ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

Spring is here! The boys are beginning to get that "hit with a brick" look in their eyes and the girls are beginning to turn loose those long, drawn-out sighs. We predict a record in cases of puppy love this year.

Coach Berry was all "het up" about the suggestion in this column last week, that he sprained his ankle jumping out of a window. "Nothing of the sort" he said "I had to kick a door open and run down two flights of stairs on account of a street car." "Were you trying to catch it?" we asked, and Berry replied "No."

After all their blowing, Sharkey and Stribling put up a ten cent fight at Miami. Sharkey got $100,000.00 and the championship of the South and Stribling got $40,000.00 and a black eye. And the public, as usual, got royally stung.

This column has decided to aid the president in his campaign for funds for Rollins. We appeal to John D. Rockefeller, he can afford it. Come on John and none of your "new dime" foolishness either.

Joe Jones embarrassed us terribly last Thursday at Harder Hall, when he demanded a tooth-pick. When the waiter said there were none available, Joe pounded the table with his fist and shouted—"Go on back and look again, and if you can't find a tooth-pick, bring me an ice pick and be sure its good and sharp." Tsk-tsk Joe, and we were trying so hard to make a good impression.

"Lefty" Moore is mad. "Yessir," he said, "I had two (2) swell stories written for the Sandspur and turned 'em in, and what happened? They lost 'em. There ain't no justice. Never mind "Lefty" if they hadn't lost them, they would probably have cut them up so cleverly that you'd never have recognized them. They have a remarkable sense of propriety on this paper.

Kappa Phi Sigma Buys Own Fraternity House

Saturday, Feb. 28, the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity bought the Zeall house in Virginia Court for its permanent home.

Through the advice and assistance of Professor E. O. Grover and Mr. Asa K. Jennings, Sr., a Kappa Phi Sigma association was incorporated with Professor Grover, Mr. Jennings and Mr. L. W. Fuller named as trustees.

The deal was transacted through the Union State Bank. The property includes lots 1, 2, and 3 with a 20 foot lake front.

The active members of the fraternity themselves raised the $1200 cash payment on the $12,200 deal.

They plan to plant the lots in Bermuda grass and improve the property in general. A canoe has already

ROLLINS TURNS MILESTONE UNDER PRESIDENT HOLT

According to announcements made by President Holt during Founders' Week at the convocation, at the Animated Magazine and in chapel the following Monday, the raising of the guarantee fund of $225,000.00 to make possible the campaign for the sum of $2,500,000.00 for endowment has been completed.

This amount of money will pay all the running expenses of the college for the next two years and also provide for the expense of the campaign. The last gift, of $48,000.00, from an anonymous donor, was received just previous to Founders' Week in order that President Holt could make the announcement of the completion of the fund.

The whole movement for adequate endowment was initiated by Trustees John H. Goss and Milton J. Warner. Although started last April, the greater part of the amount to carry on the campaign has been raised since the opening of college last fall.

Dr. Holt and Alumni-secretary Hanna have been devoting practically their entire time toward the accomplishment of this end. This result of their efforts marks another great milestone in the history of the new Rollins.

Sigma Phi Sorority To Present "Cradle Song"

On March 15, at 8:30 in Recreation Hall the Sigma Phi sorority is presenting G. Martinez Sierra's play "The Cradle Song."

The members of Sigma Phi last year, in accordance with their annual custom, presented the Irish play, "The Twig of Thorn."

In 1924 the sorority offered a prize for the best presentation of a one-act play during the year in the college. In the same year the Sigma Phi's started and undertook responsibility for the Robert J. Sprague oratorical contest. The money raised by their own plays is used for the awards made in these two contests, and thus the sorority has each year continued to sponsor two very worth-while projects.

Henderson's translation from the Spanish of "The Cradle Song" was used by Eva La Galleinne when the play was staged by the Civic Repertory theatre in New York, and the production was very enthusiastically received. Furthermore, Burns Mantle in his "Best Plays for 1925-'26" notes the play as one of the best of the year.

It is a very simple but lovely story laid in a convent in Spain. The nuns are seen in all their devotional life and then reaction to a complicated problem. A baby-child is left at the door of the convent and they find difficulty in combining the desire of their heart to care for the child and their religious prohibitions against so doing. Finally, they take the child and Sister Joanna

E. W. ROLLINS DONATES FIRST 'IDEAL' UNIT DORM

Students, faculty and friends of the college are overjoyed at the announcement made by President Holt, at the Commons, in the presence of the donor, Edward W. Rollins, of the cash gift of $25,000.00 for the erection of a building to be in use for the opening of the 45th academic year next September.

