Views and Reviews

By WHITING HALL

The "Air-Your-Troubles" department of this column has been listening to the lament of one of our professors concerning the abuse of the conference plan. It seems that some of his colleagues are giving his students so much outside work that the students are working on other courses than his, in his class, during the time for study. Mayor Walker, something must be done about this. We are under the impression that about twenty-three and a half hours of each day is spent by ourselves in mental anguish. But possibly we are prejudiced.

The wily pigskin has been attracting our notice, other than editorially. We have been dying for dear old Rollins but had received no favorable notice from the coaches until the other day during the practice scrimmage with Orlando. We had just worn ourselves a comfortable groove in the bench when Sam Graham came up and asked us how it was coming out.

"Nothing to nothing," was our reply, after a moment of calculation.

A look of pleasure spread over Sam's face. "Well," he beamed, "you can keep score, can't you?"

We have spent sleepless hours trying to find a hidden meaning.

Rat Court has been reopened to spectators. The passing of this opportunity for an amusing Thursday evening would have been deplorable. If laughs are actually healthful, there is one Amazon on the committee who does T. C. more good than a month at the seashore and we don't mean Coney Island. You might add the eighteen day diet to that, if you like.

Another obvious reason for the Ratmittee (note Winchell influence. That's what comes of reading the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle") is that it makes acquaintance with lovely co-frosh a mere matter of Button-rat-what's-your-name. Consider this an application for the first vacancy on the R. C.

Several people congratulated this column on last week's effort—proving they read the title and stopped.

Bill Rice, not knowing T. C. was in the room, gave his actual opinion. Rapiers or sawed off shotguns, Bill?

What about a campaign for the establishment of lounges in the library? This movement should receive support from all loyal Rollins students. If this gets enough support, a rider to supply free beer and cigarettes might be thrown in. The man who built the present chairs had little love for his fellow man.

If somebody sends a book, we can live up to the "Reviews" part of the column.

FIRST STUDENT COUNCIL MEET HELD THURSDAY

Press Union, Athletic Committee and Ass. Funds Discussed

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock "Lefty" Moore president of the Student Association, called the initial regular meeting of the Student Council to order in the Dean's office.

A special meeting was called last week to confer with the Rat Committee, appointed by this body. Besides the officers of the association and council members the

CONSERVATORY STUDENTS WIN A-K. AUDITION

Thelma Gaskin and Robert Currie Chosen

Rollins students again showed their versatility Thursday evening, October 12, when representatives of the Conservatory of Music carried off the prizes in the Atwater Kent audition from radio station WDBO in Orlando.

Miss Thelma Gaskin, soprano, a special student at the Conservatory, won first place among the women, and Robert Currie, an A. B. student, was first among the men.

Contestants from four counties, Orange, Lake, Seminole and Brevard, took part in the local audition. There were 13 girls and 9 boys entered.

Dr. Clarence C. Nice, director of the Conservatory and chairman of the audition committee, made the announcements and explained the competition. The public, which had 60 per cent of the vote, met at the Sorosis house in Orlando where Judge Arthur McKean and Judge Cheney were in charge. The professional judges, who had 40 per cent of the vote, met at another place and heard the contestants over an Atwater-Kent machine. Those competing were in the WDBO studio at the Fort Gatlin hotel.

After the 22 contestants' had sung, the "call backs" were made by telephone communication with the "public" at the Sorosis house and the professional judges. Six girls were called back to sing again, five of whom are students at the Conservatory, and three boys, two of whom were Rollins representatives.

GAMMA PHI'S HOLD OPEN HOUSE MONDAY

Faculty and Students Attend This Function

The fraternity and sorority "open house" season was officially inaugurated Monday evening, October 15, when Alpha Mu chapter of Gamma Phi Beta opened its doors to the students, faculty and friends of the college.

From eight to ten o'clock a steady stream of visitors circled throughout the house and annex. The guests were met at the door by Margaret Chapman and Mrs. Cheney, the chaperone, after which they were conducted on a tour of inspection by the various members of the sorority.

Colored grasses and long-stemmed flowers in deep vases were the predominant note of decoration, while refreshments of punch and cookies were served in the dining room at the conclusion of the inspection tours.

Y. W. Initiation Candle Service Is Impressive

An impressive candle-service in Knowles Chapel Sunday night marked the beginning of a new year for Y. W. C. A. With Mary Boyer singing "O, Come All Ye Faithful" and Frances Vallette at the piano the new members (numbering approximately eighty) filed into the darkened chapel and reverently pledged their faith in lighting their candles at a tall

JUNIORS CHOOSE '29-'30 OFFICERS

Sophs Also Elect Council Members

Wednesday morning following chapel the Junior class met in Knowles 507 for election of officers.

Bill Reid, last year's president, called the meeting to order for its first assembly of the year.

Nominations were made, regular discussion followed and these officers were elected:

Bill Reid, president; Nick Dickinson, vice president; Bob Stevens, secretary; Al Rashid, treasurer. Sarah Dickinson and Bus Tracy were chosen as class representatives for Student Council.

Sophomores, too, met for election of student representatives on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Betty Rathbone and Roger Holt were voted to represent the Sophomore class at the first official Student council meeting called by Lefty Moore, president, for Thursday afternoon.

