ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

This writer, back after a short camping trip in the southern part of the state, wishes to thank Mrs. Elizabeth Prescott Wells-Bauer, the well-known painter, for holding down the column during his absence.

We heartily recommend Harder Hall at Sebring and Lake Placid Club Lodge of excellent camping as excellent camping sites.

There appeared in this column last week an item suggesting a tent and a protracted wait in order to see the Dean. Personally, we have never had any trouble on that score. The Dean has even taken the trouble to send for us on several occasions.

Prof. Wattles made a nasty "crack" concerning this dignified person in his write up of "Icebound." As one journalist to another now professor, was it kind? We're so mad at you we could almost quote you.

We wonder when the administration is going to "snap out of it" and quit trying to force students to eat where they obviously do not wish to. A satisfied student is a college's best recommendation.

And we wonder if the administration of this "unique college where examinations have been abolished," knows that exams to determine the mid-term grades are going on this week. Of course they are called "tests" or "quizzes," but as the uneducated little boy said when told that the little feathered creature he referred to as a "boid" was a bird: "Gee! It looks just like a 'boid' don't it?"

"Poochie", the campus police dog got "hot" the other day and caught a squirrel. When interviewed upon the subject, he barked—"yes and I'd catch a lot more of those blankety-blanks if I could only climb trees. Watch my smoke from now on. Wow! there goes a big one—see you later."

Players Home From Tour Rehearse New Plays

Members of the Little Theatre Workshop returned Thursday, February 7, from a three day trip to Sebring and Lake Placid.

Plays presented at Harder Hall, Sebring were "Millenium Morning", by Elizabeth Hall Yates and "Our Kind" by Louise Saunders.

Vilma Ebsen did a specialty dance, and several readings were given by Miss Dorothea Thomas, Frank Abbott and Joe Jones.

It is interesting to know that Fred Stone, Rex Beach, President Holt, and A. J. Hanna were in the audience.

At the Lake Placid Club the players presented "Our Kind,"

FLORIDA CHEMICAL DIVISION CONVENES HERE

The twenty-first meeting of the Florida Section of the American Chemical Society was held at Rollins College on February 9. The conference was divided into two sessions, one beginning at four in the afternoon and the other at eight o'clock that evening. Following adjournment of the first session, the group had dinner at the Little Grey House on the Dixie Highway.

Dr. L. M. Drake of the Drake Laboratories at Daytona opened the meeting with a talk on "Original Apparatus and Research." He used some of his own special apparatus in demonstrating his ideas. Dean W. S. Anderson then spoke about "Furfural from Cottonseed Hulls." The "Nesler Reagent" was explained by Dr. F. R. Georgia, of Rollins. Closing the conference Dr. A. P. Black of the University of Florida summarized the position and use of the high school teacher in the American Chemical Society.

Freshmen Give Annual Hop At Sanlando

The freshman class entertained the faculty and student body with a dance at the Sanlando Country club last Friday evening. The annual freshman "hop" proved to be one of the outstanding and most enjoyed events of Rollins social season.

PREPARATIONS UNDERWAY FOR FOUNDERS' WEEK

Preparations are going forward rapidly for Rollins forty-fourth annual Founders' Week celebration, February 21 to 24.

Faculty, students, townspeople and distinguished guests will all take part in the program.

Activities will begin with the Annual Meeting of the Florida College Press Association at 9 A. M., Thursday, February 21. Delegates are expected to attend from Southern Florida State College for Women, Gainesville, the University of Miami and Stetson. The Convention will last through the following day.

On the evening of the 21st, the Little Theatre Workshop will present a program at Recreation Hall, of four one-act plays at 8 that evening.

At 9 the next morning an alumni Golf Tournament will be held at Aloma Country Club.

Rollins Conservatory Appears In Concert

The concert given by the Rollins College Conservatory of Music on Tuesday evening, February 12, at the Winter Park Congregational Church under the direction of Clarence C. Nice, was a great success and generally pronounced the best given by the conservatory so far.

Southern College again demonstrated that they are one of the strongest teams in the state by twice taking the measure of the Rollins Tars last week-end, 35-23, and 49-35.