Huge applause followed the announcement, with many cheers for "Dad" Rollins, who is the present head of the family that established the college in 1885.

According to Dr. Holt, the new building is to be the first unit in the new architectural plans of Rollins on which architects have been working during the last three years. The type of architecture is Mediterranean and is fashioned after the Roly-at hotel near St. Petersburg, which is a miniature medieval town.

This structure will be the first of the building program calling for the expenditure of two and one half million dollars. Architects drawings of the "ideal small college of America" hang on the wall in Dr. Holt's office.

Dr. Baker Celebrates Ninety-second Birthday

Dr. Thomas R. Baker, patriarch of Rollins College, celebrated his ninety-second birthday on Feb. 27, by receiving a committee of faculty and students of Rollins College, at his home on Kentucky Avenue. Being confined to his bed because of a long illness, he was unable to greet a large number of friends.

Dr. Baker has been a member of the college faculty since 1889, but has been retired from active duty on the Carnegie Foundation since June 1911.

He was born in Pennsylvania, Feb. 27, 1857 and took his Ph.D. from the University of Cootengin in 1871. He is a Quaker. His wife, Mary Frances Baker is the authority on Florida wild flowers.

At one time Dr. Baker was mayor of Winter Park. He has been the director of the Rollins museum, which has his name, and is the author of several books on science.

Old students miss this fine old man who used to be a constant visitor on the campus. His personality was evident in the few talks he gave in Chapel last year. The love students feel toward him was shown in their generous contributions toward flowers for his birthday.

Still smiling, he told the representatives of the student association that his greatest sorrow was being unable to walk about the campus and see his friends, the students at Rollins. He wished his thanks to go out to all.

By unanimous decision, Rollins college defeated Miami University in a debate on Thursday, Feb. 28, in the Congregational church. The question was, "Resolved that the jury system should be abolished."

Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, director of the International Education Bureau, introduced the speakers.

Guy Mitchell, of Miami University, as first speaker declared that the jury be abolished because it had outgrown its original purpose of protection.

Charlotte Steinhans, of Rollins was then introduced and stated that the affirmative had to prove that all juries, grand, civil, and criminal, must be abolished. Miss Steinhans also pointed out that the faults found were in the administration of justice and not in the jury itself.

Speaking for the affirmative Marjory Howard said the jury system was inefficient, responsible for delays, expensive and wasteful.

Marion Morrow as second speaker for Rollins showed why it would be unwise for well established institutions to be abolished until something better could be substituted.

Miami's third speaker, Louis Jepeway, offered a single judge as substitute for trier of facts.

Replying for the negative side Asa Jennings pointed out why the substitute proposed would not be as effective as a jury.

Each person was then given four minutes for rebuttal. A winning argument for Rollins was the reading of a telegram from the Japanese embassy stating that for six years Japan had been studying the jury system as used by all great nations and had decided to adopt it.

Donors Are Generous To College Library

Professor Grover announces that, as a result of "subscriptions" to the Animated Magazine a week ago Sunday, for the benefit of the Rollins library, cash gifts totaling $1,800 and promises of books from 26 different donors have been received.

Among the books being presented to the college are several very valuable collections. Dr. Sarah Louise Arnold, dean emeritus of Simmons college, Boston, has generously promised her educational library of 1000 volumes. Mrs. Lowe, winter resident of Winter Park and whose husband was professor of history in Colgate university, will donate her husband's history library.

Jessie B. Rittenhouse (Mrs. Clinton Seollard) has promised to ultimately present the college library with her collection of books on American poetry, which is one of the finest in the country. Many of the volumes are first editions and are autographed by the authors.

THE ANGEL ALLEY PRESS

The Angel Alley Press of Winter Park, the private press of Professor Grover, has recently published two more volumes of poetry, written by Rollins professors.

"Lyrics of Florida," by Clinton Scollard, appeared about ten days ago, and "Songs of a Day," the fifth number of the series of Vest Pocket Poets, was issued on Wednesday. Other volumes of the Vest Pocket Poets are "Lyrics of Summer," by Clinton Scollard; "Compass for Sailors," by Willard Wattles; "Balancing the Scales," by Dorothy Emerson; and "Lyrics of Life," by Clinton Scollard.

There is being built up here in Florida, at Rollins, as a result of the efforts of President Holt, the nucleus for a Florida School of Writers. The above publications are evidence of this fact.

