Rollins won a football game which seems to prove that what the teams of the past have needed were Mr. McDowell and Mr. McDowell and Mr. McDowell and Mr. McDowell.

Risking an accusation of disloyalty, this column breaks down and confesses that it would not have taken Rollins and 20 points at the end of the first quarter. At the end of the game this column could have kissed the referee and the goal post.

If the backfield had shown a little more drive and a little less griping at the line this column's finger nails would have remained much longer.

After the half, a rejuvenated team took the field, as the sporting boys would say. (These sport writers are so daring in their statements.) This column understands that Mr. McDowell smiled sweetly and said: "Lick Georgia now or me afterwards."

Rollins is the first college T. C. has seen where students have school spirit not gotten from a bottle. Most college men consider football games as a means—not an end. They climb aboard a bottle and all get gloriously whiffled. What are they doing? They are (1) grieving for a loss, (2) celebrating a victory, (3) toasting the king of Abyssinia, or (4) curing a cold, fever, bunion or incipient jaundice.

This column, being of Puritan tendencies, was properly shocked by the display of what T. C. had

PRES. HOLT ORGANIZES COMMITTEE

Unique Body Proposes to Improve Instruction

That Rollins college assumes responsibility for the development of its young instructors is indicated in the announcement from President Hamilton Holt that a new committee, to be known as the committee on improvement of instruction, has been added to the usual list of faculty standing committees for the present year.

Organization of the committee, it is pointed out, is in line with the recommendation of the Association of American Colleges. At its annual meeting last spring the association adopted a resolution that "the development of the teaching ability of newly appointed instructors is a major responsibility of the college."

In accordance with this resolution, it was recommended to constituent members "that every college maintain a standing committee on the improvement of instruction, which committee shall have as a major responsibility the making of local plans for the development of the teaching ability of newly appointed instructors."

Rollins college has already taken revolutionary steps in the improvement of instruction of students by adopting, three years ago, the Rollins conference plan of study to replace the lecture and recitation method of instruction. The success with which this system has met, it is reported, has encouraged President Holt and his associates to

Giver of New Dorm Unit Passes on Quietly

Word was received by President Hamilton Holt of Rollins College Tuesday, of the unexpected death Monday of Edward W. Rollins, at Dover, N. H., a close kinsman of the founder of the college.

A year ago, Mr. Rollins gave $35,000 to Rollins college toward the erection of a men's modern dormitory which is now being built and will be ready for occupancy during the current college year.

He died in his 80th year. His father was United States senator from New Hampshire and his brother was governor of New Hampshire, although Edward Warren Rollins was never interested in politics or public life as a profession.

After graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Mr. Rollins began his career as an engineer but soon turned to banking. He was founder and for many years president, and at the time of his death, honorary chairman of the board of directors of E. H. Rollins and Sons of Boston, one of the strongest banking houses in the country with many branches both here and abroad.

Among his many benefactions are a park to the city of Concord, N. H., a rest cabin in the White Mountains for the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests.

A set of nine books, representing the complete writings of the late Claude Carlos Washburn, a former student of Rollins, has been presented to the college library by his father, J. L. Washburn, of Duluth, Minn., as a memorial to his son, it was announced today. A portrait of the author has also been presented by Mr. Washburn to the library.

The books, which were written between 1910 and 1925, include novels, essays, and verse. Their titles are: "Pages from Paris," (1910); "Gerald Northrup," (1914); "Verses," (1915); "Order," (1920); "The Lonely Warrior," (1922); "The Prince and Princess," (1925); "A Florentine Comedy," (1925); "The Green Arch," (1925); and "Opinions," (1926).

The author was born in Mankato, Minn., in 1883, attended Rollins in 1896-1897, and was graduated from Harvard in 1905. He lived principally in Europe and was attached, during the war, to the American Embassy in Rome. He died August 10, 1925.

PI BETA PHI AND PHI MU INSTALL AT ROLLINS; CAMPUS GETS TWO NEW NATIONALS THIS FALL

Alpha Omega Gets Phi Mu; Sigma Phi Gets Pi Phi

Alpha Omega sorority was installed as the Alpha Omega chapter of Phi Mu National Fraternity September 22-24. Phi Mu is the second oldest women's organization, and was founded at Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., in 1852.

The installing officers were: Mrs. Clifford Rader, Columbus, Ohio, 1st vice-president; Miss Lila May Chapman, Birmingham, Ala., national historian; and Mrs. James E. Hays, Montezuma, Ga., former vice-president.

Sunday, Sept. 22, the new chapter house was the scene of an "at home," honoring the installing officers at which a large number of faculty, students and friends were present. That evening an impressive pledge service was held. The following girls were pledged: The Misses Phyllis Walter, Carol Walter, Virginia Lawrence, Catherine Young, Beryl Bowman, Elizabeth Wheatley, Verna Maxson, Mary Boyer, Flora Furen, Dorothy Hart-ridge, Ellen Huffer, Viola Wilson, Mary Howard, Audrey Snyder, Mildred Hope, Elizabeth Hury and Mrs. Glen Carlson.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Roland Harrison, of the Wolverstone estate, entertained at a bridge-tee honoring the national Phi Mu officers, the Alpha Omega chapter and the Phi Mu club of Orlando.

The Phi Mu colors, rose and white, were attractively carried out in all the decorations. All the tally cards and score pads were of rose with Phi Mu engravings in gold letters. High score was a bridge set in a morocco case with the Phi Mu letters in gold. This was won by Miss Elizabeth Hury. Delicious bon-bons, punch and cakes iced in rose with the Greek letters Phi Mu in white were served during the afternoon. An ice course was served during the tea hour.

Initiation and installation services were held Monday evening at the chapter house. A portion of the living room was partitioned off and decorated as a miniature chapel. The walls were completely covered with asparagus fern arranged on a white background. At one end of the room stood a white altar covered with a white satin altar cloth with Phi Mu emblems embroidered in rose and on the altar bench lay a white satin pillow also embroidered in rose.