The games marked the close of the Rollins season and found Coach Bailey's lads still seeking to break into the win column. As in other games this season the Southern encounters again showed up the inability of the Tars to play at top speed throughout the required playing time.

Friday the Tars held a 15-12 lead at half time only to see this margin fade before a revived Southern attack. Baskets by Schnuck, Goodell, and Procter gave Rollins an early lead which was maintained until well into the third period, but here a flurry of four baskets, all by Merrill, gave Southern the lead which they held to the end.

Goodell's basket shooting, and the all around play of R. Pickard, featured for Rollins, although Procter, substituting for Capt. Zoller, put up

Bob Proctor Flashes Good Tennis For Rollins

Rollins was well represented in the Central Florida Tennis Tourney just closed, by Bob Proctor, a sophomore here. Bob reached the quarter finals by beating Whitaker 4-6, 6-4, 6-2; and Harris 6-4, 3-6, 7-5. It was not until the quarter finals that he fell before the excellent playing of John Miller of New York City, 6-1, 6-1.

Bob made a very creditable showing against stiff opposition. He should be heard from again soon when he represents Rollins in the Southern Inter-collegiate tournament, which will be played at Ormond Beach the latter part of this month.

Juniors' Campus Champs Trim Class Ball Teams

A last inning rally by the junior class playground ball team brought in five runs and made them class champions.

The juniors were four runs behind when they came to bat in the final frame, but the first man up arrived on first base through an error. This and the next two hits seemed to unnerve the sophomores, whose errors backed by a home run put over the winning score. The game was close throughout and undoubtedly the best of the season.

Score, Juniors 16, Sophomores 15.

On the practice field last Thursday, the juniors soundly thrashed the highly touted "yearlings" by scoring 13 runs to their opponents 7.

Previous to this game neither team had been defeated. Both teams played good ball throughout the game, but it is said that no team is

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

"Leisure is sweet when it follows work well done."

Thursday, February 21, will see the arrival on the campus of many eminent guests, friends of the college and old grads, for the historical opening of Founders' Week at Rollins.

The administration has worked earnestly and well for the success of the event. Townspeople and undergraduates will share the privilege of contact with the prominent American citizens they are bringing here.

And even, further credit is due the office than mere arrangement of events. Our campus has been well groomed for the occasion. Flowers are in bloom, our grass is green, the Horse Shoe is better paved, our trees are trimmed and docks and diving towers have been restored.

The rest is up to us. Give the home comers a welcoming hand and make the visitors glad they came.

SFORZA TELLS REQUISITES FOR DIPLOMATIC SUCCESS

Count Sforza, before his departure for Wesleyan college of Middletown, Conn., Thursday, gave an informal farewell speech in assembly, outlining necessary qualifications for a successful diplomatic career.

"The first duty of a diplomat is to be successful and the second is to hide his success," he said.

He said many foreign ministers make a mistake in thinking that they are ministers or ambassadors as soon as they are appointed, though the first few months are probational.

Sincerity, self-control, sociability, a desire to serve others, and human sympathy were mentioned as traits needed by students aspiring to be diplomats.

He asserted that anyone lacking human sympathy can never hope for anything but failure in anything anywhere.

Speaking of his impressions of Rollins, Count Sforza said that he has never seen another group like Rollins where theoretical and practical work was so evenly balanced.

An outstanding feature was the first appearance of the Combined Glee Clubs on the lecture course, resending two numbers. The club showed marked improvement in technique and blending of voices. The attacks, were precise and clear and the shadings as to mezzatoness and crescendos well carried out. A liquid brilliancy in the soprano voices was noticeable, sustained by the sonority of the male voices. Both numbers "Nightfall in Granada" and "Dusk of Night" were sung with dash, youthful vigor and excellent interpretation. To the insistent applause of the audience the club responded with "Songs Beloved." The Male Glee Club was heard to good advantage in the "Italian Street Song," of rippling laughter and bright melodies, well supported by the soprano obligato of Carol Gleason and with Emilie Sellers to the piano.

The two harp solos by Hila Knapp and the two piano solos by Helen Moore, were truly artistic performances.