MR. FRANCE ADDRESSES MONTHLY Y. M.—Y. W. MEET

The monthly joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., was held Sunday evening in Knowles Hall. Mr. France gave an interesting talk on "The Golden Rule in Business," which was followed by a lively discussion. The questions were timely ones on modern political and business problems.

President Russ Fuller, of the Y. M. C. A., made the formal announcement of the Rollins organizations re-enrollment into the National Student Christian Association. This connection will be of great help in making the local campus association of more benefit to the entire college.

FOUR ROLLINS HOOPSTERS WIN CENTER STATE BERTHS

The Winter Park Plumbers which was defeated by the Mount Dora Vikings in the finals of the Central Florida basketball tournament was a Rollins team with one exception. That exception was Elliot of Orlando. The other members of the Plumbing Company squad were Reed, Zoller, Schnuck, Moore, Rashid and R. Pickard, all Rollins players.

This team suffered its second defeat of the season when bowing to the Vikings, a team which they had previously trimmed in four consecutive contests.

The Plumbers won their first game of the tournament from the Rollins Freshmen, 42-33. This was the fastest and best played game of the tournament. In their next start the Baptists of Orlando fell victim to Plumbing skill 28-20. In the final game against Mount Dora the effects of the two previous contests told on the Winter Park boys. Their shooting was off color and their floor work and passing slowed to a walk. Mount Dora triumphed by a fourth quarter rally 27-18.

Four of the Rollins boys were named on the Central Florida all-star team. The officials picked "Lefty" Moore for a forward and "Pinkie" Zoller for guard on the first team. Schnuck and "Bill" Reed as center and guard, respectively.

GIRLS HOCKEY TITLE GOES TO EVEN TEAM

The Even Girls hockey team defeated the Odds by the score 3 to 1, on Tuesday, March 5, at the Harper-Shepherd field clinching the W. A. A. championship.

The result of the games is:

	Evens	Odds
Feb. 8	1	1
Feb. 26	2	0
Mar. 5	3	1

The attacking was brilliant. Many clean hits were directed badly altho the defense around the goal was good.

The line-up was:

H. Pipkorn	c.	Bauer, capt.
Cawood	r. i.	Race
Daly	l. i.	Folsom
		Braun
Wilson	r. w.	Cardwell
Quick	l. w.	Dickinson
C. Hall, capt.	c. h.	M. Hall
Cole	r. h.	Fisher
F. Arnold	l. h.	Tomlinson
Rathbone	r. f.	P. Walter
Ellsworth	l. f.	Traill
Carr	g.	Lewter

Goals: Odd 1, Bauer.

Even: 1, C. Hall, 2 Pipkorn.

K. E. KOMMENTS

Saturday turned out to be an extra Alumnae Day for us. Elizabeth surprised us with a sudden visit from Tampa, and Trixie had already promised to come and see us. We were all at the house Saturday for the reunion.

Cam Hill has been off campus with illness for several days. Seems good to see her again.

Ginny Mitchell's birthday was appropriately celebrated Saturday night with red candles, eats, and presents. Elizabeth and Trixie were special guests of the occasion.

We want to thank everyone for helping us with our bridge party Wednesday, and especially to express our appreciation to Mrs. Sage, Mrs. W. Wattles, Vilma Ebsen, Grace Boone, Von d Elio Guianuico, and Ella Mae Weeks.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Alpha Mu of Gamma Phi Beta takes great pleasure in announcing Frances Arnold of Groveland, Florida as a pledge.

Gamma Phi entertained in honor of the new National girls on the campus Thursday afternoon at a tea. The guests of honor were Josephine Jentes and Eleanor Bodey, Delta Gammas, Doris Bartlette, Delta Zeta and Janet Cadman, Alpha Gamma Delta.

The affair was very informal. Tea and cakes were served by pledges Harriet VanDane and Virginia Ralston.

Boots' birthday was celebrated most decidedly with a dinner at the Grey House Wednesday evening. Martha, Helen, Estelle, Harriet, Murph, Grace, Billy, and Alice helped Boots feel a year older.

Harriet and Estelle spent the week-end with Margaret at Daytona Beach. Helen joined them for part of the time.

Pope spent Saturday and Sunday at home. In other words there were so few to hold the house down that it was hardly held down.

Boots tried to take Pneumonia and leave this world but the thot of having to stop Rollins for a day for a funeral was too much for her; consequently, we have Boots and no holiday.

Those who went, report a whoping time at the W. A. A. picnic on Saturday.