The Phi Mu club of Orlando gave a luncheon at the Latch String honoring the national officers and Miss Claire Chapman, a Phi Mu alumna from Birmingham, and Miss Louise Hays, a daughter of Mrs. James E. Hays.

The final entertainment was the installation banquet, held Tuesday evening at the Rendezvous. Miss

Fla. Historical Contest Subject Has Been Chosen

The Florida History Prize Contest, which was founded in 1925 by Irving Bacheller, the author, and has been conducted annually by Rollins college since its inception, will be on the subject, "A Brief Historical Sketch of My Home Town," this year, it was announced here today.

The contest is open to students of the junior and senior years in accredited Florida high schools. According to A. J. Hanna, professor of Florida History and assistant to President Hamilton Holt, the purpose of the contest is to "stimulate greater interest among the high school students of Florida in the study of Florida history."

Four prizes are offered as follows: two gold medals, the gift of Irving Bacheller, and two ten dollar gold pieces, the gift of the Florida Historical society. Essays, according to the announcement, must be forwarded to A. J. Hanna, Rollins college, Winter Park, not later than January 10, 1929.

Essays must not contain more than 1000 words, must be typewritten and two copies must be submitted. In schools where several essays are submitted, the principal of the school will be

9 NEW FACULTY COME TO ROLLINS

Holt Adds to Already Brilliant Rollins Assembly

The forty-fifth academic year of Rollins college and the fifth year since Dr. Hamilton Holt accepted the presidency of the college, opened Thursday with nine new members of the faculty on hand to begin work. In the securing of these new teachers, all of whom have excellent records of service in their particular field of education, Dr. Holt has taken another long step toward the Rollins goal of having the finest faculty of any college in America.

The department of public speaking has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of Harry R. Pierce as instructor in public speaking. Professor Pierce graduated from Northwestern university,

E. T. Brown Estimates $9,000 Was Spent in Improvements

Students and faculty were delighted when they returned last week to find the number of improvements that have been made on and about the campus during the summer. According to Treasurer Brown's report to President Holt, over $9,000 has been spent in the program of rehabilitation of the campus and buildings.

All of the improvements have been either permanent or semi-permanent in nature.

The woodwork of nearly all of the major buildings has been painted and in several, the interiors have been entirely redecorated.

The most important improvement to the campus has been the installation of a modern pump for campus irrigation. One-fourth of the "horseshoe" has been piped with an underground sprinkler system and the irrigation units around Carnegie Hall, Knowles Hall and between the two buildings have been connected with the new system. A new lawn has also been set out between Carnegie and Knowles halls.

Knowles hall has had the outside woodwork painted, the interior walls kalsomined, the plumbing in the science laboratories replaced, a new hood and ventilating pipe installed in the chemistry laboratory and the tin roof repaired.

Chase Hall has had eight modern showers, 12 lavatories and new plumbing fixtures installed, floors have been tiled with waterproof material and woodwork has been painted inside and out.

500 CELEBRATE 45TH OPENING

Town and Gown Meet as College Opens Doors

Featured by addresses of welcome from officials of Orlando, Winter Park, the state, the clergy, and the alumni association, the 45th annual opening exercises of Rollins college were observed on Thursday, October 3, in the Congregational church before a crowd estimated at 500 people. Services opened with a benediction pronounced by the Rev. John Treadwell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Winter Park.

President Hamilton Holt made a brief talk welcoming the incoming class and introduced the individual speakers.

C. Fred Ward, an alumnus who is now serving in the state legislature, spoke in behalf of the state and read a telegram of greeting from Governor Doyle E. Carlton. Said Sariton, "Please extend my most cordial greetings to the students of Rollins college on the occasion of the opening of the year 1929. Florida takes a peculiar pride in her institutions of learning and recognizes the unusual merits of Rollins college. My best wishes to the faculties and to the students."

State representative Mrs. John T. Fuller, speaking for the lower house of the legislature, portrayed Florida's heritage, its present, and its future, with the wish that the students at Rollins might come into the fullness of all three.

The talk of Senator Franklin O. King was in a rather more humorous vein. He recalled instances in his acquaintanceship with Rex Beach, president of the Rollins Alumni association, during the gold rush in the Klondike, and concluded with the remark that he had been "born in Pennsylvania, educated in Chicago, and refined in Florida." Both he and Mrs. Fuller are alumni.

Municipal welcomes from Winter Park and Orlando were made by Mayors Fred W. Cady and James Giles, respectively. Assurance was given the men of the college that Orlando would be officially with them in case of any difficulty which might arise in that city.

Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Orange county chamber of commerce, gave a graphic talk on the

Woodstock and N. Y. City Are Places of Gathering

Two Rollins reunions were held in the North during the summer, the first being held at Woodstock, Conn., the summer home of President Holt, and the second at the Fraternity club in New York city, Saturday evening, August 3.

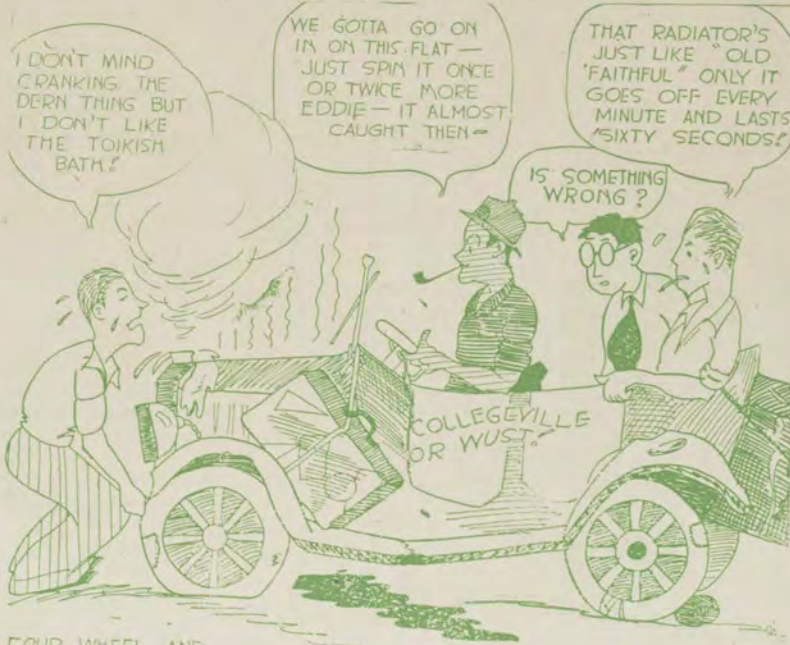

Upon their arrival at Sunset Hill, President Holt's home, the guests were shown over the house, garden and farm which President Holt's family has occupied for seven generations. Of especial interest were the antique furnishings which constitute one of the most complete collections in New England.

