ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

Only seventeen days 'till Christmas. Do your shopping early.

All the better newspapers carry the above announcement. You'll notice we're still in the swim.

Propaganda issued annually to prospective students before the start of the school year states that in our ideal Conference Plan "examinations will be eliminated."

As the end of the term approaches we wonder if it is possible that the proverbial absent minded professor is present on the Rollins campus.

We grant it does make good reading material for those unfamiliar with existing conditions here.

Wonder where the football men were during the special varsity number last Saturday. The suggestion is offered that they might have been outside hunting dew worms. at that particular moment.

From the number of bent arms in evidence afterwards there could be something to our brilliant thought.

Wood pile owners will have a breathing spell now that the mercury has responded to the gentle coaxing of old Sol.

LITTLE THEATRE PLAYERS ON THE BOARDS TONIGHT

At eight-thirty this evening the Rollins players will present a program of four revival one-act plays. These plays have all been given in previous years and have met with much approval as to warrant their return appearance. There will be no reserved seats and the general admission price is only fifty cents. Come early and get a good seat.

Conservatory and Workshop Present Joint Program

The Little Theatre Workshop and the Rollins Glee Club will give a combined program next Thursday evening, December 13, in Recreation Hall. This is the first appearance of the Glee Club this year and the first time there has been a men's section of the Glee Club in several years. The song numbers that have been chosen for this program are all of a light popular tone such as "Old Carolina," "Little Cotton Dolly," and "Liza Lady."

"The Doctor of Lonesome Folk," a gay pantomime with a charming Christmas message, is being staged by the Little Theatre Workshop. Miss Dorothea Thomas, director of the Little Theatre, will also give several readings. The cast of "The

PRESIDENT HOLT'S FATHER COMES TO WINTER PARK

Judge George C. Holt, father of President Holt, accompanied by his two daughters, Misses Constance and Sylvia Holt, has arrived from his home in Woodstock, Conn., to spend the winter in Winter Park.

Judge Holt graduated from Yale and Columbia and has received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from Yale. President Roosevelt appointed Judge Holt United States Judge of the Southern District of New York. This appointment he held until his retirement because of age limit. One of his opinions was quoted by President Roosevelt in a message to Congress.

Judge Holt was also a lecturer on law at Columbia and Cornell and is the author of "Concurrent Practice of Federal and State Law."

During his college days at Yale, Judge Holt was class orator, editor of the Yale Literary magazine and a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Football Prom Makes Big Hit with Students

In a delightful setting of Spanish moss, colored lights, and painted scenery, Rollins dance-lovers who attended the football dance held in Recreation Hall, Saturday night, were treated to one of the outstanding pre-Christmas social events.

Those justly famous Africans, "The Black Eagles," played in their usual animated style to add to the success of the occasion.

Specialty dance numbers by Miss Vilma Ebsen were a popular feature of the program as was the dance for football men only.

Chaperones included: Mrs. Dixie Gage, Mrs. Enright, Mrs. Haggerty, Miss Gatland, Dean Holme and Dean and Mrs. Anderson.

Much of the success of the affair was due to the splendid work of Russ Fuller, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and his able assistants.

Odd-Even Teams Chosen First Game Played Thursday

On Thursday afternoon, December 6, the first odd-even girls' basketball game was played. The teams were chosen from the best material shown in the inter-class games, which the Junior class won.

The Odd team is so named because of the classes '29 and '31 while the Even team is made up of the class of '30 and '32.

The line-up is:

ODD		EVEN
Guards
M. Race		S. Lane
M. V. Fisher		C. Hall
E. Arnold		M. Chapman
Centers
V. Wilder		D. Wilson, c.
V. Dickinson		C. Beach

ROLLINS GETS PATTEE ON ENGLISH FACULTY

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis Pattee visited Rollins over the Thanksgiving season and, upon meeting many members of the faculty and students, said they were happily looking forward to their return in January when Dr. Pattee will become professor of American Literature at the college.

Dr. and Mrs. Pattee were met by Professor Grover, who showed them around the campus and places of interest Wednesday morning. Professor Grover knew Dr. Pattee at Breadloaf School of English, Middleburg, Vermont, where they taught last summer.