KAPPA PHI SIGMA

Kappa Phi Sigma invites you to house warming Thursday evening, March 14, at eight o'clock, in their new home on Virginia Court.

At last Asa has found a use for his limitless verbal ability. We haven't been able to even hint at silence since the debate.

Bob Sprague also had one of his talkative moments during the debate, being even more prolix than usual.

While the debating mood is in the air, we have been arguing about which rooms we are going to have in the new house.

Don has been planning our furnishings for us—eider-down mattresses, perfume baths, a professor in every room, private cable to Vienna, landing field on the roof, and a silver-plated fraternity Phord.

Pep snaked in the Orange Court bridge prize the other night. He will have to explain how it is used, as it's a new one on us.

Ronald heard that tin-can tourists were being given free lunches in Miami, so, unable to withstand that temptation, he and Bill Jennings headed south in Ronald's "Name-it-and-take-it," returning by way of Ft. Myers.

Mr. Henry C. Union, national president of Phi Delta Theta, came last Monday and spent the evening with us. He had just arrived from the installation of a new chapter of Phi Delta Theta at Davidson College. Mr. Union is a frater of Prof. Grover's from Dartmouth chapter.

CLOVERLEAF CAUSERIE

Some weeks ago we threatened to die with ennui; this week we nearly did. Only the Flamingo in its gay cover saved us. We got all pepped up when we discovered that three of our girls were contributors.

The various sorority pledges have taken to saying their prayers assiduously now that initiations loom on the horizon.

Anne Lupton was away for the week-end, but three stout-lunged substitutes united their voices in the familiar refrain, "Good night, ladies."

CHASE HALL NOTES

Maybe you have not noticed that our campus is slowly becoming the beautiful thing it ought to be. McCallum and his bugle mellowly playing taps in that soft, slow way of theirs make us temporarily forget a lot of unpleasant things, and a common little ukelele strummed under a moss-hung oak in the white moonlight can do queer things, too.

Some unhappy Cloverleafite recently suggested scrapping a few of the noisiest victrolas. Cloverleaf ain't heard nothin'. Come on over and take in one of our after-dinner musicales. Hark to a last year's record in which the blighted songbird implores you to learn about women from him, accompanied by a ukelele, a banjo, and one of those peculiarly vicious little instruments called "kazooos," played into a fruit-jar. You'll be free from doubt about the birth of the blues. They were born, reared, and now and then strangled right here in Rick Alford's room.

We never knew what "hard water" meant until we tried out the new diving towers. Miss Lake Virginia carries a wallop like a brick. At first we thought the lake had gone dry.

EDITOR HOLT CALLS FOR ANITA LOOS ARTICLE

President Holt recently paid a call on Anita Loos, the author of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and "But Marry Brunettes."

As editor of the Animated Magazine he wanted her for a contributor, but due to her ill-health she was unable to come to Rollins.

When Mr. Hanna, by telephone, arranged the appointment with Miss Loos she inquired as to whether they were brunettes or not—so they went prepared for anything.

In their best Sunday clothes they called at her house at 2 o'clock one fine afternoon. She greeted them in a most unique and intriguing Chinese pajama effect, and curling her tiny figure upon a divan, awaited their pleasure.

Her disregard for the conventional calling costume seems to have particularly interested her callers. They, with masculine curiosity, succeeded in finding out that she always slept till 11:30 and then went swimming—after which she affected this nonchalant apparel until her late afternoon plans were arranged.

She had just been talking with Earl Carroll, famous as a Vanities connoisseur, and she told President Holt that she wished she had never written a book for it put her in the public eye at every turn.

However, President Holt persuaded her that she really should be proud of her claim to fame, and tried to make her realize how much Rollins would enjoy having her petit, individualistic person as its guest. But she and her husband decided that after her nervous breakdown she was not yet strong enough.

CONSERVATORY

The Rollins College Conservatory of Music is having its biggest and busiest days of this season, according to director Clarence C. Nice, engagements are being filled every afternoon and evening each day.

The Rollins Glee Club was active on nearly every Founders' Week program. They have been putting out some excellent work and out of town engagements are already being spoken for.

The Winter Park Symphony Orchestra will appear in concert again Sunday afternoon at 4, Feb. 10, under Clarence C. Nice, director.

ERNEST K. (Pinkie) ZOLLER

Ernest K. (Pinkie) Zoller, was born the son of Ma and Pa Zoller. This great happening took place in Davenport, Iowa, where the West begins and in the state where the tall corn grows. Pinkie attended the Davenport public schools and graduated from the big stone high school on the hill. After his graduation he decided to go to work for Grandpa in the ice plant, but Ma would not listen to such foolishness. So down to dear old Rollins came our Pinkie.