From President Holt's home the guests were given a hay ride to Woodstock lake where many enjoyed a swim after which luncheon was spread on long tables.

MAKING SANDSPUR HISTORY

This issue of The Sandspur will be remembered as a milestone from the standpoint of volume of news and advertising matter. In the change of paper, make-up and size of the sheet we acquire the appearance and possibilities of the best undergraduate newspapers.

Even last year The Sandspur was only a four-column sheet. Four pages was the average, six pages was good and eight pages was darn good.

On our desk is a copy of The Sandspur published the year after this editor was born. It is in magazine form, includes full page cuts of Cloverleaf, Chase and Carnegie, and articles by alumni "now at Yale." (The Cloverleaf girls on the tennis courts are hopelessly swathed in swirling skirts.) But it's impudence to smile.

They made the most of their opportunities—nothing greater can be said of anyone.

The policy we shall stand for will be one of improving the Sandspur for an improved and growing Rollins.

Thursday, October 3, marked the forty-fifth opening at Rollins, pioneer college of this state. The record enrollment is a concrete verdict on President Holt's administration. Aside from the opportunity in the conference plan of study, the increase of distinguished personnel on our faculty, improvement in arrangement of college buildings and beautification of campus grounds, we have the best athletic outlook within the memory of the present student body. Yea, team, now fight!

People who have never written for The Sandspur, keeping their literary talents a secret from all except their English profs. And people who are interested in journalism. To all these this message is intended.

No permanent staff appointments will be made until the beginning of the second term. We are glad to give everyone a chance to try his hand in the various departments. This will enable us to base our appointments on proven ability. And don't forget the range of departments. We are interested in wide-awake advertising men. Here is your chance to earn some money. The advertising manager receives the same per cent commission as our national advertising agencies. Anyone willing to work can earn from $15 to $20 a month getting advertising for the Sandspur.

This invitation is extended to every student at Rollins. (Signed) EDITOR.

The front entrance of Carnegie hall has been extended to the pillars, making an English seminar room above. Other repairs and improvements in this building have included an enlargement of the library facilities, repairs to the roof, considerable interior painting, and installation of a new office for the dean of women.

The Commons has had a new bake oven installed, the building has been painted inside and out, the rear storage porch has been enlarged, and the roof repainted. A new cement walk leads around the gymnasium from front to rear. Lakeside has been repainted and the matron's apartment remodeled. Pinehurst has an entirely new roof, the building has been repainted and a new class room has been made by enclosing an open porch with French windows.

The demands for additional class room space have been partially met by removing partitions in the south side, upstairs and down, in Sparrell Cottage, thus making two large class rooms.

Lyman has been painted on the outside, the old cabin in the rear of the Commons has been removed and rebuilt as a sculptor's studio, the public speaking studio has been painted, and miscellaneous repairs have been made to Harmon Bungalow.

man days was realistically portrayed by Myra Thomas and Colfax Sanderson, followed by a scene in which medieval love methods involving a brief tournament and the clash of battle was given by Mary Hall, Bob Pepper and George Holt. The complicated love of Queen Victoria's century was exposed in Charlotte Stienhans, Myra Thomas and Colfax Sanderson. The pantomime was brought to an exciting finish when the modern lovers, Mary Hall, Bob Pepper and George Holt, were tipped out of their canoe in the course of their triangular romance and almost drowned.

Dancing to the tunes from Bill Rice's "Dixie Rogues" filled the rest of the evening until a late hour, when all the little freshmen were rushed home and tucked in bed after their first Rollins dance.

difference between this county and others which are not agricultural, and did much to dispell doubts in the minds of newcomers from the north as to the Mediterranean fruit fly.

Dean Winslow S. Anderson expressed the appreciation of the college for the cooperation manifested by local authorities.

A wish that students in the college would find it desirable to find in the local churches a mental and spiritual development was voiced by Dr. C. A. Vincent, pastor of the Congregational church.

Shades of a Rollins now long past were recalled by the college's oldest alumni, Miss Clara Louise Guild of the Class of '90, who drew a charming sketch of the little school which struggled for existence in the closing years of the last century.

More in the same line was brought out by Ex-President W. F. Blackman, who congratulated the school on its remarkable progress since his presidency.

Musical selections were offered by Emilie Sellers, organist, and Gretchen Cox, violinist, of the Rollins Conservatory of Music.

STUDENTS' ATTENTION

For self supporting students desiring fascinating, remunerative work either temporary or permanent, may I suggest that many students of both sexes have earned scholarships and cash sufficient to defray all college expenses, representing national magazine publishers. Dr. Holt to Serve In International Music Festival

President Hamilton Holt of Rollins college has accepted an invitation to serve on the advisory board of the International Music Festival which is being planned to take place in New York city in 1931, it was announced today.

"The inception of the plan for an international music festival in New York in 1931," according to an official announcement from the organization committee, "is the logical development of the rapid growth in this country of musical art, musical education and musical industry. The scale and tempo of this development have brought new problems of a technical, artistic and cultural nature, and correspondingly new opportunities. The new era calls for group-action, through a movement big enough to bring together musical art, musical education and musical industry."

