Rollins Faculty Takes Firm Stand Against Proposed Evolution Bill

IS FIRST COLLEGE TO EXPRESS ITS ATTITUDE

The faculty of Rollins College went on record almost unanimously last week as opposed to the bill before the Florida Legislature prohibiting the teaching of evolution. This action seems to have been taken more in accordance with a general belief than because of any particular standing for or against evolution, if the first sentence of the petition sent to the governor can be taken as any criterion: "We believe with all thinking men that truth is a goal that must be sought at all costs."

Rollins was the first college in the state to take any action on either side in this matter. This means that Rollins is the most active champion of free and unrestricted thinking in this state, and that Rollins wishes its faculty to have the same privileges of freedom in teaching that are the natural rights, if it is safe to use such a term, of all members of the profession.

In addition to the prominence that our college is being given in the state on account of this prompt action, Fred Hanna has sent news stories throughout the country telling of what the faculty of Rollins believes and does in such matters.

Dr. Georgia, Dr. Bailey and Mr. Grover were on the faculty committee which formulated and prepared the petition.

Dr. Holt Makes Strong Plea For Free Thought

Florida should not become the butt of ridicule throughout the country as has the state of Tennessee by the passage of the anti-evolution bill now before the legislature, according to Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College in an exclusive interview in a recent issue of the New York Times.

President Holt's statements were stimulated by the petition filed by the faculty of Rollins College recently "not to enact any law that limits the seeking or the teaching of truth in science or in any other realm of thought."

"The issue of freedom of teaching," declared President Holt in the New York Times article, "is an age-old one and doubtless will persist in one form or another as long as men think they can control thought by law."

"I have every respect for the motives of many of those who approve the enactment of the proposed law by the Florida legislature. They regard their religious opinions as the basis of all truth and these opinions must be preserved at all costs. My only difference with them is that men differ and always will differ in opinions. The only way one can, in the

Baseball and Track Teams Show Up Well

Baseball and track activities have largely escaped the attention of the campus lately but nevertheless have been in evidence hereabout.

The track athletes have had to go to Orlando fairgrounds for their practice, due to the absence of a track and field here. Considerable prowess and possibilities have been exposed in the practice so far. Pepper for the distance runs; Russel in the middle distance; Ihrig and McDowell in the dashes; and McCoy in the field events are all above the average college track athlete. With a good track to practice on they would make a record for Rollins.

In baseball the freshman team has presented quite a bunch of talent. They have used our sandlot some time and the Winter Park athletic

L'Alliance Francaise Accepts Rollins Club

Word has just been received from the Federation de l'Alliance Francaise that Le Cercle Francais of Rollins College has been accepted for membership. This is the first collegiate French organization in Florida to become a member.

L'Alliance Francaise was founded in 1902 and in 1921, 97 college French clubs had become members. It was formed "for the purpose of encouraging and furthering in the United States and Canada the study and cultivation of the language, literature, art and history of France."

The federation is also in close relation with the Alliance Francaise of Paris. The President d'Honneur is M. Paul Clandel, French ambassador at Washington.

The members of the Cercle are very grateful to Mrs. Holt who aided the society to gain this membership by the donation of the necessary entrance fee.

Dr. McVea's Health Gradually Improving

Dr. McVea's many friends on the campus will be pleased to learn that Dr. Carrothers had a letter from her early this week stating that she was much improved and that the doctors soon expected her to be better than she had been for several years. Her appearance on the campus next fall will be eagerly anticipated.

BOYS LEAD WITH FIVE OF SEVEN NEW RECORDS

Swimming before a record crowd the girls from St. Petersburg and the boys from Miami carried off first places in the Eighth Annual Florida State Interscholastic Swimming Championship Meet which was held on Lake Virginia, Saturday, April 30th.

During the morning the girls from the Sunshine City piled up a score of 36 while Duval was second with 20 and Orlando came third with 18. The team from Jacksonville barely nosed out Orlando in the last event, the 440-yard relay, by taking second place in that event and scoring three points to Orlando's one to break a tie between the two teams.

E. Rich, of St. Petersburg, broke the state record set by Getchen Allan, Tampa, for the 50-yard breast stroke by lowering the mark of 42 seconds to 41 seconds. She also carried off the highest individual score with a total of 15 points.

Sets State Record

D. Bowlin, of Jacksonville also set a state record when she lowered the mark of 40:2-5 seconds set by R. Williamson, Miami, for the 50-yard back stroke to 39:3-5 seconds. She took second place in the individual scores with 13 points and Maud Dew of St. Petersburg was third with 11 points.

Bety Geier, of Orlando, won the fancy diving contest by scoring 103 points.