The new feature of ensemble playing added to the programs of the Rollins College Conservatory of Music was well represented by the Rollins College Trio, Gretchen Cox, violin; Rudolph Fischer, Cello; Helen Moore, piano; and by the String Quartette. The two quartette numbers: Air (for G. String) Bach and Kaleidoscope by Goosens, arranged by Harve Clemens, represented the old and the new school of Music respectively.

The audience entered well into the spirit of each number, showing interest and enthusiasm.

The whole program went off strictly in accordance with the announcement in the last issue of this paper. The Hotel Altamont orchestra furnished the necessary impetus to glide or jerk, depending on the whim of the dancers. Dean Holme, Dean and Mrs. Anderson were the patrons, and the chaperoning, "to be adequately attended to by persons fully capable of knowing the bad things from the good," as announced last week, was very efficiently and ably done by Mrs. Ruby W. Newby and Mrs. Austin Race.

The spirit of St. Valentine prevailed in the decorations. Red and white streamers and large hearts were hung throughout the ballroom. At one end, over the fireplace, was hung a gigantic heart with Cupid poised, ready to pierce the hearts of the dancing couples with his arrows. We hope that no such tragedy occurred, however. The refreshments of punch and cookies were enjoyed by all, especially the fellows who had to "sit out" the no-break dances.

As a result of this delightful affair, the general consensus of opinion seems to be that whenever the freshmen feel they want to give another, everybody will be all "pepped up" and ready to go, sure they will have a good time.

The freshman class, and especially those members who had charge of their annual dance, is to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which the whole event was planned and run off.

Does She Love You Enough?

Give a Thought to Your Physical Self

A woman looks at more than a man's face. She's thinking of his ability to protect her; provide for her; of her pride in his appearance in a bathing suit, on the athletic field, on the dance floor.

When you hear a woman exclaim: "Oh, what a handsome man!" she's not looking at his face alone. She's sized him up from top to toe. Those broad shoulders, that graceful athletic stride, the well-shaped neck and head, those strong, muscular arms and legs. They thrill any woman. Every sweetheart wants her man to be like that. Are you? Well, you can be!

Just remember that food makes the man. Let wisdom be your guide to

K. E. KOMMENTS

Kappa Epsilon takes pleasure in announcing Mrs. Percy MacKaye as an honorary member.

On Valentine's day Mrs. H. E. Osterling entertained with a delightful tea at which we served.

Our Pledges still busy themselves making and selling sandwiches.

Founder's Week and the Pageant are acquiring an international atmosphere, what with all the Irish jiggers, Indians, Danish dancers and modern American bathing girls.

Charlotte and Lou gave us an informal party Tuesday night after meeting. Some very recognizable impersonations by "Miss Stienmetz" were especially enjoyed.

SIGMA PHI SORORITY

We were very happy to have two Pi Phi visitors this week-end; Florentine Holmes from Tallahassee, and Cathleen Allen from Stetson. We did our best to show them the high points of the campus in the short time they were here.

Saturday afternoon Miss Gartland gave a very lovely Bridge-tea at the Woman's Club. Some of the members and pledges served and others, with our Pi Phi guests were invited in to tea.

That evening we all had dinner at the Whistling Kettle. Dr. and Mrs. Holt were our guests. We did a great deal of singing and Dr. Holt honored us by singing a Psi U song. After dinner our pledges entertained with a short pantomime and then we all hurried to the basketball game. Afterwards we returned to the house for an informal dance and bridge party.

Sunday morning all of the group and some of our friends had breakfast at the Family Tree.

Kay Hosmer came up again this week-end.

Such "formality" we have never seen! Promptly at seven o'clock every evening at least a dozen girls may be seen tearing around the house trying to decide just what evening dresses they will wear. It seems there is a Glee Club—.

CLOVERLEAF CAUSERIE

Cloverleaf almost had heart failure last week when rolls of red crepe paper and other decorative materials came into view. She recovered from her fright, however, upon learning that said materials were destined to adorn the walls of Sanlando Club for the Frosh dance and were not to add their colorful presence to her pink and blue bruises.

The place would have looked rather lonely Sunday with Genevieve, Mildred, Audrey, Donna, Lottie, Henrietta and Louise Briggs away; if Chase Hall had not sent over a delegation to protect the remaining inhabitants.