A reception was given Dr. and Mrs. Pattee at the home of Professor and Mrs. Harris, by the members of the English department, and Thursday they were the guests of honor at Thanksgiving dinner with Dean and Mrs. Anderson, Professor and Mrs. Wattles, Dr. Helen Cole, and Miss Lida Woods.

During the past summer President Holt visited Breadloaf School of English and persuaded Dr. Pattee to come to Rollins. He is resigning as professor of American Literature at Penn State college, December 10,

COLLEGE TO AWARD FOREIGN SCHOLARSHIP

The announcement that Rollins will award five foreign scholarships next year, has brought many inquiries from alumni and friends of the college.

President Holt has now secured a foreign scholarship for a graduate.

The American Field Service Fellowships for French universities has placed at his disposal a scholarship for advanced study in France for the year 1929-30. It carries a stipend of $1200 and will be tenable for one year, with possibility of renewal for a second year if circumstances are favorable. Everyone interested in filing application should get in touch with the college through the dean's office at once for further details.

Bueno Reveals Romance Of South America

Professor Bueno of the Romance Language Department of Rollins, gave an enlightening talk on the "Romance of South America", Tuesday evening, December 4, at the Congregational church.

Mr. Bueno opened his talk as follows:

"Future generations will wonder that these two sections of our continent, North America and South America, remained so long unfamiliar with one another.

"South America is called the 'land of promise;' the 'land of opportunity.' She has tremendous natural re-

VARSITY BASKETBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Coach James Bailey has the makings of a good basketball team. Eighteen men have reported for the varsity squad and most of them are experienced hoopsters.

This year in addition to Captain Zoller (All-State guard), Goodell, Schnuck, P. Pickard and H. James, of last year's varsity, Bailey has Proctor, Rashid, Tracey and B. James of the "28" freshman team. These sophomores should prove a great help in strengthening the squad. Besides these men there is much new material that should develop and make the scrap for position interesting. In the first two workouts of the season the coach has sent his men through snappy drills. Bailey is not a side-line coach, he gets into the play and shows the men how it is done. With the material on hand the coach should develop a fast and smooth working quintet.

Dark Clouds Win Heated Turkey Day Game

On Thanksgiving day a crowd of Rollins students gave thanks that they were present at the football classic played by the Winter Park Dark Cloud's and the Orlando Ebony Men. The Dark Cloud eleven swept down on their opponents, took them in, shook them up, and left them a defeated team. But did the Cloud get away without being dented, scratched, thumped and punctured? "Gosh no." It was in the last minute play that the Clouds won. At this point "Lot's O Trouble," Winter Park's quarterback, played Indian in crawling two yards through the line for the final touchdown. Winter Park's two halfbacks were strong in the offense — their line blows and body punches were the most thrilling.

The scoring began in the first half when the Cloud line socked and held long enough for their backfield to rush the ball forty yards for a touchdown. The ball was pushed over from the four-yard mark. In the try for point, Poison Sam missed a well-tossed floater from the hand of Dummy Dixon, Cloud deaf and dumb halfback.

A play that brought the spectators to their feet resulted in a touchdown in the second quarter for Orlando. A shift now called the African Swing and classed with the famous Dotre Dame shift threw the Clouds into a panic. While in this condition the Ebony quarter swung around their right wing to tie the score. At the half the score stood 6-6.

Between halves the coaches gave their men inspiring talks and the teams entered Sandspur Stadium in the second half fighting-mad. They played a great game. Neck tackles were somewhat frequent, but who cared? The only objection from the players about roughness came when they were kicked on the shins. The

The Sandspur

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

This year's football season is now a thing of the past.

But what about next year's outlook? Something has got to be done about Rollins football. The student body, backers of the college, and we include the authorities, realize this. We have gotten into a rut of defeat and humiliation in the past few years. But why? Rollins has not always had a losing team!

We lose three men this year by graduation, who would do credit to any team. And that brings us to the point. Rollins does not attract the quantity and quality of football players that other schools do, and if she does get one occasionally, there is not enough football players to back him and football depends on teamwork.

