Notes for Contributors

The Florida Historical Quarterly is a refereed journal. Articles submitted to the journal should be original contributions and should not be under consideration for any other publication at the same time. Each manuscript—double-spaced with footnotes—should be submitted in duplicate. Please do not send electronic manuscripts until requested by editor. All pages should be numbered consecutively. There is no standard length for articles but a useful target is twenty-five to thirty-five pages (including notes). Details of the author's identity, institutional affiliation, full address, and other contact information should be included on a separate cover sheet. Any acknowledgments should be included on the cover sheet as well.

Authors are responsible for ensuring that the final version of their article conforms to the journal style. The editor will not undertake retyping of manuscripts before publication. A guide to style and presentation is obtainable online at the Florida Historical Quarterly webpage or by request from the editor. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively through the article. Please do not use endnotes or bibliographical references.

Following acceptance for publication, articles should be submitted on a high density, IBM compatible 3.5 inch disk, accompanied by a hard copy. Any illustrations or tables should be copied into separate disk files from the text. Do not use wordprocessing formats for tables. Prepare tables using tabs. All illustrations should be prepared in black and white. A hard copy of all illustrations and tables should also accompany article.

Each disk should be labeled with the journal's name, abbreviated article title, author's name, and wordprocessing software used. It is the author's responsibility to ensure that where copyright materials are required permission of the copyright holder has been obtained. Authors are entitled to five free copies of the issue in which their article appears. Copyright in articles published in the Florida Historical Quarterly rests with the Florida Historical Society.

Dating its origins to St. Augustine in 1856, the Florida Historical Society is the oldest existing cultural organization in Florida and serves as the only statewide historical society. The Society is dedicated to the preservation of Florida's past through the collection, archival maintenance, and publication of historical documents and photographs; to scholarly research and publication through the Florida Historical Quarterly, and a variety of awards for the researching and publishing of Florida history; and to public history, historic preservation, and youth education through Journeys for the Junior Historian, the Society's annual meeting, awards recognizing the teaching of Florida history, and the Printe Shoppe—a book and gift store offering over five hundred texts in Florida history.

The Society's official headquarters are located in Historic Roesch House, an 1890s frame vernacular house at 1320 Highland Ave., Melbourne, FL 32935; (321) 254-9855. The Society's research collections—housing over eight hundred rare maps, six thousand volumes of Floridiana, and an extensive collection of documents relating to Florida history and genealogy—is located in the Alma Clyde Field Library of Florida History, 435 Brevard Ave., Cocoa, FL 32922. Further information about the Florida Historical Society may be found on the internet at (<http://www.florida-historical-soc.org>).
