ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

By E. A. SCHURMANN

It was just like a clear case of suicide to drop any remarks about sororities this week. Wati till the frats start rushing. It will be even worse then.

We were all glad to see Jack Evans, '26, working towards the office of mayor in Miami. We understand he goes to work in a private street car.

When girls' canoeing starts we shall find "more waist less speed."

Although outplayed the second half our pigskin squad sure made that game Saturday interesting for the U. of M.

It seems as if the team should keep their uniforms on while on the bus. Either that or carry baseball bats.

This week-end Stetson is our foe on the gridiron. Anyone attending the affair last year will vouch for the great quiet and lack of pep displayed. Your turn now.

Ben Pound will soon be training for his fight in Orlando. Here is your chance, sparring partners.

We notice that Gene Tunney is going to honor Florida with his presence this year. How about having him visit us?

Parasite—The large, lankish-looking football player who piles on top of the other twenty-one for effect, after the play is complete.

Unk Starnes nearly left us for parts unknown when before a play in the Miami game he remarked that the U. of M. squad was wearing "baseball shoes."

We saw all of our friends, both within and without the cages, at the circus held in Orlando Tuesday evening.

SERGE BOROWSKI RECITAL THRILLS LARGE AUDIENCE

Serge Borowski, Russian baritone, gave a recital on Monday evening, October 31, at the Congregational Church. Ten minutes before the scheduled time the house was packed.

All the selections received enthusiastic applause, especially two popular encores, Volga Boatman and Road to Mandalay. Borowski sang the native dance, Hopak with animation.

The Rollins Music Club is responsible for giving this opportunity to Winter Park and Orlando.

"Yes."

"Any result?"

"Yes—I've got to give up smoking expensive cigars."

BABY TARS LOSE HARD GAME TO JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Rollins Baby Tars lost a thrilling game to St. Pete Junior College last Friday by a 12-0 score. Poor punting by the Tars was largely responsible for the defeat.

The game was featured by the line plunging of both teams with Rashid and Tracey carrying the brunt of the attack for Rollins. The play of the Tar line was especially encouraging with Winchel, Rollins right tackle, breaking through time and again to throw St. Pete backs for losses.

Both St. Pete touchdowns came as the result of poor kicks and fumbles on the part of the Rollins backs. The Junior College eleven made (Continued on page 6)

"BIG BEN" POUND WILL FIGHT PEARSON NOV. 11

"Big Ben" Pound, formidable Rollins heavyweight, will meet John Pearson, the Swedish contender for the heavyweight title, in the main bout of the American Legion card at Tinker Field, Orlando, November 11.

Pound has a record of an astonishing number of one and two round knockouts in the past year. He has suffered only one defeat on points and then came back in his next bout to knock out the man at whose hands he met defeat about three weeks before.

Pound is training hard every day down at the Rollins gym and con- (Continued on page 6)

"Beat Stetson" War Cry; On With the Parade

Saturday afternoon, at one o'clock, the Rollins advance on Stetson will begin. All cars going to DeLand will line up in front of Carnegie Hall to form a parade.

With every Rollins student at DeLand cheering to the utmost for the Rollins Tars, we have a real chance to give the Hatters something like a surprise.

We are assured that Stetson will be glad to see us and will endeavor to give us a heartfelt welcome.

It is time for every Rollins supporter to come to the aid of his college. The war-cry is "Beat Stetson."

On with the parade!

It is attractively bound in blue imitation leather with a gold "R" on top.

8. Winners of the contest will be announced at the beginning of the winter term.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION FOR WOMEN IS FORMED

The Women's Athletic Association of Rollins College held its first meeting Tuesday evening, October 25, in Knowles Hall.

Miss Aurora McKay acted as temporary chairman. The meeting opened with the singing of several Rollins' songs, followed by speeches of representative students. Three committees were formed, one to nominate girls for the coming election of officers, one to draw up a constitution, and one to form a "point system" to be used as compensation in the different fields of athletics.

After a brief talk by Miss Jackson on the value of athletics, the meeting closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

HAMILTON HOLT SUGGESTS INTERESTING ENTERPRISE

In a chapel talk Wednesday morning Dr. Holt made the suggestion that the students of Rollins find some monument which can be an everlasting reminder of those who have graduated and left the campus.

This idea of Dr. Holt was the result of a conversation he held with Filene, the Boston merchant who had recently returned from a trip to the Orient. In Japan, Mr. Filene had found a school with a huge boulder in the yard inscribed with the two supreme Japanese virtues, (Continued on page 6)

The Miami Hurricanes walloped the Rollins Tars 39-3 in the University Stadium at Coral Gables on Saturday, October 29. Although the field and stands were wet from the rain which fell steadily all forenoon there was a large crowd on hand for the contest.