On to DeLand!

Practically the entire body of students and faculty of Rollins college as well as a good many townspeople will form a motorcade Saturday for DeLand to witness the annual football game between the Tars and the Stetson Hatters. As far as DeLand and Stetson are concerned, the game is the chief attraction of the year because it will mark the dedication of Hulley Field.

As the Rollins rooters have been invited to attend the dedication exercises, the motorcade will leave Winter Park shortly after the formation in front of Carnegie Hall. The dedication exercises are scheduled for 2:30.

Dean Winslow S. Anderson is issuing an appeal for motor cars to help in transporting the students. Any town people who intend to join the motorcade and will have room for one or more students are requested to telephone 92.

NEW FRATERNITY NOW ON CAMPUS

Rollins Men Organize Their Own "X" Club

A new undergraduate organization has been formed on the campus to be known as the "X" club which has for its aims the promotion of the interests of Rollins college and the cultivation of friendship among its members. Membership in the new organization will be drawn from the four undergraduate classes and it will seek to combine a group of men each of whom have outstanding ability in different lines of activity. It will be non-secret in its order and invitations will be extended from time to time to various people to attend its meetings.

Two other "X" clubs have made their appearance in history, the most important one being the one formed by Thomas Huxley which included among other members Herbert Spencer, Darwin and about six others all of whom were advanced thinkers and scientists. This club during its thirty-five years of existence made a name for itself in the political and scientific fields of England during the latter part of the nineteenth century.

ROLLINS CO-ED GETS FLA. U. D. C. GOLD MEDAL

Ruth Cole, Senior, Is Victor with Theme on Fla. Battle

Ruth Hazelton Cole, senior member of Phi Mu fraternity and active in many organizations on the Rollins campus, won the gold medal for the best theme submitted to the Florida History contest.

This contest was sponsored by the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Florida. It was open to any Floridian who cared to write an essay of the "Battle of Olustee."

The purpose of the contest was to create interest in this hitherto very obscure battle of the Civil war and to show how much more ought to be thought of it by those still anxious to understand the military maneuvers of that struggle.

The battle of Olustee was fought sometime during the spring of 1863 in the vicinity of Olustee, which is a small town near Jacksonville. The battle was quite an important one for, had the Union forces been successful in the encounter, they would have gained control of Florida through its principal city, Jacksonville.

The gold medal is to be awarded in Jacksonville on October 17, by the president of the Florida Division of the U. D. C. The theme which was about 2,000 words long is to be put in pamphlet form and distributed to all the high schools throughout the state of Florida through the kindness of the Florida Historical Society. It is hoped that this will stimulate interest among the students and arouse in them the desire to recreate Floridas living past and find what it contains.

STUDENTS FROM 11 COUNTRIES AND 27 STATES

Florida Leads in Enrollment; N. Y. Is Second

Although it has an enrollment of only 300 students, Rollins college students come from 27 different states, ten foreign countries, Porto Rico, and Hawaii, Dean Winslow S. Anderson has reported to President Hamilton Holt.

Florida is represented by 148 students this year, and the remaining 50 per cent come from outside the state, the statistics reveal. New York ranks second on the list, with 37 enrolled. Ohio is third with 18, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut are tied for fourth place with seven each, and Illinois and Missouri are next in line with six each.

Kentucky and Alabama are each represented by five native sons or daughters and Wisconsin, Georgia, Michigan and New Jersey have four each. Maine is represented by three, and the states with two represented each this year are New Hampshire, West Virginia, Iowa, Indiana, Virginia, Kansas and Colorado. Other states represented by at least one student each are California, South Carolina, Nebraska and Rhode Island.

Japan, with two students enrolled, leads the foreign countries on the list, which also includes Hungary, Germany, Canada, Austria, Switzerland, Russia, Syria, Italy and Czechoslovakia. Most of the foreign students, it is announced, are holders of exchange fellowships appointed in cooperation with the Institute of International Education.

LIBERAL CLUB RE-INAUGURATED ON CAMPUS

Prexy and Students Parley Attitude of Open-mindedness

The large number of students and faculty members which turned out for the first meeting of the Liberal club Monday evening, October 14, in the economics room, proved to what a great extent Rollins is progressing in its campaign for "open-mindedness."

The meeting was conducted under the efficient leadership of Mary Lee Korns who gave a summary of the clubs work during the preceding year. Nine meetings of the Liberal club were held in the first year of its existence. The topics for discussion at these meetings included religion, socialism, the race question, and liberalism at Rollins.

Miss Korns defined the organization as "a group having a common interest centering around an attitude of open-mindedness toward pertinent problems and having for its purpose an unprejudiced study and a free discussion of all sides of the question." She emphasized the fact that the Liberal club was run by means of informal arguments rather than formal debate and that student participation was emphasized by limiting faculty discussion. In short, the Liberal club is an instrument by which each student may take part in his own education.

Dr. Holt gave the first speech of the evening. He took up the subject of liberalism as he had done at the first meeting of the group last year.

"Youth is essentially liberal or radical. We grow conservative as we grow old. Time checks enthusiasm but not idealism, so you become conservative in most lines of thought, yet you always remain radical in your chosen field. One gradually learns to accept, yet I would not give a cent for a young person who was not either liberal or radical.

