CALL FOR PAPERS

Annual Meeting, Florida Historical Society

May 20-23, 2009 / Pensacola, Fla.

From Tristán de Luna to the Twenty First Century:
450 Years of Florida's History

The Florida Historical Society requests submissions for its 2009 Annual Meeting to be held May 20-23 in Pensacola, Florida. The theme of the meeting is "From Tristán de Luna to the Twenty First Century: 450 Years of Florida's History." Proposals for individual papers, panels and roundtable discussions in all areas of Florida history are welcome, with papers on the history of Pensacola being especially relevant.

The hotel venue for the annual meeting is currently being negotiated. Please watch the Society website at <http://www.myfloridahistory.org> for information on hotel and room rate information.

Proposals for individual papers should include a presentation title, a 150-word abstract and a one-page vita. Proposals for panels should include a 150-word abstract and one-page vita for each panel member plus a session title, a 150-word abstract of the panel and a suggested moderator/discussant. Proposals may be submitted by email as an MSWord attachment to the program committee chair at jgcusick@ufl.edu or may be sent as a paper copy to James Cusick, Special & Area Studies Collections, George A. Smathers Library, University of Florida, Gainesville FL 32611-7005. The deadline for proposal submissions is January 31, 2009. If you are willing to serve as a moderator or discussant, please email the program committee chair to indicate your interest.

The Society also seeks submissions for its annual awards. A full listing of awards and submission procedures can be found at <http://www.florida-historical-soc.org/awards>. Awards now cover many areas (writing, broadcasting, internet, student papers, etc.)

CALL FOR PAPERS: 2009 FLORIDA CONFERENCE OF HISTORIANS

The Florida Conference of Historians is pleased to announce its 49th annual meeting, which will be hosted by Florida Gulf Coast University in Ft. Myers on the weekend of February 27-28, 2009. Papers are invited on all areas of historical interest, and submissions for panels as well as individual papers are welcomed. Selected papers and summaries of round table discussions will be published in the "Annual Proceedings of the Florida Conference of Historians," a refereed journal published by Florida International University.

Dr. Michael Sugrue, Professor of History at Ave Maria University and one of the "Superstar Teachers" featured in Princeton University's video-lecture series, will be our keynote speaker. Conference registration includes a dinner cruise along the Caloosahatchee River.

In keeping with the Conference's mission of broadening local access to historical knowledge, proposals are accepted from all levels of the profession, and can include panels pertaining to public history and historical pedagogy, as well as those devoted to the presentation of undergraduate research.

Deadline for submission of abstracts is January 9, 2009.

To submit a proposal, please email a title and brief abstract of approximately 100 words—as well as your institutional affiliation and contact details—to Dr. Mike Epple at mepple@fgcu.edu.

LSTA Grant Supports Central Florida Memory

The State Library and Archives of Florida announced that the University of Central Florida (UCF) Libraries' Central Florida Memory (CFM) project "Picturing the Past: Photographs and Postcards of Central Florida" was awarded one of the 2008-2009 Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) grants in the amount of $52,002. The grant will be used to build upon the successful Central Florida Memory project (<http://cfmemory.org>) which is the work of a consortium of regional historical societies and libraries, including the UCF Libraries' four partners in the grant: Museum of Seminole County History, Orange County Library System, Orange County Regional History Center, and Rollins College Olin Library. This year CFM welcomes two more partners: Stetson University's duPont Ball Library and Bethune Cookman University's Carl S. Swisher Library.

Central Florida Memory was created to provide access to library, museum, historical society, and archival content in Central Florida; produce an extensive digital resource for scholars, students, teachers, genealogists, residents, visitors, and the general public; assist museums, historical societies, and libraries in digitizing their collections and becoming forums for sharing expertise and technical knowledge; offer a digital archive for those unable to establish their own digital infrastructure; provide a digital resource for K through 12 teachers to bring the region's history into lesson plans; and contribute to the larger body of knowledge of Florida history via access to the CFM Web site through other statewide project sites.

During previous phases, the partners digitized approximately 60,000 images covering the period 1880-1930. The project expansion will add up to 30,000 images and offer participants the opportunity to have materials described and digitized by project staff. While CFM will continue to provide a comprehensive collection of manuscripts, public records, ephemera, artifacts, books, photographs, and maps documenting social, business, political, educational, cultural and civic life, "Picturing the Past" will add images in the form of photographs, postcards, and visual ephemera to broaden our collective memory of what Central Florida looked like before theme parks and air conditioning.