The first quarter was largely an exchange of punts with the ball in Miami territory most of the time. In the beginning of the second period the Tars worked the ball into scoring distance of the goal. Coach Buck immediately rushed ten fresh men onto the field and they held successfully for three downs. On the fourth, McCoy stepped back to the fifteen yard line and booted the ball over the crossbar to give Rollins a three point lead.

The ball seesawed up and down the field most of the quarter until Miami made two first downs in succession, and a pass from Franklin to Courtney gave them their first score just before the half ended. The kick for point was blocked.

Soon after the beginning of the second half a pass from McGuire to Lyons put the ball on the Tars goal line and Franklin crashed through for a touchdown.

TARS RENEW ANCIENT FEUD WITH HATTERS

The Tars of Rollins and the Hatters of Stetson meet on Stetson Field Saturday, November 5, to settle a dispute of many years standing as to supremacy.

Stetson is confident of repeating last year's victory while Rollins will attempt to avenge the defeats of previous years.

Both teams have been practicing behind locked gates all week and will throw practically their full strength into the game.

Stetson is conceded the edge by reason of past performance, but a fighting team is never beat until the last whistle blows and the "Fighting Tars" are likely to turn the dope bucket upside down.

VARSITY WORKS OUT BEHIND LOCKED GATES

Coach Hill sprang many surprises on the fans and football squad this week. Among them was a general shifting of linemen and backs, followed by an announcement that the squad would hold practice on the Harper-Sheppard field behind locked gates. As the time is drawing near and there is much ground to be covered before the Rollins-Stetson clash at DeLand Saturday Coach Hill decided that the squad could go through their paces with less difficulty and interruption from fans and would-be coaches.

We heartily endorse Dr. Holt's suggestion that the students of Rollins perform some task which they will be able to look back on with pride and which those not having an opportunity to take a part in the accomplishment will regard with respect. Let us see to it that this project does not die.

If Rollins had the seventh ranking football team in the world would we be willing to say that there was one among the student body who would not support the team? Such a thing would almost be treason.

"Big Ben" Pound is one of the true sons of Rollins and is at the same time seventh ranking heavyweight boxer of the world according to Billy McCarney, one of the foremost fight experts of the country. On November 11 "Big Ben" will meet John Pearson in Orlando. If he wins the fight it will mean just that much more glory for Rollins. Therefore every one of us owe it to Rollins and to ourselves to go to that fight in big numbers and stand back of Ben to a man or girl while he administers the sleeping potion to his hefty opponent.

We have just read the first issue of the "Tiger Tales" put out by O. H. S. We find it a very good magazine for a high school. The prose as a whole is much better than the verse. In our opinion the beginning poem, which should have been the best, was not a good selection to begin the poetry section of a literary magazine.

A FEW RULES FOR FAILURE

1. Never do anything you are not paid to do!
2. Don't be thorough in your work. "Good enough" is a fine slogan to hang up and remember.
3. Pity yourself. Believe in luck alone. Remember that when you were born you did not have the chances that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., fell heir to.
4. Don't stick to anything too long. Something else may be easier.
5. Remember nothing matters except what you do during working hours. How you spend your leisure is nobody's business but your own.
6. Wait until you are making big money before you begin to save regularly. Then you will be pretty sure to die poor.

7. Either have no sense of humor at all, or inversely, try never to be serious at any time.

8. Always let others make decisions for you. It is no use to develop the capacity for making decisions because your present job doesn't demand it. It simply does not pay.

9. Put off until tomorrow what you do not feel like doing today. You will feel more like doing it then.

10. Don't be too much "trouble to yourself" in the matter of taking care of your health and what you eat. After you get where you want to be you can take care of your health.

11. Demand immediate results. Don't go into anything that requires years of waiting and working before results can be seen.

12. Avoid all regular habits of self improvement. They are artificial. The mind will take care of itself. Anyhow, they rarely show any immediate benefit.

13. Be proud. Don't do jobs beneath your dignity. Don't stand corrections from anybody. If you can't work worthy of your efforts, don't do anything at all.

14. Don't be finicky about keeping promises and appointments. If you can't keep a promise or an appointment, don't worry. It's all right.

15. In such matters as appearance, manners, courtesy and the social side of life—let them slide. They are not important.—Dr. Frank Crane.

Not A Bad Idea

A Scotchman who moved into a small house at Whitestone Landing was encountered by Reginald Sheffield in the act of tacking the wall paper on the walls of the rooms.

"What's the big idea?" he was asked.

"I may move out next fall," he explained.

FAULTY MEMORY

New York.—George Schultz, sixty-seven-year-old shoemaker, insists he cannot recall more than five marriages, but the police credit him with twenty or more.