A record crowd watched the girls' battle for the aquatic honors of the state and while St. Petersburg was an easy winner the other teams put up a strong fight, Orlando and Jacksonville running almost side by side for second place.

The thrill event of the morning meet was the 440 relay race which was the deciding factor for Jacksonville and Orlando. All three placers won only by a stroke.

St. Petersburg early established its supremacy in the morning contests, when through the performance of its two individual stars, Maud Dew and Elizabeth Rich, she scored five first places out of the first seven events.

THE UNPAYABLE DEBT

Every man, presumably, thinks of mothers in the light of his own experience. Most blessed among my memories is the fadeless picture of that one mother who translated to me in the terms of her own grace and charm all the fairest meanings of life. My one regret is that she could not live long enough to permit me to discharge my great debt. But who can ever pay what he owes to his mother? Her contact with the unfolding soul of a child is more immediate, more intimate and more continuous than that of any other. If the supreme factors in the molding of character are heredity and environment, then to her is given a place and a power none other can approach, for from her loins we come, in her arms are we carried and under the pleasant shadows of her unflinching love we move on to strength and nobility.

The best we have is not what we have won by conquest but what we have received. Our ideals, our hopes and our visions, like the gleaming lights of distant shores are the forces that challenge us and hold us true, and these, for most of us, are the bestowal of a mother's heart upon her children. Who can pay her for the weariness and the tears, for the sacrifices and the prayers that mark the years of her patient care? Perhaps God chose to discover how much of grace and glory could be crowded into a human life and so created mothers, that a portion at least, of His own royalty might be revealed. Is there not infinite meaning in the fact that the Son of God entered the world through the gateway of a mother's holy passion?

Benjamin West, replying to a remark concerning the greatness of his genius said, "my mother's kiss made me an artist." From her he drew courage and faith and ardor, and from that day when he sketched a face upon the kitchen floor, which she commended, until the end of his career, he found in her encouragement and confidence the incentive which led him on to consummate skill. It is not otherwise with any of us. We do not fully believe in ourselves until others believe in us. We do not climb the heights until someone beckons us. We do not move until we are moved upon. Who then can pay the debt he owes to the one beyond all others where faith and love lift him up from the common-place and lead him on to finer things? Happy is the man who so lives that his mother is always glad that she gave him birth.

But I cannot write of mothers without thinking of that great company of women to whom has been denied the privilege and the pain of actual motherhood: those unwed, save to principles and causes and to the needs of humanity; Florence Nightingale, mothering the English army in the Crimea; Mary Lyon, mothering American girlhood eager for the higher education; Frances Willard, mothering in her crusade the homes of the nation stricken by drink; Maude Royden, in her gospel of rational faith and life mothering multitudes of the youth of London. These also were honored with maternity, for the mother-spirit is capacity for unselfish and patient service on behalf of others, and no woman need forego the glory of motherhood in this sense, so long as we live in a wounded world with grief and despair calling for tender hands and understanding hearts.

Do not let Mother's Day pass without some generous expression of your gratitude and affection. She misses you more than you miss her. You are in her prayer every day. She asks God that you may be true and honest and unafraid. She lives for you and in you. Your success is her song; your failure is her sorrow. She is the best friend you will ever know, and a divine heartburn possesses her when she knows you cherish her in reverence and love.

CHARLES A. CAMPBELL.

Blessings on thee, little sheik,
 Hotter than a lightning streak;
 With balloon trousers, empty head,
 Socks and tie of flaming red;
 With marcelled hair, grease galore,
 The latest perfume from the store;
 With they talcum on thy face
 And thy cane to add the grace—
 From my heart bursts forth joy;
 Glad that I am not a boy!

You will find this monogram on all kinds of electric equipment. It is a symbol of quality and a mark of service.

More than 60 per cent of the mechanical power used by American industry is applied through electric motors. But the electrification of the tasks performed by man power has hardly begun. Electric power not only saves dollars; it conserves human energy for better purposes and raises standards of living. College men and women may well consider how electricity can lessen the burdens of industry and of farm and home life.

SIGMA PHI SEZ:

Wednesday evening, Mary Hale entertained all of Sigma Phi at a beach party on the lake near her home. After the guests swam to the satisfaction of the gallery, Skipper provided a huge fire and overwhelming refreshments. And then everybody tried to go 'em better, and they finally agreed Helen had "It"—collegiate exema.

Billie Mulligan and Kay Hicks came to spend the week-end. Bert Pheil Bobbitt brought as guests Mises Winifred Walker and Mary Bullard of St. Petersburg. We had a full house again and more fun.