BARNETT BANK SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

The Department of History at Florida State University invites applications for the Barnett Bank Scholarship. Funded by a generous gift from the Barnett Historic Preservation Foundation (BHPF), the scholarship funds research in the Barnett Bank papers in the Florida State Archives in Tallahassee. Although designed primarily for graduate students, proposals from scholars at all stages from undergraduates to faculty to independent scholars will be considered.

The Barnett Bank Scholarship was established to promote the study of Florida banking. The Foundation, comprised of Barnett alums and others, decided to make a contribution to Florida State University in part because the BHPF earlier had donated all of Barnett's corporate records to the State Archives in Tallahassee—which also houses banking records from Lewis State Bank (founded in Tallahassee in 1856) and the records of the State Banking Department.

It is this rich depository of records relating to Florida banking that prompted BHPF to specify that the funds be used not just to study Barnett Bank itself but "to promote the study and further the understanding of the history of Florida banking through research, oral history interviews, publications, archival programs, and other means."

Funds may be awarded to students who want to use the papers for research on banking, business, and economics. Or because of the rich material in the Barnett collection a scholarship might also fund work in the papers about Florida history, politics and other related topics, since politics and banking were closely tied in the state. Because the bequest focuses on graduate students, this scholarship could be used to help write a doctoral dissertation or a master's thesis using the papers.

Applicants may request awards for a year-long use of the papers or for only a week in the collection. There is no application form, and the History Department accepts applications on a rolling basis. Applicants should submit a project description, a c.v., and an itemized budget request to Dr. Elna C. Green, Allen Morris Professor, Department of History, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2200.

CORRECTION

The chapter essay "Ruling the Republic of Indians in Seventeenth-Century Florida" cited in "New Scholarship" in volume 86 no. 4 of the Florida Historical Quarterly was incorrectly attributed to Daniel Usner. The citation should read:

Bushnell, Amy Turner, "Ruling the Republic of Indians in Seventeenth-Century Florida," in Peter Wood, M. Thomas Hatley, and Gregory A. Waselkov, eds, Powhatan's Mantel: Ethnohistory of Indians in the Colonial Southeast (Lincoln: University of Nebraska Press, 2006): 195-213. The editor of the Florida Historical Quarterly regrets any problems this error may have caused.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSIONS TO THE FLORIDA HISTORICAL QUARTERLY

The Florida Historical Quarterly is a peer-refereed journal and accepts for consideration manuscripts on the history of Florida, its people, and its historical relationships to the United States, the Atlantic World, the Caribbean, or Latin America. All submissions are expected to reflect substantial research, a dedication to writing, and the scholarly rigor demanded of professionally produced historical work. Work submitted for consideration should not have been previously published, soon to be published, or under consideration by another journal or press.

- Authors should submit three copies of the manuscript to the Florida Historical Quarterly, Department of History, CNH 551, University of Central Florida, Orlando, Florida 32816-1350.
- Manuscripts should be typed and double-spaced (excluding footnotes, block quotes, or tabular matter).
- The first page should be headed by the title without the author's name. Author identification should be avoided throughout the manuscript. On a separate sheet of paper, please provide the author's name, institutional title or connection, or place of residence, and acknowledgements. Citations should be single-spaced footnotes, numbered consecutively, and in accordance with the Chicago Manual of Style.
- Tables and illustrations should be created on separate pages, with positions in the manuscript indicated.
- In a cover letter, the author should provide contact information that includes phone numbers, fax number, email address, and mailing address. The author should provide a statement of the substance and significance of the work and identify anyone who has already critiqued the manuscript.
- Illustrations must meet the following guidelines: pictures should be 5x7 or 8x10 black and white glossy prints; prints will be returned after publication. Images may be submitted in EPS or PDF electronic format at 300 dpi or higher. Xeroxed images cannot be accepted. All illustrations should include full citations and credit lines. Authors should retain letters of permission from institutions or individuals owning the originals.
- Questions regarding submissions should be directed to Connie L. Lester, editor, at the address above, or by email at <clester@mail.ucf.edu> or by phone at 407-823-0261.