—Glades County Democrat

Back in Ancient History

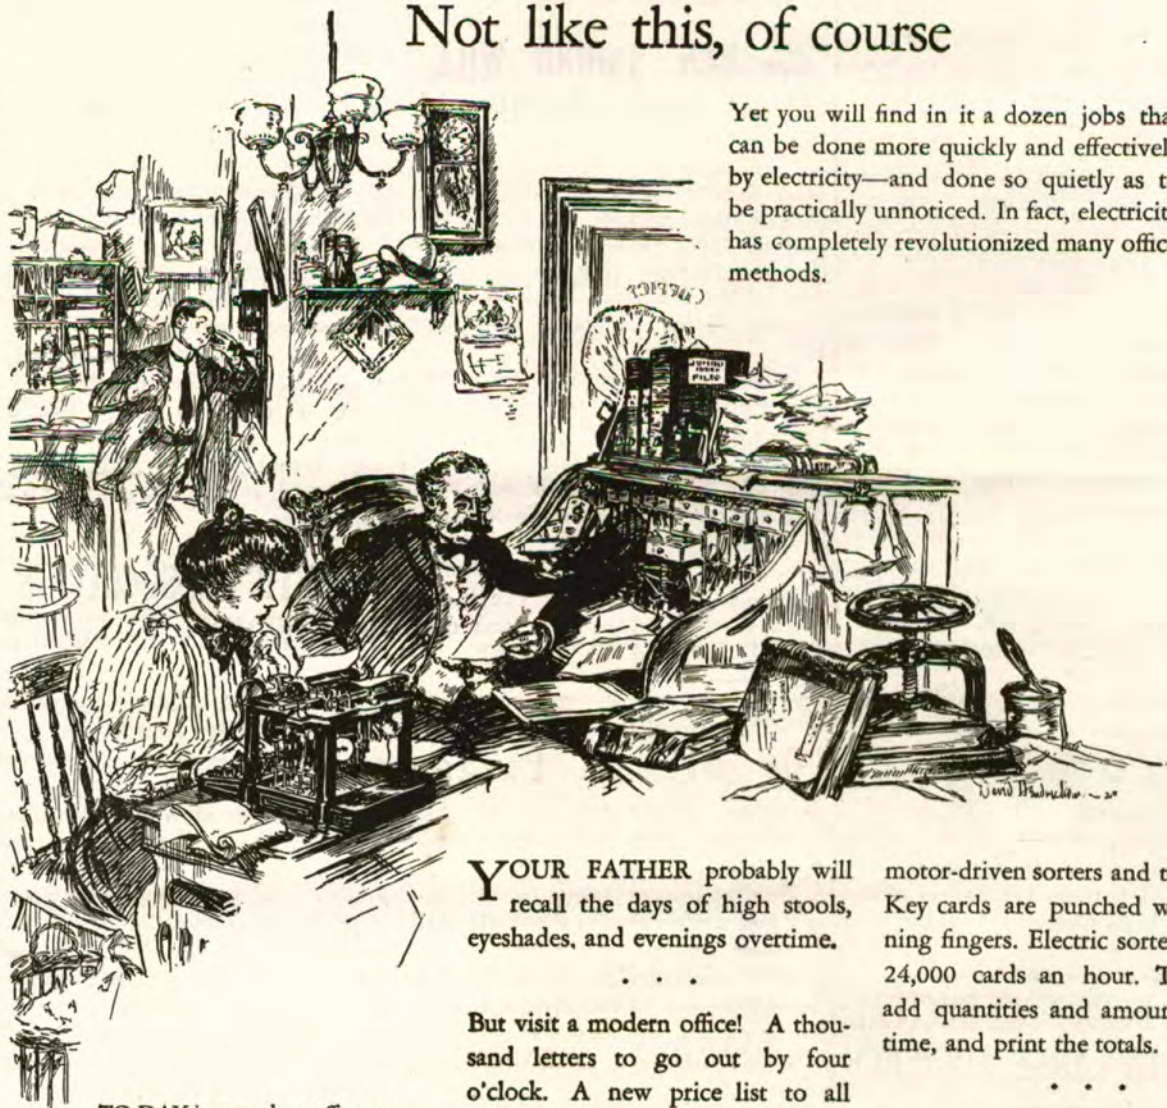

"Yes," confessed Jack, "when she wasn't looking, I kissed her."

"What did she do?" asked his friend curiously.

"Refused to look at me for the rest of the evening."

How will your office look?

Not like this, of course

Yet you will find in it a dozen jobs that can be done more quickly and effectively by electricity—and done so quietly as to be practically unnoticed. In fact, electricity has completely revolutionized many office methods.

YOUR FATHER probably will recall the days of high stools, eyeshades, and evenings overtime.

But visit a modern office! A thousand letters to go out by four o'clock. A new price list to all customers in to-night's mail, without fail. Enter electricity. Two or three people turn switches, and the finished letters come out of an ingenious machine. Another motion and they are sealed and stamped. Only electricity could get that job done.