Musical organizations in this country as well as in England, France, Germany, Austria and Italy are cooperating in the plans, it is announced.

The picture of a gray-haired mother in a "Rat" cap, snarled at because she was deaf and could not understand the orders snapped at her, is not particularly pleasant.

An opinion—nothing more—is that Sophomores under the "Rat" system, are more insufferable than freshmen who are not ratted. This point was proven to this column by contrasting the University of Florida with Vanderbilt University. Vanderbilt has no ratting, yet the Freshmen were not overbearing—in fact, the student body might be termed "gentlemen," if that word had not lost its meaning.

Quoting "Signs of the Times," by Henry Clay Evans, Jr.:

"From the University of Oklahoma comes the news that the board of trust has definitely chased hazing out of the college. They branded the practice as 'obsolete and frowned upon by modern colleges.' This goes to show for one thing that Oklahoma is a good deal more advanced than the movies will allow. Further, it could be a pointer to the less capable executives of colleges who claim piously that they would like to stop hazing but it is humanly impossible."

TAR CRIDMEN HIT GEORGIA STATE 12-6 COUNT

Tar Babies Hail
From 11 States

Ten states and one foreign country are represented among the 17 candidates for the freshman football team at Rollins college this year, it was announced. This widespread representation of such a small group of players is considered to be something of a record in college circles.

Curiously, only five of the candidates claim homes in Florida. Three come from New York, two from Connecticut, and one each from North Carolina, Virginia, Minnesota, Georgia, Missouri, New Hampshire, and Illinois. Russia is represented by a foreign exchange scholarship holder.

Several of the Freshman players have come to Rollins with impressive records as high school athletes. William Rogers, of Dover, N. H., is the only athlete to win his letter in four branches of sport at Dover High. Oscar Peacock, of Miami, who holds the Irving T. Bush scholarship for Florida boys, is a 10-second sprinter from Florida Military academy. George Durmid, of Asheville, N. C., was All-State Interscholastic Basketball selection last year in North Carolina, and in the year before, as a basketball player for Orlando high, he was All-State Interscholastic selection for Florida.

Other candidates for the yearling eleven include Waldo Plympton and T. J. Morris, Winter Park; George Crawford, Ft. Myers; Edward Condon, St. Petersburg; Edward Cruger and Philip Horton, Peekskill, N. Y.; Martin Reinstein, New York, N. Y.; Bucklin Moon, Fairbault, Minn.; George Carrison, Macon, Ga.; Wallace Child, Woodstock, Conn.; Olcott Deming, Danbury, Conn.; Donald Fisher, Webster Groves, Mo.; Arthur Anger, Evanston, Ill.; William Graham, Va.; and Val F. Kirillin Kief, Russia.

McDOWALL, ROLLINS COACH,
KNOWS HOW TO PICK 'EM

The secret behind Rollins college's first football victory in two years scored at the expense of South Georgia State college here last Monday has come out; Mrs. Jack McDowall, wife of the Rollins head coach, attended the game. That fact in itself might not be significant were it not for the fact that the Mrs. during the past three years, has never seen Jack come off the field a loser, either as a player or as a coach.

Her remarkable record began in 1926, when she saw her then future husband take part in the last two games of the North Carolina State eleven on which Jack McDowall was earning fame that led to his selection as All-Southern half-back. Both games were won by N. C. State. In 1927, North Carolina State played ten games, winning eight and losing two. Mrs. McDowall saw Jack play in the victories but passed up the opportunity to see the two defeats which were administered by Florida University and Furman.

Last year Jack went to Asheville, N. C., to coach the high school team. His team won all of its ten games and Mrs. McDowall sat in at all of them. She also saw her husband play two professional football games that year, and likewise, these were victories for Jack's team.

Last Saturday, Mrs. McDowall almost had her record marred when she journeyed to Sanford to see the Rollins Freshman team play Seminole high. The game ended in a tie, 0 to 0. Last Monday she arrived at the local field in time to see the Rollins varsity rally in the second half to turn apparent defeat into a smashing victory. Now the players are wondering how they can induce Mrs. McDowall to journey to Tifton, Ga., Deland, Fla. Chattanooga, and Miami for the remaining games this season.

Mrs. McDowall is the former Alice Gruver, of Raleigh, N. C., where she attended Peace Institute.

Coming Through Georgia

Hilarity! Noise! Color! Celebration! Yea Rollins! We don't give a . . . for the whole state of Georgia!

The Tars have come through with a win, and all the college has gone crazy. Fat Rats, thin Rats, gay Rats, Rats of all shapes and ages join in the festive P-Rade, and, shouting from sheer joy, rush down the main drag in pyjamas, writhing from side to side with cheer and song.

Spectators crowd into the streets to see a demonstration of the real Rollins spirit. There can be no doubt as to the cause of all this. Jack McDowall has come to push the Tars, and has fostered in them an attitude which South Georgia could not beat.

The feeling of power is strong in this "organized mob," and all before it is swept aside. At one point, however, the power is not great enough to win through force of weight. Manager Johnson of the Baby Grand will not be shaken from a desire to treat Rollins, and rather than have his theatre crashed, puts on a special screening for the students.

Back to the field in front of Carnegie stream the Rats, crys for a bonfire filling the air. Wood is soon found, and a tower of flame mounts upward. Suddenly rises the shriek of a fire engine, and the ates. Orlando, as Winter Park, falls peacefully before the whooping onslaught.

Winter Park again, and another inspiration. "We want speeches!" Brakes grind. Sirens, Horns, and whistles add to the cacophony of sound. A light in a small cottage at the roadside winks out, and Coach steps into the glare of headlights. Silence. "Are there any football men in that crowd out there?" (Groans) "If there are, they had better go to bed!"

"Aw, Coach, not tonight!"
"All right, then, I noticed that

Playing their first game under the tutelage of Jack McDowall, former North Carolina State ace, the Rollins Tars rallied in the last half at the Harper-Shepherd athletic field to take their first victory of 1929. The South Georgia State college of Douglas, Ga., furnished the victims and the score was 12 to 6.