Sunday afternoon Sally, Dickie, Jinny, Dodo, Maggie and Gladys went to Palm Springs to swim. They carried a delicious luncheon and played numerous suggestive numbers on their portable. They also waded out to the big cypress tree, and called on Osceola.

Sigma Phi served a plate luncheon at the Parish House and discovered the smart potato king was old Red.

Our charming honorary member, Mrs. Dudley Calhoun, left for her home in New York Tuesday. We hope to have her back with us next fall.

We're planning for carnival stunts and we promise to surprise everybody with our hidden talent, by gosh.

In closing, we wish to state that we are not a "group of puling editors fed on pop," we Rollins students. No, no—we are miking imbeciles, stuffed with—hash.

By special request Maggie will correct a statement in last week's Sandspur. It should read, "Men, men, everywhere but not a one but thinks—he's it."

THETA NU BANQUET

Florida Alpha chapter of Theta Kappa Nu fraternity will hold its Annual Banquet Saturday evening, May 7, at the Orlando Country Club.

The Sociology Class went on a visit to the county jail and poor farm on April 2? It was noticed that many of the class kept their backs turned to the officials of the pen. We wonder why. If you feel cuprious ask Pound how he likes Kangaroo Court.

PHI OMEGA PHACTS

The seniors entertained royally Sunday evening. A rare treat! Dot made the cake and Estelle the speeches. Bee sent for the doctor!

Edith and Irene enjoyed Saturday morning immensely. Wonwerd SHS night and Sunday morning immensely. Wonder why and how?

Five letters in one day and all from Ft. Myers. Who could they be for and from?

It is rumored that Saturday and Sunday will be "happy" days for Edith.

Shep spent Saturday and Sunday in Melbourne. And she woke up at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

THE SUICIDE CLUB

Stevenson's famed organization appears to have undergone a quasi-revival with a new membership recruited entirely from the overpopulated ranks of college students suffering acutely from delirium tremens, love, philosophical misgivings, or what have you? We are reluctant to philosophize on this much-discussed matter; we are more inclined to philosophize on the ephilosophizing which, coming either from the lips of college presidents or from two-penny scandal sheets, has generally been of a nature which would make one momentarily envious of the lot of the unfortunates who occasioned it.

Why this cant and hypocrisy on all sides when college students who are more logical than their fellows carry to ultimate conclusions the principles that have been taught them? We have always been under the impression that a principle is not worth a fig if its conclusion is unsound. Yet "behavioristic" psychologists whose plausible theories are only too attractive to a distraught youth, whose "psychology without a soul" spells the doom of the traditional safeguards of humanity, are loudest in their protestations that the colleges are in no wise to blame for the present epidemic of suicides. There is enough material in the whole business for a comic opera.

—De Paulia.

ORLANDO BOY SCOUTS
RENDER GOOD PROGRAM

One of the most pleasing programs of the year was rendered by the Orlando Boy Scouts at the Winter Park Woman's Club on the evening of April 28, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Marlowe, Scout Master. The program consisted of vaudeville acts and a one-act play entitled "The Man From Brandon."

None of the acts dragged at any time. Everything moved swiftly and kept the audience in a jovial expectant frame of mind. Opening the program the Honey Bunch Jr., chorus immediately danced and sang their way into the hearts of all those present. If anything they were better than their forebears the original Coleman Honey Bunch.

Dorothy Jane Beckman delighted the crowd with two excellently rendered dances, a toe dance and a Spanish dance. Not least on the list of entertainers were the two Beerye brothers with their buck and wing dancing and drolleries, while Bobby Caldwell was a rare treat for sore eyes in the Only and Real Genuine Hawaiian Hula-Hula, although he could have shown the crowd more of his face.

The one act play "The Man from Braden" finished off the evening with just the right amount of comedy and exciting moments.

AVERAGE COLLEGE MAN
VERSATILE IN ABILITY

Professor Frank Kleeberger, head of the physical education department at the University of California, has spent over ten years gathering data on the physical prowess of the "average" college man. As a result he has set forth the following:

An average college man is five feet nine inches in his stocking feet, and can do the following events:

Run the 100-yard dash in tennis shoes in 12.5 seconds.

Broad jump in tennis shoes 196 inches.

Defend self creditably in boxing and wrestling.

Hand or fence vault 56 inches.

Scale a 12 foot wall in 11 seconds.

Dive head first over an obstacle 41 inches high.

Swim 25 yards free style in 16 and one-half seconds.

Swim at least 125 yards without stopping to float.

Carry a person through the water for 12 and one-half yards.

Have command of at least four swimming strokes.

Make at least one good dive.