Here's a statistical job. The reports are in; thousands of figures to analyze. Looks like overtime for fifty clerks. "Certainly not," answers electricity, as a button starts the motor-driven sorters and tabulators. Key cards are punched with lightning fingers. Electric sorters devour 24,000 cards an hour. Tabulators add quantities and amounts in jig time, and print the totals.

Go to almost any bank today. Hand in your account book. Click, click, click, goes the electric book-keeping machine and back comes the book to you. Five operations performed in that brief moment. Everybody saves time,—you, the clerk, the bank,—when electricity is the book-keeper.

In the office of to-morrow you will find "electrical fingers" doing more work than even to-day.

TO-DAY in a modern office you will find these electrical aids; Addressing Machines; Dictating Machines; Adding Machines; Multigraphs; Check-writers; Calculating Machines; Cash Registers; Interior Telephones; Card Recorders; Card Sorters; Time Recorders; Accounting Machines; Time Stamps; Clocks; Mailing Machines; Typewriters; Fans; MAZDA Lamps, and many other electric devices.

This familiar mark appears on many electrical products, including motors that drive time- and labor-saving office machines.

PHI BETA

Wednesday afternoon a charming tea was given by Theta Chapter of Phi Beta fraternity at the home of Mrs. Roy Lenfest, honoring the rushees. A delightful program was given by girls of the fraternity and consisted of a vocal solo by Hazel Darlington, a reading by Gladys Wilkinson, and a piano solo by Frances Vallette. Later in the afternoon the girls sang some of their fraternity songs. Following the entertainment refreshments were served.

Theta chapter entertained the rushees at a dinner party at the Ruthanna Weaver's Tea Room on Friday evening, October 22.

The table was beautifully decorated with flowers and candles carrying out the colors of lavender and gold.

A delicious dinner was served, followed by speeches from members of the fraternity concerning the ideals and attainments of Phi Beta. The president, Virginia Richardson, welcomed the guests, and acted as toastmistress. During the evening she called on Barbara Sheffield who gave the history of Phi Beta, and Miss Niles who spoke of the future and ideals of Phi Beta. Later the members sang Phi Beta songs.

The invited guests included Misses Helen Morrow, Harriet Gleason, Catherine Kinwall, Vivian Douglass, June Chase, Sara Huey, Mary Boyer, Dorothy Minter, and Barnelia Woodward.

Active members present were: Virginia Richardson, Lucille Pipkorn, Evelyn Green, Florence McKay, Hazel Darlington, Gertrude Ward, Catherine Lewis, Lucille Waters, Gladys Wilkinson, Ruth Ward, Barbara Sheffield, Anna Margaret James, Marjorie Ufford, and Alvera Barber.

Associate members: Mrs. Cass, Mrs. Grey, Miss Niles, Miss Thomas, Miss Cox, Mrs. Lenfest and Mrs. Johnson.

Phi Beta wishes to announce as pledges: Misses June Chase, Vivian Douglas, Jane Powers, Dorothy Minter, Harriet Gleason, Sara Huey, Helen Morrow, Mary Boyer, and Barnelia Woodward.

K. E. RUSH

Kappa Epsilon entertained Monday, October 31, with a luncheon given at Washburn's Tea Room, with a party of twelve.

At 3:30 P. M., K. E. entertained at their home on Chase Avenue with five tables of bridge. The color scheme carried out the fraternity colors, red and white. A salad course and coffee were served. The high score was made by Miss Ruth Chase, and second high was won by Miss Helen Davis. Miss June Chase was given the cut-prize. Those present were Misses Ruth Chase, Helen Davis, June Chase, Pet McKay, Virginia Scales, Myra Thomas, Jane Powers, Nancy Dickinson, Catherine Green, Sarah Dickinson, Barnelia Woodward, Janet Love, Barbara King, Helen Massey, Tillie Moyer and Vivian Douglas, and the members of the fraternity.

That night the house gave a different appearance. Witches flew around and ghosts floated through the house. The three rooms were filled with Hallowe'en decorations, bamboo and palms. The Florida Melody Boys, the orchestra for the evening, announced at intermission, that food was served in the rooms below. Cider, doughnuts, apples and candy was served in true Hallowe'en style. Favors, confetti, and streamers were then given out, and the dancing lasted until midnight. Those above named were present.

On Tuesday they had the other luncheon at Washburn's. There were twelve in the party. Nut cups were used as favors.

At 5:30 P. M. the rushees were taken to the Amherst for a buffet supper, where food of all variety was served. After the supper they saw Beau Geste. Afterwards there was a party at McElroy's—the K. E. Special was served, and "Little Miss K. E." presented as a favor to each of the rushees.

THE ALPHA OMEGA COLUMN

Alpha Omega wishes to announce as honorary members Mrs. F. B. Moore, Mrs. Ella S. Kennedy, and Mrs. Roland Harrison—all of Winter Park.