Zoller has made a fine record in athletics throughout his four years at Rollins. He has been a member of the football and basketball teams each year. In his freshman year he was captain of the Baby Tar team and acted in the same capacity for this year's varsity team. His activities did not stop here but took in play-acting and glee club work.

Pinkie is a leader, and is now the president of the Alpha Psi chapter of Kappa Alpha. He was recently awarded the fellowship to Germany and is undoubtedly the outstanding student of the German language at Rollins.

In spite of his many other activities Zoller has, throughout his college career, maintained an enviable scholastic record.

His fine sense of humor and sincerity has made many friends for him.

We predict a great future for this big red headed youth and know that he will make good at whatever he chooses as a life's work.

ELM TREE HIDES W. A. A. TREASURE

Ginny Fisher made the lucky quest at the W. A. A. Treasure Hunt on Saturday, March 3, at Palm Springs. She unearthed the treasure, a sack of 50 pennies and one dollar bill, hidden in the roots of an elm tree.

A bag of candy was placed at each of the nine clues to reward the first comer. Baseball, games, and water sports continued until a picnic supper of beans, bacon, rolls, fruit salad, cake, and cold drinks was served.

W. A. A. is thanked for this occasion. The girls say it will stand out as one of the biggest days of the year.

EVEN HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS ODDS 2-1

The Even hockey team defeated the Odds on Tuesday, February 26, at the Harper-Shepherd field by the score 2 to 0. Two fifteen minute halves were played.

The defense at the goals was excellent. Many strokes were unusually powerful although they were not always aimed clear. Clem Hall, Rathbone, Fisher, and Race were strong on the attack.

EVELYN GREEN

One early southern morning of late October in Statesboro, Georgia, a small brunette Eve first made her presence known to the home of Green.

After the prescribed period of grammar and Statesboro high schooling she was duly registered at Wesleyan, Macon, Georgia, and had not Lady Luck herewith intervened Rollins should have been the loser and Evelyn would have gone the way so many good Georgians go.

Happily, though, the Greens spent the winter of her last year of grace in Orlando with relatives and her room reservations were forthwith transferred from Wesleyan to Rollins. And thus Rollins acquired this veritable little queen of flapperdom.

Petite of figure and blue-eyed, with bobbed dark waving hair, she fearlessly confesses that she falls best for "blondes—tall, strong, silent men."

But now you only know the outer Evelyn. For aside from her gay gift of chatter, and neat ability on the dance floor she has real talent and accomplishment to her credit.

Who, at Rollins, has not chuckled with appreciation of her inimitable negro readings? Our thanks for many an evening's enjoyment to the kind old black nurse who taught this little southern lady speech. Early in her freshman year, when her proficiency with the dialect was first discovered, she was frequently to be found out on such important missions as taking the Hannibal Square pick-aninny census.

However, Evelyn's serious ambitions lie in the teaching profession. She received some practical training when she substituted in one of the French sections for Madame Bowman during a recent illness. Further she is conducting a private French class of faculty wives and house mothers. But it is within the last month that she has really earned her spurs, in working as an official substitute at the Winter Park high school.

In her four years at Rollins Evelyn's extra-curricula activities have included: war canoe crew '25, Little Theatre '25, Y. W. '26-'27, Glee Club Reader '28, French club '27-'28-'29, student-faculty council '28-'29.

Miss Green is an active member of Phi Beta and is now president of Kappa Epsilon.

Prof. K. R. Close was in charge of the Miami team and Prof. C. E. Carlson coached the Rollins squad.

The judges were Dr. Charles W. Dabney, ex-president of the University of Cincinnati; Mr. R. W. Poole, of Quincy, Mass.; and Prof. J. H. Stollar of Union college, Schenectady.

The Rollins win was in no small measure due to the research work of Robert Sprague, alternate, and Mildred Hope.

Friday evening, March 1, the Rollins debating team went to Lakeland to hear Miami debate Southern college. Miami University, using the same arguments was triumphant there.

been promised the boys for their landing.

The attractive house itself will readily accommodate the 20 members. It is built of white stucco and will adapt itself admirably to its new purposes. The spacious rooms are handsomely furnished and the new home is complete from dishes, linen, and silverware to a very modernly equipped kitchen.

The fraternity will take possession and move in next Monday. Kappa Phi Sigma announces its house warming for Thursday evening, March 14, at eight o'clock.