The 15 who fought for Rollins on the gridiron this year, running out on the field each time to fight a lost game, not daring to fight too well since there was no one to take their place in case of injuries know most poignantly this lack of men. And to expect Rollins coaches to produce winning football teams from our meagreness of material is to expect the impossible.

Rollins has got to go out after men. No ambitious cleatsters are going to be attracted to us just at present.

That does not mean that we should invite husky morons nor yet import professionals. Some men play football and still retain aspirations toward a college education. These are the ones we should seek out and make reasonable provision for either by scholarships or means of earning their way through college—since athletes with money are prone to travel further.

We do not advocate that the S. I. A. A. be violated in any sense but rather that we either take certain definite clearly-defined steps to put Rollins football on a par with that of other members or get into a league of lower classifications.

If Rollins students and alumni will busy themselves about attracting high school stars here, and the faculty faces the situation frankly and cooperate our football fog may clear. And now is the time to do something about it.

FLAMINGO MAKES '28-'29 DEBUT DECEMBER 10

The Flamingo, Rollins' literary publication, is now about to go to press. The new staffs have been appointed and are busily preparing copy.

Plans are being made to make the Flamingo even better than it has been in the past. It has great possibilities and with a live and industrious staff can become a leading college monthly.

A circulation campaign is to open soon and every student will have the opportunity to subscribe for the magazine at half rate. Copies will be on sale at all book stands in Winter Park and some in Orlando.

Special printed envelopes will be obtainable by the students who wish to mail copies.

OUR ADVERTISERS

Friends of higher education realize that all firms advertising in college papers have a special interest in the student when they back the school through its publication.

On the other hand the merchant is realizing as never before that advertising in student publications performs a very special service for them in that a special group of buyers is appealed to in a most effective way.

College papers are more carefully read than newspapers and yet the space rates are much more reasonable. There is a note of intimacy about such publications. Students will patronize a merchant who attracts their interest in a personal way. College paper advertising is common meeting-ground in the collegiate world. It is here that the student recognizes old business friends, and meets new ones — here the merchant bids for the patronage of a group whose goodwill cannot be overestimated.

Get to know those business men who use our paper as a means of showing their interest in us. Let us "back our advertisers" so they will feel encouraged to continue and increase their support, thereby making possible the development of a bigger and better Sandspur.

And one for college students

This Changing World

To-day, you can see big buildings erected noiselessly—by electric welding.

The structural steel worker is dropping his clattering hammer for the electric arc. Silently, swiftly, rigidly, economically, buildings are being fabricated by electric welding, which knits steel with joints as strong as the metal itself.

Building silently! Nothing seems impossible in this electrical age.

Not only in building construction, but in every human activity, we instinctively turn to electricity to add to the comforts of life and to eliminate the wastes of production—another evidence that the electrical industry is maintaining its leadership in this changing world.

Not only industrial equipment, but electric refrigerators, MAZDA lamps, and little motors that add to the comforts of home, are manufactured by the General Electric Company. All are identified by the G-E monogram—a symbol of service.

ROLLINS PLAYS HOST TO FORMER STUDENTS

Rollins alumni attending the annual meeting of the Florida Education association in Orlando last week-end were given a dinner by the college on Friday evening at the commons. About 50 alumni and former students were present.

Each one present was introduced by Miss Woods, toastmistress. Brief talks were given by Dr. Blackman, Dr. Sprague, Dean Holme and Dean Anderson. Paul Hilliard and Estelle Pipkorn responded for the alumni. Telegrams were read from President Holt and Mr. Hanna, alumni secretary.

Rollins colors were used on the long banquet table set for the visitors. Lighted blue tapers in clusters of yellow flowers were attractively used as centerpieces.

KAPPA PHI SIGMA

(See last week's notes, first paragraph).

Now that the fatted turkey has been done away with, we are counting the days 'til our next vacation. There is a new atmosphere about the house. One hears remarks about "good places for hunting," "deer and turkey," etc. Evidently several of the gang are going to take to the tall timber during Christmas vacation.

Which will not be the only type of hunting done by our members, judging by their remarks about money and jobs.