Julia came up from Windermere twice this week—to see us. She was here Tuesday and again over the week-end. It seemed like the good old Cloverleaf days!

Carol and Betty have been exploring the mysteries of wild and woolly "Florida" this week-end—Carol in the vicinity of Miami and Key West, and Betty in the dangerous man-infested area of Gainesville.

Deane's boy friend came up from Daytona Sunday to our open house—or was it to hear his records played?

Several of us went to see Amelia in Winter Haven the other day. She is improving all the time, and we are hoping she will be able to be with us again after Christmas.

ALPHA OMEGA OPEN HOUSE

The Alpha Omega Sorority held their open house reception Sunday afternoon from three to five. Rosella Norton received the guests on the porch as they arrived. Those in the receiving line were Geraldine Lawrence, president, Miss Hannah Gartland, faculty advisor, and Mrs. W. G. Scott, house mother. The guests were shown through the house by the girls, and then were taken on the lawn where refreshments of lime sherbet and wafers were served at attractively arranged tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Opie Read of Howey, Florida, were distinguished guests of the occasion.

R. L. S. MEETS AT THE HOME OF PRESIDENT HOLT

The Rollins Literary Society held its biweekly meeting at the home of President Holt, Friday, October 21. The topic of the American novel was enlarged upon by Dr. Holt and Professor Harris. The personal and humorous touches revealed by the President and his experiences as editor of the Independent made the meeting interesting and successful. Miss Louise Ferguson, president, expressed the appreciation of the group for the courtesy shown them and thanked Dr. Holt for his sincere invitation to meet with him during the year.

PHI OMEGA PHUN

Phi Omega Sorority wishes to announce Mrs. Jeanne Manteau Bowman, Mrs. Austin Race, and Mrs. Joseph S. Bueno as honorary members; as active members, Helen Marrow and Martha Schank.

Phi Omega was right behind the team all through the Miami game. Even the rain did not dampen their cheering for our team who put up one of the best battles ever seen. Fritz, Florence, Martha, Boots, Catherine, Lu, Helen, and H. were proud enough of Rollins to completely lose their voices until the half when others joined them.

Too much cannot be said about cocoanuts, midnight shows, barber poles, hold ups, Florence's broken neck, the Venetian pool, or Mrs. Race's good sportsmanship—they will never be forgotten. The only disappointment was that Shep, Hansen, and Pope could not complete the party.

SIGMA PHI SEZ

Thursday night was a gala time. Mary Virginia's ham was the central attraction with rolls, sandwiches, pickles, relish and hot coffee assisting. Coach refused to let the marshmallows appear. College songs, games of "Pig" and other forms of amusement were enjoyed by the guests. Mrs. J. A. Bartlett, Miss Lucille Jackson, Coach Sam Hill, all the Varsity football men and members of Sigma Phi.

Aren't we proud? Miss Dorothy Connor won the five dollar prize for giving the "Rollins Chocolate Shoppe" its name.

Sigma Phi Sorority wishes to announce as active member Miss Evelyn Dodge, of Cleveland, Ohio.

The Rollins Music Club made its bow to Winter Park on Saturday evening by presenting to the public at a most interesting reception Mr. Gray Perry, concert pianist and new faculty member. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Andrews. Miss Anna Margaret James, Mrs. F. S. Andrews, Mr. Gray Perry and Miss Mary Leonard who has just recently returned to Winter Park, formed the receiving line. After the guests had arrived, Mr. Perry gave several numbers in the brilliant and interesting style that proves him a master of his profession. Following this delightful treat the Misses Hazel Darlington, Mary Boyer and Eleanor Upmeyer sang in a charming manner, the trio "Three Little Maids from School," from the "Mikado." Delicious refreshments were served afterwards by several of the Music Club girls.

DR. T. P. BAILEY TO GIVE LECTURE SERIES

On next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock Dr. Thomas Pierce Bailey, of Rollins College, will open a course of fifteen lectures on character psychology in the assembly hall of the new Orange County Court house.

In these addresses Dr. Bailey will deal with character psychology as pertaining to children. The problem child will be given a prominent place in his discussions, which have been planned for teachers, parents, juvenile court officials and children's institution workers. A fee of eight dollars will be charged for the entire course.

These lectures are the outgrowth of the free clinic for problem children Dr. Bailey has been holding each week in connection with the juvenile court, and of his work with the parent-teachers' associations of Orlando.

Dr. Bailey holds the chair of Ethology in Rollins College, unique because it is the only chair of its kind in any college in the world.

CLASS TO BE ORGANIZED

Professor Sprague announced to his International Law class, last Friday, plans for the organization of a new class in International Relations. Although the meeting place is yet undetermined, Mr. Sprague will have charge of the course and he will carry on the work in connection with the International Law class.