With the Georgians leading 6 to 0 at the half, the Tars came back the school was not behind the team in the first half as it should have been. In the second you were fine. Let's have this spirit at the rest of our games. The team has shown you that it can fight from behind to win. You all keep backing it!" (Silence, then prolonged cheering). The light in the small cottage winks on again, and the cars rush on into the darkness.

President Holt's house. Calls, and Prexy steps onto his porch. "I have been waiting four years for this . . ." (Laughter and cheers.) "You have the right idea now, and I'm glad to see you celebrating. Keep it up. I'll see all of you at the show." Cheers echo away into the night.

in the later periods to tie the count with an aerial offensive that swept the visitors back under their own goal, and then opened up a sustained drive that netted a second touchdown and the victory in the last quarter. The Tars should have had another touchdown, but lacked the punch necessary to push it over after they had carried the oval inside the 10-yard stripe.

Rollins had a decided edge in yardage gained, ringing up nine first downs to five for the invaders, but the Tars also lost some sorely needed yards on end runs that went away as the defending Georgians filtered through to down the runner far behind the line of scrimmage. The Tars seemed all at sea in the first half, when the visitors piled up four first downs and held the Winter Park Players to one.

The visitors scored first in the initial stanza, taking the ball after an exchange of punts and starting a steady drive down the field under the leadership of Lester, little quarterback who not only ran but tackled with unerring accuracy. With the ball in position, Raynor, Georgia fullback, knifed his way over for the counter. The Tars held on the try for extra point and the score stood until the third period.

With Coach McDowall's lecture fresh in their minds, the Tars settled down to business in the second half and the defense was noticeably stiffer. After some bucking back and forth in mid-field, Fisher (Continued on Page 4)

While Yale and Princeton were battling to a tie at Hoboken, New Jersey, a small group of scientists, directed by Thomas A. Edison, was busy at Menlo Park, only a few miles away. On October 21, their work resulted in the first practical incandescent lamp.

Few realized what fifty years would mean to both electric lighting and football. The handful who watched Yale and Princeton then has grown to tens of thousands to-day. And the lamp that glowed for forty hours in Edison's little laboratory made possible to-day's billions of candle power of electric light. In honor of the pioneer achievement, and of lighting progress, the nation this year observes Light's Golden Jubilee.

Much of this progress in lighting has been the achievement of college-trained men employed by General Electric.

Conservatory Notes

The conservatory has opened what is believed will be the biggest year in its history, with the enrollment of B. M. students practically doubled, according to a statement made by Dr. Nice, director.

The faculty has been very busy this first week providing music for various programs in connection with the opening of college, in addition to their regular work. Saturday, September 28, Miss Lillian Eldridge, contralto, sang at the Phi Mu banquet at Dubsdread. Mrs. Knapp, harp, and Harve Clemens, violinist, played at the Pi Beta Phi reception Sunday, Sept. 29. Other programs included the opening Sorosis program in Orlando, Tuesday, Oct. 1, Miss Cox; the tea at the home of Miss O'Neal on Oct. 2, Miss Cox; the opening exercises of the college at the Congregational church on Oct. 3, Miss Cox, violin, and Miss Sellers, organ; the first chapel in Knowles hall, Oct. 4, Miss Lucille Bishop; and the faculty trio, composed of Miss Cox, violin, Miss Moore, piano, and Rudolph Fisher, cello, at the Wednesday morning chapel.

The Conservatory would like to remind all A. B. Students that history and music appreciation are open to them this year free of charge.

Miss Helen Moore Miss Emilie Sellers and Herman Siewert, of the conservatory faculty, spent the summer studying in Europe. They also spent some time traveling through France, Switzerland, Italy

Evanston, Ill., and immediately became director of public speaking at Mount Union college, Ohio. After teaching there for five years, he accepted the professorship at Ohio university, where he taught until he became director of the Boston Lyceum school, which trains speakers for the chautauqua and lecture platform. At Rollins he will have charge of public speaking and will coach the debate team. He will also direct the college radio station.

Dr. William S. Franklin comes from Massachusetts Tech to be visiting professor of physics for the fall term while Miss Miller is on leave of absence. Dr. Franklin received his B. S. degree at the University of Kansas, and followed this with a year's study in Berlin, Germany, two years in Harvard, and two years at Cornell university, from where he received his doctor's degree. He has a distinguished record of teaching, having been at Leigh for 18 years, and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology for 14 years. He is the author of fourteen text books, on different scientific subjects, besides being a publisher in his own right.

Miss Sarah M. Wensell will be the new instructor of Greek and Latin. Miss Wensell is a graduate of Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., and has been in charge of Greek and Latin at Lakewood, O., high school.

Mr. Newell O. Mason has been chosen as assistant professor of history. Mr. Mason received his B. A. degree at Brown university and his Master's degree at Harvard university. After graduation from Harvard he entered the history department of the Y. M. C. A. college at Providence, R. I. He comes to Rollins from the Norwich university, Northfield, Vt.

The selection of Mr. George E. Ganiere as instructor of plastic arts is a most fortunate one. Mr. Ganiere has for some years been a pupil of Loreda Taft, the world-famous sculptor, and has obtained high distinction because of his splendid statues of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Harrison H. Laney, principal at the Oviedo, Fla., high school, will occupy staff position in the department of education. He will be very valuable in assisting the development of courses in education practices. Because of his relationship and intimate contact with high schools in the state, he will be able to secure actual teaching practice for Rollins students in Florida secondary schools.

Jack McDowall, who is the new director of physical education for men, comes to Rollins with a splendid athletic record behind him. He graduated from North Carolina university with varsity letters in four sports, and the honor of being named on the 1927 All-Southern football team. At Asheville, N. C., his high school athletic teams have gone far in the last two years to establish him as an able coach. He will be assisted by Samuel O. Graham, who was also a former athlete of note at North Carolina.

Physical education for women at Rollins will be under the direction of Miss Marjorie J. Weber, Goucher college and Columbia university graduate. Miss Weber has been director of physical education for women at Marshall college for the past four years.