Two old grads came to see us over the week-end: Pete Babich, from Jasper, and Robert LaMartin, from Okeechobee. Okee wanted to go home Sunday night, but the engineer of the Okeechobee Special had gone to sleep somewhere out in the woods, so while the train was being found, Okee waited 'til Monday before departing.

Hank rejoices in telling how he and the Hupp passed seventy-three cars between Lake Wales and Rollins Sunday afternoon. Ask him or Luke Mosely about the Highway Fire Department.

Pep, Bob Sprague, Jerry, Ronald, Okee, Red, and Sapp all went in divers manners to the opening of the Singing Tower. Ronald said that it was not at all an exclusive affair.

CLOVERLEAF CAUSERIE

We had such a huge list of vacationites over the holiday and week-end that we deemed it better to refer those interested to the records rather than enumerate them here.

At any rate, everyone had a big Thanksgiving whether at home or abroad.

Cleo Carnegie has been missing for some time. Could it be that there is any connection between the disappearance of our esteemed friend and the appearance of turkey at the beanery Thursday noon?

An ambitious group of girls got up to watch the eclipse of the moon last Tuesday at 2:45 a. m. to the tune of hot coffee and mince pies. This is the latest alibi for early morning feasts.

FACULTY HONORED AT EDWARDS TEA

The faculty of Rollins College was entertained at tea Sunday afternoon, December 2, at the home of the Misses Edwards on Webster avenue.

The dining-room was artistically decorated in yellow and white by vases of garden flowers. Dr. Helen Cole poured tea while Mrs. Lyde Drummond Harris served punch. They were assisted by two college girls, Stella Weston and Helen Morrow.

Among the guests present were: Mrs. Clinton Scollard, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Grover, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wattles, Dean and Mrs. Winslow S. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Bingham, Miss Lida Woods, Miss Helen Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Powers, Miss Lucille Jackson and her mother, Dr. Herman Harris, Mrs. Ruby Newby, and Miss Beatrice Miller.

CHASE HALL NOTES

Our advice to green Freshmen is, "Look before you sleep." An epidemic of herrings has appeared in Chase, and many a sweetly dreaming Frosh has been troubled by the smell of the very dead herring beneath his pillow.

It is not good form to reveal the secrets of a gentleman's dressing-room, but Mitchel's yellow and black pajamas are irresistible. Also, I ask you, would you guess that McKercher, the Terrible Tough from Wisconsin, uses baby powder? If you don't believe it, investigate.

Chase Hall wishes to congratulate the dance committee upon the music and decorations in the gymnasium last Saturday evening. We all hope that these dances will be held frequently.

Our Northern boys can't accustom themselves to certain little Southernisms used on the campus. According to Coach Berry, milk is pronounced "mook," and Johnny Arnold, our prize Cracker, stood on the platform at a mass meeting and announced he'd fight for you-all's rat team.

SIGMA PHI SEZ

Everyone had a big time Thanksgiving, altho our numbers were sadly depleted.

Glad and Lib Morton spent Thanksgiving at their home in Sarasota. We sure were glad to see them Sunday, when they returned with plenty of food and whatnots.

Louise Hall went to Palatka. She says they have bigger and better turkeys there.

We all enjoyed the football formal—only thing wrong was the punch. 'Nough said.

We had Sunday morning breakfast at the house—plenty of good things to eat.

Kay Hosmer and Easy Holland came up for the week-end.

It certainly is evident that the end of the term is drawing nigh. Sunday the library was so crowded they had to turn some of us away because the seats were all taken.

KAPPA ALPHA

Chet Ihrig has been busy "flopping" waffles the last few days. He says that he is at the stage now where he can keep them from sticking to the waffle irons. Chet admits that he fed the first batch to the parrot. The only retort from Mr. Parrot, who is a clean sport, was, "Goodness Gracious." No wonder the lady friend journey south for her Thanksgiving dinner.

K. A. men who reported for basketball Monday were, Captain Zoller, Goodell, Proctor, Rashid, Schnuck, Graham and Upmeyer. The pledges out were, G. and R. Pickard, Scanlon Reid, Clerk, Spencer and Fisher.

Bob Proctor has purchased a hunting license and a B-B gun. He demonstrated his ability to shoot by "picking off" oranges from his study room windows.