"Radicals can think but cannot act. Thinking is done by men who

WINTER PARK GREET'S COLLEGE WITH RECEPTION

Town and Gown Meet for Social Event at Woman's Club

The civic reception of the town of Winter Park, annually given in honor of Rollins college, took place Saturday evening, October 11, at the Woman's club.

The reception is sponsored by the churches and clubs of the city, which desire in this way to show their interest and good-will toward the student body and faculty of the college.

Among those in the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Vincent, of the Congregational church, Dr. and Mrs. Ingersoll of the Baptist church, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas of the Episcopal church, Dr. and Mrs. Treadwell of the Methodist church, Mr. and Mrs. Barnum, representing the city of Winter Park, Mrs. Harrison, representing the Woman's club, and Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Holt of Rollins college.

Entertainment in the form of selections played by a stringed trio was furnished throughout the evening. Refreshments were also served.

The large representation of the college and town as well as very indicative of the splendid spirit of cooperation that exists between town and college.

ORGANIZATION WANTED

What's wrong with Rollins cheering?

Heretofore it's been ragged. It's had its moments but they've been spasmodic—and not when the team needed it most.

Sit together tomorrow and pull together. Stetson cheering will be highly organized. Are you willing to support your team any less than they will?

Everybody be there tomorrow in the Rollins section, wear your colors, bring noisemakers to use when your voice gives out, follow our cheer leaders and YELL like you've never yelled before!

EVERYBODY OUT!

On the front page of this issue is a resolution passed by the Social committee that should make every Rollins student wince and burn with shame.

It's up to us to see that no such charges are ever brought against us as long as there's any spark to our spirit of loyalty or wind left in our lungs.

Tomorrow afternoon Tar varsity men meet our traditional rivals, the Stetson Hatters, on the gridiron in DeLand.

The final score can only be settled by the game but winning or losing, we can absolutely depend on every man of our team to fight his best game to the last whistle. DeLand is exactly 40 miles from Winter Park. Rides can be begged, borrowed or hummed. Common loyalty to those men out on the field demands that every live Rollinsite be there rooting for Jack McDowall's fighting Tars of '29.

Council Meet
Held Thursday

official Rat Committee was present. Members of this committee are Lottie Turner, Don McKercher, Louise Briggs, Harvey Gee, Mildred Hope and Jimmy Armstrong.

The first subject to be brought before the council Thursday morning was the formation of the Student Publication Union. Treasurer Brown presented the constitution for approval. The editor-in-chief and business manager of each of the three campus publications met last spring to discuss and organize the union for the future assurance of consistent management (particularly financial). The Union shall consist of the editor and business manager of the student publications, a faculty advisor for each two student council representatives, Mr. Brown (as treasurer) and Dean Anderson, ex-officio member.

Aside from the obvious financial protection the Union will afford, it will eliminate the danger of any group or fraternity's rail-roading through an incompetent nominee. For the Constitution reads that nominations shall be made by this representative board which is best fitted to say who is capable of filling the positions. This will eliminate "office seeking" nominations and provide consistently good management. The clause in the Student Association Constitution providing that nominations be made merely by securing the approval of the candidate (The Sandspur requires the sanction of the head of the journalism department) plus the signature of 25 students will therefore need to be amended.

The Union was unanimously approved by the Council and will be presented to the student body at the first regular Association meeting for further ratification.

The newly formed Athletic Committee was also passed on by the Council.

Appropriation of student funds was discussed but the meeting was adjourned until Monday afternoon at 3:30 when it will meet in the same place for final appointment of funds. Various student organizations are notified to be present with itemized expenses listed if they expect an appropriation.

transcend the group line. They don't think so much but they put things over.

"A person should be sure of what he thinks, then go ahead with pride and stand for what he believes. You may be crucified, but there is satisfaction in standing for your beliefs if they are sincere.

"Radicals rarely see anything actually take place as the times seldom catch up to them. However, if a man is really liberal and he learns to speak and write the liberal thoughts of his day, he will have the greatest effect on his fellowmen and on the thought of his time. Where Garrison, the radical, thought, Lincoln, the liberal, acted.

"The liberal person is not afraid of either ideas or action. The most completely liberal person I have ever known—liberal in every field and every attitude—is Edwin E. Slosson, our Professor of Things in General. He is a little ahead of the times in everything. I recommend that you all take advantage of his presence if he comes down here this winter. He is the absolute liberal."

Professor France, the second speaker of the evening, opened his remarks with an appreciation of the Liberal club. "Nothing is closer to my heart than the Liberal club. It is said that 'history is the growth of liberty.' Surely liberty is the growth of liberalism, and this liberalism is a state of mind.

"The history of the race has not been a liberal history. Fear was scattered through the pages of men's lives. A bit of truth seemed so likely to unsettle life, that its advocates were persecuted. "The liberal spirit is the open-minded spirit which believes that no one can at all times have the whole truth. This doesn't mean that we cannot have conviction, but it means that no opinion is so dear that one cannot surrender it to new thought.

