsilon Fraternity entertained at a tea, honoring their house mother, Mrs. J. Irving Chaffee. Among the guests were Kappa Epsilon alumnae and honoraries of Winter Park and Orlando.

SIGMA PHI ENTERTAINS

Wednesday afternoon the Sigma Phi house was the scene of an informal tea for the honorary members, and an occasion for re-establishing contacts suspended during the summer was provided. Besides the honoraries, Mrs. Thwing, Miss Gartland, Miss Boyce, Mrs. Bishop, the mothers, and alumnae helped to speed a charming afternoon. Refreshments were served by the members.

KAPPA EPSILON AT HOME

House warmings are now in vogue. The first of the season took place on Sunday, October 3, at 451 Virginia Court, otherwise known as the home of the K. E.'s. The doors were open to faculty, students, and friends, who received a warm welcome and cool refreshments.

The guests appreciated the "Collegiate Period" furniture and wide collection of banners, dolls and sofa pillows. A movement is on foot to remodel the rooms of Chase Hall and the fraternity houses, following the boudoir style of the upstairs rooms.

Dicky, the K.E. mascot, did his part in entertaining and during his speech used the famous quotations, "Hurrah, for General Jackson," and "Praise the Lord."

CLOVERLEAF CHATTER

Elinor Beist has bought her ticket for dear ol' Rollins. She finds that there is no place like home.

Bud and Foss Walker have brought their sister, Annabel, to live on the campus—gentlemen prefer blonds.

Dot Connor spent Sunday at her home in Mt. Dora. She was missed in general and in particular. Ask Buster.

The first freshman struggle took place in the gym, Saturday night from nine to twelve. The expression rooms were decorated for the event. We can see the after effects.

There is someone else on the campus who goes for "Canoe rides, ukeleles, and whispering baritones." Call information for John and Helen.

Bob Mathis, Martha's brother, was here for a while Saturday afternoon.

WHAT PHI BETA IS DOING

Phi Beta house party at Mrs. Boone's was a huge success—say all the Phi Betas!

Alvira's car came near getting lost but Anne's efforts to make a deaf man hear, finally set them on the right trail.

The main sports were eating, swimming and dancing—eating taking the lead. Between Mate and Ginny R. it didn't take long for the "seven chickens" to disappear!

Estelle and Florence had a hard time getting back from the swim. Cows don't seem to appreciate a light flashed at them! Maybe they will know better next time.

Dorothea Thomas, Ginny, Gertrude, Katherine L. and Gladys didn't stay overnight, and so they missed the pajama ride and also "Humphreys driving."

Miriam's choice selection of music woke many—Evelyn goes a lot for eggs for breakfast and since Anne doesn't like 'em, ate her share—and Barbara was all for the Swedish bread.

We won't forget Mabel's invitation for next spring, she's surely a wonderful hostess.

THETA KAPPA NUEWS

Florida Alpha Chapter at Rollins is again in an uproar. Rumor has it that there is going to be another dance at the University of Florida Beta Chapter in honor of the Rollins chapter. Remember last year's fete, girls?

Johnny Smith left his car home this term, but he says it doesn't slow him up a bit.

"—is as the sounding bell and tinkling cymbal." Red is back.

There has come to pass a mysterious phenomena at the House of the Theta Nus. It has no explanation, it breathes of the occult. It is even thought that it may be more than mortal, for worldly events are explicable. This thing is weird, brought about by an unknown force, ghostly. It reeks of the invisible, the mystic shrines of the far west, lands unknown and steeped in tales of witchery and crime.

There is a room in the house, a room of pandemonium. Confusion reigns there in all its ribald tyranny. It is the room of Bull. And beneath the windows of this room of Bull the grass grows very tall. That is the phenomena. The tall grass. Healthful. Verdant. What is the explanation of this mystery?

On the advice of Dr. Bailey, Paul has taken up a strenuous course in astronomy. He reports that astrological phenomena presents a very interesting perspective.

wonderful experiment of the floating university, or the College Cruise. "That," said he, "will be the longest cruise ever taken by any ship. Leaving New York thirteen days ago, the College Cruise headed for Los Angeles, going by way of the Panama Canal. From there she will continue on her voyage around the world, touching at Honolulu, Madris, Colombo, passing through the Mediterranean Sea, stopping at Jerusalem, Constantinople, Naples, Rome, Gibraltar and the ports of France, Germany and England, and finally reaching New York on the first day of next May.

"There are on board more than four hundred students, including fifty girls. Fifty professors drawn from the greatest schools of the country are there to supervise classes in almost every subject except chemistry. During the first three days the college was fully organized. On Monday and Tuesday the students were registered and classified. On Wednesday the classes began.