ALPHA OMEGA ANTICS

Here's hoping that everyone else enjoyed Thanksgiving as much as we did. Almost everybody went home to celebrate. Ginnie went to Howey, Flora to Fort Myers, and Verna to Tampa. Verna came back in the custody of a policeman.

Kitty spent Thanksgiving with Vi in Orlando and they had a big dinner at camp.

Carolyn Heine was the guest of Mildred Hope at her home in Lake Wales. They were lucky enough to hear a few chimes of the bells in the "Singing Tower."

Lib Hury went home and Mary Veasey visited friends in Tampa and Tarpon Springs.

Donna and Audrey report a good dinner at the Beanerie.

Kitty's biggest job at present is finding work for the pledges to do.

Dot and Auntie are planning to live with us this week.

The latest addition at the house is "Patsy," a fluffy little white pup.

He Passed

Even the grave and dignified British Civil Service Commissioners could not resist being amused at an answer given at a recent examination. The question was:

"Give for any one year the number of bales of cotton exported from the United States."

The applicant wrote: "1491. None."

NEW DUKES CLUB FORMED ON ROLLINS CAMPUS

On November 16 nine men met in Chase Hall and founded the "Dukes," a club for non-fraternity men. They chose that name because it was short and had no particular meaning. Membership is by invitation, and the only restriction except that of being male, white, and over one, is that the candidate must not be adorned with a fraternity pin. A member may, by joining a fraternity, automatically cancel his membership in the "Dukes." They neither compete nor interfere with fraternities and do not "rush." While they have now only a young organization, the "Dukes" hope and plan to continue their club and make it a valuable asset to Rollins College. The following is the list of charter members: Horace Miller, George Orr, Harvey Gee, Donald McKercher, Kenneth Wallace, Harry Orr, Robert Levitt, John Sinclair, and David McCallum.

On Friday evening, December 7, the "Dukes" will give their first entertainment, and inaugural dinner party in the Colonial Club Inn.

W. A. A.

The Junior class girls won the basketball championship for 1928. That means the other classes must wake up in the remaining sports. Last year the class of '30 was the winner of the Walter's Class Cup. This cup goes to the winner of three out of four years. Basketball is only one sport. Who will be the champions in hockey? Finally, who will be presented with the cup at the annual W. A. A. banquet?

All girls are invited to the W. A. A. Christmas party on Friday, December 14, at the gym.

Monday, January 2, opens the '29 hockey season at Rollins. All registration must take place before the holidays in order that practice may start on time. Miss Jackson will take orders for hockey sticks at her office. These must be in before December 15. Girls having old sticks will please hand them to Mary Race to be sold.

This makes the second year that hockey has been played at Rollins. One hundred points are given to the girls making the Odd-Even teams.

K. E. KOMMENTS

Kappa Epsilon entertained with a tea Tuesday honoring Miss Sylvia and Miss Constance Holt, and Judge Holt, their father. Honoraries and friends of the fraternity were invited to meet the Holts, who are planning to be in Winter Park for several months.

Anne Hathaway took a vacation from teaching a b c's to the future citizens of Brooksville to spend her Thanksgiving holiday with us.

Pet, Nick, and Sarah joined the Thanksgiving exodus last Wednesday and stayed in Tampa and Dunedin for the week-end.

and will assume his new duties at Rollins with the beginning of the winter term, January 2, 1929.

Two questions uppermost in the mind of Dr. Pattee were, "Will the students at Rollins ask questions?" and "Will they discuss?" He was assured that they would. He said the students up north were slow to ask questions and good discussions were rare.

Dr. and Mrs. Pattee were married only a few days before their visit here, the wedding having taken place on Sunday, November 24. Mrs. Pattee was formerly Mrs. Grace Garee, of Coronado Beach. They will reside at Coronado Beach, and Dr. Pattee will motor to Winter Park on class days.

Those who met Dr. Pattee found him to be likable, jovial, and genuine. He has often been referred to as the greatest living authority on American Literature.

One Rollins student recently received a letter from a student-friend at Penn State which expressed keen feeling over the loss of Dr. Pattee to that college. He writes: "I would advise you to get a course under him if it is at all possible for you to do so. He is an inter-nationally known figure in the literary world, and he is one of the biggest men that Penn State has ever had. It is a crime he has left us."