"The first point of liberalism must be open-mindedness. Second, the true liberal must have a tolerance of others' opinions. Third, liberalism comprises a belief in human nature and a trust in others. Fourth, the liberal believes that things can be done and that this is a moving world. Fifth, he must have courage to stand for unpopular things.

"Every student at Rollins should receive a spirit of liberalism which would make it impossible for him to participate in a lynching, a persecution or other unliberal deed. Growth of life depends upon tolerance toward all men. This moves life up and develops a liberal attitude toward all undertakings and all people."

The foreign students are Taka Sugino, Osaka, Japan; Zoltan Bekassy, Budapest, Hungary; Peter Berger, Hamburg, Germany; Gottfried Dinzl, Vienna, Austria; Val Kirillin, Russia; Virjin Manookian, Beirut, Syria; Yassua Matsumoto, Tokio, Japan; Carlo Morozzo, Rome, Italy; Bohuslar Glos, Olomouc, Czechoslovakia; and Rudolf Fisher, Basle, Switzerland.

The foreign students are a most versatile group. Aside from being students in the truest sense of the word, they are chuck full of the European brand of "it." Val, the New Yorker from Russia, is a second Houdini. Cards and dice simply hum around him. Jeff Dinzl from Austria can Hungarian Rhapsodie beautifully and Peter Berger, the young gentleman from Germany, could play circles with his flute around Piccolo Pete.

Bekassy, the beau of Budapest, has a keen sense of humor, his repartee at the table is in a class of its own.

"Colonel" Glos from Czechoslovakia sings mournful melodies and dances bright figs. He can impersonate anything in Chase Hall from Buck's orthophonic to Fleet Peeples' squirrel.

Mr. Matsumoto and Mr. Morozzo have the Chesterfieldian technique to perfection—especially the smile.

Rudolph Fisher of Rollins and Switzerland really needs no introduction. He is known through the Conservatory and delightful chapel programs.

Most of the students are interested in economics, English and American history. Few are enrolled in the language departments, not because they lack interest in languages, but because they are already skilled linguists. All of them are interested in getting an insight into American theories and ideals, and in gaining knowledge they are as willing to give as to receive.

We are indeed fortunate in having our foreign friends here with us at Rollins and we extend them a most cordial welcome.

How to be Unpopular

There are many ways by which you can turn people against you but the following ones are the best we've ever tried. If you want to lose your friends and become a perfect bore, we advise you to try them out. But don't try them if you want to be happy. If you'll follow them closely, we'll guarantee dissatisfaction.

(1) "I'll tell you exactly where you failed." Analyze your friends' mistakes when they are trying to forget them. When they are defeated on the athletic field or on a debating team go right up to them and criticize them severely. Don't wait until they have gotten over their defeat. Go forthwith, while they are yet defeated and tell them that their voices were ragged and could be improved, or their bonehead plays were distinct shocks to the spectators. Tell them of their faults freely and frequently. Be plain with them. Speak your mind and tell people just what you think of them. Don't ever wait until they ask for your opinion. Butt in and give it anyway.

(2) "Your friend may be right, but I don't like him." Offer unsolicited critical comment about a person's friend. Tell him just why you don't like him or her. It is best to pick a fraternity brother or a sorority sister for your friend as the victim of your opinion. The closer the relations the surer the results will be.

(3) "I don't agree with you at all." Insist upon starting an argument when the other fellow was merely saying something to make conversation. Speak in controversial tones. Offer authoritative information on the topic being discussed and prove that you are right. The nearer right you are the surer you are to be disliked.

(4) "Anybody could do that." Minimize other people's accomplishments, especially those that they are proud of. Go them one better every time by comparing their story with something you've done.

(5) "That is nothing but prejudice." When a fellow disagrees with you try to convince him that he is just prejudiced. You can't do it, and he'll resent your vain babblings.

There are students using the above rules and getting results. They wonder why they do not have influence with the students and lament the fact that their company is not sought after. But few stop to think why they are left out of college activities. And when they do stop to think they can't see "why."

If you are in doubt about these rules, try them out on some of your best friends; but don't if you want to be happy.

TARS AND HATTERS MEET IN TRADITIONAL BATTLE

VARSIITY DROPS HECTIC BATTLE

South Georgia Takes Measure of Tars;
McKercher Out

Fighting against a team which would not be downed, Jack McDowall's Tars took their first beating of the season last Saturday at the hands of South Georgia A. & M. in Tifton, 40-7. A lone touchdown, scored on a pass from Reid to Fisher, which bounced from the fingers of three Georgia players before settling in the arms of the Rollins captain, accounted for the lone touchdown between Rollins and a blanking at the hands of the Tifton aggregation.

After an exchange of punts in the first quarter, the Georgia squad marched the ball up the field in a series of smashes off tackle to register their first tally. Returning to the attack and blocking two Rollins punts, Georgia rolled the score up to 20-0 before the end of the first half. Hard battling marked the entire contest, with Lefty Moore and Al Rashid sustaining injuries in the game.

Cheerleaders Are Chosen

The Tars have been assured of vocal support in their games with the selection of a new cheer leading team. Try-outs were held last week in the gymnasium, and Al Valdes was chosen captain. Working with him will be Jack Boss, and two co-eds, Welch Middleton and Betty Williams.