Other staff changes at Rollins for the coming year are the appointment of Mrs. Vivian S. Birmingham, who was on the campus last year, as Dean of Women; the return of Fleetwood Peoples, director of aquatic sports, who has been on a year's leave of absence, and the appointment of Mrs. Nell Blalock Lester, former hostess for the Alpha Delta Pi sorority chapter house at Florida State College for Women, as house chaperon of Cloverleaf dormitory for women.

tossed a pass that bounced along on the outstretched fingers of one Rollins end, two visiting backs, and then settled into the arms of Tommy Spencer, former Orlando High star. Tommy, who was in the clear, out-distanced the field for 40 yards and knotted the count with his touchdown. Rollins failed in the try for the extra point.

The final period was all Rollins, the Tars carrying the ball to the 5-yard line, only to lose it on downs. The Georgians punted, but it was short and the Tars started another drive that was not to be denied, and Reid carried it over for the second touchdown. The try for point was low and wide.

The Tars, with one victory under their belts, will now turn to the more serious task of preparing for the South Georgia A. & M. eleven to be played in Tifton, Ga. Saturday. This team holds a victory over Southern and is expected to offer stiff opposition.

Rollins Clubs Meet During Past Summer

Barbour has spent many seasons in Winter Park and who is an enthusiastic supporter of President Holt's policy, added great enthusiasm to the occasion by the donation of a large check for the general work of Rollins. George Morgan King, one of the early alumni, also handed in a generous check for the Rollins Loyalty fund.

An informal program of greetings and toasts featured the day's events. Dr. Clarence W. Bowen, uncle of President Holt, acted as chairman. President Holt extended a warm welcome in the form of a poem he had written for the occasion, after which the following spoke briefly: A. J. Hanna for the alumni; Dr. Cornelius A. Pugsley; Prof. Richard Fenerstein, for the faculty; Judge George C. Holt who read a poem also written for the occasion; Miss Ling Nyi Vee, an exchange student at Rollins last year; the Misses Constance and Sylvia Holt who gave a "Poetic Duet"; Chester DeWitt Pugsley for the trustees; Dean Winslow S. Anderson; Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton for the honorary alumni; Miss Eleanor Sprague, daughter of Prof. Sprague, for the Rollins club of Boston; Former Dean A. D. Enyart, who gave some interesting reminiscences of the days when the college enrollment numbered 50 students; Leonard Seaver, Harrie James, who spoke for the class of 1929; George Morgan King; Mrs. Lillian Sawyer Hawks.

The Rollins reunion at the Fraternity club in New York was held under the auspices of the Rollins club of New York. Fred A. Swain, secretary of the club, welcomed the out-of-town guests and outlined the history of the club under the leadership of Fritz J. Frank, '36, and prophesied a future of increasing usefulness.

Herbert Martin, '12, was chairman of the program committee. Frank Palmer, '23, director of "stunts" and A. J. Hanna, '17, toastmaster.

Interesting talks, reminiscent of undergraduate experiences, indicating deep loyalty and with enthusiasm for the future of Rollins, were given by the following class representatives:

Frederick L. Lewton, '31; Robert A. Dresser, '32, who sent a check for $100 for the Rollins Loyalty fund inasmuch as he could not be present; Fred A. Swain, '36; Walter Fairchild, '38; Florence Hudson, '39; Herbert Martin, '12; A. J. Hanna, '17; Sara Yancey-Royter, '18; Leila Russell, '21; Pauline Phelps, '23; Dorothy Darrow, '24; Rose Powers Van Cleve, '25; Thomas Caldwell, '26; Dorothy Crosby, '27; Peter Babich, '28; Buddy Ebsen, '29; Cecile Piltz, '30; and Edward Crugar, '33.

Pi Beta Phi and Phi Mu Install At Rollins

Lila May Chapman made a charming toast-mistress for the occasion. Toasts were made by Mrs. Rader, Mrs. Hays, Dr. Holt, Mrs. Harrison, and the following chapter members: Virginia Lawrence, Catherine Young, Dorothy Hartridge, Audrey Snyder, Phyllis Walter and Ruth Cole. Mr. A. J. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow S. Anderson and the Phi Mu club of Orlando were other guests of the evening.

Ruth Cole, president of the chapter, was initiated at the model initiation service at the national convention held at Chatham, Mass., last June.

Phi Mu is the second national woman's fraternity to come on the Rollins campus.

The installation of the Florida Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi took place on the 27th, 28th and 29th of September. Miss Amy B. Onken, grand president, officiated, with the assistance of Lois Thompson, province president; Cathleen Allen, representative of Florida Alpha; and Ellen Knight, of Florida Beta.

The pledge service was held on the afternoon of the 27th in Orlando at the home of Mildred Overstreet and was followed by a "Cookie Shine" at which the fraternity officers, the new pledges, and Pi Pals from all over the state were present.

The morning of the 28th was taken up by initiation service at the Winter Park Woman's club. A plate lunch was served after which the chapter was formally installed. The formal banquet at Dubsdread Country club was very impressive. The tables were placed in the form of the Greek letter Pi and decorated with candles, flowers, and mirrors to represent lakes which was the theme of the program. A corsage of roses was at each place. Damaris Wilson acted as toast-mistress and Miss Onken, Ellen Knight, Cathleen Allen, Mary Hall and Clementine Hall gave short talks.

Before a dinner at the Little Grey House on the 29th, the chapter had its first meeting at the house. The ceremonies were brought to a close that afternoon by a reception to the college and friends of the fraternity and in honor of Miss Onken.

asked to decide which one shall represent the school.

As soon as the best four essays are chosen, they will be returned to the successful competitors, who shall memorize them and deliver them from memory without notes at "Gate o' the Isles," Mr. Bacheller's estate in Winter Park, at 10 o'clock on the morning of February 22, 1930, as a feature of the exercises observing the Forty-fifth anniversary of Rollins college.