Professor Sprague spoke optimistically of the prospects and expressed the belief that a number of prominent speakers, including President Holt, will be secured. Students will receive one hour's credit and the class will meet once every two weeks.

DR. SPRAGUE A MAN OF VARIED ABILITY

Whenever Dr. Sprague of the Rollins College faculty decides that he needs relaxation from the mental rigors that fall to the lot of college professors he has a diverting vocation open to him. Dr. Sprague besides being a professor, is a skilled stone mason and house builder. Last summer when he decided to build a new home, instead of letting contractors do the work Dr. Sprague hired the necessary men and supervised the job himself. All the stone masonry on the house is also his own personal handiwork.

"I get a lot of fun out of it," Dr. Sprague said. "This is my eighteen holes of golf a day. The time that other men spend on the links I spend working on my home. It is my hobby and recreation."

FORT MYERS CLUB ORGANIZED

On Wednesday evening, October 26, the Fort Myers students of Rollins College banded together in an organization, henceforth to be known as the "Fort Myers Club." The idea of forming the club has been discussed ever since the great influx of students last year from Fort Myers, but this is the first definite action that has taken place. The club was organized, not only for social reasons, but also to promote friendly relations between Rollins College and Fort Myers.

The following officers were elected: Flora Furen, President; Robert Pepper, Secretary; Chester Ihrig, Treasurer. The members are: Dorothy Allen, Robert Burhans, Harrison Cobb, Flora Furen, Sugg Hampton, Paul Hilliard, Katherine Hosmer, Louise Howes, Chester Ihrig, Freda Keubler, Dilworth McCoy, Howard McDonald, Robert Pepper, Genevieve Smith, Ewing Starnes, and Robert Stephens.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY GIVEN BY THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of Winter Park entertained with a Hallowe'en bridge and dance Saturday night, October 29, in its chapter house. The faculty and students of Rollins were especially invited to attend and quite a number took advantage of an enjoyable evening.

Bridge was played in the artistically decorated reception rooms during the earlier part of the evening. An intermission followed while fortunes were told and pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were served. After this dancing began and continued until 12:00. Music was furnished by the Mandarin Inn Orchestra of Orlando. Many masquerade costumes were in evidence, as well as Hallowe'en decorations of pumpkins, witches and black cats.

The "Bull Session" held by the Y. W. C. A. Sunday evening proved to be a lively one. Co-education, petting, and many vital problems were discussed. The letters from "prominent boys of the campus" were a great help. There will be another meeting soon.

The doctor had just pronounced the patient dead. Whereupon the man opened his eyes and murmured feebly, "No, I'm not."

"S-s-s-sh, dear," said his wife, "Doctor knows best."

Postman: "Bad luck, Mr. Doolan! Here is a black-edge letter for you."

Mr. Doolan: "It's me poor brother Pat dead. I'd know his handwritin' anywhere."

CORNERSTONE TAKEN FROM HOME OF MARK HOPKINS

A marble slab from the homestead of Mark Hopkins, the great teacher, will be laid in the corner-stone of the new Rollins' chapel.

Leading to the old colonial tavern which is the Connecticut home of President Hamilton Holt, is an ancestral walk composed of stones taken from the homes of his forebears. On each is carved the name of the ancestor, the date of his birth, and the place from which the stone was taken.

When this walk was completed, President Holt conceived the idea of laying a similar historical walk. Accordingly, stones were secured from Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington, from Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson, and from the homes of other famous men. The piece of marble from Stockbridge, Massachusetts, the place where Mark Hopkins lived, has been donated by President Holt to the college.

Mark Hopkins has long been the patron saint of small colleges. He is considered the ideal teacher and one who thoroughly believed in the conference plan of study. Therefore it is entirely fitting that a stone from his homestead be imbedded in the cornerstone of the new Rollins' chapel. Such a tribute to a truly great teacher should also be a continual inspiration to both the faculty and the students of Rollins College.

UNIVERSITIES WON'T FLOAT

Insufficient enrollment has resulted in the cancellation of the proposed round-the-world cruise of the co-educational floating university, the Aurania. The 214 students who had registered for the tour, which was to have started October 15, must find other educational opportunities for the year. Despite the abandonment of the tour this year, plans are being made to carry out the program next year. A. J. McIntosh, in charge of the cruise, reiterates his faith in the value of the co-educational university.

The cruise for men only, aboard the Ryndam, fared little better, and its promoters have announced that it, too, has been abandoned. The reason given is that a late start made it impossible to fill the student quota. The debate on the relative values of "stag" or co-educational cruises therefore remains open.

MIAMI MUMBLINGS

Friday morning, October 28, the Rollins Tars embarked on a voyage down the Florida East Coast. They traveled a scenic route along the Indian River to Hollywood-by-the-Sea, where the mighty Atlantic lashed the shores, and at last the turbid waters of Biscayne Bay came into view.