The noise provokers will be in uniform for the Stetson game tomorrow, and, says Captain Valdes, "We are sure going to yank yells out of the Rollins contingent traveling to DeLand."

PROCTOR LEADS TAR NET SQUAD

Battle for Berths on Team Starts Mon.;
Brown to Play

With Bob Proctor, captain of Rollins net men last year, re-elected to his old post at a meeting of the tennis squad Monday, the Tar courtmen are already off to a flying start.

An elimination meet to determine just what material is on hand for this year's competition will start Monday. Although the second ranking man in 1928-29 has left school, his place will not be empty as Ted Williams, a member of the varsity squad of Brown university will be in condition for play in a few weeks. At present he is laid up with a badly wrenched knee from football.

George Holt, two years ago a member of the first team, will be back on the court. Others on the squad will include Bob Stevens, Rusty Moody, Bob Pepper, and Roger Holt, all members of last year's aggregation.

Last year's squad was successful in small meets, and in its major rounds tied Southern and Daytona while dropping to Orlando. Meets to be played this fall number among them set-to's with the Southern and Stetson teams, and with the Orlando and Daytona Beach tennis clubs. On October 24 the team will go to Orlando for the Water Witch tournament there.

The Florida-Georgia Intercollegiate will furnish the big thrill for the winter season with additional matches scheduled against Mt. Plymouth and Ormond Beach. Great interest was shown in the play of the tennis team last year and it is expected that the addition of material this fall will materially increase the sport's following at Rollins. Already practice has started under the direction of Coach Malcolm Forbes, and the courts are constantly crowded.

Both will be back in time for the Stetson fray tomorrow.

Their places were taken by Bob Pepper and Dave McCallum who performed consistently during the remainder of the tilt.

McKercher Hurt
Don McKercher suffered a severely strained knee on the line buck which gave Rollins its point after touchdown in the third quarter, and will probably be out for

1928 TAR-STETSON GAME

W. A. A.

By BETTY RATHBONE

The first meeting of W. A. A. was held Thursday morning in chapel. The new girls were told of the way in which they might win points to join this organization and obtain the different emblems.

Hiking, every three miles, two points; every two miles thereafter, one point; Tennis, three sets, three points; Canoeing, 6 miles, three points; Swimming, 20 minute swim one point.

Each sport head wore her emblem and told how she had earned it. The vice president described the Christmas Kid Party and hinted that there may be other parties during the year. The girls were very enthusiastic in their response and in their cheers and songs. W. A. A. is looking forward to its best year.

Basketball is one of the chief fall sports and everyone ought to turn out and help their class because soon the Odds and Evens will be fighting for first place.

Tennis becomes more popular all the time. Later on there will be a tournament in which anyone and everyone can participate—better start practicing now!

Swimming is a true southern sport which every girl should know and, if she has time, perfect.

Of course those who like golf do not need any incentive, but just think how sporty it sounds to say you are taking golf. There is no uniform and after several lessons here you go to the country club.

For those who are not terribly athletically inclined, archery is just the sport. Constant practice is necessary, but then think of the picturesque way in which to get gym credit.

Tap-dancing is going to be quite the thing this fall. Fair Co-Eds had better join, especially since men are allowed to join this class.

These two-hour classes may be all right in some ways, but after sitting six hours more or less all day, every girl ought to get out and do some exercise not alone for health—consider your looks!

the remainder of the season. He has shown well in the line previously to his injury.

Harvey Gee turned in a good game at center for the Tars, while Fisher in the backfield played in his usual heady form, ripping off several good gains around the ends. Bill Reid looked good both in throwing and receiving passes.

For Georgia, Edwards and Divine, rangy tackles, showed best in the line, while Sutton, their midget quarter back, ran his team well, and gained consistently off tackle.

Punting was about even, except for the two blocked ones in the first half which contributed directly to the score. In the first half it seemed that the Georgia passing attack was working smoothly for longer gains than anything the Rollins could uncork, but in the final period the Tars launched an aerial drive that proved their greatest threat of the game.

Coach McDowall used his entire squad in an effort to stem the Georgia onslaught, 19 players seeing service.

Those who made the trip were: Capt. Fisher, Moore, Rashid, Clerk, Spencer, Tracy, McKercher, Arnold, Moody, Gee, Roe Pickard, Geo. Pickard, Reid, Timson, Cochenour, Nourse, Pepper, and McCallum.

The rain is raining all around; It rains on roads and streets, On highways and on boulevards, And those in rumble seats.

Head Coach, Jack McDowall, North Carolina State, '27.

The Tar Brush

LET'S BEAT STETSON! will be the cry tomorrow as Gold and Blue mingling with Green and White surge over DeLand. It seems to us that a new fight in the Tars will give them a victory over the Hatters. And if they do—those who marvelled at the P-Rade two weeks ago ain't seen nothin' yet.

THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA BABY GATORS will furnish the Freshman squad with a real battle on November 9, at Gainesville. Southern's Moccasins have always had the greatest respect for the fights that they give Florida each year, and here the Freshmen will have a chance to make a name for themselves and for the college as a group which never quits.