"As in the case of Rollins College the chief feature of the plan is the mature minds of the professors coming into contact with the immature minds of the students."

During his stay at Rollins, Dr. Thwing received many social honors. On Friday evening he was a dinner guest of President Hamilton Holt at the Whistling Tea Kettle and later at an informal reception given at the Phi Alpha house, where all the faculty had a better chance of becoming acquainted with him and Mrs. Thwing.—A. such as plays, dramatics, and musical recitals.

Saturday evening will be recreation evening. Then will be given parties, picnics, dances and other social activities that go so far in making student life enjoyable.

One evening every two weeks will be set aside for the meeting of the departmental clubs. On the same evening of the other weeks illustrated lectures will be given by various members of the faculty. Dean Carrothers has already promised to lecture on the subject, "Among the Pyramids of Egypt." President Holt will also speak, using for his subject, "Japan." "This," said Dean Carrothers, "is a part of the general scheme in the change of the teaching plan at Rollins College."

The entire schedule for President Holt's lectures is as follows:

1. Peace through Justice, October 5.
2. Disarmament, October 12.
3. The World Court, October 19.
4. The League of Nations and International Progress, October 26.
5. The League of Nations and International Peace, November 2.

Paul Hilliard, Junior, President of Student Association, Ex-Editor-in-Chief of the Sandspur, for three years a member of the Tar grid squad. He also leads the club formed by the working men of the campus.

The Conservatory is glad to welcome back two of its old students, Elizabeth Atkisson and Frances Vallette. Elizabeth possesses a lovely soprano voice and we are looking for great things from her. Frances is an equally promising pianist. She is quite diligent in her practice work. Go to it, girls. We're all backing you.

One of the Conservatory girls did the solo work in the Congregational Church last Sunday morning. From all reports her work seemed to have been enjoyed.

The Y. W. C. A. girls wish to thank Miss Niles for her kindness in helping out in the last two programs. Miss Niles' work is appreciated at all times and the Y. W. girls are grateful for her assistance.

Phi Beta held their first meeting in Pinehurst Monday night. Many of the alumni were present and plans for the coming year were discussed. Watch for some entertainments to be given soon.

Report of Rollins Representative at Blue Ridge Conference, 1926

Blue Ridge is certainly an ideal place for a Y. W. C. A. convention. It is a gathering of Y. W. girls from all of the colleges and universities in the southern states. Last June the enrollment was six hundred. During the ten-day convention many interesting and instructive lectures were given by men who are interested in Y. W. work.

The student Conference first began through the Y. M. C. A. and later the Y. W. C. A. was asked to join. The grounds cover 1690 acres. The amount to be raised was $150,000, and the first gift was $50,000, one-third of the entire amount. During the past year they were offered $2,000,000 for this property. There are now fifty-four buildings on the Association grounds, Robert E. Lee Hall being the main building.

The Association stands for: (1) Beauty in nature. Many of the buildings are made from Blue Ridge wood. Five thousand people visit this section each summer. (2) The second point we stand for is respect and dignity of labor. (3) Sacredness of each individual. (4) Religion is fellowship—worth of religion to the social life.

Rollins sent four delegates to Blue Ridge last June and we hope to send more this year, for it is certainly a wonderful place.

THE WEEKLY MIRROR

Reflections on Campus Life

The why, what, wherefore, etc., of this column is explained in the title. Most everyone on the campus is aware of the important things that happen, but only a few know of the little events that go to make up our campus life. Therefore the writer wishes to make known to the many what the few know. Ye editor has said "No dope, no job." So hear my cry, "Save me! Save me!" A box will be placed in Carnegie for contributions. Just sign your initials to the end of your contrib. Let's all pitch in and help the cause along. Thanks.

Congrats to the "Rats." Their victory over the Alumni promises plenty of competition for the varsity.

The Mirror would like to know where "Rat" Johnson obtained the "Tent" for the "Rat" Parade. Several persons have asked us. What say "RAT"?

Does anyone remember "Way back when" Rollins had some good, organized cheering? Let's revive it and back the team. They have a tough game October 9th, and are handicapped by a late start and injuries. They get the knocks and bruises, so let us see if the student body cannot accumulate a few "horse" voices at the game.—G. '29.

"Rollins—winning rather than losing, but, winning or losing—Rollins."

As we go to press we see several romances starting. This is usual but it seems more so this year than ever. What do you think of them? Let us have your opinion.

Sunday morning picnics are getting to be quite "the stuff." Ask Pinky.

Why not start a golf team at Rollins? There should be plenty of material and competition. Let's hear from some golfers about it.

These 8:15 classes are no longer anything to sleep over. We slept over one last week and found out all about it.

It is about time for some one to get the "no soap" story out again.