"The attitude of South America toward her northern neighbors, the United States, was well illustrated during the war when a leading, influential statesman handed down the statement: "With our elder brother the United States, at war, Brazil cannot remain neutral." The feeling of true devotion must be made typical of the United States and South America on both sides.

"These two great territories must be drawn closer and closer together, working for a common destiny which will mean the greatest common good for all. Let us know each other."

Under the leadership of Professor Clarence C. Nice the Winter Park Symphony Orchestra will give their first concert on Sunday December 9, at 4:00 p. m., in the gym.

This unique organization has grown since last year to a membership of nearly fifty. This is due largely to the efforts of Miss Mary Leonard, the orchestra's secretary and manager. She has secured artists from New York. Mr. Howard Rossi, the oboist, and Lois Benton, the bassoonist.

The musicians are members of the faculty of the Music school of Rollins as well as from all the surrounding towns and country.

Student musicians are encouraged to join this orchestra providing they are advanced sufficiently to work in this branch of their musical training.

There are six Rollins Students in the orchestra at present.

The program for the Sunday concert is as follows:

Overture _____ Mignon

A. Thomas

Symphonic in B. Minor

(unfinished) _____ Franz Schubert

INTERMISSION

Overture _____ Oberon

C. M. Von Weber

Hansel and Gretel Selections _____ E. Humperdink

"Marche Slave" _____ P. Tchaikowsky

JUST STROLLING

Early up and down to Lake Virginia where mist clouds hung low. The trees drenched with moisture dripped dew from mossy finger-tips. As I watched, the sun exposed the white-tipped waters of the lake. As the curtain suddenly lifted, the opposite shore disclosed the shiny green of trees after their early bath. To the left the glint of the sun struck the steel rails of the Dinky line . . . and another lake. Even the skeleton remains of the boom days reflected in its bony frame what might have been.

We wonder what has become of the "rat" caps and black ties, the meek look of the Freshmen, Kimball's mustache, Professor Nice's "Now boys and girls" . . . and Dr. Holt.

Our "Kids" have lost their frightened look and have draped around themselves the dignified look and manner of true Rollins students again. We can expect great things from this class. Look at their football record, and their attendance at Chapel . . . not so loud, not so loud. How about the Rat dance?

Rollins Tars have not been so successful, but the winning team does not always leave the field with the winning score. Which is easier, — for a winning team to get in the game and play, or for a losing team to fight against overwhelming odds while unsupported by a real cheering section?

Dr. Pattee will be with us next term. Another distinguished man is to join our already capable faculty. Rollins is building.

The pleasant touch of the Orient on the campus. Friend Evans. Squirrels playing tag. The quarrelsome blue jays. History students on the verandah enjoying a smoke. The brown fingers of a passing girl. Tommy Spencer's tousled hair. Last minute dash for class. Sound of a bridge game in Chase Hall. Plink-plank of a piano in the conservatory. Gosh! I thought someone was being murdered . . . just someone trying to reach high C. Girls in smocks coming from the studio. The James brothers polishing their "benzine buggy." A still smoking, carmined cigaret butt . . . a college problem. Professor Wattles with an armload of newspapers. Tap, tap, tap, of typewriters in Carnegie. Falling oak leaves and spraying hose-nozzles. Golden personalities. New pledge pins. Absence of bathing suits from the windows of Cloverleaf. Woodcock's mustache and big blue eyes. Campus romances. The football players look like peaceful students once more . . . no black eyes or cuts from a playfully placed cleat.

Walled In

The night was dark, and the hour late, when the lone merry-maker advanced unsteadily toward the concrete lamp-post. Gingerly touching the rough surface, he felt about until assured of a solid support and then leaned back, resting. After a few minutes, deciding to again pursue his alcoholic path, he turned and felt carefully about the surface of the post. Round and round he walked, never taking his hands off the concrete. Amazement gave way to despair and at last, sinking down on the pavement, he gasped:

"My G—d, I'm walled in!"

The Scotch Joke

She: "I hear the Scotchmen are trying to put an end to all the jokes about them."

He: "And why?"