IN TOMMY SPENCER, Coach is going to develop a fine back we think. Tommy is fast, and has proved his pugnacity in the wing position. In practice the past week he has shown the ability to carry the ball for yardage after being tackled, and it is that drive which makes first downs and wins ball games. In the open field he is tricky and has shown that he can snag passes.

THE TARBRUSH was talking to the sports editor of the St. Petersburg Times recently, and that worthy seems to think that the Junior College Trojans of that city are going to have an easy time when they hit the Baby!

Tars. He pointed out what they took the Southern Tars for a loss last week, and believes that their veteran backfield will stand them in good stead.

WATER SPORTS AT ROLLINS should occupy a major position, and with crew starting in the near future, we hope that enough interest will be shown to bring this branch of competition to a varsity standing. In our opinion, men who are willing to work as hard as a crew needs to throughout the year should have an opportunity to win an "R." And in closing, LET'S BEAT STETSON!

BOTH VARSITY AND RATS looked better Thursday in their scrimmage with Orlando high school than they looked last week. The weight and experience of the varsity of course overwhelmed the Orlando boys, while it seemed that the speed of Rogers and Pearson for the Rats dazzled them. Both ripped off long runs for touchdowns. Perhaps the Frosh were thinking of Rat Court and just couldn't help being good.

Men Take Notice

Eds and Co-Eds, this is your chance to take tap-dancing. Begin that career for the stage, and enjoy gym. How long our offer will hold is uncertain, so sign up for this course immediately!

CREW PROSPECT GOOD THIS YEAR

Hard Schedule Sought
with Many Oarsmen
Returned to Boat

Increased interest in crew is being shown this year, according to a statement made by Manager Harrison Cobb. In his remarks he urged that all Frosh who are interested in this sport would see him at the Kappa Phi Sigma house.

A meeting will be held in the near future by last year's oarsmen to elect a captain. Those who will be back for seats in the varsity boat include Jerry Miller, "Red" Delamater, Bob Sprague, Ronald Stillman, Jimmy Armstrong and Ben Walpole. Al Valdes, the mite with the great voice, and Dave McCallum will be back this year to fight for the coxswain's seat.

Recognizing the wonderful facilities offered by the surrounding lakes for work in a boating line, Cornell donated two eight-oared shells to the college in 1927.

A coach was employed and training began at once, with the result that the only race of the year, against Asheville School in North Carolina, was won by the local oarsmen. Last year no coach was available, and the varsity men worked steadily throughout the year under their own guidance. This year it is thought that a coach will be obtained as more and more interest is being taken in the water sport.

It is hoped that Asheville will consent to a return match with the Tar scullmen, and if the challenge of the locals is accepted, the race will doubtless be rowed here.

In the past crewmen have not received "R's", but if races are scheduled this year with other institutions of collegiate rank, there is a chance that crew will assume major sport status.

WIN LOOKED FOR WITH NEW PLAYS AND MORE FIGHT

College Goes to DeLand; Stetson Alumni Return for Homecoming;

Primed for a win and followed by a supporting student body, the Tars journey to DeLand tomorrow to resume their annual quarrel with Stetson's Hatters. A new drive in the backfield and more power in the line, as well as a greater heart inspired by the aggressiveness of Coach McDowall, are expected to do much toward downing Stetson.

More than half the college has planned to follow the team to the home of the Hatters in a motorcade tomorrow, and the traditional rivalry will run high with many Stetson alumni in DeLand for Homecoming.

Coach McDowall has been training the varsity for Stetson all week, and as a result the Baby Tars have been the brunt of the Tars energy in practice sessions.

Spencer in Backfield

Special attention has been given to getting the sick list in shape for the tilt. "Lefty" Hoore, hurt in last Saturday's game with South Georgia A. and M. is back in the line-up. Don McKercher is getting along nicely, but will probably be out for the entire season. Coach has been training Tommy Spencer, speedy end, to fill the gap in the backfield, and Tommy bids fair to show mighty well in his new position. His drive and speed will make him invaluable.

A new system of signals is the squads latest innovation, with Bill Reid, husky half, calling them with the team in formation instead of the old huddle system.

Al Rashid has been nursing a bad shoulder since the game with South Georgia State two weeks ago, but is rounding into shape, and will be available for service against the Stetson team. The loss

FRATERNITY NOTES

Gamma Phi Beta

Louise Briggs and Billy Chapman entertained a number of girls at an Oriental dinner last Friday evening, October 11th. The costumes of the guests and members were picturesque, while the far eastern atmosphere was heightened by incense and oriental music, to say nothing of real chop suey.

Last Monday evening, October 14th, the annual "Open House" of Gamma Phi Beta was held from eight to ten o'clock. Our many guests were admitted not only to the entire house, but also were introduced to the apartment or annex. Several town people were present as well as a large number of faculty and students.

Grace Caldwell opened her house Tuesday evening, October 15, to the Gamma Phi Beta sorority for the weekly meeting. Delicious home made cake and candy were served with peanuts and ice cream after the formal meeting.

Kappa Phi Sigma

The regular fraternal life has resumed its accustomed course. Ron inaugurated his forthcoming series of Daytona trips with Jerry Miller on a week-end dash to the Atlantic. Another sign of the usual order of things is the flock of disreputable automobiles and mechanical paraphernalia that Hank has piled in the back yard. No place is home to him without at least three old gear-shifts and an oil pump.