The trip was rather uneventful except for the fact that a rough-house was started after lunch because some of the boys brought palm-berries into the bus and insisted upon peppering the heads of those up in front. This caused a volcanic eruption which ended in a mild battle.

Three new men were initiated rather forcibly. Kingsberry and Pepper came across almost without persuasion, but Miller was unlucky enough to say: "Come and get me." Miller was properly impressed with his lowly position. After this internal dissention "Unc" Starnes and Welch Fisher decided that we all needed to get some religion, so a congregation was organized immediately. Deacon Starnes and Brother Fisher led in song and devotionals and when it came to testimonials we were informed that Coach Haines (The Iron Man) was a living testimonial—

The Fageol arrived in Miami at 5:30, too late for a workout. After dinner Coach treated us to a movie in Coral Gables.

Saturday morning a light workout was held in the Coral Gables Stadium. Then came the long tiresome wait before the game.

In the second quarter just as Rollins was going into a huddle, "Unc" Starnes turned around and pointed at the feet of the Miami linemen, shouting: "Look fellows, baseball shoes; they can't play football." Rollins immediately reeled off a long run.

That night at dinner "Pinky" Zoller tried his "I have a weak chest," and in fact all of his pet tricks on the waitresses, but none brought out the extra portion which "Pinky" needed so badly.

The U. of Miami provided royal entertainment in large quantities. A progressive dance starting at the University Building at 8:30 and lasting until 10:30 was the first number on the evening's program.

Immediately following Novack's Orchestra played at the Casa Loma Hotel, until 12:30. The dance at the "Silver Slipper" lasted until 3:30 and football men were prominent by their absence. The Coach and three of the Tars were the only ones who braved the "Night of Terpsicore," and strange to relate all but one of the boys had imported a Rollins girl as partner for the evening, (Our Coach was not that boy either).

The good ship "Fageol" pulled up anchor Sunday morning and set sail for "The City of Homes."

Religious meetings, songs, such as "It was sad when that great ship went down," "Take it to the Lord in prayer," were rendered beautifully. These things eventually caused the Big Revolution. It started when Bob Burhans opened his mouth and the boys made it the target for the palm berries which were used for ammunition. They started to drag Bob through the "Gauntlet," but Coach Haines, Abbott, and Warner objected and the battle was on. Results: Coach Haines and Kingsbury had their shirts ripped to shreds and everyone bore the marks of battle.

The "Fageol" dropped anchor in Rollins Harbor Sunday evening to be greeted by loyal Rollins boosters.

The first integral meeting of the H. D. D. club was held last Monday evening at the home of Dr. Emilie Watts McVea on Antonette Street. After the cultural features of the evening a social time was enjoyed accompanied by pretzels and ginger ale. The members present were Barbara Sheffield, Isabel Green, Katherin Hosmer, Miss McVea and Brenham McKay. Guests were Fred Hanna and Mrs. Elizabeth Justice.

The announcement that Dr. Cecil F. Lavell is to be the lecturer next Tuesday evening at the Congregational Church should excite the interest of every Rollins student. Whenever he has been heard it has been with the deepest interest. His subject will be the "Wisdom of Foolishness" and his rich fund of humor will no doubt find full expression. Dr. Lavell is a Canadian by birth and an American by choice. He received his master's degree at Queen's College and his Doctorate in Philosophy from Columbia. He has held chairs in the field of history in Bates and Trinity College and in Columbia University and for ten years has been Professor of Thought at Grinnell. It is a great privilege to have the loan of so distinguished a scholar for the academic year.

LARGE CROWD LOOKS ON
AS MIAMI DOWNS TARS

Tosses from Ihrig to Zoller, McCoy to Ihrig, McCoy to Zoller, and Hilliard to McCoy were good for from 5 to 15 yards apiece. This flurry was broken up by Kimbrough who intercepted one. Hilliard in turn snagged one of Courtney's passes and ran to Miami's 20-yard line. After the ball changed hands several times Courtney caught a punt on his own 30-yard line and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown. He made the extra point to bring the score to 20-3. Only a few plays later Franklin intercepted a pass and raced 45 yards for another counter. Courtney kicked the point. Miami 27, Rollins 3.

In the fourth quarter Miami held the ball most of the time. The frequent substitutions had tired the Rollins men so that the Hurricanes were able to march straight down the field for two more touchdowns in the final period. They used line plays entirely and Bleier carried the ball over for both scores. The try for point failed each time.

CARL WARNER

If some of you who have come to Rollins in the last two years had seen the modest, unassuming and rather chubby son of Crescent City when he arrived on the campus, you would have said as some of us old-timers did that there was no hope for him. He had a broad contrived smile, traces of which are still discernable at times, and an awkward lumbering gait, which, when augmented by his egggregious shyness was enough to permit identification at some distance, and was the cause of no little mirth, concealed or indulged, on the part of the co-eds.