She: "Every one of them is at a Scotchman's expense."

Teacher: "It gives me great pleasure to mark you 85 on your examination."

Jimmy: "Why not make it 100 and give yourself a real thrill?"

Russell: "And how did that big half-back strike you?"

Pepper: "Strike me? Boy, he pulverized me."

"Say, Joe, what's going on in the fraternity house tonight?"

"Oh, just a big pet together meeting."

Theta: "I hear you made the football team."

K. P. E.: "Oh, the other boys helped a little."

College students are like girls who are old enough to know better—but don't.—Chaparral.

"I can't get a thing out of this book."

"What book?"

"My pocket-book."—Wabash Cawewan.

The Scotch are writing popular music again, "I can't give you anything but love."—Orel

Vassar: "I must choose a major this year."

West Point: "Wouldn't a second lieutenant be just as good?"—Pitt Panther.

Quarter-back: "16-25-33-8!"

Precious Infant: "82."—Virginia Reel.

"How can you sleep sitting up in a chair?"

"I didn't spend four years in college for nothing."

Fraternity Spirit

First Greek: "By the way, Jack, are you going to wear that blue tie of yours this evening?"

Second Greek: "Now that you ask me, yes."

First Greek: Great, then you'll be able to loan me your new one."

Boxing Coach: "And before we leave class, I'll allow you to ask any questions you may wish answered."

Nepolite (weakly): "How much is your correspondence course?"

—Exchange.

"Have you seen one of those instruments that can tell when a man is lying?"

"See one! Man, I married one!"—Ev.

It's: "Say, now-a-days girls get men's wages."

So: "They always did."—Siren.

"Dinah," asked Mrs. Whistlebaum, "I looked all over for you today, where on earth were you?"

"Ah was black berrying."

"You were black berrying?"

"Yessum, it was mah cousin Joe's fun'ral."—Pointer.

Speaker (orating on women's rights): "When you take our girls out of the co-educational college, what will follow? What will follow?"

Masculine voice from audience: "I will."

Modern girls employ various methods to retain their youth.

"This motor travels at the rate of ten revolutions per second."

"Ah! A Mexican make."—Satyr.

Prof. (in biology class): Can somebody describe a worm?

Sophisticated Stude: Yeh, a worm's a caterpillar that played strip poker.

Co-ed No. 1: "Is he dumb?"

Co-ed No. 2: "He is so dumb he thinks the St. Louis Cardinals are appointed by the pope."

College is just like a washing machine: You get out of it just what you put in—but you'd never recognize it.

She: Who was the smallest man in history?

He: I'm dumb, who?

She: The Roman soldier who went to sleep on his watch.

Angie: "What's the name of that piece they're playing?"

Lolita: "What Does It Matter?"

Angie: "Oh, I just wondered."

"Why are a girl's lips like a book?"

"I know. Red only between meals."

Aaron: Fay says she thinks I'm a wit.

Trissler: Well, she's half right.

Have you heard the latest Scotch song?

Here goes: "I'd give a thousand dollars to be a millionaire."

In English Lit.: How do you know Chaucer dictated to a stenographer?

Frosh: Just look at the spelling.

Lady: "My husband is a deceitful wretch. Last night he pretended to believe me when he knew I was lying."

Co-ed: Why doesn't he pick the ball up and run with it?

Stude: Can't; it's dead.

Co-ed: I don't wonder, the way they have been treating it.

Epitaphs

Lay a wreath on Johnny Rick, He missed the ball but blocked the kick.

He was a good guy, the varsity end,

But they tackled him high and his neck wouldn't bend.

—I don't know what to do.

—Why don't you flip a coin?

—I did but it didn't come out right.

After you were robbed did you call the police?

Darn right, everything I could think of.

War Tax

Judge—I fine you a dollar and ten cents for beating your wife.

Prisoner — I don't object to the dollar, but what's the ten cents for?

Judge—That's the federal tax on amusements.—Bison.

For the Last Time

Facetious Student (to elderly lady who is vigorously beating a rug):

"Don't beat that rug so. It may be Lon Chaney."

Elderly Lady: "That is impossible. I am Lon Chaney."—V. M. I Sniper.