"Students are urged to make themselves thoroughly familiar with their material," says the announcement, "before they begin to write. They must not be content to chronicle detailed facts and monotonous dates, but they should advance theories to account for the course of events and allow their reasoning power a certain amount of play in explanation of motives which actuate personages, yet keep within the bounds of historical accuracy. Attention is especially called to the fact that an essay on the newest town in Florida has just as great an opportunity of winning a prize as has an essay on the oldest city in the United States."

A series of radio talks, the announcement points out, concerning the history of Florida towns and cities, will be given over WDBO during October, November, December and January by members of the Florida history class of Rollins college.

The contest committee includes Albert Shaw, honorary chairman; A. J. Hanna, chairman; Washington E. Connor, New Smyrna; Fred Cubberly, Gainesville; Clara M. Jackson, Tampa; Dr. Leland H. Jenks, Rollins college; Rodman Lehmann, junior high school, Orlando; Margaret McKay, Rollins college; Sara E. Muriel, Ft. Myers; Emma Williams Porter, Jacksonville; Harris Powers, Ocala; Rose Mills Powers, Winter Park; Myron T. Pritchard, Daytona Beach; Ruth Riley, University of Florida, Gainesville; James A. Robertson, Stetson university Deland; John G. Ruge, Apalachicola; J. C. Yonge, Pensacola.

FRATERNITY NOTES

Phi Beta

Theta chapter of Phi Beta fraternity of music and dramatic art held its first meeting Monday, October 7.

At this meeting Virginia Lee Richardson, chapter president, gave a most interesting account of Phi Beta's national convention held July 15-20 at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles, California. Virginia was Theta chapter's official delegate. All members were glad to hear of the many plans that were made for the fraternity's advancement.

Following her report the members all gave their vacation experiences. Some attended summer school, others traveled, and others were "at home," but all were glad to be back.

Plans were made for Phi Beta's rush tea that is to be given for all talented Rollins students of music and dramatic art on October 22. Following this tea will be Phi Beta's annual banquet in honor of its rushees.

Two of Theta's patronesses, Miss Helen Moore and Miss Emille Sellers, spent the summer studying piano at Fontainebleau, France.

Theta chapter is happy to welcome Vivian Douglas. She has returned after a year's absence to resume her music.

Cloverleaf Chatter

Cloverleaf has robbed the Alpha Delta Pi sorority at Tallahassee of a splendid house-mother. Mrs. Lester always has a smile, and some candy for the girls. And dance! Better be ready on time for your dates, girls, or while you are dressing upstairs, trying to be fashionably late for your engagements, the boys will have danced off with her.

Those interested in dogs, come up to Betty Lynche's room 651 and see her interesting collection (hours from four to six). It should be understood these creatures are of clay and china, so that if there is excess barking going on in Cloverleaf, it is only the girls wrangling over Rat problems.

"I don't see why she has to pick on me to make up her bed," etc. And so, far, far into the night.

Some clever Cloverleaf girls (or maybe they are Scotch) bought a Ford the other day for $35. It would be wise to sink another few dollars in skates.

Pi Beta Phi Fraternity

It is our great pleasure to have Miss Gartland with us again this year.

After so long a time the house is in a fair way to get organized. Come and judge for yourselves.

We are pleased to have Sally Cover of Stetson and Candace Secor of Ames University with us at the house this year.

Phyllis Cowenhoven, and friend of Peanuts' from Melbourne and a member of Pi Phi at Tallahassee, spent the week end here. Perhaps we can persuade her to come to school.

We are glad to see that Skipper kept up to form in her pantomime work Saturday night.

Anita's Buick roadster is the only thing that saves us all from becoming confirmed hikers. Marge and Anita went to Jacksonville last week to drive it down. It is doubtful whether they had ever received such a royal welcome before.

Mazie, Gin, Porter, Jane, Sally and Marge went up to Stetson last Wednesday night to attend a progressive dinner given by the Stetson Pi Phis. We had a very large time.

Gwen had the poor judgment to decide to go to the University of Upper Iowa this year.

We are certainly sorry not to have Burdell's shining face with us. We expect her in January.

Gamma Phi Beta

Alpha Mu chapter of Gamma Phi Beta gave a tea last Sunday afternoon honoring the new Dean of Women, Mrs. Sylvester Bingham. The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Cheney, our new house chaperone, Stella Weston, Helen Morrow and Harriet Van Dame. Mrs. Newby and Miss Moore poured tea, and the student trio played for the occasion. We were pleased to receive the large number of guests who came to this first tea of the year.

One by one they are coming back. Miss Moore has just returned from Europe where she spent the summer. Helen Morrow is our latest arrival. We sure do miss ol' Ginny Ralston, but we'll be seeing her some—she is at Miami U. this year. As for Camille—we haven't quite given up hope yet.

The Gamma Phis extend congratulations to the football team for their success on the field Saturday after a darned good fight.

"Frankie" boasts of a new coat of paint this year (Have you seen it?) dark blue, to say nothing of a red stripe and her title on the stern.

Phi Mu Notes

After one beginning comes another, and each one is more pleasant and in some way more elusive than the one which went before. People scurry like mice hither and thither neither knowing nor caring in which direction they go—seeking a light of some kind, but what light? And in their tremendous haste they meet countless things—inanimate things, which they scarcely glance at as they pass. And later the same ones come scurrying past the same things searching for them but not seeing—stopping their very toes and stumbling, but picking themselves up without understanding.

Every once in a while a horde of these creatures collect and paw each other, contorting themselves into indescribable shapes, writhing senselessly in a vain effort to find something to guide them on. And not one heeds if one is trampled quite into the dust, not for an instant does the mad revel cease until of a sudden and without reason the whole pack separates and moves out on the search again.

Time is nothing and yet it is everything. Not a moment must be lost and still there is no one to tell what is a lost moment. A cloud of dust raised by the pattering feet obscures everything, veiling even the sharpened features of the animals. Only a few stand to one side and peer through the haze, eyes gleaming uncertainly, feet restless—watching the crowd pass by.