He "snapped out of it" quickly and early began to reign to the unusual ability and charming personality so hardly discernable in that unpromising freshman back in 1924. During his freshman year he enjoyed comparative obscurity. He kept his eyes and his mind on his books as freshmen should and passed up all his work in a very creditable manner. When he came back to school the next fall there were some noticeable changes in him. His behavior was marked by a slight touch of confidence; not enough to brand him with the great host of sophomores the world over, but enough to make him raise his eyes and begin to notice that there were girls in Cloverleaf and not boys as was the case with Chase Hall. The subject of girls in connection with Carl Warner's name is a tale in itself, and a very interesting one too, but there is no space for that here. We hope that his official biographer will give the world the treat it is entitled to on that score some day. For the present it will be sufficient to say that Carl's greatest weakness is physical, and it is weakness of the heart. An actual count of his affairs d'amour while at Rollins would be startling to say the least. It would be unfair to say that he is fickle. He isn't, he just loves the girls, one and all.

His first office was that of secretary of the sophomore class and following that he was treasurer of the junior and senior classes. At present he is president of the Rollins Key society, business manager of the Tomokan and assistant in the chemistry department. Chemistry is his vocation and his avocation and he expects to follow that work when he leaves school this June.

Carl is a member of Phi Alpha fraternity, of which he was president in his junior year. He has been a member of the Glee Club for four years and has been prominent in many other campus activities. He has earned his own way through school and Rollins is happy indeed to claim him for her own.

PROFESSOR GROVER SECURES RARE BOOK

A unique addition to the library of Edwin Osgood Grover, Professor of Books, is the Book of Hours acquired by him this summer.

The volume is written in Latin on vellum. It dates back to 1100 and was originally discovered near Assissi, Italy. Besides four illustrations in water color, it contains much beautiful scroll work in gold leaf throughout its margins. It is thought to be the work of the monks, and possibly represents the labor of a life-time.

GLADYS WILKINSON

The smaller the girl, the more sprightly and active her temperament. Gladys Wilkinson surely proves this statement even if it was made up on the spur of the moment. Whatever has needed to be done quickly and well on the Rollins campus during the last four years has in some way found "Glad" connected with it.

During her freshman year she was primarily interested in sports. That year, the only one in which the Women's Athletic Association functioned, it was only natural that Gladys should be one of the three who won sweaters and "R"s for high points in Athletics, furthermore she was the only freshman in the group. Tennis attracted her, too. But it was only after vigorous prodding of her modest nature that it was discovered that she has a tennis championship to her credit. Canoeing came in for its share with "Glad" on the winning crew her freshman and sophomore years.

Gladys is found in many and varied extra-curricular activities. For four years she has been a member of the Y. W. cabinet. This year she is also vice-president. The Rollins Key and the Rollins Literary societies number her among their members. She is invaluable to Phi Beta. She is also a member of the Sandspur staff. Sigma Phi is proud to have her for president.

When questioned as to her hopes and aspirations for the future, Gladys admitted that she could not decide between a literary career, a dramatic career, or —. The finger of achievement seems to point strongly to the dramatic. Last year she was in "The Minuet" and in "Op-o'-me-Thumb," the winning play of the Little Theatre season. This year she is taking a degree in expression, to be accompanied by a recital.

Truth and Loyalty. This boulder had been brought into the schoolyard with great difficulty and after years' labor in order that it might be an eternal symbol that there had been students in that school in times past, and that it might be symbolic of something difficult and worthwhile, of sacrifice and of love.

Dr. Holt called for a committee of ten, five students and five members of the faculty to determine two matters: what kind of a thing Rollins wants to perpetuate as the best in its members and what two American virtues shall be entered on the new campus. He stressed the tremendous influence that such a memorial can have, whatever its character may be.

The chapel hour next Wednesday is to be the time for this committee to report at this time. Dr. Holt will also exhibit the plans for the new campus.

The possession of this Book of Hours by a Rollins College professor should be a further inspiration to all book-lovers and to the students taking the Reading Course.

Soph: "Say, Rat, did you like that gum-drop?"

Rat: "Yes, thank you, I liked it very much."

Soph: "Well, my dog didn't, he spit it out twice."

"THE MARSEILLAISE"

"The Marseillaise" has been the French national anthem for over 100 years, since the time of the French revolution. In April, 1792, when a column of volunteers was about to leave Strassburg, the mayor of the city gave a banquet on the occasion and invited an officer of artillery, Rouget de Lisle, to compose a song in their honor. He wrote the words during the night, adapting the music from an oratorio, and the song was sung with enthusiasm the following day. The Army of the North took up the song, which was introduced to Paris by the Marseillaise battalion and became known as the hymn of the Marseillaise.