Our weekly invader from the University of Florida turned out to be Howard Sapp. Probably Charlie Magruder will be next.

Asa Jennings broke his accustomed silence to explain that the Sandspur is now being put out.

While in Tifton, Pep was attracted into a tent show, where "Our Nell" was being shamefully treated. He says the Little Theatre should put on a play like that.

With the ripening of oranges across the lake, the fraternal canoe has been put in order.

Don French, the campus electrician, complains about being kept until late hours of the night at Cloverleaf.

K. E. Komments

Good times and general get-togethers have been in full swing for the past two weeks and we have come in for an abundant share. One of the most delightful entertainments was a bridge-supper on Wednesday evening given at the Colonial Inn by Cile Tolson, Betty Rathbone, Aurora McKay, and Pauline Bumby for some of the new students. The colonial motif was carried out.

It need not be said what kind of a time Aurora and Mat had at Dr. and Mrs. Holt's party on Coronado Beach—just take a glimpse at their sunburns!

We are glad so many of our friends have dropped in to see our new house. We hope they will come again for the house will be more presentable, especially with our lovely piano from Mrs. J. K. List, better known as our "Aunt Hat."

Mat's about to break the K E reputation by getting us to meals on time. Congratulations, Mat—or better. Hurrah for your car!

And speaking of meals, we're as proud as peaches over the Beany additions.

We enjoyed your "open-house," Gamma Phi Beta.

K. A. Notes

Open house—O, yeh, but not until after we beat Stetson Saturday. We are looking forward to seeing you all the evening of the "big game," and in good spirit. The nine K A's on the football squad will give their best in the battle and then plan on showing you through the house, whether on crutches or on a stretcher. In all, we are ready for the big day.

We have appointed Gordon Robbing custodian of the radio for the evening—he gets more noise out of it than the rest of us. We warn you in advance that if you question him about the machine that he will orate for hours, so beware. We ask the new members of the faculty and student body to allow us pleasure of making your acquaintances at "open house." We want to know you.

Bob Proctor, last year's popcorn eating champion is back in school after a two months' sojourn in Europe. The champion has gained five pounds weight and claims to be in good shape for this season's tournaments. He challenges all comers.

We were like a group of tickled children when Mrs. Gage, our house chaperon, returned to us last week. The house did not seem the same in her absence.

"ALL FOR ROLLINS."

Y. M. C. A.

The first meeting of the Rollins Y. M. C. A. was held in Knowles Hall Sunday night, October 13. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the work of the Y. M. during the 1929-30 school year.

The president suggested that two meetings be held each month one at which practical vocational talks would be given by prominent business and professional men of the town, and the other a joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A., and said that any suggestions from any Rollins students having had previous experience in the work would be greatly appreciated.

After an announcement that a joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. will be held next Sunday night, to which all Rollins students are cordially invited, the meeting adjourned.

Cloverleaf Chatter

Cloverleaf has been a little cramped for entertainment lately. There has been music, of course, but we need new records sadly. If anybody has any suggestions for the amusement of poor freshman darlings stranded without dates, we would appreciate it. At present we are reluctantly living about, nights, with a perfectly heavenly moon poised over the lake, right in our back yard. We want people to know it is very trying, and we are really very brave about all this. We would be delighted to have some upperclassmen drop in to see us, to talk with us, and console us.

The greatest illness around Cloverleaf, visited, and has rendered completely disabled, the $35 Ford. Donations of gasoline and other medical fixtures would be appreciated.

Dorothy Lundell would like to announce the thorough cleaning and straightening of her room; the hanging of curtain rods, and the purchase of an iron. The room is to be visited, the rods commented upon, and the iron not to be borrowed.

Steve Moffot has recently spread charming lavender rugs on the polished oak floors of her bedroom. This is a gentle hint for those taking Art Appreciation or House Beautiful, to drop in, and collect suggestions from this model Cloverleaf color scheme bedroom. Even the soap (directions for finding said article:—behind the closet door in a lavender soap dish draped with a lavender wash-rag) is lavender. In fear of becoming too personal, other articles can be found, but not mentioned.

Chase Hall

A couple of New Englanders and a boy from the Middle West are putting up a losing fight in trying to acquire Charlie Mills' dialect to take home with them Christmas.

Three moos and a few la-las for Bob Currie, our own little Chase Hall boy, who won the Atwater-Kent audition.

Those on the second floor who have listened to Bob practice for the last two weeks ask if it's really worth the price they've paid.

Hollis Mitchell, William Grooppenbacher, James Parks, Irving Kemper and Kenneth Walpole report that the jail is good and the police force exceptionally efficient in St. Pete.

The "Rat" team was thrown into utter confusion the other day when Val absent-mindedly called signals in Russian.

Dr. Burks pronounces Alcott Deeming in perfect condition after football scrimmage except for "a cracked third rib, a black eye, a painful tooth extraction accompanied by large swelling, abrasions of the shin, and charley horses."

Lambda Phi Notes

Our house is rapidly coming into its own. We actually have a sign and will soon put it up. For this we are very much indebted to Lizzie Mae's brother. Thank you, H. L.