Dr. Cole and her noble steed, Philip II carried a group of girls to Daytona Saturday. Ever since Carolyn Heine has been rapturously announcing that she has at last seen the "Pacific."

Our girls want to thank Mrs. Cass for taking them under her wing while Miss Hughes was in Sarasota.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Billy spent the week-end at Daytona Beach with her family.

Miss Loreta Salmon entertained with a buffet supper at her home on Interlachen Avenue Sunday evening, in honor of Alpha Mu.

Wednesday afternoon the pledges gave a tea in honor of the patronesses. The afternoon was spent in becoming better acquainted with our new patronesses.

Several of our members and their friends attended the Pan Hellenic Bridge at the Chamber of Commerce Building in Orlando Saturday afternoon.

He'en and Martha spent the week-end at the Forbes.

ALPHA OMEGA

Five tables of members, pledges, and guests enjoyed the Pan Hellenic Bridge in Orlando Saturday afternoon.

Dot spent Wednesday night at the House and had Jewel Lewter as her guest. We celebrated by going to the movies and feasting on sandwiches, orange juice and cakes.

Ginnie spent several days in Howey last week.

Verna and Mary are becoming regular movie fans.

Irene Hartsell went home last week-end.

The Walter and Wilson families enjoyed a delicious supper at Dot's father's Church in Orlando the other night.

THETA KAPPA NU NOTES

Paul Hilliard dropped in for a visit Sunday. We were all glad to see our former athlete, singer and writer in familiar surroundings again.

The Florida Beta pledges, who were with us Saturday night, report that the Cloverleaf girls conceal a mean wallop.

Jones and Abbott tell us great tales concerning the lavish entertainment accorded them in Sebring and Lake Placid on the Little Theatre trip.

Banks was recently pledged to the Rho Kappa Sigma fraternity.

D. B. McKay is with us to take a part in "This Fine Pretty World," a play by Percy MacKaye.

"Red" came down again for the week-end. He can't shake off the old ties so easily.

CHASE HALL NOTES

Chase Hall doesn't really like hot water around five o'clock, but we pretend to demand it so that the boys living in fraternity houses can enjoy using all of it before we get the chance. Of course, on big days like Valentine's and New Year's we visit the fraternity houses and use their showers, but we wouldn't think of letting them know about it, since they'd immediately kick.

stronger than its pitching staff, and pitcher Rowan Pickard of the juniors had a slight edge in the "hurling duel."

CONSERVATORY

As the season advances, the faculty and the growing class of artist students of the Rollins College Conservatory of Music are more and more in demand.

The Rollins College Glee Club, with Clarence C. Nice as its director, appeared in public three times during the current week. On Monday the club sang at the Charity Ball, Orlando Coliseum, on Tuesday it gave several numbers during the concert of the Rollins College Conservatory of Music held at the Winter Park Congregational church, and it sang over the radio on Wednesday evening. The Rollins String Quartet, composed of Helen Warner viola, Gretchen Cox violin, Harve Clemence violin, and Rudolph Fisher cello, was heard over the radio on Friday evening, February 8, and on Friday of this week, Elenore Leimbach, formerly of the Italian Grand Opera, will broadcast a group of folksongs, accompanied by Mrs. Emelie Sellers.

The student piano ensemble of four players, Frances Vallette, Alvera Barber, Lucille Waters and Herald Metzinger made their first appearance recently at chapel in Schubert's March Militair and Tschaiowsky's March Slave. The student trio, Mary Boyer violinist, Grace Caldwell cellist, and Frances Vallett pianist, also played several selections at chapel. They gave a program for the T. P. A., at Geneva.

Preceding Tuesday's lecture, Herman F. Siewert, the instructor in Organ, played two organ solos and gave an organ recital at the Orlando Auditorium. He also accompanied Oscar Meyershader, tenor, who, among other selections, sang Eli Eli.

And it really takes very little work for a great many of us to make fools of ourselves, as the writer knows from personal experience. In his own case it is no trouble at all, if it was he would not do it.

FIRST GIRLS HOCKEY GAME ENDS IN TIE

On Friday afternoon, February 8, the first Odd-Even hockey game was played on the Harper-Shepard field and ended in a 1 to 1 tie.