ST. PETE AND MIAMI WIN CHAMPIONSHIPS

The two outstanding events of the girls' meet were the breaking of two state records. In the 50-yard breast stroke Elizabeth Rich of St. Petersburg hung up a new record of 41 seconds, besting the former record held by Gretchen Allen of Tampa by one second.

Mami Wins

After a thrilling neck and neck battle all afternoon for first honors, which ended only as the hotly contested relay race closed, Miami and St. Petersburg ended the eighth annual interscholastic water meet for boys with a 26-26 tie in number of points scored and the meet was automatically awarded to Miami, according to the rules of the meet, under which in case of a tie for points, first place goes to the team holding the largest number of first places.

Miami, thanks to the brilliant performance of A. J. Henderson, highest individual point winner of the afternoon, scored four firsts, a second and a third place, while St. Petersburg scored two firsts, three seconds and two thirds.

Lakeland with a total of 18 points finished in third place, due largely to the efforts of its star swimmer, C. Murrell, who was second high individual point winner, taking 11 points in all.

Henderson Stars

A. J. Henderson of Miami was far and away the outstanding star of the boys' meet, winning three firsts, and in each event breaking a state record. In the 220-yard free style this speedy swimmer, who is considered by many to possess Olympic qualifications, did the distance in 2:38 3-5, cutting 3 4-5 seconds off the former record established by Geier of Orlando.

In the 100-yard free style, he hung up a new record of 58 seconds flat, besting the former record of Buell of St. Augustine by 3 2-5 seconds.

In the 440-yard free style he cut

15 1-5 seconds off the record of Geier, hanging up the record time of 5:58 4-5 minutes.

Two other state records were shattered during the afternoon, making a total of five new records established at this meet. Kirby Thomas of Winter Park in the plunge for distance did 70 feet, two feet more than the record held by Woods of Hillsborough.

Murrell of Lakeland in the 75-yard dash covered the distance in 41 4-5 seconds, which cut 3-5 seconds off the record of Carter of Miami.

Clizebe of St. Petersburg was third high point winner, making a total of 9 points in individual events, and in the relay race swimming the last lap in so brilliant a fashion that St. Petersburg snatched herself from defeat and at least had the satisfaction of equalling the victorious Miami in the number of points scored.

Pete Desjardins

A feature of the afternoon was the diving exhibition given by Pete Desjardins of Miami, winner of second place in the Olympic fancy diving contests in 1924, and holder of six national diving records. His consummate skill and grace brought extravagant applause from the gallery and added much to the pleasure of the meet.

In the excitement and competitive spirit the relay race, the last event of the afternoon, was the feature, for the outcome was contested hotly from start to finish. Henderson of Miami, Murrell of Lakeland, and Clizebe of St. Petersburg all swam the last lap, and seldom has a more brilliant exhibition of swimming or more luck been displayed than did each of these three in striving to place first, knowing that the victory for any one of the three would alter the final placing of the teams.

Officials of the meet were: clerk of the course, Cason; timer Asher Peter; scorer, J. L. Orr; judges, M. J. Daetwyler, Wilbur Flower, Tom Lantz, A. R. Douglass, H. W. Caldwell; announcer, Max Sloan.

A feature of the afternoon was the finish of the canoe tilting championship of Rollins College, which was won by McConnell and Russell.

last analysis, determine the truth for himself, is by the validity of his intellectual processes.

"Last year I declined a substantial gift for Rollins College, which was proffered on the condition that we should never teach the theory of evolution. I replied to the would-be donor that no self-respecting college could accept a gift under any conditions that limited its freedom of teaching.

"As a matter of fact the only public address that has been given in our chapel this year bearing on this controversy was delivered by an avowed fundamentalist who asked permission to preach on that subject in our chapel to our students and townfolk. I gladly accorded him the privilege as I would have a modernist had a similar courtesy been asked.

"A college that is in any respect limited in seeking or teaching the truth, is to the extent of that limit a propaganda institution. A college that limits its own freedom is a propaganda institution by choice. A college that is required to limit its freedom is a propaganda institution by compulsion. Rollins desires for itself and other educational institutions the fullest possible liberty to seek those ideals of individual and group freedom which this republic was founded to perpetuate.

"I consider it the duty of those entrusted with the education of youth," concluded President Holt, "in a crisis of this kind, to take an easy and safe course of silence but to make public their convictions. I deem it an honor to be associated with a faculty whose members take these views."

The New York Times pointed out that the Rollins action and President Holt's statement constitute the first protest from any of the institutions of higher learning in Florida, and is one of a very few ever issued from a southern college. Doubt is expressed as to whether similar action will be taken by either of the two state universities or by the two denominational institutions.