We have a telephone, too. Glad, but really the fire department seems an unnecessary item. Just in case you should want to call us again, the number is 154.

Rat Hahn renewed old friendships with Sister Ethel Saturday night. The results of Ethel's influence were truly remarkable. The following morning Rat Hahn could be readily detected wrestling with the 10:30 breakfast dishes, and this is a handy arrangement, we are forced to admit.

Ladies in Lakeside

What with our swell new victrola and other comforts of home we are ready to make hey! hey! Lakeside alone remained to keep the dignity of the fair Rollins coeds; but it came to pass that she too, succumbed and is now ready to join the whoopee gang.

There are only four old girls left and it is all we can do to keep the roof on; there are so many excellent specimens in the transient group. From wild and wooly California (reference: Jinx Hughes) came Barbara Hobbs with her highpowered coupe which is always full of merry-makers including Eleanor Horner, our aviatrix from Kansas City, and Isabel Williams, the Detroit tennis shark. Helen Carr helped annex another basketball player in her sister, Dorothy, late of Ohio State university. Phyrne and Dot Emerson help promote our literary field. Marilouise Wilkerson, winner of the Susan H. Dyer scholarship, the music; and Taka Segino, the cosmopolitan end of our versatile dormitory inmates.

Last week Ernestine Meres came back to the old camping ground and upon returning home wept for four days! Better give up that matrimonial idea, Ernestine, and come back to stay.

House officers for the fall term are Helen Carr, president; Sarah Huey, secretary-treasurer; Genevieve Litsey, chauffeur; Mr. Bingham, chaperon, and "Leetle Cot," mascot.

Phi Mu

Now that Betty is married we see very little of her at the house. We wish that she'd come oftener. But you didn't know that she was married, did you? Yes, she married Bob Johnson on the 25th of last month and she seems to be very happy.

By this time most of you know Ethel Miller, our transfer from Howard college. It certainly is a pleasure to have her with us. We only hope that she feels as we do about it.

To whom it may concern: We have just learned that Rufus (Rat Cole) won the gold medal in the Florida History contest which was held this summer.

Mildred Hope and Carol Walter entertained with a Pajama Dance at the house last Friday evening. One of the features was a balloon dance, a prize being given to the last couple on the floor. That was one time when we were sorry that the college rules of 11 o'clock on Friday nights had to be obeyed. We are all so glad that Mother Wheatley is with us again for the whole year. We wouldn't know how to get along without her.

If you happen to see Winky and G. Morton on the campus hurriedly snatching little bacteria out of the air, don't think that they have gone mad. It's just the mild form of exercise prescribed by Dr. Uphof for his class in Bacteriology.

Every department of the Conservatory is well under way. Rollins college is probably the only small college that has so complete a conservatory as to include a harp department.

Glee clubs and instrumental clubs will soon be heard in energetic and enthusiastic rehearsals which have characterized Dr. Nice's undertakings of any Rollins organization.

Concerts and recitals of the different departments of the Conservatory, both by the faculty and the students, will be announced in next week's Sandspur.

STUDENTS ATTENTION

For self supporting students desiring fascinating, remunerative work either temporary or permanent, may I suggest that many students of both sexes have earned scholarships and cash sufficient to defray all college expenses, representing national magazine publishers. If interested, write or wire for details.—M. A. Steele, National Organizer, 5 Columbus Circle, New York, N. Y.

of his line-plunging would have been felt severely.

Capt. Welch Fisher has been performing in his customary brilliant style during the week, proving unstoppable in the broken field to the Freshman backs.

Coach has given the team several new passes, and the Rollins attack will probably be more open than ever. Reid and Fisher have been doing most of the tossing.

DON'T LET IT WORRY YOU

If your efforts are criticized, you must have something worth while—and you may learn something valuable.

If someone calls you a fool, go into the silence and meditate.—He may be right!

If your classmates get good grades by unfair methods, they can't keep it up.

If people misquote you, suppose they reported everything you say!

If you don't get everything you want, think of the things you don't get that you don't want.

If the world laughs at you, laugh right back at it. It's just as funny as you are.

If a dull day comes along, it gives you time to think out plans to make the next one brighter.

If someone has put something over on you, remember that there are a hundred million people in America who have never played a single mean trick on you.

If you have tried to do something and failed, you are vastly better off than if you had tried to do nothing and succeeded!

CORRECTION: ISSUE OF OCT. 11, 1929.

The Kinney Shoe Store advertisement should have read "Many Beautiful Styles in Fall Footwear." The word Summer was printed instead of Fall.

We sincerely regret this error. The Sandspur always strives for accuracy.

WORTH SAVING

Mary: "Well, you know he saved Amid the cheers of the frightened bystanders the young man leaped into the lake, swam to the drowning girl and brought her to the shore."

"Such bravery," remarked an elderly woman effusively. "It was wonderful."

The hero blushed. "Say!" he ejaculated. "She swiped my fraternity pin from the Sheba yesterday. I hadda get it didn't I?"

ONE ON THE TIGHTWAD

Mary: "He ran into a streak of tough luck on account of his stinginess the other day."

Ella: "What happened to him?" the first dollar he ever earned and the other day he spent it, and now he's mad because a dollar isn't worth its full value."