The Odd team has many last year players but the Evens are greatly aided by Clem Hall and Betty Rathbone who have played in other schools.

Although the playing was disjointed and showed lack of teamwork on both sides the Odds kept the play at their end of the field and soon shot a goal. When the half whistle blew, the score still stood 1 to 0.

At the beginning of the second half the Evens started down the field but met with stiff opposition. Until nearly the end the play saw-sawed from one end of the field to the other.

WE HAVE WITH US—SENIORS

MARY ELLEN HALL

Mary Ellen Hall, vice-president of the senior class, has spent all four years at Rollins. She is an authority on the life here, having lived at the dormitory, the Sigma Phi house and her parent's home on Osceola Avenue, Winter Park.

Buckeyes can no longer claim Skipper, since she has spent the major portion of her life evading a Florida cracker accent. Somehow she has not fallen to the ranks of the long haired. Her blonde dutch bob appears at most of the Little Theatre Workshop plays where she is featured.

Mary is a member of the Rollins Key, Phi Beta, student council, and Sigma Phi sorority. These are not her only claims to fame. In the old Cloverleaf days, Mary was the cause of many skinned shins from hockey, and her Sunday rows on Lake Virginia gave her the envied title "Skipper."

Yes, Mary still spends half her time between the campus and Tim.

WILBUR F. JENNINGS

This fall when college opened there was a great mixup on the campus and to this day some cannot tell apart the two brothers from Turkey. Well, listen my children and you shall hear the tale of Wilbur, the senior. For the benefit of those who are still doubtful as to the identity of "Bill" commence at the top, his hair is straight and after that it is easy.

Though Bill came to Rollins from International college, Smyrna he went to high school at Cleveland, New York. After going to Robert college at Constantinople he transferred to International college and received his A. B. there.

He is a member of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity and also of the Scrub club.

Rollins hopes that Bill will decide to take a post-graduate course and return next year.

the other. In the last minute the Evens took the ball from a roll-in, shot a goal, tying the score.

There was a great deal of fouling on both sides and due to having players shifted from position to position the game lagged but by the next match both sides will be in better practice.

IONE POPE

More than meets the eye is Ione Pope. She looks mild but she accomplishes big things. Originally Ione migrated from Lily, Georgia, to Winter Park, and her preparation for Rollins occurred at the Winter Park high school.

At Rollins this year she is the Gamma Phi Beta president, the president of Pan-Hellenic, and a member of the Chemistry fraternity, Rho Kappa Sigma. Last year she was also vice-president of the junior class.

Recently she has been called a "Walrini" Hawaiian for woman—because of her inability to refrain from "shrieking" when tickled. Other epithets attributed to her are the Hawaiian for beautiful and for "hot-stuff." We gather Miss Pope is very versatile. But her chief claim to fame is her position as assistant skipper of the Vestris.

With such a biography as the above need we say anything further to prove that the record of Ione Pope at Rollins has been an eventful one?

a very creditable exhibition until forced out of the game in the third quarter, after accumulating the necessary four personal fouls.

Saturday night's game was a nip and tuck affair until five minutes before the end. With Southern leading 39-35, they put on a final splurge which ran the count up to 49-35. The game was much faster than that of the previous night and until Southern's final rally the Tars appeared to have an even chance for victory.

Mrs. J. A. Gamble, Mgr. Winter Park

The title of this play is "The Fourth Wall," written by Miss Marguerite Atterbury. The play has a most unusual angle on the study of human nature and also has some twists which should surprise the audience.

The second play has been written by Stewart Walker from Oscar Wilde's famous story, "The Birthday of the Infanta." The play is a most charming number, in which there is a distinct element of pathos.

The third play is one of George Bernard Shaw's best, full of his inimitable nonsense, very tragical and extremely comical, entitled "Poison, Passion and Petrification."

The last play on the program is another of Bernard's Shaw's, written in an entirely different mood from the previously mentioned play, "The Man of Destiny," is the title and the plot of this play builds up a most interesting and dramatic situation. There is a decided suspense element that lends a most intriguing atmosphere.