And then they are swept away by a group, pushed along whether or no, made to enter the race. The excitement, the rush is pleasant, like a drug dulling the finer sensibilities and they move on for a while like their neighbors—at last sheltered by some shrub they find another haven from which they watch, but not for long.

The race is on and all who enter are enthralled.

K E Komments

This has been a most interesting summer. Our faculty advisor, Mrs. Harris, has just returned from the McDowell colony in Petersboro, New Hampshire.

We are all back, with the exception of Betty Tone who has stayed up North. Myra spent most of her time on the coast of Maine, and Betty Rathbone returned to her home in Palmer, Mass. Golf and tennis were Louise Brett's favorite sports in Hot Springs, Va., and Kam Hill took a trip to New Mexico. Aurora was a councillor in a camp in Tennessee, and later visited Penelope in Asheville, N. C. As for those who stayed in Florida, they found time to get together once in a while. Pet McKay has decided to remain in Spain for a year, and of course we miss her terribly.

Miss Margaret McKay, of Tampa, is our house chaperone this year and we are very glad to have her with us.

We are finally settled in our new house and invite you all to come and see us.

Chase Hall Notes

According to custom and location Chase Hall is reported as being up to standard in music. Six pianos, one organ, a good string section, one phonograph, one trumpet and two clarinets have been heard at one time. The vocal section is a little above the four year average.

Several poor shaves have resulted from the lack of mirrors in shower rooms.

Ing Bohuslav "Colonel" Glos has made several unique photographs of the campus, including a flash-light of the parade Monday evening.

Because of the large number of men out for football, boxes from home have lasted longer than usual.

Vigilance of upperclassmen has so far kept Rats from the temptation of dates. However, as the moon approaches the full, outside assistance will be necessary if this is to continue.

Kappa Phi Sigma

During the summer, the fraternity scattered westward to Salt Lake City and eastward to Vienna, Austria, but the opening of college found most of us back. Don White, however, is studying at Geneva, while Dick Hayward will pass the winter in Paris. We expect to see them again about commencement.

Harrison spent the summer in Ohio, riding the roller coasters and turning out Whippet trucks at a remarkably rapid rate. New York City attracted a trio of Kappa Phi Sigma's, Ron, Jerry and Steve. Ron was studying at Columbia, while Steve passed his time in winning bridge prizes and reviewing the Folies.

Red was jerking soda, though in a most aristocratic manner, in Cleveland. Prof. Sprague became curious about the Mormons, and journeyed to Salt Lake City to investigate. J. T. DeBerry, after a year's absence, dropped in on us. He has scarcely left the bridge table since. Pep spent a quiet and peaceful vacation in Fort Myers, in reading, and clipping his Australian pine hedge. Cloyde continued his pursuit of bugs in the vicinity of Sanford.

Alumnus Bill Davis dashed down from the University of Florida for the week-end.

Bets are three to one that Steve will be the first to fall off the top of our new double deckers.

Word has just been received that Bill Palmer will be back in a few days. That is good news to us and the football team as well.

Theta Kappa Nu Notes

Welcome! Faculty, new students and fellow classmates! The gang is all here and ready for the biggest year in Rollins' history.

We are located on the corner of Lyman and Interlachen. Look us up and drop in.

Professor Bueno is living with us this year. He spent a very enjoyable summer at his home in Brazil sightseeing with a number of tourists interested in seeing South America.

Lefty Moore kept in training working on the campus. He predicts a good year full of activities and what-nots.

Ted Kew was at home in Clarksburg, Pa., helping Mr. Heinz put out his 57 varieties.

Freddie Cooke enjoyed a very versatile summer. When he wasn't learning the Hawaiian Hula Hula (or watching it) he was swimming, golfing, tennis and riding. He says he did some work on a ranch. Believe it or not.

For the past number of years Bus Tracy has been director of the Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Waterbury, Conn. He had a prosperous vacation instructing aquatic sports. Bus says camps should be co-educational.

"Windy" Banks has been attending the Clark college business school this summer and will return in good shape to take his place on the pigskin squad. We wonder why he is late to school. Explanations are in order, Windy.

Bill Rice was at his usual post as life guard on our swimming course. He enjoyed a two weeks' trip home and a four-day visit in Miami. As the inevitable drummer, he enjoyed some playin' gthis summer. He announces the organization of the "Rollins Dixie Rogues" orchestra. You will hear more of it later.

Joe Jones has been doing his stuff in his home town in Ohio. Station O K N now signing off.

Lambda Phi Notes

How do you do, everybody! Isn't it good to be back again?

The storm blew Dot and Ethel in late, but they're making up for it. We regret that Marjorie Hamilton and Helen Voorhees are not with us this year. They are working hard and expect to be back again next year.

Lambda Phi wishes to welcome the faculty and students to Rollins. Come down to see us at our home at 178 Melbourne avenue.

Marion Swinton Makes Portrait Of Pres. Holt

Marion Swinton, the portrait painter whose painting of Woodrow Wilson is considered superior to any ever done of the late president, has just completed a life-size portrait of President Holt, it has just been announced. The painting is to be shown in the outstanding art exhibits of the coming season.

Marion Swinton has the international reputation of being one of the foremost portrait painters and has maintained studios in New York, Montreal and London.

We asked the artist to show a MAN and a WOMAN so Rollins folks would know that Dickson-Ives caters to both . . . but she argued that a picture of a woman would take the eye of both sexes and we could add this postscript inviting gentlemen to the store also. Logical? Probably.

James M. Glass, professor of secondary education; Mrs. Lyde Drummond Harris, associate professor of English and literature; Dr. Leland H. Jenks, professor of history; and Edward F. Weinberg, professor of mathematics.

It will be the duty of this committee, it is announced, to assist all newly appointed instructors at Rollins in their personal and professional development. In taking a similar step, President Holt points out, colleges will do much to eliminate failures among the younger instructors in colleges and universities and, at the same time improve instruction of college students.
